OTTAWA, Feb. 19 — (CP). — An immense missing persons bureau is at work in Europe trying to unravel the mystery of hundreds of thousands of human beings who vanished in the second World War, Senator Cairine Wilson (L-Ontario) told the Senate on Friday. It is known as the International Tracing Service, a subsidiary of the International Refugee Organization of which Canada is a member. Its officials handle 6,000 cases a month, and have already traced down and solved 63,000 cases.

Further, Senator Wilson said, Canada and other countries still have absorbed only a fraction of the displaced persons and refugees cramming camps in Europe.

Urging revival of the Chamber's Committee on Immigration, she said 236,000 DP's and refugees had left the camps for 70 different countries, according to figures available. But 675,900 more remained in them, hopefully awaiting help, and more people kept coming out of Eastern Europe.

Council Invites Banker To Dinner

After the manner of any citizen, the council sat down with its banker at lunch Friday for advice and information on the debenture market, interest rates, trends and other phases of financial matters.

The banker was Mr. J. S. Bolton, Montreal, assistant general manager in charge of investments of the Bank of Montreal who at the request of the council repeated his visit and its purpose of last year.

"It is a pleasure to have this opportunity of meeting the Mayor and members of the council and officials of the city again," Mr. Bolton said to the Examiner.

"As Peterborough's bankers we have followed the progress of the city for more than a century, and as an investor in your city's debentures it gives us great satisfaction to see its sound financial state and to learn of your plans for the betterment of the city's services. Our advice and best facilities are always available to the council."

Engineer With Badly Scalded Face, Hands Clings To Icy Engine, Stops Speeding Train

NORTH BAY, Feb. 19 (CP)—A routine railway report Friday told a hair-raising northland version of Casey Jones and the promised land—but with a happy ending.

The report described how the engineer of a Canadian National Railways passenger train, his face and hands scalded by steam, crawled forward along the icy ledge of his locomotive as it thundered through the night at more than 50 miles an hour.

W. E. Ryan of Nakina, Ont., made his perilous passage in below-zero weather Wednesday night on train No. 3, bound for Winnipeg out of Toronto, near Tashota, in Northwestern Ontario.

Driven from his cab by a sudden break in a steam pipe, Ryan clambered along the outside of the swaying locomotive, clinging with his scalded hands to the ice-coated metal.

He reached the nose of the engine and turned a cock that applied the brakes and stopped the train. Firemen B. Kearney, badly scalded about the head and right hand, meanwhile clung desperately to a handrail outside the cab.

Both men were taken to hospital at Kearney, Ont.

The passengers? Some slept peacefully and others chatted quietly. All were unaware of the of the drama up front.

Assaulted Waitress Man Jailed For Year

TORONTO, Feb. 19 — (CP) — Lloyd Whitwell, convicted of assault on a cocktail bar waitress, today was sentenced to one year in jail and 10 strokes of the strap.

"This was a vicious, unprovoked, sexual attack," said the magistrate. "I would like to commend Miss Mills for her courageous resistance."

Evidence showed that Lillian Mills was on her way home late in the morning when she was attacked by Whitwell. During the scuffle she received a severely-injured eye and other bodily injuries, but she defended herself with a hatpin. Whitwell was cut on his nose and chin and fled, but police found him in the vicinity soon afterwards.

House of Commons Session Well Attended This Season

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Feb. 19 —(CP)—The Chambers of the Commons and the Senate are drawing well-crowded houses in this new Parliamentary season. Daily, since the session opened Jan. 26, the public and official galleries of the two houses have been thronged with an increasing number of spectators and visitors.

Part of the increased attendance is attributed to the debates on the historic legislation to unite this country and her sister commonwealth neighbor, Newfoundland.

Another drawing card has been George Drew, the new Progressive Conservative leader. Many are believed to have been drawn through a desire to see the new opposition chieftain. This is his first session in the federal arena.

Many are there, too, to see, the new Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent. Through he is no newcomer to the Federal Chamber this is his first session as government leader.

On occasion, the public has seen sharp and spirited debate, featured by sometimes bitter and angry, sometimes humorous and friendly, words sparkling across the floor.

Real or Fake

Can a woman tell when a fur coat is fake and when it isn't?

A Senator thought a woman could and he was rash enough to say so in front of the Senate Banking Committee this week.

Senator John T. Haig, Progressive Conservative Chief, made the statement as the committee argued over whether fur coats and other commodities should be labelled as their exact nature.

A light gasp came from the back of the crowded room, from Mrs. F. E. Wright of Port Credit, President of the Canadian Association of Consumers, who had testified earlier on a bill covering the labels.

"Oh no," she breathed.

The males asked her to get up and elaborate. She did.

Many women, said Mrs. Wright, don't know the difference between, say, imitation seal that is really dyed rabbit or dyed muskrat.

That's why she and other housewives favor compulsory labelling of furs and other commodities. They don't trust their feminine intuition against the wiles of the market.

LONDON, Eng.—The board of trade reported 504,000 tourists visited Britain in 1948, biggest influx ever recorded and 106,000 more than in 1947. The 1948 visitors included 75,000 Americans.

Annual Meeting Of Peterborough Federation At Tuesday Noon Luncheon — Ontario Department Presents First Report On Cost Of Hog Production — Brethen And Seymour Holsteins Remembered.

"We found the average cost of producing 100 lbs. of pork, live weight, was $14.60."

R. H. Graham, of the Livestock Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, emphasized that fact in his review to the Peterborough Hog Producers Association Thursday of the financial and general reports obtained by the Department from representative breeders in each county of the province.

This investigation was begun in 1947 and continued through 1948 as an inquiry into business management of swine herds for the benefit of Ontario producers, and it is being extended at least to the end of this year. It was an idea of Premier Kennedy as the Minister of Agriculture, and it was intended to be an aid and guide to farmers who raise hogs.

The many breeders who attended the meeting were given copies of the summary prepared from records that were kept of 55 herds. They can study it at their leisure. Other copies may be obtained from Frank C. Patterson, agricultural representative.

Of salient significance was the remark of Mr. Graham: "This is the only time in the history of the province that we ever had figures showing the cost of hog production on the average type of farm."

They are not offered as being conclusive, and for that reason particularly the survey is being carried on again this year.

"We are trying to figure the cost of one pig," said Mr. Graham. "The closer we get to facts the stronger is our position in being able to say to packers: "This is what it is costing us to produce 100 lbs. of live pork."

The information assembled by the Department and passed on to producers indicated a broad range of experience. Some farmers lost money, others showed a moderate profit, and in the top drawer were those who frankly and confidently reported substantial net returns. Farmers who put in the most time with their herds were in the group making the highest net gain. Of special interest were the feeding figures which included division in the two groups of hand-fed and self-fed.

SIGNIFICANCE of Mr. TUMMON

W. E. Tummon's marketing report to the hog producers at the YMCA Thursday was significant of what farmers can do in an organized commodity group. He is secretary of the Ontario Hog Producers Association, a farmer from down at Foxboro, and a former Hastings County member of Parliament.

It is altogether likely that the assembly of farmers remembered that Mr. Tummon is their appointee. They were given an opportunity by Premier Kennedy, as Minister of Agriculture, to vote on the marketing scheme for which legislation was set up. They got out the vote that favored the plan by a huge majority, they formed their provincial organization, and Mr. Tummon was made secretary. He is also provisionally secretary of the National Hog Committee, that was recently sponsored by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, and is now coming into being.

Mr. Tummon personifies the enterprise of Ontario farmers, including Peterborough farmers, in their own behalf. He represents commodity accomplishment, the old lesson of the strength of unity. It reacts with pervasive confidence throughout its own membership, and sets example and emulation for other groups. The Ontario hog producers were organized in a time of favoring circumstances. Their joining of hands may be of more advantage to them in the uncertain time that appears to lie ahead, although the Tummon message was to the effect that hog producers have reason to expect steady markets for the next two years.

DUBIOUS OF BETTING

Rural sentiment on the directorate of the Peterborough Exhibition balked Friday night at a ten-night harness horse racing meet with betting facilities sometime during the summer.

Hugh Stewart, chairman, reported to the board that a western Ontario syndicate recently approached him with a proposal to hold a meet here under the track lights that were erected for the revival of the Exhibition last August. Several young men who are promoting an extensive circuit acquired track charters, one of which, it is understood, would provide legal permission here for the parimutuel system of betting on the races.

"They suggested $50 a night, but I told them I wouldn't even mention it to our directors," Mr. Stewart said. "Harness horse races are big business today, and if we let these chaps use our track we could get some extra money for our treasury. It is up to the board to decide whether you are willing to have them."

Ten or fifteen minutes' discussion disposed of this question. One proposal was inclined to sound out the city council as to their approval of the meet.

"I thought we were first going to take a show of hands to find out what this board thinks about it," said N. W. McConkey.

Mr. Stewart called for an expression of attitude. Three of the directors raised their hands at the chairman's call for those in favor before approaching anybody. They were Art McIntyre, Harry McIntyre and Haig Kelly.

Several comments indicated an opinion that if a betting meet was sanctioned, it might adversely reflect on the exhibition.

"As for myself" said Mr. Stewart early in the discussion, "I don't care if I never race again in Peterborough. So, this is not a personal interest, I feel sure this meet would attract crowds from all over the district, Belleville, Madoc, Port Hope, Lindsay, even some from Toronto."

FEDERATION DINNER

The third of the noon luncheons of the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture Tuesday, Feb. 22 should set a new attendance mark. Dinner will be followed by the business of the annual meeting. Including the election of officers. The speaker will be H. McGrogan of the primary prooducer division of the Department of National Revenue. His talk to the junior farmers who attended the Christmas week conference at Kemptville Agricultural School was reported so interesting that the Federation executive decided to invite Mr. McGrogan to the third luncheon. Obviously his subject will be related to the income tax which hasn't been popular anywhere, but is generally accepted as a duty to the nation. Understanding of the tax forms has been a problem to many farmers.

Apart from the talk by Mr. McGrogan, the annual meeting of the Federation deserves a special effort by the members and their wives to be present Tuesday at noon.

Reeve James Gifford remarked Thursday in a comment on the recent annual meeting of the Canadian Federation in Saskatoon that he was never so impressed with its representative strength until he saw its delegated assembly during the last week of January.

"And reflectively, I think I was just as greatly impressed with the importance of strength in the membership of our county branches," Mr. Gifford told the Examiner. "That is the basis of our Federation, and while we can only bring back reports of the quality of the leadership in our national convention. I think we should keep stressing the vital importance of our provincial and county organizations and the part each member contributes in the national body, although too often we do not realize it."

A BREEDING MEMORY

The Holstein cow Springdale Inka Lucy that sold last month to John Barros of Santiago, Chile, for $3,000, was bred by Mr. J. Seymour of Cavan, and with his herd was bought by Hugh Ormiston of Brooklin.

Springdale Inka Lucy was grand champion at the district Holstein championships in Peterborough in 1947. She traces back to the full sister of the first 20,000 lb. cow in Canada, as does Forthlyne Dolleta Inka Posch for which Mr. Barros paid $5,000.

"Lucy" also traces to the first 20,000 lb. 3-year-old, Dekol Mutual Countess that was bred and developed by G. A. Brethen of Norwood. The dam of Dekol Mutual Countess was the first 29,000 lb. cow in Canada, also bred and developed by Mr. Brethen. Springdale Lucy also carries in her veins such noted blood lines as Sir Francy Meracha Burke (3X All-American bull) and the great Snow family. It was the oldest sister, Calamity Snow Mechithilde whose head, neck and udder were chosen for the true type Holstein Friesian cow.

SHORTHORN GAINS

Average price of Shorthorn cattle at 45 auction sales last year was $415 as against $293 at 50 sales in 1945 as announced to the Canadian Shorthorn Association convention in Toronto this week by H. R. White, Guelph, secretary.

Total exports were 4,058, or 2,553 head more than n 1947, an increase of 169%. Sales to the United States were 1,517 males and 2,538 females. Demand for purebred Shorthorns was exceptionally active throughout 1948. Total number of transfers was 17,999, a gain of 7.3%. Registrations were 18,731 animals, an increase of 429. Ontario showed an increase of 907, more than offsetting decreases in other provinces.

Toronto Youth Shoots Officer, Taken Prisoner

FORT ERIE, Feb. 21—(CP)—A 15-year-old fugitive from St. John's Training School in Toronto was arrested by Buffalo police Saturday night following a running gun battle on near-by Bird Island in which a U. S. immigration patrolman was shot in the hand.

Held by the youth bureau of Buffalo police is Richard Dumas of Brantford, who was sent to the training school early in November after he was convicted of receiving stolen goods in Toronto. He escaped about six weeks later.

Dumas was seen alighting from a freight train, after it crossed the International Railway Bridge, by customs men stationed at Black Rock depot. The men notified the border patrol and Officers Charles Laur, 48, who was later shot in the hand, and Charles Billick, 53, started the search in a patrol car.

The officers found Dumas on Bird Island, site of the Buffalo sewage disposal plant, and ordered him into the prowl car. As the car started to move away, the youth allegedly placed a .22-calibre revolver against Billick's neck and said: "Stop the car or I'll kill both of you."

Laur leaped from the driver's seat and ran about 100 feet before firing into the air to attract aid. Dumas, meanwhile, still holding the gun on Billick's neck, is said to have stated: "Tell your partner to stop shooting or I'll kill you."

As Laur stopped firing, the youth jumped from the patrol car and ran behind a hedge. In the firing which followed, Laur was shot in the hand just before Buffalo police closed in and made the arrest.

Dumas told police he spent Friday night in Niagara Falls, Ont., where he purchased the gun and cartridges. He gave police a written account of his activities since his escape.

Met Dennis At Dance-Hall Fenelon Girl Denies Guilt

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 21—(CP).—Betty Ritchie, one-time Toronto school teacher and native of Fenelon Falls, told police Sunday she met Gerard Graham Dennis at a dance-hall in Hollywood. The 24-year-old Miss Ritchie was arrested here Thursday in the apartment of the Canadian who is charged in New Rochele, NY, with robbing wealthy homes of jewels and furs worth $600,000.

She said she and Dennis travelled around the United States together, visiting night clubs and beach resorts, but denied that she knew her companion had stolen jewels.

The Fenelon Falls girl told police that when she met Dennis in the Palladium dance-hall he told her his name was Jerome McKay and that he was a graduate of McGill University.

"I went to Toronto College and we had a lot to talk about," she said.

Came For Health

She told police she came to California to regain her health.

"I grew very run down and nervous while teaching in the sixth grade in Toronto."

Police have charged her with suspicion of burglary.

Denying she knew anything of Dennis' alleged burglaries, she said: "I never went to the society parties where they told me Jerry went to get a view of the jewelry he later stole. That was a world I knew nothing about."

Huge Wall Falls Hundreds Dead

LIBON, Portugal, Feb. 21—(AP)—The fall of a huge wall was reported today to have killed or injured several hundred persons lined up for a food handout in Praia, capital of the Cape Verde islands.

The Portuguese colonial officials said they had been informed of the disaster by the governor of the islands, a Portuguese colony off the northwest African coast.

There was no official count of the dead. Dispatches from Praia said 315 persons, many of them dead, had been dragged from the ruins.

A long file of beggars formed ouside the poorhouse shortly before noon yesterday to receive meals supplied by the government since the area was hit by a famine.

Soup was distributed to the beggars sitting under a tiled strip of roof. Hundreds were buried beneath the 25-foot wall when it crumbled along a distance of about 33 yards.

General Electric Coy Refuses Pay Increase

NEW YORK, Feb 21—(AP) — The General Electric Company has announced it will resist granting fourth-round wage increases to 200,000 employees.

A spokesman for the company, the country's largest electrical manufacturer, also voiced opposition yesterday to reported CIO union demands for shorter hours without reduction in pay, and liberalized pension and welfare programs.

The statement came a day after the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers of America (CIO) were reported planning to seek wage increases and other benefits in forthcoming negotiations with G.E.

G.E. attempted last year to establish a no-increase pattern in the industry, on the ground that general increases would be inflationary and bad for the United States as a whole as well as the company and its employees. Later, however, the G.E. granted an 11-cent-an-hour boost after other major industries gave increases.

Plot Squelched

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Feb. 21—(AP)—President Enrique Hertzog's government announced Sunday that it has squelched a revolutionary plot engineered by Bolivian exiles in Peru and Argentina. At least 12 leaders of the Rightist National Revolutionary Movement (MPR) have been arrested. Government sources said many more are being rounded up.

Norway Risks Red Anger Joins Atlantic Defence

OSLO, Feb. 21—(AP)—Norway has decided to risk Russia's displeasure and cast her lot with the West by joining the North Atlantic defence talks.

Despite Russian warnings, the dominant Labor Party has approved the Pro-Western foreign policy of Foreign Minister Halvard M. Lange. The vote, at a party meeting was 229 to 33, but the opposition yesterday decided to make the vote unanimous.

Parliamentary approval, which still is necessary, is expected this week. All parties except the small Communist representation are backing Lange's policies.

Lange stressed the belief it is necessary for Norway to turn to the west for protection because he believes the United Nations alone is not capable of ensuring peace.

Norway's leaders feel a regional defence system offers more protection for small countries. But they rejected a Scandinavian pact with Sweden and Denmark because they believed that two could not afford them the security they need unless it were tied in with the North Atlantic Pact.

The projected North Atlantic alliance would link the defences of the United States, Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

The Norwegian Labor Party action Rilled Swedish and Danish hopes for a last-minute change in the Norwegian attitude.

No Longer Necessary Howe Decides

Move Follows Lifting Of Allocations By International Group

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—(CP). — Removal of export and import controls on animal, vegetable and marine oils and fats was announced today by Trade Minister Howe.

The announcement said the action follows a decision by the international emergency food committee to remove international allocations on these items.

During the period the allocations had been in effect, Canada was omitted to maintain a system of import controls in order to ensure that its purchases were kept within the allocations set by the committee.

With the suspension of international allocations, however, the Canadian government has removed domestic import controls.

The announcement said it has also been found that retention of export control on domestically-produced oils and fats is no longer necessary.

Mr. Howe listed commodities being released from export and import controls:

Castor, dehydrated castor; Chinawood (Tung); cocoanut; copra; corn (oil only); cottonseed; oiticica; olive, olive kernel and foots; palm; palm kernel;

Carl Herman, 26-year-old Toronto lawyer, told the court he would make every effort to be prepared to go forward with the hearing at the next appearance.

Rioting Jews Halt Showing Of Oliver Twist

BERLIN, Feb. 21 (CP)—Enraged Polish Jews rioted before a British-sector movie theatre today and for the second time blocked a showing of the film "Oliver Twist," which they charge is anti-Semitic.

Police used clubs and fire hoses to hold back a charging crowd of demonstrators, but without much success, when the theatre tried to open for the afternoon showing of the film, based on the Dickens novel.

A melee of flying fists and clubs surged up and down the Kurfurestendamm, the street which is the centre of Berlin's artistic life. German police of the British sector had to call out all available reserves and British public safety officers on duty decided to suspend the showing once again.

Demonstrators halted the first showing of the film in the theatre last night. Today the British authorities rejected a demand by high-ranking German officials of the British sector that it be banned. The demonstrators object to the portrayal of Fagin as a Jew who teaches young boys to steal.

German officials said the demonstrators were Polish Jews. The neighborhood is heavily populated with Jewish Displaced Persons.

The riot broke out at about 2 p.m. and British authorities stepped in and ordered the afternoon performance called off.

The theatre, with a capacity of 600 was half full.

In the milling crowd outside, a British officer was beaten and several German policemen were bloodied. The demonstrators hurled rocks and dared police to shoot, but there was no shooting.

The crowd of demonstrators numbered about 300. As they bore down on the theatre there were only some 30 or 40 German police, put on the alert in advance, on hand to cope with them.

25 Youths In Dance Brawl Outside Collegiate; One Held On $1,000 Bail

Boy 19, Beaten Unconscious In Battle Surging Across Street, Police Can't Learn Any Reason For Fight

TORONTO, Feb. 21—(CP).—William Baloni, 18-year-old Toronto youth, today was remanded one week on $1,000 bail, charged with assault occasioning bodily harm following a Saturday night 'teen-agers' brawl in suburban York township. Police said some 25 youths were involved in a street-side fight following a Runnymede Collegiate dance sponsored by the West Toronto Young Women's Christian Association and York Township Recreation Committee.

Gerald Coulson, 19, was beaten unconscious when he suffered slight concussion, bruises and shock in the fight. Police said a bare-fisted battle surged from one side of the street to the other with Coulson and his friends using "rough and tumble" methods to ward off a gang which attacked them.

Dancers reported a quiet evening in the school, and could not explain the reason for the attack. None of the youths involved would give details of brawl, but police said Coulson and his friends were strangers to the group which started the trouble.

17 Freight Cars Slew Off Rails

NORTH BAY, Feb. 21 —(CP)—Tearing up a long strip of track as they slewed off the rails, 17 freight cars on a Canadian National Railways extra eastbound freight train were derailed Sunday afternoon at Meadowside, 15 miles west of North Bay.

The derailment occurred on a switch point leading to a siding at Meadowside, small section post in the bush, but the ties for some way back were scarred and splintered by the wheels of one car, which apparently left the rails when a journal burned out and broke.

The main line was closed to traffic until early this morning, while the CNR auxiliary from North Bay and the CNR auxiliary from Capreol worked to clear the track. Two passenger trains in the meantime were detoured via the C.P.R. line from Sudbury.

1,000 Zulus Attack

DURBAN, Feb. 21—(AP)—More than 1,000 Zulus swept across Queen's Bridge nere Sunday night and attacked every Indian in sight.

The attack, which took place in the Umgeni area of the city, started after one native had been shot in the leg from an Indian automobile.

It was the second successive night of clashes between Zulu natives and Indians. The disorders followed a period of quiet after the serious disorders last month in which scores were slain.

An Indian bus was stoned and set on fire for the second night in succession, after the driver had been removed and attacked with knives.

Court Grants Count Asylum Here

MONTREAL, Feb. 21 —(CP)—Count Jacques Duge de Bernonville today won his fight to remain in Canada as a political refugee.

In Superior Court the writ of habeas corpus, by which De Bernonville fought a federal order for his deportation, was ruled upon in favor of the Count who is under sentence of death in his native France for alleged collaboration with the Germans during the Second World War.

The federal government had ordered De Bernonville deported on the grounds he entered Canada illegally under the name of Benoit and also on the grounds that he suffered from tuberculosis.

However, today's ruling was that his arrest and the order for his deportation were, "irregular, illegal, and null and void."

The court's ruling also applied to the deportation order against the Count's wife and two of his daughters, Catherine, 17, and Josianne, 23.

At Ottawa a considerable possibility was seen that the government will make efforts to deport the Count.

Although immigration officials would say only that the case will have to be considered, persons close to the incident noted that the decision was based largely upon a technicality, involving the setup of the immigration commission which ordered his exit.

Engines In Drift Rescuers Follow

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 21—(AP)—The winter of 1948-49 is writing new railroad legends that revolve around such incidents as the two stalled locomotives near O'Neill, Neb.

On Dec. 29 the locomotives, on snowplow duty, got stuck in an 18 foot drift. They're still there.

On Jan. 3 two of the Burlington's biggest engines rammed a snowplow into a 40-foot drift near Ashby, Neb. and disappeared.

During the next 96 hours they were dug out in what has come to be called the Battle of Ashby Cut.

Jan. 18 a Union Pacific double-header snowplow smacked into a 14-foot drift near Stapleton, Neb. The plow caromed off the icy face of the drift, buckled back and sheared off the sides of the two locomotives.

Eight hours later workers with acetylene torches finished cutting away the twisted mass of steel which entombed a trainman killed in the accident.

US Navy Has Biggest Peace Manoeuvres

Canadian Army Contingent Taking Part, British Observers There

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (CP) —The United States Navy shoves off today for a mock battle with the two things that give it gooseflesh—atom bombs and "snorkel" submarines.

Billed as the navy's biggest peacetime exercises, the games will combine some 35,000 men, 120 ships and several hundred aircraft to practice the latest tricks of sea warfare in mid-Atlantic and the Caribbean.

The Atlantic fleet will be bedeviled by two imitation atom bombs, "simulated guided missile attacks" and an assortment of new high-speed submarines that are practically invisible on a radar screen.

The British home fleet last December fought off an imitation A-bomb attack—with Vice-Admiral Arthur W. Radford, United States vice chief of naval operations, an interested spectator.

Watching the United States fleet meet its mock A-bomb will be Radford's former host, Admiral Sir Roderick R. McGrigor, commander-in-chief of the British Home Fleet.

Underline Co-operation

The exchange of such high-ranking observers, plus a contingent of the Canadian army taking part with the American soldiers, sailors and marines underlines the close United States co-operation with British forces in preparing defensive measures.

Just how closely the training of the two fleets is tied together can not be learned.

The Canadian army formation of two platoons has been training for 2½ months at Camp Lejeune, N. C., in preparation for exercises with American Marines. One major operation will be an amphibious attack on the island of Vieque, Puerto Rico.

The Canadian detachment is commanded by Capt. Roger Desrivieres.

The navy is on the alert not only for its first deep-sea trial of fighting ships against A-bomb, but also because of disparagement of naval power by air power enthusiasts.

In particular, the United States Air Force has criticized the navy's yet-unbuilt 65,000 ton carrier as a pushover for bombers.

The navy has argued heatedly that even the A-bomb could sink no more than one ship out of a task force because of the wide dispersal between ships.

Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, who was in charge of the Bikini experiment, will direct the exercises. He now is commander-in-chief of the Atlantic Fleet.

When he tried to grapple with them they shot him three times through the stomach and shoulder.

Ontario Labor Federation Plans To Support CCF In Next Federal Election

Reject Wage Co-ordinating Committee For Ontario Unions, Charge Red Strategy To Start Trouble

TORONTO, Feb. 21 — (CP). — The Ontario Federation of Labor (CCL) plans to support the CCF in the next Federal election. By reaching this decision Saturday at closing sessions of a two-day convention, the Federation endorsed the political action campaign of the parent CCL. The Federation also decided against establishing a wage co-ordinating committee for Ontario member unions. The move, backed by left-wing delegates, was criticized by rightwingers as Communist strategy to start labor troubles.

The gathering also refused to interfere in alleged raids by the United Steelworkers of America in plants where the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union claims jurisdiction.

The Steel Union, the Smelters Union and the C.C.L. have been involved in a struggle for bargaining rights in the Timmins goldfields and in the refinery plant of the International Nickel Company at Port Colborne, Ont. The Smelters Union refused to obey a C.C.L. order to withdraw from those areas.

Asks Protection

R. H. Carlin, an official of the Smelters Union, pleaded for protection for his union against raids by the Steelworkers. He said the principal charges against his union were that it had failed to organize the gold miners. He insisted his union had organized the miners but was faced with secession and organizing efforts had been affected.

"C. H. Millard of the Steelworkers has given advance notice that we are to be kicked out of the C.C.L.," he said. "We existed 10 years before the Congress and if necessary, if we are kicked out of the Congress, our union will live on."

To shouted charges of Communism in his union, he replied:

"Mine, Mill has not been, is not now and will not be dominated by any political party."

A delegate shouted from the floor:

"You're hanging on a Communist hook."

The federation re-elected Joseph McKenzie of the United Rubber Workers president.

Strong Pledges In Defence Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—(AP). — The proposed North Atlantic pact will give its members strong assurances that the United States will not stand idly by in case of attack, it was learned today.

An official source, whose name may not be used, said the military clause of the pact will not commit the United States automatically to war. But, he said, it will carry assurances so strong that none will mistake the United States' intention to resist aggression.

The State Department hopes to present the treaty to Congress in about a month.

State Secretary Dean Acheson, Canadian and European negotiators will enter the final stage of treaty negotiations this week. They plan a conference at the state department Tuesday or Wednesday.

Acheson then is expected to have another talk with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Its members convinced him in a session Friday that the Senate can be expected to approve a strongly-worded commitment to Europe, even though any automatic war commitment is out.

Youth Saves Three Boys From Drowning

PRESTON, Feb. 21 — (CP) — George Bradford, 17, helped complete a rescue operation which started Saturday when Roger Fischer, nine, fell through thin ice into the Grand River.

The Fischer boy's brother, Jack, 13, and a companion, Richard Miller, 12, tried to help the younger boy out of the water but were themselves in difficulty when Bradford came along.

By Sunday night, all but Roger Fischer, still suffering from exposure, had recovered from their adventure.

They said that when Roger Fischer dropped through the spongy ice, his brother immediately leaped into the hole in the ice and tried to pull him out. But the rubber boots the boys wore were soon filled with water and Jack was unable to lift his brother clear.

Roger clung to the edge of the hole and the older boy kept a grip on the younger boy's collar to keep his head above water. Meanwhile, Richard (Dickie) Miller crawled toward them on his stomach.

When the Miller boy got close enough, he held out to the others the air rifle they had taken on their hunting jaunt. Jack Fischer caught hold of the rifle but on the slippery surface Dickie Miller was unable to pull either of these companions clear.

The Miller boy was unwilling to let go of the air rifle lest the others slip under the ice. Jack Fischer had to use most of his strength to keep his brother's head above water.

That was the position of the trio when Bradford noticed their plight and ran across the ice to their aid.

Marshall Plan Aid Begins To Make Europe Feel Oats

PARIS, Feb. 21—(AP).—Marshall plan aid has begun to make western Europe feel its oats. This was made clear at a meeting last week of the executive committee of the organization for European economic co-operation where there were good things to think about.

Communist strike threats had lost most of their punch, rationing was loosened up, prices were lowering a little and spring was in the air.

By contrast, evidence came from behind the iron curtain that the Eastern European countries would like to see an easing of the restraints on trade with them. Western Europe has imposed no actual barriers against trade with the Soviet bloc countries, but the United States has.

Countries getting goods under recovery plan are asked not to ship to Eastern Europe anything made from such goods as that might be used militarily.

Want to Rebuild Trade

Russian-bloc countries indicated a desire to rebuild trade between East and West when they met last week in Geneva with the other member countries of the trade conference set up under the United Nations.

Generally talk from the Eastern delegates in Geneva was conciliatory. There was reason for it. They need machinery desperately. Western Europe's capacity to provide it is increasing under Marshall Plan simulus.

Poland, in addition, is having trouble moving its principal money product, coal. Transportation is one problem. Competition from American coal coming under Marshall Plan allotments is another.

The big development of last week in Paris, however, was the formation of an eight-man committee which looked like something more than a management board for administration of the recovery program. The members chose the vigorous Premier of Belgium, Paul-Henri Spaak, as chairman, and made it clear that the organization they had set up would go beyond the time when the present European recovery program was scheduled to end in 1952.

Million Damage In 2 Fires Vancouver Airport Wrecked

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21—(CP).—Three main airlines feeding the Pacific coast were on normal schedules today despite one of two major Saturday night fires which levelled the administration building at Vancouver's international airport. Replacement crews surveyed the $150,000 damage caused to the airport and the $500,000 damage caused by the second fire, a three-alarm blaze that ripped through the huge downtown Pacific Coast Warehouse Company's five-storey structure.

Five men barely escaped death in the conflagrations, which mushroomed within an hour of each other and which earlier were believed to have caused $1,000,000 damage. The control tower was razed in the airport blaze.

Trans-Canada, Canadian Pacific and United Airlines established emergency administration quarters in hangars at the airport, which escaped fire-damage through the efforts of 75 firefighters, including an RCAF brigade on duty at the Sea Island air base. Normal traffic was back yesterday.

Unique Alarm

Airport Manager William Templeton said the blaze at the field might have been considerably more devastating had not the alarm been so uniquely registered. The fire severed the field's telephone communications but the Dominion Public Weather office there raised Calgary by short wave radio and the alarm reached Vancouver from there by long-distance telephone.

Three firemen battling a coast warehouse blaze darted to safety when an elevator crashed down its shaft as the men played water on the shaft's walls. At the airport fire, control tower operators Kenneth Walmsley and Kenneth St. John scrambled down the flaming structure's wall minutes before it turned into an inferno.

Causes of both blazes have not been determined.

Men of industry are thinking in terms of new methods of processing —new products—new markets.

This often demands new machines —additional sources of raw materials—new plants—and costly research equipment.

These projects call for initiative—vision— tenacity—courage and the know-how gained through the school of experience.

But enterprise, if it is to produce in quantities that larger numbers may enjoy better living, requires something more. It must be provided with adequate financial means.

More often than not, this money is supplied by Bank Credit. It is our business to loan money for worthy enterprise. We suggest that you bring your financial problems to this bank. 140-48

abor Movement, Its Growth In England Explained

COBOURG, Feb. 21—(ENS)—owth of the labor movement in gland was the subject of an ad-ss at the luncheon of Cobourg tary Club by Cockburn Kyte of bourg, former librarian of een's University.

"For a thousand years England been a politically-minded untry, achieving revolutions by nstitutional means as contrasted changes accompanied by blood-d in countries of more excitable people. However, radical leaders in years past perished by the sword or the hangman's noose for their efforts in what they considered was political reform, he said.

The mass of the people saw power ultimately drifting down to them from the king to the barons, from the barons to the main body of peers, to the upper classes to the middle classes, then to parliament which they could help elect. The people no longer desired to seize power themselves but were anxious that the power, under the hands of parliament should be used in a certain way and more in accord with their own interests. At the beginning of the 19th century there was the struggle to alter inhuman conditions such as child labor. In 1824 the Combination Acts were repealed and it was no longer criminal for a workman to belong to a trade union, and in 1832 came the great Reform Act. However in 1831 the population of the country was under 14 million and only a limited group of organized trades was open to trade unions. Trade unions fought an uphill battle and in time the feelings of the trade union movement was able to impress itself on the consciousness of parliament. Two trade union members were elected to parliament in 1874 in the time of Gladstone, Disraeli, Bright and G. J. Goschen. One of them was Thomas Burt who remained in the House for 20 years to become a cabinet minister in Gladstone's last administration. However these men were elected as representatives of trade unions and as radicals in politics. The House of Commons was not yet prepared to recognize a definite Labor Party.

Formed as Party in 1900

A Labor Party finally came into existence and in 1900 it was accepted as such but was not known as the parliamentary Labor Party until 1906. However, it had no individual members but was made up of delegates from trade unions and other bodies. It was only towards the end of 1918 when Labor broke away from the coalition government that the expedience of allowing individual membership was recognized.

29 Elected

In 1906, fifty candidates were entered by the Labor Party and 29 were returned. Two years later the Miners' Union added its support, but the House of Lords ruled that no union could use its funds for political means and made it appear as if a complete separation must ensue between the Labor Party and the source from which it was filled and fed. However, continual agitation resulted in a modification of this view, in the Trade Union Act of 1913, which defined the political objects on which the funds of a trade union could be spent after approval by a ballot vote.

The speaker cited the progress made by Labor in politics from 1913 on to the present day, on its appeal to the nation as a party of protest against bad housing conditions, disease and hardship.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on 'nerves'—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. VANCOUVER — Winter threw another blow at British Columbia lower mainland during the week-end but the weatherman said the warm drizzle that fell was the beginning of the end. The light rain followed the third week-end snowfall in succession. Four to six inches of snow on icy streets made driving conditions in this winter—worst since 1936 — more hazardous than at any time since the season began.

Government Recall Salt Substitute

OTTAWA, Feb. 20.—(CP). — Health Minister Martin has instructed his department's food and drug authorities to ask for recall from the market of all salt substitutes containing lithium chloride, it was announced Saturday.

A departmental spokesman said the minister's action followed reports from the United States that four persons have died there after using lithium chloride as a substitute for common table salt.

The spokesman said no deaths have been reported in Canada but the department is urging all those using the products to discontinue them at once. He added that Canadian distributors are understood already to have taken immediate action to withdraw the material from the market.

The departmental source said the lithium-containing products, used by persons who cannot use ordinary salt because of certain illnesses, are marketed in Canada under the name Westal, Salni, Foodsal and Saltisalt.

Symptoms of poisoning from lithium chloride include drowsiness, weakness, loss of appetite, nausea, shaking of limbs, blurred vision and unconsciousness.

Why Seagram's sells Canada first

This is an adaptation of one of a series of advertisements designed by The House of Seagram to promote the prestige of Canada and help sell Canadian products to the markets of the world.

The campaign is appearing in magazines and newspapers published in various languages and circulated throughout the world. The peoples of many lands are told about the quality of Canadian products and see Canadian scenes illustrating these products.

The advertisements are in keeping with the belief of The House of Seagram that the future of each business enterprise in Canada is inextricably bound up in the future of Canada itself; and that it is in the interest of every Canadian manufacturer to help the sale of all Canadian products in foreign markets.

A campaign such as this not only helps Canadian industries but also puts money in the pocket of every Canadian citizen. One dollar of every three we earn comes to us as a result of foreign trade. The more we can sell abroad the more prosperous we will be at home. It is with this objective that these advertisements are being produced and published throughout the world.

How Not To Finance The Memorial Centre

The proposed Memorial Centre is indeed a vexing problem, or three or four problems: its site, its function, its size, its financing. The financial considerations seem now most difficult. As Alderman Doug Miller said at a recent meeting of the financial committee of the Council, the problem is to find $300,000 to add to the $300,000 which is now available.

* * *

The hope is that the building could be put up for $600,000. From the city's experience with the new Civic Hospital, and Kitchener's with its memorial auditorium, we know that in these days money does not reach as far as original building plans extend. The Kitchener auditorium was planned to cost $450,000 and debentures were issued to cover that cost. Last month the authorities learned that it would cost a million dollars. They have therefore altered their plans. The Memorial Centre Committee here may have to undertake similar drastic trimming.

* * *

A suggestion has been made to the Council that the additional $300,000 needed according to present plans may be found in this way: $150,000 borrowed on expectations of the sale of city property that the voters have authorized and $150,000 as a kind of mortgage against future revenue. As London, Belleville and Niagara Falls have found out in the last dozen years, a mortgage against a municipal hockey rink is very bad business. These cities lost their rinks. Here is what happened in Niagara Falls. Before the war that city had a good hockey team. The citizens were buoyantly enthusiastic about hockey. A new arena was proposed, and money collected to build it. However, they were short by some thirty thousand dollars. The rink committee borrowed the money. The rink was opened. However, the good hockey team disappeared, people did not throng to see other games, gate receipts fell so low that there was insufficient income to meet payments on the debentures. The group which had lent the money thereupon took over the whole establishment, into which so many thousands of the people's money had been poured. The new operators thus had the building for a relatively modest expenditure of their money. The rink was closed. Since the war it has been an amusement centre and Niagara Falls has no hockey arena.

* * *

The people who subscribed generously to our Memorial Centre will not want that sort of thing to happen to whatever Arena will be built in Peterborough. If debentures must be issued, they must be issued by the city. In other words, the city must pay, for we must run no risk of having a mortgage on the Centre foreclosed. It is of course very doubtful that the citizens would approve any further grants of money for a large hockey arena. We note, by the way, that the new rink on Park Street south which accommodates as many as 1,800 spectators has what is considered an unusually large crowd if 1,000 pay admission to a game.

Eisenhower To The Pentagon

A United States armed forces manoeuvre of great interest and potential political significance was announced last week, when General Dwight Eisenhower was granted "seven or eight" weeks' full-time leave of absence from Columbia University. He will become "principal military adviser" to the President, and his task will be to bring about unity among the heads of the various armed services. When the shift was announced, it was also revealed that General Eisenhower had been acting as a part-time mediator since early last December, and it seems reasonable to assume that he had made sufficient progress at the task to warrant putting him on a full-time basis.

If General Eisenhower can bring the service heads of the United States into complete agreement on wartime functions and peacetime appropriations, it will be a major diplomatic triumph. The United States' armed forces were supposedly unified almost twenty months ago, but the history of unification has been one of almost uninterrupted wrangling. Secretary of Defence Forrestal, although not lacking in diplomacy, has been unable to do more than effect reconciliations between displays of service jealousies. President Truman asked Congress for a Chief of Staff to be over all services, but Congress refused to make the appointment, and the disputes continued.

The effect on international affairs of complete agreement among the service chiefs of the United States would be far-reaching. One of the most controversial issues now dividing these leaders is international allocation of assistance, in the form of armed services, supplies and equipment. Since this form of assistance might allay some of the natural uneasiness caused among nations regarded as signatories of the proposed North Atlantic security pact by U.S. Congressional shuffling over the wording of the pact, agreement on allocation and distribution could serve to strengthen the defences of the western democracies.

If any man can create unity among the heads of the U.S. armed services, that man is General Eisenhower. As a military diplomat, he ranks with the greatest in history. In time, he may even be ranked as the greatest, for his smooth direction of the tremendous military machine of the Western Allies, with its many conflicting personalities, was an achievement many thought impossible.

Praise For Peterborough Little Theatre

The Peterborough Little Theatre underwent a considerable physical and artistic venture when it took its production of The Taming of The Shrew to Brockville for competition last Saturday in the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival. The cast was large, the properties numerous and the distance great. Although the group was organized fewer than two years ago and its actors have had little theatrical experience, it was in competition with such long-established groups as the Ottawa Drama League, well-known throughout Canada for the high quality of its productions and its accomplished actors. Moreover, it was daring to present a full-length Shakespeare play, the first time any had been offered for competition in the two decades of the Festivals. The success with which they met in Brockville is a tribute to the players and all who shared in the production, and a justification of the acclaim which they received in Peterborough when The Shrew was presented here a few weeks ago.

The prize went to the Ottawa Drama league, who staged Robertson Davies' Fortune My Foe and have actors of many years' stage experience. The Peterborough production was placed a close second by the adjudicator, Robert Speaight, noted English actor and dramatic critic. Mr. Speaight, who gives credit only when credit is due, was warm, unstinted, even enthusiastic in his praise of the Peterborough presentation. He compared it favourably with productions by Les Compagnons of Montreal, the Moscow Art Theatre and the Old Vic of London. Such praise is heartwarming not only to the Peterborough Little Theatre but to its many friends and admirers in the city who hope through its efforts to see more fine productions locally. It is a tribute to the ensemble as to the actress, that the prize for the best actress went to the lady who played the title role in The Taming of The Shrew. That the company contains fine acting talent was shown by the fact that several of its members received special mention and Mr. John Londerville was runner-up for the award to the best actor.

Through such artistic ventures as this Peterborough is enriched and its fame given a new dimension.

Now that his lands are confiscated the Nizam of Hyderabad has a bare two billion in money and jewels. Things are getting tough all over.

Senator Haig says that anyone can run the bank of Canada. For that matter, anyone can run any bank, if you don't care which way they run it.

According to the New York Times, the Argentinian generals have been putting pressure on President Juan Peron to get his wife out of public life. They are not succeeding and "the situation has reached a deadlock with each side trying to stare the other down". Since Madam Evita Peron is in the middle, they at least have something worth staring at, both down and up.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

THE HOODED HAWK is a rare intellectual treat, and an undisguised defence of James Boswell of Auchinleck, famous biographer to Sam Johnson. Even before Colonel Ralph Isham of New York gave the world the secrets of Boswell's personal life—hidden in an ebony cabinet at his family home, Auchinleck—even the most fervent admirers of Boswell's masterpiece, had to admit that he was something of a crackpot. So D. B. Wyndham Lewis who admits he shares a warm affection for James Boswell in company of men of the "...stature of Paoli (The Corsican), Johnson, and Reynolds", sets out to defend that unusual 18th century character in The Hooded Hawk or The Case Of Mr. Boswell. It might more suitably have been sub-titled "The Case For Mr. Boswell."

Where did Boswell get his bad name? Every decent British critic has been hard on the fellow, but none so hard as Lord Macaulay (Lewis calls him the "Himmler" of the Whigs). In the 281 pages of sheer enjoyment Wyndham Lewis ably defends Boswell against such charges as: "Servile and impertinent, shallow and pedantic, a bigot and a sot, bloated with family pride, a talebearer, an eavesdropper, a common butt in the taverns of London." Is the "prisoner" (with whom wine and women were admittedly life-long weaknesses), Lewis argues, "at his worst any more despicable than Pitt whose excesses are so leniently handled by all historians? Or Fox, of whom Lord Rosebery merely remarks that his dissipation 'was hardly paralleled in that dissipated age' and passes on with scolding?" Lewis adds, "Boswell should have been a politician, perhaps."

WYNDHAM LEWIS has drawn an entertaining picture of the times. Tyburn was famous for the hangings of many highwaymen, none more picturesque than one Mr. John Turner, who worked the circuit on the Great West Road, and never held up the Bath coach without winning encomiums from his victims for "great Gentleness and Good-Manners, putting his Hat into the Coach and taking what Money they thought fit to give him, nay, sometimes returning a Part of that, if the Dress or Aspect of the Person gave him room to suspect that their Wants were as great as his. From this extraordinary conduct he obtained the name of 'Civil John', by which he was very well-known to the Stage-Coachman."

❖ ❖ ❖

BOSWELL was just getting to know Johnson when the famous doctor invited his admirer to dine with him at the Mitre on Fleet Street. It is impossible to recapture the Mitre atmosphere in modern London. It evaporated with the Mitre itself, on whose site Hoare's Bank now stands. In a London tavern of this quality, we may reflect again, firelight and candle-light, sanded floor and red-curtained windows, mellow oaken furniture and panelling, white-aproned waiters and good fare blended in an aura of solid cheer which did not vanish completely, according to Disraeli, till the 1850's. At the Mitre there was no haste. Boswell and Johnson got there at 9 p.m. and sat till between one and two in the morning, eating a leisurely supper, finishing a couple of bottles of port, stretching their legs and having their talk out, like civilized beings. Nearly five hours of pure rational pleasure. No modern London restaurateur would endure it, even if the police allowed him. Is it any wonder that conversation has become a lost art?

❖ ❖ ❖

THE year 1773 was a memorable year for Boswell for on April 30, he was proposed for membership in the famous Literary Club. Its foundation members, whose numbers were soon greatly extended, were Johnson, Reynolds, Burke, Nugent, Beauclerk, Langton, Goldsmith, Chamier, and Hawkins. Bozzy's chances of getting in were slim indeed—David Garrick had nearly missed election for his arrogance. Johnson, however, was determined that Boswell be included and later confessed in Scotland that all the members knew that if Johnson's wishes were thwarted the old Doctor would see that no other person was ever admitted. The Club still exists, and is more socially exclusive today, perhaps, than its founders intended. Some years ago it found Gilbert Keith Chesterton's joyous pride in his middle-class origin too much for delicate stomachs, so the candidature of that great man, the best intellectual talker since Johnson, fell through.

BOSWELL roamed Europe (at his father's expense), saw Rousseau, chatted with Voltaire, and later met Paoli, the great Corsican at that time leading his small island compatriots to independence. But Bozzy had promised his father that he would study law on the continent in Utrecht and when he returned was finally called to the Scotch bar. He never really wanted to be a lawyer, which is as good a reason as any for not succeeding. "All through 1774 his private papers record frequent drinking-bouts, with a frequent sequel on the streets. Mrs. Boswell had to nurse him each time back to sobriety, to listen to his groans and implorations, and, once to dodge a candlestick he threw at her. His remorse after each occasion was tearful and eloquent, his debauches were soon renewed, and his business began at length to suffer. Some idea of the kind of lawyer he was becoming is demonstrated by his conduct of the case of a sheepstealer named John Reid, found guilty and sentenced to death. Reid became Boswell's idee fixe. When his hard work for a reprieve failed, he visited his client in prison daily, drank whisky with him, evolved a wonderful plan for cutting him down alive and getting doctors to restore him, attended him at length to the gallows (for which ceremony the condemned man wore shroud and nightcap, as the ghastly custom often was), got him a last glass of wine to drink the company's health, saw him swing off and hang three-quarters of an hour, and finally just escaped a duel with the son of the Lord Justice-Clerk by writing a foolish paragraph in the newspapers on the case; fortunately for Boswell, a written apology settled it." Mr. Wyndham Lewis has drawn on Colonel Isham's collection for this work and the very important letters of Bozzy to his friend, Temple.

People In The News

Dr. Chaim Weizmann

New York Times: In 1885, in the little forest town of Motele, Lithuania, a 12-year-old schoolboy sat down to write a letter to his teacher. It was about his own people, whose plight rested heavily on his young heart. Yesterday, in Jerusalem, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, the writer of that letter of sixty-four years ago, was inaugurated as President of the State of Israel in Palestine.

Few men of our time have dreamed a dream so long and lived to see it fulfilled. Theodor Herzl, who enlisted the active support of the young student chemist in the Zionist movement at the turn of the century, did not. Neither did many other early co-workers of Dr. Weizmann. The memory of them must have been present in his mind as he took his oath of office. But he himself deserves to be described as the chief architect of this new State. It was a friendship with a young M.P. at Manchester in 1905 that ripened into the Balfour Declaration of 1917. And when David Lloyd George, Britain's Premier in the First World War, wished to reward Dr. Weizmann for the process he had discovered of extracting acetone—a constituent of a shell explosive which, Lloyd George exclaimed, "absolutely saved the British Army"—Israel's first President told him, "There is nothing I want for myself, but there is something I should like you to do for my people." That was establishment in Palestine of a national homeland.

It is little wonder that there were tears in his eyes a few days ago as he convened Israel's Constituent Assembly and as there probably were yesterday when he took the oath of office. But they were undoubtedly tears of joy, and not of regret. One does not shed tears of regret when a dream of a lifetime comes true.

Sir Basil Brooke

"Critic" in New Statesman and Nation (London): Sir Basil Brooke's decision to hold a quick election in the Six Counties was announced the morning after I reached Belfast from Dublin. Driving out to keep my appointment with him at Stormont, I asked myself as I passed the melo-dramatic statue of Carson shaking his fist at the world in general and at Southern Ireland in particular, how much of the old bullying spirit of Ulster I should find surviving in its present Premier. The answer is that on the surface no one could be more courteous or reasonable than Sir Basil; the old spirit survives only in the sense that the Southern Irish are still in his mind a charming but feckless lot of people, much given to Catholicism, and under no circumstances to be trusted. Sir Basil pronounced himself well satisfied with his second visit to Mr. Attlee. In view of Sir Basil's published demand, this can only mean that the British Prime Minister has promised to give statutory form to his verbal pledge not to allow the status of the Six Counties to be changed without their free consent. No one can be surprised that such a favourable moment has been seized upon by the Six County Government for a quick election. The proclamation of a Republic in the South, supported by one or two unwise speeches by Irish politicians, can be blown up into a threat to the existence of the Six Counties. The election will show a large Protestant majority solidly against any attempt, however reasonable the approach, to weaken Ulster's will to remain part of the United Kingdom and loyal to the British Crown.

Herr Schacht

Kingston Whig-Standard: Justice is apparently trying very hard to catch up with Hjalmar Horace Greeley Schacht, but Herr Schacht seems to be able to evade it. He has been finally found guilty of being a major Nazi offender by a German appeals court, and has been sentenced to an eight-year prison term. Herr Schacht, however, questions the court's legality and authority, and has indicated he will not go to prison. There the matter rests at the moment. No official answer has been given to questions as to whether he could or would be forced to serve his sentence.

In the minds of most people, there is no question of Herr Schacht's guilt. He was Hitler's financial wizard, and he served the Nazi leader faithfully and well. Much of Nazi German's success in its early campaigns for economic infiltration of other nations was due to Schacht's ability. He helped make possible the tremendous achievements of German industry under the Nazi regime. And a claim that a man of Herr Schacht's acumen and experience did not know that he was helping the Nazis to plunge the world into war cannot be accepted.

How did this man acquire his strange immunity? The only apparent reason he was not forcibly taken to court and then imprisoned when sentence was pronounced is that he is now living in the British Zone of Germany, while the trial was held in the United States Zone. It seems a very feeble reason. Those who predicted that Herr Schacht would do quite well for himself, no matter what action was taken against others accused of being major Nazi offenders, may have known what they were talking about.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd....

And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter. And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

My father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

I and my Father are one. (John 10: 14-16, 22-30.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"I can't sleep," wailed a voice in his ear, as the doctor got out of bed to answer the telephone at three in the morning.

"Hold the wire," said the doctor crustily, "and I'll sing you a lullaby."

Sitting on a park bench with his buddy, a young sailor suddenly rose and followed a blonde who walked by. A few minutes later he returned, alone and his buddy said, "No luck, pal?"

"Naw," said the other disgustedly. "She's another one of those contortionists.

"Contortionists?"

"Yeah. One of them dames that can turn her nose up while she's turning her thumbs down."

$53,000 Value Put On Land Expropriated By City Appraisal Judge Informed

On the basis of the price paid by Frank H. Jobbitt for a Park St. frontage of the property, John T. O'Connell valued at $53,000 the ten acres expropriated by the city in his testimony at the appraised proceedings begun today by His Honor Judge S. L. Smoke. The property is bounded by Park St., Rose Avenue, Monaghan Road and O'Connell Road. The city required the property as part of the site of the 226 houses for veterans which Reynolds Construction Company is building for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation in agreement with the City Council.

The Council paid $20,000 into court some time ago, and $8,000 for the Scott property on the side of Monaghan Road which was expropriated for the same housing purpose.

Mr. O'Connell was represented by G. N. Gordon, KC, with J. G. M. German, Cobourg, as associated counsel, and with them as realty experts were: John R. Sinclair, Peterborough; George Lister, Toronto, and C. E. Purnell, Hamilton.

The city was represented by City Clerk E. A. Outram, T. J. Carley, KC, and advising realtors, W. H. Bosley, Toronto; Gordon Hancock and Garth Braund, Peterborough.

W. J. Arthur Fair, KC, appeared for Carman Paterno and Carman Fisico, sometime tenants of the ten acres, assisted by Bruce Johnston and Joseph H. Bell.

Mr. Paterno and Mr. Fisico had planted a market garden crop on the land last spring. Vegetables were growing in June when one morning Reynold Construction employees invaded the property and began excavation for the new houses.

City Council's contention is to the effect that the gardeners should look to Mr. O'Connell for any damages they suffered in loss of crop.

Mr. Outram was the first witness.

Mr. Outram, examined by Mr. Carley, explained the circumstances of the city's need of a block of property for economy in the work of the contractors. For that reason the O'Connell and Scott acres were selected with another block east of Lock St. and north of Peterborough-Brinton Carpet plant, and some other land owned by the municipality. The Council began negotiations with Mr. O'Connell and then decided to expropriate.

The interests of Mr. Paterno and Mr. Fisico were not known to the Council until reported by the contractors the June day in 1948 when they entered on the O'Connell place to begin work.

Mr. O'Connell said he paid $2,500 for the property 45 years ago.

"At that time," he said in reply to Mr. German, "it was quite a piece out in the country, in North Monaghan township."

Mr. O'Connell said he paid $6,000 in taxes during his ownership. In 1934 he had leased the property to two gardening tenants, Carmen Paterno and Carman Fissico, for five years. At the end of that period they retained use of the place by verbal agreement. In 1945 they agreed to pay $60 a year.

"In the fall of 1947, Mr. Frank Jobbitt wanted to buy part of it. He took 208 feet frontage on Park St. and 100 feet on O'Connell Rd. He paid me $7,720 at teh price of $15 a foot frontage plus $3,400 separate for the house. He has set up a general hardware store."

Mr. O'Connell said O'Connell Rd. was name after his father; Rose Ave. signified his wife's name, and St. Catherine's St. his sister's. He recalled that when John W. Pierce was surveying the property in Nov. 1947, "I said I was selling a piece to Mr. Jobbitt and I wanted to have it subdivided so I could sell it, too. Mr. Pierce said it was then too cold to drive stakes and he would survey it first thing in the spring. Last June Paterno came to me and said the city was tearing up their root crop. I said: "That's a matter between you and the city. I have nothing to do with it."

Mr. O'Connell said he had an offer early in June, 1948, from Ed Thompson to buy the property for $20,000.

Plaintiff said he valued his land at $15 a foot, the price to Mr. Jobbitt. Referring to a plan of the property Mr. O'Connell said the frontage was 1788' 6" on Rose Ave. and 1789' 9" on O'Connell Rd.; with 208' on Park St. and 206' 9" on Monaghan Rd. Total frontage was 3,576 feet valued as a whole at $53,000.

"I didn't want to sell to the city or to sell it at all. I wanted to subdivide and build on it and sell that way. I had held it for that idea."

Had No Lease

To Mr. Carley, plaintiff said the two gardeners did not have a lease of the field.

They paid him $60 for 1947.

"Was anything said about terminating their tenancy?"

"I told Paterno I was going to subdivide in the spring. It was understood he'd be finished because he could not use the stable for his horse any longer."

Mr. Carley: "Did they use the stable after the sale to Jobbitt?"

Mr. O'Connell: "I couldn't tell you that. They'd have to go over Jobbitt's land. I told Paterno he would have to deal with Jobbitt about coming into and out of the stable from the east."

Mr. Carley: "Were you aware Paerno and Fisico had put in a garden in 1948?"

"They did not tell me they put in any crop."

"Were you aware they did?"

"No."

"You say you saw them on the market that spring of 1948?"

"Yes! They had vegetables from 1947. I didn't need to buy from them. I had my own."

"What steps did you take in 1948 to subdivide the property before expropriation?"

"I instructed Mr. Pierce in November, 1947 I wanted a survey."

"Well, did you instruct him to proceed?"

"I was in his office several times that spring, but Mr. Pierce was always very busy."

"I suggest you never instructed Mr. Pierce to proceed with subdividing the lot."

"I'll have to contradict you. I did."

"Any way nothing was actually done by Mr. Pierce?"

"He hadn't started, but he was told."

Plaintiff estimated he had built 40 or 50 houses altogether. The last one was about 15 years ago on Rogers St., but during and since the depression he was chiefly concerned about maintenance.

Decide Old Inn To Keep Name

HAMILTON, Feb. 21—(CP)—A 150-year-old curse on anyone who should change the name of the Honest Lawyer Hotel—Hamilton's oldest inn—may have dissuaded a rumored attempt to change the name.

Downtown drinkers were indignant last week over rumors that city lawyers were offended at the name. It was said that the lawyers didn't like the possible inferences—that they frequent beverage rooms or that an honest lawyer is uncommon.

The Hamilton Law Society and the Liquor Licence Board denied however, that presure was being brought for a name change.

The name was given 150 years ago by hotelkeeper Henry Upton to honor a lawyer who kept a fortune for him for 12 years during the American Revolutionary War. The sign over the hotel door called down the curse of paralysis on the hand that should "change in any way this old memorial sign."

St. Laurent Pays McGuigan Visit

TORONTO, Feb. 21—(CP)—As part of his many engagements in a crowded week-end visit to Toronto, Prime Minister St. Laurent Sunday had luncheon with James Cardinal McGuigan, following attendance at High Mass at St. Michael's cathedral.

In the absence of any statement, there was speculation that the prime minister and the cardinal may have discussed the case of Cardinal Joseph Mindszenty, and possibly also the question of Canadian diplomatic representation at the Vatican.

However, Prime Minister St. Laurent himself, told The Canadian Press that there was nothing to be said. "Whenever there is anything more than speculation it will be announced officially, and announced rapidly," he said.

Mr. St. Laurent arrived in Toronto Saturday morning and in a busy round turned over to the city the keys of a hospital, inspected a housing project, delivered an address and talked with a group of young Liberals.

RUNAWAY HORSE

Police are considering laying a charge against a run-away horse who disobeyed a "No Left Turn" sign on the corner of Charlotte and George streets at 11 o'clock today.

The horse, which was drawing a milk wagon, was scared by a pneumatic drill and ran recklessly into Charlotte street, hitting a parking meter and a post outside an hotel. It then ran into the road between a police cruiser and a car which were travelling in opposite directions. The space between the cars was too narrow for the wagon, which, after damaging a fender and smashing a head lamp on the cruiser, became separated from the horse. The horse then ran into Simcoe St. and was eventually caught by four people at Aylmer St.—H.M.P.

Czechs Capture Hockey Crown, Canada Second

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 21—(CP)—Czechoslovakia recaptured the world amateur hockey championship Sunday as Canada, the defending titlists, finished second.

The Czechs took home the world crown they won in 1947 and relinquished to Canada a year ago in the Olympics by defeating Sweden 3-0 before 11,000 fans including Swedish Crown Prince Gustav Adolf.

The Communist - dominated Czechoslovak government immediately lauded the triumph as a "victory for the workers.' Czech Information Minister V. Kopetcky, in a telegram to the new champions, said that they had "given their people an inspiration on the road to socialism."

The triumph was the Czech's fourth against one defeat in the final six-team round-robin tournament. Canada, which fought Switzerland to a 1-1 tie, finished ahead of the United States. Uncle Sam's squad blitzed Austria 9-1 in their final game.

Both Canada and the United States finished with six points but the Canadians were awarded the runner-up spot on the basis of their goals-scored and goals-against record.

The Canadians, with two victories and two ties and one loss, scored 20 goals and allowed 10, a spread of 10 points. The Americans, with three victories in five outings, tallied 23 times but yielded 16 goals for a seven-goal spread.

Sweden and Switzerland gained five points by winning two games and tying one in five starts. The Swedes, however, gained fourth place because they had a 12-goal spread while the Swiss had one. Austria failed to win a single game.

Ho, hum, it seems we're in trouble once more,
Petes' Sec. Fred's peeved, Legion's Coach Ned's sore;
Petes swear we ride 'em, Legion vows the same—
Fans say nothin' but keep payin' for the game.

We'll go with the juniors and keep out of trouble:
Cover Legion-Petes' tilts and trouble comes double;
One blast burns both sides like a bride's pies—
Such achievement should rate us the year's Nobel prize!

* * * * * * *

This letter from Petes' Sec. Fred Scates: "The Petes want to explain to fans why Friday's game was not played. The ice was in good condition but there was some water on it. Secretary Carson of Legion inspected it at two Friday afternoon and there was no water on it then. Referee Heard of Whitby said it was up to the clubs whether they played or not. The Petes were agreeable to play and a couple Legion officials, but on a vote of Legion players they refused to go on. The same conditions prevailed in a previous game between these clubs with the same referee making a similar decision, but the Petes played, and the ice was not nearly as good that night as it was last Friday night."

"Never The Twain . . ."

And so it goes—never the twain shall meet. At least, not in friendly fashion. They'll meet on the ice—either here or in Lindsay on Wednesday, and again next Friday. Meantime, the Petes play Toronto Meteors here this eve at nine, if the ice is okay, and this trio of postponed tussles will set the stage for senior "B" group semi-finals, Meteors vs. Petes, and Toronto Bells vs. Legion. From here on in, we don't give a hoot how peeved these clubs get at each other—or at this writer—but we hope they play ball with the customers and get their games off as scheduled—even if it means switching to Lindsay. That town doesn't have to depend on natural ice as spring approaches.

They're both gunning for a crack at Whipper Watson's British Empire crown and it should be quite a scramble. Mike doesn't want to stop to wave at any of his many admirers once the gong goes. as Atkins is an experienced driver in the ring and tougher than two bags of frozen turnips. Youthful Ben Sharpe is back in action here in the semi-final against dour Sandy O'Donnell, while Peterborough's Nick Vicchiarelli has a prelim spot against Sammy Gotter.

A Solid Minor Setup

Ken Kingston has been elected president of the Peterborough Minor Lacrosse Association for '49, with Walt Murphy secretary, and George Hill, John Cooper and Reg Perks directors. Last three are respectively conveners for the juvenile, midget and bantam leagues. Peewee and tadpole sections will be operated, too, as some 500 boys were in the setup last summer. Managers are: Juvenile—Ben Keller, Alex Witherstone and Ed Foley; midget—Jim Dunstan, Bill Bruce, Bill Tarkington and Jack Legrow; bantam—Mal VanAllen, Ed Woodcock, Herb Reynolds, Bill Post and Walt Firth. It's hoped Jack Foote will be back as chief coach. Executive is checking now on sponsors and an early bingo is planned. A fine setup, this.

No less than 11 basketball contests concerning local squads o'er the week-end, as the hoop sport starts hitting the high spots in its season. In girls' play, Coaches Doris Fenner's PCVS senior and Marion Bell's junior PCI-ers took wins over Port Hope; Normals won from Lockey's, as Neill's edged Collis; and CGE colleens were victors over Bond's, while Towne Togs triumphed against the Belleville belles. These twin bills were on various fronts. Marines "A" men cagers squeezed out a nifty win o'er Hellcats in St. Kitts, a rugged encounter. Three PCVS boys' teams won against Lindsay, senior and bantam PCI-ers remaining undefeated and the junior "A" lads staying in the race. Our junior "B" bunch were ousted by Port Hope.

Old Rockport Winner

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 21—(AP)—Old Rockport, a rank outsider which had won only four minor races in 14 starts, and youthful Gordon Glisson, a mere apprentice rider, teamed Saturday to score a resounding upset victory in the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby. The race was the richest in the Derby's 12-year history, carrying a gross purse of $141,800 with 14 horses starting. Old Rockport, a 33 to 1 shot, won $94,700 net for his jubilant owner, Clifford Mooers of Lexington, Ky., who witnessed the race.

Togs And CGE Earns Wins In Cage Play

Towne Togs defeated Belleville girls, 39-13, after CGE lasses had taken a 16-10 win from Bond's in a cage double-header at the Collegiate gym on Saturday evening. Both were interesting tussles the prelim being a rugged checking one, and the nightcap seeing Hilly Yudin's Togs turn in their best effort of the season.

Towne Togs piled up a 23-3 margin at halftime with fast breaking and good sniping as they threw up a stonewall zone defence to keep the visitors well out. Belleville passed well but couldn't penetrate that defence. It was 16-10 for the homesters in a closer second stanza. Jean Vass, Shirley Curtis and Anita Davis shone for the winners, as Joan Dunk was solid defensively. Doreen Bell went best for Belleville, with S. Marinoff and S. Bunnett, also good. Togs had one in nine foul shots and Belleville three in 13. The teams:

Belleville: S. Marinoff 3, D. Bell 6, M. Tomaso, S. Bunnett 2, J. Matthews, B. Holway, E. Palmer 2, B. Ruttan, N. Chambers, E. Gilmour.

Togs: B. Pringle, D. Callan 4, A. Davis 6, B. Deyell, S. Curtis 8, J. Vass 9, J. Dunk, A. Bowler 4, E. Whittaker 2, J. Castle 6.

Prelim Tilt

The prelim tussle saw some close checking all through between the well-matched squads. CGE rolled early to count a 12-3 lead the first half on quick breaks to catch their opponents' guards out of position on the big floor. Bond's had more of the play in the second half but could not overcome that lead, though they outscored CGE 7-4. Betty Stewart, Mary Perrin and Irene Stewart went best for the winners, with L. MacIntosh, Ruth Beard and Ruth Henderson best for Bond's. The latter team sank half their 12 free throws but CGE got none in 10 attempts. The teams:

CGE: M. Batley 2, M. Perrin 4, Marg. Perrin, B. Luther 1, J. Stewart 2, Stewart 5, D. Schell 1, Scotcher 2.

Bond's: R. Beard 3, R. Henderson 3, D. McNeely, A. Matheral 1, P. Stewart 1, L. MacIntosh 1, M. Beggs, M. Sullivan 1, J. O'Brien, E. McIlhagga, M. McKee, B. Larmer.

Referees, K. Batchelor and H. Smith; times, I. Black.

ORFU Certain To Keep Series

TORONTO, Feb. 21—(CP)—The Ontario Rugby Football Union, Canada's oldest football league and one of the three groups challenging annually for the Dominion championship, Saturday officially recorded its determination to continue with its senior series no matter whether Hamilton Tigers go ahead with their proposed withdrawal.

At the union's 67th annual meeting here Saturday, representatives of the senior teams, taking cognizance of reports of negotiations between the Tigers and Hamilton Wildcats of the Big Four Union on a possible amalgamation, emphasized they would operate with three clubs if the two Hamilton teams get together to operate in the Big Four.

Jack Langs, President of the Tigers, told the meeting that the negotiations still are proceeding but it was possible nothing would come of them and the Tigers would remain in the ORFU to comprise a four-team group with Sarnia Imperials, Toronto Balmy Beach and Windsor Rockets.

The delegates turned down a request by Warren Bolton of Windsor that the Tigers' officials name a definite date on which to say whether Hamilton would remain or withdraw from the Union. Instead Langs will report within two weeks to Secretary Harold Bailey and other senior teams on the status of the negotiations.

PCVS Lasses Get Two Over Hopers

PCVS junior and senior girl cagers came through with victories against Port Hope squads over the week-end in Lindsay. The senior PCI girls pulled out a 13-11 win in a tight tilt, while the Peterborough junior lasses romped to a 32-4 decision in a rather one-sided contest.

Patsy Morgan got the lone point of a close checking first quarter in the senior set-to. Port Hope led 4-3 at the half on baskets by Mildred Peters and Doris Sleeman, as Katie Clifton sank one for PCVS. The latter went ahead 10-5 in the third as Jane Hall counted five points and Mary Braund two. M MacTaggart getting a foul shot for the Hopers. Jane Hall clicked for three more in the fourth, while J. Peters and D. Sleeman each got three for Port Hope in a rousing finish. The teams:

Port Hope — N. Trawin, M. Peters, C. Chestnut, S. Stevenson, J. McCarthy, D. Reynolds, M. MacTaggart, D. Sleeman, P. Thill, B. Wilson.

PCVS— P. Martyn, M. Braund, L. Paddock, K. Clifton, N. Mason, J. Hall, B. Lawrie, C. Graham, W. Watson, H. Westran, K. McElroy.

She added four points next stanza with Carol Raper and Dorothy Penhall having two each. In the third, Donna Howson counted five points and Mary Craw two to take a 21-4 lead. Betty Jaquith threw in three baskets for six points in the fourth with Donna Howson getting four and Mary Craw one. Lois Hutchinson and Donna Howson starred throughout. The teams:

Hornets Blank Flyers

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Hornets' Baz Bastein stood between the pipes in two American Hockey League games over the week-end, and came out with consecutive shutouts. He barred the door to St. Louis Flyers 7-0 Sunday, while on Saturday he blanked Indianapolis Capitals 5-0. These were his fourth and fifth shutouts of the season.

GUNNING FOR THE WHIP—Mike Sharpe, pictured above, who will meet the Australian champion, Fred Atkins, in the main bout at the Brock Arena Wednesday night. Mike has set his sights on a championship match with Whipper Billy Watson and he will be a step closer if he can hurdle the mighty Atkins. It will be Mike's toughest bout to date. In the semi-final Ben Sharpe tangles with the villainous Sandy O'Donnell. Fans know what to expect when these two huskies clash. In the opener the local boy Nick Viccharelli takes on Sammy Gotter of Montreal.

Church League Secretary Wants In Arena

The following letter was written by Harris Glen, secretary of the Church Hockey League concerning the delayed league play-offs:

"Dear Sir,—I noticed in your sports column a query about the Church League. At present, we are waiting word on the Omemee or Lakefield rinks, as we could not get time in our own Civic Arena for one night. Mr. Oulmet told us we could have it from four to five o'clock, but why do that when in one night we could clean up most of our final games in four hours?

"Most of these lads asked for at least one game in Civic Arena. I thought it was built for boys, including peewees and midgets. It's a big life for these boys, and most parents do not like the idea of going out of town to see them play. Many boys say: 'Our parents paid into the arena fund, so why can't we play there?' Mr. Perdue, I figure they have a good reason to look at it that way, as it was erected for the kids. Don't you see it that way? That is why we have been holding up play-offs. It's not fair to have 10 of our teams going out of town; look at the expense.

"Oh, well, some day I hope to see our Memorial Centre standing. This is not meant to offend anyone, but when young lads, the future hockey stars, cannot get in their own arena, they are not getting much help. What can be done? I'll admit the weather this winter has been none too good for hockey.

"HARRIS GLEN."

tough play in the National ckey League blazed again nday night and sent Toron- Vic Lynn to hospital with a ly-gashed head and a possi- skull fracture.

Lynn, 24-year-old forward, hit over the head with the de of Red Hamill's stick in a alty-studded game that saw ronto take advantage of Chi- o Black Hawks' sentences to , 4-3.

he victory lifted Toronto to hin one point of second place, held by Boston Bruins. afs whipped Boston 5-2 Satur- night.

Lynn and Hamill mixed along boards in the second period nday night and after big Red's w, Lynn dropped on his face was taken to hospital.

Hamill drew a match penalty m Referee Bill Chadwick and ague president Clarence npbell, who was in the Chic- audience, indicated the Hawk forward may be fined and suspended for one game.

In the third period, Bep Guidolin of the Black Hawks drew three penalties — a minor for slashing and two misconducts for arguing with Chadwick.

Scores 3 Goals.

Toronto in the second period scored three vital goals while Chicago was short-handed. Chicago had taken a 2-0 lead earlier on goals by Gus Bodnar in the first and Roy Conacher in the second. Then, in less than four minutes of the second, Max Bentley, Jim Thomson and Howie Meeker blasted in counters. In the finale, Ted Kennedy scored for Toronto and Ralph Nattrass for Chicago.

In addition to Lynn's injury, Toronto had the bad fortune to lose Meeker, who suffered a possible foot bone fracture on the play in which he scored. Meeker returned to action only last week after missing 20 games with a fractured shoulder.

These mishaps came after Toronto's Wild Bill Ezinicki received a knee injury in Saturday's victory over Boston that will keep him on the sidelines for two weeks.

Elsewhere in the NHL during the week-end, the last-place New York Rangers rose from a 3-1 drubbing Saturday by the fourth-place Montreal Canadiens to whip the Habs 3-2 Sunday and moved within a point of fifth-place Chicago.

MARAUDING MONK—Three year old Peter, a South American ring tail monkey, caused considerable excitement in Hamilton this week when he toppled his cage from a shelf, escaped and roamed through a pet shop among the birds, fish, hamsters, rabbits, turtles and a puppy. A visit to Toronto with his owner had left him in a nervous state. He caused no damaged during the escapade but provided amusement for a large crowd of spectators who watched through the shop window.

Karloff Unable To Escape Monster Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 21 (AP)—The ghost of Frankenstein's monster still hovers over Boris Karloff.

The noted actor is back to playing a boogyman, this time with Abbott and Costello in "A. and C. Meet the Killers." "but I think they'll probably scare me more than I will them," he remarked.

No matter where Karloff's acting career takes him, he always seems to return to the spine-tinglers. He has tried Broadway plays. One lasted five performances. Another folded last month after six tries.

It's ironic that his only Broadway success was in "Arsenic and Old Lace," in which he played a madman with a haunting resemblance to the movie actor, Boris Karloff.

Last year he had a run as Indian chief in the movies "Tap Roots" and "Unconquered." (actually, his tanned face resembles an Indian more than the English gentleman he is.) He had other offers to play redskins, but turned them down to avoid being typed.

Karloff used to turn down horror roles, too, but he told me he has a new philosophy.

Karloff, who began his acting career with a troupe at Kamloops, B. C., hasn't played Fankenstein's monster in 15 years, but the shade of the satchel-footed dimwit still follows him around. He still gets fan mail about it.

Fantasy Footnotes

Things I never expect to see . . . Gary Cooper and Jimmy Stewart in a hot argument. . .Peter Lawford casts as a gangster. . . Ralph Edwards and Art Linkletter in a friendly crap game. . . Alice Faye doing another picture (I wish she'd surprise me) . . . Bette Davis and Joan Crawford co-starred in the same picture . . . Gene Kelly and Marie McDonald speaking to each other again (their feud on "This Time for Keeps" was a lulu). . .Ronald Colman in a western. . . Clarke Gable married (there I go out on a limb again).

VOL. XCVIII, No. 43 MONDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1949

eterborough Little Theatre Acclaimed By Adjudicator; roducer Scores Big Success

KAY REX

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Feb. 21—(CP).—Ottawa and Brockle groups triumphed at Eastern Ontario's Drama Festival er the week-end, but to a Canadian playwright and producer om Peterborough went the biggest theatrical bouquet. bertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner, wrote ortune My Foe," the three- t comedy satire which won r Ottawa Drama League the vies Trophy as the best full- ngth production of the Fes- al.

When it came to picking a win- r at the close of the three-day ntest, Adjudicator Robert eaight confessed it boiled down choosing between Mr. Davies, author, and Mr. Davies, the oducer, who was largely respon- le for the "brilliant" Shake- arian effort by Peterborough ttle Theatre.

Mr. Davies, the author, also honors in Toronto during the ek-end when his one-act com- "Overlaid" was chosen as the all-round play at the west- conference of the Inter-Var- y Drama Festival.)

se Runner-up

"The Taming of the Shrew," by Peterborough company was a y close runner-up for the tro- y, presented annually by Sena- Rupert Davies, publisher of Kingston Whig-Standard and her of Robertson Davies.

n his remarks, Mr. Speaight scribed the classic as a "bril- nt essay in Elizabethan stage- ft."

But while the musical back- ound, costumes and general ef- t were beautiful, the inexperi- ce of the group showed in the lividual acting.

This was not surprising, how- r, as this was the first time in history of the Drama Festival a full-length Shakespearean y was presented, and the cast twenty-seven was more than ce as large as that of any other y entered for competition. The judicator gave special com- ndation to Miss Maralin Mun- and to Messrs. Robert Bolton, rdon Cornell, Albert Hill and yton Bullock; Mr. John Lon- rville, who played the role of uchio, was warmly praised by Speaight, and was runner-up the award to the best actor in Festival.

t was here Ottawa Drama gue chalked up the winning re. Mr. Speaight said the ex- enced Ottawa group had ieved professional theatre with ortune My Foe."

ns Fulford Shield

n addition to taking the trophy Drama League now stands a od chance of competing in the minion Drama Festival next ril, along with Brockville eatre Guild, which won the lford Shield for the best one- presentation.

This is the third time in 10 rs of Festival competition that Brockville group has walked with the shield, donated by orge Fulford of Brockville.

The winning production was J. Priestley's "The Rose and own."

Prizes for individual perform- ces went to Brenda Davies of terborough, and W. A. Atkinson Ottawa.

Mr. Atkinson won the "best ac- " award for what Mr. Speaight med a "magnificent perform- e as the dissillusioned profes- in "Fortune My Foe."

Mrs. Davies, wife of Robertson vies, won the "best actress" ize for her performance as Katherina," the heroine of "The ming of the Shrew."

st All-Round Play

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP)—The iversity of Toronto Drama mmittee's production of "Over- d," a one-act Canadian comedy Robertson Davies, was chosen the best all-round play at the Western Conference of the Inter-Varsity Drama Festival here Saturday night.

"The Coiner," by Bernard Duffy, an Irish dialect one-act comedy, presented by the University of Western Ontario Players' Guild was picked a close runner-up by the adjudicators, Mary Ashwell of Hamilton, and Dr. G. Bagnani of Toronto.

McMaster University Dramatic Society from Hamilton, opened the program of three one-act plays with "Benedict," an English drama, by Charles Causley.

Wally Meikle, who played an Irish tinker who makes his own half-crowns in "The Coiner" was picked as the best actor of the three plays.

Miss Ashwell said Meikle's performance showed warmth and a subtle humor that "warmed the cockles" of her heart.

Edith Greenberg, who played Ethel, a Canadian farmer's wife in the Winnipeg production, was chosen as the best female performer. John Walker, as Pop, a 70-year-old farmer who likes opera, was also excellent and the adjudicators picked him as the second best male performer.

Miss Greenberg gave a realistic interpretation of the farmer's wife whose whole life is centred in the small farm community.

Walker's performance as Pop, the creaking old man who wants to go to the big city and spend his insurance money at the opera and night clubs with "nekkid" women, brought roars of laughter.

Dig Bit Deeper Slogan Chest Campaign

"Dig a bit deeper this year," is the slogan of the 1949 Red Cross and Community Fund campaign which will run from February 25 to March 4.

While the objective this year has been raised 25 per cent. to $75,000, campaign officials state this is still substantially short of the needs of the various agencies. It is hoped that the citizens will over - subscribe this figure and ensure that none of the agencies on the list will be hampered through lack of funds.

The general committee of the Community Fund has this year demanded the closest scrutiny of all operating expenses—its own as well as those of the agencies. Subsequent slashings of estimates have reduced grants to an absolute minimum.

Supply Blood Free

Major item causing an increased expenditure is the Red Cross plan to supply blood free to all hospitals. Patients in need of plasma will now receive it without charge.

The increased cost of operating these social organizations as well as expanded facilities in many cases have also made larger grants imperative

Included in the fund are the Canadian Red Cross, Humane Society, Navy League, Salvation Army (local work), St. Vincent's Orphanage, Children's Aid, YMCA and YWCA (local work), Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the Victorian Order of Nurses, Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation and other public bodies approved by the executive.

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW," presented by the Peterborough Little Theatre in the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival, was runner-up for first place and won high praise from Adjudicator Robert Speaight. The Little Theatre's first Festival entry, it was also the first full-length Shakespeare play to be entered in the Canadian Festival's history. Above are shown Brenda Davies, who as Katherina, was awarded the prize for the best actress in the Festival, with John Londerville, whose Petruchio was warmly commended, and who was runner-up for the award for the best actor. Mr. Speaight gave special praise to the group of Zanies who played a vital part in the production, and above are seen Albert Hill (praised as "an admirable Shakespearean clown"), Donald McNight, Edward Loveday, John Armstrong, Arnold Olmstead and Donald Torney; of this group, but not seen in the picture, is Hugh Hutchison, who also played the roles of Haberdasher and Page.

CAR STRIKES TREE

A skid on the icy road one and a half miles north of Fowler's Corners Monday resulted in approximately $100 worth of damage to J. H. Dougherty's car. The car went into a ditch and hit a tree but Mr. Dougherty, who lives at 581 Roger St., was uninjured.

SPRING FLOWERS BLOOMING

Blooming at least a month ahead of time, John Smith, 150 Benson St., reports bursting buds on an early-blooming variety of yellow anemone. This plant seems to be an earlier bloomer than crocus.

IDENTIFICATION CARDS

Householders will soon be approached by canvassers for the Red Cross and Community Fund campaign. So there can be no misrepresentation each bona fide canvasser will carry an identification card which will be immediately produced when requested.

SHORT CIRCUIT STARTS FIRE

A short circuit in the wiring of a car onwed by Reuben Wilson, Manning Ave., brought the firemen to the smoking vehicle early on Sunday night. Damage was limited to the wiring. There were also two chimney fires over the week-end: one at the residence of A. Whetung, RR 2, Peterborough, and the other at the residence of M. Clarke, 384 Water St.

SUCCESSFUL LABOR SCHOOL

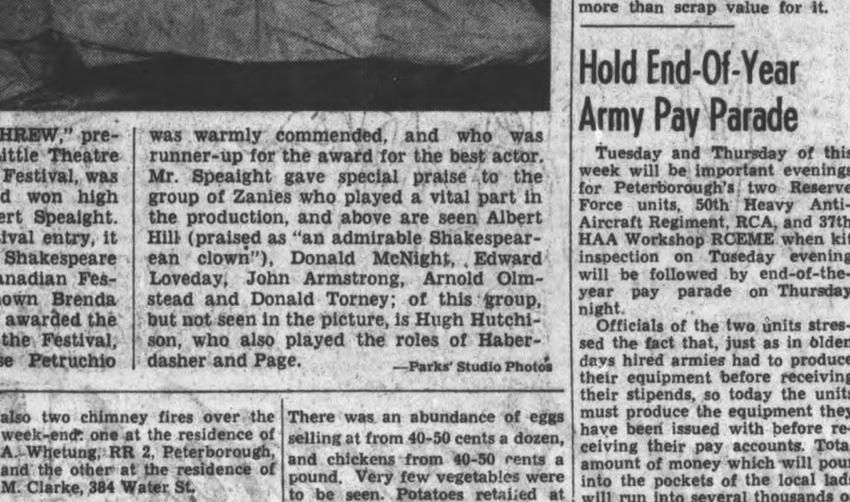
About 60 shop stewards and union officials attended the week-end school on collective bargaining problems. It was sponsored by the two UE Locals, 524 and 527, and directed by the Workers' Edusational Association. UE officials say it is hoped that similar schools will beheld in the future.

RAIN FRIGHTENS MARKETERS

Forecasts of rain are believed to have been largely responsible for the small market on Saturday. There was an abundance of eggs selling at from 40-50 cents a dozen, and chickens from 40-50 cents a pound. Very few vegetables were to be seen. Potatoes retailed at $1.50 for a standard bag, including cost of delivery. A considerable quantity of apples were also on sale, but less than last year at this time.

STRUCK BARRICADE

A car hit a barricade at the junction of Simcoe and Aylmer Sts. on Saturday, knocking a flare onto 69-year-old Jack McMillan, who was walking along the sidewalk. The police were called, however Mr. McMillan was not seriously hurt.



WORKERS' EDUCATIONAL ASSOCIATION conducted a two-day school in Peterborough of United Electrical Workers' Locals over the week-end for the purpose of educating shops' stewards and local officers on collective bargaining matters. Shown around the discussion table above, clockwise from Lower Left, are Drummond Wren, general secretary, WEA; Phyllis Pond, Steward, local 524 UEW; Duncan Drummond, president, local 527, UEW; Florence Farrance, publicity, and Mervin Chambers, president, both of local 524 UEW; C. R. Sullivan and J. Rowley, district representatives.

Gas Consumers Notified Rate Increase

An increase of about 10 p.c. in the city gas rates was announced today by the Utilities Commission.

The financial statement for 1948 showed an operating loss in this one department of more than $10,000. Part of it was due to the loss in operating the old plant for the first half of the year, and part was charged to the new propane plant.

Anticipated economies were not entirely realized in the second half of the year, as reported at a recent meeting of the Commission, but it expected that they will materialize in 1949. The announcement comments: "In any case an increase in revenue is required to obviate further deficits and provide some working capital. The new rates are shown in an advertisement in this issue.

Under the old rates, the charge was $2.25 for the first 10,000 cu. ft. per month as compared with $2.50 for the first 1,000 cu. ft. per month in the new schedule.

The charge was $2.10 a month for the second 50,000 cu. ft. on the old price sheet as compared with $2.25 for the next 2,000 cu. ft. in the new charges.

Most of the domestic consumers did not use more than 1,000 cu. ft. a month, or were in the 2,000 cu. ft. class. None of those people exceeded 10,000 cu. ft. a month. The new rates have more meaning and effect to them.

Labor Saving

As to the economies of propane, it should be understood that the Commission proceeded gradually in the turnover's effect on its long service employees. Mr. R. L. Dobbin, utilities manager, carried on for some months with the former staff whom he was reluctant to let go. Some of the men, however, are of pensionable age, and at a recent meeting of the Commission it was said to the manager that the labor saving effect should be realized. Propane was not introduced to save labor but to ensure a supply of gas, after the Commission was summarily cut off its crude oil supply.

However, the process of gas manufacture has been greatly simplified, requiring only one or two men to keep an eye on the new apparatus. It is understood, also, that the Commission has been disappointed in its estimates of the sale and salvage value of the old equipment.

One of the last intimations was that they might not be able to get more than scrap value for it.

Hold End-Of-Year Army Pay Parade

Tuesday and Thursday of this week will be important evenings for Peterborough's two Reserve Force units, 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment, RCA, and 37th HAA Workshop RCEME when kit inspection on Tuseday evening will be followed by end-of-the-year pay parade on Thursday night.

Officials of the two units stressed the fact that, just as in olden days hired armies had to produce their equipment before receiving their stipends, so today the units must produce the equipment they have been issued with before receiving their pay accounts. Total amount of money which will pour into the pockets of the local lads will run into several thousands of dollars. Summer drill will be drawn into stores on Tuseday evening, and bumper parades are expectd on both evenings.

The artillery lads are busy at training on their firing drills for Picton Firing camp this summer and more than 75 have already signified they will be attending this year's summer camp. Recruits are still needed for the units, especially on the administration and office staffs, as well as on the gunnery and fire control sides.

Mrs. William Simpson 48 Years Resident

The funeral of the late Mrs. William Simpson, formerly Rose Jeffries, which was held from the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter St. West, on Saturday, was largely attended by the many relatives and friends from the city and Smith township, where she had made her home since coming to Canada from South Hampton, England, as a girl. 2,000 Attended First Carnival Of Skating Club

In spite of Mother Nature's attempts to spoil ice conditions, the Peterborough Figure Skating Club held their skating carnival Saturday night. About 2,000 people saw the members of the club, ranging from five years and up, perform in their first skating carnival. Oshawa figure skaters, which are recognized as equals with professionals, awed the large crowd with their jumps and twirls to music.

Hard work of Miss Lily Coburn, club professional, showed results of past work and much hope for the future.

Eight group numbers caught the eye of the crowd with the accuracy with which members went through their acts. "Candyland," featuring Diana Turner, was the best group number by the applause of the crowd.

Oshawa Skaters

Ella Durno and Arthur Petrie, president of the Oshawa Club, showed the results of long hours of practise with their version of "Dance Pair." A Chinese number, "From the East," featuring Joan Begley as Celestial Flower, made a hit with the crowd. The single number by Sherill Lashmar, who skated to "Jealousy," showed the work that went into the production of the carnival. Pair skating by Helen Hambly and Evelyn Robson, both of the Oshawa Figure Skating Club, won long applause from the audience.

"United Nations on the March" —the finale—was by far the best number on the program, with the skaters relaxing knowing that their first carnival was by far a huge success.

Pins Presented

Peterborough club pins were prestneed to each of the women skaters from the Oshawa Figure Skating Club. Roses were presented to Mrs. Ian Greenway, wife of the vice-president of the Oshaaw Club. A present was given to Miss Coburn from the members of the Peterborough Club, and flowers were presented to her from the directors of the club.

Master of ceremonies for the carnival was Elwood Jones. Others who helped make the carnival a success were Miss Lily Coburn, choreography and training; costumes, Mrs Ralph Standish; directors of performance, Miss P. (Tommy) Denne and Mrs. Ruth Ferguson; music, Jack Martin¾ properties, Clifford Crocker; and makeup, Mrs. Lillian Weiss.

PCVS Hoopsters Win Three In COSSA Play

As a result of the district COSSA boys' basketball games played at the PCVS gymnasium Friday night, two of the local school teams remained undefeated and a third stayed in the running for group honours. The Seniors and Bantams remained in the unbeaten class with 61-24 and 26-8 wins from Lindsay. The Junior "A" defeated Lindsay 44-1 and can now force a playoff for group honours by defeating Oshawa Juniors here March 4. Only the Junior B team met defeat Friday, when Port Hope won a close 21-18 decision in a game which completed the PCVS "B" team's schedule with but one win against three losses.

A Good Start

A strong 21-point first quarter gave the local senior team a good start. Neil Thompson accounted for 13 of these points. A 34-11 half time score was pushed to 54-18 at three-quarter time mainly on 8 and 6 point third quarters for Don Griffin and Al Northcott. The final score of 61-24 marked the Peterborough boys have the third time in five group games scored 60 points or better. The opposition has been held to less than 30 points in all five games.

A strong zone defense by the PCVS Junior "A" team prevented Lindsay from scoring from the floor at all in a one-sided junior game. Darrell Ackford had 16 points, Ted Evans 15 and Bryon Young 9.

District Finals

The PCVS Bantams completed group play undefeated by winning their game from Lindsay 26-8 and thereby advanced to the district finals against the Oshawa-Bowmanville-Whitby group winner. Lionel Hempstead had 10 points and Murray Grafstein seven for PCVS.

The closest game of the night and the first on the card was a well played 21-18 win for Port Hope over the PCVS Junior "B's". These two teams had to go overtime in their first meeting in Port Hope when the Peterborough boys won a 29-25 decision. A bit more "know how" when in the front court might have spelled a different season for the local boys, as Cobourg, the group winners, were only able to win here 19-18, a few weeks ago.

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 21—(ENS)—Ajax defeated Lakefield 5-4 in Lindsay on Saturday to win their OMHA bantam "C" playdown round by eight goals. Meteors Edge Bells By 6-4

LINDSAY, Feb. 21 — Toronto's two OHA Senior "B" teams clashed here Saturday night in a fast contest marred by a third-period "player-police-spectator" fracas. Hank Goldup's Meteors earned a 6-4 victory over Bell AC.

Meteors gained a 2-1 lead in the first and second periods, and each squad tallied twice in the rousing third period. George Valliere of Meteors and Roger Giesecke of Bells were thumbed for roughing. Both tangled on the ice after the penalty was called, and later mixed it in the sin bin. An unidentified lady fan grabbed Valliere by the hair, and another spectator attacked the Meteor player. Local and provincial police intervened and removed the fans, who took quite a pummeling from the sticks of Meteor players Bill Thoms and Tommy Campbell.

Bus Sadler and Bell led the winners with two goals each, while Moxley and Stewart split Bells' four goals. Don Veigel and Greg Carter fired home the other Meteor markers. Reding shone in the losers' nets.

Bell's—Goal, Reding; defense, Elliott, R. Valliere; centre, Giesecke; wings, McGowan, Moxley; alternates, Stewart, Smith, Timgren, Neatherall.

Meteors—Goal, Cleary; defense, Conacher, Campbell; centre, Veigel; wings, Sadler, Thoms; alternates, Fisher, Robertson, Carter, Bell, Parks, G. Valliere.

Officials—J. Crombie, Bowmanville; R. Wakelin, Lindsay.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

Trainer Bill Head of Montreal Canadiens said Saturday night that defenceman Ken Reardon may be back in the game "sonner than expected."

Reardon suffered a broken bone in the shoulder in a game against Toronto Maple Leafs here Feb. 3. There has been talk that the rugged defenceman would be out for the season, even if Canadiens make the playoffs.

Reardon will start skating this week, his shoulder is mending nicely and he can lift his arm freely.

Calumet Farm's Coaltown won the $25,000 added McLennan Handicap at the Hialeah track in Miami Saturday by four innings. Faultless, one of three horses running from Warren Wright's stable was second and Dixiana stable's Shy Guy was third. Coaltown was timed at 1:48 2-5 for the 1⅛ miles distance.

Johnny Palmeh of Badin, N. C., used a series of steady iron shots to offset spotty putting and win the $10,000 Houston open golf tournament yesterday with a 71-67—272. He edged Carry Middlecoff, the golfing dentist from Memphis, by one stroke. Jim Turnesa, Briar Cliff, N. Y., was third with 274.

Mrs. Monica Longlad retained her championships in both team and tandem dog derby events at the 11th Annual Honey Harbor Winter Carnival. Marlies Dump Irish 5-3, Generals Win

By The Canadian Press

Toronto Marlboros took the spotlight during the week-end as they grabbed the last playoff spot in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series.

The league's regular schedule also wound up Saturday.

The Dukes moved into the sixth place by defeating Toronto St. Michael's College Majors 5-3 in a four-point tilt. The win sent them two points ahead of Guelph Biltmores.

In other Junior A games, standings weren't changed as the ninth-place Galt Rockets downed the fifth-place Stratford Kroehlers 4-1 and the third-place Oshawa Generals bested the second-place Barrie Flyers 6-1.

In the only Senior A tilt, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen defeated Hamilton Tigers to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-seven semi-final series. The Toronto-Owen Sound series, with Marlboros ahead 2-0, was not scheduled.

Little Trouble

At Toronto, the Marlies had little trouble as they drove into a 3-1 lead in the first period, outscored the Irish 2-1 in the second and then kept them to one goal in the third.

George Armstrong, Don Ashley, Lorne Pirie, Bob Hassard and Neil Grenke accounted for the Dukes' goals. Little Gord Hannigan got two for the losers while Decourcy tallied once.

At Oshawa, the game was studded with injuries. Most serious was to Stan Long, ace defenceman for the Flyers, who suffered a shoulder separation in the first period when he was dumped heavily while rounding the defence.

The Generals went ahead 1-0 in the first period, added two unanswered goals in the second and then outscored the Flyers 3-1 in the last period.

Dick Burton, Ted O'Connor, Louie Jankowski, Frank Sullivan, Hal Hooper, and Dusty Blair got singletons for Oshawa. Don Ashbee tallied for the Flyers.

Marines Take Close One Over Hellcats

Outboard Marines intermediate "A" basketballers eked out a 38-37 exhibition victory over the Merritton Hellcats in St. Catharines on Saturday evening in one of the tightest hoop tilts Coach Al Clark's crew have been in this season. Trailing 20-17 in the first half, the classy Marines fought an uphill battle right to the finish to yank out the close decision in the dying seconds of the game.

Play was fast throughout, with some fine passing, checking and shooting seen. It was rugged in spots with the Hellcats cashing in on eight of 20 free tries, as Marines got 15 of 33 in a good showing as the Hellcats had a raft of fouls called on them. Joe Stewart returned to action for Outboards and accounted for 14 of their points, with Al Stewart having eight. Ron Gibson led the losers with 10 points. The teams:

Spring Flowers Delightful At St. Peter's Tea

There's no prettier sight than the lovely spring flowers, especially on a bright February day that hints broadly of the coming season. Catholic Women's League members of St. Peter's subdivision used them in profusion to decorate the board room of St. Mary's School for the Valentine tea Sunday afternoon.

An exquisite arrangement of red tulips, sunny yellow daffodils and delicate pink snapdragon was on the tea table, spreading out from a handsome silver bowl. Flanking silver candlebra held trios of ivory tapers to highlight the bouquet.

A vase filled with red tulips had a "double" in the large plate glass mirror offered for a draw which will be made at April meeting of the league. Red candles were on either side and flickered in the reflection. More flowers centred the table where a cake draw was held and others were on the treasurer's table.

Miss May Grady, president, greeted guests at the door, and was assisted by Miss L. Hurley, general convener of the tea.

Teacups were filled by Mrs. George Lynch, Mrs. John Begley, Mrs. D. J. Emery and Mrs. J. J. Crowley. The table was in charge of Mrs. E. Riley and Mrs. C. Wolff, who assisted to serve with Mrs. P. J. Burke, Miss T. McNamara and Mrs. L. Picard. Mrs. P. J. Doris and Mrs. A. Willis were in charge of supplies.

Miss A. Murray sold tickets on the delicious looking cake donated by Mrs. Doris. Draw for the winner was made by Miss Grady, who picked one purchased by Mrs. C. J. Donnelly.

Mrs. L. Picard presented the mirror for the draw and tickets were being sold by Mrs. Donnelly and by Miss T. Hurley, who was treasurer.

Gratifying success attended this annual pre-Lenten event of St. Peter's league.

In the old-fashioned parlor setting, complete with spinning wheel in the corner, Mrs. H. Turner was entertaining Mrs. A. Clark with stories of friends in her picture album. As each was mentioned the figure appeared in a large frame at the back of the stage. More than 20 characters, dressed in the clothes of a bygone era, passed in review.

Dream Pies For Addicts Of Dessert

By MARY MOORE

One of my reader friends of long standing asked me to print recipes for three special pies sometime when the pressure eased up.

The time has come. The pies she wanted were Pecan Pie—that rich morsel which is more of a confection than a dessert; lemon chiffon pie and banana cream pie.

Pecan Pie

Three eggs, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup corn syrup, ⅛ to ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ¼ cup butter, pastry for one crust, 1 cup pecans. Beat the eggs well and add the sugar, syrup, salt and vanilla, and butter melted just enough to pour. Line a pie plate with plain pastry, having a high fluted rim. Line bottom of pastry with pecans. Pour over the syrup mixture. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 55 minutes or until pecans rise to top and form a crusty layer.

Lemon Chiffon Pie

Two tablespoons cold water, ½ tablespoon gelatine, 4 egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt 1 cup sugar, grated rind 1 medium-sized lemon, juice lemon 4 egg whites beaten stiff, 1 baked pastry shell, 1 cup cream, whipped. Soak the gelatine in the cold water, then dissolve it over hot water. In top of double boiler mix the yolks, salt, ½ cup of the sugar, lemon juice and rind. Cook, stirring, over hot water until it thickens. Add the gelatine and stir over boiling water 1 minute. Remove from heat. Beat egg whites until stiff, adding the remaining sugar when whites are nearly stiff enough. Fold egg mixture into whites, pour into baked pie shell. Top with whipped cream. Chill before serving.

Banana Cream Pie

One tablespoons butter, 8 tablespoons flour, 2-3 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 beaten egg yolks, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 baked pastry shell, 2 tablespoons icing sugar, 2 egg whites, 2 or 3 bananas. Melt the butter in top of double boiler, then add the flour, sugar, salt, milk and yolks and cook, stirring, over boiling water until thick. Remove from heat, add vanilla and pour in alternate layers with sliced bananas into baked shell. Cover with meringue made by beating the whites and icing sugar together until stiff. Bake at 325 deg. Fahr. for about 18 minutes, until meringue is golden and baked.

Public Enemy No. 1

CANCER

● Cancer is exceeded only by heart disease as a cause of death. Because it frequently means long and cruel suffering, and is the disease we dread most, it most decidedly ranks as Public Enemy No. 1.

Yet cancer in its early stages usually causes no pain. That is why relatively few cancers get any treatment in their early stages when most of them can be cured by radium, X-ray or surgery.

Cancer of the lip may be mistaken for a cold sore that does not heal. The first sign of cancer of the throat may be hoarseness. Cancer of the stomach, in its early stages may be mistaken for indigestion.

To cut down the death rate from cancer in Ontario (5193 Ontario people died from this disease in 1943) funds are now being raised and a drive is being organized in this province to conquer cancer. Here are the objectives of this campaign:

1—To organize and operate fully equipped cancer clinics at suitable centres where people may be examined, and, if necessary, treated according to the newest scientific methods.

2—To pay a portion of the cost of treatment of cancer for those needing financial help.

3—To pay travelling expenses to and from clinics if needed.

4—To conduct an energetic program of cancer research in Ontario.

To carry out this program, the first need is money. Your donation will definitely help to reduce the number of deaths from cancer in this province. It will help hundreds of people to be medically examined in time and to escape from the deadly clutches of cancer. It may well help research scientists to discover a cure for cancer and so free mankind forever from the dread scourge.

AR MISS DIX: I am a man with two children. I been married for 16 years, for the last years I been in with a di- ed woman also has two ren. Dorothy Dix

VERY UNHAPPY.

✧ ✧ ✧

SWER: You do not have to your wife that you are tired er, that you have ceased to for her and that you want eak all ties that bind you to No woman in the world is upid that she doesn't know her husband no longer loves nd when some other woman taken her place in his affec- Wives are clairvoyant and know almost to the minute their husband's love cools rom fever heat to subnormal. matter how much a wife to fool herself, she knows in heart just exactly how much, ow little, her husband cares her. When the time comes his kisses are nothing but functory peck on the cheek, has heard the bell toll for her life. Many a wife who loses husband she adores plays , but she KNOWS.

Pitiful Figure

In all the world there is no more pitiful figure than the woman who has slaved and sacrificed and literally pushed her husband into success, only to find out that he had lost his taste for her and that she bored him to tears. And no one knows how to solve this sad problem. You can't bring back youth and enthusiasm and beauty. You can't revive a dead love. Divorce is bought at the price of a heartbreak and helpless children's lives are wrecked by their parents. It is just one of those things.

DEAR MISS DIX: I find myself desperately in love with a boy of 18, which makes him 20 years younger than I am. I have never been married and I have a responsible job with a good income. This young man works near me and I am having a difficult time concentrating on my work.

If I married this youth, I would be able to send him to college and give him a good start. Do you think that it would be morally wrong to marry him, or just unconventional? We are both madly in love, but would like your opinion before making a decision. Could this difference in age have any bad effect on true love?

DESPERATE FLOSSIE.

ANSWER: If your Boy Friend were 28 years old instead of being 18, the fact that you were 20 years older than he need not be an insuperable bar to your marriage. For a man of 28 is mature. He is old enough to know what he wants in marriage, what type of woman appeals to him and interests him. His tastes are settled and he is not apt to change them. He knows whether his fancy runs to bobby-soxers or to middle-aged women.

But it is different with a boy of 18. He is at the hobbledehoy stage of development and neither he nor anyone else has the slightest idea of what he is going to be when he is a man. In all probability he will be in love with a dozen different types of girls and have a hundred different ambitions before he really settles down to life. And that is why it is taking a great risk for a clever woman, such as you are, to take a boy to rear.

Believe me, sister, youth and age do not mix. No woman who had a husband 20 years younger than she could keep from bossing him, because she would see so clearly the follies and blunders that youth commits. And no boy of 18 would rather sit with the elders than to dance with the cuties.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young woman of 25 very much in love with a fine man and we want to be married soon, but this is my problem: I am the main support of my family, although I have three brothers who help a little. My mother says that I should give up all thoughts of marriage as it is my duty to take care of her and my father.

I am willing to work after marriage and give some money to my parents, but must I give up the man I love for the sake of my parents?

ELIZABETH H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Certainly not. Your family has no right to demand such a sacrifice from you. Argue no more with them. Just step out and marry your young man. I should think that your three brothers could take care of your mother and father.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When you are visiting a friend and have a small child with you, the child wanders into another part of the house.

WRONG WAY: Remain seated and say to your hostess, "I hope he isn't doing something he shouldn't be doing."

RIGHT WAY: Call him to you and if he doesn't come ask your hostess if she will get him, or ask her permission to go where he is yourself. (A child can do a lot of damage while his mother speculates on whether or not he is up to mischief.)

Directions

Anyone who reads this column regularly will have noted by this time that I do not frequently suggest menus that contain high cost foods. The smoked salmon for the low-calorie dinner is an exception for one-quarter pound is an ample serving for one person. It is a rich solid food—and perfectly delicious. It requires a moist accompaniment though such as a well-made casserole of tomatoes, or a tartar sauce, or lemon.

Do I need to tell you how to assemble an old-fashioned trifle? The one I made last week was so good I think I should. In a glass bowl place broken pieces of sponge or plain cake; spread tops of each piece thinly with black currant jam; pour over about ¼ cup cooking sherry or good quality homemade wine; pour over 1 cup soft custard; let stand at least one hour (or overnight) to chill and blend. Cover with whipped cream just before serving.

—In Memoriams

ELLIS—In loving memory of Harvey Ellis, who died February 21, 1947.
Time speeds on, two years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home where all seemed bright
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will
His vacant place there is none can fill
Down here we mourn but not in vain,
For up in Heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by Gordon, Charlotte and Charles.

ELLIS — In loving memory of Mr. Harvey Ellis, who passed away two years ago February 21, 1947.
The rolling stream of life rolls on,
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of one who once sat there.
—Son and Daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis and Family.

MAUDSLEY—In memory of Mrs. Edward Maudsley who passed away two years ago February 20.
While you dear parent, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Ever remembered by Edward Jr. and family.

PEARSON—In loving memory of a dear mother, Elizabeth Pearson, who passed away February, 1943.
Her life is a beautiful memory,
Her death is our silent grief,
She sleeps in God's beautiful garden
In the sunshine of perfect peace.
Her presence is ever near us,
Her love remains with us yet.
For she was the kind of a mother
Her loved ones will never forget.
So we leave her in God's keeping.
The rough road safely o'er,
And our dear mother we loved so dearly,
Has only gone before.
—Ever remembered by Dora and Howard.

PERRY—In loving memory of our dear mother and father, Mrs. George Perry, who passed away February 20, 1935, and Mr. Perry who passed away March 28, 1937.
"Thy will be done" seems hard to say
When one we loved has passed away.
Some day, perhaps, we'll understand,
When we meet again in that better land.
—Lovingly remembered by Eldon, Leslie, Charlie, Chester, John, Winnie, Muriel, Mabel, Shirley, Phyllis and Ruby.

Food Industry Honors Bert T. Huston

Mr. B. T. Huston, Toronto, editor of The Canadian Grocer for 40 years, and formerly of Peterborough, was recently honored by the food industry of Canada as dinner guest of 200 of its representatives in the Royal York Hotel. He was presented with an oil painting of a Muskoka scene by Blackwood, and the Bert Huston silver challenge trophy for annual competition by golfing members of the industry.

Chairman of the dinner was H. Lorne McNally, president, National Grocers Co., who was head of the committee in charge of arrangements; Stanley H. Young, president, Christie, Brown & Co., vice-chairman; Wilfred J. Henderson, director of Swift Canadian Co., secretary; C. N. Purvess, chief buyer, of the food department of T. Eaton Co.; Geo. E. Huffman, vice - president, Loblaw Groceterias Co.; and A. H. Sainsbury, president of A. H. Sainsbury & Co.

The three branches of the food industry, manufacturing, wholesaling and retailing united in expressing to Mr. Huston their appreciation of his distinguished editorial service and position, his fine personality, and his broad knowledge of the business which he has helped to guide and keep informed since 1908. He was responsible for the formation of the Food Products Association in 1920, and it was largey through his efforts that the first food products building was built and opened at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1922. He has been secretary of the association 25 years, and it is characteristic of his unfailing sense of responsibility that he has never missed any of its meetings.

As an authority in the food industry, Mr. Huston was consulted by the federal government during the war years. Many tributes were paid to him at the dinner which was a splendid testimonial of esteem and affection from men who are highly placed in the food industry of this country.

His old "chief", Col. John Bayne Maclean, ill at home the night of the dinner, sent a letter of disappointment at being unable to attend. The following is a quotation: 'I am deeply gratified that the food industry should wish to pay tribute to a colleague for whom I have such regard, and for whose efforts to serve the industry I have such respect.

As you know, Canadian Grocer was my first paper. I launched it 62 years ago, and naturally have a warm affection for it.

For 40 years Mr. Houston has conscientiously and most competently carried out the policy on which the publication was founded, My warmest greetings to Mr. Huston on this happy occasion and to all those whose gracious thought it represents."

Mr. Huston was city editor of the Examiner when he resigned to become editor of The Grocer. He displayed at that time the enterprise and ability which in the years between carried him to the top of Canadian trade journalism, and which won for him the confidence and friendship of the leaders of the food industry of Canada for 40 years. Mr. Huston was born in Otonabee township and is a brother of Mr. Alex Huston.

Tries To Derail Train

FORT ERIE, Feb. 21—(CP)—Police Sunday arrested a boy after what they described as an attempt to derail a freight train two miles east of Ridgeway, near here. The train, an eastbound CNR freight, hit two rails which apparently had been laid across the track. The rails were hurled clear and the locomotive locked but did not leave the track.

Given 4 Months

Frederick Hamilton, of Otonabee, was sentenced to four months in Ontario reformatory by Magistrate W. R. Philp on Saturday for a third drinking offence.

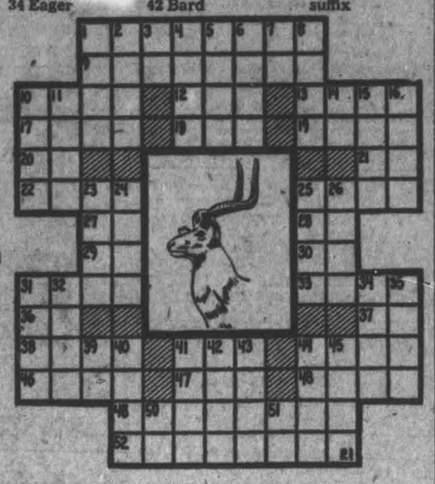
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Three Members Join ACT Club

Three new members were initiated on Saturday at the monthly meeting of the Peterborough A.C.T. Club. There was a large turnout of members and prospective members.

Latest members to join the club are Ross Armstrong, Charles Armstrong and Gordon Jamieson. President Percy Dallin and Vice-President Douglas Delaney officiated at the initiation ceremony.

An address on salesmanship was delivered by the guest speaker, James Wharry, vice-president in charge of sales of the Quaker Oats Co. Mr. Wharry told of some of his experiences as a salesman and referred to others of his acquaintance as examples of how to progress.

The theme of his message was that competition should always be welcome as it creates more business. A little effort on the part of the salesman will allow him to obtain this business, he said.

Booster prizes were won by Bert Brown and Messrs. Armstrong and Dallin.

It was announced that a dance would be held in the Empress on Friday, February 25, for members of the A.C.T., their wives and friends.

Objective of the Club is eventually to include all local travellers in its ranks.

Jailed 10 Days For Stealing Camera

Eighteen year old Robert Young, 42 Jackson, who told Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C. at the city police court today that he had been out of work for two months, was sent to jail for 10 days for stealing a camera from Ira Outwater, Hunter St. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

Constable O'Donoghue said that on the same day that Mr. Outwater had told him of the theft, he found the camera in a war surplus store. Young admitted as soon as he was questioned, that he had taken the camera. Young states that he was in no way connected with a war surplus store.

Inadequate Lights

Stanley Simpson of Norwood paid a fine and costs of $7.50 at the city police court today on a plea of guilty to driving with inadequate lighting on his car.

Million Unknown Diabetic Cases

TORONTO, Feb. 21.—(CP). — Dr. Charles H. Best, co-discoverer of insulin, said today that recent surveys have shown there are about 1,000,000 unknown diabetics in the United States and Canada.

In an address on "Medical Research and Health in the World," to the Canadian Club, Dr. Best said "this situation precipitates a real public health problem."

In the University of Torontos Banting and Best Dept. of Medical Research, which he directs, Dr. Best cited the extent of current research in the field of diabetics where scientists are now working on more effective methods of administering insulin.

Other research underway, he said, included the use of herapin in the treatment of coronary thrombosis and the use of choline, a new factor, as a protective agent for the liver and kidneys.

Persons who enter medical research "must be of a special type —like the ministers of the Gospel," Dr. Best said. "I do not mean the same type, but they must be so interested in their work they will devote themselves to it day and night without the prospect of more than a bare living wage."

Remanded In Car Case

BRANTFORD, Feb. 21—(CP).—Norman McLean, 18, and Angus McQuarrie, 19, charged with theft of a car here a week ago, were remanded one week when they appeared before Magistrate R. J. Gillen this morning. Bail was set at $1,000 cash or $2,000 property for each. They were arrested near Port Hope last Thursday when found in possession of a stolen car.

Illegal Sale Charge Dismissed By Cadi

One charge of illegal sale of liquor against Joseph Fontaine, 75 Park St., was dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at the city police court today and a second of sale of liquor was adjourned. He was fined $50 and $13.50 costs on a third charge of having liquor in a place other than his home. Witnesses for this case, evidence of which had been heard previously, had come to Peterborough from Lindsay.

Three Men Given Month In Jail

Three men staged a fight on Charlotte St. on Saturday, hitting elderly Thomas Beatty of Beatty's Tire Shop on the head with a wine bottle, fighting the police and fighting among themselves, were each sentenced to a month in jail by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C, at the city police court today.

When Keith Schweir, 887 Water St., Kenneth Robinson, 1178 Monaghan Rd. and Clark Purdy, RR 2, Peterborough pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace, Crown Attorney John Bradshaw said he took a serious view of the offence and asked for the maximum penalty of three months in jail. He said that one of the men was drunk and the other two had been drinking. They went to a house on Charlotte St. and were told to go away, after they had wrapped on the door and caused considerable disturbance to the people. They came back later in a mood of revenge and it was then that the fight took place, he said.

Purdy told the court he had gone to the tire shop to borrow a flashlight because he had lost his watch. Schweir said that when they were refused a light, someone kicked him.

Goes Berserk Shoots Up Town

BROUGHAM, Ont., Feb. 21—(CP)—A 24-year-old Brougham man who "went berserk" after a drinking party early Sunday and tried to shoot up the town was arrested on a charge of public mischief after slugs from his gun narrowly missed four residents.

"I was shaving in the bathroom downstairs when a shot whistled past my head and lodged in the wall," said Caldwell Sheppard. "I called to my wife in the kitchen to turn out the lights and duck down on the floor. Just then two more shots tore through the kitchen window."

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell Sheppard and Mr. Sheppard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laudlow Sheppard, crouched in the darkness and when no other shots came they phoned police.

A fourth shot was fired into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stewart who were asleep and knew nothing of the disturbance until they noticed a broken window and a bullet hole in their bedroom wall.

Police arrested the offender near his home and recovered the rifle from bushes.

Three members of a Quebec farm family died in their burning home and two Nova Scotia women were killed in an overturned motor car to help swell the weekend fatality toll in Eastern Canada to 13.

A survey by The Canadian Press showed four other traffic deaths, two shooting deaths, and two fatal railroad accidents.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ross, both 86, and their son Allan, 54, perished in the fire early Saturday which levelled their stone farm home near Ormstown, in Quebec's Eastern townships. The two men were caught in bed, and the body of Mrs. Ross was found crumpled a few feet from the back door

UAW To Request Pension Plan

DETROIT, Feb. 21. — (AP).— Walter Reuther let it be known Saturday that his United Automobile Workers (CIO) intends to hit up General Motors Corporation this year for pension and medical care plans despite a two-year contract that runs to 1950.

He made the statement at a press conference following a U.A.W. "conference on economic objectives." The 230 delegates to the conference, representing an estimated 950,000 of the union's 1,000,000 members, approved the U.A.W.'s 1949 demands accenting the non-wage issues.

Until Reuther's statement there had been some doubt as to whether the Automobile Workers Union would attempt to win pension and health and welfare plans from General Motors.

Reuther said the union would seek to establish a pattern on pensions and medical care plans first with the Ford Motor Company, then with Chrysler Corporation, before taking up discussions with General Motors."

Always Dependable SOLEX INCANDESCENT and FLUORESCENT

Happy that man, who, after a big evening "with the boys" finds that friend wife has ready for him a nightcap of that excellent aperient—mildly laxative KRUSCHEN. Kruschen helps nature relieve discomfort that may be caused by "too much party" or common constipation. Kruschen is a blend of saline minerals similar to those in famous medicinal springs. Kruschen offers you these four advantages:

EASY TO TAKE—Dissolves quickly in water, or your morning coffee, tea or fruit juice. Most folks find the small morning dose best.

WORKS FAST—Usually within the hour. Does not spoil your day.

GENTLE ACTION—Its formula is balanced to act gently, without discomfort.

TIME-TESTED — Over 300,000,000 packages sold throughout the world.

Kruschen is a standby when dopey mornings or "don't care" days make you feel low. Start the day with Kruschen and see how good it is to have that grand "Kruschen Feeling". 25c and 75c at all drug stores.

Trapper Pooh Poohs Yarns About Ferocity of Wolves

TORONTO, Feb. 21—Little-known facts about the life and habits of the wolf are coming to light in the face of a province-wide dispute as to the value — or otherwise — of lupus. Officials of the Department of Lands and Forests are receiving much information from trappers, prospectors and hunters, and are carefully examining it in an effort to find out whether it is advisable on the one extreme to make an all-out effort to eliminate the wolf; on the other extreme not to molest it at all, leaving nature to maintain her natural balance, or to adopt an in-between course, such as in fact is being followed now, of thinning out wolf populations where they may become too abundant for the welfare of the remaining animals.

It is generally understood the wolf does have some uses — despite reports to the contrary. Although admittedly a killer, he, perhaps unintentionally, provides food for other animals. Observations carried on in Algonquin Park have shown that, on at least one occasion, a deer killed by a wolf had served as a food source for every known fur bearer in the park. Even the birds shared in the meal which had been provided. One official reported finding a fisher, a very scarce animal, living inside another carcass. The fisher had found a nice warm winter home, with food right at his nose, and had evidently lived inside the frozen carcass for some weeks.

The means generally used to kill wolves in Northern Ontario are poison, snares and shooting. Poison is frowned upon by many who argue that it is liable to be picked up by other fur bearers and dogs. Even the snare is sometimes the cause of death for other animals.

Dan McDonald, Sault Ste. Marie, who lived in the district of Algoma before wolves were first found there in 1906, insists, in correspondence with the Department, that the animal is a coward; that there is no authentic record of any human being attacked by a wolf, but that the animal is also an extremely smart one.

Mr. McDonald declared he had hunted for sixty of his seventy years, and says many "scare" stories originated in a picture "in our old Third Reader" of wolves chasing a team and sleigh loaded with a man and his family, the "man holding a child as though to give it to the animals to save the rest of the family." The scene depicted was in Russia and "no such stories should be published in our school books," he contended. He is one of the few men, he said, who has actually seen wolves mating. He agrees with many hunters that the wolf kills more than he requires, but says wolves will return to a deer kill.

Clarence Marshall, operator of a model trapline in the Parry Sound area, declared: "The one thing that has protected the wolf most is the big build-up he has been given. He has been publicized until one would think he is a ghost." Zoning of trap lines, a step taken recently by the Department, "will change the wolf picture," he insisted.

Meanwhile, in some sections of the province, there have been requests for an increase in the wolf bounty, which is now $25. Lands and Forests Minister Harold R. Scott has already stated that the Ottawa River serves as a boundary line between Ontario and Quebec for many miles. There are just as many wolves in Northern Quebec as there are in Ontario — if not more. The Quebec bounty is less than that of Ontario. The wolves look just the same, and Mr. Scott contends, if the Ontario bounty was placed still higher, it would be hard to stop Quebec wolves from "crossing the river" and being killed in Ontario.

Guard Desperado

LAVALTRIE, Que., Feb. 21—(CP)—A 20-year-old desperado was under guard in hospital in Montreal after an escape in this town late Friday which saw him attempt a hold-up, battle with a police officer, crash through a window pane in flight and finally be shot in the arm and arrested. The suspect, shabbily-dressed youth whose name was not revealed, hitchhiked into this town 30 miles northeast of Montreal.

Begin Teaching Sex Education

LONDON, Feb. 21 —(AP)— Heads of schools administered by the London County Council have decided to abolish the stork.

The education committee has resolved, after 35 years of thought, to resume sex instruction. Teachers are encouraged to tell the facts, adroitly but frankly.

The committee suggested a start should be made when the children are as young as five years. By 12 or 13, numerous authorities say, an adequate and factual knowledge should have been acquired so gradually and in such a routine manner that sex may be regarded as a natural thing without mystery.

Sex hygiene has not been taught since 1914 as a class subject in London's public elementary schools. Now that there has been a turn of policy, the change of attitude has aroused some opposition. Other British communities have followed London's lead and at Maltby, near Sheffield, there has been vigorous protest against sex education.

A kindly word from you often encourages and inspires the other fellow to better efforts. It's a small thing in itself, but it creates a warmer understanding. oman Falling Out Of Bed ves Nine Lives House Filled With Gas

Tenant On Second Floor Hears a Noise Drags Other Tenants Down Two Flights Of Stairs To Safety

ORONTO, Feb. 22—(CP).—A young Toronto woman fall- ut of bed and a second floor tenant who awoke after her fall today saved from serious gas fuming of nine fellow nts in a three-storey rooming house. Carol Miller, the g woman, roused Albert Hawthorne, a tenant living beneath her on the second floor, when she fell. Hawthorne dragged nine other tenants to safety through the gas-filled house where firemen were able to revive them all with inhalators.

"If she hadn't made such a noise when she hit the floor I wouldn't have wakened up until all of us probably would never know what happened," he said.

"I ran upstairs after shouting the alarm and tried to get the girls out. They fell down like ninepins.

Drag Them Downstairs

"I finally got so I had to drag them down the two flights of stairs like so many sacks."

When firemen arrived he had them mostly in the ground-floor hall and the doors and windows open for air.

Gladys Large, another tenant, said today tenants had complained of the fumes about midnight last night. She said they were believed escaping from the furnace.

This morning all the tenants but the landlady were ill.

Crux Of Trading Problem Is For Dominion To Buy More In Britain

Anticipate Canada Will Be Able To Provide More Raw Materials Needed In England's Industrial Drive

LONDON, Feb. 22—(CP).—Britain will buy less food from Canada unless Canada buys more from Britain, Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said today. In an exclusive interview with The Canadian Press, he said the crux of the post-war Anglo-Canadian trading problem is expansion of British exports to Canada.

But Sir Stafford said that while the United Kingdom's policy was to reduce food imports, it was anticipated that Canada would be able to provide greater supplies of the raw materials needed for Britain's industrial drive.

The United Kingdom would continue to depend on Canada "for the greater part" of her wheat supplies.

Asked if he favors continuation of the long-term Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement — the existing five-year agreement expires in 1951—Sir Stafford said:

"I am all in favor of an international wheat agreement rather than a pure bilateral agreement. I think an international agreement would be better for Canada too."

(Representatives of 56 countries which export or import wheat now are meeting in Washington in an effort to work out an international wheat pact.)

Strain Can Be Eased

The chancellor said the present difficulties in Anglo-Canadian trade could be eased by greater Canadian purchases in other sterling areas in addition to the United Kingdom.

Present bilateral agreements with European countries, some of which had been criticized in Canada, were helping to increase the flow of trade. These agreements strengthened sterling, paving the way for a return to normal world trade.

The adjustments Britain was forced to make in Canadian food purchases "are not directed to the achievement of some new low level of trade."

They were aimed at obtaining "a lowering of heavily-expanded wartime levels for which we never could pay and which we cannot expect anyone to continue giving us."

The actual volume of Canadian supplies purchased in 1948 was still rather higher than in 1938.

Re-elect Butler, Milburn For 23rd Year

For the 23rd successive year, Peterborough Whole Milk Producers elected Monday night the same president and secretary. They are respectively E. Butler o this city and V. S. Milburn, Toronto.

"There is no honor I appreciate more than this," said Mr. Milburn, who is secretary of the Ontario Federation of Agriculture. "Several months ago I was looking back through some of our old records and I noticed that I was first elected secretary-treasurer at a meeting in October 1928 in Paragon Hall. I am very proud of it even if I have held various other positions since then."

Mr. Butler thanked the members for the renewal of their confidence, and suggested that the Association some time in the future might look for a man as a full time president, especially if their area was enlarged.

Harry Jackson of Omemee was returned to the vice-president's chair after a year's absence. He takes the place of Fred McIndoo of Cavan who said that because he was not at present a producer he wished to withdraw.

The members of the general quota committee are Mr. Butler, Mr. Milburn, Mr. Jackson and Norman Monerief.

Plant directors are: Ray Wood, Harold Cathcart, Wellington Sutton and Everett Tully. And the township directors: North Monaghan, Gordon McIntosh; Smith, Henry Sharpe; Cavan, Carman Seymour; Otonabee, Stewart Nelson; Douro, Stanley Wood; Asphodel, Aubrey Wood; Emily, Harry Faulkner.

Will Recount Election Ballots

TORONTO, Feb. 22—(CP).—A select committee of the Ontario Legislature decided today to direct a recount of ballots cast last June 7 in the election of Education Minister Porter in St. George constituency. A silent committee on privileges was appointed to investigate CCF charges of irregularities in the St. George election in which Mr. Porter defeated CCF candidate Frank Frier.

Mines Minister Frost, chairman of the committee, said the issue concerned the alleged discrepancy between figures recorded by election officials shortly after the election last June 7 and other figures arrived at as the result of an inspection of election papers made last Jan. 17 at the direction of the chief election officer, Major Alex. Lewis.

Mr. Frost told the committee today if it could assume figures arrived at following the Jan. 17 inspection were correct, a new ballot count would not be necessary.

Results Tabulated

Results tabulated in the chief electoral officer's inspection:

Porter 10,265; Frier 7,421; John McVicar (Lib.) 4,891.

Results tabulated by St. George election officials:

Porter 11,774; Frier 7,010; McVicar 4,490.

Opposition Leader E. B. Jolliffe said no member of the committee could know which were the correct figures and described as "unfair" the suggestion that the committee assume one or other set of figures were correct.

Liberal Leader Farquhar Oliver asked that decision on whether or not ballots counted should be postponed

Mr Jolliffe said he would not be "sidetracked for the next six weeks," counting ballots

Mr Frost said a recount could be made in one week.

Police Line Up For Turn To Question Gerard Dennis

WHITE PLAINS, NY, Feb. 22—(AP).—More police of United States cities from coast to coast, seeking to solve scores of thefts, lined up today waiting their turns to question Gerard G. Dennis, sauve and handsome 28-year-old Canadian. Police of Los Angeles and New York City questioned Dennis yesterday, while officers from other cities waited.

Dennis, who was brought here last Friday from Cleveland, where he was arrested, is accused by authorities of cross-country thefts of $600,000 worth of jewels and furs.

New York City police indicated they got no evidence that the prisoner was implicated in any of a recent series of burglaries of East-Side Manhattan homes.

In Cleveland, where a two-year hunt for Dennis ended, Detective-Lieutenant Lawrence G. Denk of Cleveland Heights revealed last night that Zolton Greenhunt, 32, a jeweller, provided the tip that led to Dennis' arrest.

Recover Star's Furs

Police in Beverly Hills said $7,500 worth of loot stolen from actress Loretta Young was identified yesterday among articles found in Dennis' apartment. The actress' personal maid identified a $5,500 mink coat, a $1,000 fur wrap and $1,000 worth of jewellery as articles stolen from Miss Young's home last Aug. 28, police said.

Miss Betty Ritchie, 24, of Fenelon Falls, who was arrested in Dennis' apartment, remained in custody in Beverly Hills. The former Toronto school teacher was arraigned yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property and was unable to raise bail set at $2,500. Her preliminary hearing was set for Friday.

Toronto Council Refuses To Pass Cardinal Motion

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP).—City Council reversed a stand taken a few hours earlier and refused early to-day to pass a motion asking the Federal Government to protest the trial and sentence of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary.

But it let stand a resolution it passed protesting against the impending prosecution of 15 Protestant clergymen in Bulgaria.

As Council neared adjournment, two aldermen, E. L. Weaver and Charles Walton, introduced a motion to strike out the Mindszenty protest resolution. No attempt was made to disturb the motion dealing with the Bulgarian clergymen.

Controller Norman Lamport accused "certain people on Council" of voting on religious grounds alone.

"People who would switch their vote on this issue are guilty of despicable conduct," he said.

The Mindszenty motion, introduced by Con. David Baltour, a Roman Catholic, was opposed by Con. Leslie Saunders, an Orangeman, and Council's two Communist aldermen, Norman Freed and Charles Sims. The group led by Ald. Weaver said Council had no business voting on such a motion.

Con. Saunders said it was "political rather than a religious issue."

Tito's Relations Worse With Albanian Gov't

BELGRADE, Feb. 22—(AP)—Relations between Yugoslavia and Albania, strained since Premier Tito's split with the Cominform, are growing worse.

Yugoslavia accused her tiny Balkan neighbor yesterday of provoking border troubles.

The official Communist newspaper Borba said Albania had begun a policy of "border provocations" last summer—the time of the split with the Communist international information bureau.

Borba cited a long list of alleged border violations, including 16 occasions when shots were said to have been fired across the border from Albania.

Ottawa Trying 2nd Deportation

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 — (CP) — The Government acted swiftly Monday in a second attempt to deport French Count Jacques de Bernonville, accused of wartime collaboration with the Germans.

Resources Minister MacKinnon announced in the Commons that he has ordered the reconstitution of the immigration board which decreed the first deportation order, one which was set aside in Quebec's Superior Court Monday.

A government official, elaborating, said this meant that the government is going to repeat its original proceedings. The court found that the original board was improperly constituted because it had too few members.

The official, agreeing that this was true, said the new or revived board would have enough members—believed to be three—and that it would start sittings shortly.

Stumped On How To Teach Bomb Safety To Yanks Only

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP). —US Government officials said to-day they have not been able to figure out a way to tell Americans—and not everyone else — how to protect themselves against A-bombs.

Their dilemma, Atom Energy Commission officials said, is how to spread the information in the United States without letting the whole world in on it.

Commission Manager Carroll L. Wilson conceded the agency has no plan for protecting a major defence area, such as Norfolk Va., in the event of an A-bomb explosion there.

And Commissioner Lewis Strauss commented: "The best protection is to be somewhere else when a bomb goes off."

The issue was raised by members of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

Representative Chet Holifield (Dem., Cal.) said that since taxpayers "are paying about a half-billion dollars a year for atomic developments, they should know how to protect themselves against a bomb."

Representative Carl Durham (Dem., NC) said the information should be given out in every public school.

"If you do that," Committe Chairman Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) said, "other people will know how to protect themselves."

Wilson agreed and said that is the Commission's dilemma.

Greece Outlines Plan For Pact To Bevin

LONDON, Feb. 22—(Reuters). — Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris of Greece disclosed today that he outlined plans for a Mediterranean pact — running parallel to the North Atlantic pact —to Foreign Secretary Bevin yesterday.

Tsaldaris said in an exclusive interview that he believed the Atlantic pact was the key to a world-security system.

Tsaldaris said he had had a full discussion with Bevin yesterday about the Atlantic pact and his own ideas about extending regional security to the Mediterranean.

The first step would be a "Northern Mediterranean pact" linking Britain, Turkey, Greece,

Rue Loss of Nazi Equipment

Norwegians Could Use Supplies For Army

OSLO, Feb. 22 (AP) — Norwegian generals rue the day when the Allies dumped the captured equipment of an entire German army into the sea off Norway.

The guns and ammunition which sank beneath the waves in 1945 would have armed 350,000 Norwegians for home defence in 1949.

Since the war, she has had to spend an excessive share of her income on military purposes. It has crippled her economic recovery, while failing to guarantee her security.

Norway is now the most exposed country on the western threshold of Russia. She has an annual military budget of $68,000,000, equivalent to $22 for every man, woman and child of her 3,150,000 population.

If an Atlantic Pact is ultimately realized, American taxpayers may foot some of the defence expenditures here. Meanwhile, Norway is paying to the hilt. Dumping arms into the sea put Norway into the red.

No Bravado

Norway's ideas of security may incitate Russia, but Norwegians wish they didn't. Norwegians exhibit neither bravado nor impudence about the Soviet Union.

"If we had been as fortunate as the Swedes to survive two world wars without a scratch, we would gamble on neutrality again, as they do," a government official said.

"But we fought through five years of German occupation, inside and outside our country. We proved to ourselves that freedom never costs too much, no matter what it costs in blood and treasure.

"All our ties are with the west. If the East starts a war, we're sure we couldn't stay out of it, even if we tried. But we hope that if the west is united, no war can come."

Russia has a colossal military machine just across the frontier from Norway. In comparison, Norway's preparedness measures are of microscopic size.

30,000 Men

The entire strength of the Norwegian armed services on a regular footing may approximate 30,000 men. In addition, home guardsmen undergo occasional training.

As many as 100,000 home about the country. Each keeps his guardsmen now are scattered rifle in his own house. Norwegians call it the "Swiss system."

The three armed services are gathered under a single defence ministry, now headed by a go-getter Labor-party lawyer, Jens Christian Hauge, 33, who was a high figure in the wartime underground army.

He appears to get along well with the chief of staff of Norway's Supreme Command, 59-year-old Lt.-Gen. Ole Berg.

No important Norwegian statesman or soldier places any faith in non-aggression pacts, such as the one that the Soviet Union proposed recently in a sharp memorandum.

If Russia spares Norway, they say, it will be for other reasons than a signed piece of paper.

Drew Launches Heavy Attack On "Snooper State" And Gov't Control Policies

Denies Emergency Exists For Extension Of Agricultural Industrial Controls; Asks Adequate Laws To Imprison Reds

OTTAWA, Feb. 22—(CP).—A bitter attack on the Government's control policies, perhaps heralding a rough passage for control legislation now on the order paper, was launched in the Commons yesterday by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader. Stepping into the resumed Throne-Speech debate, Mr. Drew described the administration as a "snooper state," with investigators, controllers and others prying into private business, and called on it to surrender its arbitrary powers to parliament.

PETERBOROUGH'S Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign will get off to a flying start on Friday night with W. Earle Gordon, president of the Trent Valley Baking Co. Ltd., the guest speaker. Mr. Gordon is president of the Etobicoke YMCA, director of the Health League of Canada, national director of the Air Cadet League of Canada, and a member of the RCAF Benevolent Fund.

He referred directly to existing legislation to continue restrictions on rents, timber, steel and food prices, and urged the Government to bring down separate bills for each type of control, rather than lump the legislation in one or two major measures.

At the same time, he struck out against Communism, suggesting adequate laws to imprison Communists in Canada, and called for support of his party's motion of non-confidence in the government to open the way for a general election.

In the early stages, Prime Minister St. Laurent said he will make a statement today on the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and the prosecution of protestant ministers in Bulgaria.

No Emergency

Opening a 2½-hour speech, his second of the throne-speech debate, Mr. Drew said the government had asked for extension of controls on foreign exchange, agriculture and industry and yet had "hardly made a pretense that an emergency existed to justify the extension."

"It is time, and past time," he said, "for this free parliament to assert its right to pass laws under which the rights and duties of our people will be determined."

Turning to Communism, he proposed that the government sponsor legislation making it possible for the courts to find guilty and imprison persons seeking to overthrow Canada's free way of life. But the courts, and not the government, should wield that power.

"I am not suggesting," he stressed, "that power should be given to place in the hands of this government, and particularly this government, to hold inquiries in secret as a basis for subsequent prosecution."

Grants Made

The following financial grants were made: To the District Holstein championships $50, Peterborough-Durham Jersey Breeders' Parish Show at Millbrook $25, Federation of Agriculture $25, and to Grassland Day $25.

The year's affairs of the association were discussed in detail by Mr Butler and Mr. Milburn. Negotiations with dairies were reviewed, together with the general marketing situation across the province.

"I think we should be grateful to our local distributors that they joined in the provincial agreement," said Mr. Milburn.

Mr. Butler spoke of the promotional work of the Milk Foundation, the effective co-operation of the dental health committee, and also the publicity obtained through theatre programs for children and press advertising.

Because the divided decision of the Supreme Court might possibly affect other agricultural interests, Mr. Milburn said the Federal Government was being asked to have it reviewed by the Privy Council.

Present Requests

Specific requests were also being made to the Provincial Cabinet next Friday at 11 a.m. "We are asking three things, that margarine be marked in packages and its contents clearly defined; that any place where margarine is sold shall also be clearly shown, that is where it is manufactured, where it is warehoused, and where it is sold in places such as hotels and restaurants; and we also claim a right to our butter color.

For years we were urged by government to build up the quality of butter in our own interest and also for consumers. We did that, and now we say we have a right to our trade color. We insist that margarine should not be sold in the same color as butter."

Mr. Milburn said most margarine tested over 20 per cent moisture, but the moisture maximum for butter was 16 per cent.

"If we could have had the extra moisture in butter we could have produced more of it. There is no regulation whatever as to what they can put in margarine."

Horses Fall Into Pond

MILLBROOK, Feb. 22 (ENS)—Two of Dr. H. E. Ellis' horses broke through the ice at the foot of his property on Attwooll and Sheppard's pond, at the week-end, and were brought safely to land with some difficulty by another team. The horses are let loose and go to the pond for watering.

Skating Rinks Eligible For Gov't Grant

TORONTO, Feb. 22—(CP). — Outdoor skating rinks are included in the list of community projects eligible for Provincial Government assistance under the Community Centres Act given final readings in the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

Premier Kennedy introduced an amendment to the Act putting the rinks in the same class as community halls, athletic fields and skating arenas for which the Government will make a grant of up to $5,000 to any Ontario municipality. The Premier said swimming pools which may be considered part of an athletic field are also eligible for the grants.

Mr. Kennedy declined to include in the bill a specific reference to pools but added that there would be no "red tape" in the administration of the Act.

The Act would be retroactive to last May 1. Municipalities which will be affected by this clause include Kincardine, Walkerton, Hawkesbury, Blind River, Bowmanville, Chesley, Dryden, Strathroy, Parry Sound, Sioux Lookout, Forest, New Liskeard, Aylmer, Mount Forest, Wallaceburg and Dresden.

The bill provides a grant of up to $10,000 for community centres which include indoor skating arenas.

Attorney - General Blackwell said he opposed the "general philosophy" that citizens must be paid for doing their civic duty after J. B. Salsberg (LPP—St. Andrew) suggested witnesses should be paid a full day's pay for each day they spent in court.

The House gave third reading to a bill to double the rates paid Crown witnesses. New rates would be $3 a day and an additional $6 a day for witnesses who must leave their home towns to attend the court. Expert witnesses would get $7 a day.

TLC Executive Considers Reds

OTTAWA, Feb. 22—(CP)—Pointed up by a sharp reprimand from the American Federation of Labor, the issue of Communism within the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada came before a meeting of the TLC's National Executive.

Congress President Percy Bengough said Monday night an AFL declaration—regarded in some quarters as an ultimatum to the TLC to clean house of Reds—had been before the officers but had not been finally disposed of.

He added the executive session might go on for three or four days. A statement from the Congress might be issued at the end

The AFL's anti-Red declaration of Feb. 8, issued by its executive council at Miami, was an admonition to the TLC not to compromise with Communists in the Canadian organization. The Congress, while an autonomous body, has close ties with the AFL.

The AFL's knuckle-rapping gesture grew out of the Congress' censure last fall of Frank H. Hall, one of its top union chiefs, for his methods in moving against the Canadian Seamen's Union, a TLC affiliate reputed to be dominated by Reds.

While the AFL executive did not lay down an "or else" dictum, some observers have suggested there was an inference in its statement that the support of AFL unions might be withdrawn from the Canadian Congress unless it stiffened its attitude toward Reds within its ranks.

THE MARSHALL PLAN helped stoke the furnaces of Europe's industry, like this factory in France, by supplying capital goods and raw material needed for the start toward recovery.

Marshall Plan Strengthens Position of Democracies; Works For Peace In Europe

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 21—Time—and the Marshall Plan — are working for peace in Europe. Together they are strengthening the position of the democracies and making the chances of a third world war—for the present at least—less threatening.

I have just returned for a visit to the United States after five years in France, the Balkans, and other countries that the Soviet Union has taken, or tried to take, under her totalitarian wing.

Within recent weeks I have talked with many persons intimately familiar with the situation—men like Leon Blum, Socialist elder statesman of France who, in spite of his age, still has one of the clearest brains on the Continent; the idealistic vice-premier of Italy, Guiseppi Saragat; Italy's dynamic, pro-American Minister of Industry, Ivan Matteo Lombardo; and my old friend, Professor Ernst Reuter, courageous, democratic lord mayor of the Russian-blocked western sector of Berlin. My recent travels have taken me to France, Italy, Germany, Greece, Turkey and North Africa.

Underground Workers

I have talked with scores of the nameless people of eastern Europe—the underground anti-Communists who come closer than any others to providing a hole in the iron curtain—who know, better than most, what the Kremlin is doing, and who know better than any what the anti-Reds and the non-Reds are doing and thinking.

Out of these long intimate contacts, some of them with men whose lives I saved when they were in flight from Hitler, I have concluded that there is no danger of a new European war in the foreseeable future, as things stand, there can be no stable peace in Europe, but that does not mean that war is probable.

Even the propaganda-ridden Germans now realize that Moscow, not Washington or London, holds the key to peace or war.

Moscow's decision will not be made on ideological lines, but realistically on the same nationalistic lines that used to inspire the Czars.

Regarded as Act of War

Neither will Moscow be plunged into unwanted war on the basis of some error or "incident." Any such incident, even in the tense Berlin situation, is highly improbable because Washington has made it very clear to the Kremlin that armed expansion beyond the present East-West line of demarcation would be interpreted as an act of war.

The transition from "cold" war to "hot" war would imply a will to war, which does not exist, presently, in either Washington or Moscow.

Moscow's deadly fear of war is accepted by those in Europe who are in the best position to know. It has a very good, hard-boiled reason.

Moscow has bitten off, already, more than she can chew. Her stomach is filled with more assorted nations, peoples, ambitions, ideologies than it can digest. Even before China was pulled in, she was up to her ears in troubles.

The Balkans are seething with discontent and subterfuge, about some of which I shall tell in later dispatches. Some of it can not be told now without endangering anti-Communist or pro-democratic forces that are at work.

Meanwhile, this country's ECA program, working with a reviving spirit of self-dependence, is strengthening the Socialistic countries of western Europe who, in a very real sense, are capitalistic American's first line of defense.

The victory is not yet won, by any means. The overcrowded cafes of Paris or Rome, frequented by black market operators and by tourists with dollars to spend, might suggest that Europe is too well fed and that further Marshall Plan aid would be a waste of United States money. A visit to the mining area of Pas de Calais, or to the agricultural regions of Italy, might indicate that most Europeans are on the verge of starvation.

Wages Very Low

The truth lies between these extremes. European industry and transport badly need capital goods and raw materials to restore war damage. But this had to be delayed while post-war coalition governments got food to feed their hungry people.

In such key countries as France and Italy wages still are very low and prices very inflationary. But, with Marshall Plan aid, both countries are beginning to make slow progress, industrially and agriculturally. As Ambassador W. Averell Harriman pointed out, European steel production rose about 20 per cent in 1948, and grain output was up 40 per cent, getting close to pre-war.

Moscow is losing her grip on European labor. The Red-dominated French CGT steadily loses members to its anti-Communist rival, the Force Ouvriere. In Italy, Socialists are preparing to split Vittorio's Communist Federation of Labor. Withdrawal of the CIO and the British Trade Union Congress already has cost the World Federation of Trade Unions most of its influence.

This has been done in part by the intelligent, persistent efforts of U. S. labor leaders like President David Dubinsky of the ILGWU; Vice-President George Harrison of the AFL; Secretary-Treasurer James Carey of the CIO; the AFL's able, energetic European representative, Irving Brown.

But it would not have been possible if the Marshall Plan had not put enough food into the stomachs of European workers to give them some hope for the future—if it had not helped industry and agriculture to get starts towards recovery—if it had not proved that the United States was behind democracy in Europe with something more realistic than empty words.

Tomorrow: Titoism works toward a Balkan crisis.

Jaycees Debate Women's Units

There was a riot in the city of Peterborough on Monday night. There were no arrests. The police were not called, and the disturbing element quickly dispersed. It occurred at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Ladies' Night dinner.

The meeting was conducted with great decorum until the Jaycee debating team went into action. Taking the resolution: "That the organization of Jaycee-ette units is in the best interests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce," both debating teams pitched into a battle of humor. The net result of their arguments led to much laughter.

Debaters on the affirmative side were Don Clarke and Doug Vaisey, both masquerading as members of the Jaycee-ettes. Jerry Grady and Bill Swiss upheld the negative side of the issue.

Following over an hour of debating, intermittently stopped by the laughter of the audience, the judges decided in favor of the team representing the affirmative side of the resolution.

Jaycee business was reduced to a minimum in order to leave the evening open for the debate. Reports were given by Don Clarke, outlining the 1949 Jaycee Jamboree, and Doug Vaisey briefed the Jaycees on their part in the organization of a TB X-ray clinic to be operated in Peterborough late in April.

Many Mourn Mrs. S. Windsor

APSLEY Feb. 21 (ENS)—The funeral of Mr. Simon Windsor in St. George's Anglican Church was attended by many people testifying to the esteem in which he had been held.

Born at Plantaganet, Ont., in 1865 he moved to Anstruther at the age of eight with his parents taking 10 days to make the journey by team and sleigh, arriving on Christmas eve, 1873.

As a young man Mr. Windsor did various types of work and was at one time cook in lumber camps and a logdriver. In January, 1894, he married Emma Jane Lean, who died 15 months a-.

Mr. Windsor farmed in Anstruther until 1896 when he came to Apsley. He was a successful merchant until 1923 when he sold his business and retired.

For a number of years he was treasurer of Anstruther Township. At one time he carried the mail to and from Lakefield and for a great many years drew the mail to Clanricarde.

Mr. Windsor was of a hale, rugged nature and enjoyed good health until his last illness.

He is survived by two sons, Stanley of Peterborough and Vernal of Peterborough, both provincial game wardens; two daughters, Mrs. W. Reynolds of Apsley and Miss Ruby Windsor, a nurse at Belleville; three grand daughters, Audrey Windsor of Peterborough, Mrs. R. U.S. Senators Demand Strong Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22 (AP)—A group of Senators prepared today to fight any move which might water down the terms of the proposed Atlantic defence treaty in debate in the United States Senate.

Five members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said privately they are ready to demand individually the strongest sort of pledge possible—short of an automatic war declaration—that the United States will back its friends in Europe if they are threatened by Communist aggression.

It is their view that the tentative treaty language on this point is satisfactory—if it is not weakened in Senate debate.

The exact language has remained secret but an influential Democratic Senator said it will give signatory powers assurances the United States will not stand idly by in case of attack.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep. Mich.) already has told the Senate what he thinks about the psychological value of the proposed agreement among the United States, Canada, Great Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Causes Hesitation

He said, in effect, that any country probably will hesitate to move in a military way as long as there is treaty notice that the United States will take a vital interest in any aggression.

But Senator Forest Donnell (Rep. Mo.) already has made it plain he will insist that there be no advance commitment — even an implied one—that the United States will fight.

Two Market Gardeners Claim Dam ages Of $6,000 Against City

The $6,000 claim of two market gardeners for loss of crop last summer by the city's expropriation of the J. T. O'Connell property on Park St. South was declared by their solicitor W. J. A. Arthur Fair, Monday afternoon to be against the city.

"You should take one position or the other and stick by it," said His Honor Judge Smoke as arbitrator of the value of the property to be paid by the city to Mr. O'Connell.

One position was that the claim of Carman Paterno and Carman Fisico should be laid against Mr. O'Connell, and the alternative that it should be against the city. They had planted a garden crop on the 10 acres between Rose Ave. and O'Connell Road, Park St. and Monaghan Road, and were said to have been unaware of the city's intention of expropriating until the Reynolds Construction Co. invaded the property to take out basements for a veterans' housing project.

A tax bill of 1947, introduced by T. J. Carley, KC, representing the city, showed that the O'Con-450 and the tax amounted to $95.44, paid by Paterno with Fisico sharing that cost.

To J. G. M. German, Cobourg, counsel for Mr. O'Connell, with Mr. G. N. Gordon, KC, the plaintiff said he sold 18 lots on Braidwood three years ago at $6.30 a foot. There was a building on those lots worth $1,500 or $1,600, and the land $1,800 or $1,900. The total was $3,400.

Higher Value

Mr. O'Connell said Monday that he valued the approximate ten acres at $15 a foot, the price paid by F. H. Jobbitt for a frontage on Park St. At that rate the amount he claimed n value was $53,000.

Plaintiff said the city's offer was made to him by City Clerk E. A. Outram at $3 a foot.

"It was around June 1, 1948," Mr. O'Connell said. "I said 'no' to Mr. Outram. He stayed at my office about five minutes. He said the city would expropriate."

Mr. O'Connell said Paterno had the Park St. house on the property, and when he was moving out Mr. J. P. Emery wanted to know whether he could get it. As to the question whether Paterno or Mr. O'Connell let it, Mr. O'Connell said: "I rented it and I got the money." Judge Smoke said he would decide whether Paterno had a lease.

Plaintiff also sold five or six lots, without sewer or water, on the south side of No. 7 Highway, east of Downer's Corners, at $8 a foot. The distance, he said, was much farther than the Park St. housing site.

Ken Smith, vice-president of Tatham Engineering and Contracting Co., of London, Ont., and formerly with Schofield Insurance Company here, was called for the plaintiff.

New Mortgages

He was Schofield administrator for the construction of the 68 houses of the integrated housing project comprising the Arndon subdivision between Park St. and Monaghan Road, on the former Chimenti property, south of the O'Connell block. Their 40 foot lots were valued for short term purposes and as undeveloped or raw land at $200., Canada Life Assurance Co. taking a short time mortgage of $10. When improved with municipal services, new mortgages were taken by Canada Life and Sun Life in 1947 at $500 a lot.

The approximate overall value was $11 a foot, Mr. Smith said.

He related in detail the plan of financing and the feature of price control of the houses by the integrated plan, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a Crown company, agreed under this plan, to take over from the contractors any unsold houses within one to six months after completion at a prearranged amount. In the Arndon project all the 68 houses were sold before construction of the project was completed.

The Chimenti property was undeveloped, similarly to the O'Connell land. Mr. Smith said there were 12 to 15 acres owned by Chimenti, and the price paid to him was $1,000 an acre.

Witness said the Nashua Paper Co.'s new plant on Braidwood Avenue was under construction in 1947. He could not tell what it was then going to look like and that was one reason for taking the Chimenti property, a block farther south of the O'Connell acres.

17 Canadian Jews Working On Palestine Farm Project

By ALEX VALENTINE

TEL AVIV, Feb. 22—(Reuters).—Seventeen young Canadian Jews are applying the lessons learned in an Ontario agricultural school to a collective settlement on the slopes of western Galilee. The Canadians, with a number of American Jews, have taken over 3,000 acres of land on which today only a few olive trees struggle grimly for existence.

Their kibbutz (collective settlement) faces the sea near Acre and extends back into the valley from which rise the hills of Lebanon. The Jewish state has given them a 99-year lease of the land and a loan of $72,000.

With the money and experience acquired at the Agricultural School at Smithville, Ont., maintained by the Youth to Palestine Movement, the group is confident that within three years it will turn the 3,000 virgin acres into a paying farm.

For as long as they remain on the Kibbutz they will pool wages and draw from the pool according to their needs.

Their motives for giving up the comforts of Canada for the primitive life of the Kibbutz are various. One of them put it like this:

Great Opportunity

"Here we will get a chance to give everything we have to the country. Above all we can get time to study in conditions which won't distract us . . . Perhaps some of us will produce great thoughts."

These settlers were originally to have founded a Kibbutz in the Safad area. But plans were changed at the last minute.

At the founding ceremony, held in the midst of half-erected prefabricated houses, the young settlers received telegrams of greeting from their parent organizations in North America, dropped by parachute from a low-flying airplane.

Apart from their Smithville training many of the new settlers have never done farm work before. The majority of them are war veterans — some with the Israeli forces.

They include a geologist, a mining engineer, a lawyer, a doctor and a journalist.

European Immigrants Must Stay On The Job

Many thousands of displaced persons in Europe have been permitted to come to Canada, and without financial burdens. The costs of transportation have been borne by governments anxious to help relieve their misfortunes. They have come under contracts which they have signed of their own free will and accord. The contract with the Minister of Labour stipulates that the D.P. immigrant will remain in the employment for which he or she has been selected for a period of one year. Some of the immigrants have been breaking or seeking to break their contracts.

* * *

In this country we expect people to be faithful to their given word. We are not likely to think well of D.P. immigrants, or to think them worthy of citizenship, if they begin their new life in Canada by breaking formal and not burdensome contracts. If there is reasonable cause for dissatisfaction, the local officer of the National Employment Service can transfer the worker to a new employer. Otherwise, he or she must stay on the job for at least the contract year.

* * *

A D.P. in Canada who breaks his contract is doing a grievous disservice not only to himself but to others of his nationality who still remain in D.P. camps in Europe and hope to be able to immigrate. We are not likely to permit the others to come to the freedom of Canada if the actions of nationals already here are dishonest. It is dishonest to break a contract. It is discreditable to attempt to break one, by working reluctantly, grudgingly or poorly. When a D.P. was selected from among thousands, the selection was made on the assurance that the person would work well and faithfully on the assigned job for a year. These D.P.'s have been fortunate in being permitted to come to Canada. In return for this good fortune, the least they can do is to stick to their contracts and work wholeheartedly.

* * *

Some employers or well-meaning friends or relatives have tried to induce workers to leave their jobs and accept other employment. That sort of practice must be severely condemned. The immigration and labour official cannot properly carry out their plans, or even continue the immigration scheme, if they are foiled by such tactics. Happily there are not many contract-breakers, or abettors of them. However, the few can spoil the party for all.

Is Applause A Lost Art?

We were startled to read that an audience in Rome applaused for ten minutes at the end of the first showing of an Italian film last month. Consider what that means: a man who is applauding vigorously beats his hands together about forty times in ten seconds; in a minute he claps 240 times; in ten minutes 2,400 times. Not of course that a whole audience claps for ten minutes at a time; let us say that these enthusiastice Italians averaged only 1,200 claps each. But try clapping 1,200 times and see what hard work it is. Also (knowing a little about Italians) we venture the guess that as well as clapping many of these film-goers shouted "Bravo" and "Viva" — another exhausting exercise. And all this applause was for a film which has no ears to be gratified, no eyes to be delighted by the excited throng, no soul to be uplifted by the tribute.

Here in Canada we are not great applauders. Even when we are pleased by a concert or a play we find it difficult to overcome our lethargy, and our conviction that a little noise is enough. The radio and the movies have encouraged us in our habits of moderate applause. It is true that we can give heart-warming approval when we choose, but we do not do so readily, and we are rather surprised at ourselves when it happens.

Yet applause is good for the applauders. After a period of concentration, of silence, of listening, it is healthy to clap and stamp and shout. It quickens the circulation and refreshes the lungs. And it is spiritually helpful, too, for it does us all good to give generous praise when we think it is deserved. Applause is not quite a lost art, and we think the time is ripe for a revival of it. Not all the art is concentrated on the concert platform or the stage; there is an art in being a good audience, as well, and knowing how and when to applaud is an important part of that art.

"A Marriage Of Expediency"

At the time of the Conservative candidate's victory in the Nicolet-Yamaska by-election, we commented on the evidence thus revealed of Premier Duplessis and his Union National party's intervention on behalf of the Federal Conservatives. The most outspoken comment we have yet seen on this matter was Mr. Coldwell's, the C.C.F. leader. He stated last Wednesday that the by-election results in the Quebec constituency were evidence that in a "desperate bid for power" the Conservatives under Mr. Drew have "entered a political alliance with the people whom the Conservative leaders in the House of Commons once sought to have jailed for sedition".

"The Nicolet-Yamaska by-election in Quebec has revealed a sinister alignment of political forces which the Canadian people dare not ignore. We are faced with the spectacle of a marriage of expediency between the Federal Conservative Party and the more extreme elements of Quebec isolationists who abuse the legitimate aspirations and grievances of the French Canadian people for their own political advantage".

The question now is many thoughtful, perturbed Canadians' minds is — what terms has Premier Duplessis of Quebec extracted from Mr. Drew, in exchange for his support? How grievous is the cost of that alliance? We shall never know unless the Conservatives should win the next General Election. If they should, then we may have to count the cost—and pay it. We are not worried that it would be anything as gross as a dollar-and-cent cost. An indication of the way all of Canada may have to pay was the victorious Conservative candidate's campaign tactics. As Mr. Coldwell has said, it was fought on a strong isolationist appeal—"anti-British, anti-the rest of Canada, exaggerated provincial rights". A hidden cost may possibly be inferred from Mr. Coldwell's charge, if it is true, that Mr. Drew and Mr. Duplessis are "political partners of big business".

Crime In Peterborough

Peterborough was only slightly criminal in 1948. The annual report of the Chief of Police which was published the other day shows that there were no major crimes during the last year and a decrease in many types of lesser offences. For instance, there were only sixteen cases of drunk driving, in twelve of which convictions were obtained. The total in 1947 was 23. We are happy to agree with Chief Thompson that the report shows "the very respectable type of citizens... living in and around the city of Peterborough".

The variety and number of cases which reached the court are interesting though not alarming. There were two cases of perjury, one of assault and beating of a wife, six of "joy-riding". According to law a person goes for a joy-ride in a borrowed car without first securing the owner's permission. The joy is paid for in court. We are rather surprised that there were 26 people charged with being found in "disorderly" houses, compared with ten in 1947; nineteen charges of receiving stolen goods, an increase of fifteen, and sixteen accusations of theft of automobiles compared with one in 1947. There were few charges for sexual offences—but two for gross indecency and three for indecent acts.

The story of crime in Peterborough as told in the Police Chief's report shows that Peterborough is a pretty decent and orderly place in which to live and that our energetic constabulary is on patrol to keep it so.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We read in a Toronto paper that Irishmen will be able to continue to buy "a drink of whisgy" on Sundays. But it's obviously changed stuff from pre-war Irish whusky.

Five hundred bottles of liquor, intercepted in the mails, have been poured down the sink at the Dead Letter Office. Those dead letters are now dead soldiers.

Legal lights in Hamilton have been making a fuss about an hotel in that city called "The Honest Lawyer"; they think it reflects on their profession. Such over-sensitiveness! We wouldn't mind a bit if somebody named a pub "The Accurate Reporter".

A Parliamentary Debate

(FROM HANSARD)

Mr. A. L. Smith (P.C., Calgary West): .... Some legal questions are unanswered, and this house is entitled to expect to receive answers to them from the Minister of Justice (Mr. Garson) who, after hearing the speech made by the hon. member for Souris (Mr. Ross) the other day, has maintained a most discreet silence in this house. As a matter of fact, I have not heard him guffaw in his usual manner from that time to this.

Mr. Abbott: Who? The hon. member from Souris?

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): The question in my mind, and upon which no one has touched, is this. Has Newfoundland a legislature, or has it not? In the broad sense of that word, I know they have no elected representatives. But I also know that, by the imperial act of 1933, I think it was, all the powers of a legislature were conferred upon the governing body. I am only a little police court lawyer. I realize that. I know nothing about constitutional matters.

An hon. Member: Hear, hear.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): Mr. Speaker, the interruption must have been intelligent. It was not from the hon. member for Springfield.

Mr. Sinnott: In a question of privilege, Mr. Speaker, I have been sitting here in my seat all evening, and have not spoken one word since I came in.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): May I agree with the hon. member for Springfield, Mr. Speaker, and go even further than he did. May I say that he has not said an intelligent word in this house since I came here four or five years ago.

Some hon. Members: Oh, oh.

Mr. Abbott: The hon. member for Calgary West may regret that remark.

Mr. Sinnott: Again I rise to a question of privilege.

Mr. Abbott: Ignore it.

Mr. Sinnott: I do not think—

An hon. Member: You never did.

Mr. Sinnott: —that any hon. member of this house should speak to another in the manner adopted by the hon. member for Calgary West.

Mr. Abbott: Consider the source whence it came.

Mr. Sinnott: Yes, I consider the source from which it came.

Mr. Speaker: Order. May I suggest that hon. members do not interrupt the hon. member who has the floor.

An hon. Member: He did not interrupt.

Mr. Speaker: May I suggest that the hon. member who has the floor should address himself to the Speaker.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I accept your soft slap on the wrist, Mr. Speaker, because there is no one to whom I would pay greater attention that I would to you.

Mr. Grant: The hon. member is obliged to.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): Perhaps one of the reasons for that is that I am obliged to do so. But, nevertheless, that is the situation. I now continue. I wish the sharp-shooters in the chamber would speak out so that I could hear them.

Mr. Abbott: Nobody said a word.

◇ ◇ ◇

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I turn now for a moment to the hon. member for Rosetown-Biggar (Mr. Coldwell), who told us that my leader had reversed himself between last week and this week. That was to be anticipated.

Some hon. Members: Hear, hear.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): When I went to school, there were no such things as "grades"; the term used then was "books". When some one expects an interruption from the fifth book, he gets one from the second book, as exemplified by the interruption I received from the Minister of Finance just now. These people do not know any better. That is the situation.

Mr. Abbott: Thank you, thank you. Carry on.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): Perhaps the Minister of Finance (Mr. Abbott) might address the chair, Mr. Speaker. I am glad the hon. gentleman thanked me, because we have been excellent friends for a long time. I disagree with the hon. member for Lake Centre (Mr. Diefenbaker). The Minister of Finance knows the difference between facetiousness and finance. He does not know it well, but he knows it.

To continue, I do not intend to quote what anybody said in 1864, 1865, 1867 or at any other time. I shall, however, try to bring this matter down to the present with regard to just what our problem is, and what we are voting. Before I was so kindly interrupted by the Minister of Finance—

Mr. Abbott: I beg the hon. member's pardon. I have not interrupted my hon. friend tonight. I can only suggest that my hon. friend pay a little bit more attention to identifying those who may be interrupting him. I have not been one of them.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I am delighted to hear that, and I apologize most humbly. Perhaps it was the hon. member for Springfield. He would like to be a minister of finance.

Mr. Abbott: I have been trying to read a letter, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I am sorry to interrupt the Minister of Finance's preoccupation with his letter. I hope it is from his wife and that he will get some benefit from it. But that is neither here nor there.

Mr. Speaker: Order. I must ask the hon. member to co-operate with the chair, to address himself to the speaker and not to make any reference to any other hon. member, especially those who do not interrupt.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I did not hear you, Mr. Speaker, but I agree with everything you say. That is all right. We rely on the Minister of Justice to guide us humble people who know no law. We may have an idea of justice but perhaps not of law. We should like him to tell us, at some time, whether or not under the present set-up Newfoundland has a legislature. But the Minister of Justice (Mr. Garson) has been extremely silent in this debate. He has no papers in front of him, as has the Minister of National Health and Welfare (Mr. Martin), who has been getting ready for some considerable time.

Mr. Martin: My mind has been elsewhere.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I am quite sure of that. However, let us not discuss the usual.

Mr. Martin: A very good comeback.

Mr. Smith (Calgary West): I come back to this and I say to the Minister of Justice (Mr. Garson) that I have no doubt he is ambitious. I have no doubt he has now been appointed to the senior team. I have no doubt he wants to be known some day as the rookie of the year — if I may use an expression used in hockey. I point out to him that he has some difficulties in front of him. He has the beneficent administrator of reconstruction and supply, and he has the man with the great smile down here, the minister for whom we have respect and who deals with foreign affairs. I think he had better get into this pretty soon and tell us—because we will all accept his views—just what the law is in this matter.

I now turn to the socialists on my left....

Letters To The Editor

ADVOCATE OF THE WARD SYSTEM

Sir: The City Council was evidently interested in learning the views of candidates of our last municipal election adverse to the present system of conducting our municipal elections, and substitute in its place the electing our aldermen under the Ward System, when they asked for our views. The enclosed copy of letter I forwarded indirectly to our Mayor has perhaps reached him.

The longer the present system is allowed to govern our franchise the more objectionable it is, that is of course my opinion and my own opinion was all that I was asked to express.

Until it can be shown me I am wrong, I will continue to advocate the change.

MAURICE E. KETCHESON.

His Worship Mayor Swanston,
Members of the City Council,
Peterborough, Ontario.

Gentlemen: In stating my reasons why I believe the Ward System of electing our Aldermen would be better than what we have under the general voting, I will dwell on the abuses of the present system, and which I believe would not exist under the Ward System. I would be pleased to withdraw any statement if proven to be wrong.

What seemed to be common knowledge at the time of the construction of the Hunter St. Bridge was we could have had a much wider and better looking bridge for less money if certain matters had not crept in and kept the Company that contracted to build it, from doing so. Some still living may know the reasons. What became of the old iron bridge? For years there has been flooding of property caused by a Government Construction. Was there ever a protest registered? What are the people's rights?

We have a bus service which is a disgrace for a city to have. A local man was not allowed to continue and improve what he started, but strangers were brought in and allowed to use such small buses. I understood the city was to have a revenue of seven dollars per year and I believe this was a goodwill gesture of the Bus Co. for each seat in use in the buses. I have never heard where the Transportation Co. pay the city anything for the passengers who stand. It was certainly a mistake that our bus service was not taken over by our Council, as a Public Utility. The Bus. Co. received their franchise by the electorate, and since then, it would appear it has been extended, and they have raised the prices to the suffering public. There will very likely be an injunction served on those, that are responsible for the increase without sanction from the public.

We have apparently been deceived by some, not so dumb, in making the public believe there was to be a Memorial Centre built. Now those same people had better now pass along another paper for donations for a Memorial, for the Memorial.

There have been just as foolish things done here. Of all the diabolical and this word means like the devil's way to ask an intelligent electorate to vote, under the present system in our village. You must vote for four and you may vote for five. Some of these candidates may be total strangers yet they must be included with the four.

There are some aldermen who have sat in the Council for years, they get the bulk of the votes in some cases only, because their names are engraved on people's minds, or head the listing on the ballot forms.

There are just as good men who never get the chance under the present system.

Under the Ward System the people would know their candidates in most cases. Also they can be contacted more easily. Our Council should order white canes for the people who vote as it is a blind vote, to vote for someone not known or perhaps not wanted.

I believe under the Ward System we would be less liberal and not pay for education and salary to a favourite to qualify for a city position. I think such as this would be aired in Council meeting.

Also where an official was asked to resign, our present system paid him what he demanded, before he would resign. There are many abuses which I consider can be dealt with more on the open, when we get the Ward System. People will be more interested in their franchise and take an interest in our city administration, if, and when, they consider when using their franchise it can be used intelligently.

Sincerely yours,
MAURICE E. KETCHESON.

THE CAUSE OF IT ALL

Sir: So the pot calls the kettle black—the city is smug, the country self-righteous. But in one way they are alike — their empty churches.

Perhaps hard work has made the country that way, and too much food has made the city the way it is.

The remedy would be—for the country to stop its slavery, have a little holiday, loose its self-righteousness. The city would then have to pull in its belt—become less smug. And of course, go to church.

S. SIMON.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And there was one Anna, a prophetess, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser.... And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Jerusalem....

And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favour with God and man. (Luke 2: 36, 38, 52.)

And it came to pass in those days, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan. And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him: and there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. (Mark 1: 9-11.)

Chief Khatsalano

Edmonton Journal: Chief Khatsalano, talking to reporter in North Vancouver, had some excellent advice for his paleface brothers. The white man, said the old Indian chief—and how right he is—"always wants what he ain't got." Keeping to the weather, always a safe subject, he explained: "If it rain, he want snow; if it snow, he want rain." And, bringing it nearer home, if it's below zero, we want it mild, but when a Chinook comes along, we fear that such mild weather in winter is "unhealthy."

We are too apt to forget all the good days the moment an ill wind blows. However, Chief Khatsalano prescribes good medicine:

"Tell white peoples not to worry. By and by come spring."

There's a pretty thought to take to bed tonight, as we listen to the thermometer outside drop another degree below zero. Spring is coming, by and by! And maybe nearer than by and by, is another Chinook.

Oddfellows Tie Lions, 6-6 To Open Junior 'B' Series

The amazing Oddfellows held Toronto Lions to a 6-6 overtime tie in the Nobleton Arena last night to open their best-of-five OHA junior "B" group finals. Toronto Lions have not lost a game in 15 starts this season and are rated one of the strongest junior "B" squads in the province. The return game will be here tomorrow night.

Archie Weir's young gamesters roared into action early and took a 3-1 lead in the first period. They were in front 4-2 going into the third but the Lions tied it up at 5-all in regulation time. They battled it out for 10 minutes of overtime with Lions scoring first but the Triple Links fighting back to split the decision. It was a speedy, clean and exciting game on a fair sheet of ice.

Led The Way

The line of Chum Fryia, Johnny Truss and Lefty Doris went best for the IOOF outfit, with Fryia keeping up his playoff marksmanship with four scoring points, while Truss had three in another nifty performance. Birch and Floyd had a goal each, as Pagett and Crowley aided once apiece. These players, with the defence, all worked well in front of fine goal-tending by Jack Byers again. Popaduik, Hinde, Dyson and Sinclair stood out for the hustling Toronto crew.

Truss and Fryia came close early in the first as the teams opened it up. Hunter tested Byers and, with Bill Berwick off for boarding, Lions scored first, Klett banging one home from Hinde in close. Fryia got it right back as he took a pass from Truss to go in and pick a corner as most of the fair-sized crowd of fans cheered. Crowley and Pagett nearly got one and then Birch checked, recovered at their blue line, raced in and—after being stopped by the goalie — circled the net fast to score a dandy. Fryia made it 3-1 near the finish with a hot backhander inside defence.

They played the second on pretty even terms, still at a good clip. Hinde was robbed once and Truss made it 4-1 from Fryia on good combination right inside. Fryia tried again, and then a Birch-Wyatt dash nearly paid off. Sinclair made Byers hop with hot rubber and play swept back and forth fast and quite even the last half of the period. Fryia's shot looked to be in once but it apparently hit the post. Dyson got another back for Toronto from Popaduik as he tipped in a high forward pass at the goal crease to make it read 4-2.

The Lions put on the pressure most of the third, though at times the Oddfellows more than held their own. Byers was good as the power play kept buzzing around his cage. J. Lawrence finally got one inside from Hinde and Anderson followed with a screened shot to sew up the score. The Links pounded back and Floyd scored on a passing play with Pagett and Crowley. Bill Berwick went over for slashing but was back when Popaduik tied it again at 5-5 on Hinde's rebound. Fryia and Pagett came mighty close just at the finish.

A rush by Pagett and Floyd nearly clicked to open the overtime and Birch had a good try as Oddfellows pressed. But Popaduik popped one in at point-blank range with Hinde and Robertson drawing assists. Popaduik was gated then for hooking and the O's pressed. He was back when Truss threw in the equalizer at 6.45 from Fryia near the enemy twine tepee. Both sides were tired but battling hard at the last gong.

The teams:

IOOF: Goal, Byers; defence, Anderson, and W. Berwick; centre, Fryia; wings, Truss and Doris; alternates, Pagett, Floyd, Crowley, Wyatt, Birch, O'Heron, Whitnell and J. Berwick.

Lions: Goal, Crouch; defence, Borringham and Vousden: centre, Barfield; wings, Klett and Hinde; alternates, Hunter, J. Lawrence, Sinclair, Popaduik, Dyson, Robertson, Anderson and C. Lawrence.

Close Contests In Playoffs Of Church Loop

All Saints' Peewees edged St. James to even their Church Hockey League playoffs at a game each last night. Mark St. midgets took a 3-0 win from St. George's to win their round two out of three, though St. George's may protest it. Keene nosed out All Saints juveniles 5-4 to make it a game each in playoffs. St. James seniors won 5-4 from Hiawatha United in 10 minutes of overtime at Omemee.

Both goalies were outstanding in the nifty peewee number and both sides worked hard and well all the way. Tom Crough got the only goal, with George Downes getting an assist. It sewed up their series at a win apiece. The teams:

St. James—Goal, White; defence, Johnston and Ball; centre, Hunt; wings, Smyth and Dugan; alternates, Hutchinson, Carling, Stevens, Peters and Hill.

All Saints—Goal, Chamberlain; defence, Montgomery and Rye; centre, Clarke; wings, Carveth and Crough; alternates, Hollingsworth, Ballantyne, Varga, Hewitt, York, and Downes.

McConnachie scored two tallies and Gandy one in the 3-0 win for Mark St. midgets. It was mentioned that St. George's might launch a protest though the reason was not announced. The win gives Mark St. the series two out of three. It was a good game, too, with both sides hustling all the way. The teams:

Mark St.—Goal, Barker; defence, Morrison and McIlmoyle; centre, Ferguson; wings, Gandy and McConnachie; alternates, DeNure, Burns, Rogers, Jones, Tuck, English and Harrison.

St. George's—Goal, Walling; defence, Kimble and McCue; centre, Tyndall; wings, Sloan and Jensen; alternates, Hope and White.

A Close Fit

Walton counted two and Ron Wallen, Doug Wallen and Davis one each for Keene in the juvenile go. McIlraith had two for All Saints, as Miller scored one, Mongraw aided on two and Freeman one and an assist. The last Keene counter to break the 4-4 tie came with but a minute of play left in the fine tussle, each team now having won once in the playoffs The teams:

All Saints—Goal, Webb, defence, Mongraw and Miller centre, Freeman; wings, Foster and McIlraith; alternates, Doughty, Rye, Chambers, Spargo, Hurle and O'Connor.

Keene—Goal, Cruikshanks; defence, R. Wallen and Kempt; centre, D. Wallen; wings, McNevan and Walton; alternates, Mather, F. Wallen, McIntyre and Davis.

St. James had to go overtime for their 5-4 senior win against Hiawatha in a dandy duel. L. Aikens scored three for the winners and Lawson two, while B. Cowlie and Thompson had a pair each for the losers. Both sides fought it out to the last ditch and played fine hockey. The teams:

St. James—Goal, K. Aikens; defence, Ferguson and Gibson; centre, Lawson; wings, L. Aikens, and Anderson; alternates, Castle, Beggs and Jacobs.

Hiawatha—Goal, Musgrove; defence, Thompson and Anderson; centre, Paudash; wings, Howard and Kempt; alternates, B. Cowlie, A. Cowlie, Neafield, G. Salleby, L. Salleby and D. Musgrove.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Summer-time sports keep trying to crowd onto the scene as February drains off. A week from tonight at 7.30 in the YMCA, the men's City Softball League holds its annual re-organization meeting. Rumors are afloat already of half a dozen prospective entries, but of course there's plenty of time yet ere a deadline is set. This meeting will be concerned chiefly with the election of officers for the coming campaign, reading of the '48 reports, discussion of plans for this year, and a lot of talk concerning the annual OASA convention in Oshawa on Good Friday. Those interested are invited to attend.

* * * * * *

Toronto Maple Leafs of the International Baseball League celebrate their diamond jubilee this year. Entered organized ball back in 1886 and went till '89. The franchise was void then for four years but they came back in 1895 and have been operating ever since. Following the death late last year of their hustling prexy, Pete Campbell—one time of Peterborough—the club has been re-organized considerably in staff and in plans for the team and an improved park. More box seats will be built and closer to the playing field, and entrances and exists are being changed to relieve congestion. New uniforms for players, et al.

* * * * * *

Del's Been Around

The 49-year-old Del Bissonette is managing Leafs this year and he's an oldtimer at the diamond game. Played for Valleyfield, Jersey City, Buffalo, Dodgers, Baltimore and Montreal, afterward managing clubs in a number of minor league spots and coaching Boston Braves and Pittsburg Pirates. Then he got in with the Phillies' chain, which includes the Leafs. The team has a big list of prospects for the spring training, including one Canadian—Oscar Judd of Ingersoll—and the grapefruit schedule opens in three weeks. A lot of local fans take in the night ball games at Maple Leaf Stadium.

At a meeting of ball interests last night, three committees were set up to make plans for the OBA annual convention here in April. The session was called by Alex Kay and had most of the old reliables of the diamond sport on deck, and Bill Kay phoned in to offer his assistance. Ray Pammett and Gord Young head the accommodation committee; the entertainment and freshment committee will be under direction of Cy Whatley; and the reception committee steered by Lloyd Grose, Jack Billingsley and Scotty Maudsley. These groups will be added to, and meantime work will be done on rooms, entertainment, souvenirs, checking on OBA plans and other angles. Another early meeting will be held to go further into details.

IOOF Does It Again

Those surprising young IOOF-ers (after upsetting Oshawa two straight) stepped into the Nobleton Arena last eve and held the strong Toronto Lions to a 6-all overtime tie. To open their best-of-five OHA junior "B" group finals. And they nearly won that opener in a fine, fighting display. 'Twas a dandy struggle, fast and clean, with both sides battling their heads off to get the game advantage. Byers, Fryia and Truss starred for the Weir-coached crew, but they all went good, and the powerful Lions were lucky enough to split the decision. If the local lads keep up that hustle, they'll best Lions for the group championship. They deserve a full hour here Wednesday (tomorrow) as they tangle again.

* * * * * *

Toronto Meteors were better than somewhat at Civic Arena last p.m. to pull out a 9-5 senior "B" verdict o'er the Petes. Led by Veigel, who scored a trio, they gave Ray Harding a busy night, and his defence wasn't the best. Garvey was in on three for the Creighton crowd, with Tompkins, Kingdon, Floyd Parsons and Coughlin all figuring in on a pair. A rather slim crowd saw the fray, as there isn't the same interest as when Legion and Petes tangle, or when playoffs come up. Legionnaires play the Petes in Lindsay on the morrow and then these same clubs mix it here Friday night, with group semi-finals slated for next week for sure, either here or in Lindsay.

Marmora Gets First One Of TVL Series

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 22.—(ENS) — Marmora defeated the local squad in the first T.V.L. tussle of a three-out-of-five playoff series by 8-5 on Monday night before a capacity crowd of 1,600 fans. The frayed tempers that marked the last regular game between these two clubs were absent in last night's affray and the boys buckled down to fast crowd-pleasing hockey.

In the first two frames the locals turned in their most effective display of two-way hockey of the season as they took a one goal lead over the league leading visitors. Marmora put on the pressure in the final stanza to chalk up six counters. Goalie Nelson was sensational between the stakes as he robbed the Marmora snipers of many close-in shots.

The teams:

Marmora—Goal, Borland; defence, E. Leonard and G. Leonard; centre, Cousins; wings, Lavender and K. Trumble; alternates, Kerr, McInroy, Goodchild, E. Trumble, Nicholson, Brooks and Loveless.

Campbellford — Goal, Nelson; defence, Hendy and Tanner; centre, Robinson; wings, Blake and Free; alternates, Smith, Kruger, Hay, Wright, Hendricks and Lambert.

Referees—W. O'Malley and J. Grey, both of Trenton.

Kiwanis Club Plans Bonspiel

Plans are being laid for the Peterborough Kiwanis Club's third annual curling bonspiel on March 14 and 15. Accommodation can be had for 32 rinks and all entries will be assured of three games.

Jack Allan, bonspiel chairman, has announced that entries should be in not later than March 8. Last year, clubs competed from Timmins, New Liskeard, North Bay, Pembroke, Brockville, Belleville, Cobourg, Oshawa, Guelph, Galt, Lindsay, Collingwood and Peterborough.

If the complete 32 rinks do not apply to play in the bonspiel the first 28 will be accepted, he said. However, it is believed this will not be necessary as an overflow entry is expected.

There will be three events. The trophy won by Al Parkhill of Oshawa in 1948 will once again be up for competition. It is expected there will also be a second trophy.

First prize is valued at $200, and the total prize list will be in excess of $400. Games will be played at the Peterborough Curling Club.

Meteors Turn Back Petes By 9-5 Count In Good Go

By FRED MAYBEE

Hank Goldup's Toronto Meteors under acting coach Greg Curry, defeated Peterborough Hockey Club 9-5 at Civic Arena last night on fast ice in a regular OHA Senior "B" hockey game.

Thus, the visitors avenged the defeat suffered February 4, in Lindsay, at the hands of Coach Creighton's squad, as they reversed the score and added an extra tally for good measure.

It was an off-night for the Petes on the play as a whole but Meteors played heads-up hockey as they sharpened their claws for the playoffs, took advantage of every rival lapse and earned the victory on their merits. Meteors held a 3-1 lead at the end of the second and outscored the locals 6-3 in the third as Don Veigel, star centre, pulled the hat trick combining with Sadler and the Robertson brothers for three fine goals. De Laat, C. Robertson and Williams potted the others while Tompkins, Floyd Parsons and Fred Garvey registered for the locals.

Got The First

Honey Tompkins took a pass from Bun Kingdon in the first to score from close in. Both goalies shone as the rival sharpshooters vainly tried to score, with play fairly even, till finally with seconds to go in the session, the veteran Bill Thoms let fly a bullet drive ankle high past Harding to the lower left corner from just inside the blue line to tie the score.

Meteors blanked the locals in the second, though territorial play continued fairly even. DeLaat clicked in the second, lining a low drive into the right corner (a rather lucky counter) to give Curry's boys the lead which they never relinquished. Petes fought back and with a few breaks might have potted two or three but Lynn proved good while his defence gave him fine protection. Harding, on the other hand was excellent throughout but his mates were unable to measure up to their usual standard defensively and therein lay the difference, on the night's play. Carter, Williams and Vallece combined on a nice checkerboard play with five seconds to go in the second and the latter flipped the rubber over Harding who had just stopped two from point-blank range.

Open It Up

The third saw both teams throw discretion to the winds as play opened with a flurry of speed to the delight of an enthusiastic crowd. The period turned into a scoring bee but the work of Harding was outstanding, despite the score. For the visitors, who looked better than in previous appearances here, Don Veigel was the individual star with three goals and a great two-way game all through. Gord De Laat with a pair of tallies played well, while the Robertson brothers, George Vallere, Buzz Sadler, Bill Thoms and Bob Fisher all worked good. For the locals, aside from Harding and Honey Tompkins, who scored two while playing his usual good game, there were no outstanding stars. All the boys tried hard but were defeated by a better team on the night's play.

Meteors—Goal, Lynn; defence, Thoms, Sadler; centre, Bell; wings Vallere, Williams; alternates, Veigel, De Laat, Carter, Fisher, C. Robertson, Bob Robertson, Cleary.

Peterborough—Goal, Harding; defence, Jopling, Coughlin; centre, Kingdon; wings, Tompkins, Reid; alternates, Griffin, Mortimer, Quigley, McMaster, T. Parsons, Garvey, Legrow, F. Parsons.

Referee, A. Bellemer; linesman A. Giardino.

Mike Sharpe's Big Chance Looms In Bout With Atkins

The three-bout professional wrestling program which will go to the mat in the Brock Arena ring tomorrow night is guaranteed to give the audience more than its usual quota of thrills and spill

The feature match of course is the meeting of Fred Atkins, the rock-ribbed champion of Australia and Mike "The Body" Sharpe from Hamilton, Ont. Both mighty Mike and Fearless Fred are grapplers who keep in the peak of condition and it is certain they will be flying around the ring with speed and power.

Fred Atkins

Mike Sharpe

Tomorrow night's winner will have moved a step closer to a bout with British Empire Champion Whipper Billy Watson and the big rewards that go with a change in the title.

The semi-final has slogging Sandy O'Donnell meeting the aristocratic looking Ben Sharpe. This match should provide plenty of fireworks.

In the opener Nick Viccharelli meets Sammy Gotter who also does a spot of refereeing. Gotter roused a sizeable chorus of boos when he officiated here in the first match between Sky-Hi Lee and Mike Sharpe. It remains to be seen whether the local mat star can adequately express the irritation of the crowd when he and Gotter come to grips.

United Church Presbytery Opposes Threat Of Dog Racing

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 22 (ENS). —Belleville Presbytery of the United Church last week decided to draw the attention of the Minister of Justice of Canada and of the Attorney General of Ontario to the threat to introduce dog racing, with its attendant evils and express the opposition of Presbytery to such proposals.

It was further resolved that the members of Belleville Presbytery endorse the action of the General Council, held in Vancouver last September, opposing the sending of an envoy from Canada to the Vatican.

The Home Mission report given by Rev. A. L. Sisco, Tweed, recommended the following grants to pastoral charges: Bancroft, $100; Coe Hill, $400; Flinton, $465; Northport, $750; and St. Ola, $725.

The Rev. A. W. Lougheed, Shannonville, boys' work counsellor, urged that greater recognition be given boys' groups. He quoted Rev. Willard Brewing, D.D., Moderator of the United Church, as saying "There is no more powerful influence than that of a boy's life." Mr. Lougheed recommended camps, field days, father and son banquets and conferences as projects through which to interest boys.

Advocates Fellowship Groups

The Rev. D. C. Amos, young adult counsellor, in presenting this work urged the forming of Fellowship groups as a means of developing a wider inclusiveness and of saving small groups from hiving off by themselves.

Mr. Don Williams, chairman of the Quin-mo-lac corporation, explained the progress to date of the new Moira Lake camp. Approximately $6,000 has been spent.

The Rev. Ralph Barker, Stirling, in presenting the report of the Social Service and Evangelism committee, expressed the Presbytery's opposition to any form of legislation that would allow commercial enterprises to operate on Sunday.

At a meeting of the Bay of Quinte Conference committee of Social Service and Evangelism held in Tabernacle United Church on Thursday with Dr. James Semple, Ph.D., of Peterborough presiding and attended by Messrs. A. A. Martin, Brighton; Fred Fallis, Millbrook; Rev's. J. D. Martin, Trenton; M. J. Aiken, Peterborough, President of the Ontario Temperance Federation; C. A. Perkins, Belleville, and R. C. Chambers, Ph.D., Associate Secretary of Social Service and Evangelism, Toronto, it was resolved to write to the Attorney General of the Province of Ontario expressing opposition to any enabling legislation that would allow commercial enterprises to operate on Sunday.

Scout Awarded Gilt Cross For Efforts In Saving Nurse

By JEAN STENTON

For his rescue efforts in a duck hunting accident in Rice Lake November 13, 1948, J. Brenton Dawson, CGE draftsman, has been awarded the Scouting Gilt Cross by the Governor-General Viscount Alexander, in his capacity as Chief Scout for Canada. This is the first time it has been awarded in Peterborough.

Dawson, 22, of Millbrook, accompanied Fred Hickey, CGE draftsman, and Miss Mary Seeney, 20, of Ida, on a duck hunting trip. While on the lake, high waves swamped their skiff and the trio spent three hours in the water before an American, Clarence Mao, spotted them from shore.

Mao went to their rescue and found Miss Seeney unconscious on top of the boat, held by Dawson, who was also hanging onto Hickey, unconscious, in the water. Dawson and Mao rolled the girl into the boat and then Mao dragged Dawson aboard. Both were too weak to lift Hickey, so Mao operated the boat and Dawson hung into Hickey as he was towed beside the boat. When they were nearing shore, Mao looked around. Dawson had collapsed and there was no sign of Hickey.

Born In Millbrook

Son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Dawson of Millbrook, Brent Dawson served in the RCAF and the Canadian Army, and is employed at the CGE.

A list of honors and awards was announced on the occasion of the anniversary of the birthday of Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell, founder of the Boy Scout movement.

The Gilt Cross is granted to those who do exceptionally well in case of emergency though without special risk to themselves.

"To Dawson, assistant Scoutmaster, 16th Peterborough Troop (Trinity), for the manner in which he assisted in saving the life of a young woman who was in danger of drowning and for his efforts in attempting to save another companion, when their boat overturned in the rough waters of Rice Lake."

Dawson has been active in the scouting movement a comparatively short time. He was assistant master of Trinity for two years and was a member of that troop when the accident occurred. Since then, he has returned to Millbrook to live, though he is still working in Peterborough. He is master of the Millbrook troop at present.

Two others also received the Gilt Cross award. They are Scout Ralph Gorsline, 13, 2nd Collingwood Troop, Collingwood and Scout Robert Whiting, 16, 65th Toronto Troop, Toronto.

Cornwell Scout badges were awarded to Scout Herbie Sam, 12, 1st Solarium Duncan Group, Gobble Hill, B.C., and the late Scout Murray White, 17, 2nd Dartmouth Troop, Dartmouth, N.S. The badges were given in recognition of pre-eminently high character and devotion to duty, together with great courage, endurance or gallantry.

Scout Sam has shown courage and fortitude through an illness lasting eight years during which he has suffered severe pain. White displayed remarkable courage and endurance during four years of intense suffering.

Two Silver Crosses for gallantry were awarded. Cub Wayne N. Crowell, 9, 1st Truro Pack, Trun, N.S., rescued a young boy who was in danger of drowning, and Scout Lawrence Leafloor, 14, 37th Ottawa Troop, attempted to rescue a boy from drowning in the Ottawa River.

Legislature Members Paid After Election

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Members of the Ontario legislature will join the government payroll the day they are elected, rather than when they formally take their seats in the house, under the terms of a government bill given first reading Monday.

The amendment to the Legislative Assembly Act also provides that members may draw a percentage of their indemnities and expenses each month.

The new arrangement does not involve an increase in the sessional indemnity.

You and Your Bank

How much you borrow, how much you save ... how much you put in, how much you take out ... that's your business. Your right to keep your private affairs private is a cherished principle of Canadian banking.

NEXT time you are in your bank, notice how many people keep their cheques face down ... just like you ... while they make out their deposit slips. Notice how they close their passbooks before handing them in—and get them back closed too.

Canadian bank service is recognized by everyone as confidential. Every employee, when he came into the service of your bank, took a solemn declaration of secrecy. Your relationship with your bank is the most vitally confidential business relationship you have.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a public official working for the State! State monopoly of banking, proposed by socialists here, would open your banking transactions to political intrusion.

Realty Expert Says Project Worth $28,000

The J. T. O'Connell property which the city expropriated for a housing project was valued at $28,000 by George A. Lister, Toronto, in this morning's session of the arbitration proceedings that are being heard by Judge S. L. Smoke.

Mr. Lister a realty expert witness for Mr. O'Connell, was examined by J. C. M. German, Cobourg. He was chief rentals appraiser for the Wartime Prices Board for 3½ years, and was engaged here in 1934 in a real estate case involving the Canadian General Electric Company and Joseph S. Bell in regard to a property on Park St. at Townsend St.

The O'Connell lot lies between Park St. and Monaghan Road, Rose Ave. and O'Connell Road.

It was expropriated by the city for a block of the 226 veterans houses which Reynolds Construction Co. is building for Central Mortgage and Housing Co.

"I would place the value of Mr. O'Connell's land at $8 per running foot as of June 3, 1948," Mr. Lister said. "It was used as a market garden, but he was entitled to its potential value. I listened to Mr. O'Connell in the box. He is of the old school of subdividers. He would have been well advised at his age past 70 to have sold it for cash, and if he was offered $26,000 cash I would suggest that he should have taken it.

It is all right to say what could have been done, but what you would have done is another thing.

At any rate, he was entitled to fair compensation, and the value into which it was coming. That was why he held it for 45 years and paid the taxes on it."

Much of Mr. Lister's preceding evidence related to the development and expansion of Peterborough since 1934 and the extent of his investigation of local values then and also for this arbitration. Land values had been greatly enhanced by the industrial growth of the city, he said.

Now Ranks Ninth

One of the statistics quoted by Mr. Lister was that in 1934 Peterborough ranked as high as 13th city in the province. Today it was ninth.

There was no improved highway to Apsley and beyond, in 1934, nor was there the paved road easterly to Tweed and Kaladar. The highway system has brought Peterborough in closer to a large district. It is equidistant between Ottawa and Toronto."

Mr. Lister said he had not changed his opinions of this city.

"Peterborough is a very fine city, and its taxes have been very well handled."

Wolves Becoming Bolder In Area Around Stony Lake

Old guides' tales of wolves howling through the long winter nights around Stony Lake is the absolute truth according to settlers in Burleigh township. Stanley Northey, who owns a 100-acre farm a mile north of Northey's Bay in the Boschink area, says that he hears small packs at least two or three evenings in the week.

Early today he heard a small pack, estimated at five or six, cornering a deer on the Lookout Ridge between Boschink and Mount Julian. Together with Samuel Truswell they took their rifles and before reaching the sound of the racket, on his own farm in fact, he saw a dog wolf in the distance and brought it down with a shot in the chest. It measured a little more than four feet.

He says that hunting howls are so common in that area that farmers are not surprised to find fresh spoors around their farm woodlots as they go to work each morning. He has even seen fresh prints on his own doorstep when he and his family come home late at night.

Mr. Northey is alarmed at the increasing numbers of wolves especially for school children, who have to trudge long distances on lonely roads to their small schoolhouses each day. He has watched the mass fox-wolf hunts held around Indian River with great interest and claims that 150 hunters encircling his home area from the Burleigh shoreline up to and surrounding Scott's woods, could count on a good day's shooting and rid the neighborhood of wolves that are becoming increasingly bolder. He has heard some recommend the High Falls area but this is on the Game Sanctuary. The wolves have come south from the Preserve and in his estimation will do damage to cattle if they are not exterminated soon.

Rhys Williams Assessor Dies

LINDASY, Feb. 22—A man who was more familiar with the town of Lindsay than the majority of its residents is dead. He is 72-year-old Rhys Williams of 209 William St. North, an assessor in the employ of Lindsay for the past 30 years.

Mr. Williams died unexpectedly Sunday night at his home in the company of friends and members of his immediate family. Although he had suffered from a heart condition for sometime he had not complained of feeling unwell until late Sunday.

He suffered a weak spell while presiding at a K of C meeting but recovered sufficiently to carry on and later returned home to all appearances none the worse for his experience.

Mrs. William's long association with the assessment business of the town kept him in touch with the building trade which was his vocation in earlier life. He was considered to be an authority on contract construction work in the town and his experience made him a competent judge of property values.

Attorney Warns Law Must Not Be Resisted

Arthur Finn, who was evicted from his home at 1064 High St. on Feb. 7, was placed on probation for a year by Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C., at the city police court today, when he pleaded not guilty to the charge of obstructing County Constable Bruce Menzies when he was removing furniture from the house.

Crown Attorney Bradshaw said that if the accused was convicted, he would not object to a suspended sentence provided it was made clear to the public that it was a serious matter to obstruct officers in carrying out their duties.

"This is merely a warning to the public that the officers have a duty to perform and cannot be obstructed without penalty," he declared.

The magistrate said that although he had to convict he would not consider any other than suspended sentence.

Finn told the court that he had taken hold of a chair which was being taken from the house by County Constable Menzies, and admitted "hanging on to it."

"I made a mistake possibly by holding on to the chair" Finn said, "but I did not know what to do." He said he had been trying to find somewhere else to live and was now renting two cabins for $60 a month. A house on Water St. which the police had found for him was dirty, he said and two other houses on the Keene Rd. which had been offered as alternative accommodation, had neither water nor electricity.

600 Women Plan To Canvass City

Six hundred women will make a house to house canvass of Peterborough in the cause of health.

They will be directed by Mrs. Achilles Turner of the I.O.D.E., and in the same campaign the Junior Chamber of Commerce will assume organization for the chest X-ray survey beginning in Peterborough industries April 25.

Mr. C. H. Elliott mentioned this first stage of preparation as an evidence of the planning for a thorough combing of the city, and with the public's hearty support in this spring attack on tuberculosis.

Doug Vaisey is the general chairman of the entire drive of which more details will be published later.

Outstanding Cleric Abbe Maheux Coming

An outstanding cleric, writer and speaker, Abbe Arthur Maheux, MA., DD., OBE., will address a meeting at the Collegiate Auditorium Thursday Feb. 24. The meeting is being held under the auspices of the Ontario English Catholic Teachers' Association.

Abbe Maheux is a member of the Royal Society of Canada, and professor of history at Laval University.

He was born in the Eastern Townships, and attended the Seminary at Quebec where he was ordained a priest. He continued his studies at the Sorbonne in Paris where he graduated with high honors. Since that time, he has been a teacher at the Seminary in Quebec, then at Laval University.

His subject here will be "Six Year Interlude" in Canadian history.

PCVS Key Club Presented With Charter

"Charity and Happiness run hand in hand," said Albert Linton, Monday, when presenting the charter to the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational Key Club. Mr. Hinton is Lieutenant-Governor of No. 6 Division of the Ontario, Quebec, and Maritime District of the Kiwanis International.

"This charity is not the giving of money, even if it is hard to get. It is true charity, understanding, helping, giving strength, and assistance particularly through encouragement to others.

Mr. Hinton said most people learn early in life that happiness is everything. Happiness can take a thousand forms, yet it is nearly always the fulfilment of some function.

"Happiness is internal, not external and of the mind, not the body."

In the Key Clubs boys learn the ideas of service, Mr. Hilton explained.

"Continue to gain knowledge. Make new friends because they are a great thing to have. Help others even if it means inconvenience. Always remember it is great to be a Canadian."

Accepts Charter

Douglas Rattenbury accepted the Club charter presented by Mr. Hinton.

Induction of officers in the new Key Club took place, members of the Kiwanis Club inducting. Mr. Rattenbury was inducted by E. G. Pridham, immediate past president of the Kiwanis Club, vice-president Harold Grafstein by Alwyn Plaskett, secretary Trevor Davies by Kiwanis, secretary Ernest Bartlett and treasurer Keith Borland by Walter Howell.

Presented to the Club were a Key Club banner by James Craig, a gong and striker by Alwyn Plaskett and a Key chain with a Kiwanis Crest by W. R. Cuckburn of the Toronto Riverdale Kiwanis Club, and past international vice-president of Kiwanis. The chain will be the president's while he is in office.

Dennis Fitzgerald presented the 17 members of the Club with their pins and membership cards. Mr. Fitzgerald is a past president of the Kiwanis Club in Peterborough.

Harold Grafstein gave the Pledge of Support of the Key Club.

Closing remarks were made by William Duignan, president of the St. Peter's High School Key Club and secretary-treasurer of the Ontario, Quebec, and Maritime District Key Clubs and John Barden, past international vice-president of the Kiwanis and member of Riverdale Kiwanis, Toronto.

At present London Kiwanis and Peterborough Kiwanis Clubs are the only two clubs in Ontario with two Key Clubs each.

City Council Moves To Eliminate Lane

Last trace of a blue-print lane on the south side of Outboard Marine and Manufacturing property is about to be erased. The city is going to give the company a deed of the strip which exists only as a surveyor's drawing.

A similar ten feet on an adjoining ten feet strip on the north side of Peterborough Lumber Co. was the rest of the lane width which was to be 20 feet extending from Monaghan Road to Park St. That was a planning idea years ago. Then the factories came, and all that is left of the lane on its drawing is the Johnson Motors strip. The company has used it, but the property records lack unquestioned ownership of this strip. It is merely a formality requiring a bylaw which Ald. Herbert Young and Ald. Burrows moved for drafting.

Auto Wrecker Has License

For his auto-wrecking on Monaghan Road, T. Hughes is equipped with a provincial license against complaints of property-owning neighbors who declare the place to be in town-planning parlance, a community blemish.

That information reached the council Monday night from Chief John Thompson who ascertained that the license of Ontario does not expire until next Dec. 13. To some members of the council it was apparently a vexation that the province could set Hughes up in business on a highway from which the city wished to exclude him.

Chief Thompson asked for instruction as to procedure of prosecution of Hughes "for starting up a wrecking yard without municipal authority.

"I am of the opinion that the City Solicitor should be consulted in this matter for his advice as to what section the charge should be laid under.

The Chief's letter was referred to the board of works.

Fear Highway Driving Conditions To Be Bad

Snow followed by rain, is running true to the weatherman's forecast. Very wet snow started to fall today about 10.30 a.m. Such conditions will require drivers to use caution was the opinion of men on the start as they started scraping sleet from the windshields of their parked cars.

Provincial police stated at noon that there were no adverse highway condition reports on their radio network from Bowmanville to Brighton and as far north as Minden. Since most truck transport driving is done at night, there will be no report on driving conditions from various firms until Wednesday.

Civic Employees' Accumulated Sick Leave Plan

Provision of accumulated sick leave for all civic employees will be considered by the committee of the whole as directed in a motion by Ald. Herbert Young on Monday night.

Previously a deputation from the Fire Fighters' Federation had asked for this concession in their revised agreement with the Council.

"I don't know whether you will get an answer tonight," said Mayor Swanston. "The opinion of the Council, I believe, is that if it is adopted it should be applied to all departments. We have been talking about it, but it may be two weeks or a month before we get around to it."

The members of the deputation were: Clarence Bennett, president; H. Black and Ed Hynes, with David Lowe of East York, vice-president of the Ontario Federation.

Ald. Young proposed that the Council might begin studying the accumulated sick leave plan. Council will probably get around to it after the tax rate has been determined.

"I have actually six months' leave built up," said Mr. Lowe, "and I want to keep it. I don't know the day when I might need all of it. There may be a few who would not take advantage of this plan, but I have observed that they are few. The sensible employees want the sick leave, because you never know when your turn might come."

Mr. Bennett said the old agreement with the Council provided six weeks' sick leave as compared with two weeks under the new terms. The preference was for accumulated sick leave as provided in the government service.

Board of Education has had an accumulated sick leave plan for five years.

Blaze In Garage Causes $50 Damage

Fire which started in a garage at the rear of the Grey and Bruce Savings Co. shortly after 11 p.m. on Monday ate through the wall and into the adjoining storehouse of Franks Furniture Store. Total damage was estimated at about $50.

The blaze is believed to have started in a pile of rubbish in the garage and had burned out part of the wall between it and the storeroom before it was discovered. Some burlap and other cloth material was damaged in the Franks' property.

Firemen extinguished the fire with a booster pump.

Exact cause of the outbreak is not known. Fire Chief George Smith investigated.

Hamilton Edges Kitchener 1-0 In 2nd Overtime

By The Canadian Press

Hamilton Tigers still play the best when the chips are down—even if it takes 82 minutes and 10 seconds of play to prove it.

Monday night veteran Bobby Laurent scored in the second overtime period and gave the Tigers a 1-0 win over the potent Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen. The win tied the best-of-seven semi-final series in the Ontario Hockey Association league at 2-2.

In another Senior A playoff tilt, Toronto Marlboros made it 3-0 in their best-of-seven series by defeating Owen Sound Mercury's 4-2.

In Hamilton, it was Laurent's backhand shot from the blue line that got past Marcel Pelletier. The little K-W netminder played a sensational game until the puck slipped through his legs.

At the other end, Art Childs turned in one of his best performances of the season. He earned his first shutout of series and third of the season.

While victory was sweet for the Tigers, they lost Frankie Liscombe, one of their best defensive players. Liscombe suffered a torn rib muscle early in the game. Officials fear he may be out for the season.

The Dutchmen also suffered a loss in rookie Harvey Jacklin, who came out of a scramble in the second period with torn back muscles.

Suggest Bentley Conacher Split

MONTREAL, Feb. 22 (CP) — If someone suggested to Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley that it would be a good idea to split the $1,000 booty that goes to the winner of the National Hockey League scoring crown, these sharpshooters probably would be agreeable.

These Chicago marksmen have outdistanced the field by a wide margin in the last two months, and official statistics released today show Conacher leading in points 59 to 58, with Detroit's Sid Abel running a poor third with 42.

The "share-the-wealth" plan is only natural, since Conacher and Bentley play on the same line together, and each helps the other rack up their impressive point total. Roy Conacher tops the goal-getters with 22 and Doug Bentley heads the assists column with 38.

Next in line after Abel is Chicago's Jim Conacher with 41 points, while another Chicago pair, Gus Bodnar and Bill Mosienko, are tied with Billy Reay with 39.

Suggest Alberta Share Its Coal

By The Canadian Press.

Prince Edward Island's Legislature opens today, the seventh Provincial Parliament to start its 1949 session.

The Liberal Government headed by Premier J. Walter Jones is expected to introduce measures modifying the island's labor act and lifting the ban on sale and manufacture of margarine while restricting its color to prevent imitation of butter. Premier Jones has predicted that sessional business will be mostly amendments to present legislation.

A suggestion that the Alberta government help make Alberta coal available to Ontario and Eastern Canadian markets was made yesterday in the Legislature at Edmonton by H. B. Macdonald, Independent member for Calgary. He said the coal should be made available to the east "under favorable Government regulations" and that the Federal Government could help by "freight subsidies or other means."

Appointment of a Canadian as Canada's Governor-General was urged by another Alberta House member, A. E. Fee, Social Crediter representing Sedgewick.

Oliver Demands Report Be Given

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP) — Farquhar Oliver said Monday night that failure of the Ontario Royal Commission on education to submit its report yet has given rise to speculation that "rights and privileges in the matter of education" may be altered.

The Ontario Liberal leader, in a CBC Ontario network free-time broadcast, called on Premier Kennedy to insist on the production of the commission's report at this session of the legislature.

He said the commission, appointed in 1945, had cost more than $105,000. There was no likelihood of the report being presented before the present session adjourned, he said.

Since the appointment of the commission there had been two general elections.

"I have gathered the impression in travelling the length and breadth of this province and talking to thousands . . . of citizens, that there are those who feel that the final recommendations of the commission may lead to a change in their rights and privileges in the matter of education . . . this circumstance . . . should no longer be permitted by the government."

Suspend Hamill, $250 Fine For Attack On Vic Lynn

DETROIT, Feb. 22 (CP) — It was a surprised Robert (Red) Hamill Monday who received a $250 fine and a one game suspension for his attack Sunday night at Chicago on Toronto Maple Leafs' Vic Lynn—according to the man who penalized the Black Hawk player.

President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said in an interview Monday night that Hamill said he was "in a complete daze" and had no "particular recollection of the attack" when questioned on the incident.

"The attack was wholly without explanation," said Campbell, in Detroit for Monday night's Red Wing-Boston Bruin game. Up to that game, Hamill had a wonderful penalty record, Campbell said.

Lynn and Hamill mixed along the boards in the second period. Lynn slumped to the ice with a six-inch scalp cut after his aggressor brought the blade and of his stick down on the Toronto player's head.

Get Marlie Player

TORONTO, Feb. 22 (CP) — The injury-riddled Toronto Maple Leafs will call up a player from Toronto Marlboro Seniors of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior League for their game this Saturday with Chicago Black Hawks.

This was announced Monday by Conny Smythe, president and managing director of the Leafs who said he had been unable to get Don McRae of Sydney Millionaires. McRae's team is in the thick of playoffs in Nova Scotia. Smythe said it would be decided later in the week which Marlboro player would get the call.

Rugged Bill Ezinicki, who played 248 consecutive professional games, suffered a strained knee Saturday night against the Bruins. He will be idle for some 10 days.

Harry Taylor, hard-playing right winger, will also be out for 10 days with strained knee ligaments suffered during the week-end play.

At Chicago, Vic Lynn went to hospital when he received a six-inch gash in his head from Red Hamill's stick. Lynn is expected to return to Toronto Friday. X-rays show there was no skull fracture, although this had been feared at first.

Howie Meeker, Lynn's wing mate on the line centred by Ted Kennedy, received a fractured foot Sunday and will be out for the rest of the season.

Movies Flourish On Casts Without Women

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 22 (AP)—Movies without women are flourishing in Hollywood these days.

This may be another sign of the film industry's economy drive, but I doubt it. It looks like a trend to a more realistic treatment of the war and other themes. At any rate, MGM starts "Operation Malaya" this week with Spencer Tracy, James Stewart and an all-male cast. And others are pending.

Wonder if actresses are worried?

Brilliant Colors Dominate Show

PARIS— (AP)— Style-setting Pierre Balmain, youngest and one of the most prominent French designers, showed a new silhouette when he launched his Spring fashions.

It had a definite 18th century flavor, with skirt fullness heavily massed at each side giving a puffed look to the hips.

He showed, however, a preponderance of straight lined skirts —but never so straight as to impede easy movements.

Balmain introduced a new way of acquiring the super-narrow look without making the wearer take mincing steps.

He takes a perfectly straight skirt, slit to the thigh at the back, and sets it over another straight skirt slit to the thigh in front.

Balmain uses candy striped and polka dotted taffeta and cotton and white pique to trim high necklines and cuffs, jacket and redingote linings and even for buttons.

Three brilliant colors—cherry red, Mediterranean blue and brilliant green—dominated the show.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: This is a double "S.O.S.". The first problem is doughnuts. Mine are just "good" but I want "super". I've tried three different recipes. They all say "roll out", but the recipe they give—using standard measurements—is just a batter! I've tried extra flour of course, but the quantity required is so very much more (cupfuls) that I feel something is out of kilter (probably me!) and if I don't add that much I have to drop them like fritters and the result while it tastes good looks more like crabs than doughnuts! The kind I'm seeking is not the bread dough type, but a crisp crust and a tender short inside.

I've purchased a deep fat frying thermometer, so no alibis for me there, and I've used—— —.Would lard be better? Is there a way to store them to retain the crisp crust?

Problem two—and it is a problem,—the storage and filing system for recipes. I just can't resist cutting out mouth-watering recipes—and in the twenty years of house-keeping I've literally thousands!' Clippings, sheets of magazines, booklets, 2 card files, 4 cook-books, etc. etc. Result is (except for books and files) I can't find any recipe—it takes longer to hunt it then to make it. I've tried half-heartedly several times to bring order out of chaos but my system breaks down when magazine pages are continued over several pages. and the opposite sides have other articles I want to keep—perhaps different recipes or articles of value.

Clippings are all sizes and shapes—many in several pieces (where continued). What way would you suggest that would be as time saving as possible, envelopes? boxes? How to list? How to identify individual recipes so that one out, they would easily be returned to their own special place. They are now spilling out of 3 cupboard drawers, and I want to compact them into 2 shelves in a narrow foot-wide cupboard.

But above everything else I want a system that's speedy for stowing away new recipes.

I know I'll keep on cutting out—and a system where I can instantly find any recipe I remember having cut out six months ago for that supper dish that used cornmeal pancakes, but I forget was it an American Home or Mary Moore (or if I did get a filing system working) is it under supper dishes—or pancakes— or special events—or Chili con carne or Mexico or "How to take out Stains" (Reverse side)—and the last 10 lines of it on that picture of the gorgeous table setting I might use sometime for a party!

Now please Mary Moore, now that you know what an organized mind I possess and how terribly unsystematic my methods are—well—is there any help?

Now I've really thought of another recipe I'd like to have—a recipe for corn muffins made with real corn flour, not cornmeal or cornstarch. Once — many, many years ago I once ate a corn muffin at the Hotel—in Welland that was as smooth as a white flour one. For some time afterward I experimented with corn meal. I soaked it—I used cornmeal porridge, etc. but it always turned out a corn meal muffin—good—but not "a la——."

Now recently I acquired some yellow cornflour, but it doesn possess the same thickening qualities as white flour, so my present muffin recipes are out. Would you by any chance possess—in your well-organized files—a recipe for a corn flour muffin that would be smooth as that never-to-be-forgotten quarter century ago corn muffin. My everlasting thanks and appreciation. E. M.

ANSWER: It occurs to me that I would like to taste some of the cooking that comes out of that kitchen—and I doubt that statement about "a disorganized mind and an unsystematic method". It is a very refreshing letter.

Since you are so positive that you will clip and cut for the rest of your life, do so—but if "continued" clippings do have other valued items on the back, sit down and copy them off onto your own filing cards when you do the clipping. Have a day in the month when you do this. Set a certain day each month and do it regardless of what invitations or obligation to your home you have—the washing will always get done somehow.

Next, number and name every clipping.

Then put them in large envelopes (about 4x11 or 12) and number and name that envelope. For instance if a dish is a supper dish and contains chicken, put the clipping under "'supper dishes"; also put a note in your chicken file with name and number of dish on it and refer to that name and number under "Supper Dishes". Needless to say, to get the speed you desire keep the recipes in numerical order too. They will be numbered like this: "Apples (1) Apple Crumb (7)" which interpreted means the recipe belongs in your file for apple dishes and that file is the first one in the drawer or cupboard, and the recipe is the 7th in the file or envelope.

In very small handwriting on front of each envelope make a list of contents in envelope in numerical order.

Keep your own file of envelopes in the foot-wide cupboard on shelves just deep enough to hold them, in alphabetical order.

At Christmas time I printed a noted about a recipe-file of envelopes made up like a book between two wooden covers, and held together with cords through holes in wooden covers and envelopes. Write to me if you would like to know where to buy this.

My last word this week is do not be a sissy like I am—throw away some of the recipes you are doubtful about using.

Watch next week for my recipes for doughnuts and corn muffins—I'll try some experiments on them over the week-end.

Home and School Association News

PCVS

Character training in the home as it affects the school and church was discussed by the Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon in an address to PCVS Home and School Association members Monday evening. "Character is the expression of personality in any situation. Anything one does is related to character" he defined.

A child's inheritance as it enters life is a body, a brain capable of development and a nervous temperament" he said. "The parent does everything to develop a child physically while the school develops him mentally, but his personality goes as it will." The speaker pointed out that parents are anxious for children to go to school and church to be drawn into a planned program. He felt that a planned program should be started in the early years in the home.

"Rules in the home will be changed as the child develops giving it liberties and adding to its responsibilities." Dr. Gordon warned the parents to treat their teen-age children as individuals—not as possessions. "Training of characters is centred in the home. A good school can do some things and the church does other things."

The wide gap in the outlook of a father and son of today is even greater than it was some years ago the speaker stated. "Due to much in the past ten years as the war, things have changed as they did from 1800 to 1900." He also spoke of the inconsistent attitude of some parents who will forbid a child some privilege one week and the next will urge him to have it. "The child needs to feel a sense of security and have parents deeply interested in his activities and problems" he said.

Dr. Gordon feels that some parents have too great a variety of interests outside the home and that children too often tend to develop too many activities out of their home. He also stressed that there should be an authoritative system in the home. "Home life alone can prevent bad habits being formed if the individual is surrounded with the best influences," he said. "Teen-agers will welcome help and guidance given sympahtetically."

The founding of Home and School was celebrated with a candlelighting service in which Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy, president, Mrs. J. Fanning, Mrs. A. G. Stock and Mrs. J. Wood took part. Mrs. A. W. Nelson, president of Home and School Council, spoke on the meaning of Home and School and of the founder, Mrs. Courtice. Miss Ruth Telford sang "My Task."

Refreshments served by the social convener included a birthday cake to honor the occasion.

DR. VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON, Arctic explorer and author, announced he was readying the final manuscripts of his "Encyclopedia Arctica," a 5,000,000-word volume on the land inside the Arctic Circle. He is shown here with his wife.

Ear Piercing Fad On the Come Back

VANCOUVER—(CP)—Holes in the head is big business with a Vancouver jeweler.

He's punched some 1,200 of them in the last two years but he calls it piercing.

The jeweler responsible for the holes in women's ear through which ear rings are worn says piercing is a fad on the come back. Ear rings with screws attached that don't need holes in the ear lobe have had an edge over the other type for some time.

Nor is the piercing confined to women, young or old, says the jeweler. Some men, mostly sailors, have had their lobes operated on and departed sporting gypsy-type ear-rings.

Main instruments in the second-long, operation are the thumb and forefinger with which all feeling is squeezed from the lobe. The jeweler says there isn't much feeling in the first place.

Deftly inserting a cork behind as a base, he sticks a gold piercer through the alcohol-swabed lobe and whacks off the needle tip of the 10-karat gold wire with pliers. A mock ear ring is attached to the wire and the patient waits for two weeks for the hole to heal while wearing the apparatus.

The jeweler says there isn't any blood involved in the procedure. The whole thing costs about $5 but there's a substantial refund when the mock ear-rings are returned.

And the holes, he says, never wear out. However, ear-rings should be worn continuously the first half-year to ensure the holes don't heal up again.

DOROTHY DIX

Can He Win Back Love After Years of Neglect

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have worked very hard trying to provide for my family and, while absorbed in doing this, have neglected to build a solid foundation of love and respect in my own home. Because I have been so busy I have not let my wife know how much I appreciated how faithfully she stood by me and how hard she worked, to help me make a success of my career. And the result of my neglect has been that warmth, affection and admiration that she once gave me has grown to a definite coldness.

Dorothy Dix

Can you tell me how to win back the love that she once had for me and that I have lost through my carelessness?

B. E. S.

ANSWER: Many other middle-aged husbands besides you, brother, have suddenly waked up to the realization that in trying to give their families luxuries they have starved them for necessities. For wives and kids do not flourish and grow fat on cake. It is love and companionship that are the bread of life to them, and if they do not get them they starve.

There is nothing more ironic than that so many men are failures as husbands because they are trying so hard to be good husbands. They are so busy giving their families fine cars and mink coats and expensive clothes that they have no time to give their wives and children sympathy and understanding and companionship.

Husband's Recipe

The other day a man, who had been through this bitter experience of losing the wife he loved because he used the wrong technique in trying to keep her, sent to this column the following recipe for reviving a wife's love. He says:

"To all husbands: Greetings! To begin with, if you really want your wife's love back, do something about it. Tell her how sorry you are to have caused her so much misery and ask for her forgiveness. Be a lover boy, regardless of age. Be lavish with your compliments. No woman is ever too old not to crave soft talk. Help her with whatever she is doing. Praise her cooking.

"Give her small gifts and think up ways of entertaining and amusing her. In a word, treat her as your Girl Friend, instead of just a wife. There is still some love left in her heart for you, or else she wouldn't live with you. I have had this same experience with a neglected wife and succeeded in winning her back, so why can't you?"

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband and I have been married 12 years and we have been very happy, except for one thing. It is that we live with his mother and are never alone. She is always Sally-on-the-spot, listening in on everything, monopolizing the conversation, telling us everything we should do and should not do. She is the last one to go to bed at night and the first to get up in the morning.

When we suggest that she should go to see a friend, or to the movies, she refuses. Says she doesn't care to go unless we go, too. She won't even go to church alone. If we have any privacy, we have to go out and walk the streets to get it. What can we do? Are all old people like this? I hate to hurt her feelings, but why doesn't she consider us now and then? It certainly gets on our nerves, for my husband and I have to leave home in order to be alone together. Can you help us?

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Old people are set in their ways and there is no way of changing them. They are also garrulous and there is no way to keep them from monopolizing the conversation. None of us crave to hear Grandma's oft-told tales, but let us not forget that if we live we, too, will be old and lonesome and long for companionship.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: Is there such a thing as not knowing whether or not you are in love? Although I am engaged to be married to a very nice young man, I still doubt whether we are really meant for each other or not What should I do?

MISS F

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Most of the unhappy marriages are the result of men and women not being able to tell whether they are really in love or not. They think they are because they have some sort of superficial attraction for each other; but when it comes down to the give and take of marriage, they find that they have nothing in common.

When you have the slightest doubt about your affections, the answer is that what you feel is not the grand passion, but just a passing fancy.

Sewage Plants To Cost $64,000

COBOURG, Feb. 22—(ENS)—Council last night voted to accept around $54,000 in tenders to cover the sewage pumping station and equipment, along with force main pipe, which will form part of the sewage disposal system. Heating tenders for the sewage disposal plant and electric tenders for both the pumping station and disposal plant to the amount of around $11,000 were also accepted for a total of in the neighborhood of $64,000. The tenders for the pumping station ranged from $18,000 to $103,000. Edward Proctor, consulting engineer, told the council that the lowest tender couldn't possibly meet the job and he said there must be a serious error in their figures in making out the tender. The extreme figure of $103,00 was just as wild. The following tenders were accepted.

Sanitary sewers, force main, pumping station, etc., to McFarland Construction Co., $39,176.30; electrical work at sewage disposal plant and sewage pumping station, Joyce and Sweanor, Port Hope, $5,772.00; heating installation at sewage disposal plant, K. S. Cooper, Cobourg, $5,567.00; force main pipe, 12-inch cast iron, National Iron Corp., Toronto, $10.290; pipes, National Iron Corp. $530.40; valves, Drummond McColl Co., Toronto, $421.10; pumps, Canadian Fairbanks Morse, Toronto, $2,568.00; meter, $1,000. Total $65,324.80.

Want Localities To Share In Expansion

TORONTO, Feb. 22 — (CP)— Reconsruction Minister Winters told the Toronto Board of Trade Monday night the government wants to see that each Canadian locality has a proper share in the country's growth as well as in expansion of housing and public facilities.

In a speech prepared for delivery, he outlined three principles of economic development, con-to see Canada develop on a continuing and gradually-expanding basis with each region participating "in accordance with the resources it has."

His new department had a three-fold objective. It hoped to co-operate with the other levels of government in timing governmental capital expenditures to avoid too severe fluctuations of investment.

Best Facilities

It would "provide the best possible facilities to encourage private individuals to build as many houses as are needed . . ." Even with the best efforts by private enterprise there would still be families unable to afford homes at economic rentals.

The government stood ready to discuss the best means of providing low-rental housing with any province "in an effort to work out satisfactory long-term arrangements among municipalities, provinces and the dominion."

Special efforts would be made "to develop particular industries, such as the tourist and the film industries."

The government felt that development could best be achieved "by encouraging private enterprise and creating through positive government measures a framework within which individual initiative thrives."

Change Titles For Sailors

OTTAWA, Feb. 22 — (CP). — Standardization has gone a long way in the services. It now has found expression in the way Canada's sailors will be addressed and dressed.

For instance, in addressing Canada's Navy, it is no longer "leading stoker," but "leading seaman," Naval Headquarters said to-day, in announcing a simplified and standard system of designating the ratings in the Navy.

From now on, all chief petty officers, first and second class, will be simply addressed as "chief petty officer."

A man previously addressed as "leading air radio mechanic" is now simply "leading seaman." A chief engine room artificer, first class, is now called "chief Petty officer."

Said the Navy in a statement: "Practice of referring to men by their trade or branch has been discontinued."

The new system of designations has been brought into effect at the same time is the RCN's new substantive structure.

The new substantive structure calls for an expansion of classes of ratings. Created were two new classes of chief petty officer and two of petty officer. It thus "broadened the opportunities for advance in the service," the Navy said.

Home, Church and School Three Essentials In Life

"Set forth from this Collegiate with your compass set right," was the advice of Dr. Sidney Smith, president of the University of Toronto, Monday to the pupils of the Collegiate. Dr. Smith spoke to the students at their senior assembly.

"I was brought up in Cape Breton along the Atlantic coast. We, as youngsters, heard and saw many adventures of the sea. Therefore we had in our minds the romances and tragedies of the sea. We read with deeper interest of the great stories of Hudson, Columbus, and Cabot than you, removed from the ocean."

Dr. Smith went on to say that in early history of man there were not many voyages made. He explained that the ships stayed close to the land in order not to get lost. They used the stars at night and the sun by day to chart their course. It was not until the discovery of the compass that man dared to start over the ocean

More Than Obeying Rules

"It is not sufficient to obey rules and regulations because all that, which is permitted, is not ours. You know that if even the rules are obeyed by students they are not always good sportsmen."

If he did abide by all the laws, both civil and criminal, Dr. Smith explained, that he could still fail to be a good citizen.

"No judge or magistrate can ascertain whether I have the characteristics of a good man, honest, sympathetic and chivalrous. There is only one person who can determine a person's character and that is himself. Nothing is better than being called a good sportsman."

As Dr. Smith entered the school he read the honor rolls in the corridor. He said it didn't take much imagination for students to believe themselves to be surrounded by a group of 91 boys and girls who died so that there might be peace.

"It teaches us a lesson to never forget and to learn more every day," he said.

"I ask this. Pray never become so smart, as students who are in university sometimes do, that you think you can do without these three things, the home, the church, and the school."

Dr. Smith was introduced by Morley Sparling and thanked by C. S. Browne, principal of the school, and the large applause of the students.

MILLBROOK, Feb. 22—(ENS)—The thought for study at the February meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Grace Presbyterian Church at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Moncrief on Thursday was Our Commission in the Island of Formosa. A paper on the agricultural life of the people was read by Mrs. Perkin and Mrs. S. E. Eakins spoke about the labors of the first missionaries there. The study closed with prayers by Mrs. Moncrief and Mrs. Thomas Skipp.

Mrs. Arthur Mulligan gave Gleanings from the Glad Tidings and by special request the report of 1948 activities was repeated by the secretary, Mrs. J. R. Thompson. It was decided to have lantern slides of the Formosa field at a public meeting to be held in the church on the evening of March 23.

Mrs. Eakins was appointed program convener for the Easter meeting in April, and plans were formed for the World Day of Prayer on March 4, when Grace Presbyterian Church Auxiliary will be hostess, with the other two church auxiliaries taking part in the program.

On Wednesday a quilting party will be held at the manse, in preparation for the annual bale. A discussion on the open Sunday which is being widely advocated, led to the secretary being instructed to send a protest to the authorities concerned in Toronto.

The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Armstrong in serving lunch. Mrs. A. J. Mulligan moved the vote of thanks to Mrs. Moncrief.

23 Million Buyers Purchased $11 Billions In Canada Bonds

"Borrowing and distributing of Victory Bonds in Canada during the last war was unsurpassed in any country," said A. E. Boothe, senior executive of Bell, Gouinlock & Co., Ltd., at Monday's Rotary luncheon. His topic was "Investing in Canada's Future."

Mr. Boothe said $11,000,000,000 was raised by 23,000,000 individual subscriptions, and Government today is reducing this debt at the rate of $500,000,000 a year. Other countries did not achieve such an enviable record.

Reviewing the years 1946, 1947, 1948 and 1949, Mr. Boothe named these years by Hopeful Optimism, Disillusionment, Making Patterns and Hopeful. He said 1949 should prove to be a much steadier year. The exports from Canada to the United States improved so that the American dollar situation is not of great concern. The trade from Canada in dollar value to the United States will be slightly higher in 1949.

Tribute to George Cox

"Peterborough is known as the "Cradle of Finance" for the Province of Ontario. The late Senator George Cox became agent for the Canada Life here and the surrounding territory. Soon he was selling more insurance than the rest of the company put together. He got control of the company by buying the company's stock. Moving the office from Hamilton to Toronto, the company began the largest financial interests in the province. Those interests embrace two life insurance companies, one chartered bank, three trust and loan companies and some fire insurance companies. Certain of these companies are quite partial to bonds of the City of Peterborough."

Mr. Boothe added that the names of the late E. R. Wood and the late George Morrow stand high in public regard.

An issue of $200,000 City of Peterborough 3¼% bonds were purchased by his company last June. The gross debt was then $89 per head, net debt of $46. The bonds were sold by the company in one day. They had two more orders for them after the bonds had been placed.

Finances Well Managed

"Your city's finances are ably managed. In 1934 there was a population of 22,800 in Peterborough and a debt per capita of $224 as against a population of about 34,000 with a debt per capita of only $89," he said.

"At the present time we seem to be on the threshold of a new and more dynamic period in our development. No doubt that period will bring its problems, but undoubtedly it will bring its opportunities."

Gerald Stenton introduced Mr. Boothe who was thanked by Hugh Waddell.

Guests introduced by Sidney Black were Wallace Bunton, Toronto; Kenneth Currie, Minden; S. D. Mackey, Norman Wilkes, Ted Loveday, Hugh Hutchison and Jack McTavish, all of Peterborough.

The Rev. Dr. James Semple, George St. United Church, spoke briefly on Brotherhood Week, urging the Rotarians to look upon people not as from various nations but as from one.

Charles Allen and the Rotary Glee Club led the club in a short sing-song.

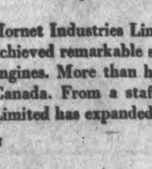
New Names in the NORTH

THERE'S new activity in Ontario's bushland north of Lake Superior. Marathon and Red Rock, Terrace and Heron Bay: they all tell the same story. New towns have arisen, old ones expanded. Only five years ago on the site of Marathon, for example, there was nothing but bush; today a new community beside a new pulp mill is contributing millions to Canada's export trade.

Such spectacular developments in the north are matched by continuing industrial expansion in the older established communities. Throughout Canada today ever-widening avenues of opportunity await the enterprise of young Canadians.

With newsprint production 50% above prewar levels, Canada today has an output five times that of any other country, and accounts for three out of every five newspaper pages in the world.



"Canada is a land of opportunity..."
There is a field for almost anything one can think of, and anyone with a willingness for hard work has a good chance to achieve success", says Donald J. Smith, President of Hornet Industries Limited, Guelph, Ontario.

Hornet Industries Limited, which was founded in 1945, has in this short time achieved remarkable success in the manufacture of chain saws and combustion engines. More than half the production of the plant reaches markets outside Canada. From a staff of only a half dozen men in 1945, Hornet Industries Limited has expanded to three plants in Guelph, employing 296 workers.

Jewel Thief Partner Of Professor

Lured College Teacher Into Crime While At War Plant

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP)—A Toronto college professor was driven to crime by Gerrard Dennis, self-confessed society burglar, detectives said today.

Police did not reveal the name of the professor. They said only that he taught in a suburban college and was the son of a London, Ont., clergyman.

They said Dennis urged the professor to break into homes in Rosedale, swank Toronto residential district.

Dennis now is being held by police in White Plains, N.Y., where he confessed to jewel thefts of $600,000. He was arrested last week in Cleveland.

On Probation

Police said the professor was put on probation after he was arrested and confessed to the break-ins.

They added that Dennis had received sentences of nearly six years for Canadian crimes between 1936 and 1943.

Police said they kept the role of the professor quiet for many years because of his father's illness.

They said Dennis was known as "lover boy" by the girls in the Toronto factory where he once worked. It was in this factory that he met the professor who was doing summer war work.

Here, too, he met Eleanor Farrell, who told New York newspapermen yesterday she had lived with Dennis for several years.

Police said they picked up Dennis in 1943 and he was sentenced to two years less a day for abortion and housebreaking. He escaped from Burwash Reformatory within a month.

Says Communists Chased Them Out

MONTREAL, Feb. 23 (CP). — Mrs. Michel-Lucien Seigneur, wife of a 45-year-old French physician said to have been a Nazi collaborator, said to-day she and her husband were "chased out of France by the Communists."

Dr. Seigneur's name came up in the House of Commons Tuesday night at Ottawa as a sixth Frenchman given haven in Canada.

"We had to obey the Marshal (Marshal Petain). This was our only crime. That is a crime the Communists don't forgive."

"Here is the truth: We lived in Verrieres, 15 miles from Poitiers. My husband was a doctor, visiting his patients in about seven communities in the area.

"The Communnst group was very active in Poitiers and in the Department of Vienne. We were quickly denounced.

"Abbe Boiteal, parish priest of Verrieres now dead, knowing my husband and family were endangered by proximity to the Communists, advised us to leave this small French centre. That is what we did.

"Two days later we learned from friends that our house had been pillaged and laid waste. Then for three long years it was our plight to travel about France —always on the move. One day we found new hope. We had decided by then to go to Canada."

Threaten To Oust Premier Sun Fo

NANKING, Feb. 23 — (AP)— A group of China's legislators today threatened to oust Premier Sun Fo.

Sun and the cabinet fled to Canton last month. Some legislators want the Premier and cabinet back here.

The Premier, so far, has refused to return.

Irate legislators want to investigate financial transactions of Sun and cabinet members. The Control Yuan, which has impeachment powers, may investigate, too.

Egypt, Israel To Sign Armistice Pact

RHODES, Feb. 23.—(CP).—An armistice agreement between Egypt and Israel will be signed tomorrow, it was officially announced today.

Egyptian approval of the agreement was disclosed earlier.

Tonight a dinner is scheduled to celebrate the agreement.

Egypt's negotiators, who hammered out the terms of the armistice with an Israeli delegation in 42 days of talks, returned to this island today from Cairo with their government's answer to the armistice proposal.

The armistice agreement, which the Jewish cabinet at Tel Aviv already has accepted, provides for demilitarization of all Egyptian-held Palestine, it was authoritatively reported.

The demilitarized zone of the Egyptian side of the border extends to, but does not include, El Arish, the big Egyptian military camp on the coast 30 miles inside Egypt.

The demilitarization line runs through but does not include Beersheda, the strategic Arab town in the southern part of the Negev desert which the Jews captured last October. The town is just south of that part of the Negev allotted to the Jews under the United Nations Assembly's partition resolution of November, 1947.

The Jews will be allowed to maintain forces in Beersheba.

Believe Russia Has Secret Of Nazi Liquid Death Spray

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Feb. 23—(AP).—Russia possibly has the secret of a Nazi-developed "liquid death spray," potent enough to wipe out whole divisions of men in the open, says an American officer who helped destroy the weapon. But Germany didn't use the spray, and Russia probably wouldn't for the same reason—it contaminates the area for too long a period—in the opinion of Maj. James M. Graham, a United States army engineer.

The two German scientists who formulated the spray were in Berlin when the Russians took over and more than likely were taken in hand by the Soviets, Graham says.

Whether chemical analysis of the liquid by its American captors yielded the secret, Graham did not know.

Graham had charge of disposing of the spray, named Tabun after the names of its two inventors.

Find Hidden Stocks

Hidden stocks of Tabun—125,000 tons of it—were found by American intelligence officers in Bavarian caves. Engineers built huge fires in pits to destroy the liquid. They poured it over the coals. Tabun didn't burn, but the heat broke it down and rendered it harmless.

Graham described Tabun as a nerve poison, not unlike snake venom in its effect—only quicker. A spot of it the size of a dime dropped on the skin would kill a man in two minutes unless wiped

Berlin Airlift Equals Railways

BERLIN, Feb. 23—(AP)—U. S. and British planes roared into Berlin at 90-second intervals Tuesday with an airlift record.

In a 24-hour period ended at noon, the big sky freighters carried almost as much food and fuel to the city as it used to receive by train before the Russian blockade.

The record was 7,513 tons, 526 tons better than the previous high set Sept. 18.

Officials estimated that before the Russians clamped on the blockade eight months freight trains used to haul about 9,000 tons a day for the supply of Berlin.

The record was set on the eve of Red Army Day.

Reports that lacked official confirmation said the Russians planned to observe Red Army Day with a ceremony at their colossal war memorial in the Tiergarten.

The monument, guarded day and night by Soviet sentries, lies a few hundred yards inside the British sector of the city. Angry Germans stoned it last summer, touching off the bloodiest street riots of the blockade crisis.

Work In Secret Labs Makes Norway Big Atomic Power

OSLO, Feb. 23 (AP) — Behind Russia's burning desire to keep Norway isolated from the west is a hush-hush fact: Norway is an atomic power.

An atomic pile—the apparatus which stores up power from nuclear fission—is already in existence in a secret Norwegian laboratory.

Heavy water, an essential in atomic research, is being produced in greater quantities than even at the Norsk Hydro Works in the wild and beautiful mountain fastnesses of Southern Norway.

Uranium is being mined in central Norway. More than one Norwegian city has a cyclotron.

Soviet counter-intelligence is cognizant of these facts. Communists fail to disguise their hunger for scraps of information. Soviet Ambassador S. A. Afanasiev is understood to be ready to welcome any Norwegian scientist who wishes to call. None have.

As near as a foreign layman can ascertain, the Norwegians are not toying with A-bombs. Their research is concentrated on ways and means of using atomic energy for peace. But even in this field, Russia is insatiably curious.

In nuclear fission, either heavy water or graphite is necessary. The United States is reported to depend on graphite. The world's largest producer of heavy water is Norway, although some is made in Canada at Chalk River, Ont.

Norsk Hydro, one of the world's largest electric-power centres, discovered in the 1930s that heavy water could be a small but mighty by-product of Norsk Hydro production.

Because of a French financial interest in this Norwegian Company, French scientists like Joliet-Curie had the inside track to heavy water. Germany wanted it, too. Since 1945, ownership is entirely Norwegian.

Merchant In London Lays Claim To Mingan

LONDON, Feb. 23—(Reuters)—Joseph Salzedo, 63-year-old London biscuit merchant, said Tuesday he has instructed his lawyers to file claim to the rugged territory of Mingan, on the north shore of the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

He says if his claim to the 900-square-mile territory is established in court, he will make gifts of £25,000,000 ($100,000,000) each to Britain and Israel.

The heavily wooded territory lies along a 150-mile stretch of the gulf, north of Anticosti island. It is six miles in depth. The territory, known as the Seigniory de Mingan, was a present from the King of France to one of his colonizers 228 years ago.

At Montreal, William Dobell, Canadian representative of Martin's Bank in Canada, Tuesday night denied Salzedo owns the rugged territory of Mingan.

Seek Support Of Consumer Food Demand

Appealing To Ottawa To Boost Exchange Of Goods, Services

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 — (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Agriculture today expressed fears of possible depression and asked the government to consider plans for supporting consumer food demand and for establishing floor prices under farm products.

"We feel," the farmers' organization said in a brief prepared for presentation to the cabinet, "that if the economic system in the immediate future functions as in the past, without any attempts to control its more violent fluctuations, the farmers along with other groups will suffer severely, as they did in the deflation of 1920 and the prolonged depression of the 1930's."

In addition, loans and grants to Europe would likely cease in a few years and unless international trade returned to a broad multi-lateral basis, Canada would face an impossible situation with her surplus exports, particularly food products.

Farmers realized that stability of their industry is dependent on a maximum exchange of goods and services among all countries and they appealed to the government to exert every effort to achieve this end.

Pending this achievement, the C.F.A. suggested the government consider the possibility of negotiating further bi-lateral commodity trade agreements "and that the practicability of barter agreements be fully explored."

As a means of reducing instability in consumer demand for food, the C.F.A. recommended that the government study ways of maintaining this demand.

"We particularly recommend a study of the proposed American national food allotment program as a means of maintaining the food-buying power of families with low incomes," the brief said.

The C.F.A. declares its willingness to work with the government in seeking a floor-price program. A suggestion was that the price formula be based on the index of the cost of things that farmers buy.

The CFA also listed recommendations, many of which were passed as resolutions at its recent Saskatoon convention or forwarded by the Dairy Farmers of Canada.

In conclusion the brief said adoption of the recommendations would go a long way in offsetting the "imminent danger of severe deflation and a probable breakdown in international trade.

"In the past 35 years," it said, "agriculture has only enjoyed three brief periods of prosperity, during World War One, 1925 to 1929 and since 1944. On balance over the years the scales have tipped in favor of urban people. Our present brief period of equality for Canadian agriculture is threatened by international complications of trade and currencies."

West Declines Red Invitation

BERLIN, Feb. 23—(Reuters).—Western military governors in Germany were "unable to attend" today's Berlin celebrations of the Red Army's 31st anniversary, marked throughout the Soviet Union and eastern Europe by the traditional parades and demonstrations.

Top-ranking American, British and French commanders have received invitations to a reception this evening at the residence of the Soviet military governor, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky. However, the three western military governors will be represented by deputies.

West-sector Berlin police riot squads stood by this morning near the Soviet war memorial just inside the British sector, ready to prevent possible incidents.

A British spokesman said the Russians had not told British authorities that they would parade into their sector today, but no protest would be made since it is an established custom for Soviet soldiers to parade at the memorial.

Dies From Wound

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 23 — (CP).—Dr. W. D. Baskette, Woodstock veterinarian with the Dominion Department of Agriculture health of animals branch here, died in Woodstock General Hospital today. Dr. Baskette was wounded in the abdomen on Christmas Eve. A wounding charge was laid against his 14-year-old son following the incident.

Power Shortage Drew's Fault Houck Charges

TORONTO, Feb. 23—(CP).—W. L. Houck, Liberal Hydro critic in the Ontario Legislature, today laid blame for the recent Hydro-Electric power shortage at the door of former Premier George Drew.

If Mr. Drew had "done his level best" to get priorities for materials to be used in construction of the Des Joachim development on the Upper Ottawa River and had not "interfered" with former Hydro Commission chairman Thomas Hogg "we would not have been in the predicament we found ourselves in last year."

Mr. Houck, member for Niagara Falls and a former Hydro commissioner, said: "As far as the Hydro is concerned, Mr. Drew was not only the leader of the Hydro band but he played every instrument in it himself."

Mr. Houck held "no animosity whatever" for the Hydro commissioners or engineers who were doing an efficient job.

Do-Nothing Policy

Blame for the recent shortage could be attributed to Mr. Drew's "do-nothing, wait-and-see" policy from 1943 to 1945. Since that time, from 1946 on, the Hydro Commission had been doing "a splendid job."

Mr. Houck suggested Hydro development could be improved by an attempt to "keep Hydro free from politics" by enlarging the Commission from three to five members — two to be appointed by Hydro municipalities, and one to be designated as Labor representative. The Labor commissioner would be selected from a panel submitted by unions.

A survey should be made to determine the future relationship of "the great Hydro enterprise" to the Ontario Government. Hydro was becoming so large it was "overshadowing" the Government.

Research facilities of the Hydro should be "greatly expanded." "A definite undertaking should be taken jointly between the Hydro Electric Power Commission and the Federal atomic authorities to attempt to generate electric power by atomic energy."

Terrorizes District With Fires, Assault

TORONTO, Feb 23 — (CP).— A "peeping tom," who residents say has terrorized the nearby Wilcox Lake district since early winter, made another appearance last night and escaped after assaulting Earl Seguin, 27, in a running battle. Seguin, found unconscious in the snow, said he nearly captured the intruder.

Residents believe the peeper is the same man believed to have started three fires on a Wilcox Lake farm, causing an estimated $17,000 damage.

TLC Asks Unions Clean Out Reds From Office, Or Acting As Delegates

Will Discuss Whole Situation At Early Date With International Officials; Preparing Reply To AFL Over Miami Brief

OTTAWA, Feb. 23—(CP).—All affiliated organizations of the Trades and Labor Congress will be advised by the executive council to bar Communists from holding union office. The council said in a statement last night it has unanimously decided to send circulars to its affiliates to guard against any known Red holding: an elected post as representative or administrative officer of local unions; or position as delegate to Trades and Labor Councils, provincial organizations or conventions of the Congress.

If the new anti-Red doctrine of the TLC is followed, it will mean that Communists will be cleared eventually from all executive positions in the Congress.

The decision of the executive council was made public after a closed two-day meeting to consider charges of the American Federation of Labor concerning Communism within union ranks.

The A.F.L.'s executive council admonished the T.L.C. at a meeting in Miami not to compromise with Communists in the Canadian organization. The T.L.C., although autonomous, has close A.F.L. ties.

Some Weaknesses

The council said last night it realized that such a democratic institution as the T.L.C., founded 65 years ago, "has some weaknesses when confronted with the strategy of Communists who are prepared to use the established freedoms of democracy in order to bring about chaos and the destruction of democracy."

The TLC will discuss the whole situation "at an early date" with all ranking Canadian officers of affiliated international unions having membership in Canada.

At the same time it was preparing a reply to the A.F.L. to a brief submitted at the Miami meeting which contained "voluminous documentary and oral testimony submitted by some Canadian officers of A.F.L. affiliates in Canada, a great deal of which was not in accordance with the facts."

This apparently was a reference to Frank Hall who was suspended by the T.L.C. for trying to force the Canadian Seamen's Union (T.L.C.) off the Great Lakes by bringing about a merger of the Canadian Lake Seamen's Union with the A.F.L.-affiliated Seafarers' International Union.

Hall, Canadian leader of Railway Brotherhoods affiliated with the A.F.L., contended the C.S.U. was Communist-dominated.

12 Of Crew Missing

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 23 — (Ruters). — Twelve of the crew of 14 were missing to-day from the 540-ton Australian coastal vessel Bombo, which capsized last night in heavy seas 30 miles from Sydney. One of the survivors said that after being hove to in heavy seas, the ship developed a heavy list and the captain decided to run for port. The vessel had gone only a few miles when the list increased and the ship turned over and sank.

Use Jet Bombers Very Soon Britain Reveals

LONDON, Feb. 23—(Reuters)—Britain is rushing to put her first jet bombers in the skies, Air Minister Arthur Henderson said today in a memorandum accompanying air estimates for 1949-50.

The estimates showed that though Britain will have 70,000 fewer airmen and airwomen in the coming year the RAF will cost £207,450,000—£34,450,000 more than the previous year.

The increase, Henderson explained, is due to measures taken or to be taken to strengthen the air force in aircraft and equipment. Increases in prices and improvements in pay and allowance also helped to boost it.

Publication of the air estimates today now makes it clear that Britain plans to spend a total of £788,800,000 on her three services —sea, land and air—in the coming year. This includes the supplementary estimates for all three.

Henderson said in his memorandum that "steps are being taken in collaboration with the air forces of France, Belgium and Holland to ould up our joint defences against air attack, using common types of equipment and a common operational procedure.

Confidence Vote Tied In Helsinki

LONDON, Feb. 23 — (Reuters) —Finland's Social-Democrat government had a close call today on two votes-of-confidence, but came out the victor after they held a two-vote margin in the second ballotting.

The Helsinki radio reported that the government won a 97 to 96 vote on the first confidence motion but that a recount showed the vote to be 97 to 97. This tied count, the Finnish radio said, meant the government would fail.

However, a short time later, a second vote of confidence was taken with the government coming out ahead 97 to 95.

Czechs Planning New Army Purge

PRAGUE, Feb. 23 — (AP). — At least 28 generals of the Czechoslovak Army were engaged in a plot to overthrow the government, it was stated here to-day.

The statement of Gen. Alois Hlozek, made in Parliament yesterday during discussion of a bill for a new purge of suspected reserve officers, was carried in some detail in the newspaper Lidove Noviny.

Hlozek charged that Gen. Heliodor Pika, who was sent to Moscow to help form the Czechoslovak legions in Russia, and who now is awaiting decision of an appeal against a death sentence as a traitor, wanted to throw the Czechoslovak units in the west against Russia, with Finland as the battleground.

He also named Gen. Karel Kutlvasr and Gen. Rajmond Mrazek as plotters. Mrazek recently was sentenced to life imprisonment on an espionage charge. Kutlvasr's trial was mysteriously postponed last week.

Hlozek's statement was the first confirmation from an official source of the arrest of a large numbers of officers.

Fenelon Woman Denies Knowing Jewels In Closet

BEVERLEY HILLS, Feb. 23—(CP)— Betty Ritchie, 24-year-old Canadian from Fenelon Falls, arrested in the apartment of Gerard Dennis here last week, Tuesday told questioning police she had no knowledge of what was in the closet of the apartment.

While Dennis, 28-year-old Canadian, underwent questioning at White Plains, N. Y., by police of many cities concerning burglaries he is alleged to have committed, Miss Ritchie was asked here about his activities.

She has been charged with receiving stolen goods.

Detective Captain W. W. White quoted Miss Ritchie, as saying "I was naturally curious (about the contents of the closet.)

"But every time I asked Jerry (Dennis), he tell me in a nice way to mind my own business. I never looked. I wouldn't even look in anyone else's pockets."

The locked closet yielded gems and jewels valued at thousands of dollars. The attractive Miss Ritchie, a former Toronto school teacher, had $200 on her person when she was taken into custody but she told officers she received little spending money from Dennis.

White said she expressed a wish she was back in Canada, but he added she would be glad to be anywhere away from Beverly Hills now. Depending on the disposition of her case, he said that immigration authorities eventually will see that she is returned to Canada as a non-citizen of the United States.

Canadian Diplomatic Group Will Investigate Facts Of Mindszenty Trial

Charge d'Affaires In Prague Is Ordered To Ask For Travel Visas To Stage Inquiry Behind 'Iron Curtain'

OTTAWA, Feb. 23—(CP).—Facts concerning the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and of other prosecutions of religious leaders in that country and Romania will be sought through a Canadian diplomatic mission. Prime Minister St. Laurent made this announcement in the Commons Tuesday. He said the Canadian Charge d'Affaires in Prague had been instructed to ask for visas for travel in Hungary and Romania to learn the truth about reported persecutions.

Canada assumes this right as a signatory to the treaties of peace with those countries — treaties which provide that citizens will be undisturbed in their civil and religious rights.

Some officials here believe it unlikely the visas will be granted.

The Prime Minister strongly condemned religious persecution anywhere, but said he feared it would continue.

Can't Get Joint Action

The fact that Russia, also a signatory to the peace treaties, "not only supports but encourages" hostility to religion, made it impossible to get joint action against the countries concerned, he said.

What has been reported from Eastern Europe "are horrifying incidents in what appears to be a grand design, a calculated policy of persecution aimed not perhaps to an immediate extermination of the Christian communions but at their ultimate subjugation and servitude," the Prime Minister declared.

R. M. Macdonnell, 40-year-old native of Vernon, B.C., who has been in External Affairs since 1935 with service in Washington, Ottawa and Moscow, is the official in charge of the Canadian Mission in Czechoslovakia.

With respect to Bulgaria, the Prime Minister said:

"In any joint action that may be considered advisable this country would find no difficulty in associating itself with such action. He sounded a word of warning to those who might expect more from Canada's interest in these matters than may be accomplished.

Motion Defers Reading Of Confederation Bill

LONDON, Feb. 23—(CP)—A motion to defer second reading of the British North America Bill to approve the union of Canada and Newfoundland was tabled today in the House of Commons by 13 members of various parties.

The bill was introduced yesterday by Philip Noel Baker, Secretary for Commonwealth Relations, and given formal first reading. Date for debate on the second reading is still undecided.

Today's motion asks that second reading of the bill be deferred pending the hearing of an appeal to the Privy Council by a group of Newfoundlanders who claim the procedure preliminary to introduction of the British North America Bill was unconstitutional.

Golds Slip Steadily On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 23—(CP).—Golds slipped steadily in moderately active trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. A few industrials showed a brighter tone in early dealings but tended lower toward mid-session and base metals also slipped. Western oils climbed steadily to go against the downward trend.

The Exchange's volume for the first three hours was 520,000 shares, about 206,000 shares more than yesterday's similar period.

Consolidated Astoria featured the comparatively dull board, turning over some 150,000 shares in three hours at a gain of six cents.

The gold list dipped as senior and junior producers showed losses. A few seniors opened fractionally higher but dipped into minus territory.

Industrials moved on a steadier note in early dealings but key issues soon lost their gains and dipped into easier ground. Refining oils weakened and liquors were down.

Hydro Policies Under Fire In Legislature

TORONTO, FEB. 23—(CP)—The Progressive Conservative Government's Hydro-electric policy will be raked over the coals today by Liberal Hydro critic W. L. Houck when the Niagara Falls, Ont., Mayor resumes his address in the Ontario Legislature.

Mr. Houck spoke briefly yesterday and then moved adjournment of the throne speech debate until today. Other members speaking yesterday were William Dennison (CCF-St. David), CCF Hydro critic, and C. W. Cox (Lib.-Fort William).

Mr. Dennison's criticism of Hydro development brought a continuous crossfire from government front benches. The CCF critic charged Progressive Conservative members in 1943 had repeatedly voted to delay consideration of the Ottawa River Powers Act. Present Hydro shortages were "directly traceable" to political interference in Hydro affairs.

Former Premier George Ferguson in 1926 had sold Hydro down the river in a 30-year deal with Gatineau Power Company, said Mr. Dennison and "against the advice of his engineers, gave away the great Abitibi canyon site without a cent of down payment." The same process was carried out at the Beauharnois and McLaren developments where the Commission paid $15 per horsepower it could have bought for $10. An investigation prompted by CCF members of the Federal House had revealed that the Beauharnois Company had given $700,000 in campaign funds to the Liberals and $125,000 to the Conservatives.

Small Committee

Mr. Cox asked the Ontario Legislature to appoint "a small committee" to visit Northern Ontario and study its natural resources.

He asked that a road be built from the Steep Rock ore development to connect with a trans-Canada highway.

In the last year 1,000,000 tons of ore had been shipped out and shipments would be "greatly increased" next year.

If the "wholesale slaughter" of wildlife continued it would be "only a matter of time" until there was no wildlife left in Northern Ontario.

He asked for an increase in wolf bounties.

A committee of the house visiting Northern Ontario would see some of the government's "mistakes."

Labor Rejects Snap Election

LONDON, Feb. 23 (Reuters)—Conservative newspaper speculation here suggesting a "snap" general election in the spring or autumn was discredited today by informed Labor quarters.

The general belief in Britain is that the government will run its full term until the middle of next year.

None of the speculation takes account of the major considerations which will determine the time of the general election.

First of these is that, by general reckoning, Labor's position in the country will be stronger a year hence than it is today.

Cadogan Takes First Holiday In 3 Years

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 23 (CP)—Sir Alexander Cadogan, Britain's permanent delegates to the United Nations, leaves this week on his first holiday in three years.

Sir Alexander, 64, is the only member of the Security Council who was a delegate to the meetings of the old League of Nations in Geneva.

His long career in top posts has fitted the Oxford graduate for the title many observers give him—the most polished diplomat at the Security Council's table. His aides have expressed amazement at the speed with which he can obtain the essentials from a wordy report.

Tabun has such a faint odor it can hardly be detected. The experienced nose can detect a slight fruity smell. In appearance it looks something like crank-case oil.

The liquid was a military secret until about six months ago when some information about it leaked out. About 1,000 tons of it was saved from destruction, shipped to Aberdeen, Md., under the label "chlorine," Graham reported. But dock workers failed to smell chlorine in the shipment and refused to handle it. Special crews had to be used for the job.

6th Collaborator In Canada, Demands Inquiry

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP) —The government was given a verbal spanking in the Commons Tuesday for granting a haven to French immigrants, condemned by their own countrymen for actively assisting Nazi forces during the Second World War.

Alistair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre), a man who frequently condemns anti-semitism and racial intolerance, revived the recent furore created over the presence of five alleged French collaborators in Canada. He also disclosed that a sixth alleged collaborator has been living in Montreal for two or three years.

Mr. Stewart named the sixth as Michael Lucien Seigneur, a 42-year-old French physician said to have served with a Nazi S.S. unit in France and sentenced to death by the Court of Justice of Poitiers.

Plan Investigation

Mr. MacKinnon, responsible for immigration, told Mr. Stewart that information about Seigneur had reached the department "very recently" and further investigation was under way.

Mr. Stewart named Dr. Georges Benoit Montel, Dr. Andre Charles Boussat, Julien Labedan and Jean Louis Huc as four of the alleged collaborators who were granted permission by the government to remain in Canada after they had entered the country on false passports.

All were wanted or were under sentence for wartime crimes in France.

He also named Count Jacques Duge de Bernonville, who Tuesday was successful in having deportation proceeding quashed in a Montreal court.

Mr. Stewart asked the government to investigate other immigrants and the movements of immigrants.

Underground Railway?

"Is it possible, I wonder, that we have an underground railway into Canada by means of which these collaborators are being smuggled into this country?" he asked.

"It is time the country knew how this is done."

He said one Jean Bonnel of Montreal was quoted as saying that there were at least 20 French immigrants in Montreal, most of whom had gained entry to Canada on false passports. He believed that Bonnel still is a French citizen and he asked that his status be checked.

He also asked a check on one Karol Murin, former secretary of one of Hitler's puppets in Czechoslovakia, who came to Canada last September and recently was in Winnipeg.

Hush-Hush Bill Rewards Aliens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 (AP) —A hush-hush bill to let the United States reward aliens who help its spies abroad was set for swift approval today by a Congressional committee.

The armed services committee of the House of Representatives was scheduled to approve a measure which would grant residence in the United States every year to 100 persons who have given valuable information to agents of the United States central intelligence agency in foreign countries.

The committee also was to consider bills to authorize a 3,000-mile guided-missile test range for the armed forces, and start work on a radar screen to guard the country's strategic air approaches.

The intelligence agency bill would waive all admissibility laws for people considered eligible by the C.I.A. for sanctuary in the United States. They would be granted permanent residence, and could apply for citizenship.

Among other restrictions, the bill would waive any ban on persons who are or have been Communists, and on those having certain diseases.

Intelligence agency officials are reported as saying that the aim of the bill is to attract renegade Communists who may have important information about countries and governments behind the "iron curtain."

Church Squeeze Carried On By Time-Table

GENEVA, Feb. 23 — (AP). — The throttling of church influence in the "Iron Curtain" countries is moving with the precision of a time-table, Western church officials here said to-day.

Some churchmen who have maintained contacts in Eastern Europe say the whole pattern is rigid, planned and executed that it appears to have been dictated by a central authority, possibly the Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

They say the whole structure of church and religious life in Eastern Europe is being altered by Communnst pressure.

The sentencing of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary to life imprisonment and the forthcoming trial of 15 Protestant leaders of Bulgaria are only the headline developments in this burrowing into the foundations of established religious life, according to these informants.

"Espionage Action"

All this is being done under the guise of action against "espionage" and "reactionary" centres.

The process is most advanced in Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. But it is not far behind in Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Churchmen here who have had direct contact and correspondence with Eastern Europe's religious leaders say the campaign follows these rigid rules:

1—Churches are not persecuted openly as in the early days of the Russian revolution.

2—Influence of the church on public life must be eliminated; the church must be brought under government control.

3—Any vital, personal religious opposition must be eliminated by getting rid of the responsible church leaders on civil or moral charges.

4—The backbone of the church must be broken either by separating it from the state and state funds, by offering a church subsidy and thus freeing the people of responsibility for supporting the church, or by seizure of the church properties through "land reform," thus depriving the church of revenues.

Lindsay Man Quits Railroad After 47 Years

LINDSAY, Feb. 23 — A life's work of 47 years of railroad service will be brought to an end when Pat Garvey of 84 Durham St., Lindsay, retires from the CNR in March.

Mr. Garvey started out in 1902, when the railroad was called the Grand Trunk Railway, as station baggageman at Campbellford, where he was born. He stayed there for three years, working 12 hours a day, seven days a week, at $1.25 a day. He started braking in Lindsay in 1905 at $1.40 a day and was promoted to conductor in 1908 and has been at it ever since.

Says Mr. Garvey, "I've enjoyed every minute of the 47 years and have served under some good superintendents. I'll be 65 on March 18 and then I'm going to have a long rest. I sleep and eat well and that's a big thing."

Recalling the "good old days," Mr. Garvey said that he used to pay $3 a week for board which included washing and he often had a little left over to spend.

"There have been an awful lot of changes in Lindsay since those days but Clive Dayman is still working with us, and so is Fred Varcoe. Both of them were there when I started," he says.

Youths Escape From Farmers

COBOURG, Feb. 23—(ENS)—Arrested Monday night near Newcastle, Garfield Parr, age 19 and John Petrie, age 21, both of Nova Scotia, were remanded in custody yesterday on a charge of vagrancy which police say may be increased to breaking and entering. The two men were arrested by Chief Fred Wight of Newcastle and Provincial Constable Llye Erskine of Cobourg as they were walking along the highway near Newcastle.

Chief Wight said that earlier he had receive a call to a tourist camp where two men had broken into a cabin. Arriving he found six or seven farmers, armed with sticks and clubs, clustered around the front of one of the cabins. He discovered the door barricaded by a chair inside and when he forced his way in he found that the occupants had escaped via back window.

Chief Wight explained that the farmers had followed the two because they were afraid of repercussions after the pair had been refused shelter for the night in barns owned by the farmers. When they saw them break into the cabin they called the police. Apparently the men were afraid of the guards at the front and ducked out the back window.

Hungary Declares Cardinal Converted

BUDAPEST, Feb. 23 —(AP)—The Hungarian government yesterday said Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty had urged a reconciliation of the Roman Catholic Church and Hungary's Communist-led government.

The letter, addressed to Archbishop Frosz of Kalocsa, as acting head of the bench of bishops, said:

"Though we chose a fight instead of a reconciliation previously, I would like to support the case of peace at last now."

(The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, commenting on the reported letter, said Tuesday: "We believe in the words and the writings of a free man, not a prisoner.")

Norway Eschews Neutrality

The Norwegian Government with strong support from the people has announced that Norway will be party to the North Atlantic alliance, the terms of which are now being arranged in Washington. Thus Norway has turned her back on the Soviet Union's offer of a non-aggression pact, has disregarded Russia's warning against joining the North Atlantic union, and has rejected a Swedish proposal to form a Scandinavian union to preserve the neutrality of the three Scandinavian countries. In effect, Norway has declared that neutrality is not good enough as a foreign policy, and since she must take sides, has thrown in her lot with the western nations rather than with communistic eastern ones.

* * *

During the last war Norway found out how grievously ineffectual neutrality is. So did Holland. That country is already a partner in the five-nation West Europe union. A policy of neutrality is a worthless one in these times when war can spread all over the world in a few hours. Neutrality is a negative, not a positive policy. It means that other nations determine the policy of the neutral country. Norway was neutral in 1939. By 1940 Germany has decided that Norway's neutrality did not suit Germany. In the same way Denmark lost its neutrality. So did The Netherlands. Sweden remained neutral during the war, because Germany decided to allow it to be so. That did not mean that Sweden was free to go about its business without considering German demands.

* * *

Norway has determined that she will decide her own destiny and become a partner in a group whose aims and ideals are akin to her own. She will not again allow herself to suffer the blows of circumstance brought on by a faith in an outmoded political concept like neutrality. A neutral country in this age is like a pedestrian at a busy intersection who refuses to cross with the green light or stop with the red. He objects to the modern lights or pretends they do not exist. He stands with foolish bravery in the middle of the intersection where sooner or later he will be run over. Norway accepts them as necessary, has experienced the consequences of not heeding them, and has decided to ally herself with powers that have much to do with controlling them.

A Poet Embarrasses His Country

Ezra Pound is a poet of genius; he is also an embarrassing citizen of the U.S.A., who is now in an insane asylum in Washington, although the reasons for judging him insane are rather vague. On Saturday last the Bollingen Foundation awarded him a prize of $1,000 for the best poetry published in the U.S.A. during 1948. The prize-winning poem was a work called The Pisan Cantos, which he wrote while a prisoner of the U.S. forces in Italy.

The circumstances under which this work was written are interesting; several men have written fine books while in jail, but Mr. Pound is said to have written these poems while kept in a cage in a public square in Pisa. The cage was open to the weather, and Mr. Pound had nothing in it — not even a sanitary bucket. The materials with which he wrote were handed to him by friends during his weeks of punitive exposure.

Pound was accused of being a traitor to his country. He had lived in Italy for many years before the war, and was said to be sympathetic toward the Fascist regime. During the war he broadcast several times for the Italian government, and in these broadcasts he is said to have abused his country. When Italy fell, and he was captured, his treatment by the U.S. troops appears to have been unusual; imprisonment in an open cage is certainly unusual. When he was brought back to the U.S.A. he was indicted for treason, but was certified as insane, and put in his present place of confinement; if he is ever released, he will have to stand trial.

If he is insane, can he write poetry which many able judges other than those retained by the Bollingen Foundation have considered excellent? And if he is not insane, why is he not released and tried for treason? Can it be that his trial might prove even more embarrassing than his present strange situation? When a great nation keeps a great poet who does not appear to be insane locked up, what are we to make of it?

In Defiance Of Description

The American Minister to Hungary, speaking freely in Paris, has said that life in Hungary "defies description". He has also said—and we have his permission to quote him on this—"that unless a person has actually lived in Hungary or any of the curtain countries and learned from personal observation the facts of life, he or she cannot possibly conceive what life is like". This sounds like very plain speaking, for a diplomat. On analysis, what Mr. Selden Chapin has said is not precisely clear. It may be merely that Twentieth Century diplomatic language is like that of the Nineteenth, plain on the surface but profoundly opaque below it.

For instance, what is the kind of Hungarian life that "defies description"? We imagine that life in heaven defies description. Sometimes a Christmas dinner, or a happy holiday in sunbeamed Bermuda is beyond words. What does he mean when he talks about a "curtain country"? Our Shakespeare says that all the world's a stage—and stages have curtains, even those in the U.S.A. No doubt the communistic countries of eastern Europe think that France and the U.S.A. are "curtain" countries. Then there is this matter of the "facts of life". Mr. Chapin thinks that unless a person has lived in a "curtain" country, or learned from personal observation "the facts of life" he cannot know (he used the word "conceive", which is capable of several meanings) what life is like. What facts of life is he referring to? Many Americans and Canadians learn certain "facts of life" from personal observation right in their home towns, or buy books about them. Thus they get an inkling of what life is like.

Having pondered the American Minister to Hungary's statement, we are not at all sure what he did say. The new diplomatic fashion in words seems to be no more frank than the old.

Has Toronto Changed Its Mind?

The city of Toronto has acquired Christie St. Hospital from the federal government and under the new name of Lambert Lodge it is to serve as an institution for aged and chronically ill persons.

Has Toronto changed its mind about this building? For years there have been complaints, particularly at election times, about Christie St. Hospital, and during the war the complaints rose to a clamour. The hospital was old-fashioned, it was inconvenient, it was hard to reach, it was in a dirty factory district, it was near railway tracks, it was noisy, it had no gardens — everything was wrong with it when it belonged to the Dominion, and particularly when it was the responsibility of a Mackenzie King government. Now that Toronto owns it, are we to understand that it has become a salubrious, quiet retreat for the aged and infirm? We were often told by Toronto politicians that it was an insult to our ex-service men; with its pleasant new name has it become a compliment to the aged dependents of Toronto?

On Thursday last we commented editorially on the new theories of communities for the aged; the modern idea (echoing the almshouse system of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries) is that a barrack life does not suit old people. Has Toronto, which has so long considered Christie St. to be a rather inferior barrack, changed its mind, now that it owns the property?

Lord Saye And Sele

We note with some regret the death last Friday of Lord Saye and Sele, the nineteenth baron, whose seat was Broughton Castle, near Banbury, Oxfordshire. A medieval ancestor is reputed to have written the nursery jingle "Ride a Cock Horse to Banbury Cross". There is no record of the identity of the fine lady on the white horse who had music wherever she went. Lord Saye and Sele was unmarried. Who's Who does not list music as his hobby. The title has passed to his brother, Lt.-Col. Ivo Murray Twisleton-Wykeham-Fiennes.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A physician says that digging is the ideal hobby for a middle-aged man. True, perhaps, but why call it golf?

An anthropologist says that the man of the future will have a flatter face. If this can be combined with the already apparent flatness of head the old block will have a neatly cubical appearance.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

"And So To Bed"

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

THIS being the birthday (in 1633) of the greatest of English diarists, Samuel Pepys, it is appropriate to put down a few thoughts about diaries and the people who keep them. Are they an unusually witty, articulate and thoughtful group of people? I don't think so. When I joined their ranks nearly a decade ago it was not with a feeling that I had anything unusual or profound to put down for posterity, but simply because the world was clearly working its way towards some pretty remarkable events and I felt it would be interesting to have my own little record of the story. Looking back now at the entries of the early war years is an illuminating experience. How simple everything was: all that had to be done was to beat the Hun! Imagination did not go beyond that. My diary entries/magnificently objective — Corporal X fell off his motor-cycle; Lieutenant Y's story of the man who was not a banker but a taxidermist; and of course Army food. Over here (for these matters took place in England) diarists seem to have had the same simple outwardness. Thus we find E. W. Harrold in his "Diary of our own Pepys" writing on May 14, 1940:

> Betimes up and news is that the Dutch are broken and give up but we are agog over the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Mr. Churchill is the new Prime Minister in England and saith "I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat...."

Five years later, almost to the day, he notes:

> Rose early and read the morning paper and heard the news and an unwonted quality comes upon the despatches and the broadcasts, for the familiar phrases of battle and destruction are giving place to other matters, for which I am mighty glad.

* * *

WE who are now in the thick of those "other matters" are still mighty glad of peace but mightily perplexed as to how to handle it. Life is complicated again, and when that is so, (if I may generalize from my own experience) diaries turn inward. They begin to contain long passages in which we take ourselves to pieces, like a jig-saw puzzle, and then try to put ourselves together again. And one or two pieces always get lost.

* * *

IT is curious that Canada has not produced a larger number of diarists. We have, I think, a certain gift for contemplation, and the long dark winter evenings should provide opportunity for setting things down. Perhaps a kind of shyness sets in; writing a diary is a little like taking one's clothing off, and as a people we are much scared of nakedness. Under the influence of American "resort" fashions in bathing costumes our physical inhibitions are slowly working themselves out. How can we persuade our minds also to come out of their draperies? We might suggest that it's just a matter of health. The toothpaste manufacturers have managed to persuade the world that its teeth will drop out if they are not brushed regularly. Is it not evident that most people's minds drop out (round about fifty) because they have neglected to work them over regularly? The copy for a great advertising campaign begins to form itself in my mind:

> ARE YOU LOSING YOUR GRIP? IS YOUR MEMORY NOT WHAT IT WAS? 4 people out of 5 have memory-amnesia. HOW ABOUT YOU? Make this simple test. Ask yourself:— what was I doing this day last year? If you cannot remember, then YOU NEED TO WATCH OUT! Soon you will be unable to remember what you were doing last week! How can you get out of this vicious circle? The answer is simple! Clip the coupon below and mail with money-order for $5 to DIARY-WRITERS INC. etc. etc. etc.

* * *

FORTUNATELY there is no money in writing a diary so we are not likely to suffer from an assault of this kind. Even the professional diary men, such as our own many-facetted Marcabanks, are obviously not in the game for money. Here we are dealing, I surmise, with an innate urge, like the making of a web to a spider. For the born diarist, experience turns itself naturally into the fine thread of prose, and then spins itself out in infinite variations of delicate and purposeful patterns.

* * *

THE purposes that lead people to keep a diary and the results that flow from it are many and strange. Tolstoy, for example, used his diary largely to complain of his wife, and she kept one in retaliation against him. At times they swapped diaries, so that the effects should not be lost. Statesmen, who used to keep diaries for the sake of History, now do so largely as a form of superannuation fund. The keeping of a diary of this sort, when it becomes known, gives the writer a certain power. He can blacken a person's character for all time with a phrase; he can also confer immortality. Mussolini had something of this feeling about the diary that Ciano, his Foreign Minister, was known to be keeping. On occasions he would say "Put that bit in, will you?"

* * *

IT is unlikely that any diary written today will survive as Pepys' diary has survived, still less that its style will be a pattern for future diarists. The Pepysian style has been a kind of literary Pied Piper of Hamelin through the years, luring journalists from their fixed habits into attempts to follow and catch its wayward charm. The result is always failure; with Harrold's diary the virtue is not in the style but in the liveliness and integrity of the man himself. As time goes on the discrepancy between old-time phrasing and modern technology ("Lord! a man goes to bed these days not knowing what the morrow will bring, and when he awakes, as I did this morn, with the roar of aveplanes in his ears....") becomes more and more glaring. I suppose one day even the title to this piece may look old-fashioned. Some future bureaucrat will perhaps record: "And so to relaxation period (nocturnal)."

"Oh father, I could never marry him. He's got red hair."

"I know, my child, but haven't you noticed that it's beginning to fall out?"

AW, WHAT'S THE USE?

Two Conflicting Dullnesses

FROM "HORIZON" (LONDON)

NOTE: "Horizon" is England's leading review devoted to literature and art. In the following comment its editor, Cyril Connolly, discusses a little-heeded aspect of the Lynskey Tribunal, which recently investigated charges of corruption brought against certain socialist bureaucrats.

THE Lynskey Tribunal is not a subject which bears any direct relation to a review of literature and art, but there are one or two things which should be said about it which only the militant reactionary aesthetes are capable of saying. The Tribunal is a record of a love affair, and, like most love affairs, it is based on illusion. It records the love which rakish Big Business bears for homely respectable Miss Bureaucracy and the delicate feminine backslidings of that lady (such a nice girl) when wooed by wicked rich financiers with their expense accounts and private dining rooms. Nobody quite lost their virtue, but the findings will probably disclose that it was a very near thing. To a detached observer what stands out most is the complete and utter dullness of the two conflicting ways of life, both so highly honoured in our society. Which would you rather be? A business man bowling to and fro between London and Manchester, always looking for a fourth at cards, eating, for the sake of trade, innumerable bad luncheons with people you've never met, dining at dog racing tracks with minor politicians, taking them to English seaside hotels for windy negotiations, waiting in ministries for permits to make profits which are at once removed by taxation, swapping Christmas presents, jollying up the wives of public figures—or a servant of the State, poor but enormously respectable, buoyed up by a sense of collective self-righteousness which obliterates every defect, inflated by touched caps and dispatch-cases, and so smothered by the ennui of routine, the gnawings of fear and envy that any old Park Lane jackdaw appearing on the window-sill bedazzles like a peacock?

For two months now the public have absorbed every detail of this confused attempt at seduction—in itself an unsavoury sign, for it shows the growing-up, in our happy little Socialist brotherhood, of exactly the same spirit which informed the Russian purges. Sir Hartley Shawcross in no way resembles Vyshinsky, but his role of public prosecutor carries with it the prestige of a prima donna and one can see arising through the increasing public interest in this affair a relationship between the people and their prosecutor which does not preclude an eventual complicity, as between mob and matador, were these tribunals to replace watching test matches, darts and football as the national sport. For the spectator, even the newspaper-reader, derives from their consideration a sense of virtue. He feels that he is all out to end corruption in public life: he does not realize that the sentiment he experiences is in reality a form of resentment, a hatred of anybody having any advantages or privileges and ultimately any pleasures which he does not enjoy himself, and that this resentment is a particular ailment of democracies and one which can be just as easily let loose against foreign travel, art exhibitions, long-hair, honey-moon couples, Oscar Wilde, actresses or bottle parties, as against the protagonists at Westminster Hall. There is probably not one of us who could stand up to the searching methods of such an inquiry without revealing much that was ridiculous, a little that was pathetic, and a grain that was criminal in the conduct of our own lives over a long period of time. Let us hope we never become so important in the public eye as to deserve one.

Incidentally, the pages of newsprint devoted to the question of the new suit for one or the whisky for another has happily lulled us through the crisis in China, appalling for the most of us in its eventual consequences, and through a variety of difficult and unpleasant situations at home and abroad whose nature is only to be gleaned from unsportsmanlike journals like the Paris edition of the New York Herald. But it was all over in time for Christmas. Who's next?

No Man Is An Island

A lady enrolling her small daughter in school was asked a number of questions. "Does your little girl have any older brothers?" "No," said mother. "Younger brothers?" "No." "Older sisters?" "No." At this point the child blurted defensively, "But I've got friends."—This Week.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Jesus went unto the mount of Olives. And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them....

Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life. (John 8: 1, 2, 12.)

* * *

And as Jesus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth. And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

Jesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God should be made manifest in him. I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work. As long as I am in the world, I am the light of the world.

When he had thus spoken, he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay, and said unto him. Go, wash in the pool of Siloam, (which is by interpretation, Sent). He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing. (John 9: 1-7.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"He said, your worship, that I was no cook."

"And what did you do then?"

"I struck him with the tin-opener."

A vinegarish, aggressive-mannered woman boarded a subway train with her mild-mannered husband, and sought a seat. Finding none vacant, she let her disapproving gaze fall upon a tired-looking little man seated close by.

"Henry," she sternly remarked to her husband, "if I should ever catch you seated in a public conveyance, while some woman was obliged to stand, I would never speak to you again as long as I live!"

The tired-looking little man regarded the husband with an expression of mingled awe and admiration.

"My friend," he remarked, "heaven has been kind to you. I only wish I could shut my wife up as easily!"

A man who lost his job with a city firm went to see a friend who had obtained a post in a certain much-criticized Ministry. His friend was sympathetic and said: "I think I can fix you up here."

The job-seeker was taken along the corridor and installed in a comfortable office. His friend left him with these words: "Now don't be surprised at our ways of doing things. You'll soon get used to it."

The man settled down in his comfortable office, read his newspaper from cover to cover, and solved the crossword. Then it was time to knock off. The same thing happened every succeeding day. On Friday he was paid.

During the second week he met his friend, who asked him how he liked the job.

"Fine," he replied. "The office is cosy and warm. I'm quite comfortable, but I don't think they trust me here. Every time I set foot outside the office I'm followed by two young men. They even shadow me when I go to lunch. Am I under suspicion."

"Not at all," replied his friend. "You needn't worry about those fellows. They're your secretaries."

WET AND SNOWY—British Columbia last week experienced heavy rains in some areas while others were troubled with snowslides. Top photo shows an auto marooned in Victoria following an all-time record rainfall of 3.35 inches in 24 hours. Streets were turned into lakes and property damage ran into thousands of dollars. Bottom photo reveals why the transcontinental Canadian National train was held up for 50 hours at Stout, BC, 140 miles east of Vancouver. This mountain of snow and others caused the rerouting of many transcontinental trains.

Hiring Extra Secretary To Handle Duke's Fan Mail

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Feb. 23—(CP).—Fan mail for the Duke of Edinburgh is growing so fast that an extra secretary has been engaged to help handle it. The Duke, whose responsibilities have increased since the King's illness, devotes two or three hours each day to reading his mail. Many contain friendly messages for himself, Princess Elizabeth and the infant Prince Charles.

Some suggest new avenue of public service for the Royal couple, with numerous requests for them to appear at functions not normally honored by Royalty.

Typical of these was an invitation to the Duke to be present at the final of a dart's tournament in the public bar of an Essex tavern. The Duke, though an ardent dart player in his naval days, was—perhaps reluctantly—impelled to decline.

Not Qualified

He also declined an invitation to act as judge at a Hertfordshire Baby Show, remarking in his official reply from Buckingham Palace that he did not feel "qualified" for the job.

Like most members of the Royal Family the Duke receives begging letters, which in most cases are politely refused.

Where only brief replies are necessary, he scribbles them in pencil on each letter before handing it back to his secretaries. Longer replies are dictated.

The Duke is said to have a flair for dictating smooth, succinct letters and, while speaking, wanders about the room, looking out of the windows and absent-mindedly picking up books and documents. If interrupted by a telephone call, he will resume dictating at precisely the point where he left off.

"He has many of the qualities of a successful business executive," a friend said.

Blackjack Suspended Fights Police, Referee

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23 (AP) — For a four-minute round with the referee, his handlers and several policemen, Blackjack Billy Fox, Philadelphia middleweight boxer, was under a 30-day suspension today.

The fun for the crowd of 9,194 customers at the arena last night came after Fox lost the first bout of the program to Dick Wagner of Portland, Ore., on a technical knockout.

Fox was on the floor when Referee Don Gonzales lifted Wagner's hand after 48 seconds of the ninth round in the scheduled 10-rounder. Fox raised himself to his wobbly legs and made for Wagner and the referee while the cops started climbing into the ring.

In addition to the suspension, chairman Andy Putka of the Cleveland Boxing Commission gave Fox an order to be examined today by the Commission physician.

Clubs entered from Lindsay, Peterborough, Port Hope, Cobourg, Bowmanville, Oshawa, Kingston and Belleville, with some 90 players expected. Elimination games Friday and part of Saturday with the finals in the evening. Belleville's Garrison Club is sponsoring the two-day tourney, and guests will be entertained by officers of the 9th Anti-Tank RCA Regiment at the finish. Winners will have a chance to participate in the provincial badminton championships in Toronto a bit later. A number of over-the-webbing experts will go from here.

'Tis noted that the Fenelon Falls Generals are doing okay in hockey exhibitions this winter. They've lost but once in 12 starts of winner-take-all challenge games against some good opposition. Busher Jackson is playing coach, and they have Hank Goldup, another former NHL-er, Johnny Hamilton, once of St. Mike's, Percy Nicholls—he was with Legion briefly — and others. They've had challenges from clubs right across the country, and now plan a tour of Ohio and New York States, staging exhibitions. Frank Stukus lives there and will promote baseball and football this year, playing for an ORFU intermediate entry.

Lions And IOOF-ers

Just the other day, a Tely writer, Bunny Morganson, said: "Our dark horse entry to win the OHA junior 'B' title, North Toronto Lions, are still winning games. They have plenty on the ball when it comes to hockey class for a junior 'B' outfit." But our Oddfellows stepped in against 'em Monday at Nobleton and held them to a 6-6 overtime tie to open their best-of-five group finals. A mighty nice effort by the IOOF-ers, who hope to beat the Lions in the return match here tonight at Civic Arena. It ought to be a peachy encounter between hustling young squads, and it rates a real big crowd of fans. Next one is Saturday up Toronto way.

A clipping to hand about Freddie Mortimer, playing for Lake Placid Roamers. In a recent game he was in on three goals as his side won 5-1 over Valleyfield. The item says: "Freddie Mortimer, said by most fans to be the Roamer most likely to succeed, along with net-minder Eddie McLeod, led the redshirts to a 5-1 victory over Valleyfield. Mortimer was in top form all the way, scoring two goals and aiding in another." The former junior here and then member of the Petes is married to Helen White of this city, and she's over there now for a visit of a couple of weeks.

Clearing The Decks

Senior "B" setup is clearing around here now. Petes and Legion go tonight in Lindsay, then they meet here Friday to wind up their postponed tilts. If there's no ice by Friday, that game will be forgotten as playoffs start Saturday with Petes meeting Meteors in Lindsay and back here March 2. Toronto Bells are trying to catch up a trio of postponements also this week—with Meteors last eve, with Stouffville tonight and Bobcaygeon Friday—ere meeting Legion in semi-finals. Latter would be in Lindsay on Monday with a return a few days later. Both semi-finals have been cut to home-and-home, goals counting, finals being best-of-three. If Bells can't get in their postponements this week, they may fold.

Aggie Anderson thumped the timber in heated fashion this week to lead trundlers in the Girls' Bowling League. Her 814 high cross took honors in that department and a hefty 352 single was out by itself. These counts helped Towne Togs show the way with a respectable team roll of 3366 — good bowling by the belles—which included a single total of 1220. Marion Timm was blind score winner. Once again, competition was pretty keen, with but one sweep chalked up as the other victories were by 2-1 margins. At this time of year, the alley bowlers have pretty sharp eyes for stray pins.

Wolves Open Tour With 6-4 Victory

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 23 (CP)—Sudbury Wolves, who placed second in the International Amateur Hockey championships at Stockholm last week, Tuesday opened their Czechoslovakian tour with a 6-4 victory over a Slovakian team before 9,000 fans.

Both teams tallied once in the opening period. In the second the Canadians scored three goals while the Czechs garnered only one and in the final period both teams scored twice.

Don Munroe and Ray Bauer paced the Canadian attack with two goals each. Emile Gagne and Johnny Kovich each added one tally.

St. Peter's In Tie

St. Peter's and northend juveniles of the PMHA tied 1-1 last night at Civic Arena in a clean, tight tussle. The Saints scored first, R. Collins counting on Sheehan's pass in the innitial inning. Cassells got it back in the second from Beggs and there was no scoring in the third. Bacon, Cuffe, R. Collins and Sheehan stood out for St. Peter's, with L. Collins also going well. Cassella, Beggs, Wilson and Delahaye were best for the northend. The teams:

St. Peters: Goal, Cavanagh; defence, Bacon and Cuffe; centre, Alberico; wings, Basciano and Richardson; alternates, Searles, R. Collins, L. Collins, Sheehan, Lugana, Pearson, Buchan and Hickson.

Northend: Goal, Jones; defence, Wilson and McGinn; centre, Tucker; wings, Bryan and Deyell; alternates, Lowes, Riley, Cassells, Beggs and Delahaye.

To Discuss Tour

LONDON, Feb. 23—(Reuters)—George Hume, general manager of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, is to fly to New York March 5 to discuss the possibility of the Shakespeare Festival Company touring the United States and Canada after the British season ends Oct. 1.

Given Free Car

LONDON, Feb. 22—(Reuters)—Moses Ereira, tailor's cutter, today will become Britain's first V.-2 rocket victim to receive a free motor-car from the Ministry of Pensions. In a ceremony outside his East London home, Ereira, who is 55 and is paralyzed from the waist down, will receive one of the cars which the Ministry is presenting to severely-disabled war victims.

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT—Nick Vicchiarelli meets stocky Sammy Gotter in the opener at the Brock Arena ring tonight. Sandy O'Donnell will try his dock-walloper tactics on Ben Sharpe in the semi-final while brother Mike Sharpe takes on the hard-hitting tough-twisting Fred Atkins in the main bout. Atkins and Mike are each trying for a "shot" at Whipper Watson's Empire crown. The winner tonight will move up to where he will be breathing down the neck of the Whip. The bout is expected to produce a maximum of good wrestling and violent action. Atkins is more of a veteran than the younger Sharpe but the latter has such size and spirit as to just about balance the scales.

Stop Tinkering With Football Pearson Pleads

OTTAWA, Feb. 23—(CP)—Ample for the rulemakers to "stop tinkering with football" has been tossed out on the carpet, and by no less a person than L. B. Pearson, External Affairs Minister.

A rabid football fan and former coach and player with University of Toronto teams, Mr. Pearson was guest speaker Tuesday night at a testimonial dinner tendered Ottawa Roughriders by the Ottawa Football Club. More than 600 players, officials and supporters jammed the large ballroom of a downtown hotel for the occasion.

Best thing for football, the Minister declared in a sparkling, 35-minute address, was to "leave it alone for a while."

"This tinkering with football—and hockey—every season and between seasons, is making it difficult for those playing and those watching," he said.

"We leave baseball, a grand old game alone. Nobody suggests using four strikes instead of three, or putting an extra man on third base to make it easier for one team.

"Leave football alone for a while," he pleaded, "and give the spectators a chance to learn the game—and possibly even the players. . .".

He did not elaborate on the latter phase, but his statement recalled to many in the audience the fatal moment in the Grey Cup final with Calgary Stampeders last year when Pete Karpuk of Rough Riders mistakenly failed to pick up a loose ball. It was grabbed up by a Stampeder who moved up near the Ottawa goal to set up the winning touchdown.

Fleischer Book Big Boxing Aid

NEW YORK, Feb. 23—(AP)—If Nat Fleischer never does anything more than put out his annual ring record book he will be "the man who did the most for boxing" every year from now on.

The 1949 edition, just off the press, coincides nicely with an award to Nat as "man of the year in 1948" by the New York Boxing Managers' Guild at their annual dinner tomorrow night.

Every sports editor and boxing fan on the continent is protected by Nat's authentic won-and-lost record of some 3,387 fighters, past and present.

In the old days, a manager could "phoney up" his fighter's record, but Nat stopped all that. The 2,500 copies of his limited edition are scattered from coast to coast. A flip of the page tells the real story on each active boxer who has had at least five fights in 1948.

South-End Victors

In a neat PMHA contest at Civic Arena last evening, the southenders took a 5-3 triumph over St. Peter's. Junior Daniels and Marv Buchan each scored a brace of markers for the winners, while Bob Allan clicked for the other goal. They had a 2-2 tie on scoring in the first period and it was still sewed up at 3-all going into the third, when Daniels and Allan counted. Richardson, Killen and Monaghan notched goals for the losers.

Curling Notes

By HERB MARTIN

The draw for the annual Vice-Skips' bonspiel has been made and is posted up on the blackboard. Play begins Monday evening—Rinks are to be of the first-scheduled.

Up in Lindsay Ray Best's rink came through in Lindsay to win their three games and will return on Friday to play in the finals. He had with him Mrs. G. Green, Mrs. V. Selkirk and C. Giroux.

It appears that the interest in this second schedule is petering out. On the seven o'clock draw last night there were two defaulted games, and almost every night for the last couple of weeks there has been one or two defaults. Maybe too much curling?

Chicago Black Hawks will sponsor Galt Rockets of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior circuit next season, it was announced Tuesday night at Galt. The club will be known as the Black Hawks.

Bill Tobin, general manager of the National League club, is expected here soon to look the situation over. A spokesman for the local team said the Chicago management was in favor of retaining Alfie Moore as coach for the 1949-50 season. The Rockets finished last in the nine-team loop this season.

The Royal Canadian Golf Association is after Bobby Locke, South African golf wizard, for the 1949 Canadian open at St. Georges Club in Toronto June 22. Locke, who won the classic in 1947, did not compete last year.

E. H. Banks, tournament manager of the Ontario Golf Association, announced these dates for Provincial tournaments: Ontario Junior, July 15, at Weston and Ontario Amateur, July 6-9, at Kitchener-Waterloo Westmount.

A French skiing team of six competitors, including one woman, arrived in Montreal Tuesday to prepare for the Canadian championships next week-end in the Laurentians. The squad is headed by Henri Oreiller, Olympic downhill champion. Desire Lacroix is the slalom expert.

At Salt Lake City, Petter Hugsted of Norway, 1948 Olympic ski-jumping champion, Tuesday won the United States ski-jumping tournament with leaps of 262 and 263 feet. Behind Hugsted came Art Devlin of Lake Placid, N. Y., with leaps of 257 and 264 feet for second-place honors.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Ontario Tuesday night were the only unbeaten rinks remaining in the Canadian High School curling championship, following completion of second-round play in the round robin series. After drawing a bye in the opening round Ontario represented by Dryden High School, nosed out British Columbia 12-11 in the second round.

At Lake Placid, N. Y., the ill-fated world bobsled championships, marred by accidents and hampered in unseasonal weather, finally came to a conclusion Tuesday with the United States sweeping the four-man races. The United States No. 2 team, with Stanley Beham of Lake Placid doing the driving, captured the title while Jim Bickford's No. 1 U. S. foursome wound up in second place. The Swiss team, piloted by Olympian Fritz Feierabend, was third and the French quartet fourth and last.

Pennsylvania sharpened the teeth of its sports anti-bribery laws Tuesday. A bill passed by the State House of Representatives Tuesday at Harrisburg makes any person subject to penalties up to three years' imprisonment and a $3,000 fine for even attempting to bribe a player or anyone connected with a sports event.

Hornets Crush Springfield 8-1

By The Canadian Press

Pittsburgh Hornets kept right behind Indianapolis Capitals in the western division of the American Hockey League last night by crushing Springfield Indians 8-1 as the Indianapolis club defeated Washington Lions 10-2.

By virtue of the victory Pittsburgh broke a second-place deadlock with Cleveland now is three points behind the league-leading Indianapolis.

In the only other game, Philadelphia Rockets scored four times in the final period to earn a 5-5 tie with St. Louis Flyers.

Canadiens Humble Cincinnati Team 5-2

CINCINNATI, Feb. 23 (AP) — Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League treated a crowd of 11,500 "first nighters" to spurts of ice wizardry Tuesday night as they humbled a Cincinnati team 5-2 at the formal opening of the $3,000,000 Cincinnati Garden.

The crowd, sitting in on the debut of professional hockey here, was believed to be the largest ever to see the ice sport in Ohio.

During the day, the American Hockey League, meeting here in conjunction with the Garden opening, voted to retain its present payoff system for the 1949 season. Cincinnati will become a member of the American League next season.

Tuesday night's "Cincinnati" team, made up of members of the Dallas Texans of the United States Hockey League and spare players from the Montreal outfit, offered little more than token opposition for the Canadiens.

The playoff system, retained by the American League, will send the top three teams in the final standings in each the western and eastern divisions into the playoff, with the east teams playing the west through the first round.

Leafs Riddled With Injuries Near Playoffs

By JOHN D. HAMILTON.
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Toronto Maple Leafs might be called the "sad sacks" of the National Hockey League.

George Baker's hapless cartoon character always starts out happily to enjoy himself—and invariably takes a kicking around.

That's what happened to the Leafs last week-end. The third-place club blasted through Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks on successive nights and ended up only one point out of second place.

But the Leafs didn't want a happy ending. Four of the club's more effective forwards—Vic Lynn, Howie Meeker, Bill Ezinicki and Harry Taylor—were injured, two of them severely. It was the worst single injury jinx any club has run into this season.

To make matters worse, if possible, a quirk in the schedule gave Toronto maestros Conn Smythe and Hap Day a whole week of idleness to sit and brood.

The Leafs don't play again until Saturday night when they meet Chicago in a return engagement at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Tonight, the only game scheduled is between Boston and the last-place New York Rangers. A victory for Rangers could move them ahead of Chicago by one point.

Tomorrow, Montreal Canadiens, three points behind Toronto, play in Chicago.

Gardiner Gives New Twist To Argument

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 — (CP)— Agriculture Minister James Gardiner gave the contentious dominion-provincial relations issue a new twist in the Commons Tuesday.

He said the Federal Government is not centralizing power in Ottawa, but it is centralizing criticism of governments.

Under the dominion-provincial taxation agreements, the government is paying the provinces enough to 'make themselves popular and to keep themselves in power."

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, interjected that the Ontario and Quebec governments were not receiving the federal payments and they were returned to office last summer.

Mr. Gardiner said that in all the speeches he had listened to recently the Progressive Conservatives had not been able to quote a "single Conservative" in all Canadian history who was in favor of provincial rights.

Quote Opponents

Whenever the Progressive Conservatives wanted to quote someone in favor of provincial rights they quoted a Liberal. Whenever the Liberals wanted to quote someone against provincial rights they quoted a Conservative.

"The opposition leader hasn't even been able to quote himself in the past," said Mr. Gardiner while speaking in the throne speech debate.

He said Mr. Drew had stated that the federal government was collecting 76.7 per cent of the taxes, the provinces 12.5 per cent and the municipalities 10.8 per cent. The federal government was turning back to the provinces, said Mr. Gardiner, some $240,000,000 or 10 per cent of the taxes collected.

"That is not centralizing control; that is centralizing criticism," said Mr. Gardiner.

CANADIAN SNOW gets a close inspection from Mr. and Mrs. Joaquin Gentil-Netto, of Brazil, as they wait in a bus terminal in Montreal for transportation to the Laurentians and their first taste of snow and skiing. The couple are chess champions in their own country, and are a bit doubtful about tackling the new and slightly more hazardous Laurentian sport. They are part of a group of 30 United Nations employees from New York who formed a skiing party in the Laurentians.

Record Exports Planned For Churchill

By JACK AVESON

WINNIPEG, Feb. 23 —(CP)— The historical significance attached to 1949 insofar as the northern Manitoba port of Churchill is concerned is spurring supporters of the Hudson Bay route to make the year important in another sense.

It was 330 years ago that a company of Danes captained by Jens Munck reached the mouth of the Churchill river, the first white men on record to land at the present site of the seaport tucked midway between Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

Strong in their conviction of the potentialities of Churchill as a seaport, exponents of the northern route, organized for action through the Hudson Bay Route Association, are planning to make 1949 a year of record exports freighted to European centres by ships loading at Churchill.

Last year 5,314,342 bushels of wheat were sent to the United Kingdom, a record quantity, but associations members say this is a drop in the bucket compared to what can be shipped.

They refer to the terminal elevator, bulging like a huge concrete iceburg amid the tundra of the Hudson Bay coastline, with its present storage capacity of 2,500,000 bushels. With loading facilities built on a rapid transit delivery system, it is estimated that approximately 50,000,000 bushels of grain could be put through during the navigation season.

Coupled with the association's anxiety to make Churchill a major exporting centre for wheat from the sun-kissed fields of western Canada's prairies has developed a desire to make it a port of entry for goods from the United Kingdom.

Hollywood Stars Choose Best Performance

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 23 (AP) —Today's question for the Hollywood forum it "what do you think was the greatest acting performance on film and why?"

The prevent any ax-griding, I stipulated that selections had to be dated before 1948. Here are the answers:

Dorothy Lamour: "I'm no dramatic critic, so I have to choose the role that made the strongest impression on me. It was Joan Crawford in 'Letty Lynton.' "

Charles Bickford: "For integrity of performance you can't beat John Gilbert in "The Big Parade'."

Ann Sothern: "Garbo in "Camille' was a faultless interpretation of the role."

French Film

Paul Henreid: "Raimu in 'The Baker's Wife.' A flawless performance."

Jeanette MacDonald: "Helen Hayes in the 'The Sin of Madelon Claudet.'

Lynn Bari "Garbo has always been great, but I liked her best in 'Anna Karenina'."

Gene Raymond: "Douglas Fairbanks in 'Arabian Nights,' because he presented a picture of what every man would like to be."

Joan Leslie "Luise Rainer in 'The Good Earth,' because her face reflected Chinese civilization itself.

Leigh and Laughton

Clark Gable: "Vivien Leigh in 'Gone With the Wind.'

Kirk Douglas: "Van Heflin in 'Jonny Eager.' He had a role with many pitfalls and he came through it on a straight course."

Revision Court Fails To Meet

NEWMARKET, Feb. 23—(CP) —Newmarket's court of revision did not meet Tuesday night following Monday's dismissal of three of the five court officers. Dr. L. W. Dales, one of the members dismissed, found an empty hall.

Dr. Dales, Alex Dalugin and Arleigh Armstrong were dismissed by town council Monday night on the grounds that they held other municipal offices. As chairman of the court Dr. Dales had ordered the town's five assessors to make a report Tuesday night on their reassessment of Newmarket' six big industries.

The assessors, who had increased assessments by $750,000 on local homes, resigned in a body when they were ordered by the revision court to reassess the industries.

Twelve citizens have begun legal action against the assessors, charging them with neglect of duty in their failure to obey the court. They will appear in police court Friday.

Lillie Remanded Week For Sentence

WHITBY, Feb. 23 —(CP)— E. C. Lillie, 19, of Peterborough, was found guilty of assault tuesday and remanded a week for sentence. Lillie struck a Toronto housewife, 35-year-old Mrs. Anne Thompson, over the head after offering her a ride in his car. Mrs. Thompson testified in police court she had no intention of reporting the incident until a Toronto hospital told her she could not get treatment unless she told police.

Municipal Act Changes

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP).— Premier Kennedy Tuesday hinted that there might be changes in the Municipal Act because of the heavy social legislation for which the Act had not made provisions. Speaking at the annual meeting of the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities, Mr. Kennedy said that "some relief must be given farmers so they won't have to pay so much to live on the land."

Chance Of Survival

HELSINKI, Feb. 23—(AP)—Informed sources said Tuesday night Finland's Socialist Cabinet will have a 50-50 chance of survival when it faces a no-confidence vote in parliament today. The prediction was made as Premier Karl Fagerholm's government remained under attack from both the left and right in sharp parliamentary debate.

1st Horticultural Meeting Mon., Feb. 28

The Horticultural Society opens the new season on Monday, February 28, in the YWCA with an excursion across the border of agriculture. Mr. F. S. Brown of the Experimental Farms, Ottawa, will speak on the subject of "Small Fruits and Vegetables."

This idea for one evening in the winter-spring program was begun by Frank C. Kitney, and was adopted as an annual affair. William C. Wilks, secretary, recalls that Mr Brown spoke to the Canadian Legion last year, leaving memorable impressions of his address. The society has reserved the large hall at the YWCA for the fourth Monday of each month. Mr. Wilks reports that speakers who have never been heard in Peterborough have been engaged for this season, "and the topics should be most interesting and helpful. We sincerely hope the public will accept our invitation to attend the series. A collection will be accepted at the door to help defray expenses. On display each evening will be the samples of the valuable premiums which are given free with memberships. Prospective members may see what most appeals to them."

Ask Southern Highway

TORONTO, Feb. 23—(CP)— Because the bulk of United States tourists come to Southern Ontario the Ontario Section of the Trans-Canada Highway should run reasonably close to Toronto, T. Mahoney, Secretary of the Good Roads Association, said Tuesday. Addressing the association's annual convention, he said the original plan was to route the highway through Ottawa and North Bay and then through Northern Ontario. "United States tourists brought $240,000,000 into Canada last year and most of them came to Southern Ontario," Mr. Mahoney said.

41,000 Voters Hold Spotlight At Hammersmith

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Feb. 23 (CP) — The electors—all 41,000 of them—of the constituency of Hammersmith South today were the most important people in Britain in the eyes of every politician from Land's End to John O' Groats.

Hammersmith South votes on Thursday to elect a successor to the late W. T. Adams, Labor member who won his seat in the 1945 general election with a majority of 3,458 over his Conservative opponent, Sir J. D. Cooke.

The results Friday will show who will speak for Hammersmith South for the remainder of the present parliament: Engineer Anthony Fell, 34, Conservative; or history tutor Tom Williams, 33, Labor.

Conservatives say a Labor victory might induce the government to call a general election within the next few months.

Some 2,000 members of the anti-partition League of Ireland have decided to oppose the Labor candidate. This is their protest against the government's unwillingness to intervene in Irish affairs and help end the border dividing Northern Ireland and Eire.

The National Bookmakers Protection Association distributed leaflets asking repeal of the tax on track bookies which was introduced by Sis Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Alberta Now Worries About Rights

By The Canadian Press

Provincial rights, a hot subject in Ontario and Quebec, is stirring up a bit of excitement in the west.

In throne-speech debate in the Alberta Legislature, Arthur Wray, Independent Social Credit member for Banff-Cochrane, yesterday suggested calling an interprovincial conference to define which powers belong to the Federal government and which to the provinces. He charged the Federal government with "usurping" the rights of the provinces.

Mr. Wray said Quebec and Ontario are the only two provinces that have resisted and refused to sign a Dominion-Provincial tax agreement.

Lifting of Prince Edward Island's ban on manufacture and sale of margarine was forecast in the throne speech at Charlottetown. Also promised were legislation setting up a workmen's Compensation Act, Incorporation of Crown Companies, further aid for the fishing industry and improved ferry service with Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Quebec's Premier Maurice Duplessis came out for full value for a day's pay. He told the Legislative Assembly that due to what he called "loafing on the job," a building supposed to cost $800,000 costs more than $1,000,000 today.

"Leaders tell laborers not to lay more than 300 bricks a day," he said. "If farmers had the same mentality, I don't know where we would be."

Farm Audience Given Outline Of Income Tax

A record audience of farmers and their wives on Tuesday heard H. R. McGrogan, Department of National Revenue, Income Tax Department, speak on income tax as it affected farmers. It was the third of the noon luncheons sponsored by the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture.

His address was short, but it was followed by an extensive period of questioning.

Mr. McGrogan explained the basic provisions under the War-time Income Tax Act. A married man with a wife not earning more than $250 a year becomes taxable at $1,500; while a single man becomes taxable at $750. For each child not qualified for the family allowance, the householder has a $300 exemption; and for each one that does qualify, $100.

Mr. McGrogan said he was anxious to meet with such groups as the Federation of Agriculture to discuss the matter of income tax, and he stated that everyone should have a thorough knowledge of every regulation and section that affects them.

Does Return Have to Be Filed?

The question most often asked is: "Do I have to file an income tax return?" Only if the person's income exceeds the stipulated amounts does he have to do so, was his answer.

"You pay tax on your net income, not on the gross, which means you are allowed a great number of exemptions," said the speaker.

He advised farmers to file a return for three main reasons. To take advantage of the five-year-average offer; to take advantage of the basic herd regulations; and to prevent complications in deciding upon succession duties.

The five-year-average plan (originally introduced as a three-year plan) would allow the farmer to take his average income over this period and pay a corresponding tax on it.

"It is particularly important for a farmer to file a deturn on the years he is not taxable," declared Mr. McGrogan, "because it helps to bring down the average from the high-income years."

"Price, weather and crop conditions are altogether out of your control," he told his audience. "That is why you have the five-year average."

Cannot Pick and Choose

Once the farmer starts he must stick to the five consecutive years, he warned. He cannot pick and choose his years.

Full details of the basic herd regulations have not yet been worked out, said the speaker. But next week there will be a meeting of stockmen with income tax officials to iron out existing differences of opinion—particularly on the definition of a basic herd.

Unless the farmer files a return he cannot benefit from the advantages of this scheme, said Mr. McGrogan. Chief benefit would be at a large disposal sale or a complete dispersal sale.

Completed By Estate

Succession duties must be completed by the estate of a deceased person and the assets cannot be decided until the latter's accounts are checked against his income tax returns.

"Almost invariably the blow falls upon the widow and children," he said. "It is a very sad state of affairs in many instances."

He counselled farmers to keep some record of their expenditures, as they would find the small items pile up into large sums of money. By entering all expenditures in a pocket notebook carried around with him at all times the farmer would know what he should buy when he went shopping, and would know how much it cost him.

"There is no individual in the Income Tax Department who has the final say, he told those who contemplated appealing their tax. "You have the right as a citizen to appeal any decision of the Income Tax Department.

"Up to $100 income can be made selling lumber, cut trees on property, sand or gravel. Anything over that is taxable. Standing trees that are sold are not taxable."

The speaker was introduced by the secretary John Kitney, and thanked by Don Milburn. President W. W. Dawson was in the chair.

Will License Mental Hospitals

TORONTO, Feb. 23—(CP)—The Ontario Government would license all private mental hospitals by a bill introduced in the Legislature Tuesday by Health Minister Kelley. Hospitals will have to meet government standards before being licensed.

Another bill introduced by the Health Minister provides for payment to public tuberculosis sanatoria of regular maintenance grants now paid to other hospitals.

An amendment to the Professional Engineers' Act permits the Council of Professional Engineers to exclude from the association a member who has allowed his membership to lapse and has been guilty of misconduct. Formerly the Association had no alternative but to reinstate such members on payment of back fees.

Other amendments given first reading Tuesday would: increase expenditures municipalities may make for juvenile and family courts; increase the Niagara Parks Commission from five to eight members; enable persons who have entered into contracts which are no longer possible to fulfill—for example contracts entered into with governments of countries overrun during the war—to recover their deposits and to cancel bills payable.

ESSENTIAL TO ALL of Newfoundland's trade and commerce is the Newfoundland Railway. It links the main centres of population of the country with the coastal ports through which flow the imports and exports of the nation. This is the Port-Aux-Basques yards, the western terminus of the line. From here traffic crosses to North Sydney by the SS. Cabot Strait.

SINCE NEWFOUNDLAND is an island and fishing is the major industry, shipyards are required to maintain the many ships used in trade and commerce by the country. This photo shows the Newfoundland dockyard operated by the Newfoundland Railway at St. John's. Besides maintenance of the railway fleet of coastal vessels, foreign shipping is also handled here.

THE PULP AND PAPER INDUSTRY is the second in importance in Newfoundland and coupled with other forest products, yields an estimated $18,000,000 yearly. Grand Falls and Corner Brook are the centres of the industry and this photo shows the largest mill in the world. It is the Bowaters plant at Corner Brook. A British concern, Bowater's competitor is Anglo-Newfoundland Development Company, owned by the Northcliffe interests of London.

A MAJOR EXPORT of Newfoundland is seal oil and seal pelts. This photo shows seal carcasses being landed from the sealing vessel Lady MacDonald at Southside, St. John's, Nfld. The seal is processed in a nearby plant for seal oil, used by soap manufacturers in Canada. The pelts are cleaned, salted and then exported to furriers in Canada and the U.S.

Iron Ore Production To Replace Newfoundland's Fishing Industry

By DAVE McINTOSH

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 22—(CP)—Newfoundland is rich in natural resources, but just how rich nobody knows exactly. It seems certain that production of iron ore will, in the next decade, become Newfoundland's chief industry but at present it ranks well behind both fishing and pulp and paper.

After Newfoundland joins Canada as her 10th province it is likely that the federal government will send experts to the island and Labrador to make an accurate appraisal of natural resources.

Most of the island's 320,000 people make their living from the sea. The fisheries—major item is salt cod—are worth about $35,000,000 a year. Forest products, including newsprint, pulp and paper, sawn lumber and pitprops, bring in about $16,000,000 and mines some $10,000,000.

Though fishermen are scattered all around the coast of Newfoundland and along Labrador's shore, miners and woodworkers are concentrated in only two or three towns. Wabana, on Bell Island, is the home of 2,500 iron ore miners. Buchans is the centre for production of ore concentrates, zinc and lead and Grand Falls and Corner Brook, the heart of the newsprint industry.

Millions of dollars have been poured into construction of fish processing plants and the industry is still expanding. Though cod occupies the predominant place in the island's fishery, salmon, herring, halibut, turbot and lobster also figure in the picture.

Development Recent

Apart from its fisheries, Newfoundland's development started 50 years ago when the island-spanning railways was completed. Copper had been discovered in Notre Dame Bay in 1864 but this industry finally folded up in 1900.

First iron mining was done on Bell Island in 1895. Since then some 45,000,000 tons have been exported, mostly to Canada where it is smelted at Sydney, N. S., by Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, owners of the Bell Island mines.

The mine levels run more than a mile out under the sea on the west side of the island, which lies in Conception Bay near St. John's. Cable cars move the ore about a mile to loading piers on the other side of the island.

All workable pulpwood limits in Newfoundland are held by two paper companies — Anglo-newfoundland Development Company at Grand Falls and Bowater's Newfoundland Pulp and Paper Mills. The Northcliffe interests of London set up Anglo-Newfoundland in 1909 and Bowater's acquired the paper mills Corner Brook in 1938. Anglo-Newfoundland also operates mines at Buchans. Bowater's has recently expanded until it is the biggest paper mill in the world. Most of the export from both paper towns go to the United Kingdom.

Geologically, Newfoundland has never been fully surveyed, but it is known to have deposits of gold, silver chromite, manganese, antimony, lead, nickel, and non-metallics like coal, petroleum, sulphur, limestone, gypsum, asbestos, barytes and fluorspar.

Coal has been found on the west coast and the seams are believed to be the top ends of those that shoot north out of Cape Breton and under Cabot Strait.

Iron Bonanza

The biggest bonanza of all, however, is Labrador iron. Probably within three years some 10,000,000 tons will be moving annually out of Ungava and central Labrador to open hearths of steel plants in Canada and the United States.

Sealing, whaling and wooden shipbuilding are other "sea industries though none of them now has the importance of former years.

Water-power potentialities are vast. Biggest survey under way is on the Hamilton River, 200 miles west of Goose Bay in Labrador. The falls there, first discovered about 1890, have a potential of 10,000,000 horsepower, enough to supply all Canada.

Equipped with modern airfields built during the war, Newfoundland may see a new boom in air transport.

There are 70-odd small manufacturing plants in Newfoundland, most of them in St. John's that make things like furniture, bricks, margarine, fishing nets and beer. When confederation comes the competition of bigger Canadian companies will make their position a difficult one.

There are two daily newspapers in the island—the Daily News and the Evening Telegram, both in St. John's. There are several weeklies. Radio is run largely by the government and under confederation will come under the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

A thirteenth of the earth's crust is aluminum. It is found in mountains and gems, in vegetables and clay, in meat and water — practically everywhere.

Long ago the Romans knew it as a salt. They called it "alumen" and used it as a medicine or for dyeing cloth.

Until the middle 1800's, the metal aluminum was rarer and more costly than gold.
Napoleon III had his own personal tableware made of it.

Modern science found a way to make it cheaper. That is why, today, everybody can buy useful and lasting articles made of aluminum.

In Canada we have none of the high-grade aluminum ore called "bauxite". Canadians bring it in by shipload from British Guiana — a voyage of 3000 miles.

Northeastern Canada has the world's largest aluminum smelter. Alcan built it there, at Arvida. This site was chosen because it is close to both a port for ocean ships bringing bauxite and an abundant source of hydro-electric power.

Until Alcan harnessed this water power, it ran to waste. Smelting aluminum needs vast supplies of power. The electricity required to produce one ton of aluminum would light your house for fifteen years.

More than 15,000 people operate this Canadian industry. They earn more than thirty-five million dollars a year. These earnings flow across Canada.

Alcan (Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd.) makes aluminum ingots. More than 1000 independent manufacturers across Canada shape aluminum into light, strong, non-rusting articles for your use. The variety grows daily.

In addition to supplying these firms, Alcan sells about 85% of its ingots to other countries. This aluminum is now Canada's sixth largest export, a source of much needed money from abroad.

Because Alcan does market so much abroad, it is able to make aluminum in such large quantities that, in ingot form, it can be purchased more cheaply in Canada than anywhere else in the world.

Burnt Army Mess To Be Renovated

BELLEVILLE, Feb. 23—Renovation of the flame-charred ante-room and smoke-damaged reception room of the officers' mess in the Bridge Street Armouries is expected to begin within the next few days.

The rooms were victims of a flash fire last week that gutted the ante-room and caused heavy damage to furnishings, walls and ceiling in the mess proper. Damage to valuable furnishings was estimated at $3,500, and a similar sum has been quoted for the decorative scheme.

It is expected the work, which is to be done by the Royal Canadian Engineers, will take a month to complete.

A military court of inquiry probing the circumstances surrounding the fire was held here last Saturday with Major McAlpine of the Royal Canadian Artillery School, Kingston, presided. Other members of the court were Capt. Blake, Royal Canadian Engineers and Captain Hyslop, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

Mess activities in the meantime are being conducted in a lecture room adjacent to the mess.

Two Military Colleges Stage Sports Tourney

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 — (CP) — The battle will be between Royal Roads and Royal Military College in a two-day sports and drill tournament in Kingston next Friday and Saturday.

Thirty-four cadets from the service college in Victoria will meet with a team from Kingston in the first tournament of its kind. Defence officers hope it will become an annual affair.

Competitions, to be held in the R.M.C. gymn and on the main parade ground, will range from boxing to rifle shooting and will include gymnastics, basketball, volleyball and drill. A special trophy will be awarded the winning college.

Ex-Warlord, Turned Red, Eyes China's Presidency

By WALTER BRIGGS
NEA Special Correspondent

HONG KONG — (NEA) — An elderly, unobtrusive little man who recently slipped out of this British crown colony for Chinese territory may become the next leader — in name, at least — of one-fifth of humanity.

He is Marshal Li Chi-sen, 64-year-old former warlord, who aspires to the presidency of the Communist proposed "coalition" government for China's 450,000,000 people.

Around New Year's Day the marshal quietly vacated his apartment on the side of the peak above Hong Kong harbor and boarded a ship—variously reported to be Soviet, British and Filipino.

His arrival in Communist North China was heralded in a broadcast by the Communist North Shensi radio. Li's name headed a list of 45 non-Communist "democratic" figures, who, having arrived there, issued a statement of "our opinion on the current situation."

Will Support Li

The Communists, who soon may exercise most of the political power in China, are likely, many observers believe, to support Li for president.

The marshal sees himself as a rallying figure for China's anti-Chiang Kai-shek, but non-Communist left-wingers and moderates. He believes that this group as a "third force can share the governing of China with the Communists. But the way Li talks places him very close to the Communists, and many observers think he has been completely taken in by the Reds.

The Communists have strong reason for building a "coalition" facade rather than ruling the nation on an all-out Communist basis. Such a government might attract greatly-needed technicians, engineers, administrators and the like who would shy from participating in a straight Red regime.

Li is a short, fat man who usually wears the traditional Chinese skull cap, gown and cloth slippers. His face is round and kindly, making him look more a teacher than a soldier. Li hails from Kwangsi Province in South China. Kwangsi is famous for rebels — and native home of several other Chinese leaders, notably Acting President Li Tsung-jen and Central China Commander Pai Chung-hsi.

Revolted

Like the marshal, they all have variously cooperated with the generalissimo, then revolted against him. Li broke with him in January, 1947, on the grounds that Chiang had "betrayed" the Chinese people.

Li regards Chiang as a tyrant who has failed to carry out the reforms in the direction of democracy and economic welfare which were enunciated by Dr. Sun Yat-sen, the late father of the Chinese Republic.

Before Li left, this correspondent visited his apartment, with its hanging paintings of birds and bamboos. Asked how soon he expected to become president, the marshal said:

"It's not for me to say, it's up to the people."

But he left no doubt that he wanted the job.

MARSHAL LI CHI-SEN: "It is not for me to say . . ."

Had Liquid Death

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Feb. 23—(AP)—The Nazis had a liquid death spray potent enough to have knocked out whole divisions of men in exposed positions, says a United States army engineer who helped destroy the stuff. A dime-sized spot of the liquid on the skin, unless wiped off quickly, would kill a man in two minutes, asserts Maj. James M. Graham. It would penetrate ordinary clothing and some kinds of gas masks.

Keep Eye On Finland

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23—(AP) United States officials are keeping a careful watch on Russian relations with Finland for any sign of a Soviet move which might upset the delicate balance of power of the northern flank of the cold-war front. Among some well-informed officials there is strong hope that the Russians will continue to leave Finland's status unaltered during the present period of Scandinavian crisis, but no one can predict this for sure.

Fined On Two Counts

When police found William Mieklejohn driving without a license, they also found liquor in the car. At the city police court on Tuesday he was fined $15 with $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor and $3 with 2.50 costs for driving without a license.

Inadequate Lights

John R. Lewis, R.R 4 Peterborough, paid a fine and costs totalling $7.50 at the city police court on Tuesday on a plea of guilty of driving without adequate lighting on his car.

PRAYER IN CREE—Rev. J. C. Bower of Christ Church at The Pas, Man., points to a tablet of the Lord's Prayer in Cree inside the church. The first minister at the historic church was a full-blooded Cree Indian.

LINK WITH PAST—A link with the colorful history of the northwest is Christ Church at The Pas, Man., whose history dates back to the days when it was a little log mission house for the Cree Indians. This building which replaced in 1896 the first church opened in 1850, is one of the north country's main tourist attractions. Still in use are the pews, pulpit and other hand-carved work of skilled English craftsmen who helped construct the original church while searching for the ill-fated expedition led by Admiral Sir John Franklin.

Douro Man Guilty of Selling Given Two Months In Jail

Maintaining that he had confessed to keeping liquor for sale without authority to do so only because the police had "turned the heat on" and had threatened to charge two of his friends with liquor offences if he did not confess, Stanley Clark, River Rd., Douro Township, was convicted of the offence by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C. at the city police court on Tuesday and was sentenced to two months in jail. The magistrate ordered the confiscation of 73 pints of ale and 12 bottles of wine.

Owed Money

Sections of a statement made and signed by Clark stated that he had been selling liquor because he owed money to a finance company and also claimed that he had had a difficult time since returning from military service overseas.

Clark said on oath, that he had told Robert Pidgeon, one of the two men he alleged had been threatened by the police, that he would sign a statement of guilt to "clear" him until the case was heard in court. Clark explained that he was entertaining 10 or 12 people to a party in his house and claimed that despite the fact that the party continued until 2.30 a.m. there was no drunkeness.

Provincial Constable Archie Grayling maintained that when he visited the house, Clarke had asked to speak to him but he had told Clark that there were two many people present in the house for conversation there. Clark, he said, accepted his suggestion to go to the provincial police station.

Clark told the magistrate that much of his statement to the police had been untrue and he denied owing money to a finance company although he said he had been in debt.

Met in Cafe

Robert Sine, the man who had been carrying the liquor with Pidgeon, also gave evidence for the defence. He said he had met Pidgeon in a cafe that evening for the first time and that they had driven to Clark's house together. He said Pidgeon had told him that the liquor they were carrying to the car did not belong to Clark. Pidgeon had taken it to the house for the party but Clark had told him to take it home because he had already provided drinks for the guests.

As a result of the events of that evening Pidgeon was fined $15 and $2.75 costs on a charge of illegal possession of liquor and Sine, who faced a similar charge was granted an adjournment.

Invite Fenwick

In an attempt to settle the controversy between the Council and M. J. Fenwick, district representative for the United Steelworkers of America, a motion was passed: "that Brother Fenwick be invited to a meeting to speak on charges he made against this Council."

Mr. Morton asked if it were necessary for a district representative to be invited to the Council in order to appear.

Mr. Knibbs claimed that a district organizer had the automatic right to come to a meeting without invitation only if the union he represented had an organization in the area.

"I don't think Bro. Fenwick could come to this meeting except by invitation," he said.

INCOME TAX WITHOUT TEARS

After his address to the Federation of Agriculture on Tuesday, H. R. McGrogan of the Income Tax Department, was kept on his feet for another hour as he underwent a grilling from farmers and their wives. Everything from general taxation policy to the personal problems of the family were thrown at him for straight off-the-cuff replies. One inquisitor wandered slightly off the track when he asked amid much laughter: "What would happen if the farmer went on an eight-hour-day?" But Mr. McGrogan had answer for that one too. "We'd all starve to death," he said. Questions were still being fired at him as he collected his hat and coat for a last-minute dash to catch a train.—D.W.

Reject Offer To Purchase Market Site

An offer of purchase of the market property was declined by the finance committee of the council. It was made by E. V. O'Toole of Braund & O'Toole for an unnamed principal, but it was understood that the site was sought for mercantile use.

The committee decided that the amount proposed for the Charlotte-Water corner block was not sufficient. Ald. Hugh Waddell presided.

The disposition of the committee was to retain possession of the market area until the expiration of the current leases on the stores on George St. under the market hall. The last of those tenant rights terminate in 1951.

Penny-A-Day Drive In Schools

School children will be given an opportunity of taking part in the Community Chest Drive again this year. The usual penny-a-day campaign will be conducted in the schools and collections will be made from the public and separate schools by Claire G. Collins, who is chairman of this branch of the program.

In view of the fact there is a 25 per cent increase in the amount required this year to meet charitable needs, it is hoped pupils will be able to double their last year's donations, and bring two pennies a day to school. This is strictly a voluntary plan and no pressure will be brought to bear on the teachers or pupils to reach an objective. However as every penny is needed for urgent community needs, it is hoped a substantial sum will be obtained from this source.

Two Cars Damaged When Vehicles Collide

Three vehicles were involved in an accident at the junction of Sherbrooke and Aylmer Sts. shortly after nine o'clock today, causing damage to two of the cars estimated at approximately $400.

Constable Reginald McMillan, who investigated the accident, reported that Gordon C. Toms, 366 Mark St. did not stop his truck at the stop sign with the result that a car driven south on Aylmer by Robert Bruce Jackson of Otonabee collided with the truck. Mr. Jackson's car then swerved on the icy road and hit a car driven by Gerald H. Montgomery of 107 Aylmer St., crushing the side of Mr. Montgomery's car and damaging the fender of his own car. The truck was undamaged.

Only a few minutes before this accident occurred, Constable McMillen had been investigating another accident at the corner of Sherbrooke and Park Sts. Wilbert Harper, 81 Park St., was driving past a driveway from which a car driven by Francis Walsh, Otonabee, was backing, when the two cars collided.

On an icy road surface at Highway No. 7 and Monaghan Rd. two cars driven by George Hughes, R. R. 3, Peterborough and Bernard Arsenault, of Quebec, residing temporarily at 270 Reid St. collided today.

Hastings Couple Celebrate 68th Wedding Anniversary

HASTINGS, Feb. 23 (Staff)—Many married couples celebrate 40, 50 and few their 60th wedding anniversaries but there are not many who of many more years of pleasant married life to look back on. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huycke of Hastings are among these very few people and 'oday they have been married 68 years. Although Mrs. Huycke is confined to her bed for the time being as the result of a recent fall she is extremely bright and cheerful. Mr Huycke is in fine physical condition for a man who is 94 and has worked hard all his life. His wife is 92.

Miss the Old Farm

Theirs is a story of a bountiful and busy life on a fine farm that they both miss a great deal. Since moving from their beloved Sunny Brae 10 years ago to a small house in the village, they say they seem to feel confined. A photo of their old home in a beautiful valley east of Hastings along the Trent River is proof that it must have been one of the choicest sites in Percy township. The broad sweep of the water, the islands and high wooded hills was a constant delight to them. The love of open spaces was born in them, as the saying goes for Mr. Huycke's people were of United Empire Loyalists stock from Pennsylvania.

His great-grand father settled in Prince Edward County. He was a large strong man who was famed for his feats of strength such as bending horseshoes straight and lifting an anvil by the horn with one hand. It is recalled in family annuals that he rowed a boatload of pork from Kingston to Toronto. Another time he rowed across Lake Ontario, sixty miles, to bring a family from the New York shore to the Canadian side.

Mr. Huycke was born in Prince Edward County, son of Andrew Huycke and Mary Ann Gibson, who with his five brothers cleared and settled Sunny Brae.

When 26 he married Jane E. Berry who originally came from Millbrook. Her father, a wagon maker, and blacksmith uncle had a combined business there. The former moved to a farm at Oak Hills near Warkworth. They met at a social function in the village of Hastings.

Once Owend Oxen

On Sunny Brae farm, Mr. Huycke recalls once owning a team of oxen. However at an early age he became devoted to horses and took great pride in standard breed. To him they were the finest of animals, much better than Clydesdales which he also owned. He raised sheep, had a large orchard an usually had a herd of 16 Holstein cows.

Like all farm women of those days, Mrs. Huycke had a very busy time of it and admits that when pressed she could help out with the milking, although she did not like it. There was butter making, preserving and cooking to be done while she raised three daughters and one son. They are Mrs. Watt of Winnipeg, Miss Mae Huycke, at home, and Mrs. L. A Gould of Stavner. Their son Cecil farms near Whitby.

Made the Cloth

From their own sheep, she spun and wove flannel cloth from pre-cleaned and carded wool. In one year she said she wove 70 yards of flannel which went into clothing and blankets. In fact, some of the blankets are still in use in their present home.

There were also times of social activities regardless of busy farm work. Mr. Huycke was very fond of dancing but his wife was not. She was an excellent singer both in church choirs and social evenings and when dancing was called for she obliged them by lilting popular tunes of the day.

The marital difference between them, which was really not very serious on either side was Mr Huckve's love of sauerkraut, part of his Pennsylvania Dutch heritage. His wife, however detested the smell of it. Being a good sport she said that she still remembers cooking this cabbage dish and buckwheat pancakes for his breakfast for many years. Eaten with maple syrup produced from their own sugar bush, it was delicious dish, declares Mr. Huycke.

Mr. Huycke still enjoys reading. She used to wear glasses and her daughter said that a few years ago she found her eyesight improving and has been able to read without them since. As for radio listening, she says she enjoys it but could do without it.

They do not anticipate having many guests calling on them for their anniversary to-day since they both feel they have celebrated such occasions sufficiently in the past. Mrs. Huycke is more interested in being able to get out of bed again as soon as possible. She admitted having had many bad falls in her day but was determined that she would never die as the result of one. Judging by her merry laughter it is very possible that she will soon be around her home once more. Her husband is looking forward to spring when he can get out and poke around down town.

Rev. A. O'Brien Dies In Hospital

Rev. Austin O'Brien, 54, a former resident of Peterborough, died suddenly on Tuesday night in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto. He had been confined there for the past six months.

Father O'Brien was of the Basilian Fathers and at the time of death he was attached to St. Basil's parish, Toronto. At one time he taught at the Basilian Fathers' college in Rochester.

He was born in Peterborough, son of the late Michael O'Brien and Josephine Sheehy, and lived here during the early part of his life. Well known as an athlete he played goal for three years with St. Michael's Junior A team.

In 1925 he was ordained in St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto.

His father was a mathematics teacher at the old Collegiate Institute and later Inspector of Separae Schools for Ontario.

Left are three brothers, John D. and Gerald of Toronto, and Richard of Detroit; a sister, the Rev. Sister Emerentia, also of Toronto. Among his cousins are the Rev. Dr. R. Sheehy of Peterborough, Fergus Sheehy of Rochester, and the Revs. K. A. and V. J. Corkery of Peterborough.

Details of the funeral will be announced later.

Tar Explodes Firemen Called

Exploding cans of tar that spattered the walls of a construction shack and began to burn caused workmen who are repairing the Quaker Oats Dam on London St. some anxious moments early today.

Half a dozen tins of tar, about standard soup-can size, were placed on a forge in preparation for work on the roof. They became overheated and exploded showering the room of the shack with the burning fluid.

Firemen extinguished the blaze with a booster pump. The inside walls of the room were seared by the flames but damage was not extensive.

Work is being done by the Gunite Waterproofing Co. for the Quaker Oats Co.

Farmers Urged To Consolidate Their Ranks

A definite plan of consolidation within the ranks of local agriculturists was advocated on Tuesday by W. W. Dawson, president of the Peterborough Federation of Agriculture. He was addressing a record audience of farmers, wives and friends at the annual meeting of the federation.

Explaining this program further, he said, "What I mean is that the strength of our organization should come from the back concessions where the rank and file of agriculture is carrying on.

"One of the big jobs of the Federation of Agriculture in the past has been the development of a closer relationship based on mutual confidence and understanding with labor, industry, consumer and Government groups," said Mr. Dawson.

"The year 1948 has been one perhaps lacking opportunities for spectacular displays on the part of our organization. But while lacking spectacular developments, it has been a year of heavy 'slugging' for all directors and officers. I feel sure that as the new year unfolds our negotiations will further develop and more progress will be noticeable."

The president contended that the local federation has gained prestige through its program, but added the warning, "There is much yet to be done in this field and so it must be a continuing program in operation."

He thanked the board of directors, secretary and all affiliated organizations for their support.

The six directors were re-elected. They are David McIntyre, RR 8, Peterborough; Mrs. Roland Scott, RR 2, Peterborough; Stewart Nelson, RR 1, Keene; Henry Sharpe, RR 4, Peterborough; Elmer Milburn, RR 4, Peterborough, and Bruce Graham.

The new executive will be elected at the March meeting of the federation.

Mary Wood entertained the diners with several piano solos.

Committee Asks Acceptance Of $30,475 Tender

Acceptance of the Canadian Ice Machinery Co. tender of $30,475 for the installation of an ice-making plant at the Civic Arena has been recommended by the finance committee of the council.

The disappointment of this mild season in its uncertainties at the Park St. spot sharpened public opinion of the inadequacy of the rink in its dependence on the weather.

Council some weeks ago appointed a committee to enquire into the question of artificial ice. Investigation was made here by refrigeration experts, three bids were obtained on an ice-making plant, and it seemed likely Monday night that some action may soon be authorized.

$750,000 Project

The news from Sault Ste. Marie last week of the expenditure of $750,000 on a community arena and assembly place chilled local hopes of getting early action on Peterborough's Memorial Centre. Incidentally, the people of this city showed the way to the rest of the province in fast and early financing of a memorial project, and then blew a gasket. Others that began later on the local model of subscription went through to completion.

Peterborough ha $300,000 in sight, and the Sault rink indicates something of what the cost might pile up to. That clearer realization of the local problem, quickened local interest in making something more of the Park St. arena than a natural ice plant.

Floor To Cost $13,000

Cost of a terazza floor for the arena is estimated at $13,000. Those two items of cost amount to $43,000. Opinion in the council is dubious of early undertaking of the Centre, and in the meantime, the council feels, the young people of the city should be provided with at least the equivalent facility which Lindsay has established, artificial ice from the middle of October as far as they wish to go through April.

It may be that this matter will receive some further discussion at the board of works meeting next Monday.

Council Guests Citizens' Band

Peterborough Citizens Band were hosts on Tuesday evening to His Worship and Mrs. Max J Swanston, members of the City Council, the Recreation Commission and their wives. Under the leadership of bandmaster Capt. W. Peryer and his assistant Wallace Parnell, the band gave an hour's impromptu concert in Ashburnham Hall.

This was followed by a vote of thanks by Mr. Swanston on behalf of the city and by R. J. Bolton, chairman of the Recreation Commission. The serving of refreshments was under the direction of Mrs. Parnell.

The band has been practicing all winter for their radio broadcasts, the first of which will be on March 8 from 9:15 to 9:30 p.m. It will be followed by three half-hour programs from 9:00 till 10:00 p.m. and scheduled for March 15, 22 and 29.

Expropriation Case Continues Next Week

The engagement of Judge S L. Smoke as arbiter in the city's expropriation of the J. T. O'Connell property continued to-day, and may not be completed by the end of the week.

John R. Sinclair was on the stand this morning as a witness for Mr. O'Connell and was followed this afternoon by C. E. Purnell of Hamilton, concluding this phase of the hearing.

Presentation of the claim of $6,000 by C. Paterno and C. Fisico against the city for loss of the crop had been planted on the O'Connell land will then be begun by W. J. A. Fair, KC.

The city's position is then to be submitted by T. J. Carley, KC. with the probability that the case will extend into next week.

Action Dismissed By Mr. Justice Genest

In a judgment handed down at Osgoode Hall Mr. Justice Genest has dismissed with costs the action brought against the Crown Trust and Guarantee Co as executors of F. J. Robinson deceased to recover sum of $5,868.00 from defendants on ground that the sum was expended by the defendant for insurance premiums on real estate wrongly paid out of income of the estate instead of being charged to capital.

The action was brought by Laura Leonard and Lillian Hall executrices of the will of Rachel Robinson. A. L. Elliott K.C. was for the plaintiffs and T. J. Carley K.C. for the defendant.

22 Contestants In CGE Amateur Show

The second annual amateur show presented under the auspices of the Social and Athletic Association of the Canadian General Electric Company was a popular and successful event of Tuesday evening in the Brock St. Summer Gardens. Over fourteen hundred people whistled and stamped and clapped for the contestants, whose ages graded all the way down from mature years to the quarter-pint lassie of three, little Cheryl Graham, who piped a sweet little unaccompanied solo, "Hair of Gold and Eyes of Blue." The selections graded all the way up from be-bop and jive to the old favorite, "The Deathless Army," sung by Claude Shewen, who took second prize.

Boy Wins First

First prize winner was Patrick Masterson, a gay young lad who sang "Dear Old Donegal," in a pure-toned soprano that took the ear of the judges, who had a difficult time deciding winners in such a varied menu of entertainment.

Third went to Gail Burfield, a sweet-voiced little lass who sang "A Tree Grows in the Meadow," and fourth was won by little Peggy Jonnson, smart, in rose and black, with a clever pair of feet for a chair tap dance.

Others taking part were the Misses Eileen Hall, Donna, Judy and Beth Colnson, Judy Bell, Margaret Thompson, Doreen and Phyllis Hutchison, Theresa Heath, Barbara Mann, Patricia McDougall, Nancy Graham (Lakefield), Marjorie Lang, Shirley Harris and Joan McIlwain, and Messrs. Norman Howe, George Alley, Vern Salt, Leon Leonard, Harvey Duck, Malcolm McMartin, Roy Gilchrist, Eric Cotton. The program included songs, impersonations, tap dancing, harmonica and guitar music. Guest artists were Miss Mignon Mayneord whose whistling solos evoked tremendous appreciation, and Ted Bradshaw, whose magic tricks, in which he was assisted by his wife, got a big hand from his fascinated audience. Hal McFarlane and his orchestra also added much to the interest of the evening, with well played intermission selections and accompanists for the contestants.

Judges were Martin B. Chenhall, George E. Chandler and Miss Cathleen McCarthy.

Master of ceremonies was Del Crary and the committee in charge was composed of W. Bennett, chairman of the club's entertainment committee, and Messrs. P. Calladine, James Price and W. Collison.

SHOWS FAVORABLE BALANCE

The annual financial statement of the Peterborough County Federation of Agriculture showed an excess of receipts over expenditure of $170.06. By December 31, the grant from the County Council which must carry the Federation through the summer months had boosted the favorable balance to $1,384.65.

He said he was making the appeal as a doctor and not as a politician.

Truman Does Own Appointing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23 — (AP)—Critics of his administration last night received personal and blunt notice from President Truman that no one is going to influence his appointments.

Some 200 persons— members of the Reserve Officers Association and their wives —heard Truman deliver that startling pronouncement in an earthy, matter-of-fact, impromptu talk last night at a dinner honoring Maj.-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, his military aide.

"Now, I am just as fond and just as loyal to my military aide as I am to the high brass, and I want you to distinctly understand that any one who thinks he can cause any of those people to be discharged by me, by some smart aleck statement over the air or in the paper, he has got another think coming.

"No commentator or columnist names any members of my cabinet, or my staff. I name them myself, and when it is time for them to be moved on, I do the moving— nobody else."

Provinces Press Rate Opposition

OTTAWA, Feb. 23 (CP)—With a limited amount of time to present their case, the provinces today pressed forward with their opposition to the railways' application for a further 20-per-cent freight rate hoist before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

At the conclusion of yesterday's hearings, Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chief commissioner, said the board would sit longer hours if necessary to finish hearings by the end of the week. He suggested an adjournment then to March 9 to give the parties time to prepare their argument, and a hearing of argument limited to seven days.

While final details of this arrangement remain to be worked out, the provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—will continue their case. It followed conclusion yesterday of the Canadian National Railways' evidence, which ended the railways' argument begun last Jan. 11.

Many close friends journeyed by bus from Haliburton to attend the funeral service of the late Mrs. Melville H. McKnight, which was held from the funeral home of A. Comstock & Sons, Water Street, on Monday, at 2:00 p.m. The service was conducted by Rev. Dr James Semple and Rev. G. Smythe of Haliburton.

Rev. Smythe paid warm tribute to Mrs. McKnight for her work, both in and out of the church, which, he stated, was obvious by the large number of floral pieces. Had travelling conditions been better, he added, many more friends would have attended the service.

The late Mrs. McKnight was born in Roseneath, the daughter of the late Rev. C. H. and Mrs. Fusee. She taught school in King Edward School, Peterborough, and in Haliburton.

Pallbearers were Ronald J. Curry, Alvin Walling, James Johnston, Douglas Kenning, George H. Thayer, and Archie Brown.

Besides her husband, Melville H. McKnight, she leaves two sisters, Miss Ethel M. Fusee of St. Thomas and Miss Eva Llewella Fusee of Peterborough, and two brothers, Clarence L. J. Fusee of West Hall, and Melville A. L. Fusee of Ottawa.

Although the late Mr. Chaddwick lived the greater part of his life in Yorkshire, England, he acquired many friends in and around Peterborough, which was shown by the well attended service and the number of floral tributes.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. B. Boothroyd and Mrs. J. Wood, both of Peterborough.

Gardiner Defends Policies Boosts Farmers' Income

OTTAWA, Feb. 23—(CP)—Agricultural Minister James Gardiner defining his policies against opposition attacks in the House of Commons Tuesday, said that Canadian farmers are making more money than ever before. He chided the Opposition for their criticisms of the Anglo-Canadian food agreements and said it was the last Conservative government which ended free trade ushering in the quota system of empire preferences in the 1930s.

The present United Kingdom trade situation stemmed from that.

The Liberal party, he said, had increased Canada's trade 50 per cent between 1935 and the war and much more since.

He cited figures to show that the gross national income of Canadian farmers was $970,000,000 between 1926 and 1929 and $2,270,000,000 between 1946 and 1948. It was still rising.

At the House opening, Prime Minister St. Laurent bitterly denounced religious persecution in Communist Europe and announced that R. M. Macdonnell, Canadian Charge D'Affaires in Prague, has been assigned the job of getting first-hand information on what is going on behind the iron curtain.

Reconstruction Minister Winters said the government does not favor a Dominion-Provincial-Municipal conference on housing at this time. The government feels more progress can be made by discussing with each province or municipality their own particular problems on their merits.

Mr. Lockhart (PC-Lincoln) said the danger of Communism could not be overrated. He was pleased that in his riding employers and employees were sitting down together to discuss their problems in a much more tolerant and better way than when the unions were sometimes under Red influence.

Of taxes, he said people were wondering when they would get relief. Young couples were being penalized. Travel was injured. Incomes were tapped too heavily.

He told Defence Minister Claxton lingering "evils" from the war could injure recruiting for the armed forces. One young lad had wanted to join up until two veteran brothers had cited experiences.

Housing was a heavy burden on veterans generally. All sorts of obstacles were placed in the way of obtaining low-rental housing. Inconsistencies in pension rights hurt, too.

Mr. Lockhart criticized government housing for veterans. He said such things as this all hurt recruiting.

Switching to unemployment, he recalled that people were "coaxed" to leave small towns and farms during the war and refused to leave the cities when the war was over.

Carley Sifts Comparable Land Values At Hearing

Sales of comparable property in the annexed area south of Lansdowne Street and east and west of Park Street were reviewed in the hearing of the J. T. O'Connell block expropriation by the city before His Honor Judge Smoke Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. George A. Lister, Toronto, who had valued the ten acres at $28,000 in his evidence on behalf of Mr. O'Connell, was cross-examined by T. J. Carley, KC, representing the city. From information he had prepared, Mr. Lister said there was only one lot sold in 1948 on the south side of O'Connell Road. The price was $6 a foot. There were no sales in that locality during 1946-1947.

"I don't think there was much development there prior to annexation," Mr. Lister said.

"And this one sale at $6 a foot was after expropriation," Mr. Carley remarked.

Sales on the north side of King George Street in 1946 ranged in price from $2.50 a foot to $5. No sales were recorded in 1947, and four lots in 1948 sold at $5 to $6 a foot.

Price for Frontage

Mr. Lister's price for the entire O'Connell frontage on Rose Avenue, Monaghan Road, O'Connell Road, and Park Street was $8 a foot.

Mr. Lister's records showed that the McKellar subdivision was sold in block to the city in Dec. 1945. Alex Turner was paid $6,850 and Mr. Waldie $5,000. The total was $11,850 "for between 10 and 11 acres."

"It sold around $1,200 an acre," Mr. Lister said. He agreed that the McKellar block was in close proximity to the O'Connell property. McKellar was the next block to the south.

Not Considered

As to the Peterborough Canoe Co. area, Mr. Lister said he did not make note of it because it was industrial property. "I don't think it is fair to compare industrial property with residential property."

Mr. Carley—"On the west side of Monaghan Road would you expect there would be more value for industrial land than for residential?"

Mr. Lister—"I didn't investigate the land west of Monaghan Road, and I draw the line between values for commercial, industrial and residential purposes."

Mr. Lister said the Arndon property prices was about $1,000 to $1,200 an acre. Some land was reserved of it, and he didn't get the exact measurements.

Gives Estimate

Mr. Carley commented "Our estimate is $877 an acre."

Mr. Carley—"Do you consider the Caddy subdivision on Ashburnham more valuable than the Arndon?"

Mr. Lister—"I do not, nor do I think it was as desirable."

Mr. Carley suggested that annexation of North Monaghan territory accounted substantially for the growth in population in a 12-year period from 1934.

"If the population was 4,500 in the edge of the city, and its boundaries were extended and those people were taken in, actually it would make very little difference in population, because it was there before."

Mr. Lister—"Correct, but if, for example, there were 60 new houses, averaging five persons a house, there would be 300 more people there."

Queries Distinction

Mr. Carley—"Did you draw any distinction between the sale to Jobbitt and the value of the rest of the O'Connell property?"

"I didn't estimate that it was all worth $15 a foot."

"The Jobbitt purchase was a commercial property?"

"Mr. Jobbitt has 208 ft. on Park St. but he has land on Rose and O'Connell streets. He has a store on part of the Park St. front, but what he will do with the rest I don't know. He may not build stores on the rest of that frontage."

Mr. Carley insisted the Jobbitt purchase was made for commercial purposes.

"I can't answer that," Mr. Lister answered.

Witness said that in valuing the O'Connell property at $8 a foot frontage he was looking at it as the entire block. "The Jobbitt price at $15 got some consideration from me before arriving at $8 a foot over the whole block.

Makes Grave Error

Mr. Carley recalled that after buying the property 45 years ago at $2,500, and subdividing it in 1911, Mr. O'Connell had made a grave error in expecting to sell, because he sold only a few lots and as late as in 1936 he had let some of the lots go for taxes.

Mr. Lister—"But the whole structure has changed since 1944".

Mr. Carley—"If you were buying that property in 1911, would you have given one cent more because the owner had surveyed the land in 30 ft. lots back in 1911, and evidently expected to sell it?"

Mr. Lister—"No, I don't think I would".

It transpired that the 30 foot lots as they were subdivided by Mr. O'Connell were required to be 40 ft. minimimu frontage by the city.

Extra Value

Mr. Lister admitted he was inclined to put some extra value on property by reason of expropriation. As to what that difference might be he said he didn't know because he did not give much consideration.

"In expropriation I try to concede anything I can for present and potential values."

Mr. Carley—"If I am selling any property I'd want the highest price I could get."

Mr. Lister—"Expropriation is different property from the ordinary property put up for private sale."

"I didn't work it out on this case," witness said.

Factors in determining the price were sales in the locality, demand for property there, speed of sales, subdivision activity.

Mr. Carley—"You take them into consideration in the same way for sales in the open market."

In re-examination by Mr. German, witness said he did not allow anything in his price for forceable entry.

"So $8 a foot was only the value of the land?"—"Yes".

15-Month Term For Robbery On Belmont Lake

A term of two years in Guelph reformatory was recommended by Crown Attorney John Bradshaw as a kindess to Douglas Zachariah, who faced 16 charges at the city police court on Tuesday of breaking into summer cottages at Belmont Lake. Magistrate W. R. Philp imposed a sentence of 15 months and five months indefinite imprisonment.

Mr. Bradshaw told the court that Zachariah had virtually no education and he thought, in view of the fact that he appeared to have no home life, he could benefit from such a term.

Zachariah pleaded guilty to all the charges.

Provincial Constable Archie Grayling said that in answer to a report that cottages which were owned by people living in the States and distant parts of Canada had been entered he and Provincial Constable Crough went there to find screens pulled off, doors torn open, windows smashed and houses ransacked.

All cupboards and draws had been opened, food was spilt and the pockets of nearly every garment had been turned inside out. He said that in the shack, where Zachariah had been living alone since his mother left for Trent River three months ago, he found clothing and fishing lines.

Mr. Bradshaw thought that it was not a case of vicious stealing but merely of childish curiosity Zachariah had told the police that he broke into the cottages merely to see what was inside.

Keep Away From Station

Warned that he must keep away from the railway station, Michael Twomey, 393 Water St. was acquitted by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K. C. at the city police court on Tuesday on a charge of vagrancy. He was fined $10 with $2.50 costs for being drunk.

Mississagi Dam To Power Northern Plants

THESSALON, Feb. 23—(CP)—A 235-foot concrete wall is rising from the rocky bed of the Mississagi river where, a year and a half ago, the famous logging stream tumbled through a narrow gorge.

The floor of the gorge is dry now as workmen drill and blast laying the foundation of a dam that will be able to feed Northern Ontario industry with 42,000 kilowatts of electrical energy.

The river, rising from a tangle of little lakes just south of the main transcontinental line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, crashes into a coffer dam and disappears into the cliff wall. Sweeping through a 900-foot long tunnel, it emerges below the dam site and runs its ancient course to Lake Huron.

In the spring of 1950, when melting snows have swelled the river to a torrent, Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission engineers expect the tunnel will be sealed and the water will pile up against the dam, falling 215 feet to drive generating turbines. The dam will be the highest ever built by the commission.

Already the outline of the dam is sketched in a web of Bailey bridge units that support the wooden concrete forms. Night and day concrete is poured into the forms.

At the tunnel site, 18 miles northeast of this Northern Ontario town where temperatures drop lower than 20 below zero, the concrete never gets a chance to freeze.

When the water is heaped up against the dam, it will cover some 5,000 acres. All timber will be removed from the area for lumbering and pulpwood processing.

WHERE THE MISSISSAGI RIVER used to flow, workers drill into rock for foundation of the tunnel development dam north of Thessalon. Drilling will go 40 feet below the original river bed to give water a longer flow to power house.

PRODUCTION INCREASE

Production of cars and commercial vehicles for Britain in 1948 was 10 to 20 per cent more than the 1947 output.

Believe Young Marshal Held For Peace Mediator's Role

By GEORGE LU

TAIPEI, Formosa, Feb. 23—(AP)—The "young marshall" who kidnapped Chiang Kai-Shek in 1936 was supposed to be released from custody in January, but he's still here. Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's releasewas ordered by acting president Li Tsung-Jen, who took over when Chiang went into "retirement."

It is widely believed here the young marshal still languishes because Chiang has not given his personal approval.

Some say also that Marshal Chang also is balking at the terms of his release.

There is an unconfirmed report that Gov. Chen Cheng of Formosa visited the marshal recently on Chiang Kai-shek's orders and askd Chang if he would negotiate a peace with the Communists.

Chang is supposed to have replied that he was "too old (he is 48) to get back into the whirlwind of politics.

Chang hasn't exactly been a "convict" in his 12 years of detention. He is at a villa in the hills near Hsintu, south of Taipei.

Before that he was held at Chiang Kai-shek's ancestral home at Fenghawa, and during the war at Tsuny, in southwest China about 130 miles south of the wartime capital of Chungking.

The few who have been allowed to visit him say he has read himself into a good authority on the history of the Ming Dynasty —1368 to 1644.

He plays tennis and chess and is allowed to go hunting with Maj. Gen. Liu Yu-kwang, a supervisor assigned by the Ministry of National Defecne.

Now what the Communists are winning in China, Chang Hsueh-liang's name is being mentioned more and more as a possible peacemaker.

The young marshal may be one of the few people in China whom the Communists might feel any obligation to listen to.

Whether such a man could stay out of politics is a question.

Send War Wife Home

TORONTO, Feb. 23 — (CP)— A pretty 19-year-old Scottish war bride, Mrs. Anne Jean Knox, deserted last October by her Canadian ex-soldier husband, soon will be on her way back to her family in Scotland. The city on Tuesday voted to provide transportation for Mrs. Knox, mother of a six-months-old baby.

VICTOR SIFTON, who organized and headed the post-war Canadian Ordnance Association, and who has been appointed Colonel Commandant of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps. During the war he was Master General of the Ordnance, and refused all rank offered him. Largely due to his efforts the Ordnance Depot at Longue Pointe became the largest military arsenal in the British Commonwealth.

Civic Hospital Governors Give Student Nurses' Dance

A greatly anticipated event that even exceeded expectations was the second annual formal dance for student nurses of Civic Hospital. The affair is given by the Board of Governors of the Hospital and was held Tuesday evening at the Kawartha Country Club.

Ninety couples attending were received by Mr. John R. Marshall, chairman of the board, and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. John Hornel, hospital superintendent, and Mrs. Hornal; Miss A. L. Thompson, principal of the school of nursing; Dr. S. Y. Walsh, Miss C. Wilson, and Miss Vera Fallis, president of the Students' Council.

The spirit of comradeship which exists with the girls in residence dominated the party and was most evident when they began singing after supper. Their class songs which have original words were sung to a very appreciative audience of guests.

The nurses chose the blue and white of their uniforms for the decorative color scheme and had streamers and balloons overhanging the dance floor and doorways. Mrs. Walter Perry, social director, assisted the committee of Misses Jean Werry, Barbara Deyell, Beverley Pringle, Allison Townsend, Doris Hannah, Lillian Coones and Leata McNevan with the arrangements and prizes.

A spot dance was won by Miss Mary Nesbitt and Miss Patricia Weston won the girls' elimination dance. An elimination dance for gentlemen was won by Frank Gray. The coat dance was a gay novelty number finally won by Miss Allison Townsend and Jerry Juby.

St. Paul's Auxiliary Holds Dinner Meeting

WMS Evening Auxiliary of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church met Monday evening for dinner. About 40 members and friends gathered in the Sunday School hall where table were set. Later the regular meeting took place in the guild room.

Miss Margaret Reid, president, opened with the call to worship in the form of a poem, followed by prayer. Mrs. L. Mitchell was in charge of the devotional period. Plans for the Auxiliary Spring Tea, to be held the latter part of May, were discussed.

Mr. Christopher Gledhill, organist and choirmaster, favored the group with two beautiful piano selections.

Speaker of the evening, Mrs. H. Tate of Millbrook, was introduced by the president. She gave an inspiring address on fundamentals of the work of the Women's Missionary Society. Mrs. Tate pointed out that woman's work in the church began the first Easter morning when the two Marys were told, as they stood by the empty tomb to "'come and see" and "'go and tell". Thus Christian women through the ages came to know Him and to make Him known.

Aim of the WMS was also stressed. This aim, to unite women, girls and children in prayer and service for the advancement of the Kingdom of God at home and abroad, should never once be forgotten.

At the close of her address, Mrs. Tate presented a Life Membership to Miss Marjorie Nesbitt, on behalf of a friend of the Auxiliary.

A vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Miss Mary Greer. The meeting closed with prayer by the president.

Divorce Request Brings Husband To His Senses

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been married seven year and have three lovely children; but due to my husband's mean disposition and abusive treatment of me, my love for him is entirely dead. I have met another man who loves me and I have told my husband about him and asked him for a divorce.

Dorothy Dix

My wanting to leave my husband has given him a jolt and he seems a changed man. He says if I will only give him another chance he will prove that he can make me happy. What must I do? Divorce my husband and marry this other man? Do you think we can ever be happy together?

UNHAPPY WIFE

ANSWER: I think, that all things considered, you will stand a better chance of happiness with your husband than you would with the other man. There are the children, you see, and they make an alien element in any second marriage that nearly always wrecks it.

It seems almost impossible for either a man or a woman to rise to the heights of not being jealous of stepchildren. A man adores the maternal passion in a woman when it is expended on his own children. He excuses her absorption in them, but he resents it with every fiber of his being when she displays this mother love towards an other man's children.

Will Mind P's, Q's

Evidently your husband has received a badly needed lesson in finding out that he has lost your love by his cruelty toward you, so you may safely count on his trying to make things pleasant for you hereafter. He will mind his p's and q's and probably make a pleasanter companion than the other man whose peculiarities of temper himself in a different guise to a woman after he is married to her from the one he wore when he was courting her.

I do not believe you can bring back the thrill and glamour of love once they are gone, but I do believe that on the ashes of a cold heartstone you can light the fires of a friendship that will be very warm and comfortable. And I think that you will always have the happiness of knowing that you have put duty before inclination, and that you have done the brave thing and the right thing.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a young man in my late twenties and have tried very hard to make a sucess in life. I have worked steadily and made every effort, but to no avail. Must I keep on trying, believing that success will come eventually, or give up entirely? It seems foolish to waste your life trying when it isn't really your fault that you don't succeed.

G. H. T.

ANSWER: Well, G. H. T., perhaps it is your fault. Perhaps you are trying to do a thing that you can never do, so all your striving is simply lost motion. Work, or itself, is not enough. You must work intelligently, and if you do work intelligently you will always succeed in the end.

So my advice to you is to sit down and vivisect yourself. Be honest with yourself, no matter how much it hurts, and find out what it is in you that has made you fail. Perhaps you are trying to do something for which you are not adapted. Perhaps you are a bungling amateur who never has really learned to do any one thing well. Perhaps you lack the courage to go where fortune calls. Think it over.

But it is always worth while to struggle, even if we do fail, because if we have done our best, we at least have our self-respect.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a high school girl and, as studies are very hard for me, I am anxious to quit school and go to work. But my mother insists that I must continue with my education. What is your advice?

BERTHA H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER. Study hard and get through school as quickly as possible if you are in a hurry to get to work. Remember that the first question you will be asked when you apply for a job is whether you graduated from high school or not, all the better places will turn you down. The more you know the higher wages you can get.

Perhaps if you will think of school as a ladder on which you are going to climb up to the things you want, it will not seem so distasteful to you.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You receive a personal telephone call during office hours and your caller talks on and on. You realize you shouldn't be holding a business telephone for long.

WRONG WAY: Since the other made the call, feel that you cannot bring it to an end.

RIGHT WAY: Since the call was made to you at your office during working hours, feel free to bring the conversation to an end, as you can explain that you are busy.

DESIGNED FOR SPRING—Carrying out the importance of beading in Spring fashions story are the above original models with the "couturier" look. Right, two-piecer is brown and oyster white wool with Chinoise designs in fine beading and dress featuring scopped neckline outlined in some bead effect.

Stylists Trim With Flowers

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON, Feb. 23 —(CP)— London designers have accented flowers in afternoon and evening dresses of the softer silks and satins.

Large posies, artistically shaded, are worn at shoulder, waist or hip. Examples are: pink lilies on charcoal tulle, full-bown red roses on nigger brown chiffon, pale blue and green lilac tucked into the waist of a bronze satin dress.

Rich rustling silks are lit by glorious splashes of color from flowers nestling in folds and tucks. Glossy ivy leaves girdle the waist and form one shoulder of an ultramarine all-net dress.

An aquamarine tulle evening dress by Hartnell has a V-neck and leg-of-mutton sleeves with collar and cuffs of matching velvet. The tight bodice comes to a low hipline rom which flares a full skirt. The elegant charm of this dress is intensified by the all-over sequining, cleverly shaded pink roses with interwined leaves and twists of aquamarine.

Flowers are used to outline hip-length bodices breaking into full skirts, to ruche the fullness of a scarf neckline, or to outline the curves of a strapless top.

Necklines are news this spring and several designers are using new shapes.

One example fits snugly round the neck at the back but plunges, widening as it goes, as low as it decorously can. Another was the reverse, extremely wide at the top—almost off the shoulders—its frontline midway between high and low, taking form of a wide letter "M".

Afternoon dresses call for attention as neckline descend ever lower. They are often magnificently scooped out and partly filled in again with chiffon, tulle, lace or silk. Many deeps Vs are used with attractive outlining. Fichus are in the frontline—draped high or low, wide or narrow; attractively scooped, draped or flowered.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Syrup, at Home

You'll be surprised how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, when you try this well known recipe. It is universally used throughout Canada because it gives such gratifying results. It's no trouble at all to mix, and costs but a trifle.

Into a 16 ounce bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then fill up with granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes four times as much cough medicine for your money. Never spoils and tastes fine.

Quickly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps to clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This explains why it brings such quick relief.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for its soothing effect on throat irritations. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

Pinex Is Dependable!

Mrs. J. E. Huggins Receives Gift

Miss May Welch, Princess Street was hostess Tuesday night to the Jean Wagar Mission Circle meeting.

St. James' CGIT group were guests and conducted the worship service, based on the theme "Sweet Hour of Prayer." Service was led by leader, Mrs. Les. McLaren, who also contributed the beautiful solo, "Somebody Cares." Assisting in the service, were Patsy Barrie, Shirley Manley, June Bullied. The latter acted as pianist throughout and played a lovely solo. Temperance was presented in a short reading by Alma Hunter, and a brief business session followed. World's Day of Prayer was announced for Friday, March 4 in the Salvation Army Temple. An invitation was received from Mrs. F. W. Craik to hold March meeting at the parsonage, with Louise Seabrook and Norma Ephgrave as the entertaining committee.

Messages of thanks were received from Mrs. A. Wilson and Miss Jessie Martin for remembrances during their illness.

Letters were received from the Advisory President, Mrs. E. J. Wagar, and Miss Mabel Dulmage, Presbyterial Secretary of Christian Stewardship, and from Miss Hazel Reesor, missionary in Africa.

Eleanor Fife and Dorothy Martin were appointed a telephone committee.

The members of the cast read the second act of "Straight Furrow," a missionary play for study this year.

A feature of the meeting was a presentation to Mrs. J. E. Huggins, who is leaving to reside in Toronto. An address of regret was read by Gladys Langton and Mrs. Huggins was presented with a new Testament.

A social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by Dorothy Martin, Eleanor Fife and the hostess.

6—In Memoriams

HENDREN—In loving memory of my dear wife, Mildred Anna Hendren, who passed away February 23, 1945 in Vancouver General Hospital.
The unseen strings of memory's harp
Are softly touched today;
Thoughts of you come crowding fast
And tears I cannot stay;
Lo I shed a tear that is silent,
And breathe a sigh of regret.
You were mine and I remember
Though all the world forget.
—Lovingly remembered by her husband, Howard Hendren.

In loving memory of our dear sisters Lillie and Florence, Mrs. Wilfred Jackson, who passed away February 23, 1947 and Mrs. Harold Harrison, who passed away July 20, 1946.
We hear their voices
Whispering softly
Dear ones, be brave and true.
At the end of the lane of shadows
We will be waiting there for you.
—Sadly missed by the family.

JACKSON—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Lillian Jackson, who passed away February 23, 1947.
God knew that she was suffering.
That the hills were hard to climb
So he closed her weary eyelids.
And whispered: "Peace be thine."
—Lovingly remembered by husband, Wilfred and family.

Scouts Urged To Beware Of Communism

"In Canada a great force of evil called Communism is working to destroy our freedoms of speech, free action and religion," Wilson Gemmell, Royal Bank of Canada manager, Tuesday night told the Park Hill Cubs and Scouts. The 9th Troop was having a Father and Son Banquet in the YMCA to celebrate Boy Scout Week and Lord Baden Powell's birthday.

"Communism tries to do away with the kindly spirit that is taught in Boy Scout work. This system was developed by the Nazi and taken up by the Communists. The Russian people have to accept this system."

Mr. Gemmell told the boys that the Communists encourage the little people of the country to tell false tales. Even in Canada he told them there are these forces at work continually picking at the affairs of the country. Socialism is a brother of Communism, he explained, always playing people against other people to gain their final goal.

Scouting, he said, is one of the best forces to combat these forces. If Scouts obey their Scout laws and keep their promise, they'll be true citizens of Canada.

"Remember this is not only Scout Week but Brotherhood Week. This week is set aside to bring greater friendship between the Jews and Christians. Jews are the most abused people on the earth today. The Jewish people gave us our religious beliefs."

Mr. Gemmell dealt briefly with the Scout laws and promise. He told the boys of what use the laws and promise will be in later life. He illustrated them with two stories of bravery in the Antarctic areas.

"No matter where you go or what you do, you need never fear because God is always with you."

Mayor M. J. Swanston spoke to the boys as representative from the Council. He told the fathers and some of the mothers that the leaders of the boys must get some help from the parents. He urged the fathers to set an example for their sons.

"Good Scouts make good citizens" he said.

Jack Dane, recreation commission, Mrs. Delbert Hillier and Scout Master Albert Bradley spoke for a few moments to the boys.

Douglas Landry, cartoonist, drew characters. Quirt McKinney led the group in an after-dinner singsong. Two movies were shown Paul Hillier, president of the 9th group committee, acted as chairman.

Planes Evacuate Women In Burma

RANGOON, Feb. 23 (Reuters) — Two R.A.F. aircraft today evacuated about 70 British women and children from the threatened Burma oil-fields to Rangoon under a "precautionary" evacuation scheme, it was officially announced today.

According to an oil company spokesman the oil-field workers would remain at their posts until further orders.

The oil-fields concerned are the Chauk and Yesnanyaung in central Burma, the British embassy announced. An embassy spokesman here said he saw no necessity for general evacuation of Burma by British personnel.

The disorders have been caused by rebellious Karen tribesmen who want to set up their own state in Burma.

Reckless Driver Sent To Jail

The result of a car chase through the city and an accident at Bethune and London Sts. in the early hours of Saturday, when police pursued Arthur Stewart, 500 Park St. was a sentence of two months in jail. Stewart guilty to driving recklessly and fines and costs totalling $57.50 on two other charges were imposed by Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C. at the city police court today.

Stewart was told by the magistrate that he was lucky to be alive after such an escapade. He said people sometimes incurred very great injury and caused death for only small degrees of negligence compared with his recklessness.

Constable Vernon O'Donoghue described the chase and said that when he caught the accused, Stewart said to him "what do you want me for, I have been in no accident. I have just been at my girl friend's and am walking home." Constable O'Donoghue said Stewart appeared too be under the influence of liquor. He had found two full beer bottles and one empty bottle in the car, he said.

For failing to remain at the scene of the accident, Stewart was fined $25 with 2.50 costs; for illegal possession of liquor the fine was $15 and $2.50 costs and for a previous offence of driving with ineffective brakes, he was fined $10 with $2.50 costs.

Titoism Builds Toward Balkan Crisis

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Feb. 22 —(NEA)—Marshal Tito, the Kremlin's one-time stooge in Yugoslavia, is probably the biggest reason why Moscow would go to almost any length to avoid war at present.

Tito can be suppressed. The informed observers with whom I talked before returning to this country for a visit feel quite certain that he will be purged.

But he is a tough customer. He speaks for an undercurrent of dissent, throughout the Balkans, stronger than sometimes is realized. He can not be permitted to get away with his defiance of the Cominform, yet Moscow finds it advisable to work slowly to unseat him.

In Italy labor circles told me that Tito has been making overtures to Italian anti-Communist Socialists. He wants Marxist friends, but he must seek them among the non-Communists.

According to some sources, Tito even is considering organizing in Belgrade a rival Cominform of anti-Russian Communist exiles. After years of insisting that Marx was Allah, and Stalin his prophet, Tito can not break too abruptly with his own past. But as a former Cominform agent he realizes that he has burned his bridges behind him, and that so far as the Kremlin is concered he is a worse enemy from now on than any capitalist.

At a special meeting of the Cominform recently in Sofia, Tito was the subject of prolonged consideration. Georgi Dimitroff, Bulgarian prime minister, did a lot of "confessing" and breast-beating for his brief, passing flirtation with Tito, and promised to work assiduously for the liquidation of both Titoism and Tito. Being particularly ruthless, very clever and a great favorite within Stalin, Dimitroff escaped with whole skin. But Tsola Dragoicheva, Bulgaria's top woman Red, was cast out as a Titoist heretic.

Dimitroff had lived in Moscow, at the Master's feet, prior to Soviet seizure of power in Bulgaria. But Dragoicheva had been in her own country, though mostly in jail. This suggested that she loved Bulgaria more than Moscow. Therefore she was suspect, like Lucretia Petrascanu, purged one-time Rumanian minister of justice, or Wladylaw Gomulka, former vice-premier of Poland and Communist party secretary.

Bothering Moscow

Tito's troubles—and those of Dragoicheva, Petrascanu, Gomulka—demonstrate the element that is bothering Moscow most. That is nationalism. Tito's troubles with the Cominform began when he announced his plan for a Balkan Federation. The Kremlin, actually more interested in Russian nationalism than in Marxism, feared that such a federation of around 100 million people might become too independent.

My information is that Vittorio Vidali, leader of the anti-Tito faction in Trieste, is preparing an armed coup d'etat, on Moscow's behalf, against Tito. Reports from Yugoslavia indicate that the astute Tito knows of this and is taking precautions. Both sides are marshalling troops and secret police for the showdown.

Vidali, under the alias of Sormenti, was Moscow's agent in the United States and Mexico during the war. He is supposed to have engineered the assassinations of Leon Trotsky and Carlo Tresca.

If Tito can weather the Cominform's internal and external pressures, including the drastic sanctions imposed on Yugoslavia by the newly-created "economic union" of Russia's satellites, he will have won half his battle by the time his Parliament meets April 9 in extraordinary session.

As yet he has made no open bid for western support. But he is preparing the ground for one. The question is whether he can survive long enough to make such a break.

Markos Purged

The recent changes in Greek rebel direction also fit into the pattern of the Tito-Cominform clash. There seems little doubt that "General" Markos was purged because of his friendliness with Tito.

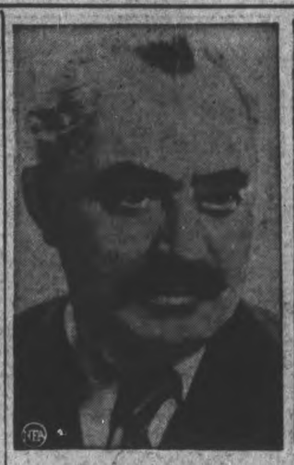
Markos' resignation as leader of the Greek rebellion was announced on grounds of health. He was replaced, the Red radio said, by John Ioannides, a veteran Communist revolutionary. No insider believes that the "general's" health had much to do with the change.

A semi- literate tobacco worker born in Asia-Minor, the 42-year-old Markos was a sincere, idealistic Marxist. He believed in the Soviet Utopia. But he was friendly with Tito and with Koci Xoxe, former Albanian minister of interior. Xoxe recently was executed by the Albanian puppet-premier, Enver Hoxha, for "Titoist deviationism."

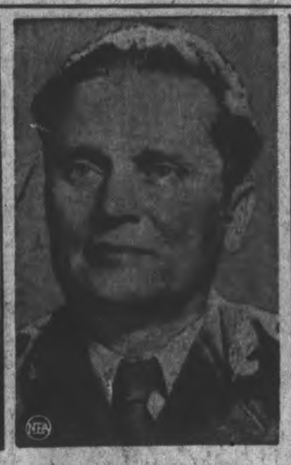
Prominent in the group that now controls the Greek rebellion is Nicholas Zachariades, perennial general-secretary of the Greek Communist party. He is one of an exclusive group of Moscow-trained Reds whose sole loyalty is to the Kremlin. Others in the group include Andre Marty of France, Palmiro Togliati of Italy, Walter Ulbricht of Germany, Mathias Raskosi of Hungary, Jacob Berman of Poland, Bodnaras and Vasile Luca of Rumania, and Rudolf Slanski of Czechoslovakia.

Where Moscow has such agents in control, without any silly ideas of patriotism to their own countries, everything is fine. But the deviationist love of country by such as Tito is making the Balkans harder to digest than the Kremlin had expected.

Tomorrow: Czechoslovakia rumblings.



DIMITROFF: After flirting with Tito, he escaped with his skin.



TITO: After a career as a Red stooge, he burned his bridges.

Canada Sending 600 Tons Of Flour For Palestine Refugees In Middle East

Dominion Will Also Send Fish And Beans In Response To UN Plea; Caring For 700,000 Jews And Arabs

OTTAWA, Feb. 24—(CP).—Canada is sending immediately 600 tons of wheat flour for Palestine refugees in the Middle East and will follow with 50,000 cases of canned fish and 50,000 bushels of white beans. Announcement of the contribution was made today by External Affairs Minister Pearson. It is being made in response to a resolution of the United Nations General Assembly.

Mr. Pearson said the offer of these supplies had already been "acknowledged with deep gratitude" by Stanton Graffis, director of the United Nations relief for Palestine refugees.

The organization is helping care for an estimated 700,000 refugees, Arabs and Jews, driven from their homes by the disorders in Palestine.

Asked For Help

Last November the UN General Assembly passed a resolution asking its members to contribute money, goods and services to the value of $32,000,000 to tide the refugees over until the next Mid-East crop season in August.

Mr. Pearson said Canada has surplus supplies of several types of foodstuffs for which no immediate commercial market exists.

Arrangements are being made through commodity prices support boards to donate some of these foods to the Middle-East relief.

Girl 13, Saves Six Children In Blazing House

WINNIPEG, Feb. 24—(CP)—A 13-year-old girl was reported Wednesday by hospital authorities to be coming along very nicely after suffering severe frostbite when she rescued six younger brothers and sisters from their burning home in below-zero weather.

The girl, Vivian Harper, is in hospital at Fisher River, 100 miles north of here. She had on only a light dress and bedroom slippers, while carrying the two youngest children toward a near-by farm.

Word of the fire, which occurred last Sunday at Hodgson, Man., only reached here today through the Red Cross. The fire occurred while Donald Harper, the father, was visiting his mother-in-law. His wife died a year ago. Children in the family range from two to 13.

After the fire started, Vivian sought first to fight it. When the blaze got out of conrol she urged the other children from the house and began a one and a half mile walk to the nearest farm house, owned by William Thomas.

Exhausted by carrying the two children, Vivian collapsed after walking about a half-mile through the deep snow. She directed the four others to go on to the Thomas farm. They did so and Thomas hurried back to pick up Vivian and her charges.

When Thomas found Vivian she was unable to stand. He lifted her into his sleigh and drove her to his home. Then she was taken to the hospital at Fisher River, 10 miles north of Hodgson.

Red Cross sources here said that Harper and the six uninjured children have been placed in a farm house and provided with clothing, blankets, and a small amount of cash.

Says U.S. Official Spy Organizer

LONDON, Feb. 24 (Reuters)—Nikolas Naumov, one of 15 Bulgarian evangelical pastors facing trial tomorrow on espionage charges, has named Cyril Black, formerly of the United States mission in Bulgaria, as organizer of a spy network. This was claimed today in a Bulgarian news agency telegram received today.

In a deposition published in Sofia today, Pastor Naumov said Yanko Ivanov, supervisor of the Bulgarian Methodist Church and one of the 15 accused, commissioned him in 1944 to collect military and economic information for Black. Black also has been mentioned in the confessions of Ivanov himself and of Vassil Ziapkov, another accused.

The deposition gave alleged details of a meeting of the supreme council of the United Evangelical Church in 1945 when it was decided not to support the fatherland front but to work to strengthen American influence in Bulgaria.

Woman Killed By Fumes, Husband Critical

KINGSTON, Feb. 24—(CP)—Coal gas fumes asphyxiated Mrs. Charles Alford of Chaffey's Locks, Wednesday, and her husband's life today hangs in the balance in hospital here. This morning he was still unconscious, but was said responding to treatment.

The elderly couple, both in their 70's, were resting when fumes from a coal burning stove in the kitchen filled their little house. The body of Mrs. Alford was found in bed and Mr. Alford was lying unconscious on a lounge in the living room when a niece, Mrs. Ted Simmons, also of Chaffey's Locks, called on them about 4 p.m. Mrs. Alford had been dead for some time.

Allen Alford, one of the couple's three sons, had dropped in to see his parents earlier in the afternoon. Finding them sleeping, he closed the door quietly and tiptoed away. He noticed no smell of gas at that time.

Dr. M. W. Kerr of Elgin rendered first aid to the surviving victim before sending to the Kingston hospital.

Surviving all these sons, Fred, Allen and Capt. Harold Alford, Ottawa.

Egypt Signs Armistice Today Arab States Fall In Line

RHODES, Feb. 24—(AP).—Egypt today signed a general armistice with Israel and the other Arab states lined up to do likewise. By agreeing to the armistice, Egypt took the lead among the states of the Arab League in accepting the dynamic Jewish state in their midst—a state which they vowed to destroy last May. The preamble specifically declares the agreement is a step to permanent peace in Palestine.

Pending a permanent settlement, broad demilitarized zones are created, by which Egypt surrenders all Palestine except Gaza and its narrow coastal strip of about five miles width. She even withdraws her troops to a defensive line 17 to 30 miles inside her own frontier.

Israel is left in possession of nearly all the Negev Desert, including disputed Beersheba for the time being. She has ambitious colonization schemes in the desert area.

Still to be settled are the fate of the southern tip of the Negev Desert from Beersheba southward to the Red Sea, the central area of Palestine held by the Arab Legion and Iraquis, and the old part of Jerusalem.

These territorial questions will be determined largely by armistice negotiations with Trans-Jordan beginning here Monday.

The Egyptian agreement specifically states that territorial questions are subject to the final peace settlement. But there seems no doubt that this bill will be largely determined by the armistice line.

Significantly, Egypt concedes that insistence upon the Jews retiring to their Oct. 14 lines would not serve the "basic purposes and spirit" of the armistice. These were the lines whence Israel launched her two offensives in October and December and won the Negev. She never returned to the old lines, even though the United Nations Security Council twice ordered her to do so.

The formal signing was at 10:30 a.m. in the yellow room of the Hotel Des Rhodes where Dr. Ralph

Appoint Stone Envoy To Sweden

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Thomas Stone, 48-year-old minister at the Canadian Embassy in Washington for the last two years, has been appointed minister of Sweden, it was announced today.

The legation in Stockholm was opened two years ago but pending appointment of a minister it has been in charge of Fred Palmer, Canadian Trade Commissioner.

Mr. Stone is a native of Chatham. He was in external affairs from 1927 until 1935 when he left the service for private business, returning on the outbreak of war in 1939.

He has served many years in Washington at various times, also in Paris and London. His last appointment to Washington was in 1945 when he was made minister counsellor.

Sun To Return To Nanking Post

NANKING, Feb. 24—(AP)—The vice-premier Wu Te-chun flew here from Hong Kong today with word that Premier Sun Fo would come to Nanking within three or four days.

Wu denied a rift existed between Sun and acting President Li Tsung-jen. Li, meanwhile, was in his hometown or Kweilling. National Assembly delegates there asked him to speed peace with the Communists.

Wu brought a new economic program for Li's approval.

Central News Agency said the Kwellin legislatures presented the acting president a petition asking him to:

1. Assume full prerogatives as China's constitutional president.
2. Speed an early realization of peace with the Reds.
3. Purge the government of corruption and start additional political reforms.

Li flew to Canton to try to get Sun and the refugee cabinet to return to Nanking.

Nanking members have been highly critical of Sun for fleeing to Canton in the face of the Communist army advance last month.

Issue Warrant For Teacher; Plan Hearing

Dennis' First Wife Describes Him 'Finest Man I've Met'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 24—(AP)—United States immigration authorities took steps Wednesday to deport a young Canadian school teacher charged with receiving stolen property.

A deportation was served upon Miss Betty Ritchie, 24, of Fenelon Falls, who was arrested in the apartment here of Gerard G. Dennis. Dennis, also a Canadian, now is under arrest in White Plains, N. Y., in connection with widespread burglary operations.

Miss Ritchie's preliminary hearing on the stolen property charge is set for Friday. Hearing on the deportation warrant has not been scheduled.

The first wife of Gerard Dennis, self-confessed society burglar, said today he was "one of the finest men I've ever met."

"If it weren't for what he did to me and to the children, I might still love Gerry," she said in an interview in a Toronto paper.

The paper referred only to the woman as Mrs. X. It said it was suppressing her name and any reference to the Ontario town where she now lives to give her "every possible chance to pick up again the threads of a shattered life."

It said the couple's two children have never been told their father's story and Mrs. X will be married in the fall to a "man who knows the full story of her life with the self-styled super-crook."

The paper quoted the woman as saying "my love for him" was killed when "he had cast me aside for someone else." That was when Dennis, now before a Grand Jury in White Plains, N. Y. on charges of assault and robbery, performed an abortion on another woman and was sent to reformatory.

She said he deserted her after an earlier reformatory sentence.

A Westchester County Grand Jury at White Plains, N. Y., will resume tomorrow its investigation of Dennis' career. District Attorney George M. Fannelli placed the case before the Grand Jury Wednesday. Among the witnesses were policemen and persons reported to have been burglary victims of Dennis in this vicinity.

Hint Russia Wants To Negotiate Blockade

BERLIN, Feb. 24—(Reuters).—Hints that Russia is prepared to negotiate for the lifting the Berlin blockade were recently given to junior western officials by members of the Polish military mission here. This was disclosed Wednesday by a high official of British military government.

He said the hints were given earlier this month by the Poles in a very inexpert approach made within a space of 48 hours to 14 different junior officials among the western powers.

The British official said he did not think the Russians could stand the loss of face involved in calling off the blockade with nothing to show for it.

He said the western attitude remained—no negotiation until the blockade is lifted.

Woodcox On Trial

LINDSAY, Feb. 24 (CP).—Ferman George Woodcox, 33-year-old Tory Hill lumber jack, charged with the shotgun murder of Arnold Gill, 20, on Hallowe'en night, will appear Feb. 28 when the sessions of the Supreme Court open here. Barrister I. E. Weldon, KC, of Toronto, who will represent the defence, intimated that a plea of insanity would be made.

Seven Countries Agreed On Defence Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—The seven countries negotiating an Atlantic security treaty are understood to have reached substantial agreement on the draft of a defence clause, covering action in event of an attack.

This has been the greatest single issue between the United States and western European governments in the long negotiations which opened last summer. The accord now reported is regarded by diplomats as clearing the way for prompt completion of the pact, probably in about two weeks.

While the wording is still secret, the basic provisions are understood to make these two points:

1. An armed attack on any one of the Atlantic powers—the United States, Canada, Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—shall be considered as an attack on all of them, and each country undertakes to assist in meeting the attack in line with its right of self-defence under the United Nations charter.

2. Each country will decide for itself the particular actions, including possible use of armed forces, that it will take in meeting the attack.

These principle provisions would be reinforced by other articles. These articles would provide for almost continuous consultation among the members of the alliance, and for co-ordinated defence planning once the treaty comes into force. The idea is to anticipate any emergency which might arise. At the moment of action each country could determine its own measures in relation to the general plan already worked out.

Offers Compromise

LONDON, Feb. 24—(AP).—Yugoslavia today proposed setting up a self-governing province in Austrian Carinthia in a bid to break a two-year-old Big-Four deadlock over an Austrian independence treaty. Marshal Tito's government proposed this as part of a compromise without surrendering its right to territorial claims on Austria. Ales Bebler, Yugoslav Deputy Foreign Minister, told Deputy Foreign Ministers of the Big-Four Powers his government is ready to accept "substantial reparations" in payment for its war damage claims against Austria.

3 Children Succumb To Measles

691 Cases Reported In 2-Month Period; Victims Very Young

KINGSTON, Feb. 25 —(CP)—Three children, one from Kingston and two from Kingston township, died in Kingston hospital from measles during the past two months. Dr. A. R. J. Boyd, medical officer of health reported today there was an epidemic of measles here during January and February when a total of 691 cases were reported to the local department of health.

An eight-month-old baby boy from Kingston and four-month-old baby girl from Kingston township died in the Kingston Isolation Hospital during the two-month period. A seven-year-old child, from Kingston township, who was admitted to hospital suffering from measles and other complications died during the same period.

Dr. Boyd said the measles were confined mostly to children attending the elementary schools and also pre-school children. Some cases among adults were reported to the local department of health during the two-month period.

A previous record was established when 534 cases were reported to the department of health during 12 months.

It is understood that the measle epidemic struck Kingston a little earlier this year. In previous years the peak for measles was in April.

Say Ontario Budget Due Early In March

TORONTO, Feb. 24 (CP)—The Ontario budget may be brought down in the legislature about the second week in March, it was indicated Wednesday at Queen's Park.

The budget report usually follows the throne-speech debate. There are some 20 members who have indicated their intention to speak in the debate and unless this list is cut down that would require at least a week. The budget will be ready for presentation about next Wednesday government sources indicated.

There is a possibility, although it is not considered likely, that the throne-speech debate could be adjourned to allow tabling of the budget.

Denounces Russ Aggression For Destroying Scouting

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP) — Jackson Dodds of Montreal, Canada's Commissioner of Scouting, today denounced Communism and Russian aggression for its destruction of the Scouting movement in the countries to which Communism has spread.

"In Moose Jaw today," he said in a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Club of Ottawa, "lives a young Latvian Scoutmaster who bears the scars of Totalitarian hatred.

"He could tell you how he witnessed 40 Latvian Scoutmasters stood up beside an open grave and shot in cold blood by the Russian aggressors of his country.

"He could show you scars of beatings," said Commissioner Dodds, "to which he submitted—for what crime?—for being a Scoutmaster; for trying to train boys in good citizenship—in the fundamentals of freedom."

Commissioner Dodds said there was a tendency, "a most dangerous tendency towards which more and more Canadians are leaning, to take the commonplace things of life too much for granted."

This was a tendency fraught with peril. In many parts of the world freedom and liberty were held in so light regard—they were so commonplace that they were lost—lost for want of a virile people to protect them against the inroads of those who regard these virtues as signs of decadence.

He suggested there were signs in Canada of the workings of Communism. "Let us not bury our heads in the sand and ignore the signs. Only two months ago a Communist candidate, schooled in the International hotbed of treason in Moscow, polled 43,444 votes in the Toronto Civic elections."

No German Emigration Planned This Spring

HANOVER, Feb. 24—(Reuters)—Germans with relatives in Canada will not be able to emigrate to the Dominion this spring as was earlier announced.

The Canadian Immigration office in the western zone of Germany today announced that the spring-emigration announcement was made "by mistake". They added that only German brides of Canadian soldiers will receive permits to enter Canada for the time being.

The office did not indicate when other Germans would be able to go to Canada.

At Ottawa, Col. L. Fortier, commissioner of overseas immigration, said he knew of no announcement that relatives of Germans in Canada would be allowed to enter this spring.

US Spies and Contacts Furnish 20% Intelligence

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(AP)—American spies and their "contacts" abroad furnish about 20 per cent of United States intelligence about military and political affairs in other countries.

One of the purposes of a mysterious bill approved by the Armed Services Committee of the House of Representatives with recommendation for quick action by the House, is to encourage and compensate foreign citizens for their help to United States agents.

The American espionage system has been operating with few funds and no precise law providing for spy work or payment to informers. The House Bill, among other things, would cloak the central intelligence agency with definite authority for such operations.

To provide foreign "contacts" with assurance of refuge, it would allow the agency to bring into the United States each year up to 100 persons who had provided useful information.

American intelligence men long have complained that they were unable to match the operations of other powers, such as Britain, the former system of Germany and Japan, and now Russia.

They contended they lacked the means to buy information and could never be sure whether their negotiations were entirely within the laws and policies of their own government.

During the war, the United States co-operated closely with the excellent intelligence net of Britain. Now, with the formal alliances of wartime ended the United States must build up its own system.

Change Farm Taxation In 2 Weeks

Basic Herd Principle Of Taxation Newly Interpreted

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP) — About 60,000 farmers across the country may get a taxation break within the next two weeks which will allow for greater exemptions from taxable income.

An authoritative source disclosed Wednesday night that the government was preparing a new interpretation of the basic herd principle of taxation which would allow farmers and ranchers to call a greater part of their herds capital for producing assets.

The source said the government announcement may be expected within the next two weeks. It would affect principally farmers and ranchers in the west but would have far-reaching significance in all parts of the country.

Government revision of the basic herd principle of taxation first was indicated at a cabinet meeting Wednesday at which a Canadian Federation of Agriculture brief containing farmers' complaints of taxation and other matters was placed before Prime Minister St. Laurent and 12 of his colleagues.

Promises Revision

When H. H. Hannam, president of the CFA emerged from the meeting, he said Revenue Minister McCann promised complete revision of a revenue department directive issued last November which specified certain restrictions on the basic herd principle.

In general it meant that natural increases of herds of cattle, horses, swine and sheep were to be computed as taxable income. The CFA complaint was that the majority of Canadian farmers maintain their herds mainly through natural increases and therefore could not claim capital or producing assets to any great extent.

The revision is expected to specify that natural increases in herds that have been maintained over a long period of years may be classified, generally, as capital or producing goods.

Sheriff Best Man At Jail Wedding

SAGINAW, Mich., Feb. 24 — (AP)—With the sheriff as best man, Patrick Murphy, 39, convicted burglar, and pretty Betty Winters, 26, got married yesterday.

It was a simple ceremony in the Saginaw County Jail, where Murphy is a prisoner.

When he and his bride will be at home together is a question. Besides being under a 10 to 15-year sentence, Murphy faces an habitual criminal charge which could mean life in prison.

Sheriff William Munroe, who assented to the marriage, was philosophical.

"I don't know whether I did right or wrong," Munroe said. "I hesitated for a long time. But they were insistent."

It was, he said later, a "very nice ceremony."

The bride, in a plain blue dress, embraced her husband. They talked briefly. Then she went back to her waitress job, Murphy to his cell.

54-INCH GERANIUM

Latest develc in the battle of the geraniums is an announcement by Mrs. P. Gray, Orillia, Ont., that her best plant stands 54 inches high and has four blooms. This beats the last record set by Mrs. William Platt of Havelock, whose 50-inch plant trimmed the 46-inch Quebec one which started the ball rolling.

But Mrs. Gray's plant does not rely on its reputation merely because of its height. It is still thriving despite two moves and a summer vacation in a tourist cabin. Transplanted into the garden last summer, the flower withstood being trampled on by a Great Dane and now boasts four blooms.

$350,000 Grant Awarded U of T

OTTAWA, Feb. 24—(CP)—The Government took a stride forward in the international race towards supersonic aviation today with announcement of award of $350,000 in research grants to the University of Toronto.

The University will spent $250,000 to establish an aerodynamics research laboratory at Downsview Airport, Toronto, including a wind tunnel capable of producing speeds up to ten times the speed of sound.

The other $100,000 will cover operating costs for three years on the problems of flying planes through the trans-sonic barrier and then into speeds beyond that of sound. Previously the National Research Council did some work on an experimental wind tunnel.

Dr. O. M. Solandt, chairman of the Defence Research Board, said the new tunnel will be "of great value in meeting the needs of the NRC, the Board and the aircraft industry for trained research workers."

"In time of emergency," he added, the laboratory would be available for allied research on supersonic aircraft, guided missiles and the ballistics of projectiles."

President Sidney Smith of the University said the key piece of equipment will be a steel sphere 40 feet in diameter, somewhat higher than a three-storey building. Air will be pumped from the sphere to create an almost perfect vacuum. Then it will be sucked back into the sphere at supersonic speed to observe its effect on stationary models.

Prices Slip Lower On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Feb. 24 —(CP)—Prices slipped lower in moderately active trading here today. Industrials weakened on fractional losses and base metals and western oils were in one-way downward movements. Golds were largely ignored and tended to hold steady.

Volume for the first three hours was 551,000 shares, about 49,000 shares more than Wednesday's similar period.

A wide list of industrial issues slipped steadily at about the price level of 11 months ago with several issues touching new lows.

Seagram's, C.P.R. and Massey-Harris sold ex-dividend. Papers and steels led the downward trend in the industrial groupings.

Consolidated Astoria, a brisk feature in Wednesday's market, backed down under pressure of profit-taking. Hudson Bay dipped 1½ at 46 in base metals and Torbit was the only issue to show a gain, adding a penny.

Blames Gardiner For Loss Of Food Market

OTTAWA, Feb. 24 (CP)—The government's trade and taxation policies drew opposition fire in the Commons Wednesday after members heard a lengthy, detailed report on the progress of the national health program.

Hon. Earl Rowe, minister without portfolio in the last Conservative government and now member for the Ontario constituency of Dufferin - Simcoe, criticized trade and taxation policies and blamed Agriculture Minister Gardiner for the "loss" of food markets in the United Kingdom.

The health report was made by Health Minister Martin. He outlined what is being done and what will be done with the $30,000,000 voted by parliament last session to assist the provinces with the development of their health services.

Many Requests

Projects qualifying for aid under the program now are flowing into Ottawa at the rate of $200,000 a day, said Mr. Martin. Some 600 projects costing $13,000,000 had been approved since last August.

The government, he said, considered its grants for provincial health surveys, to extend health services and projects and to build hospitals, "fundamental prerequisites of a nation-wide system of health insurance."

At the House opening, External Affairs Minister Pearson said it is too early to tell whether Christian missionaries will be able to function properly in Communist China. There had been reports from that area but they were inconclusive.

Prime Minister St. Laurent promised to consider the possibility of a government statement on ways and means of increasing the flow of United Kingdom goods to Canada.

In the debate, Mr. Rowe said Canada is not accepting enough imports from the United Kingdom. As a result Britain was turning to trade with countries which would buy her goods or enter barter arrangements.

Complete Fiasco

"I have never seen such a fiasco as was made of our negotiations with the United Kingdom," said Mr. Rowe.

Mr. Gardiner had tried to blame the drop in exports to the United Kingdom on the empire trade agreements signed by the Conservative government in 1932. Under those agreements, said Mr. Rowe, Canada was sending a greater percentage of her products overseas than at present.

Mr. Gardiner had not only lost the U.K. markets, but he had also caused Canadian farmers to lose between $350,000,000 and $500,000,000 in the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement.

If that loss was necessary, it should have been borne by the people of all Canada and not just the farmers, said Mr. Rowe.

There was no certainty that the wheat agreement would be extended beyond 1950 despite the fact farmers had sold their wheat in the last four years for prices lower than the world price.

His 14-year-old son was charged with wounding after the shooting, and the boy at present is in custody of his mother.

Dr. Fisher said he was completing a report which would be forwarded to Oxford County Crown Attorney Craig McKay and Coroner Dr. K. B. McKenzie.

Reduced Profits Said Answer To Levelling Off

TORONTO, Feb. 28 (CP)—Reduced profits are the answer to an anticipated "levelling - off" process in Canadian and United States economies, Labor Minister Daley told the Ontario Legislature Wednesday. Wages need not be cut, he said.

J. G. Brown (Lib. — Waterloo North) is the first speaker today in the throne-speech debate in which the labor minister took part. Other speakers Wednesday were Liberal hydro critic W. L. Houck (Niagara Falls), J. B. Salsberg (LPP—St. Andrew) and R. Thornberry (CCF — Hamilton Centre).

Mr. Daley said industrialists in Canada and the United States expected the industrial economy was due to level off. He believed it did not mean a recession. Business was readily obtainable and inventories were big but increased competition would compel a drop in prices.

Ontario's labor laws were sound and sane, he said. Saskatchewan had moved "too fast and too far," with its labor legislation.

Bad Attitude

The United Textile Workers Union (A.F.L.) strike at Penman Mills in Paris, Ont., had been prolonged because of the attitude of the company, which was "bad", and "bad" organization by the union which lacked the confidence of its members. No labor legislation could settle disputes of this kind, Mr. Daley said.

Mr. Houck asked that the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission be increased from three to five members. Two additional members would be appointed by Hydro municipalities. One of these members would be a labor representative.

Mr. Salsberg, Mines Minister Frost and CCF members engaged in a free-for-all debate over old age pensions that brought Speaker M. C. Davies to his feet for the second successive day to ask for order.

Mr. Frost demanded the LPP member name municipally-owned old-age homes on which Mr. Salsberg charged the Government was "sponging." Mr. Salsberg said the Government was placing a burden on these institutions by eliminating the additional $10 a month from old age pensions when pensioners were admitted to municipally-owned homes.

Mr. Frost charged the LPP member with "creating dissatisfaction." That was why the CCF groups had refused to be seated near the two LPP members in the Legislature, he added.

Delay Decision On Rail Depot

FORT ERIE, Ont., Feb. 24 — (CP)—Decision on the location of the proposed $75,000 international railway depot here was reserved today by District Inspector J. L. Bourgault of Toronto, representing the Board of Transport Commissioners for Canada. Fort Erie had entered a technical objection to its location.

Inspector Bourgault presided at a meeting today between Fort Erie civic officials and St. Thomas and Detroit representatives of the New York Central Engineering Department, Canada Southern Division.

Mayor Louis Ziff of Fort Erie said the proposed location is too far from the Central Avenue bridge project, one of the town's main municipal objectives. He told the meeting Fort Erie wants the new depot constructed further west from the head of the International Railway Bridge.

The railroad objected to the town's proposed location on the ground excavation costs would be excessive.

The Board of Transport Commissioners will make the final ruling.

BC Slide Buries Truck One Dies On Hoodoo Curve

VANCOUVER, Feb. 24 (CP).—Swept to his death when a titanic snowslide plunged down the mountain side. Percy Coombs, 30-year-old Vancouver truck driver, died in the Fraser Canyon.

He was the first victim of slides that have played havoc with the highway traffic, train and wire communications in British Columbia.

Coombs was buried last night by a slide at Hoodoo Curve, near Boston Bar, 140 miles east of here. His body was found, his hand clutching a rope at the rear of his transport truck.

Two men who tried to rescue him escaped death by inches. Five were carried hundreds of feet down the mountainside toward the Fraser River. Three were buried alive, but escaped with minor injuries.

The slide is 40 feet deep and about 200 feet in length, rescue workers reported.

The slide was one of several caused by warm rains and thaws which brought flood threats to BC districts.

The Trans-Canada Highway is blocked. It will not be cleared immediately because of the danger to work crews.

Telephone communications still are out to a minimum, with lines twisted and torn. Few lines are available for long-distance calls to Eastern Canada.

A "whispering sound" was the only warning the men of the truck convoy had.

A small slide stalled the convoy at Hoodoo Curve. Coombs' truck started through but got stuck. It was in the middle of the convoy.

"There was a roar in my ears and white clouds in front of my eyes," said Dave Savelieff of Vancouver, one of the men caught in the slide.

"When I opened my eyes, I was surprised to find my head above the snow. I struggled free."

Another man, Ray Metcalf of Tacoma, Wash., was carried 500 feet down the canyon side.

"I thought I was gone for sure. My leg felt like it was broken and I could feel an enormous weight of snow pushing into my back. I was sure I could never free myself."

Metcalf was buried almost to his neck when Savelieff reached him, and both stumbled to safety.

Then a third slide buried some of the men almost tot heir knees.

William Jones, 41-year-old construction worker of Vancouver, was swept 100 feet down the canyon bank.

Located by his shouts, Jones was freed by rescuers who dug for him with their hands. He was nearly unconscious.

Total clearings for the past week ending today amounted to $2,026,619 as reported by the secretary of the Peterborough Clearing House.

The City's Delayed Birthday

On January 1st, 1850, Peterborough was incorporated. We drew the attention of our readers — among whom we are happy to include Councillors — to this fact a year ago. We said editorially that if the event were going to be marked by centenary celebrations in 1950, it was time that planning for them began. There was no planning during 1948. Mayor Swanston, facing the obvious fact that it is already too late to make plans for any extended civic commemorative festivities next year, said lately that there would be none. The city will, it seems, celebrate its centenary in a later year when, as the Mayor hinted, civic projects like the new hospital, the City Hall or the Memorial Centre, are on show.

• • •

Next year is the exact one to mark the anniversary. It may not be the best time. Nevertheless, we regret that the postponement was not a decision reached after careful consideration. It was a result of indifference, neglect or lack of thought about the matter. It is decision by default.

• • •

It is not entirely the fault of last year's council. The citizens of Peterborough are as much to blame, individually and in their groups. There is a shocking lack of active interest in Peterborough's past, so much so that the citizenry seems unworthy of having any past. Yet it happens that both city and county have a very interesting history. Unfortunately it is mostly in oral tradition. The historical society has been allowed to die. The museum collection has fallen into bits. Nicholls Hospital has lost its name given in honour of the man and woman who built and endowed it. No adequate published history of the city has appeared since 1867. No group seems to have the gumption to do anything about these matters, even now when a centenary for which much interest and enthusiasm could be aroused, is approaching. Some people may say: "This is a live town. We live in the present and for the future, not in the past. We are a go-ahead place". It is a pretty stupid place and pretty shortsighted people who think that they can go ahead without taking a steady and respectful look at the past. A family, a community or a country which neither recognizes nor cares for its past is without a soul. It has no roots to nourish its present or to make its future fruitful. Are we a crass people, interested only in brass, the kind of brass that tinkles in cash tills?

• • •

It is now too late to observe with pomp and ceremony the anniversary which occurs next January 1st. It is not too late to plan for centenary celebrations during 1951 or whatever later year is decided upon. Whether or not we shall bother to celebrate at all, anytime, has still to be decided. That is the first matter which must be decided, and we respectfully and firmly call the attention of the Council and other citizens to it—now.

The Mass In B Minor

Bach's "Die hohe Messe"—the Mass in B Minor—is a stupendous creation of his mighty genius and among the greatest of human achievements. On Tuesday night last the Toronto Mendelssohn Choir, with full orchestra, organ, soloists and harpsichord, sang the Mass under the direction of Sir Ernest MacMillan. Those who could not go to Massey Hall were able to hear the first part over the radio, but no loud speaker, not even the finest of gramophone recordings, can bring to the ear and heart the exaltation of this great music which the Mendelssohn Choir wrought with grace, truth and power before the audience in the hall. After the final chorus, "Dona nobis pacem", the listeners remained in their seats as if under a spell; the heavens had opened and the peace of God seemed indeed to have been granted them. It is truly awful music. That it can be so splendidly interpreted by a Toronto choir and orchestra is a tribute and boon to Toronto, and an opportunity for people in other parts of Ontario not too far removed from the capital city to share in it. What heart cannot be touched by the "Qui Tollis" and lifted up by the "Cum Sancto Spiritu"? What splendour there is in the affirmation "Credo in unum Deum", what tenderness in the "Et Incarnatus" and the following poignant "Crucifixus". The spirit triumphs in the glory of "Et Resurrexit" and the majesty of heaven and earth is revealed in the "Sanctus" — probably the most powerful and thrilling chorus that the voice of man can sustain and the ear comprehend.

Sanctus, sanctus, sanctus
Dominus Deus Sabaoth,
Pleni sunt coeli et terra gloria ejus.

Such music is both comfort and joy. It is hallowed, it is the voice of the God of Hosts, and through it the glory of heaven and earth is revealed to all who would hear it in these times when spirit of man is needful of it.

The Educated Are Not Always Wise

A burglar of considerable skill, or at least who has had some major thieving successes, is much in the news. His name is Gerard Dennis. His special beat is among wealthy people from whose houses he lifts furs, jewels and sometimes virtue. He has confessed to theft of jewels valued at $600,000. He seems to have lived a gay life and a soft one, except for periods between 1936 and 1943 when he experienced the rigours of Canadian jails. He is now awaiting trial in the state of New York.

We mention this crook because of the appeal he or his manner of living seems to have had for educated people like teachers. A comely Toronto school teacher succumbed to his wiles to the extent of accompanying him to California and wearing one of his mink coats. Now we learn that another Toronto teacher, a man, a professor in a suburban college, was induced by Dennis to practise burglary. He is said to have raided homes in Rosedale, under the prompting and example of Dennis.

The young woman teacher and the junior professor are presumably educated, to an extent somewhat beyond the average. Was their education insufficient, or was it too great for them to bear easily? It may be that the hard life of a teacher contrasted too unequally with the soft life of the burglar Dennis. Or perhaps the Dennis tongue was too convincing, his wits too sharp. Whatever the explanation for these teachers falling into the toils of Dennis, this is apparent: education is no guarantee of either wisdom or social integrity.

Why Newspapermen Go Gray

Because they have to be prepared and printed in a hurry, newspapers contain a number of mistakes every day, in spite of the best efforts of their reporters, editors and proofreaders. Sometimes these are errors of fact, although all human vigilance is exerted to avoid them; sometimes they are typographical errors, which are annoying, but not so important. But every now and then an error occurs which combines the worst elements of the factual and the typographical slip; somehow they evade the most careful scrutiny until they appear in the completed paper. These are the mistakes which make newspapermen go gray.

A beauty of this genus was recently sent all over Canada on the wires of a news agency. Here it is:

"TORONTO, Feb. 8. — Prayers for the welfare of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary will be offered here Sunday when some 20,000 Roman Catholic men and boys of the Holy Name Society receive Holy Communism".

Very funny, you think? There would have been thousands of people who would not have thought it funny if the newspapers had printed the dispatch exactly as they received it. For when a newspaper makes a mistake it makes it in a loud voice.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A chair in Icelandic has just been founded at the University of Manitoba. That will surely be a chilly seat!

The accepted pronunciation, we hear, is NEWfnLAND. Obviously, then NEWfnlnd means one of those big things that isn't a St. Bernard.

An English dentist has perfected false teeth of magnetized steel which stay in place because they repel each other. Now more people than ever will be unable to keep their mouths shut.

A Canadian arrested in New York is described as "a super-burglar". Could his native land have offered him an opportunity to rise above the level of a mere purse-snatcher?

From The Critic's Notebook

HALIFAX, WARDEN OF THE NORTH by Thomas H. Raddall (McClelland and Stewart, Toronto). This is a handsome book. The publishers and printers have done a fine job of the dust cover, and end-pieces, the illustrations by Donald C. Mackay, the reproductions of early prints and lithographs. The author has done handsomely by Halifax. That is not to say that Mr. Raddall has whitewashed or glorified Halifax, port and town. He has given it its due, which is great.

There is the unwashed face of Halifax, as suggested in a story which the author tells in the Preface. A dour old salt told him as they watched the city drop away on his first outward voyage, "Ay, take a good look! It's the best view of Halifax—from the stern, outward bound". There is the barrack town, wet and gray through which thousands of Canadian soldiers have passed without regret at leaving it. Had they known Halifax's story as Raddall knows it, and now, tells it, they would see behind Halifax's face more than meets the eye—some of it pretty strong stuff even for soldiers.

HALIFAX has been British North America's Atlantic fortress for two hundred years (this volume is in a way a bicentennial record). It is the fortress over which the Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria, took command in 1794. He arrived as Commander-in-Chief, Nova Scotia, at the age of 27, with a mistress and personal debts of £20,000. Haligonians still talk of his time as the golden age. Certainly it was a lusty time. The author remarks of the Duke of Kent: "Edward has three faults: he had too great a sense of his own importance, he had no sense of the value of money, and he had not a spark of humanity in dealing with his soldiers. As a result wherever he held command, at Gibraltar, at Quebec, at Halifax, he left a memory of pomposity, vast expense and mutinous troops. But he left other memories and many solid accomplishments at Halifax, where for six years he was the foremost figure in the town, energetic in civil as well as in military affairs, a stout patron of church and theatre, and a genuine if somewhat austere friend of the poor".

The story of Halifax—it would be doing the book a disservice to call it merely a history, although it is a thorough and scholarly survey—is, like Halifax itself, full of stories and real, if sometimes lurid romance. This is to be expected from the pen of an able narrator like Raddall and a city which is port and garrison. From Halifax have sailed men and ships over the seven seas in war and peace. Through it has passed the world's commerce. From it have risen shipbuilders, statesmen, King's College, the first in Canada (planned for the vicinity of Windsor, N.S. "where the students would be far removed from the wickedness of Halifax"), canny merchants and bankers who obeyed the call to go west, and went as far as Montreal or Toronto to build financial and mercantile dynasties.

AS Raddall tells the story of Halifax there is sometning splendid, exciting and wicked about the place, despite its hard-headed proper Scots, its fog and rain, its Canadians. In fact, Halifax has Canadianism from the sourpuet of the dullness with which another Canadian, the author of "Barometer Rising" (a novel about Halifax) and a native Haligonian, has dubbed it. The term "Canadiana" has been much misapplied. Here is a book which deserves and adds lustre to the word. It is Canadian history, a work of literary value and by a Canadian resident who knows how to write interestingly. The book has the added merit which an index and bibliography give.

(CP) THE STORY OF THE CANADIAN PRESS, by M. E. (Ryerson). Although its chief interest will naturally be for newspapermen this book is a not unimportant contribution to the history of Canada. It is often said that our country reflects too slavishly the American opinion on world affairs, and echoes too faithfully the American voice. Canadian Press, the co-operative news-gathering agency of the daily papers of Canada, has assured since 1907 to bring to the Canadian people reports of news from everywhere in the world with the greatest possible accuracy, and with as little "slanting" as is possible to frail humanity. It has also served as an exchange of news within Canada. The accuracy of the Canadian Press is known and respected in every country which has a news service, and inside Canada the logotype "(CP)" at the head of a news report is accepted as a guarantee of integrity.

This service and its reputation did not come about by accident. Many men devoted their best efforts to the development of the Canadian co-operative news-gathering service, and their task was not always a simple one. In this well-organized and interestingly written history Mr. Nichols tells how it all happened, and gives credit where credit is due. The general reader will find it illuminating to browse in this book, in order to learn how the daily news (which we take so much for granted) achieved its present unprecedented standard of reliability.

THE WALLED CITY, by Elspeth Huxley (Oxford). This is an uncommonly good novel of the African colonial service, written by an author who knows the background of her story thoroughly. Two types of colonial administrator are contrasted: Robert Gresham is a man who never loses sight of the fact that he is dealing with human beings, and he puts justice before precedent or routine; Freddy Begg had no such high ideal of service but he was a paragon of routine, of forms properly filled out, and of "getting on". The wives of these two men inevitably respond to what their husbands are, and the conflict which arises among these four is the chief matter of the story. Mrs. Huxley does not deal in superficialities; her story is deeply understood and informed by her own wisdom. This is that uncommon product, a distinguished novel.

OPEN UP OR SHUT UP!

Georgian Houses

(WATERTOWN TIMES)

THAT the British are concerned about the preservation of their beautiful old things is apparent when for three days men sit in conference to consider the care of their Georgian houses.

As a result of this meeting at Bath a corporation was appointed whose power it would be to acquire property compulsorily, convert one or more buildings into flats, let them on lease, repair facades or entire structures and even borrow money from the Treasury to do so.

In cases where the owners of these good specimens of Georgian architecture are unable by law to pull down their buildings when in a bad state of decay, and lack the money to build them up it was decided that they should be given assistance in keeping the dwellings standing.

When the English colonists first came to this country their immediate thought was to build themselves a shelter in the new land. If this kept out the rain, the snow, the cold, the occupants would be satisfied. So it was not until the 18th century when times became somewhat easier and thought could be taken of elegance that architecture showed an advance. Then the influence of Christopher Wren began to assert itself in the Middle and Southern colonies. In New England the houses and churches were more often of wood. Among the Southern and Dutch colonies they were of brick, often imported from Europe.

As population and wealth increased there developed a better style especially in churches and the homes of the well-to-do, receiving its name from the first two Georges. Fine brick manor houses appeared in Maryland and Georgia, set amid spacious grounds, walled in, and entered through iron gates. The New England houses were of wood, less stately but artistically finished within.

In Northern New York there are examples of Georgian architecture in the home of Orville Hungerford on Washington Street, the Brown Mansion at Brownville, the Elisha Camp house at Sackets Harbor, and Senator I. B. Mitchell's white frame house at Stone Mills. Jefferson county is proud of these stately dwellings which in their present good state of preservation are likely to endure for years to come.

Letters To The Editor

RIDICULOUS STATE OF AFFAIRS

Sir: At 2 a.m. on Monday, February 14, a call came from a distant city to a gentleman, that his mother was very ill, and if he was to see her alive, he must come at once.

He realized at once that he did not have gasoline in his car. He also realized that the few of the many service station men who would have been willing to serve him, had the iron hand of the law clamped down on them.

By the time he got his gas five hours later and got to Galt his mother was dead. Can we blame this man if he holds resentment against laws that are asked for, and passed, to serve the wishes of a number, over-ruling the wishes of some who would give service, so he could have reached his mother who was living her last hours on earth, wondering why her boy did not come?

When are we going to elect a council with some backbone, to change conditions? This man had plenty of time to reach his mother and receive her last wishes and farewell. No, he had to do a lot of explaining perhaps when asked what took him so long to get there, to all but his mother. She was dead.

A few nights ago you could have seen policemen in the street waving flashlights. There were two cars locked together and the traffic had to be warned. But why in this age would there have to be such tactics? You guessed it. Just something similar to the foremention incident, there were no service stations open, so there was no tow truck to be used. Later, when a truck came along it was commandeered to haul away the automobiles.

Suppose there is in future people pinned under some wrecked cars, what is to be done? There are no tow trucks with crane to be used, what then? Suffering and perhaps death. Who or whose friends may be the victim?

When is a service station proprietor who wishes to serve when most needed, to be allowed to do so? How bad has the situation really have to become before something is done?

When will our Mayor and Aldermen say this is a ridiculous state of affairs and compel at least one service station to be open at all hours?

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Verily, verily, I say unto you. He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber. But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep. To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out....And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers....

Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep....

I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. (John 10: 1-3, 5, 7, 9, 10.)

Destroyer Project Costly Experiment

Further details have been reported to Parliament concerning the results of the ill-considered, costly and unhappy experiment in building of naval destroyers which was launched in Canada during the war. The report reveals that the undertaking ultimately required the total outlay of nearly $33 millions, plus nearly $1,000,000 for subsequent repairs, in the construction of four destroyers. None of them was completed until after the war was over and each cost an average of 2½ to 3 times more than similar vessels built in Britain.

The first two Tribal class destroyers built in Halifax cost $8.7 millions each and the second two $7.6 millions apiece, compared with an average cost of less than $2.9 millions for four ships of the same class turned out for Canada at British shipyards. The first Halifax-built destroyer took three years and four months to complete and commission, and was not available for service until the war was well over, though construction of the vessels was conceived as an emergency measure in the dark days of the war in 1941. The second one took four years and three months to complete. The average time for completion of such vessels in Britain was two years, sometimes less.

It is true that the Canadian project started from scratch with a complete lack of know-how, organization and facilities for specialized building of vessels close to cruisers in size. The venture also bogged down because of shortages of men and materials and failure to allot top priorities in this respect. But even after allowing for these factors, the undertaking has proved a very expensive demonstration of the inadvisability of Canada attempting the complex work of building major naval craft with the limited resources in this country for such a task, even under the exigencies of war. It is hard to avoid the suspicion that political motives played a part in the scheme as well as the possible emergency value of developing destroyer-building capacity on the west side of the Atlantic.

Britain Lessens Navigation Risk Round Her Coast

LONDON, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Britain is making navigation safer for shipping in the seas around her coasts.

Vessels will be able to navigate in safety with the aid of a radio direction indicating system. The ministry of transport recently inaugurated an extension which improves the range and usefulness of this service.

It provides each ship as it approaches the shore of Britain with a means of identifying its exact position with complete accuracy. This can be done rapidly and simply even in thickest fog or mist. The inaugural ceremony marked the completion of what has been a complex piece of electronic engineering. When originally started three years ago, it was estimated that 10 years would be required to bring it to a point where it could be put into everyday use.

The new service is known as lane identification. It overcomes what proved to be one disadvantage in the system of radio aid which Britain had used to assist shipping in plotting a course during bad visibility. Formerly, it was necessary for the captain to know a ship's position before the navigator system could make contact with the vessel and follow its course.

Used For War

The device known Decca Navigation was originally sponsored by the Admiralty. It was used for the first time during the war on the day the invasion of Europe from Britain was launched. By its aid, hundreds of landing craft were able to beach at their prearranged positions on the French coast.

A pattern or radio waves is sent out from a master transmitting station to which are attached three satellites that repeat these signals. They are received on board ship by an instrument on which simple dial reading indicate a vessel's position on a chart The controls of this receiver are set in advance and as long as the vessel remains within range of radio signals, it can plot its course with great accuracy.

Ocean Lines Benefit

The advantage of this system are now extended to ocean-going liners and other deep sea vessels Lane indentification considerably extends the area within which its guidance is accurate and effective. Ships anywhere in the East Atlantic or Baltic can now navigate in safety with the aid of this invention.

It is claimed to provide the most reliable navigational system in the world. Transmitters located in Britain and Denmark together cover 500,000 square miles of ocean.

Britain maintains four transmitters which form an interlocked pattern of constant radio lines in space. Plans for building two additional Decca navigator chains have been approved, one in southwest Britain and the other in Scotland. Tests are also being made to find out the exact benefits of the system for aircraft. It has been found that is can provide many advanages for aerial navigators.

Palestine Templars Settle In Australia

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 24 —(CP)—Forty-five members of the Palestinian Templar society, a wealthy sect of 300 members, have arrived in Australia to settle. The remainder will travel here as soon as shipping can be arranged.

An industrious, farming people they are descended from the followers of the German theologian, Christopher Hoffman, who led them into Palestine in 1860 with the stated intention of preserving and improving the spiritual and economic development of the Holy Land.

The British government moved them from Palestine to Cyprus when fighting between the Jews and Arabs flared up following the withdrawal of British troops.

They were granted permission to migrate here on condition they did not attempt to form a Templar sect in Australia, but would live among the people They will bring with them assets worth around $10,000,000.

The sect rejects orthodox Christian beliefs and base their religious life on the Old Testament prophecies.

By far the greatest number of airplane stalling accidents occur in landing.

Railroad Pioneer Recalls Thrills of Good Old Days

EDMONTON, Feb. 24—(CP)—Peter Batter, Western pioneer, celebrated his 90th birthday here recently and mourned "the good old days." For a reason too.

It's been years since he stood off 500 armed Indians, or gave up a rancher's daughter with a dowry of 100 head of cattle to marry another girl or even ordered a $5 gallon jug of good Scotch whisky for the "end-of-steel" at Winnipeg.

Peter came to Canada from Cleveland in 1882 and started spikedriving for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company as the railway was being built across the prairies.

"They paid me $1.50 for a 10-hour day and I said to myself 'this country's fit for neither man nor beast' but with 25 cents in my pocket, chances of getting out of it were mightily slim. Time I had enough money, I didn't want to leave," Peter recalled.

The Riel Rebellion tension was at its height as Pete and his crew laid steel across the prairies between Medicine Hat and Calgary. One day a raiding party of 500 Indians descended on them.

"They had a rifle apiece and we had five among us," the old timer said. "It took a lot of nerve to go on laying the track with them getting closer and meaner-looking all the time.

Missionary Intervened

The railroaders held their ground until a missionary, Father Lacombe, convinced the Indians that the railroad would be of advantage to them.

By soring, 1887, Pete's thoughts had "lightly turned."

Only eligible girl in the immediate vicinity of his prairie was a rancher's daughter whose dowry included 100 head of cattle and $1,000 in cash.

So Pete, who had saved up $750, returned to Cleveland "to pick out a wife."

At Cleveland, his first proposal was refused. The girl's mother pointed out that in Canada, Indians frequently killed white people and ate them. After a 10-day courtship, he married a pretty dish-washer and brought her to Canada.

At 90, Pete attributes his longevity to hard work, long-lived ancestors and "a little liquor now and tehn—just for the health—mind you."

CardboardShack On Garbage Pile Winter Dwelling

EDMONTON, Feb. 24—(CP)—Grey-beared, Irish-born Pat Walsh has returned to civilization after more than four months of living off an Edmonton garbage heap.

His home on the outskirts of the city had been a broken-down, isolated shack, built of cardboard cartons and Christmas trees; his food, the scraps of bread and vegetables discarded by Edmonton house-wives.

Pat, veteran of a number of campaigns in the First World War, came back to town in no orthodox manner. He was brought in by police, following complaints by a city garbage collector who feared Walsh would freeze to death.

"I wouldn't have froze" Pat chuckled in an interview shortly after he had bathed and been clothed at the civic relief department. "But it was mighty cold out there."

With a good, square meal behind his emaciated waistline he was quite willing to tell his story.

Standing in a manner reminiscent of his days with the fighting Dublin Fusiliers and talking with a heavy brogue; he described how, since last fall, he had eaten only refuse from the city dump.

Proud of Shack

He was proud of his tumbledown dwelling, built about 300 yards from the garbage heap and composed of old cartons and stocky little Christmas trees. It was less than six feet square, dark and cold.

On the floor a few old rags and a wolf skin were scattered. Ashes were piled in the corner, and on the "stove"—an odd, tin contraption also dragged from the garbage heap—were a few rusty tins, which Pat called his "cooking utensils."

His larder was another cardboard box, which when police arrived was well stocked with dry, chewed, bread crusts and a number of shrivelled turnips.

There was no "central heating" so Pat had to chop firewood every day, the only thing that would "keep me warm. I lost me mitts so me hands have been pretty cold," he said.

"I used to find quite a lot on that heap. For a while I had enough money to buy flour and I used to do a bit o' cooking then, when the money ran out, I would sell some of the scrap iron picked up from the heap. That kept me going."

But now, Pat's troubles are over. At the provincial government's camp for elderly and needy men at Gunn, Alta., he will be cared for by the department of public welfare.

Disabled Workers Require Variety

LONDON, Feb. 24 (CP)—There are more than 905,000 disabled men and women in Britain, most of whom are classified as capable of work in ordinary conditions.

The figures were collected in a two-year survey which showed that 126,000 men are still registered as being disabled in the First World War, and 40,000 in the Second. Between 7,000 and 8,000 are registered each month as victims of accidents and illness, or as sufferers from congenital defects.

A report by a special committee said that last August about 62,000 of the 825,000 capable of ordinary work were unemployed, creating a problem of "considerable concern." No solution was suggested.

The committee, however, was against urging that certain types of employment be largely reserved for disabled since "the designation of a number of low-grade employments might create the impression that the disabled are capable of performing only menial tasks." On the other hand "it would not be a practicable proposition" to extend the reserve to higher grades of employment.

Under existing regulations firms employing more than 20 workers are obliged to include three per cent of the registered in their labor force. The average proportion is nearer five per cent.

The only occupations so far designated by the labor ministry as "specially suitable" for disabled persons are as elevator attendants and car-park attendants.

Depending On Weather

"Yes, we'll play Legion at Civic Arena Friday if there's ice," the Petes' secretary advises; "if there's no ice, this game will be forgotten as we must meet Meteors in Lindsay this Saturday to start group semi-finals." That's the how of it. Senior "B" group playoffs are practically on top of us, and both series (Meteors-Petes and Bells-Legion) are two-game affairs, goals to count, finals being best of three. Toronto Bells are due to open against Legion in Lindsay on Monday (it being Legion's home game), with the return one Wednesday. Second Meteors-Petes' tilt is in Peterborough Mar. 2—or on Lindsay ice, if our frozen water defrosts. These things were settled at a rather stormy group meeting the other evening here.

* * * * * *

The Petes pulled out a 3-2 senior "B" win o'er Legion in Lindsay last night, dishing up an effective display of backchecking to earn this close one. With both goalies kicking 'em out repeatedly, goals were hard to come by and some 700 fans thrilled to a nifty joust. Nicholls, Rochetta and Burns were probably the pick of the Vitarelli squad; while Griffin, Tompkins, Coughlin and Jopling stood out for the Petes. It wasn't a gentle game at all, but was kept pretty clean, barring one outbreak between Coombs and Coughlin. And they'll be battling when they meet here on the morrow, no doubt.

Close But Not Quite

Our junior "B" IOOF-ers put up another swell scrap against Toronto Lions here but suffered the sour side of a 3-1 count to give Lions the first win of their best-of-five group finals. First one was an overtime tie, and next one is away on Saturday. Popaduik was poison in the third to the Oddfellows as he popped in two goals to crack a 1-1 tie the teams toted into the final frame. Byers, Anderson and the two Berwicks played fine hockey for the locals and the rest of their buddies toiled like troopers, too. It was just anybody's game right down to the finish but the visitors picked up the marbles at the end. The Triple Links are by no means out of it yet, and they'll be having at least one more home game here next week—always providing the ice holds out.

* * * * * *

Grapple fans saw some hard mat work in the main bout along the Rue Brock last eventide. Popular Mike Sharpe and rugged Fred Atkins really sweated it out with some stiff going, applying a variety of punishing but legal grips and showing smart work in finally breaking them. Fred had his followers, also, but he was a bit rougher than the Hamilton husky. They had a fall apiece and were into it hard when the time limit gong sounded—to the audible disappointment of many. It was ruled a draw. Sandy O'Donnell won the semi-final (with an assist going to Referee Bert Maxwell) over Ben Sharpe, while Peterborough's Nick Vicchiarelli gained the prelim via the disqualification route over Sam Gotter. A lively card.

2 Marlboro Players Join Leaf Line-up

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP).— Managing Director Conn Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs said Wednesday night that the injury-riddled National Hockey League club expects to have two players from the senior amateur Marlboros in the line-up against Chicago Black Hawks here on Saturday.

Expected to join the big league club, for one game at least, are Ray Hannigan and John McLellan of the Senior Dukes. Plans involving two members of the junior amateur St. Michael's College were dropped after Wednesday's workout.

Vic Lynn, one of four Maple Leaf forwards injured last weekend may be in condition to play on Saturday, said Smythe. Lynn, however, will need a helmet to protect a head wound if he gets in the line-up.

Toronto Lions Beat IOOF In Nifty Junior 'B' Fray

By FRED MAYBEE.

Toronto Lions defeated Oddfellows 3-1 last night at Civic Arena to take a slight edge in their best of five OHA Junior "B" group final series. The first game ended in a tie and the third will be played Saturday night in Nobleton.

Close to 1,000 fans saw their favorites go down battling on soft ice against a heavier team but even with their fastest men slowed in the hard going, a few breaks could easily have reversed the score. Johnny Popaduik, tricky centre for the visitors again proved a thorn in the side of the locals as his two goals in the third ensured victory for his team just as his pair in Nobleton in the late stages enabled Lions to tie Links Monday.

A Lucky One

Stan Vousden scored a lucky one in the first for the only score in a fast, clean period, featured by some neat defensive work by both clubs. Following a ganging attack into local territory, Alex Hunter passed back to his mate near the blue line centre and Vousden shot a dribbler through legs that eluded Byers, whose vision was blocked by his mates, on the play. It was a tough break for Byers who played another star game with brilliant saves, particularly in the second when Oddfellows scored their only goal, a great solo effort by Ken Anderson and held their rivals scoreless as well.

The crowd gave Anderson, who played an outstanding game, a well deserved hand. The third period found play faster than ever as Birch, Wyatt and Whitnell started for Links. The line of Pagett, Crowley and Floyd also looked good and worked hard throughout as a unit but the soft ice seemed to affect the first line of Fryia, Truss and Doris most of all as their plays were not clicking as usual though they tried just as hard as their mates.

Went Ahead

Popaduik put his team one up in the third on a wild scramble in front of the local net as he took a pass out from Doug Dyson and planted a short fast one past Byers from point blank range. The locals swarmed back furiously but Crouch and his mates staved off the best efforts of Whitnell, Wyatt, Fryia, Birch, Truss, Pagett and their mates as they tested him from all angles. At the 11-minute mark, Wyatt backhanded a low ice-cutter at the goal. The red light flashed but the referee ruled the disc had not entered the cage and bounced out. Triple Links continued to battle hard and came close in the last minutes of play, but the fates were against them even though they outplayed Lions in the finale as the visitors tired noticeably. With a minute to go, Popaduik tallied the final goal a sharp 25-footer from right wing on a pass back from Bill Kett. Byers partially stopped the drive which sneaked between his pads for an extra counter. Popaduik, Kett, Vousden, J. Lawrence, Alex Hunter and Dyson were best for the visitors while Byers and Anderson and the Berwick brothers turned in a great defensive effort despite the loss. The boys up front all worked hard.

Fighter Has Injuries

NEW YORK, Feb. 24 — (AP). —Bernie Reynolds has probably lost a match in Madison Square Garden March 11 with Joe Baksi because of injuries suffered in beating Walter Hafer last night at Manhattan Centre. Joe Vella, manager of the Fairfield, Conn., heavyweight prospect, said a severely-cut left eye and a swollen left ear probably would force him to postpone the Baksi fight.

Atkins and Sharpe In Draw After a Hard Main Mat Bout

Fred Atkins and Mike Sharpe battled to a one-hour draw in the main mat bout at the Brock last night and a large crowd sighed in disappointment when the gong went. They were fighting hard at the finish, after previously trading smashes outside the ring in a hard scrap, marked with some fine mat work. Mike looked a bit stronger at the last, using a "lock and key" grip to advantage and having an edge in the slugging department. He was more popular, but Atkins also had his supporters.

Mike, weighing 250—two less than Atkins—won the second fall in 10 minutes with his "Sharpe stretcher," to make Fred concede. He shook a series of hard headlocks after a session of stiff mat work between the powerful and able opponents. It was enlivened once by elbow smashes. Fred tried some unethical tactics and he was hard to break on the ropes when Referee Bert Maxwell moved in. Mike had a margin on speed and looked somewhat better but was in plenty of trouble at times against rugged Fred. The fall drew a lot of cheers.

Hard Work

The first was a gruelling bout, lasting 22 minutes before Atkins caught Mike by surprise with a back elbow smash—as the ref was breaking them—and followed fast with three body slams and a spread. The fans didn't like it nor Maxwell for this one. They both played it cleanly but hard most of the route, with Fred favoring a tough hammerlock and Mike later punishing him with a tight leg scissors. The tide of battle ebbed and flowed with both working hard and the fans enjoying it all, though unhappy when Sharpe was pinned for the initial down.

Sandy O'Donnell won the semi-final from Ben Sharpe, but Ben was peeved and they mixed it afterward. Sandy, scaling 242, to Ben's 236, got an assist from Referee Maxwell. The latter lifted Ben (who was jumping with knees on the downed O'Donnell, retaliating in kind) and made him a perfect target for an elbow smash from Sandy. The latter hit him his haymaker and promptly jumped on Ben for the fall as the crowd booed Sandy and the ref. There was a lot of action in the 16 minutes it lasted, with Ben plunging in but meeting an experienced and rough opponent, who got away with a lot right to the finish. The feminine fans didn't like his tactics a bit.

Nick Vicchiarelli, the Peterborough 173-pounder, took the prelim in 12 minutes over Sammy Gotter, weighing 182, when the latter was disqualified by the referee. The fans were pleased with this ending as Sammy repeatedly used a choke hold coming off the ropes, despite warnings. Nick got in some good work with his version of Watson's famous "whip" hold, and both mixed it up briskly at times after a cautious start.

Norwood Takes TVL Win Over Lakefield Outfit

NORWOOD, Feb. 24—(ENS)—The biggest crowd of the year saw Norwood yank out a 3- TVL decision over Lakefield here last night to tie up their two-in-three semi-final series and force a third game. The ice held up fairly well but was heavy in the third of a rousing contest, rough in spots and close and exciting all the way. Lakefield planned to protest the game.

With three seconds to go in the second period, a Lakefield player kicked the puck into the Norwood goal. Referee Junkin was about to allow it but Referee Payne called it back. There was a big argument for five minutes and Payne gave the visitors one minute to resume play finally. Blewett went off the ice and returned with a rule book which he pushed at the referee, but he wound up by getting a misconduct penalty.

The teams:

Lakefield: Goal, Jones; defence, Jopling and Blewett; centre, Fawcett; wings, Patterson and L. Lonsberry; alternates, Chappell, Jewell, Henry, Hopkins, S. Lonsberry, Birch and Burton.

Ranger Playoff Hopes Sag After 3-2 Bruin Beating

By the Canadian Press.

The bumping, bruising Boston Bruins still have a slim chance to win the National Hockey League championship this year.

But its just that and no more. It would take a real winning streak on the part of the beantowners and an accommodating slump for the league-leading Detroit Red Wings. And this isn't likely off past performances.

The Bruins pulled to within eight points of Detroit Wednesday night with a 3-2 victory over the hapless New York Rangers.

The Rangers sank deeper into the league cellar and their dwindling hopes of making a playoff berth faded a little more.

Kenny Smith broke a 2-2 deadlock in the second period to score the winning goal.

Yank Rayner

Chuck Rayner was yanked in the final minute of play, and the Rangers tried to even it with a furious six-man attack, but the stalwart Bruin defence and goalie Frankie Brimsek repulsed all threats.

Jimmy Peters opened the scoring half way through the first period, beating Rayner with a 15-foot blazer.

Then the Rangers went ahead 2-1 with little Tony Leswick setting up both goals. Ed Laprade slapped the puck in from the crease and Dunc Fisher clipped the other past Brimsek at 18:55 from 10 feet out.

It only took the Bruins 27 seconds to tie the game, however, when Johnny Pierson made good with a 20-foot shot.

Tonight, the Montreal Canadiens will make an attempt to pull away from the threatening Chicago Black Hawks when they meet them in Chicago. Only four points saparate the two teams, with the Canucks holding down the fourth and last playoff position.

Detroit kept their shooting irons in trim by pasting Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior League 10-2 in an exhibition game at Quebec Wednesday night.

1899-1949 EXECUTORS AND TRUSTEES FOR 50 YEARS

BUT ACT NOW...

Scrambling to make a Will when danger threatens is probably better than not making one at all but the preparation of such an important document should not be left to the confusion of a last minute rush.

Making a Will is something that can easily be attended to before emergencies arise. This duty should not be neglected. The logic and advantages of appointing a Corporate Executor and Trustee are obvious and well recognized.

All that is needed to get the job done, and done well, is to ask us to help you plan your Will, which we shall gladly do without charge. You can then have it drawn in proper legal form, naming The Royal Trust Company your Executor and Trustee, execute the Will and file it with us for safekeeping.

THAT whole new world which comes into view for every youth starting his first job is a fascinating one for a young man who enters the service of the Bank.

Suddenly he discovers that banking is a business which does many things for many people.

Take the collection service for example. He learns that a Collection Bill is not simply a dry-as-dust document, but is actually part of an economical and efficient way by which the Bank speeds up payment between buyers and sellers in a host of commercial transactions.

Young men who start a banking career learn quickly that banking is useful in keeping money at work, and that good banking rests on good personal service. You'll find this point of view makes banking at The Bank of Nova Scotia a pleasure.

Marlboros Down Mercurys 8-3, Win Semi-Finals

By The Canadian Press.

Toronto Marlboros are in a favorable spot today in their Ontario Hockey Association Senior A playoff series.

Wednesday night the Dukes downed Owen Sound Mercurys 8-3 to take their best-of-seven semi-final series four straight games. The win gave the Dukes a weeks' rest while they wait for the winner of the Kitchener-Hamilton finals.

Meanwhile, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen went up 3-2 in their best-of-seven semi-final series by defeating Hamilton Tigers 4-3.

In the Junior A Loop, St. Catharines Teepees bested Oshawa Generals 6-4 to go up 1-0 in their best-of-three quarter final playoffs, and Stratford Kroehlers came out of 90 minutes and 42 seconds of play with a 6-5 win over Toronto Marlboros. The victory gave the Kroehlers a 1-0 lead in their best-of-three quarter final series.

The long rest for the Marlies could be the playoff decision in the finals. The Dutchmen and the Tigers are currently waging a tough battle that already has resulted in loss of a player from each club. However, the Dutchmen can wind up the series if they can score a victory Friday.

At Toronto, the Dukes had little trouble with Mercurys. They took a 2-1 lead in the first period, made it 5-2 in the second and then outscored the Mercurys 3-1 in the final period.

Ray Hannigan and Scotty Mair paced the winners with two goals each, while Johnny McLellan, Gord Simpson, Johnny McCormack and Chuck Blair scored singletons. Owen Sound markers were scored by Mike Shabaga, Tommy Burlington and Doug Gillespie.

Protest Game

At Waterloo, officials of the Hamilton club followed up their defeat by announcing they would protest the game

Tiger Coach George Redding said he would base his protest on a penalty to Harvey Jacklin, a Kitchener player, who was called at the end of the first period and then withdrawn.

Referees Red Farrel of Barrie and Pat Patterson of Toronto gave Jacklin the penalty at the end of the first period for dumping Clare Shillington near the Kitchener nets. An announcement made at the opening of second-period play said the penalty was withdrawn because it came after the first period ended. Redding said play had not stopped.

Here and There In Sport

Manitoba chalked up its fourth straight victory Wednesday night in the Canadian High School Curling Championship, defeating the only other previously unbeaten rink, Ontario, 8-6. In other games, Saskatchewan nosed out Quebec 9-8 and British Columbia defeated the North West Territories 11-9. Alberta, the seventh rink in the tournament, had a bye. Main interest was centred in the Manitoba-Ontario match as both foursomes previously boasted three victories against no losses. In fourth round play, Manitoba chalked up their third victory by defeating Alberta 12-9. Ontario turned in victory No. 3 by downing the previously-unbeaten Saskatchewan entry 13-8.

The Ontario entry, from Dryden High School and skipped by Ray Cook, took full advantage of Saskatchewan misplay to earn the decision.

It was the second postponement of the fight, which will be the fourth meeting between Greco and Jack. Jack, former world lightweight king, won twice and drew in the previous bouts. Meanwhile, Greco left Wednesday for Toronto where he will taper off training for his nontitle fight with Pete Zaduk Tuesday night.

P. Skitch Rink Captures Walker Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

The veteran winner of many bonspiels and trophies, Percy Skitch of Lindsay, piloted his rink through to win three games and the coveted Walker Trophy, yesterday here. The second three-game winner went to another veteran Ray Best of the local club.

The third three-game winner was Cyril Giroux, who has won many a hard fought battle. Then came Ab. Simon of High Park, Toronto, who is well-known all over the province, who has won many of the trophies of the Ontario bonspiel and just to keep up the record Ben Wood of Oshawa was the high one-game winner.

Outstanding Spiel

The Walker open bonspiel held yesterday was one of the finest seen for a long time. The curling all day was high class. It was a case of the survival of the fittest. There were no weaklings. The company was too fast for novices.

There were rinks from Toronto, Oshawa, Oakwood, Lakefield, Colborne, Lindsay and Peterborough. The games got under way shortly after 9.00 a.m. and the bonspiel concluded around 11.00 p.m. It was a great day's curling.

Campbellford were without the services of Peloquin until the third period, when he returned, scoring Campbellford's last goal.

Petes Defeat Legionnaires In OHA Senior 'B' Tussle

The Petes pulled out a 3-2 OHA Senior "B" victory over Legionnaires on Lindsay ice last night as they ran off their second last postponement. It was the first win for the Creighton crew so far this season over the leading Legion squad. A crowd of more than 700 enjoyed a fast, exciting contest, marked by fairly clean play but rugged checking over most of the route. These teams are slated to meet here Friday night before group playoffs start.

It was 2-1 for the Petes in the first frame, and they had a 3-1 margin going into the third, when Legion fought back to tally one and make it as close as possible without a tie. But seven penalties were handed out, three to the victors, with Coughlin and Coombs going off together in the second for swing on each other.

Went Well

Both goalies turned in a fine job in the nets to account for the low score. The Petes as a whole played one of their best games both ways of the season, checking back well to hold down the fast-stepping Legionnaires. Griffin, Tompkins, Coughlin and Jopling were especially good for the McGillis men, with the whole team showing a lot in this number. Rochetta and Burns stood out over the distance for Legion, but they all worked hard in the fast, rugged fray. The losers missed Dootch Vitarelli, out with a fractured jaw, but Jeff Stock got back into action after an injury which shelved him from early in the season.

Bob Greenlaw counted a nice goal early in the first frame, aided by Rochetta, after Harding had made two close-in saves on Bob. Ace Reid got it right back inside a minute with Tompkins and Kingdon drawing assists.

Later, Griffin scored a nifty, taking a pass well out from Quigley and going in smartly alone and finishing off well to put his side up 2-1. Late in the second, Tompkins tallied from Griffin to make it a 3-1 lead. D. Mortimer was serving a penalty at the time.

Legion roared back in the hot third chukker and Coombs clicked neatly with Parnell aiding to whittle the count, but they could not sew it up the rest of the route. Both sides battled hard in the lively third period and the crowd seemed to enjoy it thoroughly as both teams primed for coming playoffs.

The teams:

Legion: Goal, Nicholls; defence, Godfrey and D. Mortimer; centre, Rochetta; wings, Crowley and R. Greenlaw; alternates, Parnell, conlin, Hill, Stewart, Coombs, Stock and Burns.

Petes: Goal, Harding; defence, Coughlin and Jopling; centre, Garvey; wings, Legrow and F. Parsons; alternates, Tompkins, Kingdon, Reid, Griffin, Quigley, J. Mortimer, T. Parsons and McMaster.

Referee, R. Millard; linesman, A. Giardino.

Norwood Triumphs

NORWOOD, Feb. 24 (ENS) — Norwood defeated the fast moving Warsaw Flyers in the Arena Tuesday night. It was a fast game on good ice.

Kelly tallied for Norwood early in the first, with J. Watts tying it just as the gong was about to sound.

With lots of close checking and good defensive play there was no score in the second.

Cuthbertson on a set-up from Webb put Norwood in the lead, which they held to end the game 2-1 for Norwood. Norwood will now be in the playoffs, instead of Havelock. The standing: Keene, Westwood, Warsaw and Norwood. Line-ups:

Norwood—Goal, R. Aldred; defence, A. Spring, Don Kumpf; centre, B. Kelly; wings, B. Webb, K. Cuthbertson; alternates, T. Brown, S. Rusaw, J. Robson, H. Reddy.

Order Vatican Delegation From Bulgaria

SOFIA, Feb. 24.—(AP).—Foreign Minister Vassil Kolarov told the Bulgarian Parliament Wednesday night that the Vatican is linked with "dark forces" attempting to stir up a new world war.

He made his charges as the Communist-controlled legislative body considered new restrictions on religion. The proposed new religion law came up as the hour of trial approached for 15 Protestant clergymen accused of criminal activities against the state.

The 15 include the heads of the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Pentecost churches in Bulgaria. They get into court tomorrow, charged with treason, spying for the United States and Great Britain, and illegal money dealings.

Greek Church Legal

The Kolarov-sponsored religion bill would make the Greek Orthodox church the "only people's church" in the country. It would give the foreign ministry tight control over connections between church groups in the country and groups outside Bulgaria.

Kolarov asserted that the Vatican "does not conceal its aims. It is the unreconcilable enemy of the Soviet Union's People's Democracies and Communism. It is altogether in the service of the dark forces which today are attempting to fan up a new world war."

Kolarov indicated the Vatican's apostolic delegation in Bulgaria had been ordered out of the country. He said it is superfluous, since the new constitution guarantees freedom to all religions.

The Apostolic Mission, he said, can be considered "completely through." This ends, he added, a "humiliating episode" for Bulgaria.

Kolarov told Parliament that churchmen in Bulgaria must be ruled by Bulgarian laws and the existing social order.

Frankford Sweeps Trent Loop Series

HASTINGS, Feb. 24 (ENS). — After losing last night's game at Frankford on a 6-3 score, the Hastings TVL boys can hang up their skates till next year, as they are now out of the playoffs. The Arena was packed to watch the third battle between the two teams. The ice was fast for the first period, becoming softer as play progressed.

Davis, goaltender for the visitors, was hit by the puck during the first 10 minutes, cutting his face just below the right eye; it required three stitches by Dr. D. Bell-Smith, who was at the Arena. Acquino took over goaltending for the remainder of the game, doing an excellent job.

Rankin and McKee made a good team for the visitors, gaining five of their goals. Tucker played hard for the homesters.

The teams:

Hastings — McKenty, Ball, Tucker, B. West, Herrington, L. Petticrew, Crawley, Oliver, Wilson, Muller, Fairman, D. West, and Philips.

Insurance Experts Protest Crowding In US Schools

By H. C. JOHNSON

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—(AP)—"The nation's educational house is on fire," says Dr. Louis A. Dublin, a vice-president of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

If the blaze isn't put out, and quickly, it may spread in time to the structure of our business and industrial system and may deal a stunning blow to national morale and morals, he believes.

The enormous population rise in the war and post-war years probably will overwhelm the already over-crowded grade schools, high schools and colleges and create what he calls "an unholy mess."

Metropolitan says 3,650,000 babies were born in 1948; there were only a few more than 2,000,000 born in 1933. The birth rate was 18.3 per 1,000 population in 1933; 25 last year. Births probably will dwindle this year, but it is likely there will be at least 3,000,000 a year for some years to come.

An avalanche of pupils already is swamping the schools. The census bureau says there were more than 25,000,000 in grade and high schools last year. This year there will be 800,000 more.

The total is expected to continue snowballing until 1958 when there will be 34,100,000 pupils. The grade school youngsters grow up and the high schools will have their big year in 1960 with an enrolment of over 8,000,000.

Facilities for today's enrolment are grossly inadequate, critics say, and too little provision is being made for the future. Since 1940, when there were 27,400,000 pupils in grade and high school little building has been done. Buildings are two few and overcrowding is the rule rather than the exception, critics complain.

Local Problem

Remedy? Pay the teachers more money. Build more buildings. Acquire more recreation ground. Purchase more equipment. And so all this with an eye on the future when the school population will be 35 per cent higher. But this costs money—taxpayers' money. The problem is considered primarily a local one, not federal.

These are what responsible authorities say will be the results if nothing is done about current school conditions:

1. Delinquency will rise. Robbery, prostitution, any crime that doesn't require brains will flourish and grow.

2. The sum of the national knowledge will fall, because the children aren't getting a proper education.

3. The schools will turn out inept, downright incompetent youths. Business and industry will have to absorb these incompetents for lack of better. There will not be enough brains to go around in the top jobs. Then, down the ladder go the high standards of American business and industry.

4. How about government? One observer said it takes intelligence to live in a democracy. Any fool can drift with the masses in a dictator state.

Say Top Lawyers Defend Clergy

SOFIA, Feb. 24—(AP)—The president of the Sofia district court said today some of Bulgaria's top lawyers will defend 15 Protestant churchmen accused of treason and spying for Britain and the United States.

He said also that the trial "will be public."

Velichkov said a career judge would preside over the court, most probably Constatine Undjiev. The jurymen would be Luka Lulchen and Velyo Djevizov.

The foreign press representation will include correspondents of the Associated Press, the United Press, International News Service, Reuters and the New York Times.

Britain Refuses To Return To Old Order

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 24—(C(P)—Britain Wednesday told the United Nations she is not interested in returning to pre-war economic standards and is turning instead to new social and economic experiments.

"For us, the social and economic standards of the pre-war years are not things to be recovered but to be repudiated," Christopher P. Mayhew, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told the economic and social council.

"It is clearly time to cease talking of the 'recovery' of Britain. We have long passed that stage."

Mayhew spoke during discussions in the 18-member council on the world economic situation.

The debate, which opened Monday, is expected to include late this week an outline of President Truman's "new bold program" of aid to under-developed countries.

Poland Criticizes

This program was blasted Wednesday by Poland's Julius Katzsuchy. He described it as "an attempt to arrange for investors to have suitable places for investments abroad."

After Katz-suchy also flayed the Marshall Plan, Mayhew said that "to describe aid from the United States, as some try to do, as enslaving is . . . ridiculous."

"We have not the slightest intention of modifying our economic or social or our political plans to qualify for aid," he added.

Mayhew said Britain has a "great deal" to learn from the United States in some production fields. But, he added, as Britain's economy develops by the use of British methods "America will have a great deal to learn from us."

May Shoot Wolves With Cyanide Bullets

THE PAS, Man., Feb. 24—(CP)—Manitoba may start killing wolves with cyanide bullets.

F. B. Chalmers, the Provincial Resources Depeartment's northern representative, said today experiments are being conducted with the cyanide gun because wolves are causing trappers heavy losses.

Game Guardian Joe Robertson of Cranberry Portage is to report on the gun's effectiveness, he said. An advantage is that wolves killed by cyanide capsules do not poison other animals that eat their flesh, he added.

Decide Test Useless

BRAMPTON, Feb. 24—(CP)—Because a doctor used a swab soaked in alcohol to wipe a man's arm before taking a blood test, Magistrate Thomas Moorehead Wednesday dismissed a drunken driving charge against Herbert Young. Dr. W. W. Bartlett said he used an alcohol-soaked swab on Young's arm before taking a blood sample to see if the accused was intoxicated. Dr. H. Avery, York County Coroner, testified the test would be useless under those circumstances.

Name Wheat Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(CP)—The International Wheat Conference Wednesday appointed a six-country committee to iron out the bumps in the text of a proposed world wheat agreement. The committee comprised Canada, the United States, Russia, Britain, Switzerland and Eire. It was named following a preliminary reading of the ill-fated 1948 Act, which serves as a basis for this year's new attempt.

Reports of Greater Service To Community Heard At VON Annual Meeting

Peterborough branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses increased a deficit of $294 to $919 during the past year, Wilson M. Gemmell told the annual meeting at the YWCA on Wednesday. A glowing account of greater service to the community both in home nursing and health education was described by Miss Mary Ross, superintendent of nurses, who said that care of the chronically ill and mothers and babies in their return home from hospital, had been the chief occupation of the nurses during 1948.

Care of the chronically ill and aged patients was a service which is growing in demand, Miss Ross said. It was estimated that 70 per cent of these cases can be cared for in the home providing there is adequate nursing and housekeeping service. Last year 1,574 visits were made to such patients. Statistics showed that two-thirds of the older people were dependent or semi-dependent and that chronic illness is more extensive among people in the lower income groups than in others.

Aid to Mother and Baby

There were 2,795 visits made in the interests of mother and baby. "This branch of the service gives us one of the finest opportunities for interpreting the preventive aspects of nursing" Miss Ross declared. "The prenatal visit, which to some may seem an extra frill rather than a necessity, is considered by the nurses as an essential service" she said.

"To the mother, the demonstration baby bath and follow-up health supervision visits for a period of six weeks are invaluable. After dependency on hospital life, where every movement of the baby's day is supervised, the mother often feels lost and appreciates the help of the nurse who can help bridge this gap."

The nurse who has visited the home before the baby's birth and supervised the welfare of the baby, has established a relationship of trust, which tends towards effective results when promoting good health standards in the family."

Miss Ross also said that doctors attending home deliveries were assisted by nurses of the Order, who attended 14 in the past year.

Medical and surgical cases such as pneumonia, heart diseases, rheumatism, cancer and long-term cases had resulted in 3,234 visits. At the present time, when the city was short of hospital accommodation, the Order was able to fill a great need to the community.

Economy Drained

Miss Ross spoke of "enormous drains on our national economy" caused by mental and emotional illness. Mental illness affects three times as many as heart disease or arthritis, 10 times as many as cancer and 15 times as many as tuberculosis, and is the nation's greatest health problem she said.

Provision had been made for a staff education program, Miss Ross reported. Mrs. Marion Webster had attended a study group under the direction of the institute of Child Study on Disciplinary problems in general, with emphasis on problems of preschool age children.

Student affiliation was continued and 42 students' nurses observed the work of the V.O.N. staff for two full days.

In co-operation with the University of Toronto the local branch once again afforded field practice of one month for each of two students taking the post graduate course in public health nursing.

New Quarters

J. E. Girven, president, said that after using office space in the Public Health Department's section of the city offices for the past eight years, increases in the staff had made it necessary to obtain larger quarters. While the expense of renting offices and purchasing additional office furniture had "put the budget out of balance" he felt the aquisition of proper working facilities had been a step in the right direction.

Christine Livingston, recently appointed national chief superintendent, congratulated the branch on a fine record of service. She was particularly impressed by the branch's successful co-operation with other sections of the community. She said there were 108 branches throughout Canada and 500 nurses. A part time nursing service to industry was a comparatively new feature of the Order's activities; 64 branches had child welfare services; 37 gave service in the schools and 36 assisted at immunization clinics.

Elect Officers

Charles H. Elliott, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following slate for election as the branch's officers, all of whom were elected unanimously:

Hobby Keeps Family On Go

KITCHENER, Feb. 24—(CP)—If ever a family surrounded itself with a hobby, that family is Elmore Henning's at Milverton.

There are three Hennings and clocks in their little house just off the main street. They ring out the hours and the quarter-hours. If you want an undistrubed night's sleep, then you cautiously stop the grandfather clocks on your way to bed.

Clock collecting has been a Henning hobby since boyhood. Now 39 the collector boasts a variety guaranteed to make an antique dealer's eyes roll. These clocks date back to the time of Columbus and work forward through every century and almost every country of the world to present-day clocks which he makes himself.

No harsh alarm stirs Mr. Henning's weekday mornings. A musical clock in a nickel case timidly plays "Sweet Mary" for 15 minutes. A dozen more clocks in the bedroom check it for accuracy.

Big Variety

These are the clocks of other nations: A Swiss wag-of-the-wall dated 1816; a German wag-of-the-wall brought to Canada in 1820, and a series of novelty bearing cherubs or other accessories.

In the halls there are grandfather clocks from Scotland and Switzerland. In the living-room, a French battery clock and a 400-day clock from Paris exchange ticks in broken English with an English 400-day clock with revolving pendulum. A clock with a swinging Dutch girl for a pendulum beats rhythm wit' black ivory elephant.

In the kitchen collection there is a mystery clock without any apparent mechanism, yet it returns the correct time when you try to confuse it by moving its hands. Flush against the wall, there is no movement behind its mirrored face. There is nothing on that mirror except the two hands and the 12 numerals. Yet it is flanked by revolving pendulum clocks, miniature clocks, glass-encased clocks and just plain, everyday clocks.

Mr. Henning started buying alarm clocks in his school days. He has since bought antiques at auction and private sales from Kitchener to Stratford. It is a tribute to his ability as a clockmaker as well, that all 50 clocks in the house keep time accurately.

Ask Charge Of Arson Laid Against Stancek

WINDSOR, Feb. 24—(CP)—Officials of the fire department have asked that a charge of arson be laid against Michael Stancek, 63-year-old Windsor laborer presently recovering from what police term a suicide attempt.

His wife, Pauline, was found murdered in the kitchen of their burning east side home last Friday by a neighbour who investigated after seeing smoke pour out of the residence. Stancek was found in a field across the street from the home, a bullet wound in his head.

Three fires in the home were quickly extinguished and damage from the outbreaks was not considered serious.

Ladd To Stick To Action Roles

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 24 (AP)—Alan Ladd, back at work after a European jaunt and an illness, will stick to action in his movie career.

Looking fit after his convalescence, Allan has a role similar to his first big break in "This Gun for Hire." The film is "After Midnight" and is full of action. That's okay with him.

"I talked to theatre men in England and France when I was over there," he says "And they said they preferred to show action pictures. Anyone can understand a fight even if he doesn't know the language."

Ladd also keeps busy with his transcription firm, which produces four air shows, one with him. The company is keeping an eye on television, he adds.

Grouch no Slouch

Groucho Marx is going to be a grandfather for the second time His son and daughter-in-law are expecting another child. Grandpa Marx also has a daughter 2½ years old and is planning to take her to the zoo this week. "It will be the first animals she's seen, outside of my relatives," he said. . .

Groucho tells me he's slowing down this year. In 1948 he wrote and rewrote a play, took it to New York, did two pictures, his air show and eight guest shows. "That's too much for a grandfather, says he.

Imported Potatoes Are Drug On Market

LONDON, Feb. 24—(CP)—Importation of Erie potatoes to build up reserves was followed by a heavy British crop in 1948, and a loss of £206,250 ($825,000) to the British treasury.

Food Minister Strachey told a questioner in the Commons that this loss would be incurred on a purchase of 30,000 tons of Erie potatoes last year. Bought at about £10 a ton the potatoes are being sold to alcohol factories at £3 to £4.

The offer to buy Erie potatoes was made in February, 1948, after a serious shortage had been experienced during the learlier winter months. But when the British crop was harvested it was 12,000,00 tons, 4,000,000 more than in 1947.

Thousands of tons of potatoes were used for feed. Other similar losses were caused last spring when potatoes bought on the continent were not needed and later were shipped to Germany.

Czech Rumblings Causing New Soviet Headache

By LEON DENNEN.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Though defection from the Cominform is the most sensational, it is by no means the only bad headache Generalissimo Stalin has in the Balkans, the Near East, and elsewhere behind the iron curtain.

Even Czechoslovakia, considered by some outsiders a compliant Red doormat, is rumbling. President Gottwald himself is on the Kremlin's suspect list. Those who have been following Prague developments closely would not be surprised to see him replaced by Rudolf Slanski and Justice Minister Cepicka, who would carry out Kremlin orders without consideration for the non-Communist majority of Czechs.

Gottwald, Moscow thinks, has been too lenient in his dealings with non-Communists. He wept at the bier of President Benes.

Things haven't been going so well for the Soviets in Czechoslovakia as has appeared on the surface. Resistance is primitive disorganized and spontaneous but it does exist. At least 70 per cent of Czech trades union members are showing signs of resistance. Even Communist party members are beginning to grumble about longer working hours, the speed-up, and drastic shortages of consumer goods.

Strikes Occur Daily

Short strikes occur almost daily. Minor acts of sabotage, and absenteeism, are on the upgrade. Antonin Zapotcky, Communist premier and also head of the labor union council, recently charged that workers have slacked efforts during their regular hours in order to get overtime at extra, tax-free rates. He said that the new social and health insurance program had broken down because "it is beyond the country's productive, economic and financial range."

Premier Zapotcky ought to know the temper of the workers. At a recent council meeting, which he attended to complain about the general slowdown in industry, he was all but physically thrown out of the hall. At the same time, in the city of Bruenn, Mrs. Jankovcova, Minister of Food, was physically assaulted by angry housewives.

The resistance is so spontaneous that Communist officials don't know how to check it. The Czech Communist Party recently created a special "control commission" to watch over the behavior of party members. The government announced that special privileges would be given to workers at the expense of "parasites."

Scores Executed

Persuasion failing, force is used. I have reports that in the month of December, 1948, prison sentences aggregating 711 years were imposed on 118 persons, and scores were executed.

But Moscow feels that Gottwald is too lenient—so, it appears, he must give way to somebody who will be firm.

In Romania, too, the Kremlin has its troubles. Even Anna Pauker, who once saved her own skin by denouncing her husband as Trotszykite, is reported on her way out. Trotszkyism preceded Titoism as the synonym for heresy. Pauker's husband paid with his life—but his wife rose high in the Stalinist hierarchy.

Now, however, she is playing second fiddle to Bodnaras, chief of the Romanian secret police — who actually is a Russian M.V.D. agent named Bodnarenko.

There are persistent rumors, in labor and underground circles, of a split in the Romanian Politburo.

Moscow wants peace in the West, however uneasy, while she cracks some of these Balkan nuts. She needs peace in the West while she tries to capitalize on the Red victories in China—and while her agents scurry frantically around the Middle East, particularly Turkey.

Modern Turkey provides the rare case of a dictatorship trying hard to become a democracy. By western standards she has a long way to go. But she is making progress. And she is ready to fight to keep her independence.

Thanks to U. S. help, Turkey is the best-armed and most vigorous state bordering on the Soviet-controlled Balkans and the Middle East. Moscow wants to soften Turkey up in hope she will crack from within.

Meanwhile the emergence of the democratic leadership as that of State of Israel under such able President Chaim Weizman and Premier David Ben Gurion, is a setback to Soviet hopes of keeping the Middle East in eruption. She must act fast, if she is to keep peace from coming.

Behind the riots, strikes, assassinations in Cairo, Beirut, Damascus and Teheran, insiders believe they can see clearly the organizational talents of Khalid Bagdosh and Mustafa El Aris, Moscow-trained Arab agents who operate under cover of the World Federation of Trade Unions.

So Moscow has her hands full trying to digest what she has grabbed, seeking to extend her sway as fast as possible without war.

The United States' pile of atom bombs may not convince Washington that this country is master of the international situation. But it is enough to cause the Politburo to proceed with prudence and caution.

The threat of war hangs over [illegible] as brake upon full economic and political recovery. Moscow wants it that way, even though she has no intention of going to war.

But while she tries to mend her fences in the Balkans and the Middle East, Marshall Plan aid is strengthening the non-Communist areas in Europe, so that by the time Moscow is in position to fight she may find the defensive coalition too strong to be attacked.

That, I am convinced by five years of intimate observation and study on the spot, is the real hope of Europe, of the world, of the United States.

2,500 Students Of PCVS Receive TB Skin Tests

Students of the Peterborough Collegiate and Vocational School and the Public Schools of the city are receiving tuberculin skin tests. About 2,500 students have received the test up to Wednesday night. Out of this number there are only a few students which show a positive reading.

In the Collegiate about 800 students have been tested by Dr. L. E. Mylks, the school doctor, and Miss M. J. V. Jory, the school nurse. Six hundred students at Prince of Wales school and 100 from Grove school have been given the test by Miss Jory. Miss Mary Stone, another school nurse has given the skin test to 900 students at the Queen Mary, Central, and Queen Alexandra Schools. Others have been done but the exact number has not yet been reported.

Dr. Mylks and his assistants started giving the tests early in January. Notice were sent home with the students saying that the tuberculin skin tests were being given and asking that if the parents wanted their child to have the test to sign the slip and return it to the school.

Each Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the doctor and the nurses give the skin tests to the students. As the results have to be read in 48 hours, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday are used to read the tests made earlier in the week.

If a red blush about the size of a dime to a fifty-cent piece appears on the skin, that person is positive. These people will also be X-rayed for the positive decision whether that person has TB or not. According to the doctor a person who gives positive Test may not have TB, being only associated with it more than the ordinary person. The majority of these cases which are positive form out to be the latter.

Prairies Hoping Floods Over For Next 30 Years

By JACK AVESON

WINNIPEG, Feb. 24 —(CP)— Western Canadians are counting on the law of averages, plus experience, to prevent a recurrence this spring of 1948's million-dollar floods.

Public works officials say that under nature's own rotating system, floods of last year's magnitude come on the average of only once every 30 years. Then too, they say, western Canadians learned much last year and will know through experience how best to combat the threat of inundation.

But provincial officials add that it is a bit early to predict what the spring will bring.

British Columbians are watching the situation with some concern. Last year flood damage was estimated by provincial authorities to have exceeded $25,000,000 with the Fraser river reaching its highest level since 1894.

In Alberta, where the coal mining districts in the central part of the province bore the brunt of last year's floods, public works officials have expressed confidence over the outlook for this spring.

Make Own Arrangements

Towns and villages in Saskatchewan which were water logged for weeks last year are making their own arrangement in case of recurrences. Step are being taken to insure the safety of machinery and other equipment which might be damaged by water. Residents at such places as Roche Percee in the southern section of the province, inundated last year, are prepared to move valuables to higher ground.

In Manitoba, where the Red River Valley became a bloated lake last spring, splitting the province from the United States border to Lake Winnipeg, conferences are being planned between American and Canadian officials to consider what steps should be taken against floods.

Residents along the Souris river, which courses through western Manitoba and eastern Saskatchewan, say floods will come in their district, however, if even average snowfall occurs in March.

The same fear has been expressed in other sections of the west. Heavy winter snows gave vent to the belief that while flooding won't be as severe as last year, it'll be enough to dampen more than spirits.

Englishman Likes Canadian Freedom

EDMONTON, Feb. 24 —(CP)— When Robert E. Ryder of Middlesex, England stepped off a train in Edmonton recently, he summed up his feeling about Canada this way: "This is for me."

A former construction foreman, farmer and winner of the Victoria Cross in the First World War, he intends to make Edmonton his home. He is the fifth member of his family to move from England to Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ryder and their 16-year-old daughter Brenda settled in New Brunswick in 1946. They bought a farm but later decided to join relatives here.

They emigrated to Canada because they "couldn't stand being tied down by the government," Ryder said, adding they like the "free and easiness" of Canada and Canadians.

Ryder won his V. C. when he was only 29. A bronze statue of him by Epstein stands at the entrance to the Middlesex Guildhall in London.

He served for a time in the Second World War but was discharged because of war wounds and "football shins." During the 1920s, he played soccer.

World Depends On Progress Made By Science

Dr. R. C. Wallace, Principal and Vice-Chancellor of Queen's University, spoke to So-Ed at the Normal School Wednesday evening on "The Meaning of Education." He considered first the data or material of education, which he classified broadly as the physical sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities. Of the first field of study, the world about us, his emphasis on the necessity of having some scientific knowledge was significantly direct. He said that "No one today who does not know science is an educated man or woman."

He pointed out that this necessity is modern. Until Huxley's essays, such as "Man's Place in Nature" (1863) the formal study of science was merely a branch of philosophy. Classics and mathematics dominated school and college curricula. In the House of Commons men quoted Virgil and Horace. They no longer do so in any Parliament in the world in these days when men are concerned with the "intimacies of the atom." Dr. Wallace said that it was necessary for every educated person to establish connection and have sympathy with the vast movements in science. He showed how dependent every community and home is upon outside sources developed by science, by referring to the hydro power shortage this winter. He commended as particularly valuable in education a knowledge of the ways a scientist works, the scientific method in the search for truth.

The second field of education, the social sciences, is created by our life in communities. It is "a vast and difficult field because it depends on the reaction of individuals vis-a-vis the group, and there are "no means yet of predicting in the field of human affairs." In this group are history, politics, government, sociology, and related studies.

The third field in Dr. Wallace's classification concerns ourselves individually and not in groups. It has to do with ideal, inner values, with anything that "elevates our minds and spirits." These imponderables are, the speaker said, the most important and most powerful things in our lives. The danger to-day is that they are being ignored or undervalued. Quoting the Biblical admonition that "without vision the people perish," Dr. Wallace remarked that vision comes from these intangibles. They cannot be taught formally, but "the great teachers are those who have taught us that these (ideal and inner virtues) were the important things with them."

Aims of Education

In the second part of his lecture, Principal Wallace discussed the aims of Education. He again sub-divided his remarks into three classifications, saying that the goals of education were success in life, to develop as good citizens, and to become emotionally and intellectually rich and strong.

He considered that the desire to be successful is very important. "I am one who in a democratic world judges others by their success in the job they are doing." By this the speaker meant not financial success, but competence. He remarked that no man who is not a success in his job is of much influence in the community—not because he

Scouts, Guides Given Dinner

As part of Peterborough's Scout-Guide Week program, St. Luke's Anglican Church held a large rally on Tuesday evening. More than 200 Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies with the Scouts' fathers and Guides' mothers enjoyed a dinner in the Sunday School dining room.

This was followed in the auditorium by the presentation of Scout awards. Best Scout trophy was won by John Rogers, 304 Rogers St. Two runners-up, who received the Scoutmaster Award for general proficiency, were Scouts Daniel Barkley, 8 Edgewater Blvd., and Gordon Barker, 12 Armour Rd. Guest speakers were two Royal Canadian Mounted Policemen, Const. G. McCormick and Const. George Pickering, of Cobourg detachment. They presented the Scout awards, above mentioned, and showed two excellent color films entitled "The Making of a Mountie" and "Eskimo Life in the North-western Arctic."

Besides the Mounties, head table guests at the dinner were the Rev. W. J. Gilling, chairman, and Mrs. Gilling; Mrs. Ed. Whalen, Peterborough Guides Commissioner; District Scout Master George Groombridge, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Krant, Mr. and Mrs. Edward MacDonald and Sidney Mason.

5 Years with Hasty-Pees.

Mr. Lustic was five years overseas with the Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment (the Hasty-Pees), and qualifies in priority as a veteran of the second World War. The Central Mortgage houses were built in agreement with the city for accommodation of ex-service men and their families. Mr. Lustic is an employee of Peterborough Lock Co. He and his family have been occupying a few rooms. They move into a brand new house Saturday.

Members of the council will be present at the formal opening of the first of the 226 houses.

United Church Presbytery Moves Protest

Peterborough Presbytery of the Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church protests against any proposal to appoint a Canadian representative to the Roman Catholic Church at the Vatican. This resolution was passed at a meeting of the Presbytery at St. Andrew's Church Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was an adjourned meeting which was to have been held the Monday the Rev. A. M. Partridge died.

"Such an appointment," the resolution says, "would violate the traditional policy of the separation of the church and state by giving preference to one religious denomination above the others, and such would be a provocation to suspicion and disunity."

Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's Church proposed the resolution which was accepted by the members of the Presbytery.

Rev. W. G. Berry addressed the Presbytery on the spiritual foundations necessary for the preparation of the celebration of the 25th anniversary of the United Church in 1950.

Question Ownership Of Pair Of Pants

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, was set a poser in city police court today when ownership of a pair of pants was disputed. Thomas Hum of the De Luxe restaurant claimed that Jack Thibadeau, an employee at the restaurant, had stolen the pants from him.

Thibadeau maintained that he had bought them in Paris, Ont but Hum, who said that Thibadeau had stolen a number of things from him, said they were his, and showed the magistrate a mark on the pants which was made when he spilt flour on them in the restaurant.

At a loss to know whose pants they were, Mr. Philp dismissed the case, although he told Thibadeau it was "very suspicious."

Council Awaits Medals For Lacrosse Players

Council is waiting for medals before giving a dinner to the lacrosse team, OLA senior B title winners last year.

Ald. D. Miller said he was simply raising a question and not trying to put on pressure in wondering whether the council was going to recognize the lacrosse team in any way.

"I have been asked from time to time since last fall whether the council was going to do anything and it is rather embarrassing. I'd just like to know, one way or the other."

Ald. Sands, chairman of the reception committee: "We've been waiting until we could get medals."

And now, unfortunately for him, Ald. Sands is at Civic Hospital with a fractured leg.

Develop Green Belt Protection To Public

Purchase of the southwest corner of Romaine St. and Monaghan Road as a green belt, was the advice of town planning committee to the council.

E. W. (Ted) Moore applied to the council for a used car sale lot license, and they asked the planning committee for an opinion. Mr. Moore has a gas station at Chamberlain St.

The committee regards Monaghan Road as steadily increasing in traffic, and with the railway crossing at the intersection of the two roads, it was felt tha the present area should be maintained for the protection of the public. This area at present embraces the street corners. A small house was erected last year at the northeast corner, but it does not interfere with vision of the CPR.

The recommendation was referred to the board of works.

1948 Campaign Objective Exceeded By 25 Percent By First Firm Reporting

The ninth annual Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund campaign does not get under way officially until Friday night. But already canvassers are making their rounds and one firm in the Retail Division has made its quota with 100 per cent. of the employees contributing. First firm to meet its quota, raised 25 per cent. over the 1948 figure, is the Goodwin Machine Tool Co. All of the employees agreed to give generously and the pledge has been handed into campaign headquarters two days before the opening gun is fired.

Campaign officials are pleased with these initial returns and say that it augurs well for the attainment of the $75,000 objective.

Nearly 90 women under the leadership of Mrs. W. E. Fanning received their canvassing kits a week ago today and they began their door-to-door calls on Monday. Already cash and pledges have started to come in.

The campaign will get its official send-off on Friday night when canvassers and all other officials connected with the Red Cross and Community Fund attend a special dinner at the CGE cafeteria.

Guest speaker will be W. Earle Gordon, president of the Trent Valley Baking Co. and prominent youth worker for many years.

$10,000 Taken From Reserve

In 1948 to raise the amount of money required $10,000 was taken from the reserve, which brought the final total to $70,000. This year, however, the whole must be raised from the campaign. The reserve will not be touched.

Members of the executive who scrutinize the budget of each agency are Judge S. L. Smoke, E. C. Braund, P. Moore, W. C. Hughes, Mrs. J. H. Vernor, W. A. Richardson, Mrs. Charles Ray, R. M. Matthews, E. J. Wolff (secretary), T. A. Mackay (treasurer).

The Special Names Division is headed by G. S. Matthews and the objective is $22,500. Canvassers are Robert Abbott, Lionel Browne, Douglas Carlisle, C. S. Cummer, J. H. Willey, H. T. Cranford, V. Dawson, R. L. Dobbin, R. Faryon, G. K. Fraser, G. A. Gillespie, R. M. Glover, F. Hills, J. R. Marshall, I. F. McRae, T. A. Mackay, Gordon Munro, W. A. Richardson, J. E. Sullivan, G. H. Thompson.

Quotas for the other Divisions are: Industrial $32,500, Retail $16,500 and Women's $4,000.

Fished Six Hours For Two Herring

Some fishermen have all the luck, others strike an average catch. Last Sunday Johnny Young, Peter Vitarelli, William Rooney, Harold and Norman Sanderson drove to Duclos Point off Beaverton on Lake Simcoe to try for herring.

They rented two portable fishing shacks at $1.25 per person which also included dead minnow bait, and crouched over the ice holes for six hours. Their total catch was two herring. They said they must have been in the wrong spot for their nearest neighbor, a fisherman from Toronto, took 23 fish during the same time. There were about 25 shacks on the ice.

City Bus Driver Good Samaritan To Small Boys

Bus driver Walter Ramsay provided emergency transportation for two Lynch St small boys Wednesday. They had headed down Romaine St. to the Monaghan Rd. corner, and like all men they fell for the lure of the little creek that flows under the road and off across factory country to the Park St. drain.

The smaller boy was about four or five. Somehow he got through the ice and into the water for a ducking up to his wait. A woman waiting for a bus heard the youngster's bawling and dragged him up the bank, and further on up the road. Along came the bus and Mr. Ramsay. He recognized the two gaffers of the neighborhood and lifted them into the bus. The wet one gave out tremendous howls of fright or something, and the older one was emphatically briefed by Mr. Ramsay, and with repitition, to "see that you take him straight home—remember now straight home" about four houses from the corner.

The baby from the creek, that's all he was, took off still crying to the neighborhood.

The driver escaped injury. Provincial Constables Don Nicol and W. Baluk investigated.

Skunk Fights Removal From Warehouse

Outboard Employee Goes Into Temporary Retirement As Animal Revives

Having won the first round in the south-end tilt for supremacy Mr. Skunk advanced to the finals Wednesday by defeating the Outboard Marine staff in a pitched battle. The playoff date for the championship has not yet been announced.

After visiting the Poolman plant on Romaine St. last week and successfully routing the staff for two days, Mr. Skunk decided he was ready for bigger and better things. This time, he chose a more important adversary, The Outboard Marine Company.

At the end of the 24-hour knock 'em out, drag 'em down battle, Mr. Skunk walked off the victor leaving behind a badly damaged warehouse and one member of the staff barred from polite society.

A young woman passing into work Tuesday could scarcely believe the evidence of her eyes when she saw a little black and white visitor amble in the door ahead of her. By the time she had assured herself she wasn't seeing pink elephants the employee hastened to warn the members of her department.

Her friends greeted the announcement with jeers and sallies and it was late in the day before she had convinced her co-workers that they were harboring a skunk in their nice, big, new warehouse.

Mindful of what had happened to their neighbors around the corner in the first bout, the Outboard people attacked the problem with more subtlety.

Declining to use force, they resorted to strategy. Early on Wednesday morning, a daring crew set up some gas equipment and laid down a barrage. After several minutes of attack, the captain ordered a cease fire and they trouped forward to view the mortal remains.

One member of the assault force decided it was a shame to waste a perfectly good skunk and determined to skin it. He picked it up and walked a few feet toward the door. Then, a resurrection occurred. Groggy, but not out, Mr. Skunk strenuously objected to being carried in such an undignified fashion.

Made of strong stuff, the Outboard employees refused to be driven out. But all doors and windows which could be pried open were pressed into service. As for the unfortunate individual who pitted his skill against the little animal . . he has gone into temporary retirement, in disgrace with himself and his pals.

Excited!

Put Blockbuster In Canteen Christened Cookie After Mistake

By ALAN HARVEY

LONDON, Feb. 24—(CP).—Why was the blockbuster bomb christened "Cookie?" Because, says a new book on Britain's wartime arsenals, Lancashire factory workers mistook one for a steam boiler and tried to install it in a canteen kitchen.

Why was one room in the same factory called "The Beauty Parlor?"

Because women workers applied their glamor paint there. Forced to wear a protective face cream, the women complained it was unsightly. So the management tactfully issued a cream "specially tinted to enhance the wearer's complexion." There were no more complaints.

Novelist Ian Hay (real name Maj.-Gen. John Hay Beith, CBE, MC) recounts these episodes in "ROF," a 100-page account of Britain's royal ordnance factories for 1939 and 1948.

He tells how 44 such factories, compared with three before the war, fought long hours and air raids to earn Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery's tribute:

"They knew we needed munitions, more munitions and ever munitions. They were determined that we should get them, and we did."

Employed 350,000

The factories employed 350,000 men and women. Most of them worked two 12-hours shifts daily, including Sundays. One workers in the Liverpool area said he didn't see daylight in seven months.

One factory had a "card-index nightmare"—there were 40 workers all named Ann Clark.

Headed by the 1,400-acre Royal Arsenal at Woolwich, the factories produced more than 5,000,000 small arms, 4,000,000 shells, bombs and mines and 6,000,000,000 rounds of small-arm ammunition.

Strikes were practically unknown and absenteeism negligible.

Twenty-two of the 44 factories, now employing 44,000, are being kept open for production in emergency.

Scotland Makes Biggest Play For Tourists

GLASGOW, Feb. 24 — (AP)—Scotland is making its biggest play ever for tourists.

Most of the big cities already are crying their summer and autumn attractions, confident that the fourth full post-war year will bring in visitors and money on a record-breaking scale.

Sparking the drive is the Scottish Council, representative of business, industry and labor, and backed by civic and cultural organizations. Sir Steven Bilsland, financier and industrialist, is the chairman, and headquarters are in Glasgow.

"We think we can offer (visitors) something distinctive in the way of hospitality," sir Steven said.

The Council is promoting a Scottish Industries Exhibition in Glasgow from September 1 to 17.

Starting earlier but overlapping the Industrial Exhibition will be Edinburgh's Third International Festival of Music and Drama.

The 1948 Festival, it is reckoned, brought nearly £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) and some 300,000 visitors into the Edinburgh area.

Scots realize that in bidding for holiday crowds they suffer from competitive disadvantages. Summers are short and usually cool, and climate the year round is so damp that even home folks get irritable.

Resort boosters concentrate, therefore, on the fun to be had, shooting, fishing for salmon, and hiking in the Highlands.

Scottish scenery is a good bet. It is indisputably picturesque, and grows on the appreciation and imagination until it becomes exhilarating.

United Church Faith Said Living Faith

"Churches, like the Free Methodist and Presbyterian, did not enter into the formation of the United Church because of three main objections: the ministers would not to be chosen by the congregation, finance and tradition," said the Rev. W. G. Berry, Regina, associated secretary of the department of evangelism and social service, Wednesday evening at St. Andrew's Church. He was speaking on the period of preparation for the anniversary of the United Church in 1950.

"Nothing has been done about these problems to bring in the other churches who stayed out of the union. Some of these people who did not enter into the formation of the United Church now wish to join. The day isn't far off when the breech between the Presbyterians and the United Church might be healed," he said.

Mr. Berry said the United Church has had its own traditions. He added that he has preached in small rural schools near the mountains, in the wheat fields, and in the small towns of Alberta and in the large churches of the cities of the West.

"If a man loves God, he loves his neighbors. If he loves his neighbors, he loves God. The church is a living fellowship."

Men and Women Matter

United Church, he explained, believes that ordinary men and women matter. That is why there are home missions, he said. "God is interested in all people. These little people are the people who make up the churches. Religion is to be shared by all people. The United Church is the greatest home mission church in Canada," the speaker declared.

"Our faith is a living faith. No person or congregation can exist in isolation. The ordinary people, no matter what their occupation or nationality, are all the same before God.

"Because a person cannot live to himself, the church challenges human society to provide a proper environment for him. Any institution in our society, whether international, national or social, which forgets that human personalities are the most important factors in our civilization is doomed to perish."

A Living Fellowship

Mr. Berry added that the United Church will challenge any power which tries to hem the people of the world in. He said the church is a living fellowship, more than just the addition of numbers. It is a power within itself. He hopes the people will get new members not into the building or the congregation, but into the living church of Jesus Christ.

"Once a person gets the church into their blood there is no getting rid of it. Wherever I go I remember my church in the West. This is because the church is a fellowship of men and women who believe in Jesus Christ. A Christian life cannot be led all by one's self."

He asked the people to rid the United Churches of the petty jealousies which exist in churches. The different churches saying they have a better choir than some other church, or which church gets the most money, is not the true fellowship of the church.

"I ask that through the period of preparation for the anniversary of the United Church in 1950 that you ask God what he wants you to do."

The Rev. Dr. James Semple and the Rev. M. J. Aiken introduced Mr. Berry, who was thanked by Rev. E. E. Pugsley, Norwood.

3 Bogus Bills From U.S. Used In Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 24 —(CP)— Three counterfeit United States $20 bills turned up today in separate downtown Torooto restaurants, police reported.

They said the money was part of a large quantity of bogus currency, believed smuggled from the U.S. The three bills bore the same letter and serial numbers as the cache of more than $15,000 recently found by police in an Oshawa house.

An international counterfeit ring, which police believe may be led by Donald (Mickey) McDonald, notorious escaped convict, was uncovered as a result of the Oshawa raid.

Edwin McDonald, Mickey's younger brother, and his wife were charged with forgery and remanded on bail.

Earlier, police said the counterfeit $20 bills were "so good it was difficult to tell them from the real thing."

World's Cheapest Dam

NEW DELHI (CP)—Preliminary work begun on construction of what may be the cheapest and fourth largest dam in the world. The 200-foot dam will be built across the River Chambal. Because the river drops into a basin of hard rock, costs of the dam will be considerably reduced.

Grandson Of Slave Mediates Armistice Signed In Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Feb. 24—(CP).—Dr. Ralph Bunche, who mediated the armistice signed today in Palestine, is the grandson of a slave. He took over as the United Nations' acting mediator for Palestine after a king's grandson, Count Folke Bernadotte, was murdered last September by assassins' bullets.

Since then Bunche has worked unceasingly to bring fruition to the patient, courageous work started by the Swedish nobleman.

Bunche is reported to have worked 18 hours a day during the last month, gently pushing the Israelis and Egyptians into an agreement.

This is the tribute paid by Walter Eytan, leader of the Israeli delegation to the peace talks on the Island of Rhodes:

"The main share of the credit for the successful conclusion of our labors must go to Dr. Bunche, the acting mediator and chairman of the conference, whose inexhaustible patience and almost superhuman capacity for hard work have earned the admiration of all."

Bunche, 44, has worked hard through his life to gain recognition.

Leading Scholar

An American Negro, he is one of the world's leading scholars in the field of race relations.

His father, a barber, and his mother, a musician, died in Detroit within three months of each other when he was 12 years old.

The soft-spoken Bunche worked his way through the University of California. Later he took a doctorate in government at Harvard University and was an instructor there.

He was a professor of political science at Howard University, Wash., DC, and studied at the London School of Economics and at South Africa's Capetown University.

For three months, he lived among the tribes of the Kenya highlands in Africa as a tribal citizen.

His training and service as United States adviser on colonial problems at nine international conferences fitted him for the post of director of the UN trusteeship division.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

Craft Show:—It gives us a real pleasure to read that District Rover Leader has the support of a good committee and feels that the Craft Show this year will top the standard of all previous shows, but even a good committee will not be able to succeed unless every Pack and Troop in the city gets behind the show.

Church Parade—The church parade to St. Paul's went over big. The display of flags was very impressive and Miss Whalon the soloist in her Guide uniform upheld good Scouting both in voice and deportment. A good representation from every unit was on hand with the All Saints Rover Crew a model for good uniform. Good work St. Paul's.

All Saints Pack:—We are glad to note the Group Committee is stepping in to help the Pack in passing tests, Mr. Livingstone representing that committee. Some 33 Cubs gathered around the Council Rock as Akela with Bagheera Johns and Baloo Alexander prepared to take the Pack along the trail. Before the Final Howl was heard, Bing Rose passed time telling, Jim Parker, Scott Rose passed time telling, Jim Parker, Scott Morley, Ronnie Morley, Ronnie Wilson, Wayne Ferguson and Jack Playford completed hopping, Grant Sloan, Billy Doherty, Ronald Jackson, explained the Union Jack, Scott Morley, Wayne Smith received their one year service star and Brook Rye was presented with his three year service star. The highlight of the evening was the investiture of Gerald Foy.

St. Paul's:—The last meeting was one of preparation and instruction. 23 boys were present receiving instruction on first and second Star work. The boys were warned about getting dad out to the banquet being held on Friday next Feb. 25.

Found a Pup:—One of the boys attending the Church Parade had his pup follow him. This pup is now in good hands waiting its owner. Please phone Gerald Dunsford city dog catcher.

Salvation Army Pack:—We were glad to have with us Mr. Livingstone from the Sacred Heart Pack. Some 30 Cubs attended. The main event was the Investiture of John Livingstone and Wayne Jarvis.

During the evening Kelvin Nichols passed his Book-balancing tests, Peter Hall, Ray Barton, Blackmore and Wayne Jarvis proved that they could tell the time.

Full arrangements were made for a church parade on Sunday afternoon at which Colonel Spooner, an old Scouter and holder of the 'Silver Wolf" will be the special speaker.

Trinity Pack:—Thirty - three boy met in the Jungle to adventure along the trail and to witness Mr. Malby Chairman of the Group committee present his son Bob with the Col tor' and First Aider badges, Mr. Malby also presented Gary Hancock with the Artist Badge.

Gerald Vincent completed Skipping, Lawrence Horton, Gary Rishor, Peter Ballantyne passed Union Jack, Bruce Hill—Cleaning shoes.

Every seat was filled with the Mothers providing ample food for all. Rev. W. Gilling was the a genial master of ceremonies, Mrs. Whalon was the speaker.

John Bertrand, acting leader of the Beaver Patrol received the shield for his group as the outstanding Patrol. John Rogers received the cup for the best all round Scout in St. Luke's, with runner up medals going to Goddon Barker and Danny Barkley. Following the repast, the group adjourned to the Sunday School room where Sgt. McCormick gave a talk on training for R.C.M.P. recruits. Police Object To Playing Bobby VICTORIA, Feb. 24—(CP)—City policemen do not want to enact the role of an "English Bobby" to attract the interest of tourists. Representatives of the police union told the police commission that the men do not like the idea of being a showpiece for the travelling public during the tourist season.

A year ago the old "Bobby" uniforms formerly worn by the force were replaced by new, smartly- cut open-neck uniforms with flat caps, but the police commission stipulated that a few would be named to wear the old button-to-neck style.

Constable Wm. Andrews said: "One objection is that it leaves the policeman doing the job open to ridicule, not only from the tourists but from local people."

Chief of Police J. A. McLellan told the commission that he felt for the men so far as wearing the helmets was concerned. "They're cheap and out of place. . .It's a game that's been played over a course of years and if we made up our mind to get rid if it, it would be forgotten in a short time"

"Well, they all wear the old uniform in Winnipeg," said Commissioner E. B. Gadsden.

Constable N. Bouchard suggested that pensioned policemen be hired for four months to take the job, and somebody else suggested that the publicity bureau hire men to handle it

How to Make Perfect Pancakes

1. Measure ingredients carefully. All measurements are level; use standard measuring cups.
2. Stir only until flour is moistened. Over-stirring makes a less tender pancake. The little lumps in the batter will come out in baking.
3. Be sure griddle is correct temperature. The griddle is just hot enough when a drop of water will bounce for a second before evaporating or when a spoonful of batter browns on one side in one minute.
4. Grease griddle very lightly using an unsalted fat. Pancakes will not stick to a griddle that has been properly seasoned. To season a griddle, cover it with a thin layer of unsalted fat or oil; heat griddle until fat begins to smoke; turn off heat and let griddle stand overnight. Remove excess fat before baking pancakes. Never scour a griddle without seasoning it again.
5. Pour batter for each pancake on the griddle quickly. Spooning the batter is not recommended, because the first spoonful starts to bake before the second one can be added.
6. Turn pancakes only once. Bake until cakes are covered with bubbles and edges look dry. Turn cakes and bake until brown on other side. Don't pat cakes or turn them more than once.
7. Serve pancakes "hot off the griddle". Stacking the cakes and letting them stand tends to make them soggy.

Next Tuesday's your Happy Pancake Day! The day you delight your family with stacks and stacks of fluffy-light, golden brown Aunt Jemimas . . . right hot from the griddle . . . all glistening with butter and dripping with rich appetizing syrup!

Aunt Jemimas are so easy to fix, too . . . you just add milk or water . . . stir, and pop 'em on the griddle! Serve Aunt Jemimas often—a plate of 4 delicious Aunt Jemimas costs less than 5c!

Labor Relations Board Begins Union Hearing

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP) — A case involving the old dispute between craft and industrial unions opened before the Ontario Labor Relations Board Wednesday. The Board's decision later may determine the role that craft unions can plan in plants already organized by CIO unions on an industrial basis.

The company involved is the Algoma Ore Properties, Ltd., a mining and refining operation near Sault Ste. Marie. There 300 employees are repesented by the United Steel Workers of America (CIO).

Three craft unions, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (AFL), International Association of Machinists (TLC) and the Carpenters and Joiners Union (AFL) put in individual claims for a total of 100 of the workers.

New Ontario labor regulations provide for a craft union in an industrially-organized plant where employees can show that by reason of technical skill they are distinguishable from other groups.

G. L. Dubin, counsel for the steel union, said the union's agreement covers all the workers. He said it would be fantastic to have, for example, 12 unions for 12 people. Harry Simon, AFL organizer, said the case struck at the very roots of AFL unions.

Carr Denies Getting Money From Reds

TORONTO, Feb. 24 (CP)—The Telegram reported Wednesday in a copyright story that Sam Carr, former Labor-Progressive Party national organizer, said he did not receive money from any Communist source after leaving Canada in early 1946.

Carr's counsel, Carl Herman of Toronto, said Mr. Carr told him his major source of income from 1946 until his arrest in New York Feb. 7, was from trading as a stamp collector. He also earned money from "part-time work as a tailor."

Carr now is in custody in Ottawa awaiting trial on charges in connection with Canada's 1946 Soviet-spy ring investigations.

"He denies he ever went into hiding," Mr. Herman said in an interview. "He left Canada early in 1946 before the report of the commission was ever published."

Colonel With New Face Fights Home Front Battle

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Feb. 24 (CP).—"The colonel with the new face," a hero in two wars, has gone into battle again, to help women who suffer pain in childbirth. Col. J. R. H. Hutchinson, 56, son of a Glasgow shipowner, sits in the Commons as Conservative member for Glasgow Central. Unobstrusive, precise in speech, his seat far behind those of the party chiefs, he's probably the toughest member of the House.

For "The colonel with the new face" is a legend among the valiant company which risked Gestapo torture during the war to bring secrets out of France and give heart to the resistance forces.

Hutchison, who served with the cavalry in the First World War, took to espionage as to the manner born. He was often in occupied France, and the Gestapo wanted him badly. They knew what he looked like.

Before D-day, it was essential that Hutchison go to France again. He knew what to do. He had the tips of his ears cut off, flesh grafted onto his chin and the bridge of his nose removed, even his friends didn't know him. Neither did the Gestapo. His job was done. In uniform, he can wear the D.S.O. ribbon but few see him in military dress.

The New Campaign

These adventurous day seem far off when Hutchison speaks of his new campaign. The father of a son and daughter, he protests a system which allows women to suffer prolonged pain in childbirth. He wants every midwife trained to use analgesia, every local authority to have analgesia equipment for midwives, every hospital to offer relief from pain at childbirth unless considered medically unwise.

Hutchison is preparing a private member's bill covering these points and hopes to present it to parliament.

Labor Bosses Draft Program For Election

LONDON, Feb. 24 (CP)—Labor bosses sat Wednesday in secret conclave to consider the program for the next general election.

Every big British industry wondered if it was on the list for nationalization.

It was believed that the purpose of the meeting of the executive of the Labor party was to review the preliminary draft of the election program. Whatever this gathering approves will go on to the union chiefs, regional party officers and other party supporters.

The election must be held not later than 1950. Conservative newspapers have speculated on the possibility of a "snap" election this summer but government spokesmen scoffed at the reports.

The document drafted at the executive meeting may be made public only when the annual party conference assembles in Blackpool, Lancashire, in June and delegates from all the United Kingdom are asked to approve it.

Predict Extension

But there is general belief that if Labor is returned to power at the next election the nationalization program will be extended beyond the fuel industries, transport and iron and steel, already achieved or promised.

Speculation about nationalization covers these industries and services:

1. Water services. Labor supporters object to reservoirs or important distribution services being left in private hands.
2. Insurance. Labor has been reticent but the industrial life offices association has started a publicity drive against possible government ownership.
3. Shipbuilding. Advocates of all-out nationalization say the prospects of a slump in the yards is the best argument for taking them over and the party should thus protect workers against the effects of a slump.
4. Chemical industry. The vast operations of this industry are looked on by many labor men as suitable for nationalization. But a strong element in the government thinks nothing more than government supervision and collaboration with private owners is necessary.

Delayed By Reds

VIENNA, Feb. 24—(AP)—An Associated Press correspondent bound for the clergy trial in Bulgaria was detained by the Russians for six hours Wednesday and prevented from making his deadline at Sofia. The correspondent, Richard Kasischke of Detroit, was bound from Vienna to Sofia. He was taken off the train by Russian guards at the border between the British and Russian zones of Austria. The Russians said his pass was not in order. Finally they said it was all right.

Can Transport Ore

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24—(CP) A sub-committee of the House of Representatives Wednesday approved a bill to permit Canadian ships to transport iron ore between United States ports on the Great Lakes from March 15 to Dec. 15 this year. The permission has been granted temporarily in other years. The last similar one-season waiver of United States coastal navigation laws ended last Dec. 31.

CUT PHONE CONDUIT

TORONTO, Feb. 24—(CP)—Telephone service between Toronto and Northern Ontario communities was disrupted Wednesday when a workman installing a water service near here accidentally drilled through a trunk telephone conduit. Some 1,800 lines in the Willowdale district, 10 miles north of here, and the trunk cable through Barrie was silenced.

Says O'Connell 10 Acres Worth $29,132

C. E. Purnell of Hamilton valued at $29,132 the J. T. O'Connell property, west of Park St. south, in expert evidence Wednesday afternoon to His Honor Judge Smoke as arbitrator of the city's expropriation.

George Lister of Toronto, another witness for the plaintiff, Mr. O'Connell, estimated the value of the approximate 10 acres at $28,000 in his turn on the stand Tuesday.

In outlining his background of experience, Mr. Purnell said he was chairman 18 years of Court of Revision, Hamilton, which heard an average of 300 appeals annually until his retirement in 1945. He was consulted as a valuator by Departments of the Ontario government in land matter, was a realty appraiser for the federal government and the CNR, built 200 houses prior to 1936, was consulted by lending companies, and since 1932 "dealt with every conceivable kind of real estate".

"I valued the O'Connell land as I believed it to be at the time of the expropriation in June 1948," Mr. Purnell said. "I estimated that was the amount he should receive, but it appears to me a great deal more could have been made by the process I have described (private subdivision development).

It is now divided into 50 ft. lots. For several reasons I don't think it necessary to have 50 ft. frontage on lots for that type of housing. Local improvement charges are costly, and the greater frontage adds to the cost of the houses. It also calls for more work of snow removal and lawn care. People are getting away from that work if they can.

Division Plan

I would have divided it into 89 lots, less the 60 ft. allowance for St. Catharine St. at each of the Rose Ave. and O'Connell Rd. intersections. Bring the number of lots down to 85 for easy figuring. It is not conceivable to me that a man could build houses there without a profit of $100 on each house. At that rate he could have made $8,500.

Mr. J. C. M. German, representing Mr. O'Connell: "In addition to the value of the land."

Mr. Purnell: "As an appraiser for six loaning institutions I can tell you that $100 is put in as an exaggerated minimum. I know profits have been made up to $750 and $900 in Hamilton on the same type of houses."

City council expropriated the O'Connell property as a site for many of the low rental houses for ex-service men that are being built by Reynolds Construction Co. for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Mr. Purnell was examined by J. C. M. German, Cobourg, for the plaintiff.

Unique Position

"The O'Connell land was in an unique position" Mr. Purnell said. "It was surrounded by subdivided and industrial land. Three-quarters of the land around it was subdivided. It also appeared to me to be the only remaining piece of land remaining in Peterborough for a building project. I considered its was admirably adapted for residential use. The area was capable of uniform planning. It lent itself for the planning of a housing project. It was of easy access to the retail section with good transportation on Park St."

Mr. Purnell said the housing urgency in the city would enhance the value of that property. The Arndon houses to the south all sold before that project was completed. Fifty per cent of the lots sold in four years were sold in one year, 1948. And, the later prices were predominantly at $5 and $6 as compared with somewhat earlier prices in the vicinity ranging around $2 to $4 a foot.

Mr. Purnell mentioned evidence of growth and expansion of the city and its favorable financial position. Despite annexation it was able to reduce its tax rate, he said.

Judge As Taxpayer

Judge Smoke dryly commented: "The taxes of the last few years do not agree with that."

His Honour said there had been some evidence in regard to the tax rates in 1936 and 1946.

"Those figures do not give the whole picture as we know it," he said.

Mr. Purnell: "The housing demand over Ontario and in Peterborough was still very brisk. I think O'Connell was deprived of his property at the time, in the 45 years he owned it, when he could have made some money on it. I believe it would produce more now than in 1948 if he still owned it.

"If I could have advised O'Connell, I would have advised him to put himself in the hands of a good agent and a reliable builder to have applied to a lending company, and undertaken a construction program under the integrated housing scheme, or under the National Housing Plan. Integrated housing has been a complete success in Peterborough. One project has been finished and another is in process of being completed (in Ashburnham)."

With the approval of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Mr. Purnell said, he could not have missed. "If the houses did not sell, he was guaranteed a profit anyway, and the only place where such a project could be carried out was the O'Connell property. Suppose he didn't receive approval to build on integrated housing lines, there was nothing to stop him going on the National Housing plan."

Another Deal

In regard to the purchase by Frank H. Jobbitt of the Park St. front of the O'Connell lot, Mr. Purnell said the total payment was $7,720 of which $3,400 was for the building on it and $2,320 for the land of 208 ft. frontage.

("Park St. is developing into a commercial street, and for practical purposes that land price should be applied on the Park St. front. For that property the sales price would be $20.60 a foot. The depth of that property is 140 feet. It appeared to me Mr. Jobbitt had a shrewd idea of the potential of Park St. and started a hardware store."

Mr. German: "O'Connell testified he didn't want to sell and didn't have to. What has that fact got to do with any opinion you have?"

Mr. Purnell: "There was no pressure on him to sell, and no encumbrance on the property. In that premise, if he decided to sell, he would plan for a sale and fix a date for it some time."

Sure of Services

"As to any doubt about O'Connell obtaining sewer and water and other services, that seems to me unlikely in view of the urgency of housing in the city. I don't think the city would refuse services to a bona-fide housing project under the urgency of housing in Ontario today."

Referring to the integrated housing project on Caddy and Beverley Streets, Mr. Purnell said "the topography there makes building difficult.

Only because there was so little land available would a builder go over there. On one side, because of a slope, the earth is up close to bedroom windows, and on the other side, the house footing is exposed. That condition is more difficult to work in. I think there would be sales resistance because of the street slope.

I'd rather pay 2½ times as much for the O'Connell land than get into that affair at Caddy and Beverley Streets."

Cross-examination by Mr. T. J. Carley dwelt at length on properties on the west side of Monaghan Road.

Not Desirable

Mr. Purnell said there was the CNR and a factory. "I didn't consider it desirable as a residential site, I concluded it was industrial property. I promptly forgot it."

Witness gave the opinion that west of Monaghan Road the property was more valuable for industrial purposes, and it would be foolish to put houses there.

Mr. Carley: "If I tell you the city bought land there for similar type houses as on the O'Connell land, and is building 92 houses there, would that have had any effect on your judgment?"

Mr. Purnell: "The O'Connell property is still the best for housing." He suggested if any vacancies occurred they would probably be first west of Monaghan Road. People were disinclined to live near industries.

Witness said he did not know there were 40 acres west of Monaghan Road and south of McKellar St. Nor did he know of the Curtis housing grant on the northeast corner of the city, nor the Cherney sub-division in the northwest end.

Mr. Carley: "I suggest you didn't make a very careful examination of subdivisions and available land?"

Mr. Purnell: "You may not think so, but as a matter of fact I did."

Danish Prince Puts Business Before Romance

By RICHARD TOMPKINS

LONDON, Feb. 24—(AP)—It is strictly business before pleasure or even romance, with young Prince Georg of Denmark.

The girls may be after this highly eligible, 28-year-old bachelor, but he's not after the girls. London's top royal society is like water on a duck's back to him.

And when it comes to romance his name has been linked with a famous princess — he's not talking at all.

He puts his work—as acting military attache at the Danish embassy—even ahead of royal functions.

There was speculations at the time of Princess Elizabeth's wedding concerning a possible romance between this prince of Denmark and Princess Margaret. He was her partner at the bridesmaid's wedding night dance.

The prince won't even be questioned on the rumors. At the time of the wedding he denied them. When he is asked about them now he is mum. His friends answer for him with an emphatic "no." They go on to say:

"He is not thinking of marrying. He is quite happy as a bachelor."

Prince Georg himself says: "I would like to follow my military career. I shall stay in London as long as Danish office keeps me here. I made no request to be posted here."

Combine Duties

George explains that his father, Prince Axel—first cousin of late King Christian, second cousin of present King Frederik—once was a merchant ship's captain and a submarine officer. He is now managing director of the East Asiatic Company.

The young prince is a chip off the paternal block. His career is the army, and he intends to follow it. He represents his family, when called upon, at court doings, but he will not exercise any royal prerogative nor give his life to crown circles.

His job here has been mainly making arrangements for the return of Danish volunteers in the British army to their homes. Originally there were about 5,000. There are only a few hundred left. He also is studying military equipment and army training methods.

When war ended the prince found himself unexpectedly in Oslo with an unofficial party, taking an official bow. The story, not generally known, is told by an official Danish spokesman:

Prince Georg, who had taken an active part in Danish resistance work, joined a party of underground workers who took off for Oslo on May 8, 1945, the day the Germans capitulated in Norway. The party was the first Allied representatives to arrive in the Norwegian capital.

German officers at Oslo airfield, mistaking the group for the official Allied mission, surrendered to the underground group. Prince Georg stood on the balcony of the Grand Hotel with the underground group, receiving the enthusiastic welcome given the Allied party by the people of Oslo.

Rediscover Birds Believed Extinct

INVERCARGILL, N.Z., Feb. 24 (CP)—A scientific expedition led by Dr. R. A. Falla, director of the Dominion Museum, recently spent three days in the haunts of the notornis, the large flightless bird which was recently rediscovered in a remote area in the far south-west of New Zealand. The notornis was thought to be extinct for half a century.

The party found a thriving coony of at least 100 of the birds, including about 20 breeding pairs. They live among the snowgrass in the area and feed on it almost entirely. The scientists discovered traces of vermin which could be a danger to the birds and action will probably be taken to the menace.

Until the recent discovery only four specimens of the notornis had ever been taken by Europeans. Two of these are in the British Museum, one in Europe and the fourth in Dunedin Museum, New Zealand.

It is most unlikely that more specimens will be available as strict precautions are being taken to preserve the present colony. A huge area surrounding the location of the colony has been declared a sanctuary and it may be entered only with special permit from the government.

Parents Seek Child Curfew

HASTINGS, Feb. 24.—(ENS).—A curfew for children was recommended by the Home and School Association on Tuesday and the Council is to be asked to impose one in the village.

The meeting was in celebration of the second anniversary of the Association in Hastings and also of Founder's Day. Mrs. E. Chambers, Peterborough, told the parents that the home is "the laboratory where a child makes his first attempt at living. Good parents make good children, better health and character" she said.

Miss Madge Jones played piano selections and Mrs. C. Beker passed the question box.

Mr. McWeever reported that it wouold not be possible to give manual training before Sept. 1949. It would then be possible to hold classes in the basement under the junior rooms.

Mrs. A. W. Wilson replied to a request for an opportunity class, saying that she thought it would work to advantage in Hastings. Grade three won the roll call, having 14 parents present.

Mrs. F. Crate introduced the guest speaker and also Mrs. A. W. Nelson of Peterborough, who was at one time a pupil at Hastings Public School.

Four candles were lit on the president's desk by Mrs. Chambers in memory of the founder of the Home and School Association, Mrs. Nelson for Ontario Federation of Home and School. Com. C. R. Spencer for the National Federation and Mrs. F. Crote for the Hastings Association.

A short film entitled "Your Child and You" was shown by Mr. McKeever.

A vote of thanks was passed to the guests by Canon Spence and Mrs. L. Humphries.

Big Obstacle Removed In Peace Effort

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Feb. 24 (AP)—The signing of the Israeli-Egyptian armistice at Rhodes appeared today to have removed the last major obstacle to a lasting Palestine peace.

The other Arab countries were expected to follow Egypt's example and sign similar agreements in the immediate future. This would leave only the question of converting the temporary argeements into a permanent treaty of peace.

The armistice was signed just a little more than 22 months after Britain called on the United Nations to tackle the job of settling the Holy-land problem.

It is debatable just how much the U.N. had to do with settling the Palestine question and how much was contributed by Jewish arms. The final settlement, at any rate, is likely to follow closely the boundary lines laid out by the U.N. General Assembly in the Palestine partition plan of Nov. 29, 1947.

Significant Achievement

Aubrey S. Eban, Israeli representative at the U.N., said the armistice "represents a significant achievement for the United Nations."

Dr. Philip C. Jessup, former United States representative at the U.N., was more cautious about giving the world organization full credit. He said, however, that the situation might have been much worse if the U.N. had not intervened.

Both Jews and Arabs carefully avoided claiming victory, but it was apparent the Israeli people here were jubilant. An examination of the long agreement seemed to indicate the Egyptians made more concessions than the Israelis.

One question not yet answered is how the population of Egypt and other Arab countries will react to the armistice, which in effect amounts to factual recognition of the state of Israel.

Doubts Union To Aid PEI, Fears Rivalry

By The Canadian Press

Doubt that Canada's smallest province, Prince Edward Island, would benefit from Newfoundland's entry into Confederation was expressed by an Opposition member at Charlottetown Wednesday.

Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, leader of the six Progressive Conservative members in the Prince Edward Island Legislature, said during throne-speech debate that he wondered what Newfoundland competition would mean to PEI fishermen who already could not find proper markets.

Labor and religion occupied the Quebec legislature, while five other provincial houses continued their debates on the address in reply to the throne speech.

At Quebec Premier Duplessis branded some leaders of Quebec Catholic Syndicates as "saboteurs," and was supported by Labor Minister Antonio Barrette. Premier Duplessis said "certain Labor chiefs have at heart their own interests, and not the interest of the workers."

The Quebec Legislature gave second reading to a government bill concerning collective agreements between municipal and school bodies and their employees. The House also approved a motion by Rene Chaloult, Quebec County Nationalist member, asking that the Federal government appoint a representative to the Vatican.

Premier Duplessis said that failure of Canada to be represented in "The City of Scintillating Light" was an unfortunate gap in Canada's representatives abroad. He could not understand why there was a Canadian representative at Moscow, but none at the Vatican.

Gold Production Slump Predicted

JOANNESBURG, Feb. 24 (Reuters)—Production of gold in South Africa may fall steadily after 1960, according to the estimate of a government mining engineer published here today.

In a report by the Social and Economic Planning Council on economic aspects of the gold industry, he said that the addition of mines in the Orange Free State to existing production might check the fall in output only until about that date.

Extension of estimates to 1990 had only academic value because of many uncertain factors, but 'normally,' in the light of what we know today, this stage will mark the beginning of the end of large-scale gold mining operations in South Africa."

In 1947 the mines milled 53,700,000 tons of gold. The report put the total tonnage of ore milled in 1955 at 56,300,000, including 8,000,000 tons from the Free State. By 1960 the Free State might be milling 16,300,000 tons but the total milling was forecast at 55,900,000 tons.

The council urged that efforts at price control and subsidization should not be relaxed. It suggested scaling down of "concealed taxation" such as the excessive freight rates, and the lifting of customs duties.

DENTIST ARRESTED—Dr. Paul M. Frigon, of Montreal (right) charged with "indecent assault on a female" is ushered into the detective bureau by his lawyer, Lucien Gagnon. Dr. Frigon was "mugged" and fingerprinted and released on bail of $500 pending arraignment.

Acquitted On Attempt To Steal Two Tires

Carl Graham and William J. Brick, both of Indian River, were acquitted Wednesday despite suspicious circumstances" on a charge of attempting to steal two tires each valued at more than $25, from J. K. Hughes.

Magistrate W. R. Philp K. C., who tried the case, said he could not convict, despite suspicious circumstances.

Constable William Scott told how he had seen a man who appeared to be "on the look out" in the yard at J. K. Hughes' garage, while patrolling his beat. He went into the yard and heard a metalic sound and a noise which sounded as though air was being let out of a tire. Found a tire which had been taken from one of the wheels of a truck from which the spare tire had also been removed. Graham and Brick were standing beside the truck but they denied having removed the tires.

The constable said a bottle of wine was found in Brick's pocket when he was searched at the police station.

John W. Corkery, counsel for the defence, said it was quite reasonable to suppose that Graham and Brick had gone into the yard for a drink of wine. They would naturally try to avoid being charged with a liquor offence.

In cross examination Constable Scott said there were no tools or wrenchs near the truck.

Also charged with illegal possession of liquor, Brick was fined $10 with $2.50 costs and a charge of vagrancy against Graham was dismissed.

Paved streets first were tried out in Rome, more than 2000 years ago.

Make Religious Training Part of Home Schedule

Keen discussion on problems of the day took place at the first YWCA study course meeting with Miss Winnifred Wygal Wednesday afternoon. Members of the Board and staff, as people in the world who do not want a third war, were seeking the underlying reason for the apparent threat.

Mrs. Paige Rowell, YWCA president, asked "Why is it we cannot be as vocal in our religious convictions with our young people as our own parents were with us?"

During the ensuring discussion Mrs. Thompson expressed the opinion that this is due to the change and extent of education today. People are taking a more skeptic view, are thinking more themselves, and having a great deal of their thinking done for them by the radio. Instead of following a sort of ready-made story that is handed down from generation to generation as used to be done, parents seem to be leaving their children to learn what they can of religion at school and Sunday school.

Miss Wygal agreed wholly with this theory. She also agreed that the church and Sunday school do not give small children lessons which they can understand. "The stories are too 'churchy' for them to grasp" she said. The leader congratulated the mother who takes time to teach these lessons at home. It was generally felt that more parents should make religious teaching a part of the home schedule.

Miss Wygal said it is astounding to note how many young people are startled to hear a lay person use the name God. The fact that every adult today is an amateur psychologist on some subject is not new she pointed out for all advances have been made through such thinking processes.

"Younger people are too widely organized outside the church" said, Mrs. C. G. Collins. Members agreed that this is so and the question was asked, "Will this type of organization withstand a crisis such as war?" Miss L. Brownscombe replied, using knowledge gained directly from Displaced Persons. "All organization was wiped out in Europe but the people still had religious faith and their knowledge of God's promise" she pointed out.

Mrs. Jack Kirkwood asked "Is not this pattern of the day,—living in highly organized society—the result of emphasis on man to man relationship rather than man to God?" The speaker replied that she feels it is exactly so, and added "In this mechanized era when everything can be done so efficiently by machine, giving more leisure time, women have tended to become mechanized too, and plan active schedule for each day whether welfare work or playing bridge."

Religion itself was discussed from a number of standpoints, and also qualifications of Sunday school teachers. That untutored persons, however well equipped with books and pamphlets, should not be giving such vital education to young people was agreed.

"We have lost the certainty of an ultimate universe and of what life is all about which our grandfathers had" Miss Wygal said, blaming science and wider education for this fact. She said YWCA women have a job to do in bringing out the real and ultimate message of the Bible and instituting new methods of eaching Christianity to young people. She pointed out that the place of women in the church issue is not competing with men, but moving it into a place where sex or races does not determine the place of hat person. As example of advancement already she said "Time was when a nurse was considered a prostitute and an actress could not possibly be thought to be decent."

"We must find some solution for the uncertain status of women, religion and use of leisure time" she said in conclusion.

Miss Wygal is here from New York city by invitation of National YWCA Council and is visiting all Associations possible in this country. She finds them no different than in United States in aims or methods.

Gay Spring Clothes Tempo Shows Shortened Skirts

When spring strikes the first chord of the Easter parade, Canadian women will form a symphony in blue.

The clothes tempo will be gay, subtle and detailed this year, as women across the Dominion concentrate on quality and line rather than startling innovations. A Canadian Press survey shows that the scale of blues will range from navy to pastel tones.

Navy blue crepe dresses, with touches of white or pink around the neck and cuff, will vie for popularity with the printed jersey. Indications are that the printed materials will be less vividly colored, depending more on intricate patterns in two or three muted shades to catch attention.

In all clothes, detail of design will break out in rows of fancy buttons, scatter pins, big patch pockets and bits of embroidery on collars. Clothes prices are about the same as last year.

Although Paris predicts shorter skirts, Canadians are slow to adopt them again after a thorough conversion to the 12-14 inch from the floor mode. Montreal Clothes might ' a little shorter, and 'hey seem to be catching on in Regina, but aside from this there is little change in skirt lengths.

In Montreal, coats are either extremely loose or are fitted along princess lines. Generally, hats are small with a strong accent on veils which can be worn over the face or wound around the neck and over the shoulders. Coat lengths may be going up slightly in Montreal, but soft shoulders, slim waist and wide skirts remain.

Worsted and wool gabardine materials are popular suit materials with Toronto women while taffetas, jerseys, crepes and tulles are accepted for evening wear.

Navy blue, as wel las grey and brown are getting the fashion tumble in Ottawa. The Napoleonic high-waisted empire silhouette is a popular number in both coats and frocks.

Western Canada is a bit too chilly yet to give much thought to spring styles, but Winnipeg stores have started to show three-piece suits and a few flowery hats. It's still cold in Regina, but skirts are due to be shortened about three inches.

Edmonton store owners are pleased that chilly breezes haven't deterred women from shopping for spring clothes. Cabbagered suits are selling quickly.

But cool breezes aren't encouraging Vancouver women in shopping sprees, Salesmen say spring buying is far from normal despite a slight decrease in the cost of clothes.

Home and School Association News

Immaculate Conception School

His Excellency, Most Reverend Gerald Berry was guest speaker at a largely attended meeting of Immaculate Conception Home and School Association. Rt. Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan introduced the speaker who gave an enlightening address on "Child Behaviour."

His Excellency said, "Emotions are the ways in which we respond to persons and situations. Emotion is valuable. It makes life worthwhile. Two principal emotions are love and hatred. The successful marriage is an emotion that has built up a satisfactory understanding between two persons. Hatred has drastic results."

"Emotions are supremely important, especially in the preschool child. He learns relationships by emotions, as parents, cuusins. Gradually he becomes socialized. There are two laws of discipline, fear and privation. The child loves those who are definite and firm, then he doesn't need to worry—he knows what they want," he said.

His Excellency related the history of a boy, who although possessing a normal I. Q. was a failure at home and at school. When his case was studied at a clinic it was found that he received no credit or sympathy at home. All praise and credit were given to his brother because his parents were using wrong methods of discipline. Jealousy is really a result of inferiority. When the boy was able to prove his worth through the medium of finger painting, and his mother praised and encouraged him he was pleased and his behaviour improved. He was saved from delinquency because he had received treatment at an early age.

Mr. Leo McColl thanked the speaker.

Mr. Anthony DeNoble accompanied by Miss Margaret McCabe, sang two solos.

A piano solo by Peter McConkey and a recitation, "Books" by Margaret Rose Crilly was enjoyed.

President, Miss Hazel Guerin, was in the chair for a short business meeting. A cash donation was given the principal to help the school. "Brotherhood Week," Catholic Press Month and the coming lecture by Abbe Arthur Maheux were announced.

Mrs. Roy Bacon and her committee served refreshments.

DOROTHY DIX

Find Domesticated Girls Appeal More Than Glamour

DEAR MISS DIX: So may girls complaining because they never have dates. The reason is that they go the wrong way about attracting boys. The girls are to blame, not us. After spending so many years in the service, what appeals to us is the homey type of girls who are satisfied with simple things.

We would like a girl to ask us to a little party in her own home. We would like to meet her father and mother. We would like a girl to have cooked the dinner and to be proud of it. We got enough of night clubs while we were in the service, and what we want are girls who will ask us to drop in for supper now and then and who will always get the gang together and have a good time.

Dorothy Dix

So if girls think that something is wrong when they do not have dates, they are right about it. They should be more friendly homey and not so demanding.

YOUNG BACHELORS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: That word HOME explains so many things. It explains why so many poor people, with few of this world's goods, are happy, and why so many millionaires are miserable. It explains why so many beautiful girls are old maids and so many homely girls have good husbands. It explains the great mysteries of life. It is because practically everything that makes or mars our happiness centers around the home.

Deepest of Instincts

So it is the deepest of all instincts that makes these soldier boys crave a home more than anything else in the world when they return from the wars. And it is also why the domestic girl so often outmarries Miss America. Look about you among the married women of your acquaintance and you will see that few of them would ever have taken a prize in a beauty show, for while men give lip service to the pretties, they marry the girls who have the good housewife look.

Girls who spend all of their time and money and efforts on dolling themselves up to attract men make a fatal mistake. In the end it is the home that does it. The fire on the heartstone, the savory smell of good cooking, the girl who is friendly and kindly and jolly and pleasant to be with, gets the wedding rings.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We have been married about two years and my husband hasn't once told me he loved me. He never gives me any money, never makes me a gift or gives me anything new to think about. He makes me beg for every cent that I get. He also humiliates me before my friends and relatives.

I haven't any parents or anyone I could go to. I have a nameless child, who is almost four now, and my husband has not given her his name. I feel that my little girl is the reason he treats me so badly because he knows he has me hog-tied and I cannot get away. I will not give my baby up, no matter what it costs me. What can I do?

A DESPERATE WOMAN

ANSWER: You are a young woman with doubtless a long life before you, so you should make some plan for getting out of the desperate strait you are in now and making a happy future for yourself and your child.

Evidently your husband does not want either you or the child. Put your little girl in some sort of home or asylum for children where she will be well cared for, and go to work to fit yourself to learn some trade or occupation by which you can support yourself and your child.

In your letter you do not state where you live, but in every state and city there are vocational training schools that you can go to to fit yourself to be self-sustaining and there are societies that you can appeal to for help in placing your child. There is no need for you to spend a life of misery because you have made one misstep in life.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have a husband and two boys, six and two, and I would be completely happy except that my husband is allergic to any kind of work. He likes to play sick and stay home for two or more weeks at a time if he has a slight cold. I take in sewing to support us, and do a lot of jobs that he should do just to save an argument.

Please tell me how I can overcome his laziness?

A READER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Laziness is a malady for which no one has ever been able to find a cure. The people who are born tired and stay tired all of their lives never change. They always have an alibi in some mysterious disease, unknown to doctors, which prevents them from being able to do any labour. They always leave that to their wives.

Imported Stock Needed to Save Mastiff Breed

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Feb. 24 (CP).— The old English mastiff, which once graced the lawns of England's stately homes, may depend for survival on new blood from Canada and the United States.

Admirers fear the bulky, brindled mastiff will become extinct unless new breeding stock is imported. A recent check showed only 10 surviving representatives in England of what is claimed to be the country's oldest breed.

Mastiffs were found in England in Roman times. Assyrian bas-reliefs dating to 600 B.C. indicate they may have existed in Persia and Babylon much earlier than that.

Now the 65-year-old Old English Mastiff Club, and particularly honorary secretary Mrs. Norah Dickin, look overseas for reinforcements. She says Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Mellish, owners of the Heather Bell Kennel of Victoria, B. C., have promised a puppy of sex in the near future.

"We're counting on the Canadian dogs," she said in an interview, "but of course the problem is terribly complicated by currency, transport and quarantine regulations."

Reaching Britain

Already in Britain is one Canadian dog, Honey of Parkhurst purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Aylmer, Ont. Another dog has arrived form Connecticut and is undergoing six-month quarantine.

England's mastiff population once totalled more than 200. The Second World War and its shortage of feeding stuffs seriously thinned the ranks. After the war, only one sire could be located.

This was Torus, which was found running loose after his master was killed in an air raid 1943. Condemned to be destroyed, Tortus was saved for breeding purposes by the intervention of Miss Pamela Fawell, a dog lover. He died last month.

Seven of eight puppies in one of his recent litters died from distemper. Two litters from another dam were born dead.

"It looks now as though three to five years of planning will be needed to revive the breed," said Mrs. Dickin. "There is no commercial angle in this. There is a great love of the mastiff, particularly in the north.

Mastiffs, usually brindled or fawn with a black spots, are popular as watch dogs because of their size. Many of them weigh as much as 225 pounds.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When playing cards with friends you have a run of poor cards.

WRONG WAY: Keep complaining about the hands you are dealt.

RIGHT WAY: Play the cards you get as well as you can, and don't complain about your luck.

HENDREN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Gordon A. Hendren who entered into rest one year ago to-day, February 25 1949.
A beautiful memory dearer than gold
Of a husband whose wealth can never be told;

And whispers "Don't grieve, death cannot divide."
So I'll be brave, dear Gordon,
And pray to God each day,
And when he calls me home to you
Your smile will guide the way.

Never shall his memory fade,
Sweetest thoughts will ever linger
Round the spot where he is laid.
—Ever remembered by mother, father and Norman.

the necessity for a person to throw his interest and abilities into his job, and to work loyally and with a sense of responsibility.

Dr. Wallace's condemnation of seemingly educated people who cannot use their own language properly was sharp. For success in one's job as well as for one's good repute it is "extremely important that one be able to use one's own language accurately and well." The proper, adequate and precise use of the spoken and written word is a "significant badge."

On the second aim of education —to develop good citizens—Principal Wallace noted that one must accept responsibilities thrown on one by the community. He doubted the value of teaching "government" or civics to children. He thought it better to permit them to manage their own affairs in school. Thus they learn democracy in a way they will never forget. He supported his thesis by reference to the success of student government at Queen's University.

The speaker remarked that, much as we may be doing for the welfare of the community or the nation, as citizens of the world we seem to be doing very little. He urged his listeners not to be fearful because of the present international situation. He as a geologist, realized that the human race has been on earth for half a million years and in that time has found no other way of settling its problems than by war. "Our lifetime is a small yardstick by the measure of 500,000 years...Our jobs as citizens of the world is to have patience and not lose heart". He had faith that in the course of time reason and goodwill would triumph.

Canadian Representative

Dr. Wallace was a Canadian representative at the formative sessions of UNESCO in 1946. He quoted what the British prime minister had said to him and other delegates at that time: 'Wars begin in the minds of men, and it is from the minds of men that suspicion must be removed if wars are to cease.'

The speaker discussed with persuasive conviction the third objective of education—to develop ideals, inner strength and faith. "The most important part of life is in our moments alone; it is then that we test ourselves". People who are restless, who cannot endure an hour alone, who seek distracting amusements rather than communion with themselves and with great minds and spirits through books and the arts, are "afraid of the poverty of their own resources". One of the great difficulties today is that we have not secure values. We are shallow in our thinking, "taking the words of others without digesting four ourselves...We shall have to go back to solitary hours".

In ending his lecture Dr. Wallace mentioned his concern that people were not using themselves and their abilities to the full. We must develop "the wisdom to know ourselves and recognize what talents we have and use them."

Principal Wallace was introduced by Miss Helen McGregor, president of the Peterborough branch of the Queen's Alumni Association. The chairman of the meeting was Quirt S. McKinney, head of the current So-Ed organization.

Puts Water On Fire Finds It's Gasoline

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP)— When fire broke out in some sawdust at the foot of a downtown elevator shaft today, Harold Laverty saw two cans sitting nearby. One can was marked water.

"I grabbed one of the cans and threw the contents on the sawdust," explained Laverty.

The blaze shot up, a general alarm was raised in the building and a downtown fire truck hurried to the scene.

The can Laverty emptied on the flame was filled with gasoline. Damage was confined to the debris at the bottom of the shaft.

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP)— Murray Long of Toronto today was sentenced to 22 months in prison for attempted rape and assault.

If Slump Comes Have Jobs For 32,700 Men

OTTAWA, Feb. 24.— (CP).— Public works projects ready for launching in the event of serious unemployment in Canada would occupy 32,700 workers within six months the Commons was told yesterday.

The information was in replies tabled by the government to questions asked by M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader.

These emergency plans could be launched, the statement said, inn the normal time it takes to let contracts—"about six weeks."

Thereafter, the number who would be employed within a month was estimated at 1,500 skilled and 1,000 unskilled, mounting to 10,000 skilled and 7,000 unskilled in six months.

The statement estimated that at the end of 800 working days, including summer peak employment, there would still be 3,000 skilled and 2,000 unskilled workers on these projects.

In addition, the projects would provide employment for 15,700 workers in fabrication of materials and equipment.

Plan To Name Housing Group

TORONTO, Feb. 24 — (CP) — Establishment of a metropolitan area housing committee to plan construction of more than 2,000 houses in municpalities adjacent to Toronto may result from a conference of all mayors and reeves in the Greater Toronto area.

No date has been set for the meeting but the plan to be considered was outlined today by David Mansur, president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

He said the corporation's 1949 program included a project for 1,200 units in Vancouver, and proportionately, there should be about 2,400 units in the Toronto area.

"The minister of reconstruction and supply has already indicated that funds could be provided for a very substantial number of units in the Toronto area," he said.

The corporation president said he made the proposal to Toronto's Mayor Hiram McCallum because 1948 housing unit completions in Toronto were ""well below the national average and...unless some special steps are taken, no substantial change will be elected in 1949."

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press

Actress Ill

BOSTON.—Beatrice Lillie, Toronto-born actress, suffered an "upset stomach," forcing cancellation of the night's performance of the stage production "Inside USA." Miss Lillie said she would appear in the show tonight.

FREEPORT, N.Y.—James Francis Dooley, 70, a partner in the old vaudeville team of Dooley and Sales, died. He teamed for many years with his wife, the late Gertrude Sales, who died several years ago.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. — Two robbers broke into the home of Mrs. Bess Stearns and escaped with an estimated $76,935, most of it in jewelry, police reported. The pair tied Mrs. Stearns to a bed while they ransacked the house.

GARFIELD, N. J. — Approximately 400 students at Garfield High School staged a brief strike, demanding a pay raise for their teachers and a new school building.

NEW YORK. — A court ruled John McAllister, a 52-year-old prisoner, has been serving a life term wrongfully since he was 23. The court set aside two of four convictions against him and said he probably will be released. The life term was imposed because the two convictions, now set aside, made him a fourth offender.

MEDFORD, Ore.—Crater Lake, which lies in the crater of an extinct volcano, is completely frozen over for the first time in known memory here. The abnormally-cold weather was blamed.

HONOLULU.—A Boeing Stratocruiser made a 2,140-mile test flight from Fairfield, Calif., to Honolulu in nine hours and 50 minutes, a record for the route.

COLOGNE.—A party of 40 Cologne children returned Wednesday after spending 2½ years in Ireland. They were the first to return of about 350 children taken to Ireland to regain their health and strength.

LONDON, Eng.—J. R. Campbell, 55, central figure in the Campbell case in 1924 which led to the fall of Britain's first Labor Government, has been appointed editor of the London Daily Worker in succession of the late William Rust.

VANCOUVER.—British Columbia ended Hydro-Electric power restrictions on industrial consumers, but retained restrictions on commercial and domestic users. The restrictions were imposed Jan. 20 by the B.C. Electric Company after lack of rainfall left the province critically short of power.

MONTREAL. — The trial of Robert Tremblay, charged with being an accessory after the fact in the slaying of two police constables, came to a sudden end when Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure withdrew the case from the jury and said there was no evidence on which to base a verdict. Tremblay faces other charges and was not released.

PASADENA, Calif. — Gloria Miller, 24-year-old auburn-haired waitress, was fined $25 because she put out a fire in her apartment and neglected to notify the fire department until 12 hours later. Her landlord, William Berk, produced the $25 and spoke glowingly of his tenant. Then Berk announced he is cutting Miss Miller's rent 10 per cent.

VALPARAISO, Ind.—A revolutionary process of canning fresh milk in which the milk retains its original taste was claimed by Jack Stambaugh, an Indiana dairy farmer. Although still in its experimental stage, perfection of the process could result in radical changes in milk distribution methods, perhaps eliminating the need for daily home deliveries.

TORONTO. — Deputy Roads Minister J. D. Millar said automobile manufacturers are to blame for corroding of car underparts rather than the Department of Highways. Addressing members at the Ontario Good Roads Association annual convention here, he said: "It's the cars they're building. . . . I'm still driving a 1940 model car and there is no corrosion. But I've seen 1947 model cars with fenders and underparts corroded within six months.

HAMILTON. — Joshua Brownlee, 75, was fined $100 and costs on conviction of assault arising from charges that he threw gasoline at a card-playing opponent and then set fire to it. Charles Pigeon, 38, charged Brownlee was arguing about paying a $2 bet when Brownlee threw gasoline from a small bottle at him and then threw a torch, causing a small explosion in the card club.

Denies Christianity Communist In Origin

BIRMINGHAM, England, Feb 24—(CP)—Rev. Bryan Green of Birmingham said he disagreed with a statement by the Bishop of Birmingham, Dr. E. W. Barnes, that Christianity "had a Communist beginning."

The Anglican clergyman, who has preached in Canada and the United States on several occasions, said some of the first Christians were "undoubtedly moved to share a community life and were a real fellowship."

"But to call this fellowship 'Communist' is simply to mislead people," he said. "In modern usage the word 'Communism' means Marxist Communism as exhibited in the philosophy which determines the Russian way of life.

"Beyond all argument this philosophy is utterly different from the philosophy which lay behind the early Christian community life. The first Christians loved God; Marxist Communism doesn't believe there is a God of love."

Mr. Green said the Communist experiment "can only succeed by force because it denies objective truth and absolute goodness."

Oil-From-Coal Factory

CAPETOWN (CP)—The first license to manufacture oil from coal in South Africa granted by the government in 1948, will become operative soon. A designed capacity of 76,000,000 gallons of liquid fuel and oil a year is provided for and the coal will come from deposits in the Orange Free State.

Building Costs Up

REGINA—(CP) — A sharp rise in the average value of dwellings built in Regina was shown in a recent report. In 1947, the average house cost $4,613. Last year the average was $6,012. The report also said that since 1940, a total of 3,191 houses have been erected here.

POLICE FIND SAFECRACKING ARSENAL

Charge French Communists Incite Revolt In Army, Ramadier Planning Action

National Assembly Wants Punishment For Treasonable Talk; Ask Thorez If He Has Laval Aspirations

PARIS, Feb. 25—(AP).—A high government source said today War Minister Paul Ramadier had taken legal action against the central committee of the French Communist party for alleged inciting the army to revolt. The informant said Ramadier's complaint was based on statements made in posters and the Communist daily l'Humanite during last fall's miners' strike.

Ramadier's complaint was sent to Justice Minister Robert Lecourt, the informant said.

The National Assembly also voted today condemnation of French Communist leaders for alleged treasonable statements and expressed confidence in the government to punish them.

The vote, 386 to 182, climaxed lengthy debate in the lower house of parliament. During the talks Premier Henri Queuille threatened to take legal action against the Communist leaders for attempts to "undermine the morale of the nation and the army."

But the Assembly turned down a motion calling on the government to prosecute Maurice Thorez secretary-general of the Communist party, on specific charges of treason or incitement to treason.

That motion was introduced by supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle. They oppose both the Communists and Queuille's Coalition government. This motion was defeated 500 to 52—a vote which was both anti-Communist and anti-De-Gaulle.

At one point in the debate Thorez was handed his challenge by an anti-Communist deputy:

"Yes or no, do you aspire to be another Pierre Laval?" (Laval, Vichy Premier under the German occupation, was executed later for treason).

Thorez gave no direct reply, but hit out at the United States and voiced defence of Russian foreign policy.

THE SCARCITY OF FUEL in blockaded Berlin, plus the sight of quantities of it lying around, prove too great a temptation for German boys and thieving is becoming widespread. Get 50 New Licence Plates 200 Registration Cards, 2 Suspects Under Arrest

Cache One Of Most Complete Discovered Includes Torches And Cutters; One Remanded To March 2 On $1,000 Bail

TORONTO, Feb. 25—(CP).—A "complete safecracking arsenal" was uncovered by police today in a West Toronto garage and 50 new automobile licence plates and 200 new licence registration cards were seized. The discovery followed the arrest of two safecracking suspects on a north side street.

Police said the arsenal, one of the "most complete" discovered here, included acetylene torches, electric cutters, saws, crowbars and rolls of tape.

Inspector William Cool said "the capture of the two men and recovery of the licence plates and cards was an outstanding piece of work." He said the plates and cards were stolen yesterday from a Burlington garage.

"If the licenses and cards were ever circulated through Western Ontario...it would have resulted in an epidemic of car stealing and thousands of dollars in loot."

Arrested were Robert Currie, 20, of Toronto, who now faces four major charges, including theft of the licence plates and cards; and Howard Dodds, 23, charged with vagrancy.

Investigators said they believed the suspects were "casing" a downtown furniture store where "up to $10,000" was kept in a safe.

Currie and Dodds were arrested when a police constable became suspicious of two men in an automobile. One of the pair fled but was captured later.

Currie appeared in court today and was remanded to March 4. No bail was allowed. Dodds was remanded to March 2 on $1,000 bail.

Dennis Wishes He'd Followed Victim's Advice

BOSTON, Feb. 25—(AP)—A police captain today quoted a Canadian now held in New York on burglary charges as saying he wished he had taken the advice of one of his victims who suggested he seek hospital treatment.

The advice was given to Gerard Graham Dennis, formerly of St. Catharines, Toronto and Montreal, by Dr. James L. Poppen during a 1947 hold-up at the Poppen home here, Police Capt. Joseph P. Mahoney said.

Mahoney reported he questioned Dennis at White Plains, N.Y., yesterday. The man asked him to take a letter to Dr. Poppen expressing regret for the hold-up, which netted him $49. Dennis has been accused of jewel robberies totalling $600,000 in the United States, Montreal and Toronto.

The police captain quoted the letter as saying: "I wanted to take your advice (to seek hospital treatment) but I couldn't. I was a hunted man."

In Beverly Hills, Calif., Betty Ritchie, Canadian girl friend of Dennis, is scheduled to face preliminary hearing today on charges of receiving stolen property.

Storm Damages CanadianCarrier

HALIFAX, Feb. 25 —(CP)—A five-foot dent in her starboard bow, flood damage of forward mess decks and a spare destroyer propellor washed overboard were the chief results of a stormy Atlantic crossing by Canada's big aircraft carrier Magnificent which arrived here today 48 hours behind schedule.

For the crew of more than 1,000 men the crossing was "tough" but all escaped serious injury.

Magnificent will be ready March 4 to leave her base here to take part in Caribbean exercises with ships of the British and United States navies.

The ship arrived early this morning from Glasgow with her big flight deck laden with Firefly anti-submarine and Sea Fury fighter planes, wearing drab warpaint.

The storm delayed Magnificent's arrival 48 hours.

Born in London, he had covered criminal assize court hearings here for more than 12 years.

His only survivor is a cousin at Amherstburg, Ont.

Le comte, DFC, of Actonvale, Que., who commanded the famous Alouette bomber squadron overseas during the war, has been appointed commanding officer of the RCAF station at Camp Borden, it was announced Thursday. He replaces Wing Cmdr. G. A. Hilz, AFC, of Milltown, NB, who becomes comfanding officer of the Greenwood, NS, station.

Russia Has Most Planes

Swedish Expert Says Force Double Britain's

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—(CP)—A Swedish aircraft manufacturer said here today that Russia has the largest military air force in Europe, more than twice the size of Britain. He said Britain was second in size, with Sweden third.

Arne Krabbe of the Saab Aircraft Co., Linkoping, Sweden, said he obtained his figures from intelligence forces.

These figures show Russia to have a force of between 15,000 and 20,000 military planes of which about 3,000 are jets. Britain, Krabbe said, has 6,000 planes, including some 500 jets. Sweden's Air Force comprises 800 to 1,500 planes, about 15 per cent of which are jets.

Krabbe said Sweden is turning out jet planes, not knowing whether she would be able to remain neutral in the event of a third world war. He said Sweden has one of the fastest jet planes in the world, the Saab 29, with a top speed of 650 miles an hour.

The Swedish manufacturer said France is in fourth place for European air power with between 500 and 1,000 planes, only a few of which, however, are modern. France is buying British jet Vampires, but so far has only about 30, Krabbe said.

CreamProducers Ask Oleo Color Changed

TORONTO, Feb. 25 (CP) — Legislation to ban use of yellow coloring in butter susstitutes is sought by the Ontario Cream Producers Association.

In a brief scheduled for presentation today to Premier Kennedy and the Ontario cabinet, the Association said:

"Yellow is the natural trademark of butter. The consumer must rely on this trade-mark for protection when he asks for, buys and pays for butter."

The brief also contended that margarine packages should not resemble the traditional shape of a pound of butter and said that wrappers and advertising should indicate the origin of oils or fats used in thes processing.

Margarine now on sale in several Ontario cities is similar in color to butter. It is sold in flat packages easily distinguishable from square pounds of butter.

Regulations to prohibit manufacturing and processing of margarine "in or near" premises where butter is made or handled also were asked in the brief.

The Association urged licensing of margarine manufacturers, processors, wholesalers, retailers, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, hospitals or other institutions serving butter substitutes. It also said "an easily distinguished sign" should indicate that a butter substitute is being sold or served.

Premier Kennedy said no action had been taken on margarine. The brief would be considered.

Children Get Sedatives To Avoid Eviction

TORONTO, Feb. 25 —(CP)— Families fearing eviction here are giving children sedatives to keep them quiet. This aspect of Toronto's housing problem came to light Thursday in a speech by Hugo Wolter, consultant to the Civic Advisory Council. It was verified later by Dr. Alan Brown, chief of medical staff at the Hospital for Sick Children.

Dr. Brown said he knew that sedative drugs prescribed by doctors were being given to children of families in crowded quarters and he thoroughly disagreed with the practice. But it was a measure of self-defence by the parents.

"You can't bring a child up properly in an apartment or duplex," he added.

Get Toronto Lawyer To Defend Sam Carr

TORONTO, Feb. 25 —(CP)— Jos. Sedgwick, K.C., well-known Toronto lawyer, has been engaged by Mrs. Sam Carr to act as senior counsel for her husband when he appears on charges in connection with Canada's Soviet-spy investigations.

Carr will appear in Ottawa next Tuesday on the specific charge of uttering false passports. Carl Herman, also of Toronto, will act as his junior counsel.

Gouzenko Benefactress Dies

OTTAWA, Feb. 25—(CP).—The woman who provided shelter for Igor Gouzenko and his family the night he fled from Soviet secret police died in hospital here today after a long illness. She was Mrs. Frances Doris Elliott, wife of an unemployment insurance commission official. In her 55th year, she had been ill with leukemia for the last several years.

Despite deteriorating health, she played an active part in the spy trials which resulted when Gouzenko, a Soviet Embassy cipher clerk, informed the RCMP of Russian espionage work in Canada.

Knowing the risk she ran in sheltering the Gouzenkos she offered her apartment to them one night in September, 1945, when Russian Embassy staff members broke into the Gouzenko apartment and found him gone.

It was she who flicked her bathroom light to signal Ottawa police on the street below that the Russians had broken into the Gouzenko apartment.

Doctors believe her dutiful attendance at the trials of Montreal suspects in the spy investigation accelerated her illness.

Rescue 8 People In Store Fire

TORONTO, Feb. 25—(CP)— Eight persons—six men and two girls—were rescued today when a two-alarm fire swept the F. V. Johnston clothing store at Yonge and Wellington streets in downtown Toronto.

The blaze, which firemen estimated caused $20,000 damage, following an explosion in the three-storey building. Richard Howarth, a 19-year-old customer was treated at hospital for minor neck burns.

All eight were rescued from an upstairs fire escape when the blaze swept the first floor. Firemen said the blaze, believed caused by spontaneous combustion, damaged clothing.

Baptist Minister Pleads Guilty To Spying Charges

SOFIA, Feb. 25—(AP).—The trial of 15 Protestant churchmen opened today with a plea of guilty by Nikola Naumov, a Baptist minister, to crimes against the Bulgarian state. The 15 clergymen are accused of treason, espionage and black-market money dealing.

Naumov is one of the four principal defendants and a member of the Supreme Council of the United Evangelical Churches.

Speaking in a loud, firm voice, he told the court "I am guilty," and expressed regret for his activities.

He said he had worked for American espionage agents and had delivered military and other information to Cyril Black, then secretary of the United States Political Mission.

He said Black was "the centre of American espionage activities in Bulgaria after 1944."

(Black now is a professor at Princeton University in the United States. He previously has declared the charges were "fantastic.")

Began Work in 1938

Naumov said he began collecting information for the Western Powers in 1938 at the time of the visit of a man named Sielbrant from Vienna, then in charge of inspection of religious functions. He said Sielbrant entrusted him with the task of collecting military, economic and political information, including the movements of military trains.

He said that in 1944 he visited Yanko Ivanov, a Methodist defendant, and they arranged to report to Black.

He said Black was interested in Bulgarian reaction to Communism, to the Russians, and to the peace treaty provisions.

At one point, he asserted: "I am sorry for my acts. I confess sincerely to the Bulgarian people and I repent my activities."

Ilia Timev, Deputy Minister of Justice, announced at a press conference that all had admitted guilt, voiced repentance and begged for "a new chance to work for the motherland." To support his statements, he exhibited 2,266 pages of depositions taken from the accused men and witnesses.

The four chief defendants are:

Rev. Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, 48, head of the Congregationalists and religious representative of United Evangelical Churches which includes the four denominations.

Rev. Yanko Ivanov, 48, supervisor of the Methodist Church and deputy religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches.

Rev. Georgi Nikolov Chernev, 46, head of the Pentecost Church.

Rev. Nikola Mikhailov Naumov secretary of the Union Board of Baptist Churches.

Each receives the Navy's Legion of Merit award for "exceptionally meritorious conduct" in "the largest and one of the most difficult air searches ever conducted in Canada." The four are:

Bill Urges Prison For Oleo Possession

QUEBEC, Feb. 25 — (CP). — The Provincial Government distributed to-day to Legislative Assembly, copies of a Bill to "protect the dairy industry" providing drastic fines or prison terms for manufacture, sales or possession of butter substitutes.

The proposed legislation is designed to "prohibit or regulate the manufacture, sale, placing on sale and possession of margarine and other butter substitutes."

It would authorize the Provincial Cabinet to adopt regulations specifying the products which will come under the ban and the methods of analyzing the butter substitutes.

It would permit seizure and confiscation of margarine supplies as well as motor vehicles used for transport and delivery of margarine within the province. It would also authorize the Cabinet to draw up further "measures" to apply the margarine ban.

Cabinet Crisis Mounts

HELSINKI, Feb. 25 (CP)—The threat of a Finnish cabinet crisis grew today. Opposition party leaders warned there is mounting danger to Finland because of Norway's pro-Western stand and demanded the government step down in favor of coalition. A report that additional Russian troops were moving toward the Soviet Union's border with Norway came from an authoritative Finnish source.

Ice Knocks Hole In Warship's Bows

On board HMS Vengeance in the Arctic, Feb. 25—(Reuters) — Ice knocked a hole 10 inches by six inches in the stem of the bows of this 13,190-ton light aircraft carrier Feb. 15.

The hole was made at watermark shortly after mid-day. Within 10 minutes about 250 tons of water had flooded the forecastle tank.

Another tank astern ship was deliberately flooded to raise the hole out of the water.

The incident was the outcome of a test to see how warships would stand up to ice.

Await Hangings

Toronto, Feb. 25 (CP)

OPPOSITION Leader E. B. Jolliffe told the Ontario Legislature today it was time the select committee on art caught up with former premiers and had them "painted and hung."

Premier Kennedy moved the appointment of the 1949 committee. Mr. Jolliffe said one of the duties of the committee was to have portraits of former premiers painted and hung in the legislative building.

Former Premier Gordon Conant was the last premier whose portrait had been painted.

J. B. Salsberg (Lab. - Prog., Toronto—St. Andrews) assured Mr. Jolliffe that "in good time, all who are to be hung, will be hung."

Truck Plunges In River, 1 Dies

TORONTO, Feb. 25 (CP) — J. Walter Scott, 38, of suburban Weston, was drowned last night when a truck in which he and Patrick Heslop, 58, of Toronto, were riding plunged off a bridge into the Humber river at nearby Thistletown.

Heslop was helped ashore by Gregg McKelvy, 20, of Weston and George Buckingham of Pine Grove but Scott was dead when help reached him. Heslop was taken to hospital where his condition early today was described as serious.

McKelvy and Buckingham plunged fully clothed into the river and swam to the submerged truck. Only part of the vehicle's cab and its rear wheels showed above water.

It was reported that a third man, Herbert Smith, had been riding in the truck with Scott and Heslop. But later he was found safe, having left the truck two minutes before it swerved and smashed through a wooden guard rail.

Skater Accepts Challenge

Barbara Ann Thrilled At Competition Chance

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 —(AP)— Barbara Ann Scott today said she "would be delighted" to meet Mary Rose Thacker in their own professional figure-skating championship.

The Ottawa girl, en route back home to prepare for the Minto Club Follies in which she will star, received the news of Miss Thacker's challenge with wide-eyed delight.

"I thought that when I turned professional I'd never have a chance for competition again," she said. "This would certainly give me an opportunity for that and I'd love and try."

Miss Thacker, Canadian and North American figure-skating titlist from 1939 to 1942, issued the challenge from her Vancouver home Thursday. The 26-year-old Vancouver girl, Canada's choice for the 1940 winter Olympics which were cancelled because of the war, retired from amateur competition unbeaten in 1942.

Barbara Ann, 20, winner of the world's title twice and current holder of the Olympic crown, turned professional last June and made her entertainment debut in New York in December. She returned here last night from a successful engagement in Chicago.

"It's fine with me," Barbara Ann said, "when will it be and where?"

Labor Captures By-Election At Hammersmith In Major Test Of Strength

Heavy Conservative Campaign Cuts Majority Of Attlee Party 50%; Promise No Snap Election Will Be Called

LONDON, Feb. 25—(CP).—The Labor Party Thursday won a major test of strength against the Conservatives by keeping its parliamentary seat in the Hammersmith South Constituency in West London. The final vote, announced early today, gave a victorious Labor candidate, Tom Williams, 15,233 and the Conservative, Anthony Fell, 13,610. The by-election was held to fill a vacancy in the district caused by the recent death of W. T. Adams.

The heavy Conservative campaign, sparked by the oratory of Winston Churchill, cut the Labor majority to a little less than half of what it was in the 1945 general election, when Adams was elected to the House of Commons with a margin of 3,548 votes. Williams was by 1,613 votes.

In a statement after the victory, Morgan Phillips, Labor Party secretary said:

"This is a fine victory for the Labor Party and a great defeat for the Tories, who started the campaign with such confidence and with the bold declaration that the result would be a pointer to a general election."

No Snap Election

He said the government has no intention to call a snap election before the general election, expected in the spring of 1950. There had been speculation that if Labor won the Hammersmith seat, the government might call for a general election this year.

The victory maintained the party's unbroken record of never having lost a seat to the Conservatives since the 1945 general election and gave Labor 391 seats in the 640-seat Commons to 202 for the Conservatives.

The Hammersmith South by-election was the 48th since Labor came into power and the 31st Labor retained. The Conservatives have held their 13 seats contested in by-elections, won two from Independents and one from the Independent Labor Party.

Previous Labor victories in by-elections have been in solid Labor communities. Hammersmith can not be so classified. It is a district of workers and property owners and has a large Roman Catholic element, predominantly Irish.

Issues during the Hammersmith campaign ranged from communism and religion too partition of Ireland.

man and vice-chairman of each ward, village and township organization.

Mr. Lewis has been president of the provincial riding association. He was nominated by Mrs. (Dr.) Scott and Mr. Glover, and his election was unanimous.

Mr. W. B. Gordon was appointed chairman of the meeting with John Black secretary during the opening phase of the election of officers.

Union Unanimous

Mr. A. L. Elliott said at the outset that the proposed union had been considered by both the old groups, the women's association and the junior Liberals. Many individual members of the party had been consulted since the idea of amalgamation was broached, and opinion was in full agreement.

With that background of canvass, Mr. Elliott moved that the two separate riding organizations be brought together under the Peterborough Liberal Association. His motion was seconded by W. B. Gordon.

Mr. Glover said it was naturally understood that the Women's Liberal Association and the Young Liberals would continue to function as they have done, with representatives on the main executive.

The constitution of the new association was read by Mr. Black, and with several amendments was adopted in a motion by M. N. McIntyre and David R. Fleming.

Mr. W. B. Gordon moved a vote of confidence in the federal Liberal leader, Hon. Louis St. Laurent, and also of appreciation of the long and successful leadership of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King.

W. W. Dawson moved that "this association record and convey our confidence in the policies and leadership of our provincial leader, Farquhar Oliver". It was seconded by Ald. Gillespie.

Heartened By Youth

E. N. McDonald of Asphodel congratulated the meeting on the number of young people present. "I want to congratulate our new officers, but those of us who have been through the campaigns know that there must be young men and women coming forward to take our places. I am glad and proud to see so many of them here tonight. It is an encouraging sign. We can still advise and help, but we have to leave much of the action to them, and it is good to see them coming forward to assume their duties in the citizenship of this country."

Bruce McNevin of Reaboro, Liberal candidate in Victoria, said he hoped Peterborough would be largely represented at the annual meeting of the Central Ontario Liberal Association in Oshawa, March 26. It will conclude with a dinner at which the Prime Minister, Hon. Mr. Laurent, will be the speaker.

The farmers of Canada had enjoyed the most prosperity under Liberal administrations at Ottawa, Mr. McNevin said.

Cites Hog Profits

"The income of farmers has always gone down under Tory administrations. The result of their policies was soon reflected on the prosperity of agriculture and our whole industrial fabric. I was talking to a feed and seed dealer who has been long in business in Victoria. It was something over a month ago. He told me of one of his customers who could look back quite a number of years and who quoted figures comparing results from feeding and making profit from hogs during the last year as against an experience in 1910.

That farmer sold five hogs averaging 200 lbs. at 7½ cents a pound, back in 1910. He said that was the best price he had ever received up to that time in his life. The five brought him $75. This is what he said he did with the money: paid $40 taxes on his 100-acre farm; threshing bill, $15; 100 lbs. binder twine, $7.50; barrel of salt, $1; setting four buggy tires, $2. Total $74.50, leaving 50 cents in his pocket.

This same man sold five pigs of about the same weight of 1,000 lbs. last year at 24 cents a pound, and got $240. Out of that he paid $97.80 taxes on his farm; $56.25 for threshing; $24.50 for 100 lbs. of binder twine; $3.50 for a barrel of salt; he had no buggy tires, but figured they would cost him $2 each or $8, for a total of $190.05. The conditions were the same as in 1910. At that time he had 50 cents left from his five hogs. Last year he had $50.05."

Young Candidate

"Duke" Munro of Madoc said he was glad to see so many Liberals of political conviction, representing five of the townships and two of the villages that were in his riding of Hastings-Peterborough.

"I think the next federal elections will be of great importance to Canada, and I am hoping that the young voters will realize their responsibility as citizens and they will take a keen interest. I am going to depend on them for their help as the Liberal candidate. I intend to make as many contacts as I can, and make our youth aware of what this country means to them. What we need is strong Liberal conviction, and I am glad to see it here in Peterborough."

Lorne McDonnell of Kingston and W. A. Fraser of Trenton spoke briefly on organization.

Dr. Donald Munro said he had come to realize that he had made a mistake in assuming that people knew more than they did.

"One thing I should have done, and we all should have done, was to try to educate our young people more thoroughly in the political history of our country."

Cost Of Living Not Raised By Meat Profit

TORONTO, Feb. 25 (CP)—Ontario's cost of living was not materially increased by the meat-packing industry's profit of "not more than ½-cent a pound," J. G. Brown (Lib. — Waterloo North) told the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Brown said that, considering the possibility of excessively high executive salaries, over-estimated depreciation costs, and expensive advertising, which would have the effect of reducing real profit, packing companies still made less than half a cent profit on each pound of meat.

Living standards could double or shrink depending on whether the trend of government was to "personal enterprise" or "tyrannical socialism." Socialism might be "dished up as the watered-down variety" of the C.C.F. or "in the concentrated form" of the Communists. One meant "immediate death," the other, "creeping paralysis."

Miss Agnes Macphail (CCF—York East), who said she was "a democratic socialist or a social democrat and proud of it" described the Progressive Conservatives as "the greatest defenders of capitalism. The Liberals "basically" believed in monopoly capitalism but they were "nicer about it than the Conservatives" who don't care what methods they use.

The Liberals were in for "the squeeze play" because they could not "out-Tory the Tories" or "out-social the socialists." The day of the "middle-of-the-road" policy ended with former Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Old age pensions of $30 a month should be increased to $40—the amount now paid only in special needy cases, she said.

"I want $40 a month (for old age pensioners) and I want it this session...."

Butter Import Loss $866,271 In 1948

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 (CP)—The government lost approximately $866,271 on butter imports last year, it was disclosed Thursday in a return tabled in the Commons for Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton).

The average total cost, including all handling and other charges, of the 15,680,000 pounds of butter imported, amounted to 73.47 cents a pound. It was sold by the crown-owned Canadian Commerical Corporation to the butter trade at an average of 67.99 cents a pound.

Imports included 2,240,000 pounds each from New Zealand and Australia, and 11,200,000 pounds from Denmark.

The price to Australia was 67.50 a pound, to New Zealand 67.43 a pound and to Denmark 71.21 a pound.

Truck Without Name

Pleading guilty to driving a truck which had no identification sign, Gerald Monahan, 203 Crescent St. paid a fine and costs totalling $7.50 today at city police court.

Wheat Price Increased To $1.75 Commons Told

OTTAWA, Feb. 25—(CP).—Count Jacques Duge de Bernonville, one of the six alleged French collaborators in Canada, was described in the Commons yesterday as a political refugee worthy of asylum in this country. Frederic Dorion (Ind.—Charlevoix-Saguenay), counsel for the Count, denied that his client had collaborated with the Nazis during the war and said there was uncontested evidence that De Bernonville had assisted the allies.

De Bernonville was a political refugee and not a common-law criminal, said Mr. Dorion, one of eight speakers to participate in continued debate on the Throne Speech.

Raise Price

At the House opening, Trade Minister Howe announced that the initial price for wheat in the five-year period ended Aug. 1, 1950, has been increased from $1.55 to $1.75 a bushel. The initial payment, which covers all wheat delivered to the Canadian Wheat Board since Aug. 1, 1945, was originally set at $1.35 a bushel, Basis No. 1 Northern in store at Vancouver or the Lakehead. This price was raised to $1.55 last March.

Mr. Howe said the situation in respect to flax is "so uncertain" it would be some months before there could be a decision on a possible support price. If any farmer was in doubt about the wisdom of seeding he would advise him to go easy.

Similar Cases

In opening his attack on the charges against the alleged collaborators, Mr. Dorion said:

"I do not hesitate to state that if the French citizens referred to by the member for Winnipeg North were Communist Jews instead of French Catholics, we would not have heard about them in this House.

"Why do we hear nothing about the six or seven Jews who were admitted to Canada last fall after having entered with false passports.....

I ask, why make it a crime for a French Catholic to seek refuge in this country when no one dares to say a word about the Jews who are in the same situation?"

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) who taunted Cabinet ministers with witty jibes, turned serious at several points in his speech, and urged better superannuation provisions for the RCMP and free hospital treatment for the Mountie veterans who could not afford it.

He warned that if Canada keeps trading away British tariff preferences for US tariffs the Americans will be "in a spot to cut our throats in one minute."

Attacks Big Business

E. G. McCullough (CCF-Assiniboia) attacked big business and said corporate profits in Canada rose from $598,000,000 in 1939 to $1,821,000,000 in 1947. He urged the government take steps to curb the operations of monopolies and that it take over and operate any industry which could profit from another war.

J. H. Matthews (CCF-Kootenay East) expressed concern over reports that the CPR is going to shift from coal to oil-burning engines, particularly through the Crow's Nest Pass area and on the Calgary to Edmonton run. The shift could well mean the "beginning of the end" for the coal industry.

Alberta's oil discoveries were one cause for the shift. But coal miners were also being blamed for demanding more wages and thus boosting coal prices.

Fined $10 And Costs

Found drunk on the market square by police Thursday, John MacDonald, 165 King St., was fined $10 with $2.50 costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, at city police court today.

Base Metals, Oils Continue To Slump

TORONTO, Feb. 25 — (CP) — A slight tightening from recent declines that carried industrials down to the price level of April, 1948, was evident towards mid-session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Base metals and western oils continued their downward trend on some heavy declines and golds slipped from early firmness.

Volume for the first three hours was 562,000 shares.

Steels were lower in the industrial groupings while utilities recovered early losses to edge ahead. A few refining oils slipped into fractionally lower ground.

Smelter, Noranda and Hudson Bay extended yesterday's declines in base metals by fractions.

Golds were firm in early dealings but senior issues tended weakers towards mid-session.

Plane Misses Runway

TRENTON, Feb. 25 — (CP)— Five men—the crew of a twin-engined Lockheed Ventura training plane—escaped injury yesterday when their aircraft overshot the runway of the R.C.A.F. station here.

Luckily there was no traffic along No. 2 highway beside the station when the plane crashed through a fence, rolled through a ditch, crossed the highway and came to rest against another fence. The plane, piloted by FO D. M. McLennan of Trenton, was only slightly damaged.

Pretends To Be Citizen Of U.S.

SEATTLE, Feb. 25 — (CP). — Arthur Lennox Walker, 34, was held in jail here Thursday after pleading guilty to falsely representing himself to be an American citizen.

He is a reporter-cartoonist on the Canadian Tribune, a Communist weekly newspaper published in Toronto.

Walker, who was reported by Evans to have entered the United States from Canada at Blain, Wash., Feb. 8, was indicted Feb. 17. He pleaded guilty the same day.

He was accused of using a birth certificate other than his own in entering this country.

The record in the case showed that Walker told authorities his home was in London, England, and that he had lived in Edmonton and Toronto during the last two years.

At Toronto, the Tribune said in a statement that Walker has not been connected with the paper for more than two years.

Search For Goldfish Halts A City Bus

WINDSOR, Feb. 25 —(CP)—A search for goldfish halted a city bus, caused embarrassment for a beautiful young damsel and created a mild furore among the passengers.

First indication that anything was wrong came from a dignified, elderly lady.

"My dear, you're dripping!" she exclaimed to the parcel-laden girl. A search of a grocery bag revealed an item missing.

"My fish!" screamed the young lady.

Passengers soon rounded up the escaped fish, while the bus driver halted his vehicle in the middle of the block. Grabbing the girl's unused fish bowl, he ran into a home and filled it with water so that the fish might live.

Conservation Greatest Need In Human Activity Today

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 25 — (ENS). — An instructive address which emphasized the importance of the conservation of fish and wild life was heard by the Campbellford and District Fish and Game Association on Thursday night. John McCartney of the Department of Lands and Forests was the guest speaker. He said that the Department appreciated the work being accomplished by the fish and wild life associations throughout the province in educating the public in conservation of our natural resources. Recommendations and criticisms carried much more weight with the Department, coming from such organizations than from individuals. He commented that conservation is the most important word in the English language, and it enters into practically every phase of human activity. It is the secret of individual effort and the very foundation of collective action.

Keep Forests Green

He stressed the importance of keeping he forests green. Nine out of ten forest fires, he said, was caused by man's carelessness. Fire destroyed wild life and also the habitat of wild life and the ashes washed into the the streams killed more fish than pollution from industries.

"Another matter we have to take into consideration is variations in climates. Wild life can withstand the cold, but perish if unable to secure food. Every winter deer and other species of game and bird life suffer heavily by having their feeding grounds covered with snow," he said.

Wolves Worst Menace

Then we are faced with predation, he continued. In the forest and stream it was the survival of the fittest. The wolf was the leading culprit in predatory habits, and each year thousands of deer were destroyed by the wolf packs. He stated that recently a conference was held in Toronto between northern trappers and Department officials regarding the best methods to deal with the wolf menace. Satisfactory methods have been worked out and would be applied shortly.

"Now we come to the human factor. We have the poacher, the illegal taker, the man who takes out of season, and the man who takes more than he should. Netting, dynamiting, and spearing are practised by the poor sportsmen. You can do much to curtail such foul practises by spreading the gospel of conservation through education. Our law enforcement agencies cannot do it alone. They must have the support of your organization and every kindred organization in the province."

Mr. McCartney said that between 28 and 30 millions of fish from Ontario hatcheries were planted in lakes and streams every year. Nature can take care of restocking better than man, but nature cannot restock lakes and streams where the fish have become wholly depleted. "Restocking is an expensive process, because only a few fish survive for the angler," he claimed.

President Walter Higgins introduced the speaker and Charles Howey moved the vote of thanks.

List Schedule For Muskrats

LINDSAY, Feb. 26—New regulations governing the taking of muskrats, red fox and some other animals, have been announced by Mr. A. B. Wheatley, the District Forester, of the Department of Lands and Forests, stationed at Lindsay.

There will be an Open Season for the taking of muskrat throughout the Trent District as indicated in the following schedule:

1. From March 20 to April 21, inclusive, in the counties of Durham, Northumberland, Victoria and Peterborough.

2. From March 20 to May 5, inclusive, in the County of Haliburton.

The season for the taking of fox, mink, otter and fisher closes on February 28 in the following counties of the Trent District: Durham, Northumberland, Victoria and Haliburton. Red fox may be taken in the County of Peterborough in any month during 1949.

Residents in those counties which are now paying bounty on red fox should take note that no red fox may be taken after February 28 except in the County of Peterborough.

Begin Taking Borings For Site Of Centre

COBOURG, Feb. 25—(ENS).—Work started Thursday afternoon in taking borings in the Arlington lots to see if they are suitable as a site for the recreational centre. The tests are the result of the town council's decision Monday nigth, to protect the town's investment of $50,000 by way of a grant. The borings may reveal that the ground is not stable enough as the Arlington lots slopes rapidly southward to low land.

Education Costs Soar At Lindsay

LINDSAY, Feb. 25—A one mill increase in the town's rate is expected as a result of the estimate struck at the Board of Education meeting.

Collegiate requirements have increased by some $5,100.00 to $16,351.14 and to this must be added the debenture debt payment.

Public School demands on the town will total $60,121.66, an increase of approximately $4,700.00. Separate School requirements will be on the same basis as the Public Schools.

It was revealed that the system of grants paid by the Provincial Government has been drastically revised. The collegiate grant will be reduced but the Public School grant is expected to be about the same. The grant system, last year, was $10.00 for each pupil attending and 75 per cent of the approved cost. This year, the Collegiate will receive 70 per cent of the approved cost and no pupil grant.

The Public School grant was based on 35 per cent of the approved cost but this year it is expected to be 37 per cent.

Get Higher Raises

Coollegiate teachers will no longer have to wait 15 years before reaching their maximum selary. This was the result of a meeting between the teachers and the Board of Education standing committee on salaries when the teachers asked that their annual increment be increased by $100. to $200. Inexperienced teachers will still continue to draw the $100.00 annual increment for their first two years.

Government Considers Dropping Housing Scheme

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 — (CP) — An authoritative source said Thursday that because of a "lot of criticism," the government is considering discard of an important phase of the National Housing Act under which veterans acquired new homes through controlled prices.

This was the "integrated housing scheme" started by the government in 1945 when there were fears of inflation and when the veteran's need for new homes was acute.

Under the scheme, made successful through co-operation of both contractors and the Central Mortgaging and Housing Corporation, 14,000 low-cost homes were constructed in the last four years at a cost of approximately $110,000,000.

The scheme included these features:

1. By agreement with the construction contractor and C.M.H.C. the selling price of the house was controlled, with an escalator clause allowing for slight increases in wage and labor costs.

2. It specified that the house under construction be sold only to a veteran.

3. Under the scheme, C.M.H.C. could recommend to the reconstruction department that the contractor be given priorities for

Thinner Dollars For Community Work

The dollars given voluntarily for community welfare are like other post-war dollars. They do not go as far; in other words, it takes more of them to do the same good work. That is the most important monetary fact to remember when the canvassers ask for contributions to the Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign which begins today. If the costs of food, clothing, materials and labour rise, as they have done even since last winter's campaign, the cost of goods and services for charity and welfare must also rise. That is the chief reason for the increased financial objective of this year's campaign. Fortunately for the voluntary givers, wages and salaries have risen above the pre-war levels, so that more money is available to give as head and heart direct. Our citizens are not being asked to "give until it hurts". They are being petitioned to give in full accord with their means, their sense of civic responsibility and their honour.

* * *

All of us in this city and district are fortunate that we have a Community Fund, if only because it makes unnecessary a dozen separate appeals. We can give once, and if all of us give with suitable generosity, there is no need for further calls during the whole year. This matter of suitable generosity should be examined. The campaign beginning today is on behalf of eleven organizations. Not all citizens might give to all eleven if eleven separate canvasses were held. We would, however, give to four or five—two dollars to one, five to another, ten to a third and so on up. A good way to determine what amount our total gift should be during this campaign is to assess the items separately and then add them. We can, incidentally, ear-mark our gifts for the organizations we prefer to assist.

* * *

Peterborough folk have given cheerful financial support in past campaigns and the community has a reputation throughout the province for the large proportion of its populace which does contribute both pence and pounds. This year our people, knowing the worth of the welfare services which their money provides and considering the decreased value of the dollar will, we are confident, contribute generously and meet the financial objective set.

Some Matters Of Education

Principal Wallace of Queen's University, a distinguished educationist, scientist and Canadian, spoke to a Peterborough audience Wednesday evening on educational matters. Two points in his notable speech interested us particularly and a third matter came incidentally to our notice through his presence in the city. The three are related through his capacities as educationist, scientist and prominent Canadian.

The first specific matter, a point of formal education pure and simple, was Principal Wallace's emphasis on the necessity of being able to use our own language properly—to use it purely and simply, to use it accurately and well. This "significant badge" (as Mr. Wallace termed it) is necessary to success in one's job, to one's good reputation in the community. Dr. Wallace spoke in such blunt terms as this about the practical necessity for good and proper English usage, in speech and in writing. When the great Principal of a great university feels the necessity of speaking publicly about such a matter, and when others—like Dr. W. E. McNeill who spoke recently in Ottawa about the Canadian abuse of language and its syntax—the advice is needed and should be heeded.

The second matter of great interest in Dr. Wallace's address was his statement that "No one today who does not know science is an educated man or woman". To people who recognize Dr. Wallace as a scientist and do not realize his strong concern for the humanities in Canada and his classical training, this might seem like special pleading. It is not. A world in which "the intimacies of the atom" are important to all, an Ontario in which a Hydro power shortage affects every home and industry, is not for a man or woman who proudly says "Science is all Greek to me". Homer illuminates but so does Hydro. Both are important, but it is more calamitous to be ignorant of the vast movements and accurate methods of science than of the Greek of Homer. The person who says that science is all Greek to him may be proud, but it is the pride of ignorance, unless he has a little Greek and with it a little science.

Dr. Wallace's presence in this city occurred at a time when Queen's University is planning a large endowment campaign. As a responsible Canadian he is acutely concerned that our universities should have enough money to carry on the tasks to which they are dedicated. During the last two years most of our universities have had to call largely on the public for financial assistance. It is important that independent universities like Queen's be able to continue and extend their work. In democratic countries like Canada, universities are not cloistered. They are for your and your neighbour's children, if they have the ability and desire to profit from them. The work of our universities touches every phase of Canadian life; their welfare is vital to all of us.

Are Canadians Dainty Feeders?

We were struck by an observation in the Brantford Expositor the other day; our contemporary remarked that it was foolish to smother a dollar-and-a-half steak under catsup. This seems plain enough, but there are a surprising number of people who have not yet realized it. And it calls up a train of thought about our country's eating habits.

Here in Canada we have some of the best food in the world. That is to say, we have some of the best raw material for food in the world. But what do we do with it? Are we a nation of good cooks? No, we are not. Are we a nation of gourmets? Again, no. And it is by such seemingly trivial acts as pouring catsup lavishly on good meat, and by showering salt and pepper on food which we have not yet tasted that we show it. We accept our good fortune in the matter of food without comment, and we stoke ourselves unfeelingly and unappreciatively.

To be a gourmet is not to be foolishly preoccupied with food. It is merely to have an intelligent appreciation of one of the necessary pleasures of life. We have to eat; let us therefore make eating an art, to which we give thought and discernment. We do not have to eat elaborate meals; we do not have to make a foolish fuss about having oil on both sides of every piece of lettuce in the salad. But we might well insist on a higher standard of cooking at home and in public places, and we might give as much thought to cultivating our palates as we do to developing a good drive at golf, or an intelligent approach to a hand of bridge.

Repeal Of The Cullers Act

Along with Hansard reports which come daily to our office, there are the new Acts of Parliament. One which the Senate passed last week piques our interest. It is Bill G. The first of its four official pages is the formal cover, the second is the enactment itself, the third is devoted to Explanatory Notes. the fourth is blank. Page two is almost bare. After the usual sort of heading is this legend:

> His Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:
>
> 1. The Cullers Act, chapter thirty-nine of the Revised Statutes of Canada, 1927, is repealed.

Page three is even more blank. The Explanatory Notes are singular—just one: "The Cullers Act has not been operative for many years and should be repealed". The Honourable Senators read the hortative "should", and accordingly did repeal.

So passes the Cullers Act — after the House of Commons puts its word in too —with neither a bang nor a whimper. What parliamentary oratory, what lobbying, discussion and wrangling of many years ago, which put this Act on the Statutes, have thus been discarded summarily, whisked from the annals of Canada by Senatorial nods of the head? And what, indeed, is or are Cullers? No doubt we could find but with little difficulty, but sometimes it is better to cherish one's ignorance. The moon has never been so fascinating since we learned that it is a large opaque body 238,860 miles from the earth, with no light of its own, and that the Man in the Moon is only craters and hills. We do not wish to be disillusioned about the Cullers Act. We might find that it had something to do with dead fish or wormy apples.

There is just one thing we cannot figure out about the Russian bear: why doesn't the pesky creature hibernate?

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

SIR: What is the architectural style of the Post Office in Peterborough?

ANSWER: I should not myself use the word "style" in connection with the Post Office building. Its doorway and window arches are twelfth century Gothic, in shape only. The stone curves surmounting the brick are like frosting on top of a Victorian lady's birthday cake. The perpendicular eavestrougning down the sides reminds me of the gurgling outdoor plumbing on an English tenement building. The triangular cornices rising from the second storey or jutting from the roof are somewhat Tudor, somewhat fourteenth century Gothic. Perhaps it would be best to describe them as Transitional—from Victorian pomposity to Canadian pretentiousness, with nothing that was bad lost in the transition. The peaked roof is Norman French —or pre-Chateau Frontenac. The clock tower is Italianate, without any Giotto virtues. The general four-square, stone-topped balustrade effect is pure military—from Aldershot to our Peterborough garrison. I hesitate to describe the interior, but should remark that the lighting is Edisonian — dating from the time that the C.G.E. was known as the Edison Works.

Its architectural fashion may be summed up as neo-Victorian military Gothic. It is built so sincerely that it leaves no room for improvement, since such ugliness is beyond redemption. I have seen uglier buildings—for instance, Keble College in Oxford. That is, however, so stupendously, thoroughly ugly that it is almost a work of art. Unfortunately the Post Office is not unique. We have two other buildings like it in Peterborough, and there are others scattered throughout the province. They are a late Canadian comment on the gay 'nineties.

WHAT are "Lachrymae Christi"? I know that the phrase is Latin for "tears of Christ", but I have heard that people drink "Lachrymae Christi". Surely not?

ANSWER: Yes, and a wonderfully fine drink it is. It is a type of Italian wine—strong for the heart, sweet to the palate, and pleasing to the eye.

QUESTION: Why do Canadians eat more pickles than British people? Since coming to Canada I have been surprised at the vast quantities and varieties they consume. And they eat pickle at the oddest moments—for instance, at midnight after a bridge game, or at a wedding breakfast. I have even seen a tray on which pickles and cakes were side by side. I am not complaining about your customs, but it does seem a bit outlandish.

ANSWER: My dear fellow, so does suet pudding seem outlandish to a Canadian. We are rather proud of our pickles, and I think it a good example of the way the New World has adopted, expanded and perfected Old World practices. In the nineteenth century the English were good at pickles, though in a limited way. We have improved on British pickles, or, rather gone our 57 ways with consummate success, according to my pickle-palate.

The British pickle tradition goes back to Henry VIII and earlier. To my taste, the British are still pretty close to the early Henry's. In those days, in winter, meat became very high (I mean over-ripe) because it had to be taken off the hoof in the autumn and there was no refrigeration. The folk had only three courses open to them if they wanted to eat meat. (They had to, as protection against the humours of wet English weather.) (1) They could eat it in salted form. (2) They could eat it unsalted, in its smelly, high condition and pretend to like it. That is why English people still affect jugged hare as a delicacy. . . The English have always been good at making a virtue out of necessity. (3) They could disguise the rancid taste of the meat with very sharp sauces and spices. This third release clause explains British pickles. They are really condiments—sharp like Worcestershire sauce or all ground up and painfully hot—like chutneys. Pickle, in bland taste, in recognizable fruit and vegetable forms, sweet to the tooth as to the eye, is a North American achievement.

We Canadians eat so much pickle because our pickle is good. Canadian housewives have developed pickle-making into a fine art, a culinary legend, handed down from mother to daughter. Somewhere down the line some men became privy to the recipes, and made millions of dollars in pickle factories. . . What is so exquisite as a Nine-day Gherkin (that last German word shows how we have called on the resource of the whole world to perfect our pickles). What so toothsome as Whole Green Tomatoes, spiced with cloves? What so fanciful and bright as Red Pepper Relish. What so smooth as Tomato Butter? What so ravishing as Pea and Pod Pinkers?

There is another reason for our bon appetit in pickle. Pickle is our protection against the weather. Do you know our phrase "He is pickled" for "He is drunk"? The reason of that is that vinegar, like alcohol, is a preservative. It preserves us and our tubes against the bite of the frost in winter and the bite of the sun in summer. People in Canada who do not eat pickles at least twice a day have to wear red flannels in winter and cold cream in summer.

You may scorn our pickles, but let me tell you, Sir, that if you want to survive in Canada, take pickles and thank God that they are so good. I look with full approval on my two-year-old godson who eats ten gherkins at every noon-day meal. That child will live to draw the old age pension for twenty years.

WHY do men give orchids to girls? And why do girls seem to prize them so?

ANSWER: Because they are among the rarest and most expensive floral favours a man can bestow. A girl who can extract orchids from a gullible swain is proving to the world that either her man has money to burn or her charms come high and her gold-digging powers are mighty. There is another reason which is now lost on men and maids but which, in old times may have made the orchid a symbolic gift. I shall not go into that matter but if you are really interested you might find out what the word orchid is derived from in Greek, by consulting any good dictionary.

* * *

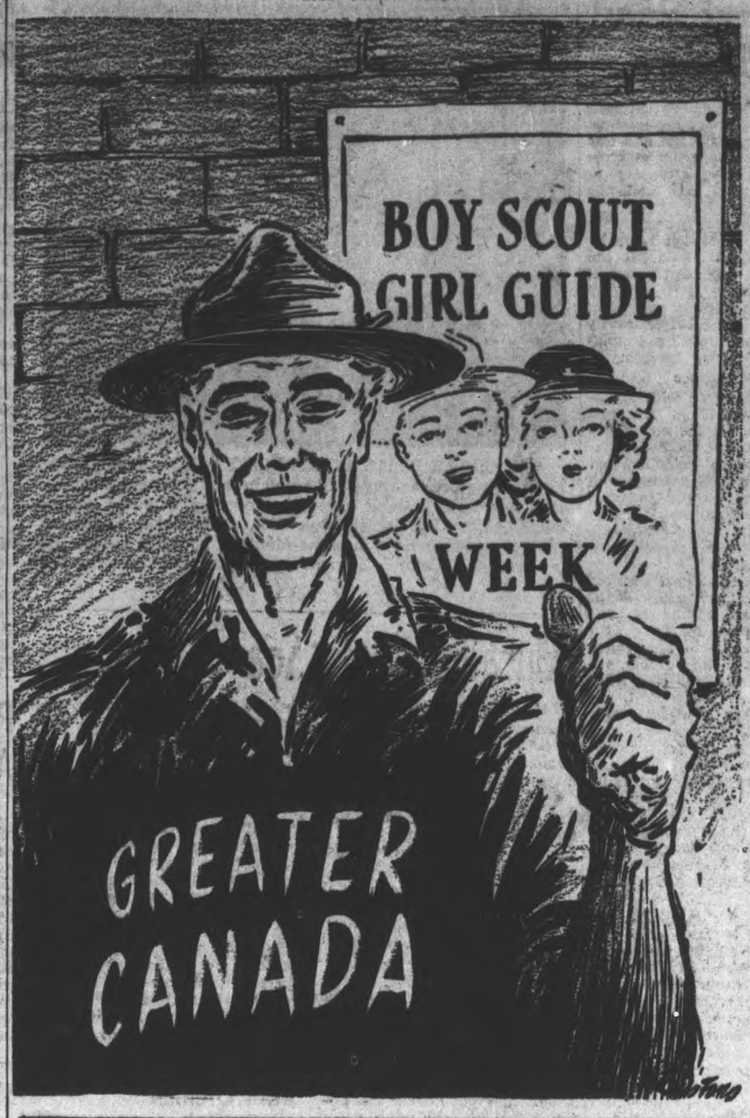
QUESTION: What does this phrase in the song mean: "Clancy lowered the boom"?

ANSWER: I do not know the song; I do not know the significance of the phrase. Perhaps some reader can enlighten both you and me.

* * *

FOR THE RECORD: The price of pepper is so high that even the gods must be sneezing. In 1943 real black pepper retailed for 39 cents a pound. Now it is about $2.00, and the latest price quoted me was $2.20 a pound. Most people do not buy it by the pound; nevertheless it takes only 16 ounces to make a pound and to cost $2.20. The high price is a comment not only on the increased cost of living but on the changed international trading situation in tropical countries. During the later war years only a pepper subsitute could be bought. The real stuff has been back on local shop shelves for more than a year, I believe.

MY HELPERS!



Back To Section 98?

(THE OTTAWA CITIZEN)

IN the light of Mr. George Drew's demand for revival of section 98 of the Criminal Code—a clause thoroughly discredited and discarded with the approval of all parties—it can be readily understood why the word "Tory" is increasingly being used to describe the Progressive Conservative party under his leadership. Mr. Drew is apparently determined to search out every reactionary principle and prejudice and exploit them to the limit, if by so doing he can arouse mass fear and hate and thus ride into office.

Section 98 is a relic of those hysterical times when a Tory government sent a detachment of tanks, troops and armored cars into a Western Ontario city to "maintain order" during an industrial strike. It is true that Tim Buck was jailed under that section, as Mr. Drew states. It is equally true that the Communist leader was almost killed in his penitentiary cell by shots from outside the building fired by guards during a prison riot in which Buck had no part. The great body of Canadians have been under the impression that those evil days were gone forever from this Dominion.

That comfortable opinion will no longer hold good if Mr. Drew and his co-partner Mr. Duplessis have their way. For the ostensible purpose of eradicating Communism they would enact oppressive laws wide enough to be invoked against all persons and groups of whose activities they do not approve. The careers of Stalin, Tito and other successful Communist goverment heads prove that the mere jailing of Communist leaders is not sufficient to defeat Communism. But such a course not only commends itself to dictator mentalities; it serves to distract attention from the unwillingness of some politicians to accept the social and economic reforms which are the real bulwark against Communism.

The Criminal Code outlaws all who conspire against the safety of the state and provides suitable penalties. There is no need for section 98 which can be used against labour, even against political opponents, by whatever government happens to be in power. Because of a few economic controls and their enforcement, Mr. Drew calls Canada a "snooper state." Yet he would not hesitate to fasten upon this country the many aspects of a police state inherent in section 98, a provision which unduly limited freedom of speech, freedom of organization and freedom of association—rights that must be jealously preserved unless Canada is to become a hunting ground of oppression for possible reactionary governments of the future. Canadians should be on guard lest, in the guise of protecting them against Communism, some of their most cherished liberties are snatched away in the stampede of fear which Mr. Drew and Mr. Duplessis are attempting to incite.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. . . .

I am the Lord, your Holy One, the creator of Israel, your King. . . .

This people have I formed for myself; they shall shew forth my praise. (Isa. 43: 10, 15, 21.)

* * *

O Lord our Lord, how excellent is thy name in all the earth! who hast set thy glory above the heavens. . . .

When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained; what is man, that thou are mindful of him? . . . Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet. (Ps. 8: 1, 3, 4, 6.)

Anglo-Canadian Trade

The agreement now reached on the terms under which 140 million bushels of Canadian wheat will be supplied to Britain in the 1949-50 crop year are certainly favourable to this country. The price is, once again, to be two dollars a bushel—ten cents below the current Chicago quotation for December wheat "futures" —and the Canadian Government has assented to the gradual unfreezing of the unspent $235 million balance of Canada's 1945 loan to Britain. This can now be drawn upon at a rate sufficient to cover roughly half of our expenditure on Canadian wheat in the next twenty-four months.

As for Canada's claim to receive, in 1948-50, compensation for the "loss" she made in shipping wheat to Britain at prices much below the world price level in 1946-48, the British Government re-affirms its recognition, in principle, of this liability; but the extent, and method of settlement, of the obligation will be the subject of further negotiations in 1950, when the results in practice of the whole four-year bulk contract will be available for review. Britain's balance of payments may then be such as to make more generous treatment of the Canadian farmer possible. Whether he, on his part, will be wholly satisfied with this deferment of hope is doubtful. The British Government might have been wise to offer, even at this stage, to prolong the four-year agreement for a further period. — New Statesman and Nation (London).

Letter To The Editor

"THE HONEST LAWYER"

Sir: The lawyers of Hamilton who would change the name of the "Honest Lawyer" hotel would no doubt complain more strongly had the sign of the Honest Lawyer been displayed. In England this is of a lawyer whose lips are locked by lock and chain—truly the only way to keep him honest! ! A similar method is employed in the case of "The Silent Woman"! ! Yours truly,

WALTER E. BRIGHTMAN.

NEWS IN BRIEF

By The Canadian Press

NASHVILLE, Ont.—John Black, honored by royal congratulations when he marked his 101st birthday last New Year's Day, died in a Toronto nursing home. He came to Canada from Scotland at the age of three and his family were among the first settlers in this Vaughan township community.

OWEN SOUND.—Judge G. W. Morley set the assessment on the property of the Great Lakes Elevator Company here at $568,000, an increase of $9,000 over the figure set by a court of revision. An original assessment of $643,000 started a controversy which was carried through two courts before it was settled.

TORONTO.—Fire which started from a smoldering cigarette butt caused an established $6,000 damage in a mid-Toronto dress shop. Shop-owner Louis Saltman received minor burns from the fire, which started in the cellar.

LONDON—Employees of the London Street Railway Thursday voted to accept recommendations of an Ontario Labor Conciliation Board as a basis for a work and wage agreement to be enforced for the balance of the company's franchise to operate in this city. The board recommended a six cent an hour across-the-board increase.

TORONTO—For a doctor seeking permission to drive an automobile on Toronto's Centre Island, the civic parks committee had this advice: get a horse. Except for one or two public service vehicles, automobiles are banned on the islands which stretch across Toronto's harbor mouth.

CORNWALL—Cornwall General Hospital will receive a federal grant of $67,319 to help pay for construction of a new wing to the hospital. The grant covers one-tenth of the cost of the wing, which is expected to be completed by early spring.

TORONTO — Thomas Edgar Plewman, 72, a Methodist missionary in China for 30 years, died after a heart attack. He was a fellow of the Royal Geographical Society and had travelled widely through Tibet. Born in England, he came to Toronto in 1888 and was associated for some years with the Ryerson Press.

LONDON, Eng.—Harold Wilson, president of the Board of Trade, said woodpulp was not purchased specifically for newsprint but for production of all descriptions of paper in which pulp is used. He told a questioner in the House of Commons "our selling prices are fixed from time to time at levels which should enable us to dispose of our stocks without loss."

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. — The Aluminum Company of America, originally the first industry to contract for Hydro-Electric power generated by Niagara Falls, will discontinue operations here Monday as scheduled. Officials said about 70 workers would be laid off. The remaining 200 employees will be transferred to other plants or retired, because the Alcoa plant is obsolete.

TOLEDO, O.—Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Colvin of Toledo filed suit for $100,000 against Dr. A. H. Steinberg, an obstetrician, claiming that a daughter born to Mrs. Colvin had been replaced with another girl at the hospital.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Get set, Ottawa, to defend your darling. And you, Winnipeg, prepare yourself. You may be mixed up in this thing too.

Mary Rose Thacker, 26-year-old professional figure skater and Winnipeg-born, thinks she may be a better skater than Barbara Ann Scott.

Miss Thacker, now a professional at the Vancouver Skating Club, Thursday challenged the Ottawa beauty to a "world championship" skating competition. Said she: "I am confident it would be a close and good competition."

From 1939 to 1942 inclusive, Miss Thacker was Canadian and North American amateur women's singles champion. She was named to represent Canada in the 1940 Olympics but missed her chance at the world title when war forced cancellation of the games. In 1942 she retired, unbeaten, from amateur competition.

At Toronto Otto Gold, former skating teacher for both Barbara Ann Scott and Mary Rose Thacker, was "quite flabbergasted" at the thought of a world championship skating competition between the two.

Gold edged at predicting the outcome but he added that the "younger element" might have the advantage, meaning Barbara Ann.

Gold, now pro of the Toronto Skating Club, thinks Mary Rose would have won the 1940 Olympic title if the contest had not been called off due to the war. "She was a very good skater."

But the challenge is "really a little out of place."

"Competitive skaters would have to have time to practise the'e figures," he said. "A professional hasn't that much time available."

Negotiations aimed at amalgamation of Hamilton's Wildcats and Tiger football teams have broken down.

It had been expected that Hamilton would have a single entry in 1949 competition. But it was announced following a meeting Wednesday that the Tigers of the Ontario Rugby Football Union had brought new demands which the Interprovincial Union Wildcats would not accept.

Marcel Cerdan, world middleweight champion, will fight British champion Dick Turpin in Paris March 29. Contracts will be signed at London next Sunday. The fight will be over 10 rounds at 168 pounds—two pounds above the middleweight limit.

French promoter Joe Longman, who acts for Cerdan, said American objections to Cerdan fighting in Paris have been waived. Cerdan has contracted for a series of fights in the United States this spring and summer.

British boxing promoters are going to organize. The promoters are alarmed that the Boxing Board of Control is trying to squeeze them out of a voice in running the sport, and have designated March 27 for a meeting to set up their organization—the British Boxing Promoters' Association.

The two-day cricket match between the West Indies touring team and a Ceylon combined schools XI ended in a draw at Ceylon, Thursday.

The West Indies declared at their overnight score of 481 for seven wickets and dismissed the school for 178. Although 303 runs ahead, J. Stollmeyer, who captained the tourists, did not enforce the follow-on and the West Indies made 88 for four in their second innings before stumps were drawn.

Williams Signs Boston Contract

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—(AP)—Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox has joined the fold of the "satisfied" but 70 baseball players still balked at contracts today as the major leagues hurried through final preparations for spring training.

Williams became the last of the boys in the high brackets to agree to terms. The willowy outfielder yesterday agreed to a figure some put as high as $100,000.

Meanwhile, a roll call showed 40 athletes in the American League and 30 in the National still unsigned, with drills getting under way officially next Tuesday.

Most of these aren't serious holdouts.

The two league champions—Cleveland Indians in the American and Boston Braves in the National—are among those having the most trouble getting their men on the line.

The Indians have yet to reach agreement with 11 of their hirelings, including several sparkplugs of their championship drive last year.

In Denver, Colo., a sparrow built its nest in the caution light of a traffic signal.

A lot of things come out of Ottawa which we don't like — tax boosts as a stunning example—but official statements from here generally get a hearing throughout the country. The other day in Ottawa, the Hon. L. B. Pearson, Under Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, had some things to say in a dinner speech. No doubt having the recent Canuck puck fiasco abroad in mind, he said: "Canada should send the very best athletes and teams into international competition—or else send none at all." He left the thought in mind that the winning of honors in international athletics had passed the stage of sportsmanship and was now a matter of national prestige.

* * * * * *

This we can go along with—especially after reading how the Communistic nations blared forth the fact that the "worker's team" of the Czechs had triumphed over the capitalistic clubs of Canada and the States. Silly, isn't it? But then the Soviets have silly ideas of propaganda and, like Goebbels did, believe that if you lie often enough some of the untruths will stick with many people. And, in the political tug-of-war betwixt east and west, why give them ammunition to fire at you? Canada could have swept hockey honors easily in the world tourney, but was satisfied to send out a second-rate team.

Dough Blows Coming

Some busy evenings are coming up for the Petes as they make their bid to keep going in the OHA senior "B" hunt. If there's ice, they'll play Legion tonight at Civic Arena to wind up the schedule. Then, they go right back Saturday against Toronto Meteors in Lindsay in the first of the two-game group semi-finals, return one being on Wednesday, March 2. Winner of that tackles Legion for group honors, with the title-holder then hitting into provincial playdowns—likely against the Belleville-Kingston champs in the first round. So, within a week the Petes will either be in the real dough blows or outside looking in until next winter.

* * * * * *

Legionnaires aren't having the best of luck lately. Frank Buckland received word yesterday that Toronto Bells had dropped out of further competition. Soft ice and no do-remi beat them. They were slated to open semi-finals Monday against Legion, but now the locals will have to sit it out until about next Friday while the Meteors and Petes battle it out. Legion recently lost the services of Dootch Vitarelli, out with a fractured jaw, but they're still a powerful squad. If they can get in a couple of practices ere the finals start, they'll make either Meteors or Petes step plenty in a sizzling two-of-three series.

Action For Bantams

Coach Albert Watkins of the Outboard Marines bantams received word yesterday that his young puckists would proceed into OMHA bantam playdowns here next Tuesday at 7.30 p.m. in Civic Arena. Return game on Wednesday in Midland, that team knocking off Newmarket to supply the locals' next opposition. This is a provincial semi-final series, goals to count, as Marines had gone through two playdown rounds previously. Local lineup includes: Delahaye, Burns, McCormack, McGrath, Strickland, Frizzelle, Ball, Lilly, McGillen, Gurner, Holden, McDougall and Kearns. The coach is aided by Ed Woodcock and they've been trying to keep the boys in shape, during their layoff, despite wretched puck weather.

The pot brews merrily in TVL playoffs with nearly half a dozen squads still in the stew. Frankford rubbed out Hastings the other night, and Marmora have a two-game lead on Campbellford. They're due to go in Campbellford tonight, with Lakefield at Norwood, if there's ice—but that's pretty doubtful at this writing. Lakefield and Norwood are tied at a game each in their best-of-three scramble, but Lakefield has a protest in on Norwood's win Friday. This will be dealt with at a Sunday meeting. The protest is based on the fact that Referee Tom Junkin, who was supposed to be referee-in-chief at the Norwood game—that's how we get it—was over-ruled on a goal by Referee Herb Payne. Anyway, it'll all come out in the wash.

Made Third Offer For Louis To Fight

NEW YORK, Feb. 25—(AP)—The big question about Joe Louis is not whether he will defend his heavyweight championship again but where and against whom.

On the heels of two fabulous offers to fight in Chicago and Cincinnati, the champion received a third yesterday to put his crown on the line in Philadelphia.

Frank Palumbo, Philadelphia fight manager, offered the brown bomber $300,000 plus 4½ per cent of all television and radio receipts to meet Lee Savold there this summer.

Palumbo, who gave Louis 24 hours to grab the offer, intimated he could stage the bout in Municipal Stadium, which seats 110,000 for boxing; Franklin Field which accommodates 80,000 or less commodious Shibe Park.

Towne Togs Get Cage Win Over Belleville

Towne Togs took a 44-31 exhibition girls' basketball win over Belleville last evening on the Quinte floor. The homesters led 5-2 at the quarter but the count was tied at 13-all at halftime. The half-moon basket and small floor threw the visitors off but the Togs, after throwing away many scoring chances, clicked in the final quarter with S. Curtis and J. Plunkett leading the attack. The winners' zone defence worked fine most of the way.

Joan Dunk stood out on defence for the Yudin squad with S. Curtis, J. Plunkett and A. Davis strong on the attack as the whole team went good. For Belleville, D. Bell was the main gunner, while M. Tomaso and S. Bunnett looked good, also. Togs sank six of 15 foul shots and Belleville got but four in two dozen tries. The teams:

Togs—J. Vass 3, D. Callan 4, J. Caverly, S. Curtis 9, J. Plunkett 11, J. Castle 6, M. Whittaker 2, J. Dunk 4, A. Davis 5, B. Deyell, B. Pringle.

Canadiens Win 'Big' Game Trounce Black Hawks 3-1

By BERT ALLEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The playoff picture in the National Hockey League took a more definite shape today, and for the first time since the clubs started the long grind way back on Oct. 13, the experts felt safe in venturing a prediction on the four teams most likely to make the money series.

Montreal Canadiens, who have blown hot-and-cold all season, won the "big" game last night, beating Chicago 3-1 to widen their lead over the fifth-place Black Hawks to six points.

Thanks to the schedule-makers, all teams now have played the same number of games—50.

Barring a collapse by any of the four, Detroit, Boston, Toronto and Montreal should be Stanley Cup playoff contestants.

Chicago and New York, who trail the fourth-spot Canadiens by six and seven points respectively, need a sicing of three or four straight victories to get back in the running. And on past performances, this isn't likely.

Last night's hero for Canadiens was pivotman Elmer Lach, just rounding into top form after a long layoff because of a broken jaw. The Habitants' playmaking wizard fired the first two Montreal goals in the second frame.

Lach's markers came after the Hawks went into the lead on Roy Conacher's first-period marker, his 23rd of the season.

The Hawks, their playoff hopes hanging in the balance, battled stoutly for the equalizer, but found the rock-ribbed Montreal defence and goalie Bill Durnan a tough combination to beat.

Then, at 19.53 of the finale when Coach Charlie Conacher yanked netminder Jim Henry and sent six forwards on the attack, Maurice Richard grabbed a loose puck, and fired from deep in his own zone into the empty net for the clinching counter.

Before that, Ricisard had to retire for repairs in the second session when he was clipped on the head by Bob Goldham's stick. It required three stitches to close a scalp wound.

Durnan was the solid man for the Habs, turning aside 29 shots. Henry was tested 22 times.

Referee King Clancy called an even dozen penalties in the rough contest, one of them a 10-minute misconduct to belligerent Bep Guidolin of the Hawks. Guidolin, sitting on the Chicago bench, tried to grab a Montreal player by the sweater as he whizzed by.

President Clarence Campbell announced at Toronto that a meeting of the NHL governors and other top club officials will be called to discuss the question of punishment for players who deliberately injure opponents.

Report Conflict In East Indies To Reach Turning-Point

By NORMAN ALTSTEDTER

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 25—(CP)—The Netherlands-Republican conflict in the rich East Indies is expected soon to reach a turning-point. "Important decisions" on the Netherlands' future action in the area, which she has ruled for 350 years, are to be made public Saturday in Batavia.

And before March 1 an on-the-spot commission sent out by the United Nations is to make recommendations for settlement of the dispute. It will also describe what action has been taken by both parties to comply with a cease-fire order issued by the Security Council.

After four years' warfare, the Republicans continue to harry Dutch troops with guerrilla tactics by which they apparently hope to gain a better position in future negotiations.

This is the position of the two parties:

The Netherlands says she wants to 'promote the freedom of Indonesia in order to create a sovereign federation of Indonesia linked in voluntary and equal partnership with the kingdom of the Netherlands." This ideal is hampered, the Dutch contend, by the Indonesian Republic's demands for conditions which would allow it to dominate the other states in the proposed union.

Run Own Affairs

The Republic says it is willing to join a United States of Indonesia, but not while the Dutch insist that the Republic give up control of its own army and economic affairs.

Scene of the conflict is a string of islands stretching 3,200 miles across the Indian and Pacific Oceans. About 72,000,000 persons, including 250,000 Europeans, inhabit a land area about the size of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta combined.

Sumatra, two-thirds the size of Manitoba, is the largest island. But a majority of the population —about 48,000,000—lives on Java and Madura.

In this lush, tropical area is concentrated great wealth in oil, rubber, tin manganese, bauxite, gold and agricultural products.

Before the Dutch started "police action" in 1947, the Republicans were reported to control about 220,000 square miles of the total area of 735,000 square miles.

Impartial observers estimated the population in Republican territory was about 55,000,000.

Flyers Give Windsor Rude Awakening

By The Canadian Press

Windsor Spitfires are finding life is not all a bed of roses as they enter the Junior A playoffs of the Ontario Hockey Association.

After coasting to the end of the regular junior schedule with a comfortable nine-point lead over their nearest competitor, Barrie Flyers, Spitfires got a rude awakening last night from those same Flyers.

Barrie invaded Windsor's own back yard to punch out a 6-3 decision in the first game of a best-of-seven semi-final series between the two. Spitfires will have another chance to redeem themselves before home fans on Saturday, before moving to Barrie for the next two playoff games. But they have learned now to expect anything in a playoff battle.

Flyers, with an injury-struck defence line, set the pace from the start with four successive goals in the first period. Gord Pennell, Don Ashbee, Gary Gordon and Real Chevrefils did the damage before Bert Giesbrecht scored Windsor's first marker, near the end of the first period.

Windsor came back with two unanswered goals in the second period by Gerry Lavergne and Lardy Wilson but were unable to score in the final stanza. Bob Burcham and Bob Bingley provided Barrie's two third-period markers.

Bingley played despite an automobile accident Sunday which left him with a stitched scalp. Stan Long, with a strapped up dislocated shoulder was another Barrie star, providing passes on two goals.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press.

Boston Bruins' record NHL unbeaten streak of 23 games was broken when New York Rangers gained a 2-0 shut-out eight years ago tonight. Although outplayed by a wide margin throughout of third period penalties to Dit Clapper to chalk up both tallies.

Members of the Chatham rink were J. De Koning, D. Painter, Gordon Gilbert and Peter Gilbert. The Peterborough curlers were B. F. Rankine, Grant Clark, J. J. Dutton and Dr. Ralph Clark.

In second-round matches, Dr. Clark beat A. R. Tarlton's Hamilton Thistles rink 10-7 and the Gilbert rink downed C. R. Meech of Toronto High Park 14-9.

In the consolation event final, S. Meredith of Barrie defeated Norm Himes of Galt 15-9. Earlier, the Himes rink edged out the J. Graham quartet of Fergus 12-10 while the Meredith foursome hammered out a 14-10 victory over J. Bradley's Ottawa Granites rink.

Need Plenty Of Fighting Spirit To Brave Birthday Bargain Sales

By GEORGE RONALD.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (CP). —For 3½ hours every February 22, Washington stampedes joyously to the shrill, magic battle-cry of "Bargains."

February 22 is the anniversary of George Washington's birthday — and "Birthday Sales" are traditional. So are queues, sore feet, bruises and frayed tempers.

But mister—those bargains.

Here's what a guy could get last Tuesday if he had $35.48, a good pair of elbows, and some old-fashioned fighting spirit:

Two wool suits;
One fur coat;
One typewriter;
One-fifth of a gallon of genuine West Indies Carioca zombie.

Here is the breakdown on those items, plucked at random from page after page of big, black, eye-popping advertisements proclaiming the "unbelievable bargains" of George Washington Day:

The two suits could be had for $14.50 each; the ads said you could be sure they were made of wool. The fur coat would cost you $5 (That's what it said). The typewriter, at 99 cents, would be reconditioned and darned hard to lay your hands on; only five were available. Forty-nine cents would get you the zombie.

(Of course, if genuine West Indies Carioca zombie was not down your alley, the same 49 cents could be invested in a bottle of petrushka vodka.)

"Birthday Crowds"

There is a strange mingling of dead-seriousness and light-hearted funmaking in the attitude of the "birthday crowds." But one thing is certain; if you are dead serious, you've got to have a plan —and patience.

Block-long lines formed at some stores before dawn last Tuesday. Bargain-hunters had camp chairs and sandwich breakfasts. Most were bundled warmly against the piercing chill of 40-degree temperature.

Six persons camped all night long for a crack at the five 99-cent typewriters. The No. 1 man in line, who had been waiting since 5:15 p.m. Monday, trudged away wearily but proudly at 9 a.m.

There were 80 extra policemen on duty downtown and 154 extra street cars and buses.

Strengthens Garrisons

HELSINKI, Feb. 25—(AP) — A well-informed Finnish source said Thursday Russia has strengthened her garrisons along the Soviet-Norwegian border. The informant said the Soviet troops had come from the Murmansk area. While giving no estimate of the number involved, he said the troop movements were observed last week and apparently were in connection with the stand taken by Norway on the projected North Atlantic Defence Treaty.

DISBAND SCOUTS

BRISBANE, Feb. 25 (Reuters) —The State Commissioner of the Queensland Boy Scouts has announced that a suburban Brisbane Scout troop has been disbanded because it was controlled by Communists. The Commissioner said the Scout oath of allegiance to God and the King could not be reconciled with Communism.

Irish Blood Boils Furiously In Parliament When Question Irishman's Right To Own Gun

DUBLIN, Feb. 25 — (AP) — Irish blood boiled in the Dail Thursday when somebody questioned an Irishman's right to own a gun.

Epithets bounced back and forth. Members questioned Prime Minister John A. Costello whether he intended to order a search for hidden guns of the outlawed Irish Republican Army. One member was tossed out of the session.

As the debate went into the background of the issue, Costello was asked if he condemned his predecessor, Eamon de Valera, for executing I.R.A. men who had killed policemen.

When a Republican party member interposed that the men were executed "because they were Republicans," de Valera sprang to his feet and shouted:

"That's a damned lie."

De Valera refused to withdraw the remark even though "I were to be excluded from this house forever." In support of de Valera, member Gerald Boland then referred to government members as "cowards and skunks." He was ordered out of the house.

Another member asked Costello whether he would appeal to the illegal I.R.A. to surrender his arms and, if not, would he use force to unearth hidden guns.

Costello replied: "I say that guns have been taken out of politics in this country and the government has no intention of creating, by way of appeal or warning, the impression that a situation exists which in fact does not exist."

Won't Change Insurance Rules

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 — (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell said Thursday in the Commons that neither the advisory committee of the Unemployment Insurance Commission nor the commission itself has asked for a shortening of the period which unemployed must wait before collecting unemployment insurance.

He said the nine-day waiting period was fixed by statute.

G. K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough West) asked if the minister had received any request for a change from municipalities and responsible public bodies.

Mr. Mitchell said ministers receive requests on many things. It was the easiest thing in the world to pass resolutions, but the Employment Inurance Commission had to protect the contributions being made by both the employer and the employee.

Julian Ferguson (PC-Simcoe North) asked if Mr. Mitchell was aware that many state-owned factories in Alberta will be closing down and that he will have to take care of those who are thrown out of work.

Mr. Mitchell said he believed Mr. Ferguson was referring to Saskatchewan, not Alberta.

Newspaper Men Jailed

TEHRAN, Feb. 25 (AP) — A military tribunal Thursday sentenced four Iranian newspapermen to prison terms ranging from one to five years. The trials were secret and charges have not been made public. Sixty newspapers were suppressed and many journalists imprisoned Feb. 6 as the result of the attempted assassination of the Shah two days earlier by the left-wing newspaper man, Fakhr Raiee. Raiee was beaten to death by a mob.

Pre-Historic Mastodon Found Near Victoria

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 25—(CP)—Remains of a pre-historic mastodon, a relative of the elephant which lived in North America about 200,000 years ago, have been unearthed in a gravel pit at Shawnigan Lake, 80 miles northwest of here.

A large size tooth identified as belonging to a mastodon was brought to the British Columbia museum by Les Smith of Shawnigan Lake.

He reported that other large bones were dug up, but were carried away by gravel-filled trucks before anyone was aware of the discovery.

A. E. Pickford, an expert in palaeolithic science, said the bones were deposited there during the ice age when the great glacier began to melt.

AUDITORS' REPORT TO THE SHAREHOLDERS

MELCHERS DISTILLERIES, LIMITED, Montreal.

We have examined the books of account and financial records of Melchers Distilleries, Limited for the year ended 31st December, 1948 and have received all the information and explanations required by us.

The Inventories of Spirits, Raw Materials and Supplies on hand have been certified to be correct by responsible officials of the Company.

The Dominion Income Tax Department has intimated to the Company that in computing the amount of profits to be assessed for the year 1948 and for subsequent years, it proposes to disallow as deductions from taxable income a substantial portion of the amounts provided for depreciation in those years. The liability for taxes as shown on the above Balance Sheet does not include any provision for possible taxes that may be payable in this connection.

Subject to the foregoing we certify that, in our opinion, the above Balance Sheet as at 31st December, 1948 sets forth a true and correct view of the financial position of the Company at that date, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us, and as shown by the books of the Company.

Montreal, 31st January, 1949.

P. S. ROSS & SONS, Chartered Accountants.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

To the Shareholders:—

Your Directors submit the Twentieth Annual Report of your Company covering its operations during the fiscal year ended December 31st, 1948, this being the fiftieth year of operation, since its inception in 1898.

The Financial Statements show satisfactory results.

The Net Profit for the year, after making provision for Depreciation and Income Taxes, was $115,889.88; of this amount, $75,000.00 was paid in dividends and the balance of $40,889.88 was transferred to Earned Surplus Account.

The Balance Sheet reflects an improved financial condition. Working capital has been increased by $103,324.25, and now stands at $1,103,986.12.

Concerning your plant, there is nothing of extraordinary interest to report on for the year just closed. The new machinery and equipment installed during recent years, is functioning very satisfactorily, and the balance of our automatic bottling equipment is expected to be received shortly.

Manufacturing costs were up materially, due to increased wages, salaries and extremely high grain prices. During the latter part of the year, however, grain prices eased considerably, so your directors look forward to a more normal cost in the coming year.

Sales of Gins are returning to a more normal basis. An increasing demand for whiskies is evident, especially for those of older ages. Near the close of the year, your Company released two new brands of aged Rye Whisky. These two brands are real Rye whiskies, having been made from mashes consisting predominantly of Rye grain. The ages of these two brands are 6 and 8 years. The reception given to them by the public, far exceeds our most optimistic estimates. The demand is so great and so much in excess of available supplies, that your Company is obliged to limit releases in order to protect their quality and age.

Fire insurance has been maintained at a high level due to high replacement cost of spirits, buildings and equipment.

Labour relations between the Company and its employees are amicable and a new working agreement with their Union was signed effective November 1st, 1948.

At the Annual General Meeting of Shareholders to be held on March 9th, 1949, shareholders will be asked to consider approval of a new By-Law of the Company, creating the position of "Chairman of the Board"; governing the signatures to appear on certificates of Stock and amending the various By-Laws incidental thereto.

Your Directors wish to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation of the faithful work of the officials and employees of the Company during the year just closed.

Respectfully submitted,
On behalf of the Board of Directors,
V. MARCHAND
President.

Harry Vaughan (left), his military aide, with a certificate of merit from the Reserve Officers Association. Watching here are Mrs. Omar Bradley, wife of the Army Chief of Staff, and Brig. Gen. E. A. Evans. In an informal address at the dinner, the President challenged "any S.O.B." to try to unseat any member of his cabinet or staff.

Rabbi Interprets Judaism To Christians

"To believe in a personal God, in Revelation, and to live the Jewish life are the demands of Judaism," said Rabbi Joseph Mayer Thursday while addressing the Y's Men's Club. He was speaking on the essentials and fundamentals in Judaism.

Rabbi Mayer explained that belief in God means the acceptance of a sentient person both transcendent and immanent. God, the supreme Lord of the Universe, he said, is accessible to every creature. He added that chance, determinism, pantheism and plurality of persons are excluded.

"The existence of a God who stood apart from humanity would be of cosmic importance, but to mankind it would be irrelevant," he said. The link between an immaterial God and a material world is revelation. In Judaism, God inspires all men by means of the conscience and certain men whose capacity for good was or is superior to that of their fellowmen, by revelation."

In Judaism, he said, tradition and progress check each other. Custom adjusts law to changed circumstances. Revelation, he explained, has room for varieties of thought.

"Belief in the world to come is taught and also future reward and punishment. Virtue for its own sake is stressed but the individual salvation is not. Every endeavor is made to exclude none from the world to come. In theory certain classes or persons are shut out from the life to come, but in practice every person excluded had certain virtues which counter-balanced his sin through God's Mercy."

Does Not Seek Converts

Rabbi Mayer said that one of the basic principles of Judaism is its universality. He claimed that it is almost unique in its attitude towards other faiths. "It teaches that adherents of other faiths have been granted by God such revelation as is not suited to them, but does not invite proselytes. It holds that the in gathering of the Gentiles will take place at God's will". However, he said, sincere converts to Judaism are not spurned. "Human equality and the "Golden Rule" are Jewish fundamentals. It is not therefore necessary to become a proselyte, though sincere proseyletes are welcomed. For the same reason, into marriage without "conversion" is condemned, since the Jewish life becomes difficult if not impossible in a mixed home."

Speaking about the Jewish ritual, he said that early in the 19th centruy pleas for modification of the ritual were heard, he said. Readjustment was needed and the need found a threefold expression, he explained. Some of the changes made were: vernacular sermons, and the use of an organ on the Sabbath and Festivals (in the reformed synagogue only).

The Synagogue

Rabbi Mayer spoke briefly about the Synagogue. He said it was a place of public prayer and a centre for other religious activity. It had its beginning in Babylonian captivity. The custom was brought to Judea after the restoration, being in time the place for individual participation in worship.

In ending his address he said he hoped that his explanations had removed some of the bad feelings against Jews, that still prevail in the world today.

Woodrow Roberts introduced the speaker and also thanked him.

A singsong was led by Rick Cochrane and Quirt McKinney.

Frank Sinatra Wants To Do More Singing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 25—(AP)—Just back from talks about a new program with CBS, Frank Sinatra says he wants to do more singing.

Frankie has been dickering for a half-hour show following Bing Crosby (an intriguing idea.) But he says he wants to do a 15-minute show on Tuesday, Wednesdays and Thursdays. "I want to do a lot of singing again," he remarked. "They've had me dancing and making like a comic in pictures. I want to get back to my old racket."

Meanwhile, the crooner is preparing for a rematch with Gene Kelly in "On the Town."

Gable Scared

Clark Gable finished "Any Number Can Play," but he won't start travelling right away. "The storm ruined my ranch," He tells me. "I'm going to stay home and try to fix it up again." I asked him why he seldom does radio.

"It scares me," answered the tough guy. "Besides, I'm no good on radio." He flashed the famed Gable grin and added that he was leaving himself wide open for comments about his movie work. Silly boy.

George Raft keeps mumbling about retirement, but let's look at the record. He just finished "Intrigue" for Columbia and goes right into "Red Light" for United Artists and "Bail Bond" for R.K.O. then he goes abroad for two pictures of his own. Now, George.

Sign of the times: A well-known actor wants to sell his membership to a movie golf club. Ordinarily there's a hot market for it at $2,000 or $3,000. But the actor can't find a taker.

New Fire Rates Surprise Smith Twp.

"I think there will be a protest about that. The city hasn't told us anything about it."

That was the reaction of A. I. Edmison, municipal clerk of Smith, to the decision of the city council increasing from two to three mills the blanket charge for fire protection in the Queen Elizabeth school area.

"That's the first I've heard of it," Mr. Edmison said. "I think there should have been some mention to our council. I imagine they will feel that this levy by the city is getting beyond a reasonable figure."

Adopt Recommendation

Council adopted the recommendation of the fire and light committee Monday night. It was read by Ald. Doug Miller, chairman.

The clause was: That Smith and Douro councils, with which the city has an agreement for providing fire protection to sections of the townships, be informed that because of increased cost to city taxpayers of fire protection services the city is willing to renew these agreements for 1949, but the rate on the assessment of the areas will be three mills".

"We've always paid two mills," Mr. Edmison explained. 'This special levy is confined to the northend of the city and an area on the Lakefield Road."

"There is also a charge of $50 for each call on the fire department. The average number of calls has been about four a year, but we have already had three calls this year. It cost us last year something over $500. The city's charge becomes a tax on the assessment of the areas that are served for fire protection, and the $50 is extra."

Students Visit Civic Hospital

A picture of nursing as a career was given Wednesday to 15 students from the Collegiate when they visited the Civic Hospital. This visit was part of the second Interest Group on Nursing conducted by Howard Moebus, head of the Career Planning Department of the school.

Under the guidance of two student nurses' instructors, Miss Mary Pickens and Miss Ethel Fenwick, the girls were shown in two groups around the hospital and dormitories of the student nurses. As they went from one part of the hospital to another their duties, if they become nurses, were explained to the girls.

Some of the girls who went were Keitha McIlroy, Mary McCarthy, Beverly Gamble, Patsy Martyn, Jean Brown, Orlene Shunk, Lynn Davidson, Ruth Poole and Jean Crawford.

Arrangement for the students to go to the hospital for the visit were made by Miss Annie L. Thompson, superintendent of nursing and Mr. Moebus of the Collegiate.

Drop Soviet Supporter

LONDON, Feb. 25—(AP)—The Labor party's national executive committee pulled the rug out from under labor member Konni Zilliacus Thursday. He is the chief left-wing critic of Foreign Secretary Bevin in Parliament. The committee refused to endorse Zilliacus for re-election to the House of Commons as Labor candidate in the 1950 elections. He represents Gateshead. Zilyliacus, an outspoken critic of Anglo-American foreign policy, has repeatedly counselled the Labor Government to collaborate with the Soviet Union.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVIII, No. 47 FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1949

Kiwanis Club Sponsoring A Trade Fair

Kiwanis Club appointed Thursday night a general committee with W. J. Ovens, chairman to assume organization of a Peterborough trade fair to be held at the armouries in the week of April 25-30. Jim Fraser is secretary and Ald. Dick Raine will be a link with the council.

"We are linig up a strong committee to supervise all the details of the fair," Mr. Ovens said today. "The immediate response from local industries is all in favor of the project, and I think we can make this a big event displaying the variety and extent of made-in-Peterborough products. We may also have some displays from out-of-town industries who supply our own plants.

This will be a manufacturing exhibit, the first we have had here in quite a long time. It will give the people of the city and district a chance to get a better idea of the quality of our manufactures that lend themselves to a display of this kind."

Hastings Hunters Bag Six Foxes

HASTINGS, Feb. 25 (ENS)—Ten hunters in the Hastings district made a much better showing than the 75-man field force of fox hunters on the civilian-military hunt held recently near Indian River. Without fanfare or mobile radio equipment, they beat an area on the Frank Walsh farm, four miles west of the village on Wednesday. Their only extra equipment was one hound dog and their game bag at the end of the day showed six foxes, of which Ned Fitzpatrick shot two. Others in the party were Harry Noonan, Wallace Orr, Fred Barry, Frank Walsh, Sr., and his son Frank, Dick Walsh, John McColl, Len Marrin and Jim Crowley.

The same group hunted twice previously since the first of the year without as much success as Wednesday's meet. One of their party saw a deer watching their beating operation from a distance of 100 yards.

A pack of wolves roamed the district last fall, but all left, with the exception of one, for other area when the snow came. This lone remaining wolf is reported to be very large and of the timber breed although it ran with a pack of brush wolves. The Big One chased by dogs raced through a woodlot recently close by to Charles and Ambrose Doherty who were busy cutting wood. The two men claim it came near enough for them to have been able to kill it with an axe.

Abbe Historian Says Catholics Fairly Treated

Common beliefs which have led to ill feeling between French and English speaking Canadians were said by Abbe Arthur Mayheux M. A., D.D., O.B.E., to be based on varying impressions of historical facts. The well known Canadian writer, speaker and historian addressed the Ontario English Catholic Teachers' Association at the Collegiate on Thursday.

An ardent worker for unity between the two factions of Canadian life, Father Maheux endeavoured to dispel certain impressions which had arisen as the result of different interpretations of events between 1763 and 1768 when Canada became British territory under the Treaty of Paris.

The five year interlude between these years, when there was no bishop in Canada, was still acting on the nerves of the Canadian people, he said.

Father Maheux said that the failure to appoint a bishop after the death of Bishop de Pontbriand in 1760 was not due to the stubborness of the English. Such an appointment was impossible as long as war continued in Europe, he said. Until the Treaty of Paris was signed in 1763 neither the King of France nor of Britain could move a finger about the matter, as no one knew what would be the issue of the war or of the treaty.

After Peace Treaty

The French had another 18 months after the treaty was signed to decide whether they were going to stay in Canada, and so it was not until after that period that the question could be opened.

The opinion of high political and ecclesiastical circles in London was favorable to the appointment of a Catholic bishop in Quebec, even before the end of the military regime in the new colony, the Abbe said.

The speaker described two major obstacles which faced the French Canadians who had elected Mr. de Mongolfier, a prominent Sulpician of Montreal. Mongolfier proceeded to London in order to have his appointment confirmed by the Crown and then to obtain jurisdiction from Rome.

General James Murray, Governor of Canada opposed the appointment. His policy was to detach the Canadians from France. He considered Mongolfier a Frenchman by birth, education and by solid and near family ties. Although Murray well understood the need for a bishop for Canada, he wanted a man with a Canadian, not a French mind.

The other obstacle came from the Vatican itself. The ecclesiastical authorities at Rome had severely blamed the Quebec canons for having dared to proceed to an election when they had no right to do so. Rome declared the election void.

After this the Quebec canons named, but did not go so far as to elect, Olivier Briand, vicar general of Quebec City. General Murray though highly of this priest, who, although of French birth, had lived in Canada a long time.

Tolerance for Catholics in Canada

Having outlined the events which finally led to the appointment of Bishop Briand, Father Maheux asked how could Canadians, who had been taught different versions, agree.

From the facts described by him, his audience would think that Britain had been fair and even generous to French Canadians, Father Maheux said. They had, after all, been lucky compared with Newfoundland, where the Catholics suffered persecution and where that religion nearly disappeared, to be restored later by the arrival of Irish Catholic immigrants.

The fortunes of French Catholics had also been more enviable than those of Acadians, Spanish Catholics, the Catholics in the 13 Colonies and the Catholics of the British Isles.

KINSMEN'S 29TH ANNIVERSARY was celebrated on Thursday evening by Peterborough and visiting clubs from Oshawa, Lindsay, Bobcaygeon, Campbellford, Omemee and Toronto. They called it Hal Rogers Night to honor their guest speaker and founder, Hal Rogers, OBE, shown above, Left, with Stan Gilmore, current president, and Alex Elliott, first Peterborough president.

29 Years of Kin Effort Reviewed By Kinsmen Club

A plea to Kinsmen to work for unity in Canada was voiced on Thursday night by Hal Rogers, OBE, founder of Kinsmanship in Canada. He was guest speaker at the annual inter-club meeting of neighboring clubs, and he reminisced on the 29 years of that service club's existence in Canada.

In a short informal address he told the members that Kinsmen organization began in Hamilton in 1920 with four original members; there were twelve at the inaugural meeting. Since that time the movement has expanded across the Dominion with 219 clubs and 8,000 members.

He told his audience that the success of Kinsmen has not been due to one man; credit belonged to the organization as a whole. And he outlined both peacetime and wartime achievements.

"I am one of the proudest men in the Dominion of Canada because of what Kinsmen have done in service to their country and to the Empire," he said.

Some of the wartime achievements he outlined were: equipping and maintenance of a mobile dental clinic in the British Army operating throughout the Italian campaign; more than 20,000,000 magazines to members of the merchant navy; 50,449,000 quarts of milk sent to the children of the United Kingdom and a high rate of enlistment among the members.

Mr. Rogers said that Viscount Bennett of Calgary, former Canadian Prime Minister, who was appointed to the Peerage, offered to entertain any Kinsman who came to Britain because of the excellent war work that service group was doing.

Another achievement of the Kinsmen that he touched on was that every deaf and speechless child in Newfoundland was sent to the mainland for several years to receive treatment.

He told of the unity among service clubs that was reached near the end of the war and stated that in a future conflict the clubs would work together from the beginning.

While not underestimating the work done by the local groups in the community, he claimed their chief task lay in maintaining national unity.

"We must keep it built up as never before," he said.

He was introduced by Lorne Bateman and thanked by Dr. Mark Crough. President Stan Gilmore was in the chair.

Of the 95 Kinsmen present, nearly 50 were visitors. Included among them were: Jim Price, vice-president of Campbellford; George Russell, District-Deputy Governor of District No. 8, from Oshawa; Art Weir, president of the Omemee club; Ab Woolard, president of Bobgaygeon; Don Ferguson, president of Lindsay; and Austin Chambers, secretary of North Toronto.

Spring Brings Road Troubles

Spring has all the appearance of arriving a couple of weeks ahead of schedule, and with it comes road trouble for the board of works.

"I don't think there is much more of it than usual when winter is breaking up," Ald. H. Dodds chairman of the board commended today. "Still there are quite a few spots around town that needs attention. But, you have to bump along until the frost is out of the ground, and the work you do will stay there instead of being lost in the heaving.

Some of the bus route streets are pretty bad, and we have been wondering what could be done, but you can't go at road repair jobs while you are still in February.

In the meantime some people seem to think it's spring."

Ald. Dodds said that any provision for a road paving program this year would be up to the council. "It has been mentioned several times, but that is as far as it got."

City Council To Provide $440,334 For Education Increase $42,067 Over '48

At a special meeting of the Board of Education on Thursday night a current budget of $701,731 was approved and the City Council asked to provide in monthly payments $440,334. This is an increase of $42,607 which the taxpayers are asked for this year over that of 1948. Finance Chairman G. Wilson Craw presented the budget and gave an outline of the various receipts and expenditures. He also intimated that due to an increased assessment of more than two million dollars the actual effect on the tax rate would not be as great as was first expected. In 1948 the current public school rate was 9.2 mills and Mr. Craw said K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, had estimated the 1949 public school rate at 9.75 mills, an increase of .55 mills, while the Collegiate rate had increased from 3.82 mills to 3.87 mills.

Breakdown Given

In a break down of the receipts Mr. Craw presented a table prepared by Arthur Pitchford, vice-chairman of the Board, which showed that the provincial grants would this year account for 26.34 per cent. of the total revenue while last year they were 27.75 and in 1945 the percentage was 33.53. Fees accounted for 5.66 per cent., a decrease of .22, and miscellaneous 5.25, an increase from 3.23 per cent. over last year. The remaining revenue of 62.75 per cent. comes from the taxpayers which is a decrease of .41 from last year and 18.80 lower than 1941.

On how the board's dollars are spent, Mr. Craw said 79.98 cents go for salaries and wages, while last year it was 78.14 and 81.28 cents in 1945; retirement benefits .92, a decrease of .11; insurance 1.13, a decrease of .05; administration 2.21, a decrease of 1.27 cents; fuel 3.03, an increase of .07; repairs 5.93, a decrease of .07; teaching supplies 3.91, a decrease of .64, and miscellaneous 2.89 cents, an increase of 1.85.

Receipts

A review of the receipts shows that the board expects to receive $172,500 in general grants from the province. Last year the general grant totalled $133,134. This loss is mostly accounted for in the change made by the department in paying grants in the academic department of the collegiate. Here last year the board received $33,102 and this year the grant is estimated at $17,500. Estimated grants in the public schools total $107,000 and collegiate vocational $58,000 both considerably higher than a year ago.

Other estimated receipts are $300 manual training grant, $300 for home economics, $250 dental, $150 kindergarten, $150 agriculture, $280 Normal School and $800 for auxiliary classes. The county of Peterborough will pay $28,500 while last year the county's expenditure, levied according to the number of pupils, was $27,685. Northumberland and Durham will pay $5,250. Victoria County $825 and Hastings county $100. The North Monaghan section adjoining the city will pay $5,000 for the city educating its pupils. The board also hopes to receive $11,400 from the city treasurer as its share of the contribution made by War Time Housing. Last year this was $14,047 but in the meantime some of the houses have been sold and the new owners come under the regular city taxation scheme. Auditorium rentals are expected to be $1,000 while night school fees will probably amount to $2,000.

These receipts made an estimated revenue for public schools of $131,313.28, collegiate academic $50,867 and collegiate vocational $79,202. The estimated expenditures of $436,265 in the public schools, $135,470 in the collegiate academic and $129,996 in the collegiate vocational.

Expenditures

Salaries for teachers, in the public schools will cost $300,000 an increase of $45,000; in collegiate $168,000 up $18,000; caretakers $50,000 up $11,000; maintenance wages have increased from $11,818 to $13,105; miscellaneous wages $7,500; fire insurance $5,610, liability insurance $750; workman's compensation $1,555; car allowances $1,585; salaries of officers and stenographers $15,500; medical salaries $10,050; dental salaries $5,920; scholarships $755; retiring allowances $2,975; pension contributions $4,135; light, water and power $5,500 and Confederation school deficit $4,500.

The property committee will require $50,075 to keep the schools in repair, make the necessary alterations and purchase the fuel. The vocational committee's budget is for $22,300 which includes salaries for night school teachers; the supervision committee needs $20,285 and the health committee $500.

The municipal levy will be $304,937 for public schools, $84,603 for collegiate academic and $50,793 for collegiate vocational.

The board also approved of the principle of hiring men who are over 45 years of age providing the applicant is approved by the chairman of the board, the property chairman, the finance chairman and the superintendent and that as an agreement of employment the employee signs a waiver of all claim to a pension or retiring allowance and that all cases be reviewed after two years. Mr. Craw in introducing the motion said, the pension scheme did not permit the Board to place employees on the plan who are over 45 years old at time of employment. It had been felt that there were occasions when men fitted for the job and wanting it and who were suitable to the Board should be engaged.

Approval was also given to the principle of pupil insurance and the superintendent instructed to secure full details of the insurance being offered.

The Board also approved that it provide a dinner to the Associated High School Boards at their annual meeting here in May.

CanadiansActive In Negotiations

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 — (CP) — Canadian negotiators in Washington are taking an active part in argument for an "economic consultation" clause in the proposed North Atlantic Security Pact, it was learned here Thursday.

News from Washington this week has been more encouraging to the government here and it is believed it may be possible next week to make a fairly complete statement to the House of Commons on basic details of the Pact draft.

Differences between the United States and other participants on the "obligating clause" are understood to have so narrowed that agreement may be possible in a matter of days.

This has to do with the commitment of signatory countries to go to war. In the United States only Congress can declare war and the country cannot be committed in advance, under terms of the United States Constitution.

Can Have Free Trade With U.S., Jones Says

CHARLOTTETOWN, Feb. 25—(CP)—Premier J. Walter Jones told the Prince Edward Island Legislature Wednesday night that if Canada desired she could have free trade with the United States.

The head of the island's Liberal Government said the policy would not be developed until after the next election because the Progressive Conservatives would "scuttle it as they did in 1911."

He spoke for more than 80 minutes during the first night sitting of the 30-member Legislature as the peppery throne speech debate, launched in the afternoon, resumed.

The Premier disputed the view of George Drew, National Progressive Conservative Leader, that Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and not Mr. Drew and Premier Duplessis of Quebec were responsible for the breakdown of Dominion-Provincial conferences.

"The two central provinces think they can control the rest of Canada and the Maritimes would never get a suitable agreement as long as they held that attitude," he added.

Company To Regard Strike As Illegal

BRANTFORD, Feb. 25—(CP)—A company spokesman said Thursday the Watson Manufacturing Co., Ltd., would regard a strike by the United Textile Workers (TLC-AFL) as illegal and every employee participating would be treated as though he had quit his job.

William Stewart, textile workers organizer, said last week that workers at the plant—a subsidiary of Penman's Ltd.—would strike Monday unless Penman's opened negotiations with striking workers at the Paris, Ont., Penman's plant.

Watson's statement was issued by D. L. G. Jones, solicitor for the company.

Protest Granting Women More Rights

NEW DEHLI, Feb. 25—(AP)—Amid shous of protest, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar, law minister, introduced a bill Thursday in Indian Legislative Assembly granting Hindu women more rights, including the right to seek divorce.

Introduction of the bill was preceded by stormy debates during which demands were made that the measure be withdrawn.

Orthodox Hindus in the legislature oppose radical changes in the Hindu laws governing women and property.

WITH THE ENTRY of Newfoundland into confederation as the 10th province, many add place names will be added to Canadian geographies. School children will find they now have such places as Cape White Handkerchief, Come-By Chance and Ireland's Eye to remember. This photo (letf) shows the scenic Cabto Hoghway which leads into Plate Cove West.

Piquant Flavor To Names Of Places In Newfoundland

ST JOHN'S, Nfld., Feb. 25—(CP)—Newfoundland's entry into Canada will give the Dominion some of its most colorful names and picturesque speech.

It will probably take Canadians some time to get used to names like Horse Chops, Cape White Handkerchief, Ireland's Eye and Joe Batts Arm even though no eyebrows are raised now at Moose Jaw, Sask., Medicine Hat, Alta., or Skir Dhn, N.S.

Fishermen of Britain, France, Portugal and Spain, gave the coves and points around Newfoundland's coast the names that now are addresses for the hardy people living in far-flung outports.

Horse Chops gets its name from white waves that dash on shore during a storm and that are often called "white horses." It is only one step then, from choppy white horses to Horse Chops.

Washeltorow, a group of rocks on the south coast, seems to be a corruption of "la vache et le taureau." The outline of these rocks gives the impression of a cow and a bull.

Isle aux Morts, Point Enragee, Cul de Sac and Cinq Cerf come, of course, from the French. Mosquito is believed to come from the Spanish, Caplin from the Portuguese. Tossolo probably got its name from its resemblance to a silver cup, tasse de l'argent.

Sources of many names are lost in time; they are related to a person, happening or emotion that prompted a name that has stuck through the decades.

Picturesque Names

Some of these would be Breakheart Point, Exploits, Godfather Island, Happy Adventure, Seldom-Come-By, Come-By-Chance, Wreck Point and Heart's Delight. Near the last named are Heart's Desire, Heart's Content and Little Heart's Ease. All on Conception Bay, the hamlets are sheltered from the main brunt of the sea.

Who knows what might have happened to Joe Batt long ago for a fishing village on Fogo Island to be called Joe Batts Arm? Did Joe lose an arm in an accident on a shin? Most likely not. He probably found or fished in an arm of sea and thus the name.

In the days of the "fishing admirals," Devon and Dorset fishermen escaped and many hid on a rocky hill near Conception Bay until their ships had sailed for home. Newfoundlanders still have their Runaway Rock.

There are at least 1,000 terms of speech peculiar to Newfoundland. Most of them had to do with the sea and ships originally and have been carried over into common usage.

A bragsart, for instance, is an "October Gailer." This nickname was given to the garrulous fishermen arriving home from Labrador in October, a month later than most of his neighbors. He could thus goin wild tales that no one could contradict.

A grave is a "long-home," grumbling is "mullygrubs," and sick is moos and brooms." Scared is "pig before thunder" and flattery is "plawmosh." Hesitancy is "scrimshankin'." A good man is "as fine a man as ever hove a gallus over his shoulder" and a thief is "an honest man when there's only anchors on the shore."

FOR SCIENTIFIC STUDY

Rare Arctic herrings, too scarce in number to destroy by dissection have been radiographed in Canada for study of their skeletal structures.

AMONG NEWFOUNDLAND collections of odd places names are. Joe Batts Arm, Heart's Desire, and Horse Chops. Here is the SS. Northern Ranger unloading freight at a place called Jackson's Arm.

Dismissal Protested From Revision Court

NEWMARKET, Ont., Feb. 25—(CP)—Assistant Crown Attorney Armstrong said he has sent a letter to Town Clerk Wesley Brooks protesting his recent dismissal from the Newmarket court of revision.

Mr. Armstrong, together with Dr. L. W. Dales and A. N. Belugin, was dismissed by council Monday because, as a public official, he was ineligible for council, a necessary condition for membership in the court of revision.

Wants Norway Join Defence Talks Early

OSLO, Feb. 25—(AP)—Foreign Minister Halvard Lange Thursday told parliament Norway must join the Atlantic Treaty talks early enough to influence its formulation.

He gave parliament an account of his recent trip to Washington and London. Lange said parliament must make the final decision if and when the cabinet presents an agreement for ratification. The United States, Canada and five western European countries are talking over the Atlantic Treaty in Washington.

The Foreign Minister said Norway is taking its time to consider a second Russian note offering a non-aggression pact. The reply will be given the Russians next week after discussion.

HAND-KNITTED SOCKS were tested in the legislature Thursday by A. A. (Lex) MacKenzie, bachelor MPP for North York. The socks came from Progressive Conservative women of Aurora, after Attorney-General Leslie Blackwell remarked in a North York speech during last June's provincial campaign that Mr. MacKenzie had worn out his only pair of socks working for his constituents and had to wrap his feet in kilt cuttings. Admiring the MacKenzie tartan socks is another bachelor Progressive Conservative MPP, John L. McDonald of Stormont.

Doctor Denies Nazi Service

MONTREAL, Feb. 25—(CP)—Dr. Michel-Lucien Seigneur, 42-year-old French physician, gave emphatic denial to charges that he served with a German SS unit during the occupation of France.

"My political sympathies lay with Marshal Petain, but after all, a man is entitled to his personal beliefs," said the doctor.

He was questioned by newspaper men on accusations made against him in the House of Commons Tuesday night by Alastair Stewart (CCF-Winnipeg North) who charged the doctor, according to information received from a Maqui officer, had served the Germans during the second world war.

"It's all very simple to understand," said the doctor. "I served with the French army as a medical lieutenant until my country surrendered and then returned to my hometown of Varierres where I continued my private practice as a doctor."

Wednesday the doctor's wife said the family were the victims of persecution by communistic elements in their hometown and to escape this persecution they came to Canada.

Several firemen required treatment after being overcome by smoke. Thirty families from nine dwellings surrounding the burning buildings were safely evacuated.

Cause of the fire was undetermined.

R. J. Ward, Bank Manager, Retires In April

After serving for four years as manager of the Bank of Commerce in Peterborough, Richard J. Ward will retire in an active capacity at the end of April. He will be succeeded by R. B. Arnold, at present assistant manager of the Windsor branch.

Mr. Ward has been 38 years with the bank during which time he has served in more than 30 different localities, the longest period being in Fort William for six and a half years.

Ill health, a legacy from his three and a half years in the Army as a machine gunner in The First World War, has forced him to retire at the age of 59 years.

He was born in King's County, Ireland and came to Canada at an early age. Most of his banking experience was acquired in the three western provinces.

RICHARD J. WARD

While in the west he was manager of several banks, and was also in the Superintendent Departments in Calgary and Winnipeg.

Travelled in USA

For nine years he was a special travelling representative of his bank in the mid-western United States. The district covered was from Chicago to Denver to Texas. During that period in the thirties he saw the disastrous run on the banks that swept the United States when panicky crowds lost faith in them and demanded payment.

In 1938 he took over the management of the Fort William bank, and because of the war his term lasted for more than six years. Later he was appointed to a similar post in Peterborough.

During his residence here he has been associated with the Health League, the Peterborough Tuberculosis Society, and the Exhibition Board.

He has also been a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Sales and Ad Club, the Peterborough Club, and the Peterborough Golf and Country Club.

"I'm going to retire in Peterborough because I like both the surroundings and the people," he told the Examiner.

TURNING THE PAGES OF

"CANADA UNLIMITED"

"Oyez! Oyez!" The Town Crier's call brought news-starved people into the streets to hear the latest. Then in 1753 John Bushell published the Halifax Gazette . . . and Canada's first newspaper was born.

The number of little newspapers grew, but news still travelled on horseback. Then the telegraph gave wings to words. And when, in 1917, the Canadian Press was formed, Canadians had world-wide news within minutes.

Men's demand for details brought forth the wire photo, which sends pictures by telegraph. Our horizons have been pushed back still further by television and facsimile. And they are just a taste of wonderful events and wide opportunities for us in the future. Yes—there's room to grow in Canada Unlimited.

Just how much room is told in "CANADA UNLIMITED", an illustrated 144-page book published by the O'Keefe Foundation. You may obtain your copy by sending 25c in cash (no stamps or cheques, please) to "Canada Unlimited", Dept. "N3-3," O'Keefe House, Toronto, Ontario, (Please print your name and address). All monies received will be donated to the Canadian Citizenship Council.*

City Assessment Increased 43 Percent In 10 Years, Population Proportionately

Since 1939 the general assessment for Peterborough has increased about 43 per cent, and the population has increased proportionately, Mayor Max Swanston told a luncheon meeting of Kiwanians on Thursday.

In the past 10 years the population figures went from 24,146 to 35,065, and the general assessment from $24,500,000 to $35,000,000, he stated.

The Mayor and Council, including City Clerk E. A. Outtarm, were guests of the Kiwanis Club. A partial text of Mayor Swanston's address is as follows

Peterborough's story really commences in 1819 when a few settlers from along the shores of Lake Ontario near Port Hope pushed their way in a boat up the Otonabee River. They selected the mill site and the following year Adam Scott returned to the site and established a mill for the grinding of corn.

Mr. Scott the first settler, set up the mill at the corner of what is now King and Water Sts. Some years later, the location which was not on a map, was called Scott's Plains.

The village of Scott's Plains and the township surrounding, which were surveyed about this time, received many new settlers in and around 1827 when the Hon. Peter Robinson brought to the vicinity the Irish people which he had encouraged to come to Upper Canada to escape the famine in Ireland.

Many Other Settlers

In the glamor attached to the Peter Robinson settlement it must not be forgotten that many other settlers from the British Isles made their homes in the Peterborough district without assistance and that they really made up the larger portion of the people who carved farms from the original forest.

The first Post Office was established here in 1824 and a Mr. Tupper, a tanner, was the first to grace that office. He was soon succeeded by George Bethune who, it appears, was one of the first and most successful merchants in the village.

In 1827 a meeting of leading citizens was held and it was decided to name the settlement Peterborough as a compliment to the Hon. Peter Robinson.

At that time, too, the government decided to establish a dam and a mill. This original dam site is now the location of the Quaker Oats dam at the end of London St., and it provided power for the government grist mill. At the same time, 1827, the first bridge was built across the Otonabee.

By 1838 the town had so progressed that the citizens decided they required a Court House and jail. These buildings which still grace Victoria Park were commenced in 1838 and completed by 1841, at a cost of $30,000. As another mark of progress, the jail had to be enlarged in 1865 and this addition cost $16,000.

The oldest church building in the city is St. John's Anglican built in 1835 at a cost of $12,500. It was erected on a Crown Reserve and the church still owns the land on the east side of Water St. from Hunter St. to Brock St.

St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church (now the Cathedral) was built in 1838, costing $13,000. St. Andrew's was established on a Crown Reserve in 1836. The Wesleyan Methodists in 1834 erected their first building and in 1874 built the present George Street church, copying the architecture of the Metropolitan Church in Toronto and spending $60,000.

It should be remembered that Peterborough was never a village. The original plan for a town site was laid out by crown surveyors years before there was any real settlement, the location being chosen as proper for a future town. Until 1850 the town formed part of the Township of North Monaghan, and on January 1st, 1850, it became incorporated as a town with Thomas Benson the first Mayor.

Population of 2,000

The population at that time was approximately 2,000. To celebrate the election of the first Town Council it is recorded that the Mayor ordered an ox to be roasted in the Market Square. In the midst of the festivities some miscreants with blackened faces stole the half-roasted ox.

It is well to note that one of the first tasks of the Town Council was to lay a sewer on George St. from Hunter St. south to King St. and thence to the river. The next year the Little Lake Cemetery Company was organized and the beautiful location for the cemetery purchased.

In 1854 there was a real celebration when the first train over the Cobourg and Peterborough Railway arrived in the town on December 20th. It might be noted that the first Board of Trade was set up in 1854, while in the same year the first volunteer fire brigade was organized and the Town Council made a grant of £50 towards equipping the brigade. It was known as the Peterborough Britannia Fire Company No. 1.

First Annexation

The first Health Inspector was appointed in 1854. In 1856 Peterborough had growing pains and applied to the Legislature to annex a portion of the neighbouring township. By 1857 the Town Council was investigating the establishment of a gas works; it was proposed to make gas from wood sawdust and mill refuse.

In order to increase popular interest in beautifying the town the Horticultural Society was organized in 1861.

Town planning is nothing new because in 1862 the Town Council passed a by-law that no building except of brick or stone should be erected in the business section and specially along George St. Some of the Councils since have failed to enforce this wise provision.

It is a matter of interest that in 1865 there were 13 taverns which were issued licences in the town at $50 each and six liquor store licences at $60 each. This revenue went to be town coffers.

Citizens organized the Peterborough Petroleum Company in 1865 with a capitalization of $4,000 to ascertain whether petroleum existed in paying quantities in the immediate vicinity. This company carried out many boring along the river.

Site of City Hall

Peterborough has never had a proper city hall and the municipal offices have been shifted from place to place. In 1872 Thomas Bradburn leased a portion of the Market Square, with frontage on George St. and erected thereon a handsome public building with an opera house, Council Chamber, and offices for the municipal services. A few years later the municipal offices were moved to their present location.

Any study of Peterborough's history proves the interest the people had in the growth of their town. No effort was spared to encourage the establishment of industries. The town's efforts to make it a centre of railway communication went so far as to assist the financing of various lines far beyond what could reasonably be expected from such a community.

Not all of the industries established were successful nor were all their promises fulfilled.

The town at one time was the centre of the sugar beet industry. There were efforts made to develop steel rolling mills and practically every type of industry was encouraged to locate in Peterborough, including shovel plants, and cordage works.

The Peterborough Lumber Co., originally the Dickson Lumber Co., commenced operations in 1860.

George Matthews commenced his first pork packing plant in 1882, and this is now part of the large Canada Packers Plant.

J. Z. Rodgers organized the Ontario Canoe Co. in 1883, which was the forerunner of the Peterborough Lock Co. erected its first factory building.

The Edison Works were commenced in 1890, the first building being located, much to the distress of some of the citizens, in a former swamp on the west side of Park St. Its successor, the Canadian General Electric Co. now has its group of buildings containing more than 1,500,000 square feet of floor space on this site.

B. F. Ackerman came from Port Perry in 1872 and started his plant.

In 1901 the American Cereal Co., now the Quaker Oats Co. of Canada, commenced its operations in Peterborough.

Fish Creamery

The first creamery for the manufacture of butter was commenced in 1905 on Aylmer St., now Silverwoods Ltd.

A subsidiary of an English firm, the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Co., commenced operations in 1906 and brought to the town many old Country weavers. A year later the Colonial Weaving Co. was established.

Other firms with a long history here are Bonner Worth Co. (1910), DeLaval (1912), Ontario Marble Co. (1913), and the J. J. Turner Co.

As early as 1833 there were boosters for the development of a canal to join the lakes and rivers north and south of Peterborough. The first survey was made in 1833 and some small locks were constructed a few years later on the Trent River.

The agitation continued year after year and in 1870 the whole matter became the responsibility of the Dominion Government rather than the Provincial, and more locks were constructed. In 1896 work began on the section between Lakefield and Peterborough.

By 1904 the Peterborough Liftlock was completed at a cost of $500,000. No local matter created such political interest as did the completion of the Trent Canal, and for many years Peterborough citizens and those of neighbouring towns formed a high-pressure group going to Ottawa insisting on its completion.

Peterborough has enjoyed a great growth; in the past 10 years its population increased from 24,146 in 1939 to 35,165 in 1946. During these years millions of dollars have been added to the investment in industrial plants and machinery, and in new commercial buildings as well as additional homes.

In 1939 the City's assessment for general purposes was $24,500,000 and it is now more than $35,000,000. Within the next few years there is every indication that Peterborough will continue to enjoy its fair share of Canadian prosperity.

Concluding his address, the Mayor said: "Let us not forget the contribution made by those who built the city during the past 100 year."

VERSIONS DIFFER—The charge was made in the Commons this week that Canada was sheltering Dr. Michel-Lucien Seigneur who had worked with the Nazi S.S. during the Second World War. Madame Seigneur in Montreal denied these charges and said the family was "hounded" from France by Communists because Dr. Seigneur obeyed orders of Marshal Petain. This is a recent photo of the five Seigneur children playing on the lawn of their Montreal home. Left to right, they are: Evelin, 15; Jean-Michel, 10; Chantel, 14; and Marie-Christine, two.

Bystander At Fight May Lose Right Eye

WINDSOR, Feb. 25 — (CP) — William Reid, an innocent bystander at a fight, may lose the sight of his right eye.

He was sitting in a riverfront hotel when a fight started at a nearby able. Turning to watch the action, he received a thrown beer bottle in his face. Almost 40 stitches were required to close cuts on his face. Hospital attendants said it will not be known until possibly Saturday if the sight of the eye is ruined.

Hosiery Hoop-la

FANCY DECORATIONS are the last word in stocking design. Personalized clock embroidered vertically on stocking (upper right) spells out 'Lucille'. Unusual sunburst design embroidered in chenille makes a three-dimensional clock for hosiery (lower left). Multi-colored velour polka dots, specially processed for washability, are hand-appliqued on ultra-sheer nylons (lower right). Another eye-catching novelty is the baroque bordered cut-out on the ankle (upper left) which frames a tiny ankle watch. Baroque pattern is hand-appliqued in bright-colored velour.

Polka Dots On Stockings

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK—If you think that colored stockings are the last word in hosiery hoopla, you haven't seen anything yet.

Wait until you see 10-denier sheers sprinkled with velour polka dots in a choice of seven delicious colors. Or baroque embroidered cut-outs on stockings designed to unveil ankle watches or charm bracelets. Wait until you see chenille clocks with unusual sunburst designs giving a third-dimensional decorative effect, or a gal's name printed vertically on her socks from calf to ankle.

Among more unique designs are stockings with "mad money" pockets. Lodged above the knee of one of a pair, the pockets zips open and closed. Another ingenious offering is the mitten or two-toed stocking. Made of nude-looking 10-denier sheer, these were created to solve the problem of sheathing feet in veiled allure for thonged or other strapped sandals which can only be worn over stockings allowing for a complete separation of toes.

YWCA Is Helping to Make Desirable World Annual Meeting Informed

Under the somewhat unusual title, "The lovely enchantment of living", persons who are going through life "like corpses who can breathe" received a stiff prod from Miss Winnifred Wygal Thursday evening. She was addressing 125 YWCA staff, board and association members at the annual meeting.

'So many people are dead on their feet; are walking around without the tingling enthusiasm, the appreciation of the beauty around them that they are meant to have" stated the speaker whose own enthusiasm after a busy day of meetings, lectures and interviews was so sparkling that her listeners remained attentive and upright in their chairs throughout. We are the only creatures that have been given the attributes to enjoy association with each other, to have gaiety, lilt, appreciation and friendliness. Yet, many are cross, dead, dull; can't see beauty anywhere; have no rhythm with the activities about them."

That there is a very great deal in life today to confuse and trouble those people Miss Wygal was willing to admit. She told the varying stories of four young persons who have recently come within her scope. Each had a difficulty to overcome which seemed overwhelming to them. Marital disagreement and divorce, and lover's quarrels were included. Even these lost significance through realization of the enchantment in life.

"Everyone in this world is wanted and needed" she said. "Hundreds are more lonely than you believe you are. All of you are important to the total needs of the world."

Miss Wygal said she felt the YWCA is contributing toward a desirable world. "It is such activities as modern dancing, ballet, swimming, physical exercise, craft work club meetings and camp life that bring out the enchantment."

"We are concerned for justice for everyone and for all the blessing of peace of mind" she said and closed with a prayer.

Mrs. H. C. Sootheran introduced Miss Wygal giving details of her extensive eduration in United States and at Oxford, Eng. The speaker is also a writer and a number of her books are in libraries of Canada as well.

A summarized report of Peterborough YWCA for 1948 was read by Mrs. Paige Rowell, president. It showed progress has been been made in the association and in National and International relationships.

From the first Ontario-Quebec teen-age conference held here, has arisen the desire to inaugurate a national younger membership movement. Delegates went to national Assembly at Camp Brereton, Manitoba, and North American conference of Christian youth at Grand Rapids, Mich. and brought reports of proceedings and discussions.

Speaker from Trinidad and New Zealand brought contact from abroad to the local membership.

All departments, residence, swimming, physical education and girls' work showed growth. First full-time instructor, Mrs. Jessie Powell, is presenting a program that is being well received. New hair-dryers are much-appreciated by swimmers. A summer program was introduced last season by Mrs. Annabeth Wright and enrolment of 192 and good attendance at 32 meetings prove it was successful. An outstanding event of the year was the operetta "Bulbul" by 20 Plus Club. Displaced persons were reported meeting regularly in the Y and Miss N. Schell from Holland was mentioned for her help as interpreter. Service projects of the club department were noteworthy.

Faquer Kohli Speaks On India

Faquer Kohli, from India, now residing in Peterborough, was speaker at the regular meeting of Knox Young People's Union Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Miss Linde McIntosh, citizenship convener, was in charge of worship service and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Kohli spoke of the many difficulties India faces today and told of measures the government is adopting to overcome them. "Main problems are poverty, illiteracy, ignorance and over-dependence on agriculture," he said. The government is attempting to build up a manufacturing industry to take some of the burden from the soil. The problem facing educationalists is lack of teachers. To overcome this it has been suggested that all college graduates be compelled by law to spend a year at teaching immediately after graduation.

Those present showed great interest in the subject and a short question and answer period followed the talk. Mr. Kohli was thanked by Miss Isabel Carveth.

An opening sing-song was led by Miss Margaret Rutherford. Business was transacted by president Miss Jean McIntyre. Recreation was led by Miss Grace Stewart.

Asks Tolerance For Attitudes Of DP Arrivals

WINNIPEG, Feb. 25—(CP)—People who come to Canada from Europe have by Canadian standards, strange customs and ideas; but Canadians impress the new arrivals the same way, says Mrs. Alexander Esson of Saskatoon.

Mrs. Esson, a member of the federal labor department's selection team which visited displaced persons' champs in Germany and Austria helping to choose girls for domestic service in Canada, spent 13 months in Europe, returning last autumn.

In an address to the Winnipeg Committee on Displaced Persons, she said the newcomers should be judged tolerantly. Ideals were different in European countries moral and living standards were not like those of Canada.

"One often hears the criticism of DP girls smoking too much. One should have tolerance for that. If you are in Germany or Austria, you are struck with the way people keeping chewing on morsels of black bread—or—when they can get the tobacco—with the way they smoke.

Hunger Pangs Last

"It relieves the pangs of hunger, which DPs do not get rid of for days after they go aboard ship."

Of the system of screening DP's, Mrs. Esson said it created one hard job—that of refusing some person who may have spent years in forced labor camps or have served the enemy against what to him was a worse enemy —Russia—and yet who now is branded with his war record with the Nazis.

Many Latvian and Esthonian nationals, who had to flee from Soviet forces in their own country, have wounded or burned themselves seriously trying to remove Nazi tattoo marks from their arms, Mrs. Esson said. To the Allies, they are enemy soldiers.

Many newcomers, asked for their impressions of Canada, have expressed surprise over the complaining attitude of Canadians in a land where they are free and have so much. Others can't understand why, with shops laden with meat and other foods, breakfast in many Canadian homes consists of porridge, toast and coffee.

Still others, Mrs. Esson said have difficulty understanding Canadian shopping methods.

Simple Decorative Tricks Brighten Drab Windows

By KAY SHERWOOD

Give dreary windows a more decorative outlook by prettying up shades and blinds to harmonize with walls or furnishings.

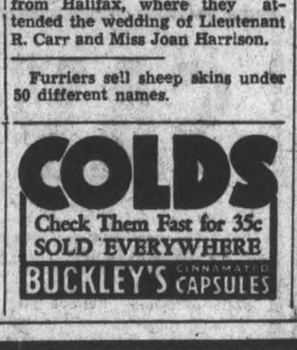
By treating shades or blinds used to screen out a dismal view as part of the room's wall space you will keep decor uniform and will avoid the size-reducing effect caused by chopped-up wall surfaces. Inexpensive and ingenious tricks are simple to put across and will not interfere with the operation of the window shield when it must be rolled up or down.

Wallpaper strips, for example, are easy to duplicate on a window shade. So says Maggi McNeills, New York, who painted her bathroom window shade to match the room's gold-striped wallpaper. All you need to do, she says, is to unroll a shade on a flat surface and lightly outline with pencil stripes of the same width as those on the wall. Using a cardboard shield or masking tape, paint inside penciled outlines to insure razor-sharp demarcation between painted and unpainted strip.

A window that presents a drapery problem—such as one at the end of narrow corridor—can sometimes be more decoratively treated as a shadow-box. For the box frame, you may buy or have your husband build you a simple plywood cornice to fit over window opening at top and both sides. Paint cornice the same color as your wall to give it a built-in look. Window shade which could be the same tone as the walls can be hung with "pictures." Pictures which will roll up with the shades are made by pasting cut-out prints on black paper "frames." Use rubber cement to glue pictures on the shade.

Venetian blinds are as easy to spruce up. Motifs cut from wallpaper or decals are simple to paste to slate for the purpose of repeating a wall design. If you want to try this trick, measure off your design and cut out in strips one and one-half inches or one and three-quarters inches wide to conform to the visible face of the slat when tilted closed. Start with strip from top of the cut-out design and paste to slat. Keep adding strips to successive slats, lining up design as you go. Most paper will adhere to slat tightly enough so that a lacquer coat is not essential for protection.

MAGGI McNEILLIS, New York, touches up gold strips on her window shade which she painted to match wallpaper.



THIS WINDOW treatment takes its design cues from a shadow-box. Plywood frame substitutes for draperies. Black paper-framed pictures are pasted to window shade.

Women Unite To Support United Emergency Fund

Purpose of Women's Progressive Conservative Association in holding an afternoon tea Thursday was to raise money for the United Emergency Fund. It was fulfilled to an extent exceeding a similar effort of last year.

Biggest contribution was from Mrs. James Juby, who lent her home at 319 Boswell Ave. as a setting for the affair. Guests representing various shades of political faith filled the rooms throughout the tea hours To the sponsors, this was perhaps the most satisfying fact of all — to know that interest in a worthy cause is uppermost in the hearts of Peterborough citizens.

The project was well thought of by the weatherman, and he participated with a pleasant spring-like day that drew everyone out. The much-anticipated season of flowers and pretty pastel shades had a preview in the tea-room where tulips and daffodils in the bouquet were circled with pink and yellow tapers. Delightful piano selections were played softly by Mrs. W. A. Greenslade completing the illusion.

Receiving with the hostess was Mrs. John Cridland, president of the association, assisted by Mrs. Harold R. Scott, wife of the member in Provincial House. For the occasion Mrs. Juby wore a becoming gown of wine crepe. Mrs Cridland was in grey with matching hat, and Mrs. Scott wore navy with stylish contrast of pink hat and gloves.

Opportunity to win a delicious cake, made by Miss Doris Skinner, was offered by Mrs. T. Staunton and Mrs. G. Melton Sr. The former made the draw at the close and winner was Mrs. Ira Lowe of Mount Pleasant, who had attended the tea with a group of friends from that district.

Home cooking and small baskets of candy were being sold by Mrs. J. Pickering and Mrs. A. Pilling.

Guests were ushered to the tea room by Mrs. W. Hughes and Mrs. D. Miller. Their tea was poured by Mrs. J. F. Strickland, Mrs. C. Reed, Mrs. G. Falkner and Mrs. H. I. Bradburn.

Servers were Mrs. R. Hutton, Mrs. H. McGinnis, Mrs. B. Dale and Mrs. E. Fisher. Mrs. F. Curtis and Mrs. A Leach replenished the plates.

General convener of the tea was Mrs. T. Skinner. Mrs. R. G. Cottrell, treasurer of the association was in charge of proceeds.

DOROTHY DIX

Claims a Little Soft Soap Indispensable In Marriage

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband feels that he is being neglected and that I am a cold wife. The reason is that I will not and cannot lie to him or to anyone. A husband has to deserve love and affection, and honor and respect are back of it, so until my husband has earned these he will not get those words from me.

Dorothy Dix

I feel that a husband must deserve praise before he expects it from his wife. I believe truth should always prevail.

TRUTHFUL JANE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Of course, theoretically, husbands and wives should be perfectly frank in their dealings with each other and tell each other just what they think, but I doubt extremely if many marriages could stand the strain of absolute truthfulness. Most of us are poor, weak creatures who are starving for a little praise and who crave to have our mates tell us how beautiful and wonderful we are and how much they love us, and we don't look a gift horse in the mouth very closely.

Very few people are conceited enough to really believe that their husbands and wives put them on a pedestal and think they are married to pin-feathered angels. They know better than that. No man whose wife is fat and 40 and gray-headed thinks she would take a prize in a beauty show, but he makes her happy by telling her how good-looking she is. No woman has a husband who is pompous and fussy and dictatorial but who sees him as just exactly the little balloon he is; yet he purrs under her hand when she strokes his fur the right way. It takes a certain amount of soft soap to keep any marriage a going concern.

Few Thicks Skins

This brings up the question of how frank husbands and wives should be with each other. The literal-minded say that we should speak the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; but few of us have skins thick enough to stand it. None of us want to be told of our faults and blemishes and reminded of our mistakes and, in reality, about the only time we are absolutely veracious is when we are so riproaring mad we don't care what we say.

The truth of the matter is that truth is strong medicine, to be handled with discretion. Sometimes a little pink lie leans to virtue's side. A little tact, a little praise, a little blindness—is there not more virtue in these than dragging out our skeletons and rattling their bones?

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My brother, who is 26, is desperately in love with a sweet college girl who is equally in love with him, but the girl refuses to marry him because she is afraid of marriage. The girl's mother was a very poor wife, made her husband desperately unhappy and he finally divorced her, and that makes the girl fear that if she married my brother she would ruin his life. She loves him so much that she would rather sacrifice her own happiness than run the risk of wrecking his life.

Do you think she is right?

SISTER

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No, she is absolutely wrong. She has brooded over her father's unhappy marriage until she has gotten morbid and lost her perspective. Because a girl's mother was a poor wife is no proof that she will be one. On the contrary the chances are that she will make all the greater effort to be a good one.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We are two very troubled school girls, ages 15 and 16 and we are very much in love with two boys who are 17 and 19. We are thinking of getting married because we are tired of going to school. What do you advice us to do?

SCHOOL GIRLS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I advise you not to try the experiment of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, because if you do you will surely get badly burned. You are tired of going to school. Believe me, my children, you will get a lot more tired of matrimony if you undertake it at your tender age. School lasts only a few hours, but marriage is forever, unless you go through the horror of divorce. Your school hours are short hours, but marriages is a 24-hour-job, with no holidays and off days for a wife and mother.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that matrimony is a soft snap, and don't be foolish enough to ruin your life in its beginning by marrying another silly kid.

Hot Biscuits, Scones, Muffins Always Rate Top Approval

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Feb. 25 (CP)—Hot biscuits, scones, or muffins always rate a special burst of approval when they make their appearance at the family breakfast-table.

While oatmeal Farls or Scones may be an old Scottish favorite, home economists, have adapted the old-time recipe to the Canadian way of measuring and mixing.

Ingredients: one cup pastry flour (sifted), or seven-eighths of a cup of sifted all-purpose flour three teaspoons baking-powder; one-half teaspoon salt; one cup fine oatmeal; three tablespoons shortening; two-thirds cup milk.

Mix and sift flour, baking-powder and salt. Add oatmeal. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles fine bread crumbs. Add milk slowly to form a soft but not sticky dough. Knead lightly on a floured board until smooth. Roll out to three-quarters of an inch in thickness and cut into triangular shapes or rounds Brush top of each with milk and bake in a very hot oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) for 15 minutes. Yield: 12 medium-sized scones.

When buying eggs wise homemakers always keep one eye on the grade mark—they know that a dozen "large" eggs will weigh 24 ounces or more, while "medium" eggs weigh between 22 and 24 ounces a dozen and "pullet" eggs around 18 ounces.

While the size of an egg, cooked in the shell or poached, makes little difference to the consumer, it can be most important in cake-making or thickening. For this reason may recipes now read "one-quarter cup egg whites" or "one cup egg whites."

Home economists of the department of agriculture have tested eggs and found that although the yolks of different size eggs did not vary greatly, there was a big difference in the whites.

To obtain one cup of egg whites required 10 "pullet" eggs, but only six "large" eggs.

When beaten, the whites of two "large" eggs would make a generous deep meringue for a pie, whereas it would require three "pullet" eggs to obtain approximately the same volume.

Roast lamb can reappear on the table in a new and appetizing form if the cold roast is cut in thin slices, placed in a baking-dish and covered with the following tangy sauce.

Ingredients: two tablespoons lamb dripping; one small onion (chopped); 1½ tablespoons vinegar; 1½ tablespoons brown sugar; one cup water; one-half teaspoon dry mustard; dash of cayenne pepper; one-half cup of chili sauce or three-quarters cup tomato ketchup. Salt and pepper to taste. Brown chopped onion in hot fat. Add other ingredients and combine thoroughly.

TOP OF AMERICA

The highest spot on the North American Continent is Mount McKinley, Alaska, with an elevation of 22,835 feet.

RABBIT OR MINK

The best way to dry out a wet fur coat is to suspend it from a padded hanger in a slight draught after brushing it thoroughly.

SUN CURE

Heliotherapy is the application of sunlight to the prevention, cure or alleviation of certain diseases.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are correcting your child in front of his playmates.

WRONG WAY: Yell at him.

RIGHT WAY: Speak quietly to him, since a child is always embarrassed to have his mother speak crossly to him or yell at him in front of his playmates.

Plan Air Attack

TORONTO, Feb. 25 (CP) — Toronto will be attacked by two squadrons of fighter planes this week-end in manoeuvres to test the city's air-raid defences. Six Vampire jets will fly in from Montreal, followed by 12 Harvard training planes from Hamilton. They will try to get through the RCAF's radar screen and a network of amateur radio operators acting as visual spotters.

YWCA Is Helping

Room and Library was mentioned in the report. Six rooms in the residence were redecorated and some repair work done on third floor. Also new surtains, spreads and sheeting bought and a set of dishes. Mrs. E. Davidson was mentioned for her excellent managment in spite of higher costs and closing the year with a small credit balance in the residence department.

Condensed statement of income and expenditure for the year as read by Mrs. T. J. Carley, showed a slight deficit, only $14.18. Costs are met with $10,000 from the Community Chest, bequests, interest from endowment fund and revenue from residence, camp, gymnasium and swimming departments.

Miss Olga Johnston spoke on behalf to the board in special words of praise for the efficient staff. She also paid highest tribute to the services of president Mrs. Rowell.

Members nominated for election to the YWCA Board of Directors for a three year term were named by Mrs. Chas. J. Ray as follows: Mrs. E. M. Yelland, Mrs. F. M. Somerville, Mrs. Paige Rowell, Mrs. W. J. Hardill, Mrs. H. T. Rehill, Mrs. C. K. Hurst, Mrs. J. Lewis, Mrs. J. E. Laycock, Miss Marion Pogue, Mrs. C. J. Ray. For a two-year term names of Mrs. D. A. Loucks and Mrs. J. M. Kirkwood were submitted.

The committee named Mrs. R. H. Turner as an honorary member of the Board and this was heartily ratified by president and executive.

Buffet supper was served in the recreation room under direction of the social committee with Mrs. W. J. Gordon in charge. The Rev. Dr. J. Semple said the grace.

Miss Joy Walker entertained with two beautiful solos and was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. R. Baker.

CANADA'S ARCTIC UNDER QUARANTINE

Arrest 4 Men With Secret Of Defences

France Cracks Down On Suspected Cases Of Treason

PARIS, Feb. 26—(AP).—Three pro-Communist newspaper men and a draftsman for a defence plant were held by police today in a drive against persons prying into defence secrets.

Their arrests were announced following a report from a government source that the Defence Ministry had instituted legal action against the 84-man central committee of the French Communist Party.

Those held were identified as: Pierre Juin, editor-in-chief of the Communist picture weekly, Regards.

Jacques Friendland, one of Juin's staff.

Robert Pentillaut, business manager of France d'Abord, weekly organ of the pro-Communist resistance movement.

Bertrand Jouenne, a draftsman for the National Central Aviation Construction Company.

The semi-official Gence France-Presse said 15 person were questioned yesterday and 11 released as a result of the police drive. Some newspapers said as many as 30 were picked up.

Had Documents

Earlier the Interior Ministry said Friedland was carrying documents "involving the national defence" when he was picked up outside Communist party headquarters.

Police raided the offices of three Communist and pro-Communist publications, as well as a publishing house, as they spread their dragnet.

The complaint against the central committee, it was reported, charged attempts to incite the French Army to revolt.

The Communist situation in France, a sore spot to the government for years, came to a head Thursday night when the Lower House of Parliament formally denounced French Communist leaders for alleged treasonable statements.

The complaint against the Communist central committee, as yet neither confirmed nor denied by the defence ministry, was reported to be based on statements in posters and in the Communist newspaper, L'Humanite, during a prolonged coal strike last fall.

The Communist organs called on French troops, who took over the mines, not to fire on strikers. Communist strike leaders had ordered the miners to sabotage the mines.

Italian Reds Told To Aid Russian Army

ROME, Feb. 26—(AP)—Italy's Communist chief, Palmiro Togliatti, declared in a published interview today that the Italian people would have the "duty to aid in the most efficient way" any Russian army which might be required to pursue "an aggressor" on Italian soil.

Togliatti did not specify what form he thought this aid should take. His statement, however, went farther than last Tuesday's declaration by French Communist leader Maurice Thorez, who said French Communists would welcome Russian soldiers if they ever had to chase an enemy onto French soil.

Togliatti's interview appeared today in the rightiest newspaper, Gionale Della Sera.

Togliatt, in written replies to two questions, pledged support similar to that suggested by Thorez, but added:

"I have no information to support the idea that the Soviet Union has the slightest intention of attacking any country. . ."

Then he continued:

"As to the hypothesis that a Russian army would pursue on our soil an aggressor, I think in this case the Italian people . . . would have the evident duty to aid in the most efficient way the Soviet army in order to give that aggressor the lesson he deserves."

15-Year-Old Chinese Girl Arrives In City From China

A young girl who stepped timidly off a plane into a strange land at Toronto Wednesday, after six months and 10,000 miles of travel, has made history. Yok P'ing, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hum, Mark St., is the first Chinese child to come here from China to live since the repeal of the immigration restrictions. She is also the first Chinese child ever to be brought directly from the Far East to live with both her naturalized parents in Peterborough.

When Yok P'ing arrived in Toronto—it was the biggest moment in her life. Not only had she reached her new home, but she was seeing her mother for the first time since 1940. She was only a little girl when she kissed her mother goodbye during the war. Now she is a young woman and a Canadian citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. Hum began planning to bring their daughter to Peterborough back in October, 1947. They made arrangements with Chong Ying (Toronto's Chinatown Mayor) that when he returned to China as a member of the Chinese Parliament, he would bring her back with his two sons. He left Toronto in the spring of 1948.

Long Wait

When Parliament recessed, Mr. Chong went to Shanghai where she was attending school, and made all arrangements. It took many weary weeks to comply with all the regulations and to get all the documents. Then they travelled south to Canton. Here they waited months for passage and more documents. Mr. Chong finally flew home a few weeks ago and left the children to follow by boat. The ship sailed from Hong Kong the latter part of January and docked at San Francisco, February 21.

A friend put Miss Hum and the two Chong boys on the plane there and Mr. Chong met them in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. Hum were on hand in Toronto to welcome their girl to her new home.

Reserve Ruling In Chinese Case

TORONTO, Feb. 26 — (CP).—The Toronto Police Commission reserved judgment Friday on the complaints of Toronto Chinese that they are being persecuted by police.

The three-hour hearing followed protests of an invasion of privacy following a visit February 16 to several Chinatown stores by Detective Walter Jarman of the anti-gambling squad.

Mayor Hiram McCallum denied police were persecuting the Chinese.

"Chinese as a whole across the city have not been persecuted," he said. "There are no raids in the East-end or North Toronto or anywhere else where they conduct business, except downtown."

R. H. Greer, representing the Chinese, said "police should not be going around inspecting women's bedrooms when their husbands are not there." He referred to Lee King's charge that Det. Jarman walked into the apartment above his store and disturbed his wife in her bedroom.

Mayor McCallum replied: "I would not stand that for a moment."

3rd Minister In Bulgaria Pleads Guilty

Admit Seeing Light Of New World Under Russian Rule

SOFIA, Feb. 26—(CP)—Rev. Vassil Georgiev Ziapkov, main defendant in the treason trial of 15 Protestant churchmen, pleaded guilty in court today to charges of treason and espionage. He was the third defendant to plead guilty in two days.

Ziapkov, 48-year-old Congregational church pastor, was religious representative of the United Evangelical Churches, made up of several Protestant denominations in Bulgaria.

The government accused him of being the principal conspirator with a number of high British and American figures and poolitical representatives. Charges of black market money dealings also were placed against all the defendants.

Ziapkov was preceded to the stand by Rev. Yanko Ivanov, Methodist church head. Ivanov, the second defendant to testify, denounced himself for seven hours and ended by declaring he had seen the light and no longer feared Communism.

The first was Nikola Naumav, Baptist Church head, who testified yesterday at the opening of the trial.

Describes Spying

Small, bald and crippled, the 48-year-old Ivanov told of years of spying for British and American sources.

His demeanor was in contrast to that of Naumov, who wept several times during his confession that was climaxed with the statement that "the time of Communism has come, a new world is being created."

Naumov said the Bulgarian churches must get rid of their British - American contacts because American millionaires stand behind the Methodist Church and "behind the Baptist Church stands Rockefeller."

Like Naumov, Ivanov said the Bulgarian state security police treated him well and no pressure had been placed on him to confess.

He added: "I am not pleading for mercy. I cannot find any extenuating circumstances."

Ivanov said he collected information through church channels from various pastors and delivered it to Mellony Turner, former principal of the American-Methodist-sponsored Lovech School for girls in Sofia.

He said the information was to aid in waging a fight against Communism and Bulgaria's Communist regime.

In the concluding portion of his long statement, Ivanov said:

"I committed everything knowingly. What I did was planned beforehand.

"The main reason which inspired me to commit all [illegible] was fear—fear and faulty information regarding Communism. For me the fatherland front (the governing, Communist-led coalition in Bulgaria) was nothing but Communism.

'From the very beginning I was absolutely against Communism and the government.

"I must admit I preferred Anglo-American domination and was ready to help towards its establishment."

Then Ivanov went on to say he had "seen the light" and that the Communists were not as bad as he had believed them.

Reserve Judgment

LONDON, Feb. 26—(Reuters).—The Court of Appeal yesterday reserved judgment in the appeal of Dr. John Hunter, London surgeon, against an order to pay £3,500 ($14,200) damages to James Whiteford, an American efficiency engineer, for alleged wrong diagnosis. Whiteford testified that Hunter told him in 1942 that he was suffering from cancer and had only a few months to live. Whiteford then dropped his business activities.

Holland Speeds Transfer Of Rule In East

THE HAGUE, Feb. 26 (AP)—The Netherlands government announced today a speed-up in the transfer of sovereignty over Indonesia to a federal government.

It announced also the convocation of a round-table conference at The Hague March 12, and its decision to release leaders of the Indonesian republic.

The leaders, including President Soekarno and Premier Mohamed Hatta, were seized in the capture of the republican capital of Jogjakarta by prachute troopers Dec. 19, the day the Netherlands started her second "police action" in Java and Sumatra.

The U.N. Security Council repeatedly has called for their release.

The announcement said the government would try to set up a full-fledged Indonesian government on federal lines with full sovereignty considerably earlier than July 1, 1950, the target date set by the Security Council.

The purpose of the round-table conference with Indonesian leaders, the announcement said, would be to discuss arrangements for an interim government, conditions for the earliest possible transfer of sovereignty, and simultaneous establishment of a Netherlands-Indonesian union under the Dutch crown.

Dispatches from Batavia, Indonesia, said well-informed persons there expressed doubt that the republican chiefs to be freed from exile on Bangka Island would accept an invitation to a round-table conference unless the bid is in more definite terms than those announced at The Hague.

The dispatch pointed out that the Netherlands had not clarified whether she considered Soekarno and Hatta individuals or the representatives of the republican government.

The U.N. commission on Indonesia is preparing to make a report to the Security Council on recommendations for settling the Indonesian question if no agreement on an interim government is reached by March 15.

Strange Malady Kills Four Affects 21 Others; Whites, Eskimos Stricken

Send Dakota On 1,000-Mile Mercy Trip With 3 Doctors, Medical Supplies; Ottawa Received SOS Three Days Ago

OTTAWA, Feb. 26—(CP).—A vast region of Canada's sub-Arctic today was under quarantine as the Government prepared to investigate an "obscure" malady which has affected 25 persons, killing four. Causing rapid and severe paralysis, the sickness had struck at Chesterfield Inlet, 350 miles north of Churchill, Man., on the northwestern shore of Hudson Bay.

Both whites and Eskimos are believed affected. To reach the point an RCAF Dakota will take off from Winnipeg next week on the 1,000-mile mercy flight to Chesterfield Inlet, carrying three doctors and 300 pounds of medical supplies.

Meanwhile RCMP detachments at "central points" will prohibit and halt travel to and from the area under quarantine, extending 200 miles inland from the inlet to Baker Lake and the same distance to Eskimo Point, where another epidemic took severa. lives last year.

RCMP officers will inform natives not to leave the area. Army signals stations will be employed to pass warning of the quarantine through the north.

Can't Enforce It

However, because of the vastness of the region and its isolation from civilization, it will not be possible, said a health department spokesman last night, to rigidly enforce the quarantine.

First indication of trouble at Chesterfield Inlet came to Ottawa only three days ago. Mobilization of health department resources followed a more urgent message Thursday. The air force was called upon for flying facilities.

In a statement, Health Minister Martin said last night: "The exact nature of the epidemic has not been determined. But it is suspected of being of virus origin. Specimens for laboratory examination are being secured and sent to Connaught Laboratories in Toronto."

Train Hits Car While Parents Seeking Doctor

OSHAWA, Feb. 26.—The John B. Lees family was pretty well intact Friday—except for one stitch in the head of baby John Frederick—but their motor car has gone on its last journey.

John Lees, 21; his wife, Betty, 19, and the baby approached the Ritson Rd. CPR crossing in their car Friday night when a car ahead of them slowed to a stop as a flagman at the crossing waved to approaching traffic. The Lees car bumped the rear of the other machine, shooting it across the tracks, and came to a stop sideways on the rails.

The baby, 8½ months, was cut about the head and husband and wife were shaken up. The driver of car No. 1, Thomas C. Wallace, 23, of Roxborough St. W., Toronto, offered to drive the family to a doctor, the Lees car being out of commission.

"I told the flagman I couldn't move the car," Lees said. "All we were concerned about was the baby. We got into the other car and went looking for a doctor."

Dr. Walter Babty put one stitch into the baby's head and said he would be as good as new. The relieved parents then started back to where they had left their auto. Police officers met them and told them the bad news. A train had passed over the crossing, reducing the car to scrap.

"If the wig-wag had been working, I doubt the accident would have happened," Lees said.

Propose Vital Steps To Improve Trade

LONDON, Feb. 26 — (CP) — Spokesmen for the visiting Canadian Chamber of Commerce delegation said Friday that they have proposed "vital steps" to "stop the rot" in Anglo-Canadian trade.

The spokesmen, Henry Birks and Gordon Cockshutt, said the Canadian chamber proposed that Anglo-Canadian trade problems must be solved "on a business level instead of on a government level." They said the proposal has been warmly welcomed by leaders of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce, the Federation of British industries and the National Union of Manufacturers.

"We suggested the setting up of a joint body of Canadian and British business men to act as a liaison between the British and Canadian governments," said Birks, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and "the suggestion was enthusiastically received."

Store Lighting Curbs Eased

TORONTO, Feb. 26 — (CP)—Hydro-saving restrictions on commercial lighting in Southern Ontario were eased further Friday by an order issued by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Effective March 1, commercial lighting restrictions will be suspended from 6 p.m. to 7 a.m. Monday to Friday inclusive and all day Saturday and Sunday.

Present regulations permit the lighting of stores, signs, parking lots, service stations and theatre marquees between the hours of 7 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Reds Send Stiff Note When Ordered Out

MOSCOW, Feb. 26ñ—(AP).—Russia has demanded in a stiff note to the American Embassy that United States occupation authorities in Germany and Austria cancel an order closing the Soviet repatriation missions there March 1.

Russian papers gave prominent position today to a Tass dispatch concerning the Russian protest. The official news agency story said the note was delivered to the embassy Feb. 24—just a week before the deadline set up by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor in Germany.

Clay made his request Feb. 16. The United States army said he took this step because the mission's repatriation activities had "virtually ceased."

The note, Tass said, demanded that American authorities "take measures assuring normal conditions" for the work of the Soviet missions.

$3,000 Fur Coat Brings Trouble

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Feb. 26—(AP)—A $3,000 mink coat wrapped Betty Ritchie, 24, from Fenelon Falls in legal trouble.

Tearfully, Miss Ritchie heard Judge Charles Griffin after a preliminary hearing, hold her for trial in court at Santa Monica March 14 on charges of receiving stolen property. Bail was set at $1,500.

She also is under $500 bail on a Federal illegal entry charge and may be deported by the United States Immigration Service.

Miss Ritchie, who says she is Gerald Dennis' girl friend, is charged with receiving stolen property, specifically a $3,000 mink coat belonging to Mrs. Genevieve E. Phillips, wife of a wealthy Belair oilman. Mrs. Phillips identified the garment in court.

Plane Miscalculates Skids Across Highway

TRENTON, Feb. 26 — Just 15 minutes before No. 2 Highway would have been thronged with workers from the Trenton Air School on their way home from work, a twin-engine Ventura plane overshot the runway and skidded across the highway.

The plane was flying into the airport after routine bombing practice flights and airport officials offered no explanation for the mishap. Five RCAF personnel were in the plane at the time.

Poor Literature

TORONTO, Feb. 26—(CP).—Education Minister Porter last night described the novel as the poorest example of English literature that can be used in teaching school English courses. He told the annual Toronto district banquet of the Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation that history books and other types of writing provide much better English style.

$500 Million Pirates' Swag Said Found By Canadians

VANCOUVER, Feb. 26—(CP)—A $500,000,000 pirate's swag in gold bullion and jewels is the target of four adventurous Canadians, one a woman. They believe they have located the cache on Cocos Isle, a tiny finger of land off the Costa Rican coast.

The Vancouver O'Hanlon brothers—Harry, Hollis and Joe, and Harry's wife Betty for years have delved into the history of the centuries-old treasure, said buried in the Central American pirate's promenade. They have made several expeditions and they now believe they have found it.

Ellis Patterson, former lieutenant-governor of California, arrived in Los Angeles to report he believes the expedition has located the treasure, called the "loot of Lima," by means of a metal detector. He is one of the leaders of the party.

"The machine showed a deposit of metal underground at a spot we believe we have traced to the buried bullion," said Patterson when he arrived in Los Angeles by air recently from Cocos to buy more supplies for the expedition. The party has to maintain a small group of Costa Rican soldiers while digging for the half-billion swag.

Just what financial arrangements the O'Hanlons have with Patterson and James A. Forbes, the leader, is not known. Their shares are expected to be quite high, however, as most of the research and background on the loot was obtained by Holly O'Hanlon.

Harry and Betty O'Hanlon went to Cocos in the main expedition ship, the Bolivar, a converted landing craft.

Holly and Joe O'Hanlon sailed in their own beautiful Vancouver schooner Dwyn Wen.

European Union Hopes Free Eastern States

BRUSSELS, Feb. 26—(CP)—Winston Churchill Friday declared liberation of police-controlled eastern European states to be the ultimate goal of the united Europe movement.

"Our ultimate purpose is their deliverance," he said in a speech opening the movement's international council in session here.

The wartime British Prime Minister expressed sympathy for Eastern European countries which he said "are at present held in the grip of a tyranny more permanently than that of Hitler."

High on the list is a proposal for a European Supreme Court, above national governments, which would enforce the United Nations declaration of human rights.

"It is absolutely necessary for Europe to be united," said Belgian Premier Paul-Henri Spaak. "Otherwise Europe would lose its prestige in the world and precipitate the decline of the civilization which it represents."

Have $50,000 Fire

ST. CATHARINES, Feb. 26. — (CP).—Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused Friday when fire of unknown origin broke out in a Queenston St. apartment building and business block here. Firemen brought the blaze, believed started in a downstairs dance hall, under control after two hours.

7,000 Czechs Fled Country In 1948

PRAGUE, Feb. 26 (AP)—Between 6,000 and 7,000 persons fled Czechoslovakia in the last 10 months of 1948, the official Communist newspaper Rude Pravo reported today.

The exodus, which Rude Pravo called a "political emigration," started after the Communists took over complete control of the country.

The newspaper said that to counter the loss of "about 6,000 to 7,000 students, newsmen, former political functionaries. . .

Free Yukon Bovine Damsel In Distress

Knock-Out Drops, Cup Grease And Strong Push-And-Pull Do Job

YUKON, Okla., Feb. 26—(AP)—Knock-out drops, cup grease and a strong push-and-pull freed Grady the cow from her silo prison today.

It was a triumph for the Denver Post, which invaded Oklahoma to rescue this bovine damsel in distress.

Grady's captivity ended just five days after she bolted into the silo through a feed door 17 by 25½ inches in size.

She was running away from Dr. L. J. Crump, the Yukon vet who was treating her.

She left the silo with great squiring and clatter of hoofs with Ralph Partridge, Farm Editor of The Post, pushing her from behind with the help of three others.

Dr. Crump was pulling, along with Bill and Charles Mach, Grady's owners.

Easier Job

The liberation was a lot easier than expected. A truck with a power winch was standing by 100 feet away—with a long cable leading through a shed to the little door.

The plan was to tie a heavy rope around the cow and drag her through—well lubricated — with the winch.

To get Grady ready, they pulled her fore feet through the door and the Doc gave her a massive shot of Nembutal—the same stuff they use in sleeping tablets.

Then they gave Grady a tentative heave.

At this moment, the athletic cow apparently decided she wanted out.

There was a sudden scraping of hoofs on the greased wooden ramp underneath her and the Hereford burst out much as she had burst in.

Ever since the continent heard about Grady's captivity, Bill Mach was swamped with suggestions.

"I heard from 44 or 45 States yesterday, including Canada," Mach said. "They all had ideas. I can's understand it—all this fuss for just one cow. People are sure kind-hearted."

Urges Ottawa Pay 5-Cent Butter Subsidy

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 (CP)—Back benchers had their day in the Commons yesterday and they peppered the government with demands for action in a wide variety of fields ranging from agriculture to diplomatic representation at the Vatican.

J. O. Gour (L—Russell) was among those who went to bat for the butter-producing farmer. He urged that the government pay a five-cent-a-pound subsidy on butter and a two-cent-a-quart subsidy on milk if the provinces agreed to pay a similar amount.

Such action, he said, would bring down the cost of butter and would help the farmers of Canada.

He said if the provinces do not act, the federal government should make it compulsory for margarine producers to color their product a chocolate or other hue that would make it distinguishable from butter.

On the margarine question, he drew support from his brother David Gourd (L—Chapleau)—the brothers disagree on the spelling of the family name. David Gourd said farmers are suffering sufficient hardships without having to compete against margarine which would force down the price of butter.

Trade Minister Howe eliminated any hope that Ontario farmers might obtain more money for the eastern soft wheat they delivered to the Canadian wheat board between 1944 and 1948. He said the price they had received was a final price, unlike that given western farmers whose initial price was raised 20 cents yesterday.

MORE ABOUT—

—was born in Canton. When her mother left for Canada eight years ago, she went to live with friends in Shanghai where she attended school. Leaving China did not cause her too many regrets. But from one treasure she refused to be parted—her collection of Chinese detective novels. Since they are difficult to obtain in this country, she wants to learn English quickly, so that she can continue her forays into the realm of the mysterious.

Chinese Experiment

The eyes of the Chinese community here will be upon her — for she is in the nature of an experiment. She is the first Chinese child to be brought out by naturalized Canadians. While she speaks both the Cantonese and Shanghai dialects, Yok P'ing cannot speak English. Many other Chinese in Peterborough, who are preparing to bring their children out, will anxiously watch how this girl adapts herself to Canadian life.

Although recognizing the difficulties caused by her lack of English, Mr. and Mrs. Hum have carefully planned to fit their daughter into Canadian life. They hope she will quickly learn the language, and have chosen activities to develop her as a Canadian. Her parents are anxious that as soon as possible she will be able to have many friends among girls her own age.

Yok P'ing has been looking forward to her new city and it is to be hoped that the Peterborough people will not dull that anticipation.

2 Army Commanders Hanged For Revolt

CAIRO, Feb. 26.— (AP).—The newspaper Akhbar El Yom said today two army commanders of Yemen were hanged recently for leading a revolution last year in which the Yemen ruler, the Imam Yahya, was assassinated.

The publication, in a dispatch from Yemen, identified them as Gamal Gamil, of Iraq, and Marshal Mohamed Siri, of Yemen.

Yemen is an Arab kingdom at the southern end of the Red sea. It was torn by a family revolution a year ago. Ahmed El-Wazir, a son of the Imam Yahya, was hanged last April, along with several other conspirators against his father's rule.

Promise To Give Information On Psychiatrists

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP)—The story of how Ontario operates its mental hospitals is to be told in part in the Legislature.

Discussion yesterday of a government bill dealing with the hospitals gave rise to opposition questions about the qualifications of psychiatrists employed in the hospitals, the facilities available and the number of persons committed to the institutions. Premier Kennedy promised that the questions will be answered.

Postponed until these details are obtained was second reading of a bill to limit patients admitted to Toronto psychiatric hospital to residents of Toronto and York township.

Health Minister Kelley moved the psychiatrist bill, designed to relieve overcrowding in the Toronto institution. Patients living outside the Toronto-York township area would be committed to one of the provinces other 14 mental hospitals.

C. H. Millard (CCF — York West) said the bill would work hardship on some patients who would be denied more expert care available at Toronto.

Limit Patients

Mr. Kelley said in an interview that only residents of the Toronto and York township would be admitted because the building was erected in the early '20s at the expense of the city and the township.

H. C. Nixon (Lib—Brant) said the fact that Toronto had contributed to building costs did not entitle the city to a monopoly of the hospital's facilities. Cost of equipment and staff salaries were born by the province.

There was at least one psychiatrist in each of Ontario's mental or psychiatric institutions, and in some cases three.

A. A. MacLeod (Lab-Prog—Toronto Bellwoods) wanted to know what standards the health department imposed on psychiatrists. Was a man a psychiatrist merely because he said he was?

Mr. Kelley said all psychiatrists employed by the government were "professionally" trained and complied with "medical standards."

TORONTO, Feb. 26.—(CP).—Mrs. Regna Tannebaum and her 18-month old baby were saved from their flaming kitchen Friday when two upstairs tenants extinguished their flaming clothing with bare hands. Mrs. Tannenbaum's clothing caught fire from a kitchen explosion and she was severely burned about the body, face and hands. The hospital reported her condition serious. The infant escaped uninjured.

Aids Western Farmers

REGINA, Feb. 26. — (CP). — Saskatchewan farmers will receive at least $114,000,000 as a result of the boost in the initial price of wheat from $1.55 to $1.75, it was estimated Friday. The new price to be paid by the Canadian Wheat Board was announnced in Ottawa Thursday. calculation was based on Saskatchewan farm deliveries of wheat to the Wheat Board in the period Aug. 1, 1945 to date. Deliveries during that period amounted to 573,000,000 bushels.

Fox Hunters To See Pictures Of Hunt

All members of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association are requested to attend a meeting at the K. of C. Hall on Monday evening at 7:30. Membership cards will be distributed and the fox hunters in the last two roundups will probably see themselves in action in a series of pictures which will be on display, taken by one of their own members.

PCVS Students Acclaimed In Two Plays

Pupils of PCVS presented two plays in their auditorium Friday night to an audience that was not only large but also responsive. There seemed to be at least as many pupils as adults, which shows a good school spirit. Even the youngest had a thoroughly good time, except for one lad of four who went to sleep. He was not a pupil.

The first play, "The Scarecrow," a one-act Hallowe'en fantasy, was given by the Senior Dramatic Club. The second was an adaptation of Louisa M. Alcott's "Little Women," in three acts. This was presented by the Junior Dramatic Club. Between the two plays six girls, directed by Miss Fern Rahmel, mimed and read in chorus the ballad "Hynd Horn" and did it very well, The six were Helen Lancaster, Glenda Harrson, Lee Glennie, Barbara Grills, Jo Ann Watson, Dorothy Langley and Eleanor McBrien. This sort of thing is interesting, and good experience. It could be used more often as entr'acte or prelude matter.

Enter Competition

"The Scarecrow" was well staged and well acted. It should make a good showing next week when taken to the Eastern Ontario junior dramatic competition. The star of the play was Allen Bennett, in the part of the policeman, Patsy Johnston, who played the Young Woman, was pleasant but a little light in voice. Walter Downes, as the Scarecrow, had a smaller part but important, since it is he who throws the scare. The denouement, cleverly managed as it was, would profit from a little more work on it. Joyce Beggs was the Old Woman and acts with force. The prompter was Nancy Moffat. The play was directed by R. L. Hale and Miss W. M. White.

"Little Woman" was an ambitious long play for such junior actors. They carried it off surprisingly well. It was also surprising to hear how delighted the audience was with such a sentimental, Victorian, and at times unabashedly pathetic story as "Little Women." It was played straight for its sentiment—and rightly so—but surplus capital was made either by the youthful audience or by the actors playing for it, from some of the more quaint or incongruous passages. For instance, Professor Bhair (played to good effect by Bob Morrison) spoke directly to the audience about the mother's kiss which he had just received from the very young mother Diana Miller. Betty Jones as the vigorous sister Jo did excellently. Pauline Zacks was a good Meg. Gail Craig looked and spoke convincingly as the severe Aunt March whom she played It is unnecessary to catalogue all the virtues of all the players; suffice it to list their names and say that they put on a good school show. Here they are apart from the ones already mentioned: Margaret Martyn (Amy), Janet Langley (Beth), Douglas Hancock (Laurie), Larry Forbes (John Brooke), Jack King (Mr. March). The prompter and understudy was Adele Miller. The play was directed by A. J. Noftall, assisted by Miss Fern Rahmel.

Students Take Four Games

PCVS girls' senior and junior basketball teams swept to four victories in Port Hope last night, each winning two against Port Hope and Cobourg opposition. The senior Peterborough team defeated Cobourg 22-20 and Port Hope by a 22-11 count. PCVS juniors won 21-14 from Cobourg and 27-12 against Port Hope.

In the first senior match, Cobourg had a 5-4 quarter lead and it was 8-8 at the half, with PCVS going in front 18-13 at the three quarter mark. It was a keen contest throughout, with the winner's defence good. Mary Braund sparked the victors' attack with 17 points, while S. Wilson led the losers with 10.

Port Hope led 8-4 at the quarter in the other senior joust, the next stanza was close and PCVS gradually pulled ahead with a fourth-quarter drive assuring them of the win. Jane Hall topped Coach Doris Fenner's squad scoring with nine points, as M. McTaggart led Port Hope with four. The teams:

PCVS—M. Braund, J. Hall, K. Clifton, P. Martyn, L. Paddock, P. Estlick, W. Watson, C. Graham, B. Lawrie, K. McElroy, H. Westran, N. Mason.

Junior Games

PCVS juniors racked up a 6-1 lead in the first quarter against Cobourg, built it to 12-4 at the half and led 17-9 going into the fourth. They were led by Betty Jaquith with 12 points and Mary Craw with 6, as D. Medhurst got five for Cobourg, D. Taylor also turning in a neat effort in a speedy tilt.

Mary Craw was the big scorer against Port Hope, as she hit the hoop for 23 of her team's 27 points in a stellar performance. They racked up an early 7-2 margin, had it 14-5 at the rest period and fashioned a 24-7 lead to end the third quarter. G. Churchley was the pick of the losers in this fray. The teams:

PCVS—D. Penhall, M. Craw, L. Hutchinson, B. Jaquith, P. Nixon, J. Tivy, A. Magee.

Cobourg — D. Medhurst, B. Thompson, E. Jones, A. McQuaig, D. Taylor, B. McLelland, Y. McFaddyn, P. Roy, B. Taylor, S. Hogan, E. Manning, M. Roddell.

Port Hope—A. Moncrief, I. Knight, D. Harwood, G. Churley, B. Rowe, N. Williams, C. Casswell, N. Harness, E. McLelland, L. Lingard, D English.

Rotarians' Play At Havelock Hilarious Skit

HAVELOCK, Feb. 26—(ENS)—Men portrayed the six female roles in "Who's Batty Now?", a sparkling comedy presented by Havelock Rotary Club on Wednesday. The Town Hall was packed by the largest crowd that ever greeted an amateur play in the village. Even standing room was filled 15 minutes after the doors were opened and a large number of people were turned away. There have been several requests for a repeat performance.

The proceeds, which totalled $210, are for community work.

The play was hilarious. All members of the cast portrayed their roles excellently, reflecting much credit on the director, Harvey McNeely.

Raised Bats

The story of the play centred around the Hatters, a lovable and laughable family of eccentrics. There was Nick Hatter, the father who raised bats as a hobby and kept them in the attic. Google Hatter, the maiden aunt, practiced standing on her head so that she might become adept at yogi.

The four Hatter children were named after months of the year, January whose ambition was to be a magician, March who had memorized an encyclopedia, June who believed criminals should be reformed and August a man of 23 and the only normal member of the family who was trying to get a factory and had hopes of interesting Bartley Snoode, a young millionaire.

The latter, with his mother, Mrs. Antwerp Snoode, a member of the Four Hundred, was about to visit the Hatters and August pleaded with his family to act normally while the Snoodes were there so that Bartley would come across with the money. This plan, however, was spoiled when June brought to the house Eddie the Rat, an escaped convict whom she was trying to reform.

Cast of Play

The cast included: Everard Chues, James Watson, Bert Harvey, the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, Gilbert Crook, James Calnan, Robert Sayers, Harvey McNeely, the Rev. R. D. Duncanson, Donald Buchanan, George Fox, Ernest Sanderson.

WCTU Observes Founder's Day

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met in the YWCA Green Room Thursday in commemoration of Frances Willard Day, founder of the world-wide movement.

Mrs. Gordon Adams, the president, introduced the speaker, Arthur Brethen of Norwood, who is president of Peterborough Temperance Federation.

In commemoration of Frances Willard, who organized the world WCTU in 1891, and was its first president, a quiz was led by Mrs. W. H. Wollard.

It was decided that Peterborough Union would be called a "Life Line Union" by sending donations to missions and the White Ribbon Tidings to missionaries.

Mrs. Max Pomeroy sang with Mrs. J. Ellis at the piano and Mrs. W. H. Morton gave a reading.

In his temperance address, Mr. Brethen referred to the pioneer days in this district including Norwood, Keene, Westwood, etc., which was settled by good Christian Irishmen. He traced the work of the temperance society through the years since and brought a note of encouragement to the workers. He pointed out that then, there were five hotels, all serving liquor, where today, there is only one, and that without alcoholic drinks.

Will Not Allow German Goods To Undermine Market—Wilson

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Feb. 26 — (AP). — Anxieties of British manufacturers who fear cheap German goods soon will undermine their markets have been soothed by Harold Wilson, President of the Beard of Trade.

Wilson said a uniform conversion rate of 30 cents (United States) to one Deutschemark was fixed last summer. Since then contracts entered into have been determined by the cost of production, including profit margins, converted at that rate.

Before this exchange stabilization, the German people's car could be produced for £200 ($800) and was selling in European markets at less than £300. On the basis of an exchange rate of 30 cents, the price of the car would be nearly doubled and would not compete with British models.

Competitive Commodities

Some German commodities, such as chemicals, glass, clay and stone products, certain types of machinery, scientific instruments and cement, were competitive even under the stabilized currency rate.

Two main fears were indicated:

1. That under pressure of the need to export Germans might return to multiple exchange rates, special subsidies and other unfair methods which were a feature of the Nazi regime.

2. That German goods could be sold at a lower rate because of lower German wage levels.

Wilson said German wages were rising and productivity still was less than that of Britain.

"With regard to the control of export prices, and, in particular, to the use of 'unfair' devices to reduce prices, it is our policy to do all we can to prevent a revival in Germany of all forms of practices in international trade generally recognized as being unfair," said Wilson.

"It is our intention that the occupation statute which is now being prepared will reserve to the military governors powers to that end."

An appeal will be made to the Lakefield District High School Board for a grant to purchase new books for the use of students from the district.

Mrs. Redpath reported that the library was open for 20 sessions in January with a total circulation of 893 of which 445 were adult and 448 juvenile. Fees and fines amounted to $4.25.

The Thursday noon session is still well patronized by the out of town students.

The librarian reported that 2,000 more books were taken out in 1948 than in 1947.

Play Revival Well Received By Broadway

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—(CP)—A whiff of nostalgia is seeping through the Broadway theatre district with the return of Sidney Howard's play, "They Knew What They Wanted."

In the current revival Paul Muni and Carol Stone play the leading roles in this drama of forgiveness. To many old-times it brought back memories of the original production in 1924, with Richard Bennett and Pauline Lord as the leading players.

Perhaps it had more punch in that appearance—it ran for 51 weeks and was a Pulitzer-prize-winner play. But the current version at the music box theatre, is intelligently done and its blends of pathos and humor is calculated to hold an audience.

Muni enacts the leading role with considerable gusto, perhaps over-acting a trifle. Miss Stone gives a nice, sympathetic performance as Amy.

Peace In The Middle East

The war in Palestine between Jews and Arabs was dangerously infectious. Many times it seemed likely to spread over the whole of the Middle East. It might even have kindled a terrible war between eastern communist countries and western democratic ones. Owing to wise counsel and cool heads it was contained almost entirely within the borders of Palestine. Peace may now have come to Palestine with the signing of the Israeli-Egyptian armistice on Thursday. The terms were decided by the feats of Israeli arms; their acceptance was due to a recognition of the reality of Israel's diplomatic and military victory, and the patient skilful negotiation of Dr. Ralph Bunche, the mediator appointed by U.N. It is more significant than important that the text of the armistice refers to it as a purely military settlement.

* * *

According to the terms Israel has all of Palestine excepting a substantial central segment west from the river Jordan and the western corner of the Negev desert bordering Egypt. The Mediterranean coast except for a thin strip from Gaza to the Egyptian border, a distance of 25 miles, is in Israeli hands, as is most of the disputed Negev. The borders are not to be garrisoned. Dr. Bunche has described the settlement as practical and workable. The south-western boundary could become permanent, for the small area of Palestine awarded the Egyptians may easily be assimilated into Egypt. The large central section west of the Dead Sea and Jordan, in Arab hands, is likely to be tantalizing to Israel.

* * *

Other armistices have still to be negotiated, for instance one with Trans-Jordan. The conference on this begins Monday. However, the main one is with Egypt. That having been accomplished, other Arab countries are likely to come to terms. Thus the new state of Israel emerges triumphant and recognized as a nation after so many months of hard fighting and so many centuries of Jewish aspiration.

Business In Newfoundland

When Newfoundland becomes a Canadian province at the end of next month, its business will be greatly affected, as will that of Canadian firms who already export to Newfoundland or which expect to do business in the new province. The unusual commerce with the Americans which has resulted from the war and American air bases, will also be affected.

Because of the lack of diversity in occupations of the people, the climate, the lack of roads and the slow, late development of industry, Newfoundlanders' ways of doing business are much different from Canadians'. They are somewhat like the business methods in small communities in Ontario seventy years ago when money was scarce, manufactured goods had to be imported and brought long distances from urban centres, and when merchants sold on a credit or a barter basis and shopkeepers advertised their goods as "Cheap For Cash".

Business and industry are concentrated in St. John's and in the hands of a few big business men. There the money and the focus of the credit system are located. The fisherman goes to the outpost merchant in the spring for his supplies of food for himself and his family, and for the fishing gear to enable him to earn his living. These are got on credit. The local merchant has secured his supplies from a wholesaler in St. John's. He has bought on credit. At the end of the season, if it has been a good one, the fisherman pays the local merchant, and the local merchant pays the wholesaler in St. John's, and the wholesaler pays off his loans to the bank or the firms from which he has imported. If it has been a bad season, debts are carried over. If there are several bad seasons in a row, the credit system is disrupted and the fisherman are forced on government relief.

Parallel with the credit system is the system of selling. When the fish have been caught, the outpost merchant takes the fish from the fisherman and passes it on to the fish exporter—who is usually in St. John's. The exporter sells the fish, takes his profit, gives cash to the outpost merchant if any is left after the merchant's debts are paid. The outpost merchant takes his profit and pays cash to the fisherman unless it is insufficient to cover the fisherman's debts to him. In effect, the outpost merchants are agents for the St. John's importer and the fish exporter—who are often the same person.

"R.J.", writing from apparent authoritative knowledge of this system says in the current issue of Canadian Business that:

> Newfoundland's commercial life [is] dangerous waters for anyone to venture into unless he is thoroughly conversant with the ins and outs of the system. In addition, because of the long-term credit arrangements and the possibilities of a poor fishing season, the chances of sustaining relatively heavy losses are great as far as business is concerned. The number of business failures in the Island over the years has been high.

The system will and should change when manufacturing and transportation are more fully developed, when there is more free money, and when there is competition with Canadian firms whose manufactured goods are generally cheaper and better than Newfoundland's. However, it will change slowly, and the Commercial Secretary to the Office of the High Commissioner for Canada in Newfoundland advises Canadian manufacturers to sell their goods through a Newfoundland representative or through direct sales arrangement with Newfoundland import and wholesale houses. He considers it unwise to group Newfoundland with the Maritimes as one sales territory.

The period of business adjustment in Newfoundland may be difficult, but the results should be wholesome.

The School Reports

The Annual Report of the superintendent of the Peterborough schools for 1948 has come to hand and, as usual, it reads interestingly but not surprisingly. Everything appears to be going well and we can ask no more than that. But in addition we have received a report on student activities, which we have not seen before, and which we think very interesting indeed. We had not realized that there were so many associations, clubs and committees in the local schools or that they did so much interesting and useful work or that they handled so much money. We were particularly impressed by the decision of the 1947-48 Student Council to give a painting by a Canadian artist to the P.C.V.S., and by their suggestion that this work be continued. If this were to become a custom it would not be many years before the P.C.V.S. owned an interesting and potentially valuable collection of pictures. The modern move to change the barrack-like atmosphere of schools to something more suggestive of an institution of learning is a fine one, and this is one admirable way of achieving that end.

One Loyalty

The French communist leader, Maurice Thorez, included a statement in one of his recent speeches which bears examination. Here it is:

> "If the common efforts of the freedom-loving French do not succeed in bringing our country back into the camp of democracy and peace, if later our country should be dragged against its will into a war against the Soviet Union and if the Soviet Army, defending the cause of freedom and socialism, should be brought to pursue the aggressors onto our soil, could the workers and people of France have any other attitude toward the Soviet Army than has been that the peoples of Poland, Romania and Yugoslavia?"

This, of course, means simply that the first loyalty of communists must always be to Russia. Communists in all non-communist countries—Canada among others—declare that this is not so, but it has been proved so many times, and Thorez states it as a foregone conclusion.

It is this attitude which makes it impossible to regard communism simply as an extreme political doctrine. It is a traitorous doctrine, because any serious adherence to communism demands a loyalty to another state and, in the case of war with Russia, active disloyalty to the homeland.

NOTE AND COMMENT

St. Catharines boasts that its new firehall will be the most modern in Canada. Including new plastic checkerboards, we presume.

Some fashion wiseacre writes that "the vest is disappearing from American men's attire". We always thought a vest was an undershirt, but we presume that the fellow means a waistcoat. And it is certainly not disappearing from our attire, unless a few pens, pencils, penknives, watches and other necessaries disappear with it.

Diary Of A Dirty Shirt

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: For a walk this afternoon, snuffing the air and trying to catch some hint of Spring in it. Very slushy and wet underfoot, but such a fine day that many people had been attracted out for walks, like myself. Observed several people airing their children. The adults straddled puddles, and walked around them, and hopped over them, and always with expressions of distate, as though a few hatfuls of dirty water were the most disgusting sight on earth. But the children made straight for the puddles, stamping and splashing, while their fathers barked and their mothers clucked. One adventurer whom I would guess to be about two years old stamped into a puddle and triumphantly sat down in it. I gloried in her boldness. Her act was a noble acceptance of life and an assertion of independence. The pernickety prancings of the elders were all negative, all cringing and withdrawing. Yo ho for the boldness of extreme youth!

* * *

MONDAY: Tumbled over a wastepaper basket today, and when I had picked myself up I kicked it and jumped on it until its shape was spoiled forever. A man who was standing by told me that this was foolish, for it was my own fault that I had fallen, and the basket was not to blame; what was more, this donkey continued, the basket could not feel my wrath. This is all nonsense. I am convinced that there is both malice and beneficence in apparently lifeless objects, and that they can behave well enough when they choose. As for saying that they have no feeling, that also is bunk. If I punch an enemy on the nose, what happens? I re-adjust the molecules in his nose, causing him pain; if I kick a wastepaper basket, what happens—do I not also re-adjust its molecules? And who is to say that in so doing I do not cause it pain? All my life I have been a kicker and punisher of furniture. Like the Hindus, I hold that all life is sacred, and that life is to be found everywhere. Whenever a chunk of life ceases to be sacred—by tripping me, for instance—I remind it of its duty to the universe with a swift kick. Fate chastens me when I am proud; who dares say that I do not play the part of Fate in the existence of a wastepaper basket?

* * *

TUESDAY: I see by the paper that the names of the great Russian leaders are all assumed, and all have powerful meanings—Stalin is steel, Molotov means hammer, Gromyko means thunder, and so forth. I am not surprised. We have never fully realized how popular in Russia translations of American and English boys' stories used to be. I suppose that in their youth all the present masters of the Kremlin read Western tales and the equivalent of Tom Swift and the Motor-boat Boys, in Russian. And in those stories every hero had some such name as Dick Dauntless, or Tom Fearless, or Captain Lightning, or Lieutenant Greasyheels, or something stylish of that sort; is it any wonder that when they grew up and decided to live dangerously these men should have invented romantic names for themselves? Even so did actors in the Victorian era invent classy names to replace their own commonplace ones, and when Joe Dope when on the stage he became Boothroyd Fairbrother, or something of that sort. If I changed my pedestrian name of Samuel Marchbanks to, for instance, Rafe Merrythought, many stupid people would esteem me as a mighty droll fellow.

WEDNESDAY: At a public gathering tonight where there were a great many children, and I was amazed at the freedom with which they used the plumbing. Pondered for a while on why children have to go to the w.c. so often, and concluded that it was because they were small, and their reservoirs limited as compared with those of their more capacious elders. Advanced this theory later among a group of adults, and a schoolteacher who was present assured me that it was not so. Children are highly suggestible, she said, and if they see one of their kind hiking toward the powder room they are immediately seized with a delusion that they have to go themselves. This demon works so powerfully within them that they become convinced that they cannot contain themselves for another second, and they rush panting to the nearest refuge — often with the most disappointing results. This teacher was one of a group who, several years ago, convoyed a whole trainload of children to a nearby city in order to see the King and Queen. Therefore she had been refined in the furnace of experience, and knew whereof she spoke.

THURSDAY: A man who knows a lot about radio told me this evening that the programs of the popular comedians are composed in a highly scientific manner by experts, who know exactly what will make the public laugh, and how much. They even distinguish between types of laughs. The two main types are the "yak" — a short, sharp yelp or snort of mirth — and the "boffola" — a great, rolling cascade of laughter, comparable to the flushing of a closet bowl, and the exhaustion of the boffola is succeeded by the stimulus of the yak, and the poor listener is completely overborne by the time the program is over . . . No doubt this is true, but I am an eccentric, and perhaps not completely adult in my mental attainments. But in any case I find that I can listen to the programs of all the radio funnymen without uttering a single yak, much less a boffola. When something appeals to my sense of humour I like to yelp and roar as well as anyone, and I am disturbed to think that I do not respond to fun as the great minds of radio say I should. Must consult my psychiatrist.

FRIDAY: On a train today with some people who beguiled the tedium of the journey with song. Was especially impressed with a ditty called "Honey Have A —— On Me"; so far as a man of my innocent nature could determine, it was about cocaine addicts, and the space which I have indicated with a blank was filled in with a quick sniff of deep enjoyment. I have a great fondness for such songs, and in my mad youth I caused many an ancient and godly eyebrow to shoot upward with my rendition of "Minnie The Moocher".

SATURDAY: Passed the day at the Eastern Ontario Drama Festival, and if only I could have found time to change my shirt my enjoyment would have been complete. But I put on a dirty shirt in the morning, meaning to change it as soon as the dirty work was done. But the dirty work was not done by noon, and I postponed my change until before dinner. But fashionable people in clean shirts urged me to have dinner with them, and I did, still dirty. Thought I might make a change before the evening performance but there was no time. Meant to change before a party afterward, but this proved to be impossible, so I mingled with fair women and brave men, getting dirtier every minute. At last went to bed, removing my shirt first, mentally dedicating it to the Sanitary Inspectors of Canada (a noble and devoted body of men). Rose fifteen minutes later, and joined a party in another room, wearing my pyjamas and a hotel blanket. Roystered with several of the richest jewels of our educational system (who were also in varying degrees of disphanousness) until 5 a.m.

Letter To The Editor

PUBLIC GREED AND PRIVATE SAVING.

Sir: "Gimme a freezing unit for the Civic Arena when King Sol smiles." That is the weakness of the people today — "Gimme" is their middle name. The people who demand this are those whose sporting activities are walking from house to car, from car to office, to factory, to cinema, to ball game in air or or ice. They take their amusement sitting or eating, never walking or thinking — seldom.

If ice is considered necessary in Summer as well as Winter, why foist the expense of installing the freezing unit and of a technician upon an unwilling government? If it is such a benefit to you and yours, you should work with that aim of providing such, and enjoy that work. It it's worth having, it's worth working for. Why be like people who have never reached adult mentality, who always lean heavily on their parents—the government? There's too much of this paternalism.

Did you read in The Globe and Mail that "Baby Bonus Breeds Boy Bandits"? There, again, parents are shirking their responsibility of training their children.

Haven't people been paid the highest of wages for years? Have they had sense enough to be thrifty? See how soon they want the government to support them. They have been living irresponsible lives — burning gasoline, drinking beer.

To quote from The Readers' Digest: "The Gimmes Sap the World's Strength". One of the penalties of government assistance is a widespread lowering of the sense of responsibility. Individual stamina and self-determination go down at a time when public expenses are going up. This has destroyed nations. It enabled a few thousand barbarians to overthrow the mighty Roman Empire. The Romans came to depend on the State for food, shelter and entertainment. In this eagerness for free security at State expense, they became so insecure they lost everything.

A State is just a large number of individuals; it is subject to the same limitations as the individual; it pays the same penalties for bad management. We are having to boost taxes and borrow money to pour out to a never-satisfied public. The majority of people want the benefits without paying the cost. When will people stop the tragedy that will eventually happen if the give-everything-to-everybody theory continues unchecked"?

"INDEPENDENCE".

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place....And they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven....But Peter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Judaea, and all ye that dwell at Jerusalem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words....Ye men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it....

This Jesus hath God raised up, whereof we all are witnesses....

Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ. (Acts 2: 1, 4, 5, 14, 22-24, 32, 36.)

Chances Of A Lifetime

A woman player is bewailing the fact that she had thrown away the chance of a lifetime. It was in a League bridge match in ent, and with North-South vulnerable the cards had been dealt by North. In the East position she picked up H—A.K.Q.J.10,9.8.7.6. 5.4.2. D.—3, quite a promising hand, for according to the table of frequencies a player can expect 12—1—0—0 distribution only three times in a thousand million deals.

When North opened with a forcing to game bid of two spades. East's hopes of a grand slam faded and she bid immediately the full value of her cards, six hearts. South passed and West bid seven clubs. It would have set East a nice problem what to do over this bid if North had not immediately removed any cause for worry by bidding seven spades.

East toyed with the idea of bidding seven no trumps but rejected it, for if West could bid seven clubs there seemed to be a good chance that the grand slam in spades might be defeated. And she has regretted her decision ever since, for had she accepted the gamble her name would have been written in the book of fame as that of the woman who had gained points by going down 12 tricks in a doubled grand slam.

North held 4H the spades and West all the clubs—a player can expect this distribution only once in 158 billion deals—and South held 12 diamonds and the three of hearts. In a doubled contract of seven no trumps East would have made one trick in hearts, and would have lost 2,300 points or 60 points fewer than North-South scored by making seven spades.—London Times.

Canadian Waters Yield Four Of 14 First Prize Fish

Canadian lakes and rivers provided four of the 14 first-prize fish in Field and Stream Magazine's 1948 fishing contest.

But Canadian fishermen didn't do as well as Canadian waters. Of almost 280 anglers listed as prize winners, only 14 are Canadians.

Two third prizes were their highest awards. They also scored a fourth, two fifths, a 10th and five honorable mentions.

Honorable mention in the Brown Trout (fly-casting class) goes to Rufus R. Payne of Peterborough for his 7-pound, 2 ounce, trout taken at Millbrook village dam. Tops in this class weighed 19 pounds, 10 and ½ ounces and was taken in the Provo River, Utah on a Black Barberpoll fly. In the open class a fisherman hoisted an even 20-pounder from Truckee River in Nevada.

Here are the year's record catches in the contest, in which the great majority of entrants are United States citizens:

Brook trout (fly-casting)—7 lbs. 14 oz., caught Aug. 16 in Ontario's Nipigon River, using a Mickey Finn fly. B. H. Reiger of Toronto won honorable mention with a fish of 3 lbs. 4 oz. caught in Williams Lake, Ont.

Brook trout (open) — 7 lbs. 12 oz., Sept. 10 in Lake Nipigon, Ont., with a Gapen's Nepag lure. F. S. Williams of Fort William, Ont., won third prize. His fish weighing 7 lbs. 9 oz., was caught in Lake Nipigon Sept. 9, on a Gapen's Cockatush lure. D. A. Clarke of Port Arthur, Ont., with a trout weighing an ounce less, won fourth prize, and fifth place went to David Godin of Schreiber, Ont., another ounce behind. Clark, fishing in Lake Nipigon, used an Epping Small Dardevle. Godin used live bait in Vaughn Lake.

Northern Pike—35 lbs., Sept. 5 in Lake Baskatong, Que., with a Pflueger Buffalo No. 7 spoon. Fred Turnbull of Edmonton, using perch for bait, caught a pike of 32 lbs. in Alberta's Jack Fish Lake to win third prize. H. I. Moffat of Yorkton, Sask., won an honorable mention. His pike, 24 lbs. 14 oz., was caught in Crooked Lake, Sask.

Lake trout—47 lbs. 2 oz., Oct. 5 in Lake Anishinabi, Ont., with a Canadian bait. Roger Bedard of Three Rivers, Que., caught a fish of 29 lbs. 2 oz., in Lake Vassel, Que., good enough for an honorable mention.

Rainbow trout (fly-casting—eastern division)—13 lbs. 2 oz., Catherine Creek, N. Y. W. L. Wachter of Jasper, Alta., found a trout weighing 8 lbs. 15 oz. in Mina Lake, Alta., for fifth prize. He used a home-tied No. 6 fly. G. H. Chambers, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., caught a 7-lbs.-1-oz. trout in St. Mary's River, Ont., with a home-tied bucktail, and took 10th place.

Rainbow trout (open—eastern division)— 17 lbs. 9 oz., Big Manistee River, Mich., on a Helin Flatfish. Best Canadian showing was an honorable mention for J. L. Armstrong of Fort William, who caught a trout of 10 lbs. 4 oz. in Lake Superior.

Brown trout (fly-casting)—19 lbs. 10½ oz., Provo River, Utah, on a Black Barberpoll No. 6 fly.

Rufus R. Payne of Peterborough, Ont., was given honorable mention. He caught a fish of 7 lbs. 2 oz. at Millbrook, Ont.

Brown trout (open)—20 lbs., Truckee River, Nev.

Large-mouth black bass (northern division)—14 lbs., Round Valley Lake, Calif.; (southern division)—13 lbs. 2 oz., Billy's Lake, Ga.; (Florida division) — 18 lbs. 4 oz., St. Johns River, Fla.

Small -mouth black bass—12 lbs. 10 oz., Simmons Lake, Fla.

Maskinonge — 51 lbs. 12 oz., Lake Winnebago, Wis.

Wall-eyed pike—19 lbs. 4 oz., Little Tennessee River, Tenn.

Ontario lakes and rivers provided 18 of the 20 top fish in the brook-trout contests. They came from Nipigon Lake and River, Gravet River, Lake Jo-Bam, Gouluis River and Vaughn Lake.

Prize winning northern Pike were caught in Separation Lake, Pickerel Arm Lake, Ninitaki Lake, Lac Seul, Lac Lauzon, and Lake of the Mountains, all in Ontario; Jack Fish Lake, Alta., and Lake Baskatong, Que.

Six of the 10 biggest lake trout came from Lake Superior, the others from Lake Anishinabi, Rossport, Ont., and Lake Mameigwess, Ont.

Biggest Canada-caught rainbow trout weighed 8 lbs. 15 oz. and came from Mina Lake, Alta. Other winners were caught in St. Mary's Rapids, Ont., and St. Mary's River, Ont.

The second-biggest maskinonge —50 lbs. even—was from Rhone Lake, Ont., fourth-biggest from the Pickerel River and 10th biggest from Shoal Lake, Ont.

Portage Lake, Ont., provided an 18-lbs.-3-oz. wall-eyed pike, the winner of second prize. Other among the first 10 came from Evelyn Lake, Parry Sound, Big Sand Lake and Net Lake, Ont.

Cost Citizens Money To Belong To Millbrook's First Fire Brigade

By E. S. CLARRY

It was on the evening of October 30th, 1883 that the first fire brigade was organized in Millbrook in the village. The meeting was held in the Council Chamber the following citizens being in attendance,—J. W. Curry, Geo. Fowler, Adam Scott, Jr., J. C. Fitzgerald, R. H. Kells J. L. Richardson, R. J. Doak, John Kirkpatrick, John Beatty and George Vance

To-day it may be of interest to know as to who the above mentioned citizens were and the respective professions or business activities in which they were engaged. Some of them are still remembered by villagers of the present time, althought when they met in the council chamber on that crisp autumn night to set up a fire-fighting organization, it was a little over sixtly-five years ago. Practically all of them were. I should judge in the age bracket between twenty and thirty-five but none is alive to-day. Several became prominent in the business life of the community and at least two of them attained a degree of prominence in the legal profession of the province.

J. W. Curry was in the year 1883 a young fledging lawyer, a native of Port Hope, who started in on the practice of his profession in the village. He possessed boundless energy and an abundance of self-confidence and assurance. Anything he was connected with he invariably wanted to dominate. When pretty well along in years in the 1920's he sat in the Ontario Legislature for one of the Toronto constituencies.

George Vance Must certainly have been in his adolescence when he joined the local fire fighters at its organization meeting in 1883. Later he entered Mr. Curry's law office as a student, in due course was called to the bar, commencing the practice of his profession in the town of Shelbourne. At the time of his death he was judge of the County Court of Simcoe, residing at Barrie. Adam Scott, Jr. was the son Adam Scott who was the first white settler on the site of what is to-day the city of Peterborough, the father also of Mrs. Thomas Medd a well known resident of the village.

George Fowler was for years a prominent local merchant, the father of David Fowler who succeeded to the business he established. J. C. Kells and R. H. Kell were prominent in mercantile life and J. R. Fitzgerald likewise a leading merchant who owned the home now occupied by Dr. H. A. Turner. Mr. Doak was the proprietor of a hardware store, John Beatty a veteran of the Fenian raids filled many different occupations, such as working around the grain storage sheds at the station, setting type in the local printing office and doing anything at which he could earn a dollar. Wm. Reynolds had for years been a railway conductor, formerly a resident of Port Hope who came to the village to become proprietor of the old Queen's Hotel, and J. L. Richardson was a son of Wm. Richardson an old-time resident of the district.

Up until the organization of the local fire brigade in 1883 the village had no fire fighting equipment but the need for such had become abundantly apparent and the municipal council was making a move in that direction. It was no doubt felt desirable that a brigade should be set up in readiness to man any equipment that the village might purchase.

The minutes of the meeting record that the following officers were elected, — Captain, Wm. Reynolds; First-Lieutenant. J. W. Curry; Second-Lieutenant. R. H. Kells; Seretary, R. J. Doake; Treasurer, J. C. Kells. It was felt that the organization should have a distinctive name and upon motion of Mr. Curry seconded by John Kirkpatrick the name selected was the Actives of Millbrook. Two other motions were carried that evening one of which set forth that the officers wait upon the village council and inform them that the brigade was in readiness to handle any fire extinguisher they, the council, may provide and the other was that Messrs. Curry and Scott be a committee to draft by-laws and a constitution for the organization.

At the meeting the following week it appears evident from reading the minutes recorded in great detail that the Active Fire Brigade of Millbrook had grown in membership a number of new names being mentioned. These were Tom Phillips another local tinsmith, Bob Powell the son of Robert Powell who operated a bake shop on Tupper Street, Dick Myers a village blacksmith, Jim Handley who at that time was an employee of Reeve Ferguson's carriage shop, and J. B. Smith a local druggiest.

The main business of the meeting was the adoption of a constitution and the passing of by-laws. The constitution drafted, no doubt, by lawyer Curry, must have been a bulky one there being thirty sections to it. Every conceivable contingency was provided for and many amendments were made to the original draft. It cost citizens real money to belong to the local fire brigade in those days for it was set forth the monthly fees payable by each member be 25 cents per month. And evidently it was determined that severe discipline should be enforced on all members. It is not clear to-day what section 13 of the constitution covered but it entailed some controversy, there having been a motion by Tom Phillips seconded by his business rival Jack Kirkpatrick "that the sum of 25 cents be the amount imposed on members for violation of Section 13". It was felt by R. H. Kells and John Beatty that this was somewhat harsh and an amendment sponsored by them setting the penalty at only 10 cents was carried. However the violation of Section 16 appears to have been looked upon as a very serious offence, although sixty-five years later it is impossible to say what it involved. In any event any member found guilty under it was fined $1.00. That would be equivalent under the purchasing power of our currency to-day of at least $5.00, but the boys of those days were determined to maintain discipline.

Some Historical Events In History of Peterborough

This year of 1949 seems to be one in which history is coming to a head. All across the country newspapers, manufacturing companies, universities, towns and cities are celebrating centennials and marking anniversaries and milestones of their history with proud rejoicing.

A century ago, for instance, the City of Peterborough was a strapping youngster of 30 years. A lot of people who had built their cabins in the beautiful forests along the Otonabee were almost surprised to see how quickly their community was growing. And things were happening in other places as well. In 1849 Peterborough boys were heading for the California gold fields. The Rebellion Losses Bill was signed and the University of Toronto was opened. Luther Burbank and Sir William Osler were born. The American Union consisted of 15 slave states and 15 free states.

A lot of things have happened in Peterborough since it was first settled. Some of them were 100 years ago, some were 50, some were 25, and some were odd numbers of years ago all along the romantic and sometimes tragic history. Even the school kids, who don't like to deal with historical dates, may be interested in the chronology of events which follow. Some of them will not have been heard of, while others will be remembered by some of the older residents. But they all make up the paragraphs of a long and interesting story.

1615—Samuel de Champlain went up the Otonabee and Trent rivers.

1819—Charles Fothergill and Adam Scott, a millwright, came to Peterborough, or what is now Peterborough, in a skiff. They named the site "Scott's Plains".

1825—Patrick Young built a cabin at "Young's Point. A contingent of 500 under Captain Rubidge left Rice Lake to go up the river. Many of them had the fever which was remedied by whiskey flavored with tansy and wild peppermint.

1826—Sir Pergrine Maitland, Governor-General, came to Peterborough by sled, via Cobourg. There was no bridge across the river then, and on May 21 five immigrants were being ferried across when the boat upset and three boys, Dillon, Hallahan and Molony, were drowned.

1827—Three more were drowned, and Horace Perry built a bridge across the Otonabee.

1832—Cholera in the district.

1838—There were 400 houses in the village, and 1,500 people.

1857—The decimal system was adopted in business and currency.

1860—H.R.H. Prince of Wales in Petrborough.

1861—The first census.

1863—Thomas D'Arcy McGee in Peterborough. Orangemen from Cavan, Smith, and Manvers halted a St. Patrick's Society parade with cannon.

1870—Councillor Samuel Dickson killed at dam during floods.

1871—A skating and curling rink was opened in the community.

1878—The phonograph appeared.

1881—In February, Mr. Scott's "Tom" won $150 in the horse race from Port Hope to Peterborough and return. Time: four hours and 53 minutes. The first letter boxes appeared.

1884—May 23: First electric lights.

1885—Captain Brown was killed in the North West Rebellion.

1889—Imperial Federation League meets in Peterborough, and Barnum and Bailey Circus pitched its tents.

Peterborough's First War Bride Arrives From Germany, Delighted With Canada

By DON GRANT

"You Don't Have to Know the Language", are the words of a recent popular song hit and these words describe Peterborough's first German war bride. She is Mrs. Stuart Manley, 356 Armstrong Drive, the former Paula Bunger of Wilhemshaven, Germany.

Paula is unable to converse in English. Since her arrival in Canada she has picked up sufficient words to understand a few sayings. Living in the upstairs apartment Paula does her best to make conversation with the people downstairs. During the interview the reporter found it more difficult for him to understand her German than for her to understand his English.

"Paula hasn't had time since her arrival in Peterborough to become acquainted with any German-Canadians living here," said Mr. Manley.

At times Mr. Manley finds it difficult to say things to her because his knowledge of German language is only what he picked up while with the occupation troops in Wilhemshaven.

Little Rose Marie, their daughter also speaks German. Her only English word is Mama. She is a blonde rosy cheeked plump little girl.

While visiting at the home of Paula's parents in Wilhelmshaven, Bob met Paula. He was stationed there with the 2-3 Anti-Tank Regiment. Her home is in a part of Wilhelmshaven called Voslopp. Her father served with the German army in both wars.

"Her father's attitude toward me was 'He's a soldier and I'm a soldier. He was fighting for his country as I was fighting for mine'," Bob said.

Mrs. Manley has four sisters and three brothers. When asked if she is ever homesick, she said no, providing she didn't think too much about home.

Bob hails from Otonabee Township were his parents reside. He has three brothers and one sister.

Her first impression of Canada on arriving at Halifax was one of keen disappointment. For she did not like Halifax. Paula however since her arrival in Peterborough likes Canada much better than her homeland.

Food situation is bad in Germany according to this auburned-haired woman. Black market is the chief business there, every-things being available at high prices. Bread, all black, no white, is 50 marks a loaf (this is not in the black market).

Paula dislikes dancing but likes going to the movies. Having been to some of the local theatres she believes that German Movies are not as good as American due to the sound system.

Trains in Germany are not up to the Canadian standard. Canadian trains in her opinion are much more comfortable and warmer. In Germany the ordinary worker can not afford a car.

Far from the land of her birth this young woman is looking forward to her life in her adopted country as a fulfillment of all her hopes and dreams. In the one month she has been in Canada Paula is rapidly adapting herself to Canadian customs.

OHA senior "B" group semi-finals commence tonight on Lindsay's artificial ice sheet when Petes play Toronto Meteors. This is a two-game series, goals to count, with the return one next Wednesday. Winner to meet Legion in finals. In a goals-to-count scramble, you can't afford to have an off-night. Each team pitches in there in right good earnest, trying to bank a comfortable lead against the return tilt. Toronto Bells folded or they'd be into the other semi-final bracket with Legionnaires. The Scugog arena, with its ice-making plant, cashes in on these playoffs in mild weather, as many local fans travel over there to see the money sawoffs.

Quinte columnist is rather high on the CNR Diesels of that centre. They've run up 19 wins in 21 starts this semester in district and group play, being bunched with some Kingston clubs in a senior "B" setup. Likely the local group winner will be meeting the Diesels in OHA playdowns. The club has Maurice Lefort and Art Plumley for goal, with Vern Goyer, Clare Williamson, Mark Storms, Huck Reeves and the veteran Speedy St. Louis on defence. Forwards include: Barrett, MacDonald, Semark, the two Meaghers, Wardaugh, Moher, Williams and Bastedo. A hard-hitting team which breaks fast and back-checks well, it is reported.

It Would Be Welcome

Recent word that an artificial ice plant for the local Civic Arena may be installed for next puck season should please players and fans of this borough. If it goes through okay, Peterborough teams won't fear mild hockey seasons in future, nor will they have to take important games to other places. Oldtimers may be right in saying that our climate is gradually changing and rip-snorting winters are becoming a thing of the past, or else moving south into the States. In any case, this has been a poor winter for hockey in centres admitting only to natural ice. Our curlers laugh at the vagaries of weather, and mayhap our hockeyists can do likewise another year.

Some Collegiate cagers are off for exhibition play tonight in Niagara Falls and some of the chaps have ducats to see Notre Dame play Canisius College across the line. Only activity here tonight is the twin bill at the Collegiate, N.Y. Black Barons playing Marines "A" at 8.15, preceded by PCVS junior Bees against "Y" Leader Corps. Marines "B" hoopsters are in OABA playdowns in Orillia today. Two girls' contests here last p.m. as their schedule nears the end, and Towne Togs go to Cobourg in LOBA playdowns next weekend, returning on March 11. Yeah, we're smack into the best part of the hoop season now.

Clearing The Decks

Prexy Pat Calladine has set next Tuesday evening at 7.30 in the YMCA for the annual meeting of the men's City Softball League. An open session with officers, prospective club coaches and others interested being invited. They'll present 1948 reports, elect the 49 slate of officers, appoint delegates for the OASA annual session in Oshawa on Good Friday, and discuss plans for the coming season. Entries will be checked but it'll be some time yet ere a deadline for entries is set. The loop had its most successful season to date last year under lights at the Bowl, and another big year is anticipated. Likely quite a scramble for entries this Spring.

A new deal shapes up for the Peterborough-Whitaker Cricket Club this season as the team will be playing in the Toronto and District Council. Assuring the club of regular competition against good opposition. There was a Council meeting in Toronto the other day and we glean this item from a Star dispatch: "Most interesting feature of the gathering was the appearance of Messrs. Radford and Jennings from Peterborough. This club will participate in the Council for the first time. Cricket was played in Peterborough more than 100 years ago and is still going strong." Yes, the local team will be strong again this coming summer.

CITY CARPETBALL

Very little change has been made in the standings through the games played during the past week, but we would ask the president and his gang to get busy on those back games. The Glengarrys are apparently getting ready for the trout season for they are right up on the bit and managed to take the ring out of the Bell Ringers when they took them two games, 8-9 and 8-13. They only managed to divide the points with the Bouncers for after taking the first 19-2, they lost the second in a high scoring tilt 10-18. In the president's cup the Glenns came through to oust the Thistles two out of three, the final game going four extra ends to break the tie 5-12, 9-3, 6-8.

The Treasurers also played two games, dividing the scores with the Thistles 10-14, 10-9 and repeated the score with King Billie and his orange squeezers 10-7 and 8-16.

The Bell Ringers were able to hold their own against Garside's Spark Plugs after losing the first 8-10 to come back to win the second 17-8. In a keen short-handed game the Fighting Parsons divided the spoils with the Woollens, winning the first 12-5 but losing the second with a high total of 17-20.

In the only game of the doubles played A. Sims and S. Cummings knocked W. Gracie and George Self out in two straight, 2-12, 3-12. The balance of the main schedule is: No. 1 vs. No. 8, No. 3 vs. No. 5, No. 2 vs. No. 3, No. 6 vs No. 8, No. 6 vs. No. 9, No. 4 vs No. 2, No 3. vs. No. 7, No. 3 vs. No. 3, No. 2 vs. No. 5.

Only one game has been played to date according to reports on the Bill Gracie doubles. The following elimination and first round games are yet to be heard from.

Petes Accepted In Senior A Lacrosse Group

TORONTO, Feb. 26 (CP) — For taking part in Lacrosse games in Rochester, NY, the Ontario Lacrosse Association executive Friday night suspended six players and an official for the 1949 OLA playing season.

Suspended were Roy Morton, William Nelson, Stuart Scott and James McMahon of the 1948 St. Catharines Senior club, W. Evans and J. Hogan, who played early in the 1948 season for Hamilton, and George Cleverly, St. Catharines referee.

The Association said the players lined up with the Rochester club of the United States National Lacrosse League and that Cleverly served as a referee at some of the Rochester games.

The OLA executive ruled that in so doing, the seven acted without OLA permission and in violation of its constitution.

The executive granted a Senior A franchise to the Peterborough club which made the 1948 Senior B championship a runaway. It also gave Weston Lacrosse Club the Senior A franchise given up after the 1948 season by Weston West Yorks.

These moves ensured the Association of a 1949 senior loop including at least eight teams—St. Catharines, Hamilton, Fergus, Brampton, Owen Sound, Mimico, Weston and Peterborough.

TOR ARNEBERG, cutting around the flags racing downhill in the slalom event, easily was the star of the Dartmouth Winter Carnival. There the 20-year-old Hanover junior further sharpened up for the defense of his championship in the Intercollegiate Ski Union meet at Middlebury, Vt., College. He matriculated from Oslo, Norway.

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 26 — (ENS), — The league leading Marmora aggregation ousted the local squad from the TVL title hunt by 10-0 in a wide-open hockey fixture on Friday night before a near capacity crowd. The visitors turning in an effective display of two-way hockey, piled up a commanding lead in the first two periods, and came back in the final frame to fire home six markers. Dutchmen Whip Tigers 4-2, Flick Stars

By The Canadian Press.

Billy Flick Friday night paid off part of the $5,000 that Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen put up to obtain him and Mickey Roth from Stratford Indians midway in the season.

Flick tallied a goal with 40 seconds left in regulation time that gave the Dutchmen a 4-3 decision over Hamilton Tigers and the best-of-seven Ontario Hockey Association Senior A semi-final series, 4-2.

Flick's marker ended a five-year Hamilton reign as OHA senior champions, and will send the Dutchmen against Toronto Marlboros for the league title.

In a Junior A game on Friday night, St. Catharines Teepees won their best-of-three quarter-final series in two straight games as they downed Oshawa Generals 9-5 in St. Catharines.

At Hamilton, both teams were tied 1-1 at the end of the first period and 2-2 at he end of the second. Then Dutchmen outscored the Tigers 2-2 in the last period.

Kitchener scorers besides Flick were Bill Dinning with two and Bill Curik with one. Ab Conick, Clare Shillington and Murray Comfort scored for Hamilton.

The Bengals had enough chances in the first period to clinch the game, but a combination of erratic shooting and fine goaltending by Kitchener's Marcel Pelletier held them back.

Hamilton's Bobby Laurent was forced from the game late in the second period when he suffered torn back muscles while sparring with Blick behind the Hamilton nets.

At St. Catharines, the Teepees had little trouble as they battled on to a 2-2 first period tie to outscore the Generals 3-1 in the second and 4-2 in the third.

TO SQUARE ACCOUNTS—Mike Sharpe, shown above, who demanded a bout with Sandy O'Donnell after the beating his brother Ben took at the hands of O'Donnell this week at the Brock Arena. Manager Jim Laidlaw was quick in granting this request and Mike and O'Donnell will headline next Wednesday's mat card. Laidlaw has also lined up what he considers the best balanced show of the season. In the semi-final, the newcomer, Frank Valois will tangle with Irish Tom Collins and in the opener the great Mike (Prince) Mihalakis will clash with Pat Flanagan.

Cricket Club Welcomed To T-D Setup

Vice-Captain S. Jennings and Secretary A. H. Radford attended the annual meeting of the Toronto and District Cricket Council in Toronto as delegates from the Peterborough Club. This meeting was attended by delegates from the 15 clubs under its jurisdiction.

The president, Mr. W. Paris, extended a welcome to the Peterborough Club on its entry into the Council and a general expression of pleasure was shown. This is the first time Peterborough has been in the Council and it will be of considerable benefit to local cricket as it will ensure more games of a competitive nature and bring Toronto teams to Peterborough for games.

The Council is comprised of 15 teams and these are divided into three divisions. The newly appointed executive will decide which division the Peterborough Club will be placed in and will aso draw up the schedule of games.

Before the meeting a film on "How to Play Cricket" was shown and the local club is making arrangements to secure this film for showing in Peterborough. Further details will be available later.

Will Throw Open British Guiana To World Trade

By BURCHELL O. WILLS

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Feb. 26 (CP)—Lure for 16th-century adventures and opportunists, the vast, untapped wealth of British Guiana soon may be thrown wide to world trade.

Responsible sources here believe Guiana's rivers Essequibo, Berbice and Demerara, are the key to development and exploitation of her virgin wealth.

Engineers of the colonial development corporation are tackling the job of turning these jungle streams into water routes for large freighters.

Blocking the gateway to the interior along the Essequibo is a sprawling sand bar. That bar soon will be the focal point for large-scale dredging operations.

The channel, engineers contemplate, would enable large ships to penetrate the interior as far as Bartica, 45 miles from Essequibo's estuary, the fringe of Guiana's mineral and forest wealth.

Scheme Practical

Technicians point to Essequibo's sister, the Demerara, as proof that the dredging scheme is practical. Cohstant silt removal in the Demerara makes it possible for large ships to tie up in Georgetown harbor.

One theory offered by authorities is that silting in the three streams is caused by "the wash" from the might Amazon several hundred miles south.

However, the Demerara sand bar performed one useful function. During the Second World War, it protected Georgetown harbor from invasion by German submarines.

EDWARD MOORE, 16, (left) and Robert Weaver, 15, stand before an Albany, N.Y., judge. They heard themselves charged with first degree murder as the aftermath of a pitched gun battle between teen-aged boys. The pair, according to police, say they were fired upon by seven boys using BB rifles while ambushed in a deserted barn. The youths returned the fire with .22-caliber rifles and 14-year-old Robert Smith was fatally wounded.

Girl Guide Wins Rare Gold Cord

MILLBROOK, Feb. 26. (ENS)—"Parents' Night" marked the observance of Boy Scout and Girl Guide Week, for which the Anglican parish hall was filled to capacity on Thursday. Prominently displayed in the background was the Guide pennant, with the motto: Be Prepared, and the trefoil with the letters signifying Canadian Girl Guides.

High honor came to the Company when Betty Wright won her Gold Cord, only five or six other Guides in the Dominion reaching this highest point in Guide study and tests. It makes Betty eligible to be chosen to attend the next World Guide Meet whenever that may take place.

Leaders in charge of the program were Mrs. Guy MacKay of the Girl Guides Company, Mrs. Harry Perkin, Brownies; Burton Rowe, Master of the Wolf Cub Pack; J. A. Thompson, Scout Master, his assistant, Brenton Dawson, not being able to attend.

Guides, Brownies and Cubs were in horseshoe formation on the platform for the opening choruses and following this the Brownie Pack demonstrated The Fairy Ring. Elizabeth Ann McKnight and Ada Olan gave the Brownie promise, motto, law and salute. Every number won warm applause, and Dorothy Dawson's introduction of the Brownies had a particularly intriguing ritual.

The Story of how the Brownies started was read by Verdyn Perk-a ,circle a group of action songs in and with the Pack sitting in was sung.

"We are going to invest a Cub" was Burton Lowery's announcement and Ray Lowery became a member of the Pack with appropriate ritual, the Guide Patrol Leaders joining the Cubs on the platform for the final chorus. Between numbers Arlene McPherson played piano solos and Nancy Richards sang, unaccompanied.

A play, "Peace Ceremonial", added variety to an educative program, daity costumes being worn by those taking part, including: Herald, Janet Hobbs; Ships, Judy Hobbs and Nancy Innis; Airplanes, Lenore Ouellette and Marilyn Sanders; Radios Verdyn Perkin and Carol Hawkins. These all formed bridges, which broke down and were rebuilt when Love, Helen Wright and Doreen Chapman, showed how this could be done.

Demonstrations by the Guide Company presented interesting material and included: Guide laws and their everyday uses, Kingfisher patrol, Vanita Chapman, leader; first aid, Swallow Patrol, Francis Dawson, leader; knots and ther uses, Thrush Patrol, Margaret MacKay; how to make a camp bed, Bluebird Patrol, Dorothy Hutchinson; making a camp fire, June Blair, leader.

Presents Badges

The Rev. C. M. MacLean presented the badges. Vivian Chapman, Margaret MacKay, Vanita Chapman, Nancy Richards, Luella Kellett and June Blair, had each passed several tests.

The rector congratulated Mrs. MacKay on the fine community service she is giving with the Guide Company and others who added a word of appreciation were Ralph Innis and L. H. Winslow, Rector's and People's wardens. Prolonged applause showed the parents' approval.

Bob Thompson gave an account of How the Scouts and Guides were formed, and campfire songs and Taps concluded the program.

A highlight of the program was Mrs. MacKay's report of the years activities. Meetings had been held every Thursday evening at the school from October to April; working on the tests featured each gathering and there had been two hikes and several out-of-doors meetings; A camp had been held in July, when the care of, woodcraft, cooking over a campfire and how to live in the open had been among the things learned.

The Guides had repaired clothing shipped to Scotland; had assisted the Brownies, Scouts and Cubs in getting started; had bought uniforms and other supplies, funds being raised through paper collection, sale of cookies, donations from the Lions Club and the Lady Lions, the Canadian Legion, and interest citizens.

A Bill to amend Manitoba's Defamation Act was given second reading in the Legislature on Friday. Refundable Income Tax was an unusual form ... of Saving!

THE unusual feature of refundable income tax—Compulsory Saving—must have convinced some people that regular saving is not so difficult as they had imagined. It brought a double benefit and both should be treasured—the actual money saved—the "education" in saving money. When your cheque comes in, deposit it right in your Imperial Bank savings account. And as for the future, that regular habit of monthly budget for saving should not be lost.

Children Are Often Valued By State In Military Terms

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

It was of little children that Jesus said "Of Such is the Kingdom of Heaven" (Matthew 19:14). He also said, "Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:3).

It is the child-like whose characters can be formed by God. Those whose very poverty of spirit makes possible their enrichment by being filled with the Spirit of God are fit subjects of Christ's kingdom.

Such declarations reveal and emphasize what Jesus meant when He said, "My kingdom is not of this world." He did not mean that the kingdom was remote, somewhere else, or in a far-off future. On the contrary He said that it was here and now. It is "within you" or "in your midst" in whichever way we may translate His words.

The point was that, being here and now, and in this world, the kingdom, which He proclaimed was not of this world because its nature and principles were different from those of the kingdoms of this world, and the ideas, rules, and principles that govern earthly kingdoms.

Not poverty in spirit, but physical strength, brute force, aggressiveness, conquest, and dominance, have been the historic and characteristic ends of worldly kingdoms. If peoples or governments have displayed anything better, it has only been through ideas akin to those proclaimed by Jesus.

These nobler ideals have been instrumental in creating such institutions as all the various agencies now devoted to child welfare. But when the disciples rebuked the mothers who brought their children to Jesus for His blessing, they were only reflecting the conventional attitude concerning children in the worldly kingdoms. We know full well to what extent these worldly kingdoms have valued children in terms of military strength. Napoleon brutally expressed it, when he described the ideal woman as the one with the most sons

The principles of the kingdom that Jesus proclaimed were love and service; not getting, but giving. "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

To the materially minded it seems visionary and impractical. But picture what the world would be, if, instead of 20 centuries of acquisitiveness and aggression, we had had 20 centuries of the practice of the Golden Rule, founded in the love of God and in brotherly love.

Need Repentance And Faith In Forgiveness Of Sins

REV. E. R. JAMES.

Naaman said: Behold, now I know that there is no God in all the earth but in Israel. 2 Kings 5; 15.

A famous foreign Field Marshall makes this confession. He obeyed orders and received the blessing of health by washing seven times in the river Jordan.

In this ancient Scripture three characters stand out and are written for our instruction in righteousness.

ELISHA, the prophet, is unworldly, caring nothing for the wealth of this world, nor for the personalities of great ones, who might be of service to his people. Elisha desired to teach Naaman that the prophet of Jehovah was not dependant on the wealth or patronage of the mighty ones of the world. This is a very important lesson for this generation who look upon the Church and her Ministers as the special property of the rich and influential. Of course, this is a half truth and the Church needs to be reminded that the Lord Christ and His Apostles were poor men. "The Son of Man hath not where to lay His head" is His own confession.

GEHAZI. The servant of Elisha. Not servant in the modern sense, but a close friend and pupil. He hoped that some day the mantle of Elisha would fall on his shoulders, even as it fell on Elisha's from Elijah. Today we would call him the Minister's assistant. Gehazi had one great fault; he loved money and he looked upon the prophet's office as an opportunity of becoming rich by the offerings of the wealthy. Gehazi's spirit still lives. Often a man of brilliant ability enters the sacred office of a Minister of Christ to get money from the well to do congregation. They pay him for his talents, which he has received from God. Such a man becomes clothed with the leprosy of covetousness and goes into outer darkness. Gehazi hindered the work of the prophet when he received gifts from Naaman; who went away thinking that he had paid for his cure. Many a rich man leaves large gifts to the Church expecting to be forgiven his sins because of his money contribution.

NAAMAN. He had two expectations. He was an important man and looked for respectful behaviour from the prophet. He would not even see him. Above all he needed to be cured of his leprosy. He was amazed and annoyed that he should be ordered to bathe seven times in Jordan. His immediate friends persuaded him to obey. Naaman had to receive the favour of cure from a man whose country he had ravaged and to enter into the river with nothing but himself. "Nothing in my hand I bring."

This ancient Scripture would teach us the Gospel principle that forgiveness of sins—spiritual leprosy—is free. The only conditions are repentance and faith. You must not only confess your sins to God through Jesus Christ but you must promise amendment of life. You are to put on the robe of righteousness, which Christ has himself woven through pain and agony. The secret of Christianity is that Christ is able to give you a new heart and put a new Spirit within you that you may become a new creature. You are to be born again, a babe in Christ. And the Spirit of the Lord is given you to enable you to grow into His likeness and become a man revealing something of His goodness. His patience and purity. Just as Naaman's flesh came unto him like unto the flesh of a child, so you are to be RENEWED. This will be seen of men.

I LIVE, YET NOT I BUT CHRIST LIVETH IN ME.

Nuns Arrive In Canada

VONCOUVER, Feb. 26—(CP)—A group of 10 Roman Catholic nuns, obliged to leave Communist-dominated areas of China because of malnutrition and damp cold weather, have reached Vancouver.

Eight Chinese and two occidental Sister of the Precious Blood arrived here by air. The Chinese sisters will go to monasteries in Prince Albert and Gravelbourg, Sask., until they can return to China and the occidental nuns will go to New Hampshire.

The Communists did not expel the nuns, Sister Reparatrice of Manchester, N.H., said. But of 25 nuns in the monastery of Sienhsien, north of Hopei, only four did not suffer from cold and manutrition.

"Staple food of the nuns in China was millet, like chicken-feed," she said. "We also had some cabbage, but no milk, butter, eggs or rice. We spun our own thread from cotton and wool and wove our own clothing."

Chinese were not suffering greatly because Communists were dividing rich men's property among the poor. Rich people were fleeing.

"The Chinese are a peaceful people. As long as they are fed, they don't care who rules them," she said.

Sister Reparatrice saw no fighting. "The Communists came in one gate and the Nationalists walked out the other. At first Communists forbade holding mass but later reversed their decision and permitted freedom of worship."

Shanghai was crowded, but there was no panic. "People sleep in doorways and merchants display their wares on the street."

1,100 Emergency Houses Erected In City

Peterborough has done more to meet the housing emergency in Canada during the last six or seven years than most comparable cities in Canada, said Angus McClaskey, Toronto, regional supervisor for Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation here Friday.

Successive councils looked into the circumstances of their communities, and in their best judgment they decided to take advantage of the housing opportunity that was offered for the benefit of people needing accommodation.

The governmnent agencies, Mr. McClaskey said, had always received constructive co-operation from Peterborough.

Details of disagreement had been amicably considered and negotiations were carried out in a desire to get something accomplished.

Peterborough's record was more co-operation, more action to meet the housing situation, and finally more sales of the houses the government built. Furthermore, Mr. McClaskey said, the experience of the government's integrated housing scheme here, as with Arndon subdivision, Sands and Bateman, Housing Enterprises, had been most successful here.

Peterborough Leads

Peterborough has 1000 government assisted houses that have been built here since 1941-1942, and the various projects were carried out with general satisfaction. As to the number of sales, Fort William exceeded Peterborough, but when the Hatton block of houses was deducted because they are not to remain permanently, Peterborough is in first place for the most sales of houses.

Mr. McClaskey said Peterborough was one of the first cities in Canada to adopt the Wartime Housing scheme, and government representatives hoped that this provision of housing had helped Peterborough through the stringency.

Wm. Reynolds of Reynolds Construction Co. said he appreciated the co-operation he had received from the council and Utilities Commission.

Present at the luncheon were Mayor Swanston and members of the council with Ald. Anglesey presiding in the absence of Ald. Sands, Frank H. Jobbitt of the Board of Education, Keith S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, Wm. J. Ovens, former mayor, R. L. Dobbin, manager, representing the Utilities Commission; Mr. McClaskey and Mr. W. W. Scott, Toronto, of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and others.

VARIETY OF LEAVES

Leaves of three completely different shapes grow simultaneously on the sassafras tree.

IN SEVERING his connection of twelve years with the Examiner, three as city editor, Mr. Pete McGillen was presented with a pen and pencil set by Mr. G. W. Craw, managing editor, on behalf of the staff Friday afternoon. Mr. Craw expressed appreciation of the work of Mr. McGillen, congratulated him on his appointment to the staff of the Toronto Telegram as outdoor editor, and wished him every success in his new job. Mr. McGillen has been editor of the tourist edition of the Examiner, and in the announcement of his new assignment is rated by the Telegram as "Canada's No. 1 authority on when and where to fish and hunt." He is contributing an outdoor column twice a week.

Canada Faces Recession, Not Depression

A slight recession, not a depression, is in store for Canada, according to W. Earle Gordon, president of the Trent Valley Baking Co. He was addressing a Peterborough audience on Friday night at the official opening of the Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign.

"I do not believe we are heading for a depression, but I do believe an adjustment is taking place that had to come and a recession not too severe is in progress." That was his summary of the immediate future.

He included some advice to businessmen: "Business should watch inventories both raw and finished and see that they are in proper balance with sales. Large capital expenditures should be very carefully reviewed and controllable expenses checked weekly. Taking it all in all, 1949 should still be a fairly normal year."

He expressed confidence that Peterborough woud reach its objective. "I understand you have always gone over the top, and you will do it again."

Mr. Gordon described Peterborough as one of Canada's finest cities. "During the last depression you weathered the storm much better than most cities in both unemployment and civic indebtedness."

Cars Collide In City

Two cars collided at the intersection of Park and Sherbrooke Sts. Friday evening, damaging the bumper and grill and denting two fenders on a car driven by J. Steinkrauss, 502 Hunter St. and damaging the right front fender of the car driven by J. Brannen, Norwood.

Mr. Steinkrauss was driving south on Park St. and Mr. Brannen was going west on Sherbrooke St.

First New Home Turned Over To War Veteran

City officials share with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lustic the happiness of receiving the key house at the corner of Montgomery and Sherbourne Streets into which they moved Friday.

This is the first of the 226 houses which Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation are building across the south end of the city for ex-service men and their families.

Fred Lustic was chosen as a veteran of the famous Hasty-Pees (Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment) for occupancy of the bright and comfortable dwelling, with all its evidence of sound construction, which represents the first stage of completion of this housing project.

Seven Other Move In

Seven other families are moving into neighboring houses today, and Reynolds Construction Company will finish six a week until the 26 units immediately west of Peterborough Lock and south of the Peterborough-Brinton Carpet Co. property, are delivered.

Angus McClaskey, Toronto, regional superintendent of Central Mortgage, received the key from William Reynolds of the contracting firm, and in turn handed it to Mayor Max Swanston.

"I am glad to have this privilege of presenting the key of home to Mr. Fred Lustic," His Worship said. "He is a local boy, born and raised in Peterborough. He enlisted with the Hastings-Prince Edward Regiment March 18,1940, went overseas that year, and served five years before he got back. He is married, and has three children, two boys and a girl. His oldest boy is 11 years, the baby of the family is their girl, seven months old. Mr. Lustic is an employee of the Peterborough Lock Co. We all wish them happiness in this brand new home, and I feel sure they are going to like it."

Mr. Lustic opened the door of the house for his wife and children, and they filed in followed by members of the council, Board of Education, Utilities Commission, and representatives of Central Mortgage and Reynolds Construction.

One of Mr. Lustic's first observations and remarks was: "I'm glad to see it's got the best hardware in the market. It was by Peterborough Lock."

Mayor Swanston Speaks

Congratulations were expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Lustic by Mayor Swanston, his immediate predecessor, W. J. Ovens, and the rest of the company, and the sunny spirit of a housewarming and of exploring the premises cellar to gable attic, rested briefly on the visitors. The house was pleasantly warm from the furnace fire, the hardwood floor shone in its newness, and every last detail of the interior was finished and inviting to the ex-service man and his family.

Mr. Lustic's house comprises kitchen, living room, three bedrooms and bath room, ample accommodation of linen and clothes closets. The walls are high throughout, including the basement with its furnace and hot water heater, tap for tubs, and fuel bin. The kitchen is spacious enough for dining purposes. The living room is 16 ft. by 13 ft., and the third room on the ground floor may be used as a dining room if the family so wishes.

The windows are all of aluminum frame and sash, and are equipped with outer storm windows which may be left on in summer for cooling effect. That is a detail of choice. The building is insulated, the floor joists are set in the basement wall, and the whole frame of the structure gives appearance of solidness. It is the latest type of Central Mortgage planning and is the larger of the two styles of houses that are being built by the Corporation. The other, and there are many of them in the 226 project, is of bungalow design, with two bedrooms instead of three in the Lustic unit.

The heating system is gravity hot air with a register in each room. The bathroom is at the rear on the first floor, immediately inside the back door, a convenience designed for families with small children.

Although the interior is finished, the exterior of the first group has to be painted, walks laid, and the surrounding ground graded. That is work which simply has to wait for finer weather.

The five room house rents at $37.50 a month and the four room bungalow at $34.50.

SPEAKS TO HI-Y

James Fraser, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, is guest speaker at the Junior Hi-Y luncheon Tuesday. Mr. Fraser's topic is "It Pays to be Honest."

Community Fund Campaign Launched By Earle Gordon

More than 200 canvassers, team captains and other campaign leaders attended the banquet at the CGE cafeteria on Friday night to officially mark the opening of the 1949 Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign. By March 4—exactly one week's time—it is hoped that the objective of $75,000 will have been reached.

Guest speaker who officially launched the drive was W. Earle Gordon of Toronto, a well-known businessman, eminent in the field of community work. It is estimated that since early in the depression days he had given advice and guidance to more than 11,000 people, particularly youths.

Subject of his address was "This Decisive Hour," and he briefly surveyed some of the most pressing problems, domestic and international, now facing Canadians.

"Mankind is now engaged in a great race against time," said Mr. Gordon. "The big question is not whether the world will ever be one. Are we on the road to totalitarianism or democracy, regimentation or freedom, materialism or spirituality. This great question is being decided now, and it is closely related to your own campaign."

The speaker outlined some of the present-day problems: the Berlin crisis, French situation, Balkan triangle, and trouble in China, India and South America. Other matters for concern, he felt, were Communism in Canada, veteran's housing, and youth gangs.

Denying that he was a pessimist, he stated: "Let me say as an abiding conviction, I believe in Canada, in her astonishing future. Whatever difficulties, anxieties, and concerns we may have in common with the rest of the world and which may last a longer or shorter period, they play no part in my belief in the ultimate future of this great country."

Paid The Price

Loss of leadership was one of the worst after effects of the recent war he said. "I believe the peoples of the world have not understood the secondary adverse effects of a greater war. When the war entered our homes and we faced the loss of fathers, brothers, and husbands, when trusted friends and associates did not return home, or returned broken in body, we assumed we had paid the price of war."

People in Great Britain are very grateful for the food parcels sent them, he said. "The dear old Empire is making a grand effort to recover and the sacrifices of her people are not only commendable but a challenge to us who still have so much."

Mr Gordon strongly criticized Russian Foreign policy.

"It should be recognized by all thinking people that the great nations of the world have tried since the close of the war to deal with Russia, and accept them into the family. We know now where we stand; everything we value would ultimately be lost if we did not take the stand that is firm and clear."

"The Marshall Plan was the great answer to a needy and suffering world, and to keep our feet firmly in Europe. Russia hoped for world conquest after The First World War and lost. She is still trying after The Second World War, and while she has not yet lost the tables are turning both inside and out, but we are far from in the clear."

He cited some of the achievements of Canada in the world of commerce and industry and commented "enterprise and efficiency must be given credit, but our generation should humbly recognize that the major credit is not ours but belongs to those who came before us and to the Creator."

"A tragedy of tragedies," was his description of the cited statistics that only 40 per cent of the electorate vote at dominion and provincial elections. And he asked members of his audience to always use their franchise, encourage others to use theirs, and bring up their children to vote as responsible citizens.

The recent trial of Cardinal Mindszenty of Hungary and the current trial of the 15 protestant pastors in Bulgaria were held up by him as examples of what to expect from a Communist regime.

"They have an inflexible program and would control the minds and souls of our children," he said.

Mr. Gordon deplored the present lack of leaders for youth. He claimed there were only half enough school teachers for Canada and said that in his experience 80 per cent of the cases juvenile delinquency were caused by broken homes.

"In soil or in soul, we reap what we sow. Small groups when committed to a great task, can turn the tide. The bad adventures in the world were started by small groups. There is no limit what a man can do if he does not care who gets the credit, and let us all remember—no matter how old one is, the best years of his life are the year that are left.

"In this decisive hour we cannot relax," he said. "May your campaign go over the top."

Form Conference As Protest Racial Prejudice

National Conference of Christains and Jews was formed as a body to protest against organizations such as the Ku Klux Klan Mrs. Stella Counselbaum told on Friday students of the Petterborough Collegiate and Vocational School. She added that the three bodies, the Catholics, Protestants and Jews, form the Conference to throw a challenge to the associations which show religious or racial prejudice.

"No faith is better than any of the others in our association nor are there any attempts at conversion of the people in the group. The responsibility of the association is to promote the idea of dignity of the individual."

Mrs. Counselbaum said a Catholic priest thought of the idea of one week put aside for the Brotherhood of Men. She explained that this time of the year was not the only time for thought on the subject, but through the whole year it should be remembered that all the peoples of the earth are brothers.

"People don't realize how fortunate they are in America until they have been abroad to Europe. While there I met many children who were victims of the war. Children separated from their parents and lost on the continent of confusion."

Did Not Know How to Play

Remembering one case she told about a little boy who had a ball and didn't know what to do with it. He squeezed it, bit it and dropped it.

"This boy had lived underground for about four years. All he thought about was building bridges or some other career. He knew history well, but he didn't know how to play. A boy of thirteen didn't know how to play."

Mr. Counselbaum said it would be a wonderful thing to have some of the lost children of Europe come to the United Sates and Canada.

"Learn to know strangers", she advised. Remember everyone has faults no matter who they are. Make up your mind to make your life richer by meeting strangers."

"Everyone likes a person who slaps a man on the back and says a hearty hello with it. A good greeting it one of the best things in life."

C. S. Browne introduced Mrs. Counselbaum this week in Montreal, Kingston and Peteroborough. They are all from New York and are of Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religions.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Framework, Heart of House, Should Not Be Cheapened

Framework is a stage of construction that is of most vital importance for generally when you inspect a finished home it is well hidden from your eyes and only the most experienced can detect hidden defects. This is the frame construction, so easily cheapened, and very properly called the "heart" of a home. It is wise to know what kind of wood is used in the construction of the framework of your home as well as how it is put together.

Be sure the wood used in your home is seasoned, either sun-dried or kiln dried. When properly cured wood is used, it greatly lessens the possibility of shrinkage, plaster cracks and buckled floors. Undried or green wood shrinks, warps, and checks, causing considerable trouble and expensive repairs. First point of frame construction are the joists (the seams on which the floors are laid). 2"x8", 2"x10" or 2"x12 joists are used as required for span. They are spaced 16 inches apart and where unusal stress or weight occurs, a double joist is used. In the case of a partition carrying heat ducts or plumbing pipes, two pairs of joists are used with trimmers cut in between each pair and spaced on 16-inch centres. The parallel joists on all stairs wells or other framed opening are doubled or tripled as the case may require. A box joist or outer joist running entirely around the building is a sign of extra quality.

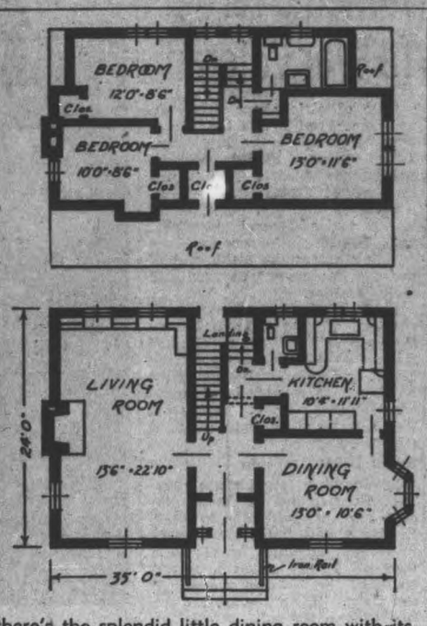
Made More Rigid

Bridging, or X-bracing nailed up between joists make them more rigid and aid in properly distributing concentrated loads. The best type of bridging is 1"x3" rough-sawed white pine, nailed into position with two nails, rather than one, is a quality feature not to be overlooked; the extra nail adds extra strength. The white pine does not split with nailing.

Atop the joists the sub-flooring is laid. This is always laid diagonally on about a 45 degree angle to the side walls. Laying it diagonally causes some waste of wood, but this is amply compensated for in that it prevents the warping and opening of finish-floor joints and adds to the rigidity of the building. 1"x6" is used in the best construction with the butt joints cut diagonally over the parallel with the joist. Slight spacing is allowed for swelling due to moisture.

When we come to the outside partitions much the same specifications hold for studs, the upright framing members of the home, as for joists. Studs are never less than 2"x4" in cross sections and never spaced on less than 16-inch centres. The corner posts are usually composed of at least three studs strongly nailed together. The studding rests on a single 2" x4" bottom plate and topped with a double 2"x4" plate These specifications also hold true on all inside partitions.

A wall has a great deal of weight to carry and because of this all openings in the wall must be reinforced if a high standard of quality is to be maintained. Doors and windows, therfore, in a quality-built home are provided with double studding on either side and headers of the three-piece or channel type. For example, short headers should be made with two pieces of 2'x4" nailed securely side by side making a 4"x4" with another piece nailed on the bottom making a 4"x6". This makes for greater strength, less shrinkage and gives a smooth joint for finish trim.



HOUSE No. 150.—Nestled on a fine site, sloping at the rear to the Assiniboine River, is this grey shingle home. Shutters and roof are dark green, while the chimney is red brick. All trim is white. The owners should feel very proud of their new home — for there is a fascinating atmosphere both inside and outside this six-room house. That big living room with its fireplace, bookshelves and huge windows is something extraordinary for a house of this size. Then there's the splendid little dining room with its spacious bay, to say nothing of the bright, efficient kitchen and downstairs washroom. And the charm doesn't stop on the first floor by any means, for upstairs are three bedrooms as quaint as can be, yet window and closet space is in ample supply. Notice the hall shelves and under-the-eaves storage area. David Ferries was the designer and builder. For further information, write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Devalue Dollar Drew Proposal

By CLYDE BLACKBURN.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 — (CP). — Maintaining the Canadian dollar at par in relation to the United States dollar was the effect of "subsidizing United States imports," George Drew, Progressive Conservative Leader, told a press conference on Friday.

He said that if we were leading the government he would revalue the dollar for purposes of trade with the United States at something near its actual value as shown by open trading on the New York money market.

His implication was that if the discount on the Canadian dollar in the United States was around 10 per cent, where it was maintained during the war, it would discourage Canadian purchases in that country.

Nevertheless the Opposition Leader said he was in favor of the greatest possible freedom of trade with the United States — and with other countries.

Mr. Drew said:

Government spending and "beneficences" in election years is something that should not be tolerated and especially when, as at present, the government had large surpluses and sources of revenue under its control.

Neither he nor anyone else should attempt to discuss details of the North Atlantic Security Pact until the draft is available. This explained his silence on that subject so far although, he said, his attitude toward the principle of mutual security was well known.

Another food parcel will be packed for the Allonby Women's Institute, England at the next meeting. During the meeting a food parcel was packed for a war brides mother.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Cut Passport Fee

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—(CP).—External Affairs Minister Pearson said Friday in the Commons that Canadians now may renew ther passports for a fee of $2. Previously the passport office charged $5 for a renewal. Refunds of $3 will be sent to those who pad the $5 fee for renewals after the Canadian Citizenship Act came into force Jan. 1, 1947.

WI Hears Address On Children's Habits

WARKWORTH, Feb. 26 (ENS) —Percy Branch of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. Gordon McCubbin for the February meeting with the president, Mrs. Oscar Laver presiding.

The health nurse, Miss L. Dockendorff was the guest speaker on the subject "Children's Bad Habits".

A donation of $5 was sent to the rural girls in Junior Institutes and Junior Home Making Clubs for the Scholarship fund.

It was decided that the March meeting would take the form of a pot luck dinner for the community, with a quilting in the afternoon.

The visiting committee reported nine cards sent and 14 calls. The Motto Break the Monotony or Break the Home-maker was answered by the president leading in a discussion with nearly every member taking part.

Mrs. N. McCubbin and her assistant, Mrs. Elmer Laver gave an outline of the Sewing Sisters Work. Mrs. C. Potter gave a paper on home economics and Mrs. N. Gummer gave a paper on citizenship.

Mrs. W. Woods gave a report on the Agricultural Convention held in Toronto.

Two letters were read from the adopted Institute in England acknowledging boxes sent from this branch.

Hold Winter Manoeuvres

HELSINKI, Finland, Feb. 26—(Reuters)—The Russian army is holding winter manoeuvres between Petsamo and Salla, where the Soviet frontier touches Norway and Finland, a reliable source said Friday night. Finnish military circles were unwilling to interpret these unusual manoeuvres as a threat against Finland. They may be caused by Norway's decision to participate in the proposed Atlantic Pact discussions.

Charge Reduced

MONTREAL, Feb. 26 (CP) — A 41-year-old watchman, Alexandre Ayotte, who shot and fatally wounded his 14-year-old son, Guy, last August was found guilty on a reduced charge of criminal negligence here Friday. He will be sentenced March 7. Previously, Ayotte had been charged with manslaughter. The boy was killed after he asked his father to shoot a hat off his head.

Make Changes In Jet Fighters

OTTAWA, Feb. 26 — (CP). — A start has been made, it was learned Friday night, on a slight modification of 85 British-built Vampire jet fighters, now distributed to various auxiliary RC AF squadrons across the country.

The modification entails the removal and replacement of a fastener on a small cowling underneath the fuselage of the aircraft.

Central Air Command at Trenton, it was understood, had complete authority to make the change which means the grounding of the planes for a short time.

No general order grounding the aircraft was issued from Air Headquarters in Ottawa.

A Toronto paper says in a front page story that the grounding order affects 75 planes. It adds:

"Although they lacked a specific motive for the grounding order, Trenton officers noted that a series of technical problems had been keeping Vampire fighters out of action for several weeks. Only one or two machines from Central Flying School were in the air at a time. The rest were undergoing repairs or adjustments."

100 YEARS + 10

The first four advertisements reproduced here appeared at the time of our 100th Anniversary. They gave the history of The Peterborough Lumber Company since its inception in 1839.

Now we are 10 years older and a fifth is now reproduced to show that Peterborough Lumber Company has advanced with the times and are keeping abreast of changing conditions.

The growth of this company is part and parcel of the history of Peterborough and district and as such these advertisements are reproduced with the thought in mind that they will make interesting and informative reading for the people of Peterborough.

1.

100 YEARS of CONTINUOUS SERVICE

Sole Survivor of Pioneer Industries

Founded in 1840 by Samuel Dickson, The Peterborough Lumber Company is rounding out a century of manufacturing as this city's oldest industry. Old as years go, but vigorous, alert and flourishing with the fullness of their experience!

Lumbering was the leading industry of a century ago, and later, when mills operated by water power hummed along the river at Lakefield, Nassau, Auburn and within the straggling limits of the pioneer Peterborough on both sides of the Otonabee.

Time and its mishaps and progressive changes have wiped out almost the last remnants of all that enterprise. Only The Peterborough Lumber Company has survived the long years of test and trial, adjusting its methods and outlook to the new ideas of successive generations since Samuel Dickson and T. G. Hazlitt began in turn to guide its course and management through the problems of their times.

A few of the oldest citizens remember those men and their big lumber mills on either side of the river at the wooden dam now owned and modernized by the Quaker Oats Company, their sturdy abilities and their rugged integrity as business men, whose ideals have been a rich heritage and a fine and enduring tradition of the Peterborough Lumber Company.

Their work and their products went into the building of Peterborough In their own day they created employment for hundreds of men, most of whom are now gone with them. They took time from their business to give to the public affairs of Peterborough, and they sought no concessions from the ratepayers

Samuel Dickson and T. G. Hazlitt won the confidence and goodwill of the old community of Peterborough. Those intangible assets remain the foundation of this company as successors of the old Dickson Lumber Company. They are an unbroken bond of assurance and faith, strengthened by expert knowledge of the building problems of today, linking the Company with this modern city of 1939.

100 Years' Experience in Lumbering At Public's Service

Changes Since 1906

Deeply rooted in the life of this community, the Peterborough Lumber Company is geared to the present day pace of industry. Occasionally its thoughts may revert to the past, but its outlook and its plans are of today and tomorrow.

The affairs of the old Dickson Lumber Company, its predecessor from the years back to 1840, ended in 1906 with the sale of its interests which were largely acquired by the emerging Peterborough Lumber Company with Dickson Davidson, John Thomson and George Lenton as its executive officers. In that broad change the connection with the original Dickson family was retained in the directorate. Lumbering operations continued in Cavendish township; every Spring brought a new cut of logs down the lakes and river, and the company's big sawmill boomed on Burnham's Point.

That year of 1906 was the dividing line between the past and the present of the Peterborough Lumber Company. Frank Linton joined the company in that year as secreary-treasurer, remaining in that position until his death in 1924. Those men of the period of change and readjustment to the new day have passed into the shadows with the pioneers who had died before them, Samuel Dickson, T. G Hazlitt and their associates.

Time marches relentlessly on. In 1933 the Peterborough Lumber Company bought the planing mill plant on Monaghan Road, formerly owned by the Canadian Aladdin Co., Ltd. This expansion permitted a broadening of service in the community, by manufacturing on the premises a complete range of doors, windows, sash, cabinets and all types of wood-working, including the material for houses, offices, churches, factories and other buildings

In 1935 the equipment and stocks of lumber on Burnham's Point were moved to the Monaghan Road plant, transferring the company's operations from the local waterfront for the first time in its history Convenience for customers, utmost efficiency in production and greater facility in supplying the increasing business were the objectives of that departure.

The Peterborough Lumber Company feel proud of their policy relating to their employees. Men of advancing years have not been thrust aside and replaced by younger men; their experience has been appreciated; and on the other hand the Company has been repaid by the enthusiasm and loyalty of its employees.

Of special interest to citizens planning to build houses is the display room in the Hunter Street offices of the Company, affording all the latest information regarding building materials with estimates, ideas and all the assistance that can be given by a staff and organization which has the experience and also the desire to carry forward the Peterborough Lumber Company's policy of service.

The public is invited to make use of the Hunter Street display offices at all times, and to consult the staff on questions relating to building materials; plans, costs and other problems that crop up in the planning of new work.

Rafts of Squared Pine on the Otonabee

River Drivers Now Drive Trucks

Motor trucks and good roads into the wood lands have stripped the lumber industry of its old romance.

Gone is the virgin pine from the north country of this district, and gone too, are the men who cut it into square timber. So expert with the axe were they that the four sides seemed to have been planed by saws.

Cribs of squared pine, running rapids of the Otonabee River between Lakefield and Peterborough, often thrilled the townspeople of those years Four or five men assigned to each crib, had long oars to keep it moving in quiet reaches of the river Then, over the old wooden dams it went, nosing deep into the turbulent water below, and drenching the "river drivers" as they were called, up to their necks. It was dangerous business One summer five men were drowned as a crib broke up, plunging and jolting over a dam.

Below Peterborough the men came ashore, and started back to Lakefield again to float another crib, incidentally dropping into one of the many taverns in the old town for refreshment. Meanwhile the cribs were towed on to Rice Lake and Trenton where they were assembled into huge rafts of squared pine, taken in tow again to Quebec, and loaded into ships for delivery in the Old Country.

All that color has faded out of local lumbering. Even the great bays of logs at Harwood, Peterborough, Nassau, Lakefield and Young's Point have receded into the memories of the industry, as the chapters of its past, as the strident saws one by one ceased their noisy work, and mills were dismantled to be set up again nearer their sources of supply.

In this 100th year of the Peterborough Lumber Company its men fell trees as of old in the Galway woods, but the logs will be cut into lumber at a mill near the winter camp, and its products trucked to the Company's yards in the city

The old methods are gone, but the essential service of The Peterborough Lumber Company continues — finding stands of timber and cutting it into the materials needed in all the city's building

We Have Every "Stick" You Need In Building

Our Experience Of 100 Years Can Help You.

Ask Us About Your Building Plans

To have been consulted by the home builders of Peterborough about the construction and repair of houses, and, to use a present day term, their modernization, has been an essential factor in the continuing success of the Peterborough Lumber Company in the 100 years they have been doing ubsiness in this city and district.

To help prospective builders get the most value for the money they intend to spend is the beginning and the end of that service it is given cheerfully. It is something for which there is no charge because, frankly, we receive that confidence and goodwill without which there can be no continuing success, no business record of a full century.

And with all the swift changes that have developed in the building industry of recent years, the Peterborough Lumber Company is better equipped today than ever before to help the public get the most value out of the money they expend in the construction of new houses and in alterations to other houses now occupied.

The Company invites enquiries about houses and other buildings about every "stick" of material that may be needed from the lumber for the forms for concrete foundations to the gables on the roof joists, flooring in hard and soft woods, doors and frames, window sash, interior trim of all kinds, fabricated products, insulation and so on.

It is the business of the Peterborough Lumber Company and its staff to know these details, and the information is offered to the public simply for the asking.

Since the Company acquired the Aladdin plant on Monaghan Road seven years ago, and consolidated there the business that had been carried on from Burnham's Point, production has been expanded into the manufacture of all lines of interior wood trim and fittings.

All these can be bought here in Peterborough. You can see what you are buying. Stocks are kept in supply for immediate delivery. It may not be generally known that the Company's local mill cuts around 1,500,000 feet of lumber annually, and between 40 and 50 employees are on its payroll.

A feature of this branch of the business is the manufacture of expertly cut and carved fittings for churches, banks, schools and other public buildings, all these supplies made by the Peterborough Lumber Company here at home.

Your enquiries at the Hunter Street office of the Company about any building or repair plans you have in mind will receive the careful attention of our staff, which is fully qualified by experience to be of help in making every dollar count in value to you.

110 YEARS of CONTINUOUS SERVICE

Scientific Forest Conservation Assures Continuous Cutting

During the last 10 years, many changes have taken place in Peterborough. The name of our city has become known most favorably across this continent as well as in many parts of Europe and Asia, and particularly in the British Isles.

A large measure of this reputation can be credited to the citizens who are the workers in our industrial plants, whose workmanship has gone into the products of our factories producing nationally and internationally known merchandise.

Peterborough in 1948 ranked tenth among the cities of Canada in industrial production. Peterborough Lumber Company takes pride in having grown with our city.

Today we have a staff of 150 employees. Our planing mill on Monaghan Road ranks high up among the mills of Ontario. Our sawmill at this location is capable of sawing 1,000,000 feet of lumber a year, and has done this during the war years. Within the last decade our Galway sawmill has been replaced by a larger unit located in Cavendish township, Peterborough county, with a production capacity of 40,000 feet daily. Our saw logs are cut in Peterborough county, and the company policy is carried out on a silvicultural policy of forest conservation.

Our camp accommodation in sawmill and logging operations is comparable with the best that is provided by the lumber industry in Canada.

Our logging operations are carried on practically entirely in Peterborough county on lands held under license from the Department of Lands and Forests, on which we estimate there are some 25 million or more feet of merchantable timber at the present time. This stand consists of hard and soft wood, with an additional crop which will approach maturity in the next 20 or 25 years.

We have added to our planing mill equipment a modern cross circulation dry kiln enabling us to make up from kiln-dried stocks, products of our mill such as doors, trim, sash, mouldings, etc. Our stock of lumber, flooring, builders' supplies, plywoods and allied products enables the customer to secure practically his entire requirments at one location. As in the past, our staff is always ready to render any assistance possible to the citizens and the community of Peterborough.

A vote of thanks to the Auxiliary was moved by the chairman and John Anderson.

Normal School Students' At Home Friday Evening

Peterborough Normal School's biggest event of the year is the "At Home." The Literary Society of 1949 chose Friday evening for the function and prepared to entertain more than 450 guests.

An entrancing scene of softly falling snow against a night sky was created within the building by the decorating committee. Delicate lacy patterned flakes fell from canopies of white and blue streamers and simulated frosty clusters dotted the window panes.

Warm welcome was extended to entrants in the winter wonderland by Principal L. W. Copp and Mrs. Copp and also by Mr. D. McKnight, president of the School Literary Society, Miss Marion Bayne, vice-president, Miss Olga Johnston, dean, assisted by Mr. M. N. Hutchison, and Miss Vevey Jameson, past vice-president. Miss Alberta Anderson of Otonabee was representing the Alumni students invited.

A Russian farce, "A Marriage Proposal" by Anton Tchekov, presented under direction of Mr. W. L. Woodruff, English master, was the highlight of the entertainment. Three students made up the cast of this uproarious piece: Edward Loveday as Stepan Stepanovitch Tschubukov, a country farmer, John Armstrong as Ivan Vassiliyitch, next-door neighbor of Tschubukov, and Vevey Jameson as Natalia Stepanovna, his daughter. An admirable stage setting had been prepared, and the comedy of the suitor who quarreled with his beloved about dogs and property, when he should have been proposing to her, was carried through with great spirit and liveliness. The audience was appreciative, and the play was performed to the accompaniment of roars of laughter.

Miss Marion Sloan of Lakefield designed the artistic stage setting depicting the interior of a middle class Russian farmer's home about 1914. She was assisted in carrying it out by Miss Ruth Hircock of Cobourg who designed the costumes under supervision of Miss Johnston. Stage manager was Miss Jeanne Parliament from Picton and the lighting effect were produced by Ron Macklem of Belleville.

Voices of the entire student body, trained and led by Mr. Quirt McKinney, were heard in three songs and an orchestral chorus called "A Quodlibet." Miss Ruth Hircock was soloist in "Deep River" a Negro spiritual and the other numbers were "Song of the Volga Boatmen" and "I Love You Truly."

Refreshments were served in the library by students under direction of Miss Johnston, assisted by Mrs. John Allen. The decorations had been arranged with Miss Betty Green in charge.

A games room on second floor proved a popular addition to the evening's program. Mr. Jack Gray of Belleville was in charge and equipment in use was provided by Peterborough Recreation Commission. Dancing was enjoyed in the third floor auditorium.

Gala decorations throughout the school were put up under direction of Miss C. Wagar and Mr. C. D. Munro with Miss Hircock in charge.

The invited guests included Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bannister, Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Madill, Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Birkin, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott, Mr and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, Senator Iva C. Fallis and Mr. Fallis, Senator J. J. Duffus and Mrs. Duffus, Mayor M. J. Swanston and Mrs. Swanston, Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Ian McRae, Mr. and Mrs. J. Break Down Prejudices Peterborough Women Told

First Brotherhood Week of Canadian Council of Christians and Jews was observed in Peterborough, Friday. Roman Catholic, Protestant and Jewish women were assembled in the Empress Hotel for the afternoon to hear prominent American women of each faith speak.

First was Mrs. Ellen O'Gorman Duffy, introduced by Miss May Grady, president of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Women's League. This speaker has done outstanding work to enlist wider interest and support of the program and principles of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

What she calls her most important mission is helping to break down misconceptions among non-Roman Catholics regarding the Roman Catholic Church and its doctrines and practices. When asked if this work has been successful she said "Yes. For one thing it has made people aware of the harm prejudice can do, thus making them more determined to keep it from taking root in their own communities."

When Mrs. Duffy was asked "What can an individual do to eradicate racial or religious prejudice" she replied: "Begin with yourself. Then with your immediate circle. After that engage in community enterprises which are not exclusively work of your own group. Get to know what is being done by the different religious organizations in matters of common civic interest and give them whatever support you can."

Speaking to the audience before her and on the air, Mrs. Duffy said "Our objectives are all the same. To eliminate intolerance and bigotry frequently resulting about people unlike ourselves."

Can't Have Division

"Where a people is divided a conqueror comes to power," she warned. She did not mean, however, that they should come together through amalgamation of religious belief and practice, but on matters of civic concern to all. "Peace begins in our own street. A united neighborhood means a united city. The world is the sum of its cities and nations."

Mrs. Ada W. Bowman, member of the Unitarian Church, spoke after an introduction by Mrs. A. A. McIntyre, vice president of the Local Council of Women.

Harmony among people of different race and religion was her theme. She compared it to the harmony produced by musical instruments in coordination and the notes of discord that strike to the core of what we stand for are the prejudice and bigotry. "Some people criticize the discord and are blind to the harmony of the whole," she said. "We must face the imperfections that are there and work together for a greater brotherhood." Do not merely protest that we understand each other; practise what you preach."

Mrs. Bowman declared that moral force alone will defeat the destruction that atomic warfare would bring. She urged that work for construction be as steadfast as it was for the destruction of enemies during the war.

Stresses Publicity

To reach those people who will not come out to meetings she suggested greater use of newspaper, radio and films. "Let brotherhood not be thought of just at church or synagogue but carried into every day living."

Jewish member of the trio, Mrs. Stella Counselbaum, of Chicago, was introduced by Mrs. Harry Cherney, president of Peterborough Chapter oof Hadassah. This speaker is a pioneer in the field of education in good human relations, and is serving in an effort to break down racial and religious discrimination.

She said Brotherhood Week is being celebrated in 17 countries and pointed to the great confidence in people which must have been felt by three American men who founded it.

For enthusiastic support of the great movement in this community, Mrs. Counselbaum suggested having essay contests on important events. These could be started through Home and School groups or by church organizations as has been done in her country.

"If war is made in the minds of men, so too is peace. It is the women, and especially parents, who suffer such grief at the loss of loved ones in war, so they should all work toward education against it." Mrs. Counselbaum added "Ask nothing for yourselves that you would deny another."

Concluding she said "As you go away from this meeting I hope you will start activity to promote the brotherhood of man and the fatherhood of God."

Mrs. Charles Watt of the Salvation Army expressed thanks for the heightened feeling of brotherhood aroused by the three speakers.

DOROTHY DIX

Fiance's Old Flames Make Dull Topic for Girl Friend

DEAR MISS DIX: For eight months I have been keeping company with a young man who at times is enthusiastic about our getting married and at other times is deeply pessimistic. Also, he speaks constantly of his past "conquest," referring to his old girl friends whose pictures and letters he carries around in his pockets.

Dorothy Dix

I do not want to be narrow about this, nor am I jealous. But will you please help me to decide whether or not these petty things should disturb me, or if I should just take what he calls "an adult point of view" on the whole situation?

BETWIXT AND BETWEEN

ANSWER: If the "adult point of view" consists in engaged couples and husband and wives turning a sympathetic eye on extramarital affairs of lovers and husbands and wives, few will be found to subscribe to such an altruistic doctrine. For love in monopolistic, and probably there never was a man or woman who really enjoyed watching a sweetheart or a husband or wife having a romantic affair with another.

Hence, when your fiance constantly throws his past "conquests" into your teeth, he is not taking "an adult point of view" of the matter. He is showing how childish he is. He is acting like a little boy who has to brag about what a big red apple he has and being teacher's pet. The man who is a real lady-killer keeps silent about his affairs. He kisses, but never tells. When a man goes about with his pockets stuffed with the pictures of his old flames and the love letters that foolish girls have written him, it is a dead giveaway that he is no heartbreaker among the girls. He is a has-been, or a never-was.

Poor Bet

But, all the same, a girl makes a poor bet when she marries a man who is always bragging about what a devil he is among the ladies. It is bad taste, for one thing, and lies, for another thing, and for the balance no woman wants to spend her life listening to a husband recount his amours.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 21 and have been admiring a young man for the past two years without his ever having noticed me. I call him sometimes and talk to him and he is very friendly when he sees me, but he never calls me up or dates me.

Should I keep on trying to get this man, or just give up and be a quitter? I think any man worth having is certainly worth waiting for. What do you think about it?

ANXIOUS

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It seems to me that you are following a very cold trail and that your chances of snaring the young man are so poor that you had just as well call it a day and turn your attention to some more responsive youth.

Women and men play the love game differently and use a different technique. When a woman wants a man she chases him, and the more she chases him the faster he runs and the less apt she is to ever catch him. But when a man is in love with a girl who is indifferent to him, he just camps down on her doorstep and is Johnny-on-the-spot who drives away all other suitors until, in the end, she generally marries him.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My wife insists that I have no right to to open her letters, either business or social. I believe that I have that privilege. Of course I do not expect her to open my letters nor does she want to do so. Which one of us is right?

PUZZLED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your wife is. There is nothing more insulting that a husband can do than to open his wife's letters. It is a slap in the face that any decent woman resents. It violates her privacy. It eliminates her independence. Somehow it takes away all of the pleasure and thrill getting a letter for it to have been opened by someone else who has read it, and commented on it, and discussed it probably with strangers or other members of the family and told all the news that was in it.

Of course, of a husband has no confidence in his wife and he opens her letters to see if she is having carryings-on with some man, it is one thing. But it is another thing when the person to whom the letter was written is wise and trustworthy.

You say that you do not expect you wife to open your letters, nor does she want to. Don't you think your wife is as much entitled to her letters as you are to yours?

Show Courtesy To Tourists Advice Given To Women

The phase of Chamber of Commerce work that deals with Canada's major industry—the tourist trade—was Manager James Fraser's topic when he addressed the Soroptimist Club Friday evening. His point was the fact that, though extremely busy women, the members could greatly aid this business by being friendly to the tourists in the stores and on the streets. 'Make them feel that we like to have them by some extra courtesy" he said.

Mr. Fraser asked this of Soroptimists on the principle of to make a dollar you must make a friend" which he said is a definition for the public relations system used everywhere today.

"There is hardly a Canadian who doesn't benefit in some way from the US currency spent in thi country each year" Mr. Fraser declared. Many think only of the accommodation which they obtain but this is not where their biggest spending is done. The average tourist spends 30 cents to every dollar on such items as china, woollens, blankets and novelties. For food and beverages he spends 22 cents, for accommodation 17 cents, gas and service 12 cents, amusement .09 cents transportation .07 cents, incidentals, .03 cents. It is also noteworthy that amusement is not a major item. Each of these expenditures means extra business for a retailer.

On the other hand the tourist stimulates capital expenditure by Canadians from the owner of the plush resort to the roadside hamburger stand. "Like every other consumer he is a wearer-out and every place that he uses will have need of home repairs on his departure. Again the tourist dollar changes hands" Mr. Fraser pointed out.

Those seeking tourist business know that worn out equipment must be replaced, changes must be made to keep up to date and paint kept bright. The visitor is paying for service and he will not tolerate obsolete, dingy accommodation. He knows he is helping to pay our taxes and has already lifted a considerable burden from our shoulders, so he can demand the best. The speaker advised that there is much to be desired in the type of resorts in the Kawartha district.

Mr. Fraser explained how the Chamber of Commerce makes the contracts which eventually bring tourists here. First he dramatized a scene in the home of Mr. Average Guy with Mrs. Guy bringing up the subject of holidays. This leads to a letter to the Provincial or Federal government. Names are recorded and sent out to various Chamber of Commerce offices and the staff then has the task of weeding out those who desire something like we have to offer. A form letter is then sent to them and this year it will be accompanied by the vacation edition of the Peterborough Examiner. 1,000 copies have been purchased for this purpose, he reported.

Mr. Fraser told the Club that Chamber of Commerce is also an international organization, recognized in 48 countries. Peterborough membership totals 350 at the present time.

The speaker was introduced by Miss A. L. Thomson and thanked by Dr. Agnes K. Moffat.

Included in the program was an outline of the work of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews given by Mrs. Enith Scott. This was in recognition of Brotherhood Week which has been endorsed by the Service Club Council of Petesborough.

First use was made of new Soroptimist song books, compiled by Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan, with attractive covers designed by her also.

To End Annoying Cough, Mix This Recipe, at Home

Here is the well known old recipe which thousands of housewives have found to be a dependable means of breaking up winter coughs. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs very little, but it does give quick relief.

From any druggist, get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex. Pour this into a 16 ounce bottle and fill the bottle with granulated sugar syrup, made with 2 cups of sugar and 1 cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—it's easy. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.) Thus you make 16 ounces of a very efficient medicine, and you get four times as much cough syrup for your money. It never spoils and children love its taste.

This home mixture soothes the irritated throat membranes with surprising ease. It loosens the phlegm and eases the soreness very promptly.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, a well known and reliable soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if it does not please you in every way.

DALTON — In loving memory of my dear father, Francis Albert Dalton, who passed from this life to his reward above Feb. 26, 1948. —Ever remembered by his son Ben.

HOPE—In loving memory of our dear Mother, Edna P. Hope, who died February 27, 1946. "Just a tribute of love and remembrance, To a Mother who was one of the best. The joys that she missed on life's highway, May she find in God's garden of rest." —Ever remembered by Mary, Jack and Victor.

GRAHAM — In loving memory of Alec Graham who passed away February 27, 1945. Nothing can ever take away The love a heart holds dear, Fond memories linger every day Remembrance keeps him near. —Ever remembered by wife and family.

PEARSON—In loving memory of our dear father, Harry Pearson, who passed away February 27, 1944. Dear Precious dead! They have become Like guardian angels unto us; And distant Heaven seems more like Home As those passed on begin to woo us, The love that gave them angel wings Has called their flight to higher places; Our dead have now the power In us to foster holier graces. —Fondly remembered by the family.

SCRIVER—In loving memeory of a dear husband and father Nelson Scriver who passed away four years ago Feb. 26, 1945. Peacefully sleeping, resting at last, His weary trials and troubles are past; In silence he suffered, in patience he bore, Till God called him home to suffer no more. —Ever remembered by Wife and family.

Cobourg Chamber Has 170 Members

COBOURG, Feb. 26 —(ENS)— Good reports from all branches of the Chamber of Commerce, featured the annual meeting held in the Dunham Hotel. The present enrolment is 170 but Joe Smith, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, urged an even greater membership so that all possible could participate in the advantages of such an organization.

Four years ago the tourist office was opened and there has been a steady growth in the service it rendered, stated Mr. Smith. Last year a total of 2,700 inquiries both verbal and written were handled but already, from the number of enquiries made to date, there are indications that 1949 will be even a busier tourist year.

Finances are in good shape, with prospects of a $1,000 surplus at the end of the fiscal year, and the increase in revenue was partly due to rental of the duplicating and addressing machine service in the Chamber of Commerce office. Mr. E. M. McPherson paid tribute to the manager for recommending purchase of this equipment, which in a little over a year has not only paid for itself but has developed into a good source of revenue.

Prisoner Wrecks Lakefield Cell

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 26—Causing a scene as a Lakefield dance was finishing early today, Donald McCracken of Lakefield entered the hall after midnight and let forth a string of abuses and profanity. Later, when he was taken to the village lock up, he broke down a steel framed window, smashed the toilet, damaged the wash basin and plumbing pipes and destroyed a door.

He told Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., at city police court later today, that bad temper had been responsible for his actions at the police station. When answering questions about the scene at the dance, he said he was drunk and some one had started an argument with him.

He was sentenced to a month in jail for damaging the police station and 10 days for causing the disturbance. Constable G. Samis Lakefield police chief, said a plumber had estimated the damage at $90 and he thought the other damage would amount to approximately $45.

Canadian Federation of Agriculture Asks Dominion Government For Floor Prices Under Farm Products — Presents Brief To Cabinet — Maple Cattle Breeders' Meeting Here Thursday, March 3—Honey Extolled As Food.

Support to consumer demand for food and the establishment of floor prices under farm products were proposed to the Dominion cabinet this week by the Canadian Federation of Agriculture.

A score of representative farmers from all sections of Canada, headed by H. H. Hannam, president of the Federation, submitted their recommendations in the course of their annual conference with the government.

Two significant observations in their brief reflected the present thinking of Canadian farmers.

"Today there are two great problems or dangers which confront Canadian agriculture and our economy as a whole.

The first is the imminent danger of deflation which would bring about a much sharper fall in the prices received by farmers than in the prices paid by farmers. The second problem is the future breakdown in international trade at the end of the present American financial aid in Europe, unless by that time difficulties are ironed out and trade is restored on a broad multilateral basis."

"In the last 35 years agriculture has enjoyed only three brief periods of prosperity, during World War 1, 1925 to 1929, and since 1944. Our present brief period of equality for Canadian agriculture is threatened by international complications of trade and currencies."

The Federation urged consideration of a food plan whereby consumer demand for food should be given support, and at the same time expressed its willingness to confer with the government in an effort to establish a formula for fixing floor prices for farm products. Need of federal marketing legislation, it was said, was now more than ever apparent for some federal act which would supplement provincial legislation in effect in almost every province, and would make it possible for marketing schemes now in operation in various provinces to deal with products in interprovincial and export trade.

The government was asked to appeal the Supreme Court decision permitting the manufacture and sale of margarine, and to give the dairy industry the same consideration under customs tariff regulations (with respect to the importation of ingredients for margarine) that industry in general now receives. The government was told that if the present capacity for making margarine in Canada, 120 million lbs. a year, was reached and this amount marketed, the dairy industry would be seriously threatened, and the economic position of a million rural people would be upset.

The brief asked for a floor price on butter for five years, that 62c wholesale be the floor for 1949, this being considerably lower than the market level last year, and that prices be reviewed each year with not more than a five per cent change in any year.

POULTRY PRICES WEAKER

A farmer who profitably expanded his flock during the war said the other day he should have taken off to Florida with the sun-seeking business men of Peterborough and made himself some money by absence from home.

"Believe it or not," he said, "if I had locked up the place at New Year's and headed south, until about this time, I'd have saved myself the money I have been losing feeding chickens."

There may be some little element of exaggeration in that retrospect of winter's work, but this farmer is not given to tall tales, although his estimates may be tinctured by recent decline of prices.

From another source it was also learned that production cost of chickens exceeds the present market price.

Farmers and business men are all on the same raft of uncertainty. Canadian agriculture has become overshadowed by the tremendous production in the United States last year. They harvested last year the biggest corn crop in their history, more than 3½ billion bushels. Canadians could recently buy U.S. corn at less than the price of domestic barley.

W. P. Watson, Ontario Live stock Commissioner, said a short time ago that the poultry and egg industry in the United States was close to "surplus position," a reference to the Marshall Plan, and its functioning. It was devised to asisst recovery throughout western Europe. Uncle Sam undertook to provide credit to the extent of multibillions. This American credit could be used by those countries in buying outside the United States, providing such goods were not available as surplus from the U.S.A. When any commodity was declared surplus by the Secretary of Agriculture, the outside sources of supply were cut off. That was the reference by Mr. Watson to U. S. poultry business "being close to surplus position."

Uncertainty hangs over the planning of hatcherymen and poultry producers as to what commitments they should be making for this year. The general manager of one of Peterborough's industries said this week that in recent visit to the U.S. his enquiries fetched up with the same searching for business light and guidannce.

JERSEY ROP FIGURES

Canadian Jersey Cattle Club reports that two cows in the Bamforth and Kelly herd recently qualified in Record of Performance. Marie's Standard Betty, as a junior four-year-old, produced in 272 days 7,170 lbs. of milk yielding 421 pounds of butter fat. Glenalson Basil's Pansy, as a junior two-year-old, produced 6,993 lbs. of milk and 451 lbs. of fat, in 365 days. Bamforth and Kelly bought the farm and Jersey herd of Perry Neals & Son, North Monaghan.

HONEY FOR HEARTS

Canada is flowing with milk and honey, evidence in Biblical times of a land of plenty. Ontario dairy farmers are maintaining the supply of milk, and beekeepers last year produced 15,736,000 lbs., a record crop. Honey has been immemorially a natural food of man. Many people who have some regard for dietary experience of the ages, and who also like honey, include it somewhere in their daily fare. To them it is strange that honey could be distasteful to any person.

Evidently in the hope of promoting sales of honey, after the war years of its absence from the home market, when most of the crop was shipped overseas, the Ontario Department of Agriculture, sent out this week a recommendation of honey to persons with heart ailments. It affirms that the American Medical Association on Foods and Nutrition has given approval to the assertion that honey is a natural unrefined, nutritionally valuable food. It is unique in that it is the only unmanufactured sweet available in commercial quantities.

"Seventy-five per cent of its composition is sugars, which give honey an energy-producing value second to few foods. Commonly used sugars, cane and beet, must be broken down into simpler sugars by digestive juices before they are assimilated into the blood-streams and tissues. These resulting simple sugars, dextrose and Levulose, make up almost the entire sugar content of honey.

"This makes it reasonable to suppose that little digestion is necessary, and absorption takes place quickly and puts no tax on the digestive system."

Another authority, Dr. Arnold Lorand of Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia, says: "A weak heart is frequent in severe diabetes. As the best food for the heart I recommend honey. It is the best sweet food as it does not cause flatulence, and can prevent it by promoting activity of the bowels. I recommend patients with weak hearts to take, before going to bed, a glass of water with honey and lemon in it."

URGES GROWING CLOVER

Frank C. Paterson, agricultural representative, said this week that in lush times and lean the farmer must look to the fertility of his land. It is essential in long term planning, and that was the only planning that could be recommended for one season after another.

"Much of the farm land in this county can be improved by growing clover," Mr. Paterson said. "This is no new idea, but it is valuable practice. Clover crops, and even aftermath or sod, plowed down, increases the organic matter, adds nitrogen, reduces erosion, improves the physical condition, increases water-holding capacity.

To grow clover the soil must be well supplied with minerals, especially calcium, phosphorus and potash. Most Peterborough soil contains plenty of calcium (lime), but requires considerable phosphorus and potash.

Clovers include, red clovers, sweet clovers, alsike, alfalfa, white Dutch and Lalino.

Red clover seed is plentiful this year. More should be sown than usual. Much of that grown should be plowed down as green manure....

Rest or soil fertility, increase yields per acre, lower cost of production, and raise the productive value of your land. To that end clover is highly important."

PROVINCIAL OVERTONES

The anxious note in the Federation's presentment to the government is echoed in the weekly report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. Gray county says "farmers are anxiously enquiring about the future of live stock prices." Halton:—Feeders who bought cattle last fall are faced with the prospect of a loss for their winter's work and feed." Brant: "Some of the more finished beef cattle are being shipped because farmers fear a further drop in the beef market." York: "The present trend of prices is causing donabiecserl considerable concern to livestock men."

Leeds: "Farmers are culling their live ostck, and marketing their more unproductive animals." Grenville: "The dairy cattle export market is rather quiet at present." Dundas: "Prices have saged somewhat for dairy cows with the demand not so keen as it was."

CANCEL HOG BONUS

"There has been no loud squealing about the abrupt cancellation of the hog bonus in Ontario," says The Farmer's Advocate, "but there have been thousands of amazed and disappointed hog raisers. Many did not hear of the termination of the Ontario government premium until they marketed a batch of hogs, and were told that the $1 on A's and 50 cents on B's was thing of the past.

Members of the Ontario Legislature were likewise surprised to learn of the cancellation. At the 1948 session of the Legislature the bonus was extended, by vote of the House, for another year. Members expected it would terminate automatically at the end of the fiscal year, if it did not come up again for renewal."

The bonus was withdrawn Jan. 1, 1949.

Branch Library Is Opened In South End

A full scale invasion of pupils from the Public schools in the south end of the city swept down on the new Public Library Branch. Even before the new branch opened at 2 p.m. they gathered outside ready to get first choice at the 1,150 children's picture books and story books.

Situated above Jobbitt's Hardware store the library branch is bright and cheerful on the inside with mushroom pink walls, white ceiling, and brick red shelves. The curtains are red, orange, blue, cream and brown striped, not bright but soft, blending shades of these colors.

On the west side of the Room is the Boy's and Girl's Department. Here there are small chairs for the children to sit on during classes which will be conducted by Miss Lillian Wesley librarian Children's Department Public Library throughout the week. There is one part of this section aside for the children of preschool age and up to Grade 2. This place is called "Little Children's Corner." Here there are books both picture and story for children in that group. The rest of the Children's Department is divided into sections according to the type of book. These classifications are: Heroes and Myths, Fairy Tales, Stories, Famous People, Animal, Science, History and Other Lands. Over each of these shelves there are crayoned cutouts of characters in the story books in the shelves. These cutouts were made by Miss Wesley and Mrs. Melvin Phippen, an assistant in the Boy's and Girl's Department at the Public Library. The shelves in the Boys' and Girls' Department at the branch are painted yellow, brick red, green, brown and cream.

On the east side, the Adults' Department, all the shelves are brick red. There are chrome leather chairs and two tables for the convenience of readers. The thousand books in this department are arranged according to their type as in the Children's Department. The sections are Fiction, Young Moderns, Travel, Useful and Fine Arts, Social Science, History, Biography, Westerns and Mysteries.

From 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. and from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. the Branch Library is open. It is closed Wednesdays and Sundays. Mrs. Jean Henderson, the librarian, is assisted by Miss Marion Smith. Parents are urged by the librarians to send their children to the Library from 2 p.m. until 6 p.m. leaving the evenings for the adults.

"We are trying to serve the children first and at the same time gradually build up the adult section." said William Graff, Librarian at the Public Library.

$40 Million Aid For Britain Absolute Minimum To Avert Disaster U.S. Told

Varying English Statements On Recovery Place Congress In Quandry; Hoffman Stresses Need For Continued Help

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28—(AP).—The Truman administration advised Congress today that the proposed $940,000,000 in new aid to Britain is a "tight fight"—the absolute minimum. "Any reduction in it," declared Paul Hoffman, head of the economic co-operation administration, "would adversely affect continued recovery in both the United States and western Europe."

Because of varying official British statements as to how far Britain has recovered from the strains of war, the committee called in Hoffman to justify Britain's share of the new $5,580,000,000 European recovery program. That was the sole purpose of today's hearings.

"Until Great Britain's earnings of dollars through exports and services to the United States and other hard currency areas are sufficient to pay for the essential imports she must have, she will still need American aid," Hoffman said in his testimony.

"Any setback to a country so important as Britain would be bound to have the most serious consequences."

The question of cutting the British program by at least 0200,000,000 had been explored Hoffman said.

He not only pictured the adverse effect he said it would have on the British economy but also detailed how it might cut into United States exports in cotton, foods, tobacco, and industrial goods.

In describing the $840,000,000 as the "absolute minimum," Hoffman said the program it would cover had been screened not only by Britain and the Economic Co-operation Administration, but also by the United States State, Treasury, Agriculture and Commerce Departments.

It also got a going over by the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial problems.

The budget bureau gave it a further painstaking review, Hoffman said.

In general terms, Hoffman testified, if a $200,000,000 cut were made, Britain would have that much less to spend for goods and services in the United States, Canada and other markets where goods can only be bought for dollars.

Hoffman estimated a cut of $200,000,000 in aid would cause a $70,000,000 decline in British export earnings and thus would require a total cut in British imports of $270,000,000.

He said it was estimated that Britain thus would have to spend $90,000,000 less on food, including tobacco; $110,000,000 less on raw materials; $40,00,000 less on manufactured goods and $30,000,000 less on shipping and other services.

Eight Ministers Plead Guilty In Trial

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

SOFIA, Feb. 28—(AP)—Five more Protestant churchmen pleaded guilty today in Bulgaria's spy trial.

By the end of the day's session, eight in all had entered guilty pleas. Seven others still must plead. All who pleaded guilty went through the now familiar routine, denouncing themselves, expressing repentance and pleading for a chance to work for the Communist-controlled government.

The first to take the stand today was the Rev. Georgi Chernov, 46, a baldish Pentecostal pastor. He lost no time in pleading guilty, as the first three had done.

The others on the stand today were Lambri Marinov Mishkov, 41, of the Congregational church; Georgi Nikolov Vassev, 48, of the Baptist Church; Haralan Ivanov, Popoov, 41, Pentecost Church, and Ioncho Nikolov Drianov, 41, Pentecost Church.

Admit Spying

Vassev, like all the others, admitted spying and named two Americans. He said he had been asked by Dr. William Coon, identified as secretary general of the Baptist Mission in North America, and by a man named Leuschner, called a Baptist youth leader, to collect information. Vassev said money was sent from the United States to pay for such espionage.

It was expected the remaining seven defendants would enter

Probe Charges Boys Buy Wine

TORONTO, Feb. 28 — (CP)—Law and liquor authorities today prepared to take court action "if warranted" to halt the sale of wine to minors.

Ontario liquor commissioner William Griesinger conferred today with Police Chief John Chisholm to study two known cases involving sale of wine to two 17-year-old boys.

The investigation was launched when Frank Peterson, 17, fined $10 Saturday on an intoxication charge, claimed he bought wine at three Toronto wine shops without any difficulty. Another 17-year-old boy, later purchased a bottle of wine with no questions asked about his age.

Meanwhile, president Ward Markle of the Ontario Hotel Association charged that under-age boys and girls were in possession of liquor permits.

6 Injured In Crash

OSHAWA, Feb. 28—Six Toronto men were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding to a bowling tournament at Port Hope hit a parked car on No. 2 Highway, five miles east of here, and crashed into a tree.

Seriously injured were the driver, Donald Tomlinson, 41 Ashdale Ave., with a broken pelvis and head cuts; William McAruthr, severe bruises and facial cuts, and Allan D. Moore, 115 Langley Ave., leg injuries. McArthur's parents live at 274 Division St., Oshawa.

Open Hostility

NEW DELHI, Feb. 28 — (Reuters). — Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Indian Prime Minister, told parliament today that the Communist party's attitude now can be described as "bordering on open revolt." Nehru said that in the last year Communists in India have "adopted an attitude . . . of open hostility to the government." The Prime Minister said that a large number of prominent Indian Communist party members have gone underground and the government has "a mass of evidence" to indicate that "organized attempts are being made to conduct campaigns of sabotage more especially on the railway system."

Police Shoot Triple Slayer In Gun Battle

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 28 (AP) —The vicious triple slayer, Bill Ray Gilbert, made good his boast he never would be taken alive.

Surprised while taking a shower in a tourist camp cabin, the Arizona ex-convict fell dead before a blaze of police gunfire last night. His naked body was riddled with 12 bullet holes.

The 28-year-old ex-convict killed a woman and two men near Needles, Calif., last Wednesday.

The gun battle with police ended a crime foray in which Gilbert and a prison pal, George Adolph Schmid, 22, kidnapped a Phoenix woman, killed the three Californians, and returned to Arizona with a plan to kill the State prison warden and other officials.

Schmid was captured without resistance by two city policemen here early Sunday as he tried to reach his mother's home. He was armed with two pistols.

Police surrounded the tourist camp cabin in the southwestern section of the city Sunday night when the operator, C. A. Jensen, reported a man he recognized as Gilbert had registered during the afternoon.

Two policemen battered on the cabin door and ordered the occupant to come out.

The answer was a blast of pistol fire from the cabin's attic. Detective Ed Langevin fell wounded.

Police poured bullets through the thin cabin walls.

They knew their man was hit when blood streaked the white exterior of the cabin.

"Don't shoot any more. I'm hit in the head," Gilbert shouted above the gunfire.

As police held their fire, Gilbert came to the door. And, blood streaming down his naked body, stood swaying in the glare of police lights.

"Raise your hands," Sgt. Orme Moorhead shouted.

Instead, Gilbert raised a pistol in his right hand.

Police cut him down in the doorway. His pistol was empty.

Gilbert's companion, Schmid, is charged with murder. Miss Florence Chisholm the woman they kidnapped is held as a material witness.

Badly Beaten About Head Gardener Dies

Attacker Padlocks Door Of Shack, Leaves Dying Victim

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Feb. 28—(CP) — Leo Parent, 17-year-old Cornwall youth, today was remanded for one week on a murder charge when he appeared before Magistrate George A. Wright.

He is charged with clubbing a 72-year-old retired gardener to death. He was picked up by police just nine hours after Michael Dennis Skelton died in hospital.

Parent, wearing a plaid cardigan sweater and blue trousers, was not represented by counsel and he was not asked to plead. His brown, curly hair was neatly brushed.

He stared at the floor as the charge was read out, raising his eyes at the mention of the word "murder."

Along with Parent in Brockville jail are two material witnesses, Thomas Dixon, 27, of Cornwall and Nick Therrien of Bainsville, Ont.

Skelton, a pensioner, said before he died that he had been beaten by "a fellow" who had asked him for something to eat. "When I didn't have it, he hit me," Skelton said.

Left To Die

The clubbing took place in Skelton's lonely shack 200 yards east of the town limits. When Skelton was beaten unconscious, the shack was padlocked and Skelton apparently left to die.

Shortly after 11 a.m. EST Saturday, he regained consciousness, dragged a packing case to a window and dragged himself out into the snow. Police later found pools of blood in the tumble-down shack and a blood-stained iron pipe, which they believe may have been the murder weapon.

Stumbles To Neighbors

Stumbling and leaving a trail of blood in the snow, Skelton dragged himself to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dean, his neighbors, a distance of 175 yards.

Mrs. Dean, 70, opened the door to his feeble knocks, and saw what she described as a "horrible" sight. Skelton stood with a small hatchet in one hand, blood running down the handle. He had a hat on and an overcoat and that covered the blood which had run to his feet," she said.

Mr. Dean said: "I took his hat off and saw his head horribly crushed." He asked Skelton what had happened. Skelton told him: "A fellow asked me for something to eat and when I didn't have it, he hit me."

Police obtained a description of his assailant from Skelton before he died.

Coupled with this lead and another obtained when a liquor store clerk described a purchaser

Priests Given Death Sentences

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Feb. 28—(AP)—Two priests were reported sentenced to death today on charges of war-time aid to German and Italian occupation forces in Yugoslavia.

Borba, voice of Yugoslavia's Communist party, reported the two "admitted their guilt." Borba identified them as Alfons Jarc, a Monk, and Viljen Saveli, chaplain at Staritrg in Western Yugoslavia, scene of some of the most bitter partisan fighting during the war.

Borba said also that two laymen, described as "cut throats," were sentenced to die on the gallows and an unspecified number of others in a "collaboration group" were given prison sentences at hard labor ranging from five to 20 years.

(Catholic Archbishop Alojzif Stepinac of Yugoslavia now is serving a 16-year prison sentence at hard labor, imposed in October, 1946. He, too, was accused of collaboration with the Axis during the war.)

The religion of the two priests was not disclosed. It was assumed here they are Roman Catholics since the vast majority of Slovenes are of that faith.

6 Young People Perish In Morden Fire

MORDEN, Man. Feb. 28 (CP)—A sorrowing mother went ahead today with plans for the burial of five of her daughters, victims of an early morning fire that also snuffed out the life of a sixth person.

Mrs. Kathleen Neufeld, 46, whose husband died 1½ years ago, hurried back here yesterday from a visit to Winnipeg to face the tragedy that took the lives of daughters ranging in age from eight to 21. The girls were Nettie, 21, Annie, 19, Helen, 14, Sadie, 10, and Marjorie, eight.

John Storey, a 19-year-old Morden youth who had for the last two months boarded at the two-storey, frame dwelling occupied by the Neufelds, also perished in the fire.

Morden is about 70 miles southwest of Winnipeg and only a few miles away from the North Dakota border.

Almost simultaneous alarms on the fire, which broke out around 3 a.m., were turned in to telephone operator Alice Scales at the local exchange by D. B. Reimer and JoJhn H. Loewen.

The town's 30-man fire brigade answered the alarm but thick black smoke billowed out when a window was smashed and entry had been impossible.

Overcome By Smoke

All six young persons apparently were overcome by smoke or fumes of some description from the fire, whose origin still has not been determined. Investigators said from the positions of the bodies it was apparent that none of the six had struggled. Too, one body had not been badly burned.

The Morden fire brigade fought the flames for about 70 minutes. In its early stages, the fire threatened to spread to the nearby Mennonite Brethern Church. The fire brigade was able to play only one stream of water on the fire because of the distance to the nearest fire well.

Soviet Radio Charges U.S. Diplomats Spies

MOSCOW, Feb. 28—(AP)—The Soviet radio network gave country-wide play today to charges that United States diplomats in Moscow were spies.

It did so by reviewing a book "The Truth About American Diplomats," published under the name of Annabelle Bucar, a Pennsylvania girl who resigned from the Embassy staff last year to live in Moscow. She married a Russian.

The first printing of 10,000 copies sold out at once and even the American Embassy could get only one copy.

Churchill Able To Outshout Hecklers In Brussels

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Feb. 28 — (AP). — The council of a European movement adopted a declaration of principles today requiring all countries taking part in the proposed union to accept doctrines set forth in the United Nations charter of human rights.

Describing the GEM aim as "the union in freedom of all peoples of Europe," the declaration said:

"No state should be admitted into the European union which does not accept the fundamental principles contained in the charter of human rights."

The CEM is unofficial organization working for a United States of Europe. While at present the CEM declaration apparently would prevent some states from entering the union, the declaration said "the barrier which divides the free states from the other European nations cannot be accepted as permanent."

Message From The Pope

The delegates were told that Pope Pius expressed good wishes for the meeting here and invoked divine blessing on the deliberations. The message was submitted by the Papal Nuncio, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Fernando Gento.

The council unanimously adopted a resolution condemning all judicial system which "break the human spirit." This was an obvious reference to the trial of Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty in Hungary and that of 15 Protestant churchmen in Bulgaria.

The council agreed that west Germany should be invited to become an integral part of the union, and that "when possible the whole of Germany" should be invited to take part."

Winston Churchill Sunday pleaded for European unity in a speech to 10,000 persons. He was heckled by the Communists.

Some of the hecklers had stink bombs. Communists tossed tiny pamphlets bearing Communist slogans. They set up concerted catcalls and jeers when Churchill came to the microphone. From various places in the crowd came shouts of "Down with war!"

Police arrested 60 persons, including two Belgian senators and a Communist deputy. All were released later. The hecklers were scattered through a crowd of 10,000 gathered in the Place de la Bourse.

Peace Hopes Grow In Nanking

NANKING, Feb. 28—(AP) — An unofficial Nationalist peace mission returned to Nanking today to report that talks with Communists led to high hopes for settling China's civil war.

"Collectively and individually we conferred on the broad question of national peace and came away feeling that, though there are great difficulties ahead, there is great hope for success" said a statement issued when the delegation arrived by air from Peiping.

Chief of the peace envoys of the so-called Shanghai delegation was W. W. Yen. Included was Shao Litze, representative of Asting President Li Tsung-jen, although both sides have stressed that the venture was unofficial.

Diplomats Hint Sweden To Join Western Alliance

OSLO, Norway, Feb. 28—(AP) High diplomatic sources predict that all Scandinavia—including traditionally neutral Sweden — probably wil join the proposed North Atlantic Defence Pact with the west.

Norway already has prepared to cast her lot with the West Denmark's principle political party, the Social Democrats, only yesterday called on that country to face west in the quest for military security.

A source close to Sweden's government speculated privately that Sweden will join the North Atlantic alliance by autumn or "sooner," if the Russians make any move toward Finland." Swedish Prime Minister Tage Erlander told this correspondent he felt it best for Sweden to adopt a "wait and see" policy in international affairs for the next six months.

Finland, saddled with a mutual treaty with Russia after three wars with the Russians, may be an important figure in the Scandinavian picture. She is bound by the treaty to help Russia in any war, although her people generally have little love for their next door neighbors.

The Finns are seeking to fend off expected Russian demands for more bases on their soil. They fear the heat will become intense after Norway has made her tie to the western powers official. They hint they might fight if Russia takes high-handed actions in Finnish affairs.

Sweden's swing away from the neutrality that has kept her out of war for more than a century is apparent. Even in her attempts to form a neutral Scandinavian bloc it was clear that Sweden felt the western powers would defend those countries regardless of treaty ties. They felt they could obtain most of the benefits of the North Atlantic Alliance without offending Russia by a formal joining of the alliance.

Attache Gets Secrets From Major

French Red Officer Admits Theft, Two Men Arrested

PARIS, Feb. 28 —(CP)—The French government said today a Communist army major has confessed turning army documents over to "a foreign military attache."

The attache was not identified, nor was the country he represents named.

A communique issued by the interior ministry said an army captain was questioned about his "relationship" with the major and about "defence documents" he is charged with turning over to a Communist magazine.

The officers, turned over to military authorities, were identified later only as "Major Teulery" and "Captain Azema."

Teulery was reported to have been on active service in the French army. Azema was described as an instructor of airborne troops.

The communique said he admitted handing over "numerous documents" which he had been able to collect in his jobs in the offices of the ministry of munitions and national defence.

The ministry said the case was connected with the one against Robert [illegible]aillaut, business manager of the Communist Weekly France d'Abord (France First), who was arrested Friday.

The Major was identified as a stockholder in the weekly.

Another officer, a captain charged with giving defence secrets to the paper, also will face a court-martial, the ministry said.

The announcement came as Frenchmen wondered nervously how far their government would go in present moves for a purge of Communists.

Deny Cadieux Is Over-Age

TORONTO, Feb. 28 — (CP) — Assistant secretary George Panter said today that the Ontario Hockey Association had not received any protest or request to check the eligibility of Pierre Cadieux, forward star of Stratford Kroehlers juniors. He was commenting on a Montreal report in which Frank Dillio, registrar of the QAHA said the player was "definitely over the 20-year-junior age limit."

Panter said the OHA has on file a birth certificate issued by the parish of St. Cecile de Valleyfield in Quebec, which stated that Joseph Raymond Pierre Charles Cadieux, was born March 23, 1929. The certificate was signed by the player's father, Charles Cadieux, and also his mother, godmother and godfather.

All the OHA knew about the age of Cadieux being questioned was what had been carried in press reports. The Kroehlers are now engaged with Toronto Marlboros in the Junior A playoffs, with a best-of-three series tied at one win each. Cadieux played with Montreal Royals juniors in 1944-45 and Registrar Dilio said QAHA records show the pl[illegible] was born Dec. 24, 1926.

Extradition Trial Delayed 2 Weeks

TILLSONBURG, Feb. 28—(CP) —Extradition proceedings against immigrant Arthur Mattnys, wanted by Belgian authorities to face a charge of murder, have been adjourned to March 14 it was learned Saturday. A move for extradition had been scheduled to start in Toronto Tuesday.

Necessary dispositions have not arrived from Belgium so Victor H. Tilson, Matthys' counsel, has agreed to the adjournment requested by Messrs. Beament, Fyfe and Ault of Ottawa, representing the Belgian Embassy here.

Extradition proceedings are being carried out by the Belgian Government in an effort to have him returned to his homeland. He is charged with the murder of Armand Devos in September, 1944, during the fighting which drove the Nazis back to the Rhine and liberated Belgium after several years of occupation.

8 Dead or Missing In Dormitory Fire

Search Ruins For Bodies After Million Dollar College Blaze

GAMBIER, O., Feb. 28—(AP)—Kenyon College today listed six students missing in a $1,000,000 dormitory fire that killed two others and injured 26 yesterday. Firemen searched the ruins for bodies.

Towering above the helmeted searchers were the gaunt, four-foot-thick stone walls of "Old Kenyon," the oldest building on the campus of the college for men.

That was all that was left of the 122-year-old dormitory that housed 120 students.

Missing were: Ernest Ahwajee, 18, of Akron, O.; Albert J. Lewis, of Hazelton, Pt.; George Pincus of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Stephen Shepard of New York; Olin Woodworth of Jamaica Plain, Mass.; and Martin E. Mangle, 18, son of a New York store executive.

Dead were:

Edward Brout of Mount Vernon, N. Y., 19-year-old premedical student who tried to jump from the window of his room to a nearby fire escape, missed and plunged three storeys to his death. His roommate Saul Sanders made it.

Marc S. Peck of Fenton, Mich., who died of burns in hospital where two other students were in critical condition.

Saturday night was dance night at Kenyon College. Many of the boys donned stiff shirts and dress clothes. By midnight the fun began to slacken. By 3 a.m. it was quiet. A cheery fire crackled in the great fireplace.

An hour later, fire was raging up the aged building. Officials believed a spark from the fireplace ignited a rug.

Frightened students dived head first from second — and third-storey windows. Others tried descending the walls down the ivy that matted the damp stone.

Save 15 Miners Trapped 7 Hours

BOSTON, Wis., Feb. 28—(AP)—Fifteen lead miners were rescued unharmed Sunday after they had been trapped more than seven hours by a fire at the top of their escape shaft.

The last man, John Banfield, boss of the night shift, was brought up in an improvised hoisting bucket from 167 feet down from the entrance of the Kittoe mining works two miles from here. They were trapped in a 40-foot high working chamber when the fire started in the engine room and blocked the entrance.

Banfield gave this account:

"The first idea we got that anything was wrong came shortly after we had gone back into the shaft after lunch. The lights flickered on and off, the emergency signal.

"Tom Manuel hopped the hoisting bucket and rode to the top of the shaft to find out what was wrong. He returned and told us we all were trapped when fire drove Tackberry (Homer Tackbery), the hoister, away from the crane.

"We moved back into the room about 500 feet, and started to swap stories. We stayed at the high end of the room, because water was up to our knees. The blowers supplying air and the pumps were out for quite a while, but water was our worst fear. Finally they got the pumps working, and began pulling the water out at the rate of 1,500 gallons per minute."

Six Bread Firms Close As Teamsters Strike

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP). — It'll be crackers instead of bread and cake in many New York City homes to-day as a result of the shutdown of six major baking companies which make 70 per cent of the city's wrapped break and cake.

"No famine" is expected, however, said an official of the New York State Food Merchants Association, since several other firms still were producing white bread.

A strike order my AFL teamsters against the Continental Baking Company—effective last midnight — led the five other companies to suspend operations.

The union seeks a weekly wage guarantee of $65 for salesmen and salesmen-drivers to replace the present $55; a five-day week instead of the present six; a company-financed welfare and pension fund, and an improved vacation schedule. It rejected a company offer of a $3 weekly wage increase.

Who Upkeeps Play Projects? Not Us, All Officials Say

In order to co-ordinate the work of the service clubs of the city and the Recreation Commission, a meeting was held Friday night in the committee room in the city buildings. Representatives from six of the service clubs met with the commission. They discussed primarily the administration of the playgrounds in the city for the coming summer.

In answering a question by the chairman, R. S. Bolton, a Kinsmen representative said that the Recreation Commission should administer the program on all city playgrounds whether they are sponsored by a service club or not. The Kiwanis Club felt their function at Hamilton Park playground was to instal the equipment and provide facilities, and someone else supervise and carry out the actual program. Jack Dane reported that the B'Nai B'Rith Lodge, through their president, had expressed a desire for the Recreation Commission to administer the program at their Turner Park playground.

George Hildenbrand said that the Lions Club were prepared to accept the program as conducted by the Recreation Commission in previous years. He also stated that it was the desire of the Lions Club that the Recreation Commission should hire the supervisors and pay their salary in regard to the playground and the river area. However, the Lions Club were to operate the swimming pool in its entirety, including maintenance and supervision. The Kinsmen and Kiwanis Clubs agreed that the Recreation Commission should hire the supervisors and pay their salaries.

Clubs Should Maintain

Wilfred Langan felt that the function of the service club in entering into community recreation work was to provide capital equipment and services, and that the city or a department of the city should be prepared to carry out the maintenance of the area and the program conducted on that area.

Mr. Dodds suggested that it was the responsibility of the service clubs to continue the work which they started, and gave as an example the Lions Club playground at Riverside Park. He said that it had been operating for close to six years without any change in principle, even though the personnel of the Lions Club had changed considerably. Mr. Dodds suggested that a service club should not undertake a project unless they are prepared to complete it and continue to maintain it year after year. The taxpayer should not be made to carry the heavy maintenance expenditure which some enthusiastic service club had originated. The parks department, allowed one mill of the tax rate, could not possibly meet the demands of heavy upkeep if the service clubs do not contribute.

Wilson Gemmel said the Recreation Commission and the city should analyse the maintenance problem thoroughly before they ask the service clubs to undertake any civic recreation projects. He thought that the structure of service clubs made it impossible to carry out any long-term projects. Their membership was constantly changing. He gave as an example the wading pool in King Edward Park and thought that very few of the present Kiwanis Club members even had knowledge that their club had installed the pool.

New Projects

Several new projects were discussed, including the development of tennis clubs, golf clubs, curling, bowling and archery. It was recommended that the Recreation Commission ask the Quaker Tennis Club for permission to use its courts at certain times of the day, upon payment for them.

The greatest need in Peterborough, recreationally speaking, was considered to be for facilities which could provide for a program of activity the year round. There is a decided lack of activity between the summer and winter program and again between the winter and summer program. Some indoor facilities are necessary. Failing the possibility of erecting or obtaining buildings for community centres, a program of activity using present facilities should be developed for the spring and fall seasons. Tennis, golf, curling, bowling and archery programs could be developed for these in-between seasons when outdoor activities are usually at a minimum.

The Rotary Club expressed a desire to undertake a project such as the developing and equiping of a play lot. The recommendation was made by the Recreation Commission that Fleming Place receive first consideration in this regard.

Those present were: Mrs. Dorothy Sullivan, Soroptimist Club; Wilson Gemmell and Harold Rehill, Kiwanis Club; Wilfred Langan, Kinsmen Club; Jack Gillespie and Gordon Carveth, Rotary Club; Hurrell Dodds and George Hildenbrand, Lions Club; Cook Munro, Y's Men's Club; and Mrs. R. Whalon, R. J. Bolton, Clare Collins and Jack Dane, representing the Recreation Commission. Mr. Bolton acted as chairman.

Gets 4 Months On Drunk Count

Police arrested 11 people for drunkeness at the week-end. John McMurray, 513 Rogers St., who told Magistrate W. R. Philp K.C., at city police court today that he had recently served a three months term in jail on a previous third offence, was sent to prison for four months.

William Barker, Water St., who had previously been interdicted, was granted a week's adjournment on a charge of drinking. An adjournment for a week was also granted to Elmer Tripp, Monaghan Rd., who faced a charge as a third offender.

Ezra Ketchum, 689 Lansdowne St., was sent to jail for seven days for driving carelessly Saturday while under the influence of drink. His licence was suspended and the car, which Ketchum told the court belonged to his wife, was ordered to be stored for three months. Mrs. Ketchum, who had accompanied her husband in car, was fined $10 with $2.50 costs for drunkeness.

Fines and costs of $12.50 were imposed on each of five first offenders.

The magistrate dismissed a charge of driving without due care against Alton Hadley, R. R. 1, Stirling, who was defended by W. B. Gordon. He was found asleep in his car near Locks Bridge in the early hours of Sunday.

Blames U. S. Secretary

Chernov said he had been ordered to collect espionage by Cyril Black, former United States political mission secretary here. He claimed he had talked with Black during the period from November, 1944, to the middle of 1945.

(Black, now a professor at Princeton University, has denied the charges made by the Communist-dominated Bulgarian Government, as have other Americans accused of complicity.)

Some spectators in the courtroom were dozing as Charnov continued the routine of pleading guilty and accusing himself.

JOHANNESBURG, Feb. 28 — (Reuters)—A scheme for towing 200 icebergs from the Antarctic and anchoring them along the South African coast to provide rain in dry seasons has been proposed here by T. D. Van Eggen, a former Netherlands arctic explorer. He believes that heat off the South African coast would melt the icebergs and draw cold winds to inland centres of the Union, producing rain.

MORE ABOUT—
Churchill Able

Popular With Crowd

Churchill had been speaking only a few moments when he paused, looked out over the crowd and said in French:

"It is only on very great occasions, when I see a great many friends, that I attempt to speak in French. I am now going to continue in French."

That won him a great cheer from the crowd. "Why cannot the prominent and the small people of Europe, the mass of workers, live in peace?" he asked.

"It is because they have not yet found the international and European organizations which will let them live in peace without being tyrannized, without being attacked by other nations or ideologies."

A unified Europe, he declared, "is the only way a broad shield of light, power and virtue can be placed over the scores of millions of humble homes where little children have a right to a peaceful future."

Warns Of Danger

He warned his audience against dangers from the East, declaring:

"Europe is shattered, in ruins, and half of it is in prison. The other half is not afraid, but is on guard, and it has a right to take precautions."

The city's burgomaster had denied the Communists a permit to stage an anti-European unity meeting in the Place de la Bourse a half-hour before the European movement program was to begin.

Churchill said Saturday night that the United Nations is powerless to prevent a new war and called for a united Europe as a regional pillar of a truly effective world organization.

In a speech to the European Movement International Council, he referred to the United Nations as a "brawling cockpit" in danger of losing "the respect of those who were most ardent for its creation."

Two Colonels Shot In Soviet Jewel Theft

BERLIN, Feb. 28—(AP).—The American - licensed newspaper Der Abend reported today two Russian colonels were shot and 200 other Russians arrested after disclosure of a huge jewel theft within an official Soviet agency.

Der Abend said the exact size of the theft has never been determined. But it was reported to include millions of marks worth of currency, gold and platinum as well as 12 pounds of costly gems.

The man who stole them — a Russian bookkeeper—escaped to western Germany. However, two of his superiors—both colonels—were arrested and "shot immediately," the paper said, despite Russia's claim to have abolished capital punishment.

Britain Praises US

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, Feb. 28 — (CP). — Britain to-day warmly welcomed to United Nations consideration President Truman's "bold new program." Christopher Mayhew, Britain's Parliamentary Under - Secretary for Foreign Affairs, described the plan of aid towards economic development of backward areas as "useful and practical."

Find Europeans Eating Better

By ERNEST AGNEW

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP)—Nearly all Europeans are eating better than they did a year ago, but by North American standards they still have a long way to go.

This year Belgium and Poland ended all rationing. Russia and Switzerland dropped rationing earlier. The Netherlands and France are considering similar action in 1949.

In a few heavily industrial countries which for centuries have had to import much of their food—notably Britain — rationing is still stiff.

Officially, Britain is the only European country where the average consumer is getting fewer daily calories than when the war ended. The food ministry estimates the average Briton now gets 2,850 calories a day compared with 2,910 in 1945.

These are some weekly British rations of basic foods:

Bacon or hams varies between one and two ounces; cheese, 1½ ounces; fats, nine ounces of which butter averages three ounces with the remainder in margarine and cooking fats; meat, one shilling (20 cents) worth of which 10-pence (18 cents) worth is given in fresh meat and two pence in corned beef.

Sugar, 10 ounces; candy or chocolates, four ounces; tea, two ounces; milk, from 2½ pints for an adult to 12 to 14 pints for babies and invalids.

Eggs, 76 on each adult ration book in 1948, and the food ministry hopes to distribute 100 this year to each consumer or about two eggs a week for each Briton.

Dutch Moderate Canada Tolerant

CAMPBELLFORD, Feb. 28, — (ENS).—Mrs. J. R. Anderson, the former Miss Truus Embroke of Holland, now residing in Campbellford, spoke of the beauty, customs and problems of her native country. "Vorden, my birthplace," she said, "is a quaint little town with spreading chestnuts and tall beeches fringing its streets and cosy homes tucked away behind tulip beds and rose bushes.

"While attending a concert in an old weather-beaten castle," she remarked, "I met a young medical officer of the Canadian army and two years later, in 1947, Dr. Anderson and I were married in Campbellford." They have a fine thirteen months old boy.

Mrs. Anderson was educated in her home town and at Zutphen. Besides her native tongue; she speaks fluent English, German and French. "The schools of Holland," she commented, "devote considerable time to the study of Canadian history and geography. The story of Niagara Falls is quite intriguing to Dutch children.

Waning Old Customs

"The younger generation," she stated, "are not greatly interested in the old national customs. Church festivals and holiday celebrations are slowly giving way to more modern forms of entertainment. Hockey, tennis and football are popular sports, but dancing is much more in evidence here than in the old land."

She said that Dutch people were moderate in their eating and drinking habits. Vegetables and rice were the stable goods in her part of Holland. Rich desserts, especially pie, seldom appear on the table. "Hollanders use hard liquors sparingly," she commented. "In Canada we find the excessive drinker and the devout abstainer."

Mrs. Anderson recalled the German occupation of her coountry when Rotterdam was practically destroyed and the sea covered the lowlands. "At first," she said, 'the enemy tried to woo our people to their cause. Failing in this they applied the iron heel and mailed fist. Thousands of our best young men were sent to the slave factories of Germany and others to the concentration camps."

Canadian Colors Appeal

As the war progressed, she said, the young men of the army of occupation were withdrawn and replaced by boys and old men. Hitler's legions were slowly being destroyed. She spoke of the Germans retreating before the Canadians and the gay celebrations on the day of liberation.

"What impresses me most in Canada," she remarked, "is the deep blue of the sky and the rich green of the lakes and rivers. The colors do not blend but stand out boldly and distinctly before the eye. In Holland the beauty of the colors is hidden by a dull grey haze that seems to cover everything."

I am glad to become a Canadian citizen because I find the people hospitable and tolerant. "Canada has done much for Holland and I hope to do all I can for Canada," she remarked.

HOT BREAD—Grain representing a potential $1,000,000 loaves of bread went up in smoke at Okotoks, Alta., when fire destroyed the Midland and Pacific Corporation grain elevator. Walls of the structure are shown falling in at the height of the spectacular blaze. Heat was so intense that fire fighters were unable to get near the burning structure.

British Columbia Spring Arrives

VANCOUVER, Feb. 28—(CP).—British Columbia's worst winter in 47 years received an emphatic "good-bye" to day as balmy weather heralded the long-awaited spring—at 50 degrees above.

The strange winter ushered out February in strange ways:

A thousand golfers belted them over four playable Vancouver courses. Two hundred skiers roamed over a golf course at Nelson, B.C. Fifty fishermen sought out the elusive rainbow trout in Kootenay lake. Hundreds of lower mainland residents sat on lawns.

To add to the contrasts, an RCAF Dakota dropped two tons of food and livestock fodder to two tiny hamlets isolated by winter in the Kootenays. And, in the Fraser canyon area, small snowrock slides derailed the engine of an eastbound Canadian National freight train at Stout, B.C., and the truck of another locomotive north of Kamloops.

Both derailments were minor and no injuries were reported.

The Dakota took four and a half hours to complete the trip to the ice-locked communities of Halcyon and St. Leon Hotsprings on Upper Arrow lake, 250 miles east of here. The communities were reported to have only 48 hours' supplies left.

Predicts Fall Expansion At Lakefield High School

LAKEFIELD, Feb. 28—(ENS).—F. L. Erskine, chairman of the new Lakefield District High School Board, said at the High School's 25th annual commencement on Thursday, that 125 pupils from outside Lakefield were expected in September, for whom additional accommodation would have to be found.

The commencement occupied two consecutive evenings. The principal, R. E. Sutton, announced that of 140 pupils who enrolled last fall, 133 are still on the roll. The loss of seven was below average, he said, and he attributed this to a greater awareness among pupils of the value of completing their high school education. Upper school results for last year were 87 per cent, he said, with only two failures throughout the entire school.

Parents were told not to expect construction of a new school to start immediately as it was first necessary to find the levelling-off point of the school population in the district.

Mr. Sutton referred to the work of the school boards, which he said often received all too little credit. He congratulated the Student's Council through George Hatton, president and Rita Maloney, secretary-treasurer, who were called to the platform.

Members of the Students' Council were: Grade 13—Rita Maloney, George Kelly; grade 12—Barbara Hamblin, Cameron Freeburn; grade 11 — Frances Erskine, Derry Wilford; grade 10—Ruth Bullock, Eugene Sabatino; grade 9 — Nancy Coleman, Gordon Coyle; grade 9-B—Elaine Wasson, Dawn Pearson.

Honour Graduation Certificated were presented to Marion Sloan, Arden Clements and Irma Bullock by Mr. Sutton in the absence of Reeve Grant. Irma Bullock, who is attending Toronto University was unable to receive her diploma because of unavoidable absence.

Miss Marion Sloan made the valedictory address.

General Proficiency prizes donated by the Lakefield District High School Board to the students obtaining the highest standing in their forms in the school year 1947-48, and trophies were presented to Margaret Dafoe, Gr. nine, Bailey Trophy presented by J. W. Ridpath. Joyce Mathieson—Gr. 10 Erskine Trophy from Mr. Erskine; Barbara Hamblin—Gr. 11, Northey Trophy E. H. Northey; George Hatton—Grade 12, Tanner Trophy by Mr. Ridpath: Marion Sloan—Gr. 13, Millage Trophy by Mr. Ridpath.

Secondary Graduation Certificates went to Tom Birch, Wendy Dunford, Neil Freeburn, George Hatton, Lorne Hockaday, George Kelly, Herbert Knox, Rita Maloney, Zita Moher, Elizabeth Nicholls, Joseph Sabatino and Peggy Samis. These were presented by Fire Chief Allan H. congratulated the boys and girls on their sports activities as well as their studies.

Awards for the two best essays of fire prevention were presented by Fire Chief Allen H. Clark to Rena Earnshaw and Gerald Burger. Clark pointed out the importance of teaching fire prevention in the school starting at Grade 1.

The I.O.D.E. presentation was made to Marion Sloan who was the highest Gr. 13 graduate. Mrs. E. H. Northey made the presentation and Mrs. G. Douglas spoke about the work of the I.O.D.E.

Intermediate Certificates were presented to Murray Batten, Doris Bolton, Eileen and Ruth Boyce, Alta. and Owen Bullock, Douglas Calberry, Carolyn Clarkson, Brian Crawford, Faye Darling, John Deck, Shirley Dunford, Margaret, Rena and Rhoda Earnshaw, Donna Edwards, Frances Erskine, Ruth Garbutt, Garnet and Ruth Graham, John Harding, Hugh Hawthorne, Clayton Hutt, Ruth Little, Joyce Mathieson, Joan Joan Northey, Eugene Payne, Northey, Eugene Payne, Charles Ridpath, James Sloan, Eleanor Sterling and Derry Wilford.

Reports and presentation of awards were interspersed with music and dancing. L. G. Shepherd a member of the staff played the piano. There were songs by Joyce Hutt, vocal duets by Nancy Coleman and Margaret Calberry, songs by Herbert Knox, Joe Sabatino, George Kelly and Charles Ridpath who form the High School Boy's Quartette piano solo by Donna Lean, duet by Alma Cherry and Mary Jane Foster, dances by Ann Samis, Frances and Carolyn Ann Erskine and tap dance solos by Nancy Graham.

Opening choruses were sung by Margaret Dunford, Margaret Calberry, Nancy Coleman and Shirley Clayton while the chorus hummed, Mrs. M. Martin was at the piano. The closing chorus was sung the same way by Elaine Wasson, Shirley Ridpath, Freda Lowry, and Marilyn Oliver. Melba Pavy and Dawn Pearson also sang to a humming chorus.

A play, directed by Miss M. R. Balfour was presented by Eugene Payne, Clayton Hutt, Donna Edwards, Joan Northey and Joyce Hutt. Appreciation was expressed for the work of Mrs. M. Martin, accompanist and Mrs. W. A. Killoran, who was responsible for make-up.

The program for the second evening followed the same pattern. There was a presentation of Honor and Secondary Graduation Certificates. Dancing followed.

The service of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation is being enlarged in an expanded district of Central Ontario, Mr. Angus McClaskey, Eastern Ontario supervisor, informed the civic group at luncheon here on Friday. Its status is being raised from district rental office to a branch office, carrying on the broad operations of the corporation.

Business pertaining to building under the National Housing Act, the processing of loans, formerly directed from Toronto, and other matters of larger responsibility will be disposed of in the local office. The district of the office authority will comprise Peterborough, Victoria, Durham, Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward. Mr. John Wocker will carry on as manager, and Mr. John Raine will be assistant.

The Peterborough office will have charge of all rental affairs, with the handling of loans that have been referred up to the present to Toronto office, matters relating to integrated housing, and private building under the National Housing Act. It is intended that the Peterborough office, which is to be moved from its Hunter St. premises, will have authority to provide to the people of the district the full accommodation of the corporation.

A Rest Cure In Czechoslovakia

Andrei Vishinsky, the Deputy Foreign Minister of Soviet Russia, is reported to be taking a rest for the good of his health in Czechoslovakia. He has been suffering from nervous exhaustion. This is a rather strange story. A Foreign Secretary of Britain will go to France or Italy for his health, an American President to the West Indies or New Brunswick, and no one thinks such travel strange. Even Mr. Mackenzie King used to journey to the southern American states when he sought health and rest. But for a Soviet official to travel outside holy Russia in search of a cure amazes us. The Soviet Russians are not wont to admit that anything, even rest, is to be preferred outside rather than within Russia's border. Stalin rests in Georgia; could not Vishinsky take his in the Crimea?

* * *

We do not for a minute believe that Vishinsky is out of favour with others of the Soviet heirarchy. Perhaps the high councillors in Moscow admit privately that there are finer resorts under the sun than the Kremlin—the Riesengebirge of Czechoslovakia, for instance. It is possible, however, that there is more to the matter of Vishinsky abroad than his health.

* * *

There are persistent rumours that the Russians are seeking readmission of Germans to the Sudetenland in northern Czechoslovakia, on the grounds that the Sudeten Germans will help revive the industry there. It is said the Vishinsky's job is to force this unpopular return upon the Czech government. If this is so, the wheel is coming full circle with caustic, cosmic irony. The last war had its source in the Sudetenland. The Germans then living in that part of Czechoslovakia were a trial and burden to the Czech government. In 1938 Hitler annexed the Sudetenland (and quiescent fearful statesmen signed the Munich Agreement) on the pretext of protecting the German minority. After the war Czechoslovakia got back the Sudentenland and its Germans were excluded. Are they again to become, through the machinations of Russia, a Czech problem, the master this time being Stalin, not Hitler?

The Waltham Case In The U.S.

A politico-economic issue of interest to all nations who compete against United States industry in United States markets has been raised at least twice in recent weeks at Washington, D.C. It is actually an old issue—that of protective tariffs—but there is a new angle to the present discussion, which raises the question: Should United States tariff laws guarantee any U.S. industry against competition, no matter how high its production cost or how inefficient its management?

The case is that of the Waltham Watch Company, which shut down a few months ago after a century in the business. Closing its plants meant throwing 2,300 skilled workers out of jobs; these have been living on unemployment compensation. The company claims its bankruptcy was caused by competition from Swiss products imported under low tariffs, and since extension of reciprocal trade agreements has been before the United States Congress in recent weeks, the Waltham company's claim has been carefully examined.

The claim that Swiss watches were responsible for the Waltham bankruptcy appears to be as full of holes as another Swiss product. Inefficient management seems to be the correct answer. For example, the Waltham management for years has been parroting the opinions of Mr. Walter Cenerazzo, head of the American Watchmakers' Union. Every time production costs rose, Mr. Cenerazzo argued the tariff should also be raised, and the company repeated his arguments, apparently without the slightest consideration of the experience of other watchmaking companies in the United States. Elgin and Hamilton, operating under the same tariff, had record sales and net profits last year; Gruen was doing quite well—and Swiss importers like Bulova were forced to manufacture their finest watches in the United States in order to compete with U.S. manufacturers. While all this was going on in other companies, the management under which Waltham went bankrupt had discontinued production of lines which had accounted for forty-five per cent. of the company's total trade. It had also shrugged off an offer to design a new speedometer for the Ford motor car company. And yet the bankrupt company still insists a higher tariff is essential to successful operation of a watchmaking industry in the United States.

The issue, of course, is one for the United States Congress, that nation's State Department and its Tariff Commission to settle. If higher tariffs are granted in the case of one inefficiently managed industry facing foreign competition, however, it would not be long before others would apply, and if the old tariff walls were rebuilt, the United States would lose the benefits conferred by the reciprocal trade agreements. It would be rather a stiff premium to pay for the protection of inefficiency.

Machine Votes In Finland

In the Finnish parliament the members vote on bills and other motions by pushing buttons. Mechanical equipment has been installed in the legislative hall and the members do not "divide" as in the Canadian parliament or vote by casting ballots. They announce their aye's and nay's by pressing buttons. Last Tuesday there were two close votes on two important measures, both of which almost upset the Government. On the first motion the mechanical vote was 97 for the Government, 96 against. The Finnish legislators had a feeling that the voice of the button might not be the true voice of the parliament, so another vote was taken, this time on paper. The result was 97-97. We have seen no official explanation of the extra vote in the second instance; perhaps one of the members was dodging gadgets. The 97-97 vote was resolved by drawing lots. The Government won.

The second measure which almost upset the government resulted in a push-button vote of 95 for the government, 97 against. Again the legislators turned back to old-fashioned voting methods, and this time the slips of paper foiled the buttons in favour of the Social Democratic government. The vote was 98 for the government, 96 against.

The vagaries of voting by ballot are sufficiently disturbing, but fewer wires can be crossed that way than by voting by button. The tricks by which the unscrupulous can delude the juke-boxes, the slot-machines and even the parking meters can too easily be adapted to vote-recording machines in a parliament. The lesson for Canada of the voting in Helsinki last Tuesday is that a good loud or a quietly written aye or nay is a truer democratic voice than the blink of a light or the click of a machine.

The Practicality Of Polygamy

Now and then, here and there, and for one reason or another, polygamy is publicly espoused or privately dreamed of. It was practised to some extent in Hitler's Germany, although no more than one wife was officially recognized. Now that England has more marriageable women than men, some people there, among them C. E. M. Joad, are suggesting that the adoption of polygamy would be of national benefit. It would, however, be attended by so many social and financial inconveniences that we are not likely to see monogamy discarded in England for several years. Even in Moslem countries where polygamy is legal, economic conditions are resulting in fewer wives, and literate urban Moslems are reconciling themselves to one wife at a time.

Modern economic conditions do not always make polygamy impracticable. For instance, a railway inspector in Egypt has found it to his advantage to have four wives, the maximum allowed in that country. Each week he has to carry on his inspectoral duties in four different towns, where housing is scarce. He has solved the problem of over-night accommodation by marrying women who live in the four towns, each of whom has a house. The other week his route was changed. The inspector told his employer, the Ministry of Transportation, that he was therefore obliged to divorce his wives, so as to be free to marry in the towns of his new route, and thus to secure accommodation in them. The Ministry, commendably concerned for the welfare of its employees and not anxious to force him into divorce, restored him to his old route.

The Egyptian railway workers' practical reasons for polygamy are unlikely to be applicable in Ontario towns where housing is scarce. Few unmarried women here have houses of their own.

This sign in a local shop window may be a small sign of a return to normal times: "Blade Roast 49c lb. Blade Removed".

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

LAST week I spoke about the eccentric Boswell—The Hooded Hawk—and since then other individuals, who would be placed in a similar category, have come to mind. There was John Mytton, born shortly after Bozzy expired in 1796. At 38, he died of delirium tremens, having gone through an estate worth £500,000, one of the richest in England. He was no slouch at his chosen profession—and it was a profession in the 18th century—eccentricity. In winter he wore the flimsiest clothes, and was known to lie on the snow in the winter with nothing on at all waiting for wild fowl. One day his servants were skidding about the ice learning to skate when they were set upon by rats and terriers: Mytton's idea of a joke. Among his other accomplishments he rode a bear into the drawing room, and when annoyed by an attack of hiccups, set fire to his nightshirt, chuckling, "That'll frighten them away."

Then there was the other type of eccentric, the extreme miser. John Ward, of Hackney, after introducing his prayer with information about his surplus wealth, concluded: "O Lord, enable the Bank to answer the bills, and make all my debtors good men.... give a prosperous voyage and return to the 'Mermaid' sloop because I have insured her."

◇ ◇ ◇

"MR. CHURCHILL certainly deserves better than to be known for his foibles"—writes Colin Coote in the introduction to his anthology—Maxims And Reflections Of Winston Churchill, published by Collins.

"The British public were long more intrigued by the queerness of his hats than what went on underneath them. Again, everybody knows that he likes laying bricks, but that does not mean that he is likely to drop them. He is also known to be a better painter than Hitler, but that does mean that he is a worse politician." The charm of this little volume is that it is within the reach of everyone's pocketbook and in this respect is unlike most anthologies. The volume is divided in ten parts, and, it seems to me, the quotations dealing with his dislikes are the best. It is not without significance that he had something to say of Lord Macaulay who is responsible for a good deal of misrepresentation in English history, and especially since he was so hard on Churchill's ancestor, Marlborough:

"It is beyond our hopes to overtake Lord Macaulay.... We can only hope that Truth will follow swiftly enough to fasten the label 'Liar' to his genteel coat-tails."

No love was lost between Winston and Ramsay MacDonald, and he had this to say of that much maligned figure, "I remember, when I was a child, being taken to the celebrated Barnum's Circus, which contained an exhibition of freaks and monstrosities, but the exhibit on the programme which I most desired to see was the one described as 'The Boneless Wonder.' My parents judged that that spectacle would be too revolting and demoralizing for my youthful eyes, and I have waited fifty years to see the Boneless Wonder sitting on the Treasury Bench."

Here is his shattering statement on Lord Charles Beresford, a critic of the new broom, shortly after Churchill's appointment to the Admiralty in 1911. "He can best be described as one of those orators who, before they get up, do not know what they are going to say; when they are speaking, do not know what they are saying; and when they have sat down, do not know what they have said."

◇ ◇ ◇

IN GREAT CONTEMPORARIES there were a few references to Bernard Shaw, which Mr. Coote has reproduced here: "He was one of my earliest antipathies — this bright, nimble, fierce and comprehending being—Jack Frost dancing bespangled in the sunshine." Elsewhere: "If the truth must be told, our British island has not had much help in its troubles from Mr. Bernard Shaw. When nations are fighting for life, when the palace in which the jester dwells not uncomfortably is itself assailed, and everyone from prince to groom is fighting on the battlements, the jester's jokes echo only through deserted halls, and his witticisms and condemnations, distributed evenly between friend and foe, jar the ear of hurrying messengers, of mourning women and wounded men. The titter ill accords with the tocsin, or the motley with the bandages."

Both from the point of view of reference and bed-time reading, this volume is a welcome addition to "anyman's" Library.

CANADIANS will be interested in Arthur Stringer's fine biography of young Rupert Brooke (Red Wine of Youth)—a poet much beloved by Canadians and a biography written by the Canadian veteran poet.

Edmund Morris, the well-known painter of Indian heads, piloted Rupert through Toronto and introduced him to the Arts and Letters Club, then housed in the old Assize Court. "He was welcomed there (writes Stringer), and perhaps his most sympathetic listener was Rufus Hathaway, bibliophile and poetry lover, who had already poured over Brooke in a treasured copy of Georgian Poetry. Hathaway fell under the spell of the voluble young Englishman and that night, still talking poetry, walked with Rupert to his hotel. Rupert, warm with his subject, offered to walk back with so responsive a stranger. With their talk still unfinished, Hathaway turned and accompanied the poet once more to his hotel door, where a return journey was undertaken, that the matter under discussion might be thrashed out to the end."

Rights Which Are Secure

So long as a Canadian Prime Minister of English, French or Irish extraction wields authority in a Canadian parliament the ancestral language of the inhabitants of the province of Quebec is in no danger. On the contrary, as today we happily realize, respect for the language of an always growing minority has always a tendency to increase, not only for reasons of honour which are dear to the Anglo-Canadian element but also thanks to its political wisdom. As a matter of fact, as non-French educationists frequently repeat and as they prove by their acts it is agreed today that bilingualism is a distinction, providing at once that advantages of a double culture and the protection of the national character of the people of Canada. That appears to be better understood by university people than by certain political agitators.

House That Cost $1,000 Less

(COLLIER'S MAGAZINE)

IN Urbana, Illinois, there are two houses which look just alike, but aren't. They are of the same size, were built from the same floor plan by the same contractor and labourers. The materials in them were purchased from the same dealer at the same prices. Yet one of the houses cost $1,000 less to build than its identifical twin.

The producers' council, an organization of building material manufacturers, had developed a set of plans for low prices homes, using the modular principle, in which all dimensions are multiples of a chosen unit of four inches. By following these plans a house could be built more cheaply than one using hit or miss dimensions. But the council architects weren't satisfied to stop with improved plans. Could better building methods cut costs even more?

◇ ◇ ◇

ASSISTED by technical advisers from the producers' council, the small homes council went to work in Urbana. They got a local contractor, gave him the plans and told him to go ahead and build a house.

Workmen swarmed over the site, followed by time study engineers, who watched every move the workers made and clocked every detail of the forty major steps that go into building a house. The house was completed in what the contractor considered "about average" working time. But Jim Lendrum, associate co-ordinator of the council, and his cost minded engineers considered the man-hours — 2,078.92 of them — and shook their heads.

Lendrum could see incredulity on the faces of the workers as he told them how to go at the next house. What he proposed was complete heresy. He wanted to build the outer wall structure, then put the roof on, without any partitions whatsoever inside the house. This meant that the outer walls had to bear the whole weight of the roof, which called for a new kind of construction.

The council engineers had that all figured out. They would make roof trusses of the horizontal and sloping members, fasten them together on the ground, then swing them into place. The carpenters agreed that a house built that way might hold together, but protested that the roof trusses would be too heavy, too clumsy to handle.

"They'll weigh just seventy pounds," Lendrum said. And he showed them how four men could put them up. The grumbling stopped and the roof went up in record time.

With the roof trusses all up, the house consisted of just one big room. While the carpenters went ahead with the roofing, exterior of the house was completely free from obstruction, ready for plumbing and wiring.

◇ ◇ ◇

WHEN the plumber looked at the empty shell of a house and was told, "Now go ahead and install a bathroom," he threw up his hands.

"But I can't do that," he protested. "There's no bathroom there yet."

Lendrum patiently showed him chalk marks where the fixtures were to go, and pointed out the merits of not having to knock holes in walls. Before the job was finished the plumber was beaming. "This is sure the way to build a house," he said.

It sure is the way, all right. They built four more houses before they announced the figures. Their "engineered construction" methods had knocked 438.65 man-hours of work out of each house! Multiply that by a rough $2.25 as an average hourly wage for building trades workers and you get the dollars and cents saving.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine. As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: and I lay down my life for the sheep. And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd....

And it was at Jerusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter. And Jesus walked in the temple in Solomon's porch.

Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly. Jesus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me. But ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me: and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

My father, which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

I and my Father are one. (John 10: 14-16, 22-30.)

The Lord rewarded me according to my righteousness; according to the cleanness of my hands hath he recompensed me....With the merciful thou wilt shew thyself merciful; with an upright man thou wilt shew thyself upright. (Ps. 18: 20, 25.)

As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness. (Ps. 17: 15.)

Video For Traffic Safety

A new system of television is being used in Britain for the purpose of preventing road accidents. It is believed to be the first time television has been used anywhere in the world for educating people about traffic dangers. It was tried out recently in Cambridge with apparatus known as closed circuit television which carried signals direct from camera to screen. Traffic at the junction of two of Cambridge's busiest streets was televised to audiences at an exhibition which formed part of the town's campaign for promoting safety on the roads. A police officer commented on the various incidents which occurred so that the viewers were given an object lesson from actual happenings on what should or should not be done by motorists, cyclists and pedestrians. Both visual and sound reception were exceptionally clear and quite free from interference from passing vehicles which so often affects television reception.

Wheat Production

Because North America is the big wheat exporting area, Canadians are apt to think this continent produces the bulk of the world's wheat. Actually, it produces only about one-quarter of the total.

What is apt to throw us off in our perspective is that we produce more wheat on this continent than we need. Europe and Asia cannot produce enough for their more densely populated countries.—Windsor Star.

Meteors Turn Back Petes To Get 4-Goal Playoff Lead

Down four goals in their OHA senior "B" group semi-final series the Petes face the acid test when they tackle Toronto Meteors here Wednesday night. The Creighton crew lost the first of the home-and-home series 5-1 in Lindsay on Saturday nght before a good-sized crowd. Winner of this setto goes against the local Legionnaires in group finals, opening in Lindsay on Saturday.

Meteors finished strong with three third-period goals to break up a fine fray. It was 1-0 for them in the first frame and each side counted in the second. Play was quite fast all through and pretty even till out in the third. It started off as a clean contest but roughened up considerably in the third. The winners drew six of the nine penalties, which included two majors and a misconduct. Bell, Sadler and Valliere sparked the Toronto attack, and all the Petes toiled hard, with no one player outstanding.

Changed Fast

The Petes had an early edge in the speedy going to test Lynn hard several times. Tompkins got in for a nice try and then Carter nearly caught a corner of the McGillis tepee. Meteors got working in threateningly a little later till Thoms went off with a sore foot. The pace kept up and players were changed frequently. Three parts of the way through, Sadler got a lucky one for Meteors, his hot shot, from Bell's pass, being deflected in off a Petes' defence stick. The rest of the chukker was at a hot clip and quite even on territorial play.

A Coughlin-Kingdon thrust early in the second nearly paid off as it resumed fast and pretty even. Veigel was robbed by Harding and Jopling came close. Garvey scored but it was after a whistle. Williams went off for interference and five Petes' forwards pressed. Quigley evened the count from Griffin on an in-close backhander. Williams returned and Legrow and Parks were gated for highsticking but nothing happened in their absence. Later, Carter got in close as Meteors banged around Harding to score, Veigel and DeLaat drawing assists. Thompson injured Legrow, throwing him into the boards to hurt his shoulder, and drew a penalty near the finish.

Sizzling Period

Griffin came close to open the sizzling period. Valliere snapped in Bell's pass at close range to make it 3-1 for Meteors and DeLaat nearly got another. Quigley was hurt temporarily as it roughed up and Thompson drew the nod for charging. He was followed by Thoms for highsticking but the Petes' attack was broken up handily till their return. Valliere got through uncovered with Bell's pass for another, and a Quigley-Garvey thrust made Lynn jump. Floyd Parsons and Parks drew majors for fighting and Garvey, who got it for tripping, was given a misconduct for arguing too heatedly. Some choice words from Coach Red Creighton on the bench reached the referee's ears and two policemen escorted the redhead to his dressing room. Near the close, Bell batted one more home inside, with Williams and Thoms aiding. Kingdon tried hard in the final minute but Lynn outguessed him, players' free-for-all threatened at the gong but no damage was done.

The teams:

Petes—Goal, Harding; defence, Coughlin and Jopling; centre, Kingdon; wings, Reid and Tompkins; alternates, Griffin, Mortimer, Quigley, Horton, McMaster, Garvey, Legrow, and F. Parsons.

Meteors—Goal, Lynn; defence, Sadler and Thoms; centre, Bell; wings, Valliere and Williams; alternates, Veigel, Carter, DeLaat, B. Robertson, C. Robertson, Parks, Fisher and Thompson.

Leading Bowlers

Mary Heard had high single of 290 and triple of 693 for girls of the Rubber Room in the Raybestos - Nashua - Sealright Bowling League last week. Ken Crampton of Receiving led the men with a neat 353 and 798 threesome. His team led the totals with 3,159. Moulded Lining No. 2 leads the league with 59 points, as Itstix and Shiping have 56 each, Mustangs 53, Receiving 52, Moulded Lining No. 1 40, Sealright 38, Rubber Room 37, Advertising 36, and Office 33.

Trojan League Puckists Take Honors

Trojan AC were fortunate to get their final game played on Saturday. Games started promptly at noon. All games were sudden death affairs and luckily there was no ties.

In the Bantam League the Rangers came out on top, as they knocked off the Red Wings and Canadiens to take possession of the Rehill Cup for the next year. They will likely receive crests as Bantam champs of Trojan Hockey League. In the first game Rangers beat Red Wings 4 to 2. Frizzelle and Pagett shared the goals for Rangers, helped by Stewart and Herbison, who went well on defence. Merritt got Wings' goals but all the team worked hard.

In the second Bantam game after a one-hour rest Rangers nosed out Canadiens 5 to 4. Frizzelle (3) and Pagette (2) again were the big goal scorers. The Habs fought hard but did not have it. Roberts, Lundz and Cullen went well in front of a good defence in Goodson and Carleton Cullen, Roberts and Lundy (2) got their goals. Both goalies were good.

Coaches in these games were:

Rangers—First game, G. Pagett

Rangers—Second game, J. Wilson.

Red Wings—Ed. Panter.

Canadiens—G. E. Church, acting coach.

In the Midget League the Canadiens came out on top. They knocked off Rangers and without a rest turned back the Red Wings to win the title of the Trojan Midget Hockey Champs, and take possession of a cup yet to be secured, as this is the first of midget hockey for Trojan AC.

In the first Midget game the third spot Wings extended themselves to knock off the fast first place Leafs. Although Wings were short of reserves, Foster (2) and Collins scored for Wings assisted by Dick; Seabrooke and Belsey played good defence and Lowes was good in goal. G. Collins played well.

Allen got two for Lears, assists going to White and Elliot Church and White were a stalwart defence. Wings 3, Leafs 2.

Referee—G. Padgett; linesman, Panter.

In the second Midget game Canadiens beat the Rangers, the lame duck team of the league, 7 to 0. Rangers were short of players as most of their boys have jobs for Saturday. They used two Bantam players, D. Brock in goal and J. Stewart, defence. They were no match for Canadiens although they tried hard. Batley and Patterson were good for Rangers and Brockwell made many good saves.

In the final Midget game Canadiens defeated Wings 5 to 3. It was a close game but they had the edge. Wings scored first, Deck getting a pass from R. Collins. R. Dunn tied it up. R. Collins scored for Wings. Ed. Dunn got it abck for the others. Hefferman put them ahead on a neat rush. Chapman scored on a hot shot. R. Collins kept his team in these on anotoher goal, but Hefferman got another goal to make it safe for Canadiens. D. Wheatley was good in goal for them.

Midget coaches:

Canadiens—H. Dunn.

Wings—F. Lundy.

Rangers—W. Panter.

Leafs—W. Romhanyi.

Timer—F. Jennings.

These games end an unsuccessful hockey season for the club, due to unfavorable weather for making ice on outdoor rinks.

The membership is higher this year but hockey activities lower. The boys are looking forward to baseball and lacrosse as their next sports.

Warkworth Victors

Edwards and Edgar sparked their attack at Lakefield on Wednesday night as the big snipers throughout the game while Patterson led the losers with two counters. The game was clean.

Warkworth — Goal, Halloran; defence N. Dudley and Greenly; centre, Edgar; wings, Buchanan and Edwards; alternates, Grills, Makepeace, Weatherson, Laver, A. Dudley, Welcher, and Platt.

Lakefield — Goal, Jones; defence Blewett and Burton; centre, Chappell; wings, Jewell and Patterson; alternates, Hopkins, Henry, S. Lonsberry, and Fawcett.

Referee, Calberry; linesman, Junkin.

The Warkworth hockey team wound up their TVL activities by trouncing Madoc 17-2.

Edwards and Buchanan were the big guns for Warkworth with four goals each. There were only two penalties in the game, each team getting one in the first period. In the last two games Warkworth showed their ability as players.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

It's do or die at Civic Arena tonight for our junior "B" Oddfellows. Losing 4-2 to Toronto Lions in Nobleton on Saturday, they must win tonight or call it a season. Lions are up two now in the best-of-five group finals. Ought to be a streamlined junior playoff joust this eve, and Archie Weir's squad can still get in there. They outplayed Lions the last two heats Saturday in a dandy go, but Lions had a 3-1 margin the first frame. A hole in front of one net so the ref moves the cage up 18 inches—and Coach Weir said he'd protest. Ice was flooded ere game time, too, but was oke later. Lions got one goal when two of their men rammed right in on top of Byers and knocked over the net—yet 'twas allowed. No breaks, see? Floyd and Truss scored, Anderson shone on defence, a new trio of Armstrong, Buckton and Douglas went good—in fact, all the IOOF-ers turned in a fine effort.

* * * * * *

Down four and one to go—meaning four markers in the red and one game to get 'em back—that's the story for the Petes now in senior "B" group semi-finals. Lost 5-1 in Lindsay to Toronto Meteors on Saturday in a redhot fray, the Meteors clicking smartly on fast passing plays inside the McGillis men's blue line for three tallies in the third of an otherwise even contest. Rough the final frame, too, with one fight, another threatening, some hard bashing by big Rhys Thompson, two major penalties and a misconduct, and Coach Red Creighton being led off the ice by two limbs of the law. Some sizzling remarks of his burned the refs up and Red was led away holding his nose as if the odor was bad and pointing toward the officials.

* * * * * *

Missed Some Chances

Yeah, they were playing for keeps and it was a good game, but Meteors earned the win. By a couple of goals, as the Petes lacked scoring punch in close and missed several swell chances with the goalie sprawled. Also some blind passing. Well, they've got Wednesday eve here to pull it out of the fire—or they've had it for this semester. Meteors have looked bad several games this year and might slip some Wednesday, but they had it Saturday and so tote that four-goal lead into the return match. A two-game series, with the winner opeping in Lindsay against Legion next Saturday for the group title.

* * * * * *

Local lacrossers were accepted the other day into the OLA senior "A" setup along with Hamilton, St. Catharines, Owen Sound, Brampton, Weston, Fergus and Mimico. Funny thing was that some of the clubs weren't fussy, obviously fearing a bolstered Petes' team. Owen Sound were quite frank about it, and St. Kitts wanted to see the Petes' player list before voting 'em in. This was refused and the gathering eventually took in the locals, who were senior "B" champs of the province the past two years. May 1 is the deadline for bringing in players and the Petes will have six or eight "A" stars added to their present roster by then. Half a dozen noted players already have asked to come here. Should be a big season.

At the Brock this Wednesday night, handsome and powerful Mike Sharpe tees of in the main pro mat bout against Sandy O'Donnell. Last week, Sandy made Ben Sharpe eat crow but he'll have a tougher foe in big brother Mike—who should avenge that business in a lively tussle. Ben, by the way, fractured an arm in Toronto a few nights ago when he bounced off huge Hi Lee, so he'll be sidelined for a time. The semi-final here has Frank Valois in against Irish Tom Collins, while Mike Mihalakis goes against Pat Flanagan in the prelim. Fun and fury for the city and district grapple-followers.

A capacity crowd at the Collegiate on Saturday o'en saw a honey of a men's cage exhibition. Those touring New York pros, the Black Barons, squeezed out a 50-49 win o'er Al Clark's classy Marines "A" chaps, latter being led by Joe Stewart with 23 points. In a prelim, "Y" Leaders took a 31-20 victory from PCVS junior Bees. Marines "B" hoopsters lost in Orillia 30-22 and are now down eight points for the return OABA game here this week-end. Only one girls' game played on Friday, and the schedule ends this way next Friday: Normals vs. Nurses, and Collis vs. Lockeys. Towne Togs go to Cobourg on Saturday to open LOBA play. In COSSA group play, Oshawa seniors and juniors play PCVS teams here this week-end.

Orillia Leads By Eight Over Marines

Orillia defeated Marines B cakers 30-22 on the former's floor on Saturday in the first of their home-and-home OABA Intermediate B playdowns, points counting. The return tilt will be played here this Saturday, the winner advancing in provincial playdowns and the losers being finished for the season.

Gord McIntyre's bunch had a 16-14 lead at the half, but were outscored 16-8 in a hot last half by the homesters, who threw up a good defence as they built up their eight-point margin. The visitors clicked on six of nine free tosses as the winners got but four in a dozen. O'Brien and Hamilton led the Orillia attack with 10 points each in a keen contest, while Thorburn, Dadson, and Payne went best on the attack for Marines. The teams:

Marines B — Payne 5, Butcher, Gardner, Batchelor, Griffin 1, Dadson 6, Smith 1, Deroo 2, Grant, Trimm 1, Thorburn 6.

Orillia — Jerome 3, Hare 4, Hamilton 10, Mulligan 1, O'Brien 10, Naismith, Page 2, Wilde.

Black Barons Win 50-49

New York Black Barons eked out a 50-49 exhibition basketball win over Outboard Marines "A" squad in a thriller before a capacity crowd at the Collegiate gym Saturday night. Coach Al Clark spoke briefly on brotherhood before the big game and the team captains, J. Freeland of Barons and Joe Stewart of Marines, shook hands in recognition of the spirit of good will. A prelim game saw "Y" Leaders pull out a 31-20 victory over PCVS Junior Bees.

Marines broke fast and shot well to run up an early 8-0 lead. The classy Barons called time and shifted their plays to high gear in a fine exhibition of speed, deception and shooting to lead at the half 31-21. They added to this margin for a time but Marines' fast breaks began clicking and a sustained drive, with brilliant defence work and shooting by Joe Stewart and Nicholls, put them back in the running. With a minute to go, Barons had a 50-49 lead and brilliant ball-handling by them kept intact that precious margin. Play was fast and clean throughout, a real crowd-pleaser, with Joe Stewart starring as he scored 23 points.

Barons—Shaw 9, Freeland 8, Thomas 10, Moore 16, Fox 7, H. Shaw.

Marines—Edger 3, Gillespie 2, Burns 4, A. Stewart 2, Menzies, Nicholls 12, Plunkett 1, J. Stewart 23, Smith 2.

Referee—N. Stanger.

Prelim Tilt

The prelim game showed what tomorrow's cage stars will be like as PCVS Junior "B" and the "Y" Intermediate Leaders turned in a good display. The Leaders were down 12-10 at the half but broke fast in the second stanza to get inside the Collegiate defence to hit the loop for the win. Long shooting accounted for many baskets, too, with Ted Cranfield sinking four 30-footers and Ron Doughty replying with three. The teams:

PCVS—Brown 2, Elcombe, McIlraith 6, Buckland, Doughty 8, Jameson 2, Ash 2, Hendren, Britnell, Dewar.

Leaders—Grafstein 4, Cranfield 8, Young 9, Ackford 6, Langhorne 2, Graham 2, Boorman.

Lions Go Two Up In Series After a 4-2 Win Over IOOF

By FRED MAYBEE

Toronto Lions defeated Oddfellows 4-2 at Nobleton Saturday night, in the third game of their best of five OHA Junior "B" group final series to take a two-game edge. The first contest ended in a 6-6 tie. The fourth is at Civic tonight.

Despite a 3-1 lead gained in the first period, the issue was in doubt until Ron Hinde's tally late in the third with Triple Links a man short put Lions two up after Archie Weir's boys had put on a brilliant come-back display from midway in the first, when Don Floyd scored from Pagett.

IOOF got the only goal in the second as Johnny Truss took a neat pass from Bob Wyatt 20 feet out and laced a scorcher from short right wing that glanced off Henderson's stick high into the twine. Links outplayed their heavier rivals and held off every thrust on fairly fast ice. But Lions combined well, played hard, aggressive hockey, protected their early lead with sound defensive work and earned the spoils.

Got First

John Popaduik, leading scorer in the series with five goals and one assist, tallied early in the first as his line worked in close on Byers and he whizzed a low one to the right side which Byers made a futile effort to save. Links drove back hard as both teams played wide open hockey, but neither could register for several minutes though there was many close calls. Lions got a rather lucky one as Vousden and Barringham combined on a rush with two of their mates and carried in with such force that they, Byers and the net all went down simultaneously on a smashing drive with the puck beneath. Despite a protest, however, the referees ruled it a goal. (Due to a hole in the ice, the net had been moved ahead 18 inches before play began—on referees' instructions — thus emininating the red crease). Links were a man short at the time. Three minutes later, Barfield, Kett and Hinde clicked on a wild scramble as the former batted in his own rebound from close in as Lions showed speed and confidence at this point.

Scored Beauty

Don Floyd, who played a fine two-way game, scored a beautiful counter about a minute later to put IOOF back in the game. Pagett carried up centre, passed to his mate on right wing, and Floyd stickhandled his way into position and lined a dandy past Crouch into the mesh as the crowd went wild.

Both teams travelled at top speed for the next 28 minutes of play as Links held a wide margin in territorial play with speed that had their rivals toiling to thwart their attacks. After Truss finally scored with seconds to go in the period to narrow the margin to one, the teams continued their scoreless dual in the final period with little to choose as both teams began to tire. There were nine penalties in this session and 19 in all in the game as feelings mounted between the players in the hectic battle. Five to Links in the finale proved costly as Lions scored their final tally against a short-handed team.

Anderson, Floyd and Byers were outstanding. Bill Berwick turned in a smashing game with every one of his mates. Roy Armstrong, Al Buckton and Ray Douglas played like veterans in their first game, with the former strong on defence and the latter two good up front. For Lions, Popaduik, Kett, the Lawrence brothers, Barringham, Hinde, Barfield, Vousden and Dyson were best with Crouch good in the nets. The teams:

Toronto Lions: Goal, Crouch; defence, Barringham, C. Lawrence; centre, Popaduik; wings, Robertson, Dyson; alternates; Kett, J. Lawrence, Sinclair, Vousden, Henderson, Hunter, Barfield, Hinde.

IOOF: Goal, Byers; defence, W. Berwick, Anderson; centre, Fryia; wings, Truss, Douglas; alternates, Pagett, Floyd, Whitnell, Buckton, Armstrong, Birch, J. Berwick, Wyatt.

Referees: Wen Braithwaite and Percy Allen, Toronto.

Looks Like Grudge Battle For Sharpe

Tom Collins

Rough, rambunctious and colorful Sandy O'Donnell of the show-me state of Missouri will try to prove his contention, "I can beat any Canadian heavyweight", in the Brock Arena ring on Wednesday. O'Donnell meets Mike (The Body) Sharpe who backs up from no man and who is regarded as one of the greatest prospective champions to come up in the mat game in years.

O'Donnell beat Mike's brother Ben Sharpe here last week and Mike didn't like the way the audacious O'Donnell accomplished the job. "He's dirty and rough" said Ben after the match "and I'd like to see Mike take a shot at him."

Big Frank Valois, the French heavy, will be introduced on Wednesday's program when he meets Irish Tom Collins. In the first bout Pat Flanagan tackles Mike "Prince" Mahalikis.

Wings Run Into Bad Slump Lose Two Weekend Games

By The Canadian Press

After setting a hot pace for most of the season, Detroit Red Wings could be expected to have a letdown sometime. But not many thought the Wings would run into as bad a slump as they are in at the moment.

The Wings have gone winless in six starts, dropping both their week-end games by one goal, 1-0 to Montreal Canadiens and 3-2 to New York Rangers. Their once healthy 12-point lead over the second place Boston Bruins has been chopped to seven points.

With eight games to go for Detroit and nine for Boston, this margin still looks mighty formidable, but if the slump should turn into a tailspin, the Bruins could take it all.

In other week-end contests, Chicago Black Hawks emerged with a pair of draws, tying Toronto 2-2 Saturday night and being held to another 2-2 sawoff by Boston Sunday night.

Canadiens Boosted

Montreal's hard-earned victory boosted the Habitants' playoff stock another notch. The Habs now are tied with Toronto for fourth place, six and seven points up on Chicago and New York respectively.

A three-goal spree in the first period was too much for Detroit to overcome as New York took the Wings into camp 3-2 before 14,616 fans at Madison Square Garden Sunday night.

Payoff men for the tail-enders were Tony Leswick, Buddy O'Connor and Allan Stanley. The Detroit markers, scored by Ted Lindsay and Sid Abel, came within 37 seconds of each other in the middle frame.

Margin of Victory

Big Roger Leger's drive from the blueline which fooled Harry Lumley all the way proved the margin of victory as Canadiens upset Detroit 1-0 before a Forum crowd of 11,215 Saturday.

The game was almost like a playoff preview with both teams playing it close to the vest and few chances in a close-checking affair.

There was little to choose between Boston and Chicago as these clubs battled to a 2-2 stalemate before 16,484 at Chicago Stadium.

Roy Conacher gave the Hawks a 1-0 lead at 10.23 of the first period with a blistering, close-in shot.

At 13.51 of the second period the Bruins' Ken Smith connected to tie the score. They went ahead when the third period was slightly over a minute old on Jim Peters' marker.

Chicago moved into the final deadlock about four minutes later on Red Hamill's goal.

Get 13th Tie

At Toronto Saturday, the Maple Leafs tie game was their 13th this season.

Toronto gave Chicago's Jim Henry a rough time of it. They slapped him with 35 shots while Hawks were haunting Turk Broda with 21. Henry proved the major difference between a tie and defeat.

Slim Jim Conacher fired the first goal of the game at 9.20 of the first period.

A minute and a half later Jimmy Thomson and Cal Gardner set Watson up for the equalizer which he fired from 50 feet out into the top corner of the short side.

A penalty to Gus Mortson gave the Hawks an opening and Gaye Stewart picked up Doug Bentley's rebound to beat Broda from close range. Cal Gardner's goal at 7.30 of the third period earned Leafs a split in points.

Underdog Flyers Trounce Spitfires 5-4

By The Canadian Press

Hap Emms' Barrie Flyers appear to be the team to stop in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A loop.

During the week-end the underdog Flyers moved into a two-game lead in their best-of-seven semi-final playoff series by defeating Windsor Spitfires 5-4. Barrie won the first game 6-3.

In the other Junior A game Saturday, the Toronto Marlboros downed Stratford Kroehlers 4-3 to tie their best-of-three quarter-final series at 1-1.

At Windsor, the Spitfires outshot the Flyers 43-14 but couldn't come up with the equalizer. Three goals in less than two minutes during the late stages of the second period gave the Flyers the edge they needed to stave off a Windsor offensive.

Barrie were held to a 1-1 tie in the first period, but moved out in front 4-2 in the second. Then Windsor potted two goals early in the third session to tie the game. Gord Pennell clinched it when he scored his second goal on a 20-foot screened shot.

Other Barrie marksmen were Sid McNabney, Bill Burcham and Jack Leckie. Jimmy Maxwell, Bruce Giesebrecht, Johnny Wilson and Lavergne tallied for Windsor.

At Toronto, the Dukes blew a two-goal lead and then recovered to win. They went up 1-0 early in the first period on a goal by Bob McKennell and made it 2-0 in the second period. Stratford forged back when Pierre Cadieux and Jimmy Pernfuss scored to tie the score at 2-2.

In the third period the Kroehlers went ahead 3-2 when Cadieux added his second goal. With less than 10 minutes remaining in regulation time the Dukes took the offensive and tied the score on Don Windley's goal. Lorne Pirie got the game-winning marker minutes later.

HAVING LEARNED about the iron horse and mooseburgers, this herd of moose heads for the snowbank in Susitna Valley as a snowplow, from which this picture was taken, approaches on the Alaska Railroad. Tracks are hidden by a new snowfall which the plow is clearing.

Cliff W. Oliver Widely Mourned

HASTINGS, Feb. 28 —(ENS)— Clifford W. Oliver of Markdale and a former resident of Hastings died very suddenly in Toronto. Mr. Oliver in company with several Markdale residents had gone to Toronto to attend the harness horse races. Shortly after retiring he suffered a cerebral haemorrhage and died within the hour.

Mr Oliver was highly regarded in Markdale since going there four years ago, when he purchased the Markdale Meat business. His friendly manner won him the esteem of everyone. He was a members of Trinity United Church, Hastings and Annesley United Church, Markdale, a member of the Committee of Stewards, a Rotarian. He was a race horse enthusiast and derived much pleasure in this pastime. Only recently he had acquired a second racing mare which showed promise of being outstanding on the track. His trip to Toronto was to watch this horse's first performance of this season.

Born in Hastings were he grew up he received his education at the Dutch Line Public School and Norwood and Campbellford High Schools. On February 25, 1936 he was married in Toronto to Mary Elizabeth Carter, who survives him. Before going to Markdale in June 1945 he was manger of the Crozius Store in Detroit.

Besides his wife he leaves his mother, Mrs. Lottie Oliver, Hastings and one sister, Mrs. C. E. Johnston (Velma) of Hamilton.

The funeral service held in the United Church, Markdale by the Rev. W. M. Lee who based his his houghts on Isaiah 64, part of verse 9: "In all their affliction, he was officted and the angel of his presence saved them."

Pallbearers were Tim Thibaudeau, Bert Hamilton, George Cadigan, Stan Kidd, Harry Burnside and Harold Lever.

A profussion of lovely floral tributes bespoke widespread sympathy and were carried by fellow Rotarians.

Services were held in Hastings the following afternoon at the home of his mother and at Trinity United Churcvh where the Rev. S. N. Cole officiated.

Mr. Marvyn Preston was soloist. Internment was in Trent Valley Cemetery.

Pallbearers were six cousins, Hayden Kelly, Willis Preston, Wallace Stinson, Eric Murill, Gale McMaster and Ormond Cruickshanks.

Iron Horse's Recipe For Mooseburgers Makes Moose Respect Alaska Railroad

By NEA Service

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, (NEA) —The large moose poulation of the Susitna Valley is showing more respect for the "iron horse" these days, as change in attitude probably due to the fact that many of them were ending up as mooseburgers in mess halls of Alaska native schools.

An official of the government-owned Alaska Railroad observed the improved relationship on a recent trip through "Moose Alley," as the valley 45 miles north of here has been dubbed.

The moose, he reported, still take to the track to escape attack by wolves in the five-foot snow which blankets the region, but they appear to have abandoned they delaying tactics which had the line snarled for several weeks.

Despite the screams of locomotive whistles, the animals would amble down the rails oblivious to schedules. Trains were often delayed as much as an hour and a half.

Casualties in this "invasion of the right-of-way" were fairly high. Many moose were "bumped off" by engines plowing through the darkness of the long winter nights. More than one massive bull went down as it charged the snorting iron horse in a fit of rage.

After each engagement the carcass was dressed and quartered, then shipped here for distribution to native schools.

The word got around in moose circles. Now, as soon as the train comes into sight, they scamper off.

But whether or not the moose have learned a lesson they will remember is subject to debate. Old-timers on the road have their doubts.

It was a little more than a year ago, they recall, that the Alaska Railroad acquired its first streamlines. The boys were pretty proud of the shining blue and gold train, which was christened the "Aurora."

The pride of the line didn't keep its elegant monicker very long. After a trip to Fairbanks, during which it was slowed down to a walk by moose on the tracks, it was re-christened by Alaska's sourdoughs.

It was a bitter pill to Col. John P. Johnston, the road's general manager, when the Railbelt region mirthfully accepted the new designation—"The Moose Pusher."

Bengt Nordenskiold, arrived in Ottawa Sunday night after a 36-hour trans-Atlantic plane hop and immediately handed Canada a compliment. LOBA Social Evening

A gift of $10 was voted to a needy family. The next meeting will be held at the home of Sister Minnie Morrison, with Sister Jennie Wellman program convener.

Bickford Urges Movie Stars To Act Their Age

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 28 (AP)— Charles Bickford has this advice for Hollywood's aging stars: Act your age.

The movie industry is faced with a paradox. The great majority of its theatre patrons are under 30, but most of its stars are over that age.

In a survey of the star system, I found that the average age of the top 50 female stars is 32.4 years. Of the top 50 male stars, 40.7 years.

Veteran actor Bickford, who is up for an Academy Award for "Johnny Belinda," agrees this is a bad situation, for the public and stars alike.

"Too many stars base their careers on personality alone," he told me. "When the stars age, their personality fades and they slip into obscurity. These over-age juveniles and ingenues should stop trying to turn on the personality and start acting—if they can."

When M.G.M. brought Bickford out from the stage 20 years ago, he was put into leading man parts against his will. An irascible gent who refuses to fit into any mold, he made the transition to character parts a few years later.

Middle-Age Love

The actor has long plunked for middle-aged love on the screen.

"The reason more people from 35 to 55 don't go to the movies is that they get tired of seeing young love on the screen all the time. They want to see mature love for a change.

"The Success of 'Best Years of Our Lives' proved that. Fredric March and Myrna Loy were great because they played their own age."

Charlie is still waiting for producers to cast him in a love story. And if they want to put Myrna Loy opposite him, it's fine with him.

The Peterborough Examiner

VOL. XCVIII, No. 49 — MONDAY, FEBRUARY 28, 1949

Island Papers To Join Canadian Group

Eighty-nine Canadian daily newspapers are soon to enroll two more members in the Dominion's tenth province, Newfoundland, said Canadian Daily Newspapers Association's president, H. L. Garner, who is also general manager of the Peterborough Examiner. Mr. Garner has just returned from St. John's where he was accompanied by Ian H. MacDonald, general manager of the CDNA.

The object of their visit was to explain the advertising set-up of Canadian papers to executives of the Daily News and the Evening Telegram of St. John's.

Heretofore, all national advertising was handled through distributors who bought space at local space rates. Under the new arrangement, all national advertising will be placed through Canadian and American agencies direct. This change met with the approval of the executives of both dailies and it was announced by them that they were to become members of the CDNA.

Ships and Weather

Mr. Garner brought back a copy of the Daily News with him and it was interesting to examine its make-up. Being an old seaport city, much space is given to the movement of shipping, a vital interest. It is learned on page three, for instance, that seven Norwegian whaling ships arrived in the Port of St. John's to refuel. They were en route from Pern. South America, to a German port for repairs.

The weather is another point that is mentioned prominently in various items of news as well as features telling how weather behaves. Unlike Peterborough people who are satisfied with terse words of weather probabilities, in St. John's the tide tables, the exact timing of sun and moon movements, prominent stars and visible planets are plotted and studied, you may be sure, very closely by all readers.

Odd district names such as Omemee, Buckhorn and Lovesick are commonplace to Peterborough people but they might raise an eyebrow of interest in Newfoundland where place names are really unusual. One section of the Times, devoted to district weather and ice conditions tells of the situation from Horse Islands and Horse Deep. It tells that the ice has slacked off at Cowhead but that there is ice in all directions around Fogo and around the island of the dead, Isle aux Morte, there is no ice at all.

Duck shooting in the vicinity of Joe Batt's Arm is not so good, it is learned, since the birds persist in staying five miles off shore and "shooters" have difficulty in getting them by a boat. Seals in the same vicinity, however, were plentiful and a number were killed.

Funeral Service Held For Mrs. Edwin

Funeral service for the late Mrs. Edwin Curtis, 80, of 612 Stewart St., was held on Saturday from the Kaye Funeral Home. Messrs. William E. Belch and O. G. Shantz of McDonnel Street Gospel Hall officiated and pall-bearers were G. Reader, D. Ephgrave, S. and F. Curtis, C. English and G. Forrest. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Curtis died on Thursday in hospital following a short illness. She was born in Bobcaygeon, Victoria Ann, daughter of the late John Coulter and Elizabeth Morrison, and lived in the city for the past 60 years.

She was a member of McDonnel Street Gospel Hall and for many years was a very active worker. She and her husband celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 1947.

ACQUITTED

Joseph Fontaine, 75 Park St., was acquitted on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC at city police court today.

LOST $200.

A loss of $200, which she had kept in a cash box in the cellar of her home, has been reported by Mrs. Campbell, Carlisle Ave., Ashburnham.

ACRES OF ICE

The weather made acres of week-end ice for scores of young people in the south end of the city. Surface water froze on the flats, and even in the Civic Arena field there was probably more ice outside than in.

CHASE SMALL FROG

If even the weatherman is puzzled by the mild weather this winter, who can blame a little frog for being slightly mixed up? Apparently thinking that Spring had arrived froggie emerged from his hiding place and started to skip about Lakefield. He was seen by some small boys but escaped capture.

ICE CUTTING DONE

Ice cutting came to an end Saturday at Bridgenorth where the blue ice measured 18 inches. At the mouth of the Indian River on Rice Lake workers, who are still cutting ice, report 16 inches of blue ice.

DOOR IS DAMAGED

Damage estimated at approximately $200 to the door of Thomas Beatty's new tire shop, Bethune St., was believed by the police to have been caused by a car or truck turning on that section of the street Saturday.

PEDESTRIANS BRAVE DUST

On the cold days of winter when ice on the sidewalks and roads presents a hazard for pedestrians and motorists alike, sand on the road is welcomed by both. But although the snow and ice have almost disappeared the sand remains, revealing just how much city workmen spread on the streets and sidewalks.

DURHAM LIBERALS MEET

Durham Liberals are holding a meeting at Orono, Thursday, March 3, at 8 p.m. to select a federal candidate. Mr. M. H. Staples, president, will be chairman, and the speakers will be Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Minister of External Affairs.

POOR MARKET SATURDAY

Coldest weather of the month on Saturday resulted in a poor farmer's market. Retailers did not display potatoes, turnips, cabbage, carrots and other vegetables in any quantity for fear of them freezing. Shoppers say there was surprisingly little beef or pork to be had. The only commodities of which there was a good supply were eggs at 40-45 cents a dozen, and chicken 40-50 cents a pound.

WINDOWS BROKEN

Reports of stones thrown through windows came from residents in two different parts of the city at the week-end. The front room windows of Mrs. Mary Mosher's home, 696 Romaine St., was broken when stones were thrown from outside at 7 p.m. Saturday and George Linthol, 504 Rubidge St. was sitting listening to the radio at the same time on Sunday when a stone came through the window. Police are investigating.

WELCOME NEW ORGANIST

Members of St. Paul's congregation at a fellowship hour on Sunday night after the evening service welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Gledhill. Mr. Gledhill recently came to St. Paul's as organist. Dr. C. M. Lawrence presided and addresses of welcome were given by James Dutton, Rev. C. S. Boyd and James McBride. For the musicians of the city greetings were expressed by Fred G. Mann of St. John's Anglican and Charles Allen of George St. United. A bouquet of flowers was presented to Mrs Gledhill and the ladies served refreshments.

Percy Coombs, 30, of Vancouver was killed when a slide buried his truck, shown here, under 40 feet of snow. Five of the 10 men who tried to rescue him were carried down the slope by succeeding slides and three of these were rescued only after they had been buried in the deep snow.

Community Fund Canvassers Report $3,000

First report from canvassers for the Peterborough Red Cross and Community Fund Campaign is that approximately $3,000 has been collected. The campaign officially opened on Friday night, and by this coming Friday it is expected that $75,000 will have been collected either in cash or pledges.

The first report is the amount subscribed by early today. Canvassers are pleased with the initial contributions and are confident that the objective—the bare minimum necessary to maintain 11 local agencies—will be reached.

Ross L. Dobbin, campaign chairman, told more than 200 canvassers and campaign leaders who attended the opening banquet on Friday that there were two leading reasons for the 25 per cent increase in the objective:

One—the extra $5,000 being given to the local Red Cross as part of a nation-wide plan to provide blood free to hospitals and in turn free to the patient.

Two—general increase in the cost of operating the 11 gencies.

He said he believed the canvassers would go all out in order that the community could meet its obligations.

List of Agencies

Included on the list of beneficiaries are the Canadian Red Cross Society, Navy League, Salvation Army (local work), St. Vincent's Orphanage, Children's Aid Society, YMCA and YWCA (local work), Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Victorian Order of Nurses, the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation, and the Humane Society.

Donors, when approached by canvassers, have the opportunity of signifying which agency to which they want their money donated.

Citizens are asked to remember that by contributing to agencies listed on the fund they are eliminating 11 different tag days and individual soliciting. That was the purpose nine years ago in drawing up this united campaign.

Fire Damage Light In Outside Kitchen

A defective chimney is believed responsible for a small fire early today at the home of Edward Garvey, 208½ Lake St. Damage was light.

The blaze started in the wall of an outside kitchen which adjoins the house and travelled upwards into the wall of a loft over the kitchen. Flames did not break through into the main building.

On Sunday afternoon there was an outbreak at the Rehill Fuel and Builders' Supply, Wolfe St. In some way a pile of coal sacks in a shed became ignited and there was some damage to the sacks and to the interior of the shed before the flames were extinguished.

Two chimney fires were reported—one at the residence of Mrs. V. Rowe, Mark St., and the other at the residence of J. Post, Romaine St.

A small explosion that on Saturday blew open the furnace door at the residence of Chris. Wood, Simcoe St., brought firemen to that address. They left after checking the furnace to ensure there was no further danger from coal gas.

Brother and Sister Die Few Hours of Each Other

Death knocked twice at the Stenson home on Reid St. during the week-end. Son and daughter of one of the old retailing families of Peterborough died suddenly within 24 hours of each other. Shock of the one is believed to have caused the death of the other.

Herbert E. Stenson, retired shoe merchant, died at his home, 353 Reid St., about 5 p.m. Saturday, and his sister, Emma J. Stenson, at the same place late Sunday afternoon.

They were son and daughter of James T. Stenson and his wife, Jane A. Galley, and were of the third generation of a family whose name was a business symbol on George St. for a century.

Died Suddenly

In their common bereavement, Miss Stenson and her sister-in-law were sitting together at home Sunday afternoon. Tea was proposed, but Miss Stenson declined, and as she moved her head in the same expression she slumped forward and died.

Mr. Herbert Stenson was born here 72 years ago. As a youth he went to work with his father in the James T. Stenson retail shoe store on the east side of George St., north of Simcoe St. The old Stenson store number was 364. In 1943 consideration of his health forced Mr. Stenson to sell the business which had been so long in the family and with sustained success. He leaves his wife, the former Emily M. Allan, and one brother, William Thomas Stenson of New York City. His only sister was Emma J. Stenson, who survived him by one day.

Brother and sister were members of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. Mr. Stenson was also a member of Corinthian Lodge No. 101 AF & AM, and of the Canadian Order of Foresters. The remains are resting together at the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter St. W, until 2 p.m. Tuesday, when the service will be conducted by Rev. Charles Boyd of St. Paul's Church.

The funeral that was planned for Mr. Stenson in his sister's hearing also becomes hers. Their bodies will be borne together to Little Lake Cemetery.

Fraser Claims Film Board "White Elephant"

OTTAWA, Feb. 28—The national film board cut into the business of commercial photographers at the rate of 500 photographic prints every day of 1948, G. K. Fraser (PC., Peterborough West) complained in the House of Commons Friday.

Parliament's most vigorous critic of the film board, Mr. Fraser described the still photo section as "a white elephant among a herd of white elephants." He recalled that when the board was established in 1939, W. D. Euler, minister of national revenue, said it would have a paid staff of one man.

Now, Mr. Fraser said, the board's staff exceeds 700. The public accounts show the board's expenditures in 1948 totalled $2,002,997.-14 while its ordinary revenue was $76,907.68—or a net charge to the taxpayers of $1,916,562.70. There were special receipts of $44,753.-38.

Public accounts also show that of suppliers who received $10,000 or more from the board last year, U. S. firms were paid in excess of $191,000. It cost the board more than $61,000 to distribute films in the U. S. Production costs for the two main propaganda series, "Canada Carries On" and "World in Action," reached $17,823.

Mr. Fraser said salaries and materials of the still division cost the taxpayer almost $93,000 in 1948, but public accounts show $31,071 was recovered in the sale of still and film prints.

"You cannot find anything in the act to authorize the still department unless you stretch your imagination, Mr. Speaker, as long as the elephant's trunk," Mr. Fraser stated. He said there were extra expenditures which would add up to more than $100,000 not authorized by the National Film Board act.

Mr. Fraser concluded by saying that in the board's 1939 report John Grierson, then national film commissioner, said the organization wanted only $80,000.

Louis Houedry Pea Dealer Dies

The death of Louis Charles Houedry in St. Catharines Friday recalls a family name that was lined with an agricultural enterprise in Peterborough some 30 years ago. His father established here a branch of the pea business which had long been in the family in France.

Supplies of peas had been bought and the father erected the building on south side of the CNR, east of Romain St., now occupied by H. J. Inman, dealer in feeds and seeds. The office is on Ware St. Arrangements were made with farmers in this district to plant peas. The seed was supplied by Mr. Houedry on a crop-sharing basis.

His sons, Louis and Maurice, were placed in charge of the business, which was carried on for some years, until the father disposed of all his holdings here and in France. He lived only a few years after retirement. Maurice returned home, and was killed in the service of the French army in the First World War.

Louis Charles Houedry married Marie Louise de LaPlante of Peterborough. They lived here for a time and then moved to St. Catharines where Mrs. Houedry died about 16 years ago. She left here a sister, Mrs. Ora Masters of Braidwood Ave., and a brother, Mr. Godfrey de LaPlante, also of Peterborough.

The funeral of Mr. Houedry took place this morning in St. Catharines to St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church. Burial was in the family plot in Victoria Lawn Cemetery.

SEES HIS IDOL

In the congregation of nearly a thousand at George St. Church Sunday night was a boy with sore feet but a happy heart. He had seen a professional hockey player whom he had heard and read about Gus Mortson, defenceman for the Toronto Maple Leafs. This boy's feet had reason to be sore because he had walked more than three miles to see his idol and his shoes were none too good.

ONE IN A DOZEN

Drivers of the Peterborough Bus Lines are willing to help anyone at any time. This was proved Saturday when after a morning of carrying people back and forth downtown a driver went to the aid of a blind man. The blind man was trying to cross George at Simcoe Sts. People rushed across without even a thought for him or any notice of his white cane. Finally the driver who was watching the man got out of his bus and helped the man across the street. G.

TRUE FISH STORY

Except for certain privileged Indians, fishing at this season is illegal. Since this is a fish story of last week, no names can be mentioned. The principle still holds—no names, no pack-drill. The young son of a Peterborough couple went fishing on the lake where the family summer and occasionally winter-week-end) cottage is located. The lake was glare ice. The boy had therefore to cut a hole in the ice and through it his line dangled hopefully.

The family has a dog — the stupidest clever dog in seven counties. The dog went winter sporting across the same lake. In that whole big lake there was but one hole other than the small one which the boy had cut. This was the hole made by ice-cutters. The dog headed like a hornet out of Hell across the lake, straight for the ice-cutters' hole. He fell in and yowled for help. The fishing boy went to the rescue. The clever dog, freed from the water, then pranced across the ice toward shore. In doing so he managed to get the fish-hook fastened in his tail. The tableau ends with the dog slithering speedily across the glare ice toward home and heat with the fish-hook in his tail and the line trailing afterwards, the boy racing behind trying to rescue the line from the dog's tail, and all the little fish under the ice opening their mouths and laughing. None of them was caught — not even laughing.

Thomas Sargent Dies 87th Year

Thomas E. Sargent of 486 Sherbrooke St., died on Sunday in hospital in his 87th year after a lengthy illness. Mr. Sargent born in Otonabee Township, son of the late Samuel Sargent and Ellen Johnston, and has lived in the city for the past 28 years.

He leaves his wife, the former Margery Evaline Hanbidge.

There are five daughters, Mrs. Stanley Harrison, and the Misses Myrtle and Grace, all of Peterborough, Mrs. Percy Cowling of Bowmanville and Mrs. Dillwyn T. Davies of Toronto.

Mr. Sargent was well-known in business, municipal and church affairs. He was a former member of the Otonabee Township Council, trustee of the school board, S. S. 12, Otonabee, and president of the Peterborough Humane Society for six years. In church circles, he was secretary of the Peterborough County Sunday School Association for some time, a former member of the official board of Trinity United Church. He was formerly financial secretary of the Canadian Order of Forresters, Court 29, and was associated in the retail business of tea and coffee in the city for a number of years, latterly owning his own business. In 1945 he and Mrs. Sargent celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Funeral service will be held on Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. at the Belleghem Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Hockey Valuable Aid To Youth Says Mortson

Start to play hockey at an early age and keep fit was the advice of Gus Mortson, defenceman for the Toronto Maple Leafs when speaking at George Street Church Sunday night. He was addressing, using hockey as an example he told the boys and girls in the congregation how to become a professional athlete.

"If boys and girls desire to be professional athletes at nine or ten, they should then try to join an organized club. In this club everyone will be willing to help them."

"An athlete has always to be in excellent health," he said. "Listen to your parents when they advise on health. Eat everything that will make strong muscles and bones. Do everything you are told to do by your parents, teachers and coaches."

Mr. Mortson told the congregation that education is important. An athlete has to know what is going on around him, he explained. Most of the players on the Toronto team have their Senior Matriculation. He mentioned that Syl Apps had a bachelor of Arts degree and coach Happy Day a degree in pharmacy.

"Even if at the age of 20 a boy or girl is not a professional athlete, he has learned to take and give fairly. Juvenile gangs in Canada are mostly composed of boys who have never played an organized sport. School children have time on their hands after school each day. Keep these children interested in sports and hobbies and they will never be involved in these gangs.

Sports Useful Tools.

About 150 boys out of the thousands playing hockey in Canada have a chance to make the NHL, he explained. He suggested that boys who do not make the professional teams should play in the amateur leagues. In these leagues, he said, good positions are obtained and the players can continue their connection with the league teams after their playing days are over.

"Sports are a useful tool for obtaining good positions. When a professional hockey player reaches 30 or 35 he generally finds a job of his liking. Syl Apps, Ace Bailey, Happy Day, Dit Clapper, Charlie Conacher, King Clancy, Joe Primeau, Red Horner and many more made a good name in hockey and now have excellent positions.... "Whatever you set out to do in life, finish it."

The Rev. Dr. Semple introduced Mr. Morston.

"Make Way for Youth," a film on religious and racial prejudice was shown.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Members of the United States hockey team got involved in another fist-swinging affair Sunday —this time including spectators— and the Swedish Ice Hockey Association protested to the American Embassy. Police had to be called in to calm down both the players and spectators at the Olympic Stadium rink in Stockholm where the Americans defeated Soedertaelja Sporting Club 4-2. The United States team was involved in a similar brawl here two days ago.

A Calgary rink from Southern Alberta town of Blackie, skipped by Stewart Beagle, Saturday won the Alberta curling championship and the right to represent the province in the Dominion curling championship at Hamilton next week. The Blackie foursome scored two straight victories over Gordon Walker's Edmonton quartette.

At Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Thomas Cooper of Kansas City, son of the late Jack (Pops) Cooper, motor boat racer, Saturday won the Governor's Cup race in the second annual Fort Lauderdale Power Boat Regatta. "Pops" Cooper was killed in a motor boat race at Picton, Ont., last summer. Thomas used his father's boat "Pop's Pops," to win the inboard racing hydroplane open event with an average speed of 58.362 miles an hour.

The Toronto Bureau of the Canadian Press and a joint Montreal-Ottawa Bureaux team fought to a 2-2 tie at Toronto Saturday night in the Annual CP Hockey Championship game. Last year, when the competition was resumed after a war lapse, Montreal-Ottawa won 3-1. By the stalemate Saturday, they retained the EJ championship trophy. Ken Storey scored both goals for the combines. Toronto scorers were Bob McAleer and Jack Mitchell.

At Preston, England, Malaya won the Thomas Cup badminton title Saturday night by defeating Denmark 8-1. After Friday's session Malaya needed only one victory to take the crown. Mogens Felsby of Denmark won the first match of the day with an 15-11, 15-1 victory over Malaya's Lew Teik Hock.

At Harlingen, Tex., Cary Middlecroft of Memphis, Tenn., Sunday won the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley Golf Tournament with a 72-hole score of 267. Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., won second money of $1,400 with 269. E. J. Harrison of Little Rock captured third place with 270.

SAP RUNS EARLY—Unseasonable mild weather has set the maple syrup industry in motion in many parts of Ontario almost a month ahead of time. Here Clare Guyatt tends one of the many trees in a maple bush on his farm near Glanford Station in the Hamilton area. Sap buckets are hanging from the trees while in the background horses wait to pull the sap wagon back to the processing shed. Maple syrup and sugar has been produced from this bush for more than 75 years.

Westerners Get Higher Price For Grey Cup

TORONTO, Feb. 28—(CP)—It wouldn't surprise anybody if Western Canada's delegates to the Canadian Rugby Union annual meeting chuckle to themselves all the way home.

They had just about everything their way at Saturday's session and, before breaking up, tendered a cordial invitation to hold the 1950 meeting in Winnipeg—which was accepted.

They pumped for higher admission prices for the Grey Cup final and got them. They held "no particular objection" to Toronto staging the annual classic but worked out a deal whereby it no longer is a "must" to hold the final at Varsity Stadium which accommodates about 20,000 persons.

These two moves alone could make the east-west-final the biggest sports attraction—from the standpoint of crowds and gate receipts—the Dominion has ever had. It conceivably could be a teaser for 40,000 persons who would pay an estimated $100,000 for the privilege.

Like Larger Stadium

The Westerners said the move didn't mean their champions wouldn't play at Varsity, but they "had the idea" a larger stadium —and they specifically mentioned the exhibition stadium in Toronto, which will hold an estimated 40,000 crowd—might be the venue. With the $3. ticket top, the gross gate could hit the six-figure mark.

The westerners asked for a $5. top for east-west final tickets but declared themselves satisfied to make it $3, compared to $2 in previous years.

Both Western and Eastern representatives brought in motions regarding the Grey Cup ticket allocation and it was worked out that the two football unions whose teams meet in the final would each receive 30 per cent of the tickets. Thirty per cent also would go to the CRU for distribution through a central selling agency. The remaining ten per cent would go to the losing team in the Eastern Canada final.

Indians Knock Off 2 Teams At Weekend

By the Canadian Press.

Nine week-end games failed to change the standings in the American Hockey League, but the Springfield Indians, by knocking off St. Louis Flyers 5-2 Saturday and defeating New Haven 4-3 Sunday, managed to close the gap between themselves and the second place Hershey Bears to three points in the Eastern Division.

Providence Reds, who have already won the Eastern title, sharpened up their scoring eyes by defeating St. Louis 6-3 Sunday and edging Pittsburgh Hornets 4-3 Saturday.

Pittsburgh Hornets swamped Buffalo Bisons 5-2, with Eric Pogue and Fleming Mackell netting two goals each for the Hornets. Les Costello notched the other Pittsburgh tally. Doug Lewis and Ab Demarco potted goals for Buffalo.

Vulcan Forge Triumph Santa Anita Upset

ARCADIA, Calif., Feb. 28 — (CP)—Racing through rain and over the sloppiest track in the history of the event, long shot Vulcan's Force Saturday scored a resounding upset triumph in the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap.

The chestnut with Jockey Dave Gorman aboard, virtually ignored in pre-race calculations because he was supposed to be no mudder, whipped the on-coming, favored Dinner Gong, by half a length.

Miss Grillo, the mudloving mare from the Argentine, made a belated rush for the big purse but finished third.

Vulcan Force paid $42.60 to win, $22.40 to place and $13.10 to show. Dinner Gong paid $5.50 and $4.10, and Miss Grillo $6.80.

The time for the 1⅛ mile race wes good considering the watersloppy oval—2.02 4-5.

Coaltown Romps To 2-Length Win

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28—(CP)—Calumet Farm's mighty Coaltown breezed to a two-length victory in the $50,000 added Widener Handicap at Hialeah Saturday before a crowd of 21,000.

Dixiana's stable's Shy Guy was second and Calumet's Faultless was third.

Coaltown's time in the 1⅛ mile was 2:02 flat—a full second off the track record set by El Mono last year in the Widener.

Only a half hour before the Widener's post time the track announced there would be straight betting only and a previously scheduled ninth race—to be run in the Widener was wageriess — was cancelled.

Coaltown returned the bare minimum, five cents on the dollar. Only $74,580 was wagered on the race. Calumet picked up $42,300 added first money for Coaltown's jog around the track and $5,000 for third place won by Faultless.

YOU can save his life
In a far, northern settlement, a man meets with a serious accident. Somewhere else in Canada's hinterland, a woman is about to give birth to a baby. Were it not for the Red Cross, these, and scores of other sick and injured people, would be without medical or hospital care.
But the 75 Red Cross Outpost Hospitals are ever ready to serve isolated settlers. Last year over 70,000 patients received treatment through these hospitals.
This is part of the work YOUR Red Cross is carrying on. You are asked to help save lives on these lonely frontiers, to provide assistance to crippled veterans, to send relief wherever disaster strikes, to support the Red Cross Free Blood Transfusion Service, to extend help to suffering humanity everywhere.
The Red Cross work being carried on in a thousand ways is made possible by you and thousands of other Canadians. Give willingly, generously. Give now!
Red Cross services also include: Treatment for Crippled Children, Nutrition Services, Home Nursing Courses, Swimming and Water Safety, Women's Work Activities, Sick Room Loan Cupboards, etc.
When considering your donation, remember that this year the Canadian Red Cross needs 5 Million Dollars—40% more than the previous appeal.

Begin Inquiry Into Canadian Building Rules

OTTAWA, Feb. 28 — (CP). — More than 100 building officials from across the country will begin a two-day inquiry of Canada's building regulations to-day, to knock out impediments to the Dominion's building progress.

Municipal representatives from Vancouver to Moncton, Provincial Government officers, and Federal Government officials are attending. They will make a thorough study of the code in its present state before extensive revisions are undertaken.

A new division on building research was established by the Council 18 months ago. One of its responsibilities is to co-ordinate work on the code and similar guides to building practice.

R. F. Legget, director of the new division, will preside over the meeting. T. A. McEllaney, superintendent of the Federal Government's Forest Products Laboratories in Ottawa will also be present.

The building code was a joint product of the Finance Department and NRC. Its use in conjunction with veterans' housing will be explained by Maj.-Gen. Hugh A. Young, president of the Government's Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. Gen. Young believes the code must be continually revised to keep it abreast of current building practice.

Building Commissioner K. S. Gillies of Toronto will explain the Queen City building code and how it assists the national code.

He said the municipalities which should be annexed are York Township on the north Mimico and New Toronto on the west, together with parts of Scarboro and North York Township in the east and northeast.

St. George's Jr. WA Presents Recital

A demonstration of dancing by St. George's Junior WA provided a pleasing time for parents and parish members Saturday afternoon. Under guidance of Mrs. Fraser Sullivan they presented an inspiring display of the work they have been doing since summer.

Juniors of four to seven, numbering 20 in all, dressed in ballet frocks of pink, danced several expressive numbers, — "Lullaby," "Elfs in the rain," Clapp's Dance" and others. Eighteen seniors were in pale blue dance costumes and did the "Hornpipe," several Norwegian country dances, and also a technique routine. An effective finish was the well-known "Shoemaker Dance" by the entire class.

After the activity, senior girls were hostesses to their friends under the helpful direction of WA members who undertook catering for the occasion.

Grateful thanks was expressed to the WA, to Mrs. E. C Moore for advice and suggestions, to Mrs. R. G. Shouldice who has played piano accompaniment at all practices and to Mrs. Sullivan for her inspirational teaching. The parents were also thanked for encouragement given their children.

Social Situations

SITUATION: When you and your husband are guests in a friend's home you notice that he sits still when you think he should be offering to help the hostess.

WRONG WAY: Tell him what to do.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that it is not good manners to correct your husband's manners in front of others. (If you think the hostess needs help, offer to help her yourself, which probably will act as gentle hint to your husband.)

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: In your column in the paper you suggested writing for special menus. My niece is being married the last week of next month; could you suggest a menu for about 40 guests. I believe we will serve buffet luncheon style. Also have you any information on the exact form to follow for a church wedding. If you cannot supply this information could you give me an address to send for it.—Mrs. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: This is a big and interesting subject, so I will use it for a lead article.

I think the best authority to refer to for the procedure for a small church wedding. She covers all stages in detail. Your local book store or public library will doubtless have theis volume.

QUESTION: You recently gave a recipe in your column for chocolate cocoanut macaroons, which was just what I had been looking for. Unfortunately, I did not clip it out as soon as I saw it, and later discovered the paper containing this recipe had been thrown out. I am not sure what issue it was in either.

I would appreciate it very much if you would give me a copy of this recipe—Mrs. V.R.S.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Chocolate Cocoanut Macaroons

Put 2-3 cup condensed (sweetened) milk in top of double boiler with 1 square (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate and ¼ teaspoon salt. Stir over boiling water until thick. Remove from heat and add 1½ cups shredded cocoanut, and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Drop by teaspoons on to a buttered cookie sheet, about one inch apart. Bake at 350 degrees Fahr. for 10 or 12 minutes. Remove from pan with spatula at once

Chocolate Cocoanut Macaroons (Kisses).

Three egg whites, 1½ cups of sifted icing sugar, 1 tablespoon sifted flour, ½ cup shredded cocoanut, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 7-ounce bar semi-sweet chocolate, grated. Sift flour and sugar Beat egg whites until they stand in peaks. Gradually sprinkle the flour and sugar mixture over the beaten whites, beating constantly. Add vanilla, chocolate and cocoanut. Drop by teaspoons on greased cookie sheet and bake at 450 degrees Fahr. for 10 minutes.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER (to Mrs. J.A.M. continued):

I made muffins from the following recipe and they were delicious. Try them and see if they come anywhere near the kind you are trying for.

Fluffy Corn Meal Muffins

One cup milk, 1 beaten egg, ¼ cup melted shortening or butter, 1 cup very fine corn flour, 1 cup sifted cake flour, 3 teaspoons of baking powder, 3 tablespoons of sugar, ½ teaspoon salt. Mix milk, egg and shortening. Sift dry ingredients and mix with first mixture lightly—do not beat. Pour into buttered muffin pans, filling them two-thirds full. Bake at 425 degrees Fahr. for about 20 minutes.

I am still working on your crusty doughnuts. Watch for a recipe.

Popular Girls Gets Dates They Are Not Too Critical

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a 19-year-old girl and there is something I can't understand—that is, why I not popular with the boys. Other girls no better-looking than I am have plenty of dates. I know that looks don't count, but just why is it that I don't make a hit with the boys?

Dorothy Dix

I am very particular about the kind of boys I go with and I have not as yet found one who has all the characteristics that I want in a boy. I would like to marry a minister. They aren't perfect either, but there is something about them that I like. And I want a very extra, special fellow for my very own. How can I get more attention from the opposite sex?

JUANITA

ANSWER: Well, Juanita, you known the old saying is that beggers shouldn't be choosers, and perhaps the reason that you do not have any boy friends is because you are too hard to please. Popularity in contagious, so to speak. The girls who have many dates have always more dates than they can handle, but the girls who have only one date generally lose that.

So if you want to be popular, don't be snooty. Don't be too critical. Be friendly and cordial Make every boy you step out with feel that he is giving you a treat and that you are tickled to death over it. Don't set your standards too high. Don't wait for that lad who has "all the characteristic that you want in a boy." He is non-existent. Nor will you ever find the "very extra, special fellow" whom you can monopolize. He also belongs in the wishful thinking class. You have to take men as they come, and thank Heaven they are as good as they are.

Mother Is Important

For a girl to be popular with boys depends more on the girl's mother than it does on the girl herself. If Mother is overstrict and never lets her daughter go out with the gang and do the things that the other kids are doing, she is hopelessly handicapped. But if Mother is cordial and friendly and makes the boys and girls welcome, and if she always has plenty of fudge and cookies handy, she can offset a daughter's downright homeliness.

Other aids to a girl's popularity are to have pretty clothes, to learn how to comb her hair and put on her makeup, to be a good dancer, to know how to play games, and to know when to talk to a boy and when to listen to him. Given these qualities, any girl can be popular. She may even marry the minister upon whom she has set her heart.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am greatly worried about a friend of mine who thinks herself in love with a man who continually holds her up for money. She gives it to him at his demand and he never pretends to pay it back He writes her love letters and tells her that she is the only one in his life, but I know better.

This girl has to work hard for her money and she needs it for her, and what do you think of him?

WORRIED PAL

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think that your friend is a mental case, and that any girl who lets a glib- talking grafter hold her up for her money should be put in a padded cell until she recovers her sanity. No girl who is in her right mind would let a deadbeat rob her of her pitiful earnings, for she would know that he belongs to the lowest type of humanity, the man who sponges his living off of a working woman.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a widow 61 years old, financially independent. My problem is that my daughter expects me to be a baby-sitter and nurse for her children, and I hate to refuse. I love my grandchildren and do my best to help their parents with them. I do sewing, shopping, sometimes cooking, but I am not willing to take care of the children over a week end.

Please tell me what I should do. Must I sit up with the babies until they grow up? What is your opinion in the matter?

A DISGUSTED GRANDMA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You have reared one batch of children and that seems to me any woman's quota, unless, of course, there is sickness and lack of service in the house; then Grandma can be called upon to help out the situation.

But when Grandma is called upon to be a baby-sitter night after night when the children's mothers and fathers are stepping out and having a good time, it is asking too much of her Grandma would like to step a little herself sometimes. Or even rest her feet.

Women Architects Speed U.N. Plans

NEW YORK, March —(CP)— If the women's touch is lacking in the United Nations building on New York's East River, it won't be the fault of four young women architects.

They spend their working time poring over blueprints. Just outside their windows, steamshovels and rollers grunt and roar, preparing the foundation of the building.

The girls are B. J. Barnes (she prefers to be called by those initials), Jane Roberts, Lydia Cherniakova and Lorraine Stevenson. They say there isn't much difference between the work of a man and a woman architect; but they think they may think of things a man would omit.

"B. J." has been working on the plans since funds for the construction job became available Because women think of architecture in terms of how easy a place is to keep clean, she thinks there should be more of them in the field.

She says she finds her present job—working on the north elevation of the General Assembly Building—is "the most exciting architecture job anywhere.

Lydia Cherniakova is small and blue-eyed, and merry despite the fact she and her family had to flee Vienna eight years ago. She says she is thrilled to be working on the U.N. plans because she feels the U.N. is a source of hope to enslaved people.

Jane Roberts, a senior at Bennington College, has been assigned to the U.N. job for 10 weeks. She says women can produce a "more homelike" effect where men can feel easier and relax.

6—In Memoriams

CLEMENTS—In loving memory of Mrs. Harry Clements, who passed away February 27, 1948.

In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.
—Sadly missed by husband and family.

HENRY—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother Margaret Henry, who passed away February 28, 1945.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears in silence often flow,
For memory keeps you ever near us
Though you died four years ago.
—Sadly missed by husband and family.

Arthur Edward Gray Buried On Saturday

Funeral service for the late Arthur Edward Gray, 61, of 689 Stewart St., was held on Saturday morning at the Kaye Funeral Home. The Rev. W. Warburton of Elim Tabernacle officiated and pall-bearers were G. Braund, A. Anderson, L. Parks, J. McIvor, A. Belsey and P. Zinston. Burial was at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mr. Gray died on Thursday at his residence, was born in Christchurch, Southampton County, England, son of the late William Gray and Harriett Ramsbury, and came to this city 40 years ago. Hamilton Tigers Plan To Jon ORFU Series

HAMILTON, Feb. 26 (CP). — It is official now that the Hamilton Tigers are going to play football this year in the Ontario Rugby Football Union senior series.

Jack Langs, Tigers' president, announced the club's decision on Friday night following a breakdown of negotiations aimed at amalgamation of the Tigers with Hamilton Wildcats of the Big Four.

The principal obstacle to the amalgamation was the apparent refusal of the Big Four to grant the freezing of all last year's Tigers playing at least until the proposed amalgamated club had an opportunity to deal with them.

Creeping Paralysis Increases In Toronto

TORONTO, Feb. 28 — (CP). — Multiple sclerosis or creeping paralysis, the disease that afflicted baseball star Lou Gehrig, today was reported "definitely on the increase in Toronto."

A well-known physician, whose was not disclosed, said he has had 26 new patients, suffering from the disease, since the first of February, and averages a new patient daily.

SHIPPIGAN, NB, Feb. 28 — (CP).—Three children were burned to death at nearby Chiasson on Sunday when their home was destroyed by fire.

Dead are: Annette, six; Simeon, four, and Jean Guy, 2½. All are children of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Paulin.

Bouquet For Police

TORONTO, Feb. 28 — (CP)— A grateful father, Thomas Kerr, praised Toronto police yesterday for escorting his injured daughter, Susan, four, from their home on Toronto's western outskirts to the Hospital for Sick Children in downtown Toronto. A doctor advised that Susan be rushed to hospital after she had been accidentally struck with a baseball bat. Police held traffic at every intersection and provided a squad car when traffic became thick. Doctors say Susan will be all right.

Revolt Kills 30,000

RANGOON, Feb. 28 (AP) — Premier Thakin Nu declared Sunday a year of rebellion in Burma has taken 30,000 lives. In money, he added, it has cost nearly 200,000,000 rupees ($64,000,000). In speaking to 10,000 Burmese here, he demanded an end to the terror which he said has reduced the country to such poverty that financial aid from abroad is necessary.

MERCHANT NAVY SCORES VICTORY—A. J. Heide, left, national secretary-treasurer of the Merchant Navy Veterans Association; receives the thanks of Montrealer Eric Baguley, first M.N. member to gain recognition by the federal government as a war veteran. Through the efforts of MNVA, merchant seamen have been granted vocational training under DVA.

Bad Snowstorm Hits Maritimes

HALIFAX(Feb. 28.—(CP), — With temperatures hovering around zero, Maritimers groped their way today out of the winter's first man-sized snowstorm.

Worst hit was Cape Breton, where 15 inches of snow fell. Operations were almost at a standstill at the big steel plant in Sydney because the snow disrupted outside plant transportation.

Coal mines in the area were also affected and some did not hoist today because the coal could not be moved after it reached the surface.

North Sydney was cut off from the rest of the province as the thick blanket of snow choked highways and played hob with telephone and telegraph communications.

All plane traffic through Reserve airport near Sydney was halted.

Highway crews worked throughout the night to clear roads both in Cape Breton Island and the Nova Scotia mainland.

91 Arrests Made By Toronto Police

TORONTO, Feb. 28 — (CP)— A total of 91 persons were arrested during the week-end as police continued their battle against street fighting and intoxication.

A fight in a downtown restaurant in which the proprietor was struck in the face and furnishings smashed resulted in the arrest of Charles Thibault, 21, and Stanley Mills, 22, on charges of doing malicious damage. Thibault was also charged with assault.

Eighty-four persons, including five women, were arrested on charges of intoxication.

Benson Beach Dies

OTTAWA, Feb. 28 (CP) — Benson C. Beach, 79, founder and president of Beach Foundry Limited, died in hospital Sunday night. Twin brother of Anson White Beach of Toronto, Mr. Beach was born at Iroquois, Ont. Previous to his manufacturing career, he published a newspaper, the St. Lawrence News and did job printing at Iroquois.

Cardinal's Treasurer Has Pleaded Guilty

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Feb. 28— (AP)—Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty's former treasurer pleaded guilty to black-market money dealings today.

The defendant, Monsignor Imre Boka, admitted to a people's court that he gave dollars and other monies to different bankers and brokers for black-market sale, as the trial of 14 persons allegedly implicated in Cardinal Mindszenty's activities opened.

Boka declared he always got instructions from either the Cardinal himself, or through his secretary. He also asserted the profits made through these black-market speculations were used for charity purposes.

Dr. Gabor Horvath, secretary to Duke Paul Esterhazy, also pleaded guilty and said he proposed to Esterhazy to purchase the dollars.

He said he wanted to take precautions in case Esterhazy's property should melt away as a result of nationalization. Horvath said he was aware that Estergom (residence of the Cardinal) had been the source of the dollars.

Labor Party To Continue Ownership Plan

LONDON, Feb. 28 (AP) — The Labor Party was reliably reported Sunday night to have decided to continue and expand its program for government ownership of basic industries but with some exceptions.

Reliable informants said nationalization of sugar refining and the water supply are already on a tentative general-election platform for the Labor party in 1950.

The statements were made after a closed two-day meeting of Labor party leaders and cabinet officials, including Prime Minister Attlee, at Shanklin on the Isle of Wight.

The informants said the chemical industry "quite possibly" will be added to the program the Socialists hope will win a repeat of the landslide victory that brought them to power in 1945.

Few details leaked out from the meeting, but it is understood the booming shipbuilding industry will not be on the nationalization list, largely because of trade union objections.

"But the party has been examining 20 or 30 industries to see which are the most suitable and there may be some surprises before 1950," one informant said.

The Labor Government so far has nationalized Overseas Airways, the Bank of England, Cable and Wireless Communications, the Coal Mines, Railroad and Inland Water Transport, and Electricity Supply. It inherited the publicly-owned BBC and its Steel Nationalization Bill now is before parliament.

Plan Inquiry In Wine Buying

TORONTO, Feb. 28—(CP)—William Griesinger, Ontario Liquor Commissioner, was reported Saturday to have said he will launch a "thorough investigation" into the case of Frank Peterson, 17, who claimed he bought wine without difficulty in retail stores despite regulations that purchasers must be 21.

The youth earlier was fined $10 on an intoxication charge.

A Toronto paper reported Saturday that a 17-year-old office boy, who looked 15, had purchased a bottle of wine from a wine store Saturday. No questions were asked about his age, the paper said.

Margarine And Butter To Collide May Force Price To Go Down

OTTAWA, Feb. 28—(CP)—Margarine and butter are expected to meet head-on in June and the collision may force one or both of the products to drop in price. A Government dairy expert said that June is the month in which new butter production starts and butter stocks mount into a surplus. June, he believed, also would be the time that Canada's infant margarine industry would be ready to hit a substantial production stride.

Producers now are turning out the substitute at the rate of 8,000,000 pounds a month—and this is not enough to meet demand.

At the current scale, he said, Canada could produce almost 100,000,000 pounds of margarine a year—a little less than one-third of Canada's annual butter production.

The real battle will be whether margarine will tend to pull the price of butter down. All signs point to a slight margarine edge.

Cheap Aids Help

A weapon in favor of margarine is the influx of cheap United States oils and fats, decontrolled by Washington more than a week ago. As a consequence of that action, some margarine producers have already lowered the price of their product by five cents a pound.

However the battle favors margarine, the lower-priced commodity won't force butter below 58 cents a pound. That is the floor price established by the government by order-in-council last May. The floor price is 58 cents in central areas; 59 cents in the Maritimes and 57½ in Vancouver.

So far the government has found no reason to use it. In effect, instead, is the ceiling price which ranges from 67 to 73 cents in various sections.

Freight Rates

The Royal Commission on transport will start its investigation with a cross-country tour. It is not known whether it will first head east or west. Informants say there is little likelihood of public sessions starting before May.

Apart from the arrangements that have to be made by the commission, there are those of the involved provinces and their lawyers. Off and on, the legal men have been working on other freight-rate cases. The current one will stretch into early April.

Fined For Speeding

A fine of $10 with $2.50 costs for speeding was paid by William Hayes, 213 Park St. S. at city police court Saturday. R. Drum, Hamilton, paid a $3 fine and $2.50 costs for failing to obey a stop sign.

Have Narrow Escape

TORONTO, Feb. 28—(CP)—Three persons escaped from the third floor of a Toronto rooming house Saturday night, minutes before a fire cut off the only means of exit. They were Hazel Gilmore, 18, Mona Thompson, 19, and Mrs. Amelia Coote, 53. Firemen said they believed the fire started from a cigaret dropped on a couch in a second-floor room.
